Reference is made to my letters dated March 2 and March 5, 1970. In my letter of March 5, 1970, I stated "it is important to emphasize that the Bureau can also produce an extensive list of justified grievances." It is my understanding that the Director desired that this list be identified. Enclosed herewith is a list of approximately 75 items.

This list should not be considered absolutely complete. Preparation was predicated on my personal recollection and a review of Bureau records. To make this list more complete and specifically accurate would necessitate the review of thousands of files. The enclosed list can be supported by Bureau records. What CIA records reflect on the same items is unknown. This also must be kept in mind in connection with our evaluation of the alleged CIA grievances which I previously listed.

I realize that it is presumptuous on my part, but if the Director feels that our Bureau work can benefit by a personal discussion between the Director and myself, I am available until April 3, 1970. I plan to leave the area immediately thereafter for an extended period.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

We have completed our review of domestic positive intelligence collection engendered by your letter of 11 March 1970. We warmly welcome periodic reexamination by our two agencies of the implementation of the 1966 agreement and the collection of positive intelligence which you proposed. I concur also with your comments that there is a need for close coordination of our efforts in the field of positive and counterintelligence collection. To be most effective, I agree that it is essential for this Agency, together with your Bureau, to conduct a continuing analysis of clandestine collection activity. The product is of growing importance to the national security and to the United States Intelligence Community. Therefore we endorse your proposal for a reexamination and bespeak your desires as to how this might be conducted.

With regard to the 1966 set of ground rules, which you sent to the then Director, Vice Admiral William F. Raborn, Jr., the competent work of our respective representatives did, in fact, produce an effective and realistic agreement. I welcome your statement that no major problems have been encountered since its adoption.

I feel strongly that there are other related subjects, of similar importance to the national security, which warrant periodic reexamination since they have a direct bearing on domestic clandestine collection of positive intelligence.

Excluded from automatic downgrading and declassification

As a result of our review, engendered by your letter, I believe that the following subjects are deserving of your personal consideration:

(1) Audio coverage. Audio coverage provides timely intelligence of inestimable worth to U. S. officials for policy planning, early warning, and accurate guidance necessary for the improvement of operational and collection activity here and abroad. Audio coverage is unique production because it is readily subject to local cross-checking and evaluation which is far more difficult and costly to achieve abroad. Further, such coverage is on targets which affect directly the national interests.

For several years your Bureau had been receptive to requirements and leads which resulted in valuable coverage. The quality of your production proved that your Bureau alone possesses capabilities and experience which cannot be duplicated by any other U. S. agency.

On 2 October 1969 two related requests for audio coverage were submitted by this Agency pertaining to positive intelligence targets, one of whom had KGB connections. (I refer to the case of [redacted] and [redacted] [redacted].) Your Bureau replied that henceforth the Agency should refer all such cases directly to the Attorney General for approval.

It is suggested that the question of audio coverage be reopened between representatives of your Bureau and this Agency. I would welcome your thoughts and observations on this subject.

I wish to assure you that I believe that this sensitive type of collection should be implemented under rigid and stringent controls. This is absolutely necessary in order to maintain the highest standard of security both in instituting the coverage and for the exploitation of the product. (An excellent example of this is demonstrated in your effective and secure production of [SCOPE.)] (S)

(2) Mail Coverage. Another much needed intelligence tool is mail coverage. Its importance has been proven in the past. I have the impression that it has been discontinued, and I would suggest that our representatives should confer and examine together whether this asset might be deployed against communications of the Soviet Bloc, the New Left, and identified foreign agents. ~~(S)~~(U)

(3) CIA Technical Services. A significant expenditure of this Agency's money and personnel has been committed to research and development for the improvement of technical aids. This Agency has provided your Bureau with an appreciation of our resources and capabilities, and has offered you at cost or gratis our most sophisticated equipment. * [redacted] (S)

Although we will continue these services, we would welcome any suggestions from your Bureau for improvement in the technical field including proposals how these assets can be better employed. Your comments will be particularly appreciated in view of our mutual interests in implementing Operation [redacted] (S)

(4) Courses in Positive Intelligence Requirements and Reporting. Since the collection and reporting of positive foreign intelligence is, as you say, only incidental to your main internal security and counterintelligence responsibilities, I realize that your personnel are somewhat at a disadvantage in carrying out the evaluating and reporting processes necessary for the conduct of positive intelligence. At our 1966 conference we offered to institute positive intelligence training courses, including reports writing and

* this section describes sources for technical intelligence collection.

analysis, for FBI personnel. In soliciting your views on the desirability of this type of training, I wish to reiterate our willingness to provide such instruction. It would be designed to expose the needs of the Intelligence Community in depth, thus making the Current Intelligence Reporting List (CIRL) more meaningful to your personnel.

(5) Seminars on Opposition Services. Given the growing sophistication and increased capabilities of hostile intelligence services, it is suggested that CIA and FBI experts in this field meet as required at our respective Headquarters, the Washington and New York Field Offices, in order to keep abreast of new developments, modus operandi, operational tasks, and diverse missions of opposition services. I know that you will agree with me that no opportunities for improvement should be overlooked which might help to negate the efforts of hostile services who are charged with undermining the security of the United States. These sessions should also provide an opportunity to explore and devise new means to penetrate and neutralize these inimical forces.

(6) Live Bloc Sources. The record of our cooperation and coordination to exploit live penetrations and defectors from Bloc sources proves the success of our mutual effort.

I believe that there is room for substantial improvement in achieving a more uniform and efficient exploitation of the positive intelligence potential of certain of these sensitive sources. I would invite your thoughts on how we may better coordinate requirements for these sources and establish a more thorough evaluation of their positive intelligence production before it is given general dissemination within the Government. Our review would suggest that there are good reasons for consultation to explore the development of higher quality live sources, for example [code clerks.] (S)

(7) Live Sources in the Non-Bloc Area. Sources such as code clerks (S) and diplomats are a fertile field for procurement of much-needed intelligence relating to the activities of certain Latin American and Middle Eastern countries which are expanding their subversive and terrorist activities, even to the United States. I do not feel confident that both agencies have adequately exploited the full potential of this field, and would urge that this subject be explored by our respective representatives.

(8) New Left and Racial Matters. There is already a substantial exchange of information in this field. Limitations of manpower raise a serious question as to whether both agencies can keep pace with future unpredictable developments. The increasingly close connection between these forces in the United States and hostile elements abroad has been well established by both of our agencies. I feel it would be in our mutual interest to determine how we can best employ more wisely our limited manpower, knowing that this problem, which embraces bombings, hijacking, assassination, and the demeaning of law enforcement officers, is international in scope.

(9) Relations with Domestic Field Offices and Legal Attaches. I do not feel that there are any serious conflicts in this area but there may be room for improving the quality of liaison in order to expand positive intelligence collection. Given the changing situations both here and abroad, periodic re-examination of field relations could assist both agencies to make mutually-agreed adjustments.

Mr. Hoover, I wish to assure you that I value highly your personal judgment in affairs bearing on the national security. I know that your experience is derived from a unique lifetime of dedicated service to our country. In this spirit, I welcome sincerely your observations on the foregoing agenda and solicit your thoughts regarding any other item which you deem worthy of the attention of your Bureau and this Agency.

Faithfully yours,

Richard Helms

CASES AND/OR SITUATIONS INVOLVING CONFLICTS WITH THE CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY (CIA)

(1) MOCASE (THE BORIS MORROS CASE)

This was a sensitive Soviet-espionage case which originated in 1943 and terminated for the most part in 1957. The case had many wide foreign ramifications and historically has been, and undoubtedly will be, one of the most important and involved cases of Soviet operations in this country and abroad. We did not disseminate any information of significance in this case until 1954. On various occasions when the Liaison Agent has become involved in heated arguments with CIA officials, they have seen fit to raise this case as an outstanding example of FBI failure to cooperate with the Agency. The position taken by CIA was that it should have been advised regarding the Soviet operational activity in foreign countries, claiming that the Agency would have had the opportunity to develop more information of significance, identify Soviet agents, and possibly prepare conditions for recruitment or doubling of Soviet operatives. We did not disseminate our reports to CIA because of the extreme sensitivity of the case. We actually did not permit CIA to handle any investigations relating to the MOCASE until 1957.

In 1957, CIA complained that it certainly had every right to have received the information earlier because many aspects of the MOCASE pertained to CIA employees and operations. CIA further argued that it had been greatly handicapped in effectively carrying out the leads in 1957 because the leads were given to the Agency at the same time that the case was publicized. The Agency argued that the failure of the Bureau to coordinate with CIA those French aspects of the case permitted the French, rather than the U. S., to play a dominating role in Europe.

How much information CIA has developed over the years concerning our operational activity in Mexico City is unknown. However, we should bear in mind that former Special Agent George Munro (S) handled many of our operations in Mexico, including key informants, and subsequently began performing services for CIA after he left the Bureau. We also should not forget that Americans operating in Latin American countries for one agency are heavily exposed to the resources of another U. S. intelligence or investigative agency. This Agent knows from personal experience that operating in these areas constitutes a "very small world" and the exposure to leaks and errors is considerable.

(3) THE ABEL CASE

Although CIA has not raised the point for several years, the prevailing attitude was, and probably still exists, that the FBI did not play it square with CIA in the Abel case by not making certain that the Agency was given the proper recognition for its contributions. CIA feels that in the first place, there would not have been any U. S. access or availability to the source in this case, Reino Hayhanen, because CIA took the full responsibility for moving Hayhanen from France to the U. S. in 1957. CIA claims it took the risk and responsibility of doing this after the Bureau declined to become involved in any operation designed to transport Hayhanen to the U. S. It should be noted that Hayhanen was an alcoholic and that his first contacts with CIA in Paris raised questions concerning Hayhanen's mental stability.

After Hayhanen arrived in the U. S., we arranged access to him for a period, the purpose of which was to obtain a complete story of his intelligence activities in the U. S. and we were particularly interested in identifying all of his associates, especially the man who later was identified as Rudolph Abel. After a short handling period in the U. S., we dropped Hayhanen because he became a problem. It was an extremely critical situation because we had not yet identified Abel. CIA agreed to take the responsibility for the carrying and safeguarding of Hayhanen but we countries with far better impressions than in the past. In addition, we have learned more about these countries, their services, and their security chiefs by spending a few minutes with them. Needless to say, this kind of treatment has also immeasurably helped our Legal Attaches.

(7) CIA - DUTCH INTEREST IN SOVIET ESPIONAGE ACTIVITY

In 1965, the Dutch Internal Security Service was in the process of investigating individuals in Holland who allegedly had been engaged in Soviet-espionage activity. The Dutch wanted to have certain individuals in the U. S. interviewed and approached CIA to make inquiry at the Bureau. At that time, our relations with the Dutch had been practically nonexistent because the Dutch had failed to honestly deal with us in the case of Joseph Petersen, a Dutch official who had been clandestinely collecting intelligence at the National Security Agency. When CIA approached us, we told the Agency that the Dutch could submit their request through diplomatic channels. We subsequently told CIA we would not handle the interviews for the Dutch. We stuck to our position. CIA surrendered but felt that we were impairing their efforts to gather information concerning Soviet-espionage activities in Europe. (Walter G. Krivitsky, Bufile - 100-11146)

(8) COLONEL JOHN GROMBACH (PAT O'BRIEN)

Colonel John Grombach was a retired U. S. Army officer who, during World War II, established a private intelligence network, operating throughout the world but primarily in Europe. His sources included any number of European exiles who came to the U. S. While he was in business, he was financed by the State Department, then the Department of the Army, and in the later 1940's and into the 1950's by CIA. Grombach established contact with the Bureau through one of his subordinates, Pat O'Brien, who periodically called on us and furnished information which Grombach felt was of interest to us. This dissemination through Pat O'Brien continued during the period of Grombach's relationship with CIA. We never informed CIA that we were receiving such information which also was of interest to the Agency. It is possible that Grombach had given the same data to CIA but we do not know. CIA and Grombach clashed and the relationship was severed in an atmosphere of severe bitterness. In the last years of its dealings with Grombach, the Agency had successfully penetrated the latter's organization and allegedly had identified many of the sources. CIA hinted to the Liaison Agent that it had become aware of the relationship between Grombach's organization and the Bureau. How much CIA really learned about this relationship is not known but if its penetrations were significant, the Agency may have developed evidence to justify a charge that the Bureau had withheld information from CIA, particularly when we were receiving the data from an organization which was financed by the Agency. (Bufile - 62-77306)

(9) COMMISSION ON THE ORGANIZATION OF THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH OF THE GOVERNMENT

(Herbert Hoover Commission - 1954)

In October, 1954, a task force of the captioned Commission initiated a survey of CIA's operations under the leadership of General Mark W. Clark. In January, 1955, we were advised by a representative of the task force that Senator Joseph McCarthy had furnished the group a list of CIA employees who were considered subversive. CIA became cognizant of this development and there was talk within the Agency that the Bureau had furnished the names to the Senator. When the Liaison Agent was informally approached on this, he flatly told the Agency to officially submit its charges. The Agency never did. What information CIA may have had on this matter as it pertained to the Bureau is not known. It is possible that the Agency's attitude was strictly predicated on a knowledge that we maintained liaison with the Senator's Committee. (Relations with CIA, Bufile - 62-80750)

(10) INTERNAL SECURITY LEADS IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES

During the 1950's, we gave our Legal Attaches numerous leads stemming from internal security cases in the U. S. In many instances we did not see fit to notify CIA although the Agency always maintained that you could not separate "internal Security" from "counterintelligence," namely a lead in France pertaining to a communist in the U. S. warranted advising CIA, if not, at least asking the Agency to handle the lead. In the last several years, it is not believed that there is any basis for complaint since we have regularly been notifying CIA concerning subjects of cases who travel abroad. If the Legal Attache is investigating, CIA is notified in order to avoid duplicate efforts. There have been exceptions where we have taken the position that CIA should not be notified because of the sensitivity of the matter. How many such exceptions are known to CIA cannot be established from our files; however, we should bear in mind that when our Legal Attaches investigate, they contact many of the same foreign officials normally contacted by CIA. How many of these foreign officials are CIA informants, or on the Agency payroll, is unknown.

(11) BUREAU OPERATIONS IN CUBA

We operated informants in Cuba when we had a Legal Attache's Office in Havana. Informants reported on activities of communists and other subversives in that country. During the period we operated these informants, we did not coordinate our operations with CIA. We did not advise the Agency that we had such sources. However, in 1960, after Castro came on the scene, it became infeasible to handle certain informants in a secure manner. Approval was granted to turn certain informants over to CIA. What these informants may have subsequently told CIA about past Bureau operations is unknown. This item is being cited in the event CIA had evidence to establish that we had been operational in Cuba and had not coordinated with the Agency pursuant to Directives. (Memorandum Donahoe to Belmont, February 5, 1960, re: "Partido Socialista Popular," 64-200-210, 2377 and Memorandum Frohbose to Belmont, February 3, 1960, re: "Narcisco Tauler Beneficto," 134-8539-4)

(12) BUREAU OPERATIONS IN [BRAZIL] (S) - 1959

In 1959 the U. S. Ambassador in Brazil accused our Legal Attache of engaging "in uncoordinated covert intelligence activity "of a nature which I believe exceeds his terms of reference." The Ambassador further indicated that CIA was unhappy over the Legal Attache's activities and the Agency allegedly had told the Ambassador that the Legal Attache had disseminated information from a source who was a fabricator or a provocator. This situation arose as a result of the Legal Attache's operation of an informant in [Brazil] (S) Some of the information that he received from the informant was of a derogatory nature and related to a [Brazilian] (S) who was being touted as a Presidential candidate. CIA asked for the identity of the informant and we told the Agency that the person could not be identified because he did not wish that his identity be disclosed. This case is being cited because CIA may have evidence that we had been operational in [Brazil] (S) had not coordinated pursuant to Directives, and that the matter was further aggravated because of the alleged unreliability of the information. (Memorandum Roach to Belmont, May 1, 1959, re: "William I. Friedman, Legal Attache, Rio de Janeiro," 67-429840) and (Memorandum Roach to Belmont, May 25, 1959, re: "Soviet-Satellite Activities - [Brazil] (S)," 134-[7667-48)] (S)

(13) BORDER COVERAGE

In June, 1957, our Phoenix Office presented a problem concerning the Bureau's handling of informants on the Mexican border. These informants were operating inside Mexico. The problem was predicated on situations which might arise as the result of CIA's endeavors to develop informants who already were being handled by the Bureau. It was pointed out that CIA logically could come in contact with such sources and could make approaches for recruitment. It was recommended and approved that in order to protect our coverage in the border area, a valuable, trusted, and reliable confidential source would continue to be utilized even if he were contaced by CIA. Our policy was that we would not identify our sources to the Agency.

How much CIA learned about our border coverage is not known. Again, it is pointed out that former Bureau Agent George Munro may have been knowledgeable. As indicated, he later began performing services for CIA. If CIA learned that we were operating informants in Mexico, it could use such information as additional evidence of Bureau failure to cooperate and coordinate with the Agency pursuant to Directives. (Memorandum Roach to Belmont, June 14, 1957, re "Communist Coverage Along the Mexican Border, Relations with CIA," 100-356015-1238)

(14) CARPORT CASE

In May, 1957, the Bureau's double Agent(S) in the captioned case was advised by his Soviet contact that he was to have a meeting in Switzerland during the period June 16-19, 1957. A question arose as to whether CIA should be informed concerning the [double Agent's] ~~(S)~~ (U) travel to Switzerland. It was recommended and approved that we not advise CIA.

What is important here is that CIA established contact with [our double agent] ~~(S)~~ (U) at one point. The Agency may have had further contact without our knowledge. The Agency may have also picked up the contact with the Soviet in Switzerland. The case is being highlighted since we cannot exclude the possibility that the Agency has evidence to demonstrate that we were operational in Europe and we did not coordinate with the Agency. (Memorandum Branigan to Belmont, June 10, 1957, re; "CARPORT," 105-25453-1825)

On September 25, 1958, CIA inquired if W. C. Sullivan could give a lecture on the communist movement in the U. S. It was recommended that Sullivan give the lecture. Such lectures were being afforded in other parts of the Government. The Director made the notation "We cannot make Sullivan available to this outfit." The Agency accepted this as an affront and a blatant refusal to cooperate on a most important subject of interest to both agencies. (Memorandum Sullivan to Belmont, October 1, 1958, re: "Request for Lecture on Communism by CIA,")

(16) CASE OF [redacted]

On July 9, 1956, an official of the State Department confidentially advised the Bureau that [redacted] a CIA employee in Moscow, had been involved in an affair with a Soviet girl. According to our source, [redacted] allegedly had furnished information to the Soviet girl. We checked with the State Department and CIA and we confirmed that [redacted] had been involved in an affair and that he had been recalled. According to CIA and State Department, there was no indication that [redacted] had been involved in any espionage against the U. S. CIA gave consideration to requesting the Bureau to identify its source and then changed its mind. Whether CIA has documented this as an instance where the Bureau failed to cooperate by not volunteering the source is a matter of conjecture but, it is a case that should be kept in mind. (Bufile - [redacted])

(17) THE [redacted] OPERATION

In April, 1963, we became involved with CIA in that Agency's efforts to collect sensitive information relating to French Government intentions to conduct espionage against the U. S. CIA had access to a sensitive source, [redacted] who was in a position to make available highly important French documents. On April 11, 1963, CIA informed us that our Legal Attache in Paris had locally contacted CIA concerning this matter. CIA Headquarters was highly disturbed because its office in Paris had not been cut in on this operation and the Agency wanted to be informed regarding the nature and the extent of our dissemination of CIA information to our Legal Attache. We determined that the Legal Attache had made inquiries in Paris in response to leads which had been sent from Bureau Headquarters. This matter is being highlighted because it was a vitally important operation to CIA and the Agency had received indications that information had been leaked to French authorities. We have no evidence or reason to believe that the Legal Attache Office ever involved itself in any such leak. However, we should not, under any circumstances, discount the fact that CIA has penetrated French services and has had access to sensitive information in Paris. The French have always had an outstanding capability of tapping phones and installing microphones in Paris. Such coverage on U. S. officials, including their residences, should never be excluded. The information we had conveyed to our Legal Attache possibly may have been acquired by the French through clandestine coverage. CIA possibly could charge us with handling their sensitive information in an insecure manner by transmitting it to Paris without conferring with the Agency.

In connection with alleged French espionage activity in the U. S., CIA has never been satisfied with the efforts made by the Bureau. The Agency possibly could take the position that we looked lightly at the allegations and did not pursue a matter which, in their eyes, merited a more aggressive approach. (Bufile - [redacted])

For some time, CIA has held to a position that the French Intelligence Service (SDECE) is penetrated by the Soviets. The Agency has pointed out that if the French are collecting sensitive information in the U. S., the product is ending up in Moscow. In January, 1964, we reviewed the status of our investigation of French intelligence activities in the U. S. The Director commented "I think this whole thing has been imaginary on the part of CIA which has been played as a sucker by [redacted] I would waste no more time on it at least until all CIA restrictions are removed." CIA did impose restrictions by not permitting us to pursue certain leads because it feared that its sensitive source would be jeopardized. (Bufile - [redacted]) from CIA. We did not obtain clearance from CIA for the inclusion of this information in our monograph. Clearance approval was not obtained because of the urgency of the document. CIA was irritated because it considered our action a distinct violation of the third agency rule. The Agency never made any protest.

(21) BUREAU INFORMANTS IN GUATEMALA

In 1966, and 1967, we were operating informants in Guatemala. At the inception of our operational activity, CIA was not informed. In one case, we finally were able to effect the necessary arrangements with CIA whereby the Bureau would be permitted to run the informant in Guatemala. In the second instance, we established an agreement with CIA in October, 1967, that we could continue handling an informant in Guatemala with the understanding that the Bureau Agent, on the occasion of each visit, would confer with the local CIA office on political information collected from the informant. These two cases had all the makings of a conflict. CIA was under the definite impression that we had been running these informants before we had finally coordinated with them. It is true that the CIA Chief in Guatemala was much incensed but no issue was made at CIA Headquarters and the matter was put to rest.

CIA may have developed concrete evidence that we were operating in Guatemala bearing in mind that in a place such as Guatemala City it would not be difficult for a CIA intelligence officer to spot an FBI Agent in contact with Guatemalans. Our potential vulnerability is that we were operating in Guatemala without coordinating with CIA. ([redacted], [redacted], [redacted])

(22) [redacted]

The information emanating from the captioned sensitive Bureau operation has been disseminated to CIA and other agencies for several years. The sensitive source has traveled abroad numerous times and his trips

(25) ESTABLISHMENT OF BUREAU LIAISON WITH DUTCH INTERNAL SECURITY SERVICE - 1960 (S)

In January, 1960, our Legal Attache, Bonn, traveled to Holland (S) for the purpose of exploring arrangements for liaison with appropriate Dutch (S) authorities. The U. S. Ambassador raised questions, pointing out that over the years, all relations with the Dutch (S) authorities (S) had been handled through CIA. (S) He indicated that before there was any change in procedure, it would be necessary for CIA and FBI to come to some form of an agreement. Allen Dulles subsequently expressed disappointment in that his Agency had not been contacted by the Bureau prior to exploring the liaison arrangement. We eventually conferred with CIA and came to an agreement satisfactory to all parties concerned.

Again, CIA could cite this as an instance where we failed to coordinate with the Agency in line with National Security Council Directives. (Memorandum Frohbose to Belmont, March 3, 1960, re: "Legal Attache Operations - Norway, Denmark, Sweden, and the Netherlands," 66-18973-123)

In the latter part of 1959 we gave consideration to establishing a Legal Attache in Copenhagen, Denmark. The purpose of the assignment was to follow Bureau leads in Denmark, Norway, Sweden, and Holland. We did not inform CIA of our intentions. (Memorandum Frohbose to Belmont, January 14, 1960, re: "Legal Attache Operations, The Netherlands," 66-18973-113)

(26) BUREAU DISSEMINATION OF COUNTERINTELLIGENCE INFORMATION TO FOREIGN SERVICES - 1962

By letter dated November 7, 1962, CIA raised questions concerning the propriety of Bureau dissemination of counterintelligence information to foreign intelligence services. CIA, at that time, had particular reference to information which our Legal Attache had transmitted to the Greek (S) Intelligence Service concerning KGB operations. CIA took the position that pursuant to the coordinating Directive, the Bureau was obligated to coordinate with CIA prior to such dissemination. The particular data had emanated from one of our sensitive [redacted] sources [redacted]. We responded to CIA by stating that the information was the product of an internal security operation and did not relate to any operational activity abroad. CIA again surrendered. The Agency could argue that it was responsible for following Soviet matters with the [Greek]S Intelligence Service and that we had an obligation of coordinating with the Agency. (Memorandum Branigan to Sullivan, November 9, 1962, re: [redacted]

(27) "THE INVISIBLE GOVERNMENT," A BOOK AUTHORED BY DAVID WISE AND THOMAS ROSS

In August, 1963, we received information indicating that Wise and Ross were in the process of gathering material for a book pertaining to activities of U. S. intelligence activities. Both Ross and Wise contacted the Bureau. It was recommended that liaison orally advise CIA that these two individuals were preparing a book concerning U. S. intelligence agencies. The Director noted "I see no reason doing so."

It is not known if CIA was aware of the contact with the Bureau. Wise and Ross subsequently published the book which contained extremely derogatory information concerning CIA. (Memorandum Jones to DeLoach, re: "David Wise of the "New York Herald Tribune" and Thomas Ross of the "Chicago Sun Times")

(28) COMMUNIST ACTIVITIES - AFRICA

In April, 1960, CIA inquired if the Bureau would give any consideration to assisting the Agency toward developing coverage in Africa. CIA was looking for the services of any Negro informant who might be available. The Agency also inquired about placing a Negro in the Communist Party, USA, under a plan which would have as an eventual objective, the sending of the informant to

In the same month, CIA inquired if the Bureau would reestablish technical surveillance coverage on [redacted] who CIA felt was a key figure in the transmittal of scientific intelligence data to the [redacted] Intelligence Service. We declined to reinstitute the coverage. CIA considered the matter important because of its relationship to the Mideast Crisis.

On October 21, 1969, we told CIA that future requests from CIA for technical surveillance coverage should be transmitted by the Agency directly to the Attorney General.

CIA has never made any official comment or protest but it has considered the afore-mentioned action by the Bureau as unfriendly and uncooperative. The Agency has looked to the Bureau as the logical point of contact and as the only organization having the resources and capabilities of adequately determining if such coverage is even feasible.

(30) MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS

The Liaison Agent recalls fragments of oth situations or conflicts which occured over the years and which resulted in the voicing of CIA displeasure or criticism. The Agent cannot recall the names of the cases which is necessary to acquire the required data. There was one instance early in the 1950's which involved information received from a source of unknown reliability charging Allen Dulles with having been a communist and a spy while in Europe. We disseminated the information to several agencies. Dulles exploded but never lodged a protest.

The Agent also has recollection of instances when CIA alleged that its source or informant was compromised by Bureau revelation of CIA information during the course of interviews conducted by us. Technically, this would be a violation of the third agency rule and, if CIA had hard core facts, we would be vulnerable, particularly if an important informant was lost. CIA never made any official issue or protest.

LIST OF BUREAU GRIEVANCES

1. ATTACKS AGAINST BUREAU (MEXICO CITY AND FRANCE - 1951)

Although Agent Papich did not begin handling Liaison with CIA until 1952, it is important to refer to highly significant differences with CIA which culminated in a serious conflict in the Fall of 1951. Our Legal Attaches in Mexico City and Paris reported that CIA representatives were attacking the Bureau, were endeavoring to place us in an unfavorable light, were questioning our jurisdiction, and were making disparaging remarks concerning the Bureau. Some of this was summed up by characterizing it as covert hostility within CIA, stemming largely from disgruntled former employees of the FBI.

In October, 1951, General Walter Beddil Smith, then Director of CIA, asked to meet with the Director and other Bureau representatives for the purpose of discussing the existing differences. General Smith denied that there was any covert hostility against the Bureau and maintained that there was a general feeling of respect for us. He admitted that there had been isolated instances of friction for which CIA must accept its share of responsibility.

It is my recollection that the Director and other Bureau officials did meet with General Smith, at which time guidelines were set forth for maintaining future relations between the two agencies. I was not able to find a memorandum of record covering this meeting. ([redacted])

2. PROSELYTING OF BUREAU PERSONNEL BY CIA

The Agent clearly recalls that early in the 1950's we encountered difficulties with CIA because the Agency allegedly was recruiting Bureau-employed personnel. We vigorously protested, and subsequently the Agency advised that it would follow a policy of not having any contact with a Bureau employee until the individual had been separated from the Bureau for a period of at least thirty days. The Agent could not locate the background of this matter in the files reviewed by him. It is possible that the pertinent information lies in the personnel file of some former Bureau Agent.

7. CASE OF POLISH SEAMEN - DEFECTORS - 1954

By letter dated October 13, 1954, a very strong letter of protest was sent to General T. J. Betts of the Interagency Defector Committee at CIA. This letter made reference to political asylum which was being considered for certain Polish sailors who had been seized by the Chinese Nationalist Government. General Betts disseminated a memorandum indicating that members of the Committee had agreed that in view of commitments made by the United States and Chinese officials, that failure to arrange re-entry for the Polish seamen would have an adverse effect on the over-all United States Defector Program. We emphasized to General Betts that this matter had never been officially presented before the Defector Committee. He was informed that his action was not conducive to mutual cooperation.

8. CIA INTERVIEW OF ALIENS IN THE UNITED STATES - DISCUSSION WITH ALLEN DULLES SEPTEMBER 27, 1955

On September 27, 1955, the Liaison Agent met with Allen Dulles, at which time the CIA Director's attention was referred to a matter which had not yet developed into a serious situation but if not properly followed could lead to conflicts between the two agencies. Dulles was referred to the contacts of aliens in the United States made by CIA personnel without first obtaining the necessary clearance from the Bureau. The requirement for such clearance was clear-cut and pursuant to an established agreement. (62-80750; memorandum Roach to Belmont September 28, 1955, "Relations with CIA")

9. CIA APPROACH OF A NATIONAL ACADEMY GRADUATE (1955)

In November, 1955, an incident arose when CIA approached a National Academy graduate to utilize his services in Guatemala. (S) This approach was made while the graduate was attending National Academy classes. (u) A protest was made to key CIA officials for not having advised us prior to establishing contact with the Academy graduate. (Re: [redacted]

10. [redacted]

In December, 1955, we received information indicating that CIA was in contact with an individual whom the Bureau was developing for utilization in a double agent operation. We learned that CIA representatives had established contact with [redacted] and had given him some advice and guidance without first checking with the Bureau. We protested to CIA. ([redacted]) us that he had been advised by a CIA official that the FBI would be furnishing operational guidance to him. We had never become involved in any such arrangement, and we later determined that a CIA official had been in error in making the above-described misrepresentation. We protested the CIA official's handling of this matter. (Re: *[Dr.] [redacted] (U) (S)

15. [redacted]

On July 20, 1956, we determined (S) that one [redacted] had been in contact with [the Czech] Military Attache* ~~(S)~~, Washington, D. C. We further ascertained that [redacted] was a CIA employee. We were informed by CIA on July 21, 1956, that the Agency had no information concerning [redacted] reported contacts with [the Czechs] (S) We later interviewed [redacted], and it was indicated that [redacted], in fact, had been in contact with a CIA official concerning his meetings with [the Czech] (S) Military Attache.* ~~(S)~~ We protested and CIA submitted a letter of apology. (Memorandum Belmont to Boardman July 21, 1956 [redacted])

16. [redacted]

In July, 1956, a statement was made by a State Department official to the effect that a CIA employee allegedly had advised that the subject, a Soviet agent, was being permitted to enter the United States so that his activities could be covered and so that the Bureau would be in a position to promote a defection. The Bureau was not in possession of any information indicating that we had sanctioned the entry of the subject for the purpose described above. The State Department official was unable to recall the name of the CIA employee involved; inquiry at CIA was negative. We were not in a position to identify the CIA employee without conducting investigation within the Agency or without the Agency coming up with the identity. (Re: [redacted]) (U)

17. [redacted]

By letter dated November 8, 1956, we strongly protested to CIA because representatives of that Agency had interviewed an alien in the United States without first obtaining clearance from the Bureau. It should be noted that there was a well-established agreement whereby it was incumbent upon CIA to first check with the Bureau before interviewing any alien in the United States. (Letter to CIA November 8, 1956, [redacted])

18. [DARRELL PATRICK HAMMER] (S)

[Hammer] (S) was a former student at Columbia University with whom we had been in contact because of his association with a [Soviet] (S) assigned to the United Nations. (S) In December, 1956, [Hammer] (S) made a trip to [Russia] (S) where he was contacted by an unidentified individual and was given a letter indicating that the writer was [a Colonel in the KGB] (S) and that he was interested in cooperating with the United States. When [Hammer] (S) returned to the United States, we permitted CIA to interview the subject because of the Agency's foreign intelligence interests. We subsequently interviewed [Hammer] (S), at which time he informed us that he had been cautioned by CIA not to furnish pertinent information to the Bureau. CIA denied that any such statement was made. (Re: [Darrell Patrick Hammer] (S))

19. CIA REQUEST FOR INFORMATION CONCERNING A HIGH-SPEED CAMERA-1957

The San Francisco Office furnished information indicating that CIA had requested a firm in California to furnish that Agency information regarding all foreign inquiries pertaining to a high-speed camera manufactured by the company. The matter was reviewed because we wanted to be certain that CIA was not invading our jurisdiction. We did not develop evidence that CIA had overstepped its jurisdiction. The Director did make a notation, "O.K., but it does seem to me we give CIA a pretty wide authority to explore such a field. H" (Memorandum Belmont to Boardman April 10, 1957, "Flow of Intelligence Information to Soviets and Satellites through So-Called Channels")

20. [redacted]

On May 28, 1957, CIA advised that one of its representatives in the field had interviewed the captioned [redacted] alien who had agreed to cooperate with the Agency after he returned to [redacted]. CIA conducted this interview without first obtaining clearance from the Bureau. Such clearance was necessary pursuant to an established agreement. A vigorous protest was made to the Agency. (Re: [redacted] - [redacted])

21. CIA REQUEST FOR TOUR FOR COLOMBIAN INTELLIGENCE SERVICE REPRESENTATIVES - 1957 (S)

(S) In July, 1957, CIA requested a tour for several Colombian officials who were coming to this country under CIA invitation. CIA was told that no tours would be given to the Colombians (S) because in the past a Colombian (S) ambassador had grossly insulted the Bureau after we had arrested the ambassador's chauffeur on White Slave Traffic Act charge. (~~S~~)

If we so desired, we could give consideration to accusing CIA of trying to impose upon us individuals whom we considered undesirable in light of the foregoing. (Memorandum July 15, 1957, Roach to Belmont "Representatives of Colombian Intelligence Service - Request for Bureau Tour by CIA") (~~S~~) (S)

22. REQUEST FOR SECURITY SURVEY OF COUNCIL ON FOREIGN RELATIONS - NEW YORK CITY - 1957 (~~S~~) (u)

On November 15, 1957, our New York Office was contacted by the local CIA representative who desired to be informed if the Bureau could conduct a security survey of the premises of the Council on Foreign Relations which were located across the street from a building occupied by the Soviet - United Nations Delegation. (~~S~~) The CIA representative indicated that his visit to our office was pursuant to instructions received from Allen Dulles who allegedly was concerned about the possibility of the Soviets (~~S~~) establishing coverage of conversations and discussions which might be held at the Council. It should be noted that the Council included as members many well-known personalities, including officials of the United States Government. (~~S~~)(u)

Pursuant to instructions, Allen Dulles was informed on November 18, 1957, that we did not like the approach used by CIA in that such a sensitive matter had been taken up at the field level rather than through Bureau Headquarters. (Memorandum Roach to Belmont November 19, 1957, re "Council on Foreign Relations") (~~S~~)(u)

23. [redacted] [redacted]

In October, 1957, we received information from [redacted] indicating that a Polish scientist then visiting in the United States might defect. (S) We followed developments through [redacted] and we kept CIA advised. The Agency was fully aware of the situation and particularly knew that we were in contact with [redacted]. We subsequently received information indicating that [redacted] [redacted], a CIA employee, established contact with [redacted] for the purpose of developing information concerning the work of Polish scientists. (S) A protest was made to CIA for not properly coordinating their interests with us, bearing in mind that the action taken by [redacted] possibly could have jeopardized a Bureau operation. (Re: [redacted] [redacted] [redacted] - [redacted])

24. [redacted]

By letter dated February 10, 1958, we directed a protest to CIA charging that Agency with interviewing the subject, a Romanian alien, without first obtaining the necessary clearance from the Bureau. (S) (Re: [redacted] - [redacted])

25. ALLEGED IMPERSONATION OF FBI EMPLOYEE

On April 23, 1958, we received information indicating that a CIA employee allegedly had represented herself as being with the FBI when she tried to arrange an interview with [redacted], an official of the International Association of Machinists in Washington, D. C. [redacted] gave a signed statement in which he claimed that he had received a phone call from a Miss [redacted] who said she was with the FBI. Upon checking with CIA, we were informed that Miss [redacted] denied that she had made such representation. (Memorandum Roach to Belmont April 25, 1958, "Unknown Subject; [redacted]")

26. [redacted]

By letter dated May 12, 1958, the Bureau protested to CIA for interviewing an alien in the Detroit area without first obtaining the necessary clearance from the Bureau. Such clearance was necessary pursuant to established agreement. (Re: [redacted] - [redacted])

30. [GENERAL REINHARD GEHLEN] (S)

The Legal Attache, Bonn, advised by letter dated June 10, 1958, that he had been invited to visit [General Reinhard Gehlen] (S) the head of the [West German Intelligence Service.] (S) CIA became aware of this invitation, and an Agency representative informed our Legal Attache that it was not desired that the Legat visit with [Gehlen.] (S) Our Legat was instructed by the Bureau to accept the invitation regardless of the CIA position.

We could evaluate the CIA position in this matter as being uncooperative. (Memorandum Roach to Belmont June 17, 1958, "Relations with CIA")

31. CIA INTEREST IN [CHINESE] ALIENS (S)

In June, 1958, we raised the question concerning CIA's failure to adhere to an agreement relating to CIA's recruitment of [Chinese] aliens in the United States for overseas intelligence operations. Under the agreement, CIA was not to approach any [Chinese] alien without first checking with us. A situation developed in Illinois indicating that CIA allegedly had become interested in recruiting an alien and even took some action without first checking with us. We expressed our disapproval in a letter to CIA June 12, 1958. (Memorandum Belmont to Boardman June 9, 1958, "Recruitment of [Chinese] Aliens in the United States for Overseas Intelligence Operations") (S) (S) (S)

32. CIA OFFICIAL's CRITICISM OF "MASTERS OF DECEIT"

Our Legal Attache, Tokyo, obtained a copy of a memorandum sent to an official in our Embassy in Tokyo by [redacted], [Chief of the CIA Office in Japan.] In his communication [redacted] belittled the value of "Masters of Deceit" as an anticommunist weapon in foreign countries. He claimed that the book pertained only to the Communist Party, USA, which he characterized as a small, ineffective, fraction-ridden organization. He stated that the author of the book was not an intellectual but rather a policeman. (Memorandum Roach to Belmont June 12 and 24, 1958, "Masters of Deceit.") (S)

33. CIA DEVELOPMENT OF INDONESIAN (S) GOVERNMENT SOURCES IN THE UNITED STATES (S)

In May, 1958, CIA furnished identifying and background data concerning three individuals - [redacted], [redacted], and [redacted], all employees of the Indonesian (S) Government and assigned to the United States. [redacted] had been developed as a source of information by CIA in [redacted]. [redacted] came to CIA in Washington, D. C. and volunteered his services. [redacted] had been developed as a source by CIA and had been furnishing some information to the Agency. In a letter dated June 24, 1958, we told CIA that in the case of [redacted], we felt that the Agency should have notified us at an earlier date in order that we could have considered exploitation for internal security purposes at the outset. (Re: Indonesian (S) Activities - 100-254749) (S)

34. MICHAL GOLENIEWSKI, AKA DR. HEINRICH SCHUTZE (S)

The subject, a former member of the Polish (S) Intelligence Service, defected to the United States and furnished extremely valuable information. The beginnings of this case include information raising questions concerning CIA cooperation.

In June, 1958, we developed information indicating that CIA may have opened a letter in Switzerland (S) which had been addressed to the Director by an individual who had identified himself as Dr. Heinrich Schutze. (S) The writer further indicated that he might be connected with the Polish (S) Intelligence Service. The letter addressed to the Director had been placed in an envelope which, in turn, had ended up in the office of the United States Ambassador in Switzerland. (S) We subsequently received a copy of the particular communication from CIA, and the contents were such at that time that no action was required by the Bureau. We asked CIA for particulars leading to the alleged opening of the letter which had been addressed to the Director. CIA claimed that it had not opened the letter. We were confidentially informed by an Agency representative that the Ambassador (S) had opened the letter and then referred the matter to CIA. The contents were such that investigative action of an extensive nature was required by CIA in Europe. What actually happened at the United States Embassy is something we may never know. (Michal Goleniewski - 65-65192) (S)

35. [redacted]

By letter dated June 26, 1958, we voiced our concern regarding CIA's alleged interview of [a Chinese] alien whom CIA was considering for overseas recruitment. CIA denied that an approach of the alien had been made. Our investigation contradicted the statements emanating from CIA. (Re [redacted], Bureau file [redacted]) (S)

36. [COMPROMISE OF FBI TECHNICAL SURVEILLANCE COVERAGE] (S)

On July 18, 1958, CIA requested the Bureau for permission to [play a recording of a telephone conversation] (S) obtained by the Bureau to [King Hussein of Jordan] (S) The [recording] (S) had been developed through our [sensitive coverage of the Egyptian Embassy] (S) in Washington, D. C. On June 5, 1958, we had obtained the contents of a [conversation between Mahmoud Rousan of the Jordanian Embassy and the Egyptian Air Attache.] (S) The conversation strongly indicated that [Rousan] (S) was working closely with the [Egyptians.] (S) Subsequently, CIA developed information indicating that [Rousan] (S) was a key figure in a revolutionary plot, the objective of which was to overthrow [King Hussein.] (S)

[Rousan] (S) returned to [Jordan] (S) and was imprisoned by [King Hussein] (S) based upon information made available through CIA. [Rousan] (S) denied any implication in any revolutionary activity and he was strongly supported by certain top officials in the [Jordanian] (S) Government. [The King] (S) told CIA that he was on the spot and that he needed proof of [Rousan's] (S) conspiratorial activity. CIA asked if we would permit the [recording to be played to the King] (S), stressing that this was the only way [King Hussien] (S) could be convinced. ~~(S)~~

On July 18, 1958, a CIA official was advised that the Bureau positively would not grant permission to [playing of the recording] (S) We maintained that if we granted such permission, our other [coverage of a sensitive nature] (S) could be seriously imperiled. ~~(S)~~

On July 21, 1958, Allen Dulles asked if the Bureau would reconsider its position in view of the critical situation in [the Middle East] (S) Pursuant to instructions, CIA was then told that in view of the position in which the Bureau had been placed, we acceded to Dulles' request. CIA was further told that we were seriously considering the [termination of all of our technical surveillances] (S) because we did not intend to be placed in such a position in the future. ~~(S)~~

On July 22, 1958, Dulles told the Liaison Agent that he was very much disturbed over the Director's reaction. ~~(S)~~ He stated that he was not interested in holding a pistol to anybody's head and he further indicated that he was deliberating whether or not the recording should be used. It was recommended that the Liaison Agent follow the matter for the purpose of determining if the recording was to be used by CIA. The Director's notation was, "No. The fat is in the fire now and it is useless to waste any more time on it. We will probably hear of any details in Pearson's column. H." (~~S~~)

The strong position we took in resisting the dissemination of such sensitive information to a foreign government was fully justified. (Memorandum Roach to Belmont, dated July 22, 1958, re "CIA Request for Permission to [Play Technical Surveillance Recording to King Hussien, Jordan"] (S)

37. X[CIA ALLEGED PARTICIPATION IN MEXICAN GOVERNMENT DEPORTATION OF AMERICAN COMMUNISTS]X (~~S~~)(U)

In 1958, CIA officially informed us that it was engaged in a program designed to disrupt overall communist activity in Mexico. We became concerned because this program was to involve deportation of undesirables, including American communists residing in Mexico. The implementation of such a program would have resulted in the return of American communists to the United States. CIA denied that it was engaged in any operation specifically designed to oust American communists. In September, 1958, we were informed that the Mexican Government had embarked on a strong anticommunist program and certain Americans were ordered deported. We checked with CIA and the Agency's chief in Mexico City claimed that his Agency was not involved. (~~S~~)(U)

The Liaison Agent subsequently was informed on a strictly confidential basis that the American Ambassador had been in contact with certain Mexican officials concerning possible anticommunist activities. The Ambassador had consulted with the local CIA chief and had asked for a list of Americans who could be considered as being deportable. The CIA officer reportedly furnished a list of approximately 40 names. (memorandum Roach to Belmont, September 17, 1958, "Legal Attache's Office, Mexico City, Relationship with Embassy and CIA") (~~S~~)(U)

38. [redacted]

We expressed our displeasure to CIA in X[September, 1958,]X because of that Agency's unauthorized investigation in the United States of a X[Romanian]X citizen who was here in connection with an exchange program. The X[Romanian]X indicated to an American friend that he was interested in staying in the United States, but was not ready for actual defection because of a (~~S~~) (~~S~~) (U) to notify the Bureau. A letter dated September 16, 1959, was also sent to [redacted] and he was told that the Bureau was disappointed in him because he had failed to make any objection to the article and had not alerted us concerning the impending attack against the Bureau. (Memorandum Frohbose to Belmont, August 27, 1959, "Allen Dulles: America's Global Sherlock, 'True' Magazine, September, 1959"; and Memorandum Frohbose to Belmont, September 4, 1959, "Allen Dulles")

45. * [ACTIVITIES OF CONTACTS DIVISION OF CIA - 1959] * (~~S~~)(U)

We received information in September, 1959, that the Contacts Division of CIA had held interviews with American businessmen in the Boston area, which dealt with meetings between the businessmen and visiting [Soviets] (S) CIA reportedly was interested in developing positive intelligence information, * but it so happened that (S) one of the [Soviets] (S) was involved in a [double agent operation] (S) being handled by the Bureau. The Bureau already had notified CIA of our interest in the [Soviet.] By letter (S) dated September 29, 1959, we voiced our objection to the manner in which CIA had handled this. (Re [redacted], Bureau file [redacted]) (~~S~~)

46. APPEARANCE OF COLONEL FRANTISEK TISLER BEFORE THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON UNAMERICAN ACTIVITIES (HCUA) - 1959

On November 6, 1959, information was received indicating that HCUA was interested in obtaining Colonel Frantisek Tisler, a Czech defector, to testify before the Committee. HCUA advised us that it had contacted the State Department who, in turn, had conferred with CIA. Allen Dulles allegedly informed HCUA that Tisler was agreeable to appearing before the Committee and that he would be made available pursuant to certain security instructions.

The Director asked whether or not CIA had authority to make a defector available to a congressional committee without first checking with other interested agencies. The Director was informed that CIA did not have such authority because a National Security Council directive made it very clear that this could not be done without processing the matter through the Inter-Agency Defector Committee. In this particular case the aforementioned Committee had not called a meeting, but the chairman, a CIA official, had made certain phone calls. A Bureau representative was contacted by phone on November 6, 1959, but at that time we had not formulated a position. Allen Dulles allegedly contacted the chairman of the Committee and was told that the Committee had no objection to making Tisler available.

On November 13, 1959, CIA representatives were informed that we were opposed to making the defector available to HCUA. On that same date we were told that CIA was informing HCUA it was reversing its position and that upon reconsideration, it did not feel that Tisler could be made available.

By memorandum dated November 14, 1959, the developments in this matter were reviewed and it was recommended that at the next Inter-Agency Defector Committee meeting we strongly protest CIA's dereliction in the handling of the HCUA request. (Bureau file 105-38088)

47. CRITICISM OF DIRECTOR

On April 11, 1960, [redacted], [redacted] of Reicco Company, Caracas, Venezuela, informed the Bureau that he recently held a conversation with [redacted], an official of the U.S. Embassy in Caracas. [redacted] was [a CIA employee] (S) [redacted] took exception to complimentary statements made by [redacted] concerning the Director and the FBI. [redacted] stated that the Director should have retired five years ago for the good of all concerned. A protest was made to Allen Dulles on April 20, 1960. (Memorandum Frohbose to Belmont, April 21, 1960, [redacted]")

48. [redacted], CIA OFFICIAL ALLEGEDLY ADVOCATING RECOGNITION OF RED CHINA - 1960

In February, 1960, Name [redacted], Position [redacted] [redacted] for the Richardson Foundation, volunteered information concerning statements allegedly made by [redacted], a top CIA official. [redacted] allegedly advocated recognition of Red China.

This matter was called to the attention of Allen Dulles and on April 20, 1960, Dulles informed the Liaison Agent that he had conducted an inquiry, had reviewed a tape recording of [redacted] talk, and was satisfied that [redacted] had not made the statement attributed to him.

The above is being cited in the event we desire to dispute the position taken by Dulles. If the evidence clearly established that [redacted] had made such a statement, we could use the information to support a position that we would have been warranted in being most circumspect with CIA. (Memorandum Frohbose to Belmont, April 21, 1960, [redacted])

49. ALLEGED INSTALLATION OF MICROPHONES ON U.S. PREMISES ABROAD BY CIA

A State Department representative informed the Bureau that a microphone had been found in the U.S. Embassy, Mexico City; that it had been planted by CIA; and that Allen Dulles allegedly had maintained that if CIA was to operate effectively, it had to know what was going on in U.S. establishments. The implication was left that CIA was covering activities of other U.S. agencies through technical installations. Inquiries developed information indicating that CIA had installed a microphone in the Embassy in 1952 at the request of a State Department official. The Office of Security in State Department was contacted in an effort to pin this down in a more specific manner. We were told by State that their records did not contain any information concerning the microphone.

Subsequently, a letter was transmitted to all Legal Attaches instructing them to be on the alert for technical installations which may affect Bureau operations. (Memorandum L'Allier to Belmont, May 2, 1960, "Installation of Microphones on U.S. Premises Abroad by CIA")

50. [redacted]

We received information indicating that the subject a former Cuban intelligence agent and the subject of a Bureau investigation, had planned to defect in New York City. We permitted a CIA representative to contact the subject in order to orient him so that maximum propaganda effect would be derived through newspaper publicity. We were told that the CIA representative in New York City had been instructed by his headquarters to tell the subject that he would not be prosecuted by the U.S. Government. We complained to CIA stressing that the Agency had no power or authority to promise the subject immunity. (Memorandum L'Allier to Belmont, September 30, 1960, [redacted] (U) [redacted]")

51. [redacted]

Miss [redacted], a CIA employee, obtained a position as a secretary in the Office of the [redacted] Delegation to the United Nations. Prior to receiving this job, CIA checked with the Bureau. The Liaison Agent subsequently learned that [redacted] had informed the [redacted] that she was leaving her job. The [redacted] inquired if she could recommend somebody else. She gave them the name of another CIA employee, Miss [redacted] [redacted].

(S) ~~(S)~~

The Liaison Agent informed CIA that the Agency was out of line by not first checking with the Bureau before recommending [redacted] to the [redacted], that the Bureau was interested in developing intelligence information which might be useful to the U.S. Government; and that, in this instance, CIA was obstructing operations by not appropriately coordinating with the Bureau. (Memorandum L'Allier to Belmont, October 31, 1960, [redacted]) (u)

52. CIA USE OF BUREAU INFORMATION IN A U.S. INTELLIGENCE BOARD DOCUMENT

On March 30, 1961, the Liaison Agent contacted Allen Dulles concerning CIA's failure to obtain Bureau clearance for use of our information in a U.S. Intelligence Board document. No known damage had been done, but the Agent stressed the sensitivity of the Bureau information. Dulles requested one of his subordinates to establish a procedure to prevent a recurrence of such errors. (Memorandum L'Allier to Belmont, March 30, 1961, [redacted]

53. "SPY IN THE U.S." BOOK AUTHORED BY PAWEL MONAT

In July, 1961, our Chicago Office received galley proofs of the book "Spy in the U.S.," written by Pawel Monat. A review of these proofs disclosed several references which portrayed our counterespionage capabilities in an unfavorable light. Since CIA was responsible for Monat and for any writing which he might perform, the matter was discussed with CIA. It turned out that CIA had not been following the preparation of the book. We were told that steps would be taken to protect Bureau interest. The publishers had indicated to CIA that they would cooperate on changes. Although some changes were made, the book still came out with some information which was not entirely favorable to the Bureau. (Pawel Monat, Bureau file 105-40510)

54. CONFLICT WITH LEGAL ATTACHE*[MEXICO CITY*] 1961 (~~S~~)(u)

On October 6, 1961, our Legal Attache,[Mexico City] (~~S~~)(u) received information indicating that the*[Czech Embassy*] in that (~~S~~)(u) city was planning to protest harassment of its personnel by U.S. Intelligence. The Legal Attache was told by the*[local CIA office*] (~~S~~)(u) that the Agency was not involved. On October 12, 1961, the same CIA officer changed his position and admitted that CIA had been involved to a certain extent. The Liaison Agent objected to these tactics. It was important to him to know the facts so he could be guided accordingly. (Memorandum*[L'Allier to Sullivan, October 18, 1961, ["Czechoslovakian Diplomatic Activities] (S) - Mexico"*] (~~S~~))

55. CIA TECHNICAL SURVEILLANCE ACTIVITY IN THE UNITED STATES - 19

When he defected in December, 1961, [redacted] furnished information concerning alleged penetration of American intelligence. Inquiries and review conducted by CIA within the Agency suggested that a CIA intelligence officer, [redacted] was a logical suspect. We conferred with CIA and on February 9, 1962, we advised the Agency that we would take over the investigation.

instructions were sent to the field and we then learned in [New York City] that CIA allegedly planned to make a recruitment approach. The matter was taken up with CIA headquarters and a protest was made because of the wide discrepancy in the reports we received on CIA intentions. (Memorandum Brennan to Sullivan, April 18, 1966, [redacted] (U) (S)

67. PASSING OF BUREAU DOCUMENTS TO SENATOR ROBERT C. BYRD BY CIA EMPLOYEE - 1966

In September, 1966, we developed information indicating that copies of FBI documents had been passed to Senator Byrd by CIA. The matter was discussed with the Director of CIA and the Agency subsequently conducted an investigation and established that one of its employees, [redacted], had submitted a name check request to the Bureau concerning one [redacted] who was the subject of the material in question. At that time [redacted] had a responsibility of handling name check requests for CIA and, in this connection, was in contact with our Name Check Section. He admitted that he instituted a name check on an "off the cuff basis" for another CIA employee named [redacted].

It is my recollection that one or both CIA employees were subsequently fired or asked to resign. (Memorandum Brennan to Sullivan, September 21, 1966, "Leak of FBI Documents Concerning [redacted] to Senator Robert C. Byrd")

68. [ALLEGED COMPROMISE OF BUREAU DOUBLE AGENT] (S)(U)

In March, 1967, we protested to CIA in connection with a matter relating to our mutual interest in a chemist (S) connected with [redacted] [Corporation*] in [redacted] [New Jersey.] (S) We were utilizing the chemist as a double agent in an operation (S) directed against the Soviets. CIA had established a relationship with the same person for the purpose of acquiring positive intelligence relating to the field of [redacted]. Our [Newark] (S)(U) Office received information indicating that a CIA officer, without authorization, compromised our relationship with *the chemist by discussing the matter with the president of the firm. (Memorandum Sullivan to DeLoach, March 15, 1967, "[redacted]) (S)

69. [redacted]

In July, 1967, we protested to CIA in a case where the Agency allegedly had failed to report to us concerning a communication which a Cuban exile, residing in the United States, had received from the Cuban Intelligence Service. The particular communication had instructed the exile to initiate preparations

Memorandum to Mr. W. R. Wannall

Soviet defector ["Sammy"] (U) has advised that Jaffe was recruited by the KGB, in about 1962 while he was in Moscow, through his relationship with a Soviet female. [Soviet defector "Shamrock" has confirmed that Jaffe was approached but does not believe the approach was successful.] c Jaffe reported to the New York Office in 1963 what he interpreted as a recruitment effort, and he was extensively reinterviewed in 1969 concerning his association with KGB officers in Moscow. [There is no information in Jaffe's file that he was ever reported on by Col. Penkovskiy, as Jaffe reportedly has claimed.] c During the interviews with Jaffe, he denied any overt acts helpful to the KGB, although he admitted a continuing relationship with several KGB officers. Both the New York and Washington Field Offices came to the conclusion that Jaffe was a KGB agent while in Moscow, but that there was doubt as to whether he continued in that role after he was expelled.

Our relations with Jaffe were tempered by ["Sammy's"] (U) allegation, and Bureau Agents in contact with him were circumspect in any dealings with him thereafter. Jaffe very likely detected a change in the Agents' attitude which accounts for his statement that he felt his relationship with them had cooled off.

There is no evidence contained in Jaffe's file that either New York or Washington Field or the Bureau has ever taken any action which would affect Jaffe's livelihood. Following his return from Hong Kong, Jaffe told his handling Agents that he was experiencing difficulty in finding a job. He several times mentioned his concern that his association with the FBI might be the reason. On each occasion, he was assured that the FBI had never divulged his confidential relationship and would not do so any time in the future. u

Jaffe's file does disclose that during an interview with Washington Field Agents in 1969, he said that he had learned from a British Intelligence contact in Hong Kong that [his recall from that city was caused by [his refusal to cooperate with CIA. He also related that he later mentioned this to a CIA contact] in Washington who responded that the British

Intelligence representative "had no right to tell you this." [CIA has informed us that they did have contacts with Jaffe while he was in Hong Kong and that he reported on Communist Chinese of interest to the Agency.] His file also records that Jaffe told New York Agents in 1969 that a recently published book on the Council of Foreign Relations described him as having a subversive background. He was also described in the book as being a member of the American League for Peace and Democracy. Jaffe connected the appearance of this book with his then recent recall from Hong Kong by ABC.

This is to identify additional copies of excised material which is being made available in room 4171 of the JEH building for review by staff members of the Senate Select Committee (SSC). The copies have been excised to protect sensitive sources and delete information from other agencies where there were sensitivities.

Each serial, prior to being made available for review to members of the SSC staff in room 4171, is approved by the responsible Section Chief.

Attached for the file are 23 copies of excised serials regarding the New Left which were made available for review to the SSC on 8/7/75, and 336 copies of the Black Extremist which were made available on 8/8/75 for review. The latter 336, which consists of four volumes, are being maintained in room 4426, JEH.

Reference is made to the August 8, 1975, meeting in your office, wherein members of your staff and officials of this Bureau discussed matters relating to the current inquiries of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities as relates to our Counterintelligence Programs (Cointelpros) documents and to the protection of FBI sources utilized in these programs.

At your request there is attached a memorandum summarizing known results in our Cointelpros directed against the Communist Party, USA, Socialist Workers Party, White Hate Groups, New Left and Black Extremists. These summaries do not indicate any actions were conducted under these programs which resulted in physical injury to the targets or that electronic techniques, surreptitious entries, or mail openings were used in connection with Cointelpro actions.

The Attorney General

NOTE:

The Attorney General, on 8/8/75, and the Deputy Attorney General, met with Associate Director Nicholas P. Callahan, Assistant Director W. Raymond Wannall, and Inspector John B. Hotis to discuss the request of the Senate Select Committee for the identities of sources utilized to effect Cointelpro activities. The Attorney General indicated prior to discussing this problem, which relates to the overall confidentiality of FBI sources, with Senator Church, Chairman of the Committee, he desired to be furnished information which would enable him to insure himself there were no Cointelpro activities of a scandalous or infamous nature which at a later date could cause embarrassment to the Department. The attached memorandum was prepared during the period 8/8-12/75 by personnel of the Internal Security Branch of the Intelligence Division. It represents a careful review of all Cointelpro actions where results were known. It is pointed out in the majority of authorized Cointelpro actions results were not recorded. Also, because of the wide variety of Cointelpro actions, results in many areas are not subject to measurement. For example, there is no way of determining how many individuals left the Communist Party as a result of our documented mailings relating to Soviet anti-semitism.

COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAMS

Classified because sets forth information which, if disclosed, could compromise sensitive intelligence sources and methods.

In an effort to assess possible damage incurred by subversive and extremist organizations and individuals as a result of Counterintelligence Program (Cointelpro) activity, a current review has been made of the programs relating to the Communist Party, USA, Socialist Workers Party, White Hate Groups, New Left and Black Extremists.

The "Study Committee Report on FBI Counterintelligence Programs," prepared in May, 1974, by the Department-FBI Committee headed by former Assistant Attorney General Henry E. Petersen, tabulated 3,208 proposals for counterintelligence action during the period 1956 until all programs were discontinued on April 28, 1971. Of these, according to the Petersen report, 2,340 were reported approved and implemented and results were reported as known in 516 instances. Our current review has developed 620 instances where results of varying degrees are known. Excluding results of actions which appear to have been appropriate and proper law enforcement procedures, we have summarized results in 164 instances. In any instance where there was any question regarding the propriety of the action, doubts were resolved by preparing a summary.

For ready review, summaries of the actions in these 164 instances have been placed in categories and are attached as follows:

Counterintelligence Programs

In July, 1964, an anonymous letter was sent to a number of individuals in the Superior, Wisconsin, area who advertised in "Tyomies-Eteenpain," a Finnish language newspaper published in Wisconsin noting the similarity of editorials in "The Worker," published by the Communist Party, USA, to alert these advertisers to the communist nature of this newspaper so they might withdraw their support.

There was no known withdrawal of support for this newspaper, but at the same time, the newspaper was applying for membership in the Superior, Wisconsin, Chamber of Commerce and their application was denied.

Counterintelligence Programs

In December, 1969, an anonymous letter was directed to selected members of the United Klans of America, Inc. (UKA), by the Richmond Office. This letter denounced Robert H. Hudgins, Grand Dragon of Virginia, characterizing him as one interested in personal gain only. The content of the letter suggested that it had been prepared by Raymond Adams, a former UKA member, who had been banished and had been at odds with Hudgins.

The anonymous mailing resulted in continuing disruption and mistrust in certain Klan units. Hudgins' leadership was challenged. The unrest at Danville, Virginia, caused a great reduction in income for the UKA in Virginia, and affected Hudgins' salary and expenses. Information available does not indicate whether money for Hudgins' salary and expenses obtained from UKA or his employer.

FBI Headquarters, in October, 1962, authorized the preparation of an anonymous mimeographed leaflet criticizing individuals and small groups with communist backgrounds who consistently attacked the United States but never took a stand against the Soviet Union. This was to be done in connection with the scheduled October 31, 1962, appearance of Herbert Eugene Aptheker, a member of the National Committee, Communist Party, USA, at the State University of New York at Buffalo (UB), as a part of a lecture series entitled "A Political Spectrum of a Contemporary World." Such individuals had been openly critical of an earlier appearance by a British fascist.

Authority was also granted to anonymously mail public source information on Aptheker to Dr. Charles Ebert, UB, a faculty member critical of the far left.

The leaflets were anonymously distributed to the local news media, the student newspaper and to 28 campus organizations and/or students.

Aptheker's scheduled speech was deferred by a last minute injunction in New York State Court. It is not known if the leaflets or letter had any bearing on the injunction. An appellate court later ruled the University had the right to invite Aptheker to speak.

In August, 1963, the FBI in Seattle, Washington, became aware that a factional problem existed in the Communist Party (CP) Northwest District as a result of the Sino-Soviet split in which the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), supported the Soviet Union.

A Red Chinese letter stating their position in the ideological dispute was condensed; criticisms of the CPUSA pro-Soviet position were added, and an anonymous letter prepared and mailed to 25 selected CP members in the Northwest District.

The Seattle FBI Office later reported that some members of the Seattle area CP registered their disapproval with the National CP pro-Soviet position and that this contributed to some disharmony in CPUSA circles. The letter was discussed at CP state and local club levels in Seattle.

During May, 1967, a leaflet was mailed to about 40 individuals in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, area. Recipients were labor union leaders, churchmen, members of the American Society of Friends, and the American Legion Posts in vicinity of the residence of Arthur Edelman. Some of the recipients were associated with Edelman in promoting demonstrations against the war in Vietnam and the leaflet was designed to present the membership and leadership role of Edelman and his wife, Beth, in the Western Pennsylvania Communist Party (CP).

Arthur Edelman, after being made aware of leaflet, announced it was time to come out in the open. An informant advised that Arthur Tuden, a college instructor in Pittsburgh, who was active in the antiwar movement, commented he was considering being more circumspect in his dealings with Edelman. Subsequent to circulation of leaflet, Edelman claimed the organization Trade Unionists For Peace in Pittsburgh was on verge of collapse because of friction among its leaders.

The letters, which indicated that Windham was cooperating with NCDT, were addressed in a manner that they would be intercepted by a Klan member and furnished to another Klan leader.

Resulted in a split in Klan leadership and ultimately in Windham's resignation from the Klan.

Nieman was very active in SDS and supported SDS in anti-Vietnam War demonstrations. His arrest record, under FBI Identification Number 274-888-G, reveals that he was arrested by the Los Angeles, California, Police Department, on 9/29/67 for violation of the Health and Safety Code (Possession of Marijuana).

Nieman lost the election, which he said he expected, but also stated that the letter had caused him much embarrassment, both at the school, where an effort was being made to remove him, and among black militants, who in some cases were being taught by him.

A leaflet entitled "Call...to Progressive-Minded America Announcing the Holding of a Conference Preliminary to the Founding Convention of a New, American Labor-Negro Vanguard Party" in November, 1961, was sent anonymously by the Newark Office to Communist Party (CP) officials throughout the country. The aim was to hinder the formation of the American Labor-Negro Vanguard Party (ALNVP) which was a project of the Harriet-Tubman Section which had already been expelled from the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA). It was also to make the Harriet-Tubman Section appear as a provocative agent of the FBI trying to raid the CPUSA of its membership and financial support.

The mailing created considerable confusion in the CPUSA, which found it necessary to warn its members through its newspaper, of the formation of the ALNVP and to warn against being taken in by this group.

During June, 1970, the Charlotte Office prepared about 100 copies of a leaflet, in the form of a news item, prepared by a reporter for Southern Vanguard Revolutionary Party, (a defunct extremist organization formed by purged Panther Jose Gonzalvez). The leaflet, sent to news services and to a number of residents in the vicinity of Black Panther Party (BPP) headquarters, Winston-Salem, North Carolina, was intended to publicize the split in the BPP group at Winston-Salem and to highlight that outside leadership has been brought to the BPP Winston-Salem. Leaflet mentioned Douglas Miranda, former BPP leader in New Haven, Connecticut, had been transferred to Winston-Salem and also attacked Larry Little, a BPP leader in Winston-Salem, as radical and insinuated he is pocketing donations obtained for BPP Breakfast for Children Program. The leaflet contained truthful information.

After distribution of this leaflet, sales of the BPP newspaper in Winston-Salem dropped considerably and respect for BPP leaders in Winston-Salem was reported to have been lost by members.

Douglas Paul Miranda was a successful leader and organizer of the Black Panther Party (BPP) during 1969 and 1970 in New Haven, Connecticut. An anonymous letter was sent to BPP Headquarters in San Francisco in March, 1970, using BPP slang alleging that Miranda had embezzled BPP funds and questioned whether his promiscuity was in the best interest of the BPP. There was no specific information known to the FBI that Miranda was, in fact, embezzling BPP funds, but allegations had been received that he was having sexual relations with numerous females in the New Haven area.

Miranda fell into disfavor with the BPP leadership and disciplinary action was taken with the approval of the national office. He was transferred to Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

He allegedly purchased a gun with part of this money and left Detroit. The BPP was reportedly very upset over Baynham's actions.

On June 12, 1969, Lt. William McCoy, Special Investigations Bureau, Detroit, Michigan, Police Department advised that Baynham was found fatally shot that date in the hallway of Jackie Spicer's residence, 13529 Dequindre, Detroit, Michigan. Spicer was present at the time of the shooting and advised police he had committed suicide.

The Wayne County, Michigan Medical Examiner's Office subsequently advised Baynham's death could possibly have been a suicide.

On September 15, 1969, FBI Headquarters authorized Detroit Office to mail an anonymous communication to a "representative number of Detroit BPP leaders" and members and to BPP National officer, David Hilliard. This communication, mailed September 17, 1969, would question the death of BPP member "Brother Michael Baynham," who it was believed committed suicide and would raise the question of possible responsibility on the part of national BPP leaders for the suicide. The letter would also be prepared in a manner to cause suspicion that Jackie Spicer, a BPP leader in Detroit, was the author of the letter and thus cause disruption in the BPP.

On September 19, 1969, an informant advised the receipt of the letter by Detroit BPP personnel convinced them that Jackie Spicer and Anita Hartman (also BPP member) wrote the letter. As a result, Frank Meyers of the Detroit Chapter contacted BPP National Headquarters on September 18, 1969, to so advise them. As a result, Meyers was told to stay away from Spicer since she was probably a police informant and the letter had come from the police through her.

At a BPP meeting held September 18, 1969, a decision was made to confront Spicer regarding the letter and consequently, she and Anita Hartman were purged from the Detroit BPP group.

In February, 1971, the Seattle Office advised that the following action was taken to discredit Michael Thomas Justesen and Clayton Van Lydegraf among their fellow New Left associates. During December, 1970, in connection with the "Seattle 8" trial, it was apparent that the defendants and their attorneys were under the impression that the Government intended to uncover other informants in addition to the one who was surfaced for testimony. (The "Seattle 8" is a name coined by news media to describe eight persons indicted by a Federal Grand Jury at Seattle, Washington, on April 16, 1970, for violation of the anti-riot law and conspiracy to destroy Government property.) Although there was general speculation that one of the defendants was a Government informant, this was not true. The Government had no other informants to uncover. Following the declaration of a mistrial in the case, an anonymous call was made to Defense Counsel Jeffrey Steinborn. (The mistrial was declared as a result of actions by a defendant who was cited for contempt.) The anonymous caller offered to help Steinborn in defense of the case but related a fear that Steinborn's phone might be bugged. Steinborn was instructed to proceed to a particular pay telephone booth directly across from the Seattle Police Department. He was observed entering the phone booth and the call was placed to him. Steinborn was advised that he was then under observation by the caller which left the impression that the call emanated from the Seattle Police Department. The caller disclosed an intention to get even with United States Attorney Stan Pitkin of Seattle, and the FBI for what they did to the Seattle Police Department. (It is noted that Pitkin handled the Government's case concerning the "Seattle 8," and also received considerable publicity in 1970 in connection with an expose of police corruption before the Federal Grand Jury.) The anonymous caller advised him that Michael Justesen and Clayton Van Lydegraf were FBI informants. (Justesen was in fugitive status at the time and Van Lydegraf's whereabouts were not known.) In reality neither was an informant. United States Attorney Pitkin was not aware of the above action.

As a result, Steinborn confronted Pitkin a few months later and warned that disclosure during any future trial that one of the defendants was actually an FBI informant would jeopardize the Government's case. Pitkin denied any knowledge that the FBI might have an undisclosed informant within the "Seattle 8." Information from other sources indicated that some persons sympathetic with the "Seattle 8" felt that Justesen was an informant. This gave further indication of the effect of the anonymous call made to Steinborn.

The Portland Office contacted Richard Ross, News Director, Station KGW-TV, Portland, Oregon, concerning planned arrival in Portland of Hyman Lumer, National Committee member, Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), on February 25, 1964. Lumer was to conduct a class in Marxism for CP youth and intended CP members. Ross arranged coverage of Lumer's arrival in Portland.

Lumer was incensed at the attempted interview and photographing of his arrival at the Portland airport. He cursed Richard Ross and swung his briefcase at the photographer. The film clip of Lumer's conduct was shown locally in Portland and subsequently on February 27, 1964, by NBC on the nationally televised Huntley-Brinkley news broadcast.

During 1968, the Students For a Democratic Society (SDS) Chapter at California State College was factionalized. The Los Angeles Office directed informants to attempt to widen the breech between the groups by implying that Robert Ray, head of the SDS Chapter, was using SDS funds to support his drug habit and that Delfin Lugo, an active SDS member, had used SDS funds for his own use while he had been treasurer of the Chapter. Although Ray, according to one informant, was a heavy drug user, we are unable to verify whether he or Lugo actually misappropriated SDS funds.

At subsequent SDS meetings, there were fist fights between the groups, thus disrupting the meetings. Additionally, members of one faction made threatening early morning phone calls to members of the other faction if they showed up at the meetings. Robert Ray was eventually discredited and replaced as Chairman of the SDS Unit.

In June, 1968, an informant in the San Diego, California, area, who was a Communist Party (CP) member, claimed to have been offended by Ben Dobbs, Executive Secretary of Southern California CP, who was running for state-wide office. The informant, a black, claimed to have been ignored by Dobbs and raised the issue that he engaged in discrimination against blacks in Southern California District CP. The claim was made at a Southern California District CP Negro Commission meeting, and a tape recording made of the meeting.

Dobbs apologized to the informant. The above tape recording was played to the CP District Board members and caused internal dissension between Board members. Some maintained the taped meeting was designed to discredit Dobbs and was staged by Board member Bill Taylor. Taylor, in turn, was angry at the other Board members.

He wanted to now advise the FBI that he no longer believed in communism or the Communist Party (CP) and had nothing to do with communists for the past five years. When asked what prompted his visit at this time, he stated that Oliver Brooks, Vice President of the University Circle Development Foundation, had requested his resignation effective October 1, 1964. Cooperman added the reason given by Brooks was that it had come to their attention that Cooperman, in the past, had used an assumed name. Cooperman admitted to Brooks that this was so and Brooks then went on to explain that the Foundation, which was attempting to raise a large sum of money, could not risk unfavorable publicity as the result of the activities of employees.

Cooperman said he was considering accepting one of several other employments available to him and in this connection he was attempting to make it known in appropriate circles that he had been disassociated from the CP for many years.

In February, 1965, an anonymous mailing was sent to three ministers (Dr. James H. Laird, Reverend Charles E. Sutton, and Reverend Norman E. Dewise) associated with the Methodist Church, 23 E. Adams Street, Detroit, Michigan. This mailing enclosed a newspaper clipping depicting Nikita Khruschev and Herbert Aptheker, a high Communist Party, USA (CPUSA) official, at bier of Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, late CPUSA Chairman, in Moscow. The purpose of this mailing was to alert church officials of Aptheker's CPUSA affiliation and his appearance at this church would be discouraged or cancelled.

Herbert Aptheker speakers' appearance at this church was not advertised in weekly church bulletin as is customary. As a result, attendance at talk was poor and collection taken was insufficient to meet expenses of the affair.

In November, 1968, the Detroit Office mailed several anonymous letters to expose the extremist nature of the "South End," the student newspaper at Wayne State University, Detroit, Michigan, which is a state-supported university. This newspaper has a black extremist viewpoint and is self-described as "revolutionary." The anonymous letters were supposedly from a concerned parent and a concerned student and were directed to state and university authorities responsible for funding this newspaper, including Governor Romney of Michigan. A letter was also sent to the Archbishop of Detroit concerning a Catholic group funding W. E. B. DuBois Institute of Black Studies at Wayne State University, which funding was publicized in the "South End."

These anonymous mailings played a part in the reduction of yearly funds granted to the newspaper by $10,000.

The San Francisco Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) Office learned through an informant that Dolores Berg, common-law wife of Delmar Berg, nominal head of the Stanislaus County, California, Communist Party (CP), had made a complaint to the County Sheriff's Office that Howard Keylor, head of the CP in San Joaquin County, had committed two acts of sexual intercourse with her 16-year-old daughter, Antoinette Marie Romo, in April, 1962. Although the matter had been referred to the Stockton, California, Police Department, no action had been taken as Dolores Berg had not signed a complaint at the Police Department. The daughter did admit to the Sheriff's Office that the intercourse occurred. In May, 1962, the San Francisco FBI Office contacted Sheriff Dan Kelsay, Stanislaus County Sheriff's Office, to have his office attempt to convince Dolores Berg to sign a formal complaint with the Stockton Police Department.

Dolores Berg signed a complaint, as a result of which on May 28, 1962, Howard Keylor was arrested on a charge of Statutory Rape and was incarcerated. The arrest notice was published on May 29, 1962, in the "Stockton Daily Record," a local newspaper.

The victim failed to appear in court on May 29, 1962, and the charge was dismissed for reason of lack of direct evidence. Keylor was released.

As a result of the above action and/or attendant publicity, Howard Keylor was suspended from the Communist Party.

On May 26, 1970, the Philadelphia Office sent a letter to the national headquarters of the Black Panther Party (BPP) bearing an excellent facsimile of the signature of Jonathan Pinkett, a former BPP official in Philadelphia who was expelled on May 19, 1970, after falling out with the BPP leadership in Philadelphia. The letter accused the members of the BPP in Philadelphia of stealing clothing, food and drugs collected for poor children. All of the accusations in the letter were true.

Subsequent to the letter being sent to the headquarters of the organization, several chapter members were given disciplinary transfers. Headquarters had to send other members to the chapter in Philadelphia to straighten out the local situation.

In February, 1965, a mailing of a leaflet prepared by the FBI was made to residents, businesses and organizations in the neighborhood where the Philadelphia Clubhouse of the W. E. B. DuBois Club of America (DCA) was relocating (3260 N. Broad Street, Philadelphia). The leaflet was an announcement of the opening of the DCA and set out a disclaimer of its being a communist group. Its intent was to put anticommunist groups on notice of the DCA's presence.

The minister of a church in the area gave a sermon denouncing communism and announced that the DCA was opening an office in the neighborhood. Businesses in the area refused to publicize the opening of the DCA. Only nine persons attended the DCA open house.

The Boston Office in October, 1966, furnished to a confidential source public source information relating to the communist plans to open a new bookstore in Boston known as the "Frederick Douglass Books" and the fact that Edward Teixiera, Communist Party (CP) District Organizer, will be directing the activities of the store.

As a result, the October 23, 1966, issue of the "Boston Sunday Herald" contained a photograph showing the store being picketed by members of the American Veterans Committee protesting the use of the name of the 19th Century Negro abolitionist, Frederick Douglass, for the store where Marxist books are being sold.

The "Boston Herald" issue of October 22, 1966, contained an article captioned "Red Bookstore Opens." The article featured a photograph of Edward Teixiera. The article describes Teixiera as a member of the CP by his own admission. Teixiera denied any connection between the store itself and the Party.

As a result of the notoriety achieved regarding the opening of the bookstore, Teixiera was furious and expressed great displeasure. Teixiera subsequently advised a source that the failure of the store to be the success envisioned by the CP of New England can be blamed on the adverse publicity given to the store at its opening.

The San Francisco Office advised on September 12, 1960, that through its continuing informant coverage of the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), it was aware of new subscribers to the CPUSA newspaper, "Peoples World" (PW). San Francisco instituted policy of interviewing each new subscriber to PW.

Archie Brown, a Northern California CPUSA leader, complained that a major problem in trying to increase the membership of the CPUSA is that new subscribers to the PW are interviewed by the FBI. This has caused these subscribers to drop their subscriptions and to disassociate themselves from CP members.

On June 6, 1968, FBI Headquarters reminded the Detroit FBI Office to be alert to take advantage of all possible disruptive activities during the forthcoming National Convention of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), which was to be held at Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan.

A press release by the SAC, Detroit FBI Office, in June, 1968, of the Director's testimony concerning the New Left was made at the time of the SDS National Convention. This release was well received and several State Legislators, after visiting the SDS Convention site at Michigan State, severely criticized University officials for allowing SDS to utilize the campus. As a further result, the Michigan State Legislature, in late June, 1968, passed a resolution to the effect that state universities which permitted disruption (which occurred during the National SDS Convention) will suffer appropriation cuts in proportion to the number of students permitted to disrupt state university campuses.

SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE
INFORMATION CONCERNING

MDR-16
CLASSIFIED BY SP2ALM/bp
DECLASSIFY ON: 25X 1.6

On August 13, 1975, a former Special Agent of the FBI advised that he was interviewed by a representative of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Operations (SSCIO) concerning allegations by Samuel Adason Jaffe that vindictive actions taken by the FBI have prevented him from obtaining or keeping a job in the news media field. According to the SSCIO representative, Jaffe reported that he had a pleasant relationship with Special Agents of the FBI during the time he had furnished information regarding Soviet intelligence matters; however, he detected a coolness of these FBI Agents towards him after his return from Hong Kong in 1968. He attributed this coolness to his being "fingered" by Soviet defector Oleg V. Penkovskiy, who allegedly reported that he saw Jaffe's name on a piece of paper on the desk of a Soviet intelligence officer. Upon learning this, the FBI felt that Jaffe was a double agent. Since his return from Hong Kong he cannot hold a job and believes the FBI is the cause of his predicament. The former Special Agent of the FBI advised that the SSCIO representative told him he is looking into this matter to determine if Jaffe's statements are true and to determine if some controls could be created so that the FBI could not be vindictive in similar situations. (C)

Oleg V. Penkovskiy is a former Colonel in the Soviet intelligence services (SIS) who had cooperated with the West. He was arrested and tried in the Soviet Union in 1963 and reportedly was executed. (C)

Jaffe, a former correspondent for ABC and CBS television networks, was an informant of our New York Office from 1958 to 1961. During this period he furnished extensive information on his numerous contacts with Soviet nationals whom he met through his assignment as a CBS correspondent at the United Nations, New York, New York. In 1961 he was assigned to Moscow, USSR, as a correspondent for ABC and served there until he was expelled in 1965 following his reporting of information unfavorable to the Soviet Union. He thereafter was transferred to Hong Kong where he served until 1968. According to information from a former SIS officer currently residing in the West, Jaffe in about 1961, while in Moscow, was recruited by the Committee for State Security (KGB). Our investigation regarding this allegation has failed to either substantiate or refute this allegation. Jaffe, however, in 1963 reported to our New York Office that while in Moscow, he was approached in what he considered an attempt at recruitment by the SIS. During interviews with Jaffe he denied any overt acts helpful to the KGB, although he admitted a continuing relationship with several KGB officers. c

[No information is contained in the files of the FBI indicating Jaffe was ever reported on by Colonel Penkovskiy.] c With regard to his employment difficulties, this matter was the subject of discussion with Jaffe on several occasions after his return from Hong Kong in 1968, when he explained to Special Agents in contact with him that he was experiencing difficulty in finding a job and his concern that his association with the FBI was the reason for this difficulty. On every occasion he was assured that the FBI had not disclosed his confidential relationship with the FBI. Jaffe in 1969 advised that he had learned from a British intelligence service contact in Hong Kong that his recall from that city by ABC was caused by his refusal to cooperate with the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA). He related that he later mentioned this to a CIA contact in Washington who indicated that the British intelligence service representative had no right to relate to Jaffe this information.

The Attorney General

The files of the FBI were reviewed to determine if Jaffe's allegations had any foundation in fact and no information was contained therein supporting this allegation. His observations concerning the change of attitude of FBI personnel in dealing with him to one of coolness can be accounted for on the basis of information received from the Soviet intelligence officer alleging his recruitment by the KGB. Our relationship with him thereafter was circumspect and undoubtedly he detected a change in the Agents' attitude.

Whatever employment difficulties may have been encountered by Jaffe did not arise out of any action taken by the FBI.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF SPECIAL AGENT EARL M. PETERSEN
BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Special Agent (SA) Earl M. Petersen was interviewed at the San Diego office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) on July 31, 1975, by U. S. Senate Select Committee (SSC) Staff Member Lester Seidel. The interview began at 10:05 A.M. and ended at 11:35 A.M. Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) Arthur G. Barger was available nearby for consultation. He was not consulted during the interview.

Prior to the interview, SA Petersen had been advised by San Diego FBI officials that FBI Headquarters had waived the employee agreement not to furnish information for the purpose of this interview. He was advised that he had a right to counsel but that the FBI was unable to provide private counsel for him.

SA Petersen was advised that he would not be required to answer questions that might divulge the identity of any FBI source; that would reveal information relative to sensitive methods and techniques; or information which originated with other agencies, including foreign intelligence agencies.

SA Petersen was advised that the interview was to involve only the COINTELPRO as it applied to the Black Panther Party (BPP) (see appendix).

INTERVIEW OF SA EARL M. PETERSEN BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Staff Member Lester Seidel identified himself to SA Petersen and stated that he was not warning SA Petersen of his rights as the interview was such that such a warning was not required. He advised SA Petersen that he did not have to talk to him and that any information furnished was on a voluntary basis. He stated that information furnished to him would be handled with discretion.

Mr. Seidel: Were you in charge of the COINTELPRO in San Diego from March, 1968 through October, 1968?

SA Petersen: This was possible but the dates the program was assigned to me are not recalled.

Mr. Seidel: What was the name of the squad to which you were assigned at that time?

SA Petersen: The Security Squad.

Mr. Seidel: Who did the squad investigate? Was it groups such as US, Inc. (see appendix) and the BPP?

SA Petersen: Yes, such groups as US, Inc., the BPP, and the Nation of Islam (NOI) (see appendix).

Mr. Seidel: And possibly splinter groups?

SA Petersen: Yes, groups that would form and disband and which could possibly be called splinter groups.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF SA EARL M. PETERSEN
BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel: How long have you been in the Bureau?

SA Petersen: Twenty-four years as of June 25, 1975.

Mr. Seidel: Where have you been assigned?

SA Petersen: In Boston, Baltimore, New York, Tampa, and San Diego.

Mr. Seidel: The Bureau has indicated that you were a coordinator of the COINTELPRO in San Diego. As such, what were your duties?

SA Petersen: The duties for the most part consisted of preparing letters to the Bureau asking for authority to take some specific action in the program; awaiting the reply from the Bureau; and then, if any action was taken, to advise the Bureau of the results of such action. It is noted that many of the requests to take specific action were turned down by the Bureau.

Mr. Seidel: Were you the focal point of the program?

SA Petersen: Yes, in the sense that any idea for action to be taken in the program was transmitted to the Bureau for approval by me and if approval was received, it would be related to whomever had suggested the activity. I would then report any results to the Bureau.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF SA EARL M. PETERSEN
BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel: Did you get heavy pressure from Bureau officials to take action in this program?

SA Petersen: Not any more than any other case, and I had a number of other cases assigned to me at the time the COINTELPRO was assigned to me.

Mr. Seidel: What type of things did you do?

SA Petersen: I do not recall at this time any specific action taken in the program. I do recall that a Black Panther leader, Walter Wallace, was removed as leader of the party in San Diego. I believe it was suspected that he might have cooperated with the FBI. This could have been accomplished by interviewing him where the interview could be seen by other party members. If the Agents shook his hand, smiled, and acted like he was a friend, it might plant the seed of suspicion in the minds of other BPP members. I do not recall specifically whether this happened but at any rate, Wallace was not trusted and was removed as leader of the party.

Mr. Seidel: Could such a thing get Wallace killed or injured?

SA Petersen: I do not see how it would because there would be no way anyone could determine whether or not Wallace was, in fact, cooperating with the FBI. He was probably removed by the BPP as a precautionary measure. I cannot recall whether or not Wallace was removed while I was coordinator of the program.

Mr. Seidel: Was COINTELPRO successful?

SA Petersen: I was not too impressed with its success in San Diego while I had it assigned to me because it was a new program and it took some time to get it established and working. Most of the success was probably due to information obtained regarding criminal violations, mostly local in nature, which was furnished to local law enforcement officers, causing the arrest of BPP members. This would have been done whether or not we had a COINTELPRO. It was necessary to prepare a letter to the Bureau asking authority to take action and then wait for a reply authorizing the activity. Many times suggested COINTELPRO activity suggestions would be turned down.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF SA EARL M. PETERSEN BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel made available Xerox copies of Bureau letters captioned, "Counter-Intelligence Program; Black Nationalist - Hate Groups," dated August 25, 1967 and March 4, 1968. These were read by SA Petersen, who said he could not specifically recall reading the letters.

Mr. Seidel:	Was contact with the police formal or informal?
SA Petersen:	Contact was personal or telephonic contact and at one time, information furnished to individual officers was confirmed by letter to the Chief of Police. It is not recalled if this was the policy during the time COINTELPRO was assigned to me.
Mr. Seidel:	What happened to SA Roy Burns?
SA Petersen:	He was transferred to the Butte, Montana Field Office.
Mr. Seidel:	Did he do anything wrong? I understand Agents were sometimes transferred to Butte as a disciplinary measure.
SA Petersen:	SA Burns wanted to be transferred to Butte and requested the transfer. The Special Agent in Charge (SAC), Mr. Evans, was transferred there and may have helped SA Burns get moved there.
Mr. Seidel:	How old is Bob Baker:
SA Petersen:	Probably 51 or 52 years old.

Mr. Seidel: Did he retire early?

SA Petersen: No. He was in a position to retire and retired because he wanted to take advantage of a cost of living increase by retiring prior to a certain date, such as June 30.

Mr. Seidel: Were the BPP and US, Inc. both violence oriented groups?

SA Petersen: Very definitely. There was extreme friction between the BPP and US, Inc. at all times.

Mr. Seidel: Do you recall some caricatures used in connection with COINTELPRO?

SA Petersen: Yes.

Mr. Seidel: Who had the program at that time?

SA Petersen: I believe SA Burns had it then.

Mr. Seidel: What were the cartoons?

SA Petersen: I recall seeing them but do not recall any specific cartoon.

Mr. Seidel: Do you think anything done in COINTELPRO could have had a reaction causing someone to kill an individual in the other group?

SA Petersen: Because of the extreme antagonism between the two groups, anything we did would have had about the same effect as a gnat biting an elephant. I do not think COINTELPRO had that kind of impact.

Mr. Seidel: Did you ever supervise any technical installation or electronic surveillance of the BPP in San Diego?

SA Petersen: No. I don't recall anything like that being done here.

Mr. Seidel: How would you feel about writing a letter to a wife saying her husband was sleeping with various other women if the husband was a BPP leader?

SA Petersen: I would hesitate to do this because it might break up a family. If the facts were true and this might cause the BPP leader to be less effective, it would probably be a good counter-intelligence move.

Mr. Seidel: I am referring to Page 91 of a BPP COINTELPRO summary which indicates that a BPP leader was living with a white girl and an anonymous letter was written to others in the BPP saying that this individual was living with a white girl. Do you recall anything about that?

SA Petersen: I believe that leader could have been Kenneth Denmon in San Diego. I recall that he was living with a white woman and that others in the BPP were made aware of this in some manner. The BPP in San SA Petersen (continued): Diego was teaching children to hate and kill police officers. They planned violent criminal acts and were making plans to take over the established government at the first opportunity. If a leader of such a group could be discredited and removed, it would help to keep the group from becoming stronger, as they would have to select a new leader, and he would have to get the group reorganized. Denmon had many additional weaknesses which could be used in a counter-intelligence program.

Mr. Seidel: Do you recall a letter being sent to BPP Headquarters saying a leader of the BPP was cooperating with the police in Los Angeles?

SA Petersen: I do not recall such a letter.

Mr. Seidel: Do you recall some cards being sent to San Diego from Los Angeles saying, "Ron Karenga is impotent"?

SA Petersen: No, I do not recall such cards. Ron Karenga was a leader of US, Inc., not the BPP.

Mr. Seidel: Do you recall that cartoons were to be sent to BPP members to discredit the leaders?

SA Petersen: I recall the cartoons but do not recall whether they were sent to BPP members.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE

INTERVIEW OF SA EARL M. PETERSEN
BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel: Do you recall an anonymous letter being sent to the Catholic Church to have the priest of the church where the BPP breakfast program was operated removed from his office?

SA Petersen: I do not recall such an anonymous letter; however, I do recall that the priest was transferred by the church.

Mr. Seidel: Knowing that the BPP paper was a paper that taught and advocated violence and had cartoons in it that encouraged the killing of police officers by blacks and was a violence oriented paper, how would you feel about putting a corrosive liquid on the paper to keep it from being distributed?

SA Petersen: I would not do it as I would feel that it was a violation of the law and too drastic. I would not do it personally or personally approve of it.

Mr. Seidel: You have been very helpful and the information you have provided will be used in considering new legislation at some time in the future.

SA Petersen: In these tranquil times, it disturbs me greatly to read in the papers and to hear news broadcasts containing all kinds of allegations against the FBI and the CIA and

SA Petersen (continued):	other intelligence agencies. I like to work within the law and to be guided by legislation in my work. I would, however, hate to see such restrictive legislation passed that at some time in the future when we might be faced with violence-prone organizations trying to take control of the government, we would be unable to properly handle our responsibility for the internal security of the United States.
Mr. Seidel:	Thank you for your cooperation.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY
Formerly Known As
Black Panther Party for Self-Defense

The Black Panther Party (BPP), organized in December, 1966, at Oakland, California, by Huey P. Newton and Bobby George Seale, has the publicly-stated purpose of organizing black people to take control of the life, politics and destiny of the black community. The Party, operating the Black Panther Intercommunal News Service, publishes a newspaper called "The Black Panther," which at one time openly advocated the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in a revolutionary program to end the oppression of the black people but since early 1971 has spoken for a survival program pending revolution. BPP national headquarters, aka Black Panther Intercommunal Headquarters, is located in Oakland, California.

While openly advocating direct overthrow of the U. S. Government by force and violence until 1971, leaders have since avoided extreme statements in favor of calling for action within the established order. Newton, in an interview appearing in the May, 1973, issue of "Playboy" magazine, stated the Panthers' chief ambition is to change the American Government by any means necessary but that ultimately such change will be through armed violence.

Despite its claimed dedication to community service, indicators of the BPP's continued attraction to violence persist. Since July, 1974, Newton and other BPP members have been arrested in Oakland, California, for threatening police officers, murder of a 17-year-old female and the pistol whipping of Newton's tailor. Newton failed to appear on these charges and is now a local fugitive. Additionally, one died and three were wounded as a result of a shooting at a BPP-sponsored dance in Oakland, California, in October, 1974.

APPENDIX

"US"
Also Known As
"US", Incorporated

"US" was chartered by the State of California as a non-profit corporation in September, 1966, with offices at 8211 South Broadway, Los Angeles, California. The corporation alleges that "US" is primarily an Afro-American cultural organization.

During the spring of 1968, however, a source advised that MAULANA RON KARENGA, true name RONIE MC KINLEY EVERETT, Founder-Chairman of "US", published a booklet entitled "The Quotable Karenga", in which he talked of revolution, black power, and condemned Christianity for the plight of the black man.

In this booklet, KARENGA stated "...You must have a cultural revolution before the violent revolution. The cultural revolution gives identity, purpose, and direction. ...The revolution being fought now is a revolution to win the minds of our people. If we fail to win this, we cannot wage the violent one. ...When the word is given, we'll see how tough you are. When it's 'burn', let's see how much you blow up. And when it's 'take that white girl's head too', we'll see how tough you are..."

The above source advised that "US" members are required to study and memorize this booklet. "US" members are also assigned Swahili names which they use in lieu of their given names.

A second source advised that KARENGA had spoken at various meetings in Los Angeles at which time he talked of creating an "US" army of 1,000 men, obtaining weapons and ammunition, guerrilla warfare tactics, and revolution. KARENGA also stated "The only way to get life is to take a life and as we get stronger, we will take what we want from the white man's United States." He also stated that if the police killed any "US" members, the "US" organization would kill some of them.

APPENDIX CONTINUED

The first source above advised that KARENGA also stated that race riots throughout the country were not riots but were actually revolts or revolutions and that the black people were going to win their freedom by violence, if necessary.

A third source advised that KARENGA stated that a revolution would take place in the future and that no one can believe in black revolution without believing in armed conflict because the two go hand in hand.

A fourth source advised in August, 1974, that the US Organization has been evicted from its headquarters at 4302 South Crenshaw Boulevard, Los Angeles, and because of lack of funds, has been unable to locate a new meeting place. The organization has terminated all public meetings.

APPENDIX

Revised 5/22/75

NATION OF ISLAM (NOI)
CHARACTERIZATION OF SUBVERSIVE ORGANIZATION
EXTREMIST MATTER

The Nation of Islam (NOI) is a black nationwife organization headquartered at Muhammad's Temple #2, 7351 South Stony Island Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Elijah Muhammad, self-styled "Messenger of Allah" and divinely appointed leader of the black race in America, was leader of the NOI until his death on February 25, 1975, at which time his son, Wallace D. Muhammad, became Supreme Minister of the NOI. The NOI seeks a separate black nation, espouses its own version of the Islamic Religion, and has considered all "whites" to be devils; however, Wallace D. Muhammad in an interview published in "Muhammad Speaks", March 21, 1975, same being a weekly and the official NOI newspaper, stated there would no longer be stress put on the white people's status as "devils"; that whites have "begun to reform" and "The past is the past until it is dug up. We will not dig it up." NOI official policy instructs members to obey laws of the United States that do not conflict with NOI laws; to defend NOI officials, property, women, and themselves at all costs, if attacked; and to disarm any attacker and use the attacker's weapon against him.

The NOI body is broken down into: 1) the Fruit of Islam (FOI), an all male military-type group, to which instruction in judo and karate is given, and which has as its mmission security of officials, membership, and property of the NOI, and enforcing discipline in the NOI; and 2) the Muslim Girls Training (MGT), an all female quasi military-type group which has as its mission homemaking and child guidance in accordance with NOI teachings.

NOI activity is widespread among black inmates in many prisons in the United States. In recent years internal dissidence and difficulties with rival Muslim groups and other adversaries have produced considerable violence, some involving physical confrontations and acts of violence with law enforcement agencies.

INTERVIEW OF SPECIAL AGENT
LAWRENCE F. WIRICK BY SSC
STAFF MEMBER

By communication dated July 30, 1975, Clarence M. Kelley, Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), United States Department of Justice, advised as follows concerning an interview by representative of the Senate Select Committee (SSC) of ~~and~~ Special Agent (SA) Lawrence F. Wirick, concerning Counterintelligence Program (COINTELPRO) and Bureau investigation of the Black Panther Party (BPP) (see Appendix page). Director Kelley stated as follows:

"I have waived your employment agreements for purposes of these interviews. Each should note that he has the right to counsel; however, the FBI is unable to provide private counsel. There are certain privileged areas concerning which SAs would not be required to answer questions. Areas concern information which might divulge identities of FBI sources; information relating to sensitive methods and techniques; information which might adversely affect on-going FBI investigations; and information which originated with other agencies, including foreign intelligence agencies."

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

INTERVIEW OF SPECIAL AGENT
(SA) LAWRENCE F. WIRICK BY
SSC STAFF MEMBER

On July 31, 1975, at 11:45 a.m. Mr. Lester Seidel of the United States Senate Select Committee (SSC) interviewed SA Lawrence F. Wirick at the San Diego Office of the FBI. No Advice of Rights was furnished SA Wirick and it was not necessary for the interviewee to consult with an FBI representative. The interview was terminated at 12:50 p.m. and as best recalled included the following discussion in the form of questions and answers:

Seidel: You understand that this is an informal interview and is in connection with the Bureau's COINTELPRO as it relates to the FBI investigation of the BPP?

Wirick: Yes, but for what purpose is the Senate conducting this survey?

Seidel: To aid in formation of new legislation so that the FBI and other Government agencies will have more definite guidelines to follow.

Wirick: I believe the Congress already through lack of information, isolated instances and some hysteria has enacted too many restrictive laws that prevent the FBI and other Government agencies from protecting the law abiding element of our society from the "bad guys".

Seidel: (He was in general agreement) Did you handle the COINTELPRO from 1970 through March, 1971?

Wirick: Yes, but I believe the BPP ceased to function locally about November or December, 1970. As I recall my function was to write a progress type letter regarding progress which described the illegal activities of members of the BPP and to report that this information had been furnished local police agencies but information generally emanated from confidential informants.

UNITED STATES SENATE
SELECT COMMITTEE ON

(SSC)

INTERVIEW OF SPECIAL AGENT
(SA) LAWRENCE F. WIRICK BY
SSC STAFF MEMBER

Seidel: What type of illegal activities and did your program in any way instigate illegal activities on the part of the BPP?

Wirick: Criminal acts committed by local members of the BPP are what I was referring to. I don't believe it was ever necessary to instigate any illegal acts or in any way entrap BPP members in criminal acts. The majority of local BPP members were thieves, narcotics addicts, lazy, unemployed and were hero worshipers of the BPP in Oakland, California. They wanted to emulate the Oakland organization, but their own dishonesty, et cetera, was a constant source of turmoil amongst the local group.

I recall, date unknown, information was received regarding Kenny Denmon (Kenneth Lee Denmon), one time head of the local BPP, that he was using stolen credit cards.

Information was received that Walter Wallace (Walter Carl Wallace, Jr.) was on narcotics and that he and his wife, Velma, were stealing to get money for narcotics and that Velma's mother was also involved in local thefts.

All above information was furnished local law agencies and local arrests were made. Furnishing the above type of information is a function and responsibility of the FBI.

The BPP in San Diego was very effective in causing their own problems and their own extinction and their criminal activities were not restricted to the examples I've given.

Seidel: Did the COINTELPRO try to disrupt the BPP Breakfast Program?

Wirick: No, not to my knowledge. I recall that soon after the Breakfast Program was started that other members of the BPP accused Ken Denmon of stealing money from contributions made to the Program.

On second thought I believe we did disrupt the BPP Breakfast Program in that we received complaints from several dairys and bread companies, et cetera, that they had been approached by BPP members with veiled threats of extortion if they did not donate quantities of food, et cetera, to the BPP Breakfast Program. The FBI and local police investigated and I believe as a result their practices were discontinued, but the investigation failed to establish a prosecutable offense of extortion.

Seidel: Did you have any connection with distribution of "cartoons" depicting BPP members as compromising each other, et cetera?

Wirick: No, but I have seen "cartoons" in the BPP newspaper. Have you ever seen or read copies of the BPP newspaper?

Seidel: No

Wirick: They featured "cartoons" showing the "pigs" (police) being killed, stabbed, et cetera. I believe I recall seeing some "cartoons" showing how the BPP would kill the "honkies" (white people). They were similar to the propaganda leaflets used by the Nazis against American troops before an attack. The articles in the BPP newspaper were even more foul.

Seidel: Did the COINTELPRO promote dissen~~t~~sion between the BPP and the US Group (see Appendix page)?

Wirick: Not to my knowledge. As I recall there was never any need to. They were constantly at odds with each other and on a gang type basis were trying to eliminate each other. I believe Sylvester Bell, a San Diego BPP member was killed by an US Group member and John Savage, another local BPP member was killed by an US Group member.

In Los Angeles two other BPP members, names not recalled, were allegedly killed by US Group members. I believe this led to the popular saying in Southeast San Diego section where most blacks live that the score (game) was, "US 4 - BPP 0".

Seidel: What do you think of the merits of a proposal to spray shipments of the BPP newspaper with a noxious acid so that readers would be confronted with a vile odor when attempting to read the paper?

UNITED STATES SENATE
SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES

INTERVIEW OF SPECIAL AGENT
(SA) LAWRENCE F. WIRICK BY
SSC STAFF MEMBER

Wirick: After thought, no. Because the paper itself was so vile and anti-white that the odor would never stop BPP members from reading same. I've always hoped that a large segment of the population, especially the "do-gooders" could or would experience the nauseous reaction I have felt after reading the illiterate, foul-mouthed, anti-white, anti-Government, BPP paper. I think everybody should read a copy of the BPP paper so that they will know the type and character of BPP members.

Seidel: What do you think about anonymous letters sent to spouses of BPP members saying the husband was sleeping with a white girl, et cetera?

Wirick: Most wives of the members I recall were also BPP members and/or common-law-wives. Many BPP members did have liaison with white girls but I doubt if such a letter would bother most spouses of BPP members. However, such a letter might be of value under certain circumstances, example: the stories that were spread during World War II which were not necessarily all true regarding Hitler, Mussolini, General Patton and others.

Seidel: In your opinion was the COINTELPRO of any value? Should it be changed? Do you have any suggestions for changes, or should it be eliminated completely?

Wirick: Yes, as I recall, it acted as a progress letter of the BPP, its direction, its dissension, its change in leadership, and indications of its slow local demise because of the character of the local BPP members, and as a summary of its activities for FBIHQ. I recall that we made certain requests to conduct some types of counterintelligence against the BPP, but I do not recall that the Bureau ever authorized any counterintelligence act which might be productive.

Change? COINTELPRO is not being utilized to the best of my knowledge and has not been for some time.

I believe that in about two or three years Congress will be frantically asking the FBI why we did not furnish them intelligence, advance knowledge of a demonstration, a riot and other civil unrest and elimination of the COINTELPRO has been another step in the direction of placing the FBI and other law enforcement agencies in a position where we cannot react to the activities of groups such as the BPP which have been formed with the main purpose of overthrowing the United States.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY
Formerly Known As
Black Panther Party for Self-Defense

The Black Panther Party (BPP), organized in December, 1966, at Oakland, California, by Huey P. Newton and Bobby George Seale, has the publicly-stated purpose of organizing black people to take control of the life, politics and destiny of the black community. The Party, operating the Black Panther Intercommunal News Service, publishes a newspaper called "The Black Panther," which at one time openly advocated the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in a revolutionary program to end the oppression of the black people but since early 1971 has spoken for a survival program pending revolution. BPP national headquarters, aka Black Panther Intercommunal Headquarters, is located in Oakland, California.

While openly advocating direct overthrow of the U. S. Government by force and violence until 1971, leaders have since avoided extreme statements in favor of calling for action within the established order. Newton, in an interview appearing in the May, 1973, issue of "Playboy" magazine, stated the Panthers' chief ambition is to change the American Government by any means necessary but that ultimately such change will be through armed violence.

Despite its claimed dedication to community service, indicators of the BPP's continued attraction to violence persist. Since July, 1974, Newton and other BPP members have been arrested in Oakland, California, for threatening police officers, murder of a 17-year-old female and the pistol whipping of Newton's tailor. Newton failed to appear on these charges and is now a local fugitive. Additionally, one died and three were wounded as a result of a shooting at a BPP-sponsored dance in Oakland, California, in October, 1974.

APPENDIX

"US"
Also Known As
"US", Incorporated

"US" was chartered by the State of California as a non-profit corporation in September, 1966, with offices at 8211 South Broadway, Los Angeles, California. The corporation alleges that "US" is primarily an Afro-American cultural organization.

During the spring of 1968, however, a source advised that MAULANA RON KARENGA, true name RONIE MC KINLEY EVERETT, Founder-Chairman of "US", published a booklet entitled "The Quotable Karenga", in which he talked of revolution, black power, and condemned Christianity for the plight of the black man.

In this booklet, KARENGA stated "...You must have a cultural revolution before the violent revolution. The cultural revolution gives identity, purpose, and direction. ...The revolution being fought now is a revolution to win the minds of our people. If we fail to win this, we cannot wage the violent one. ...When the word is given, we'll see how tough you are. When it's 'burn', let's see how much you blow up. And when it's 'take that white girl's head too', we'll see how tough you are..."

The above source advised that "US" members are required to study and memorize this booklet. "US" members are also assigned Swahili names which they use in lieu of their given names.

A second source advised that KARENGA had spoken at various meetings in Los Angeles at which time he talked of creating an "US" army of 1,000 men, obtaining weapons and ammunition, guerrilla warfare tactics, and revolution. KARENGA also stated "The only way to get life is to take a life and as we get stronger, we will take what we want from the white man's United States." He also stated that if the police killed any "US" members, the "US" organization would kill some of them.

The first source above advised that KARENGA also stated that race riots throughout the country were not riots but were actually revolts or revolutions and that the black people were going to win their freedom by violence, if necessary.

A third source advised that KARENGA stated that a revolution would take place in the future and that no one can believe in black revolution without believing in armed conflict because the two go hand in hand.

A fourth source advised in August, 1974, that the US Organization has been evicted from its headquarters at 4302 South Crenshaw Boulevard, Los Angeles, and because of lack of funds, has been unable to locate a new meeting place. The organization has terminated all public meetings.

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT
ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Former Special Agent Robert S. Baker was interviewed at his home at 4268 Hortensia, San Diego, California, by U.S. Senate Select Committee (SSC) Staff Member Lester Seidel on August 1, 1975. The interview began at 10:30 AM and lasted until 12:30 PM. Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) Arthur G. Barger, Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), San Diego, California, was telephonically available for consultation. Former Special Agent Baker did not consult with anyone during the course of the interview.

Prior to the interview, Former Special Agent Baker had been advised that FBI Headquarters had waived the agreement as a former employee not to furnish information received during the period of his employment, for purposes of this interview. He was advised that he had a right to counsel but that the FBI was unable to provide private counsel for him.

Former Special Agent Baker was advised that he would not be required to answer questions that might divulge the identity of any FBI source, that would reveal information relative to sensitive methods and techniques, or information which originated with other agencies, including foreign intelligence agencies.

Former Special Agent Baker was advised that the interview was to involve only the COINTELPRO as it applied to the Black Panther Party (BPP) (see appendix).

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

ENCLOSURE

U.S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Staff Member Seidel identified himself to Mr. Baker, stating that the interview would be in the form of an informal discussion and that information furnished by Mr. Baker would be placed in a memorandum for the SSC. Mr. Seidel stated that he did not intend to use the names of individuals interviewed in his memorandum. He stated that Mr. Baker did not have to talk to him, and that any information he furnished would be furnished voluntarily.

Mr. Seidel asked if Mr. Baker was a supervisor with the San Diego Office of the FBI from sometime in 1968 through April, 1971.

Mr. Baker advised that he was a supervisor of the security squad but could not recall if the dates mentioned by Mr. Seidel were correct.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to the nature of matters supervised by him, to which Mr. Baker replied that matters such as investigation of the Communist Party (see appendix), the Socialist Workers Party (see appendix), the Black Panther Party, US, Incorporated (see appendix), the Nation of Islam (see appendix), Espionage, Sabotage matters, and other investigations were conducted on the squad supervised by him, which consisted of from 12 to 15 Special Agents.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether Mr. Baker supervised the COINTELPRO.

Mr. Baker advised that he did supervise this program which was initiated by FBI Headquarters and not on the field office level. He stated that as he recalled, a letter was submitted either monthly, quarterly or semi-annually. The letter was submitted by a Special Agent whose case load was such that he could take the time to prepare the letter.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether Special Agent Roy Burns was more of a young, eager, type Agent.

Mr. Baker replied that this was not true but that Special Agent Burns had been assigned the COINTELPRO case because his case load was such that he was able to handle the program.

Mr. Seidel inquired whether Special Agent Roy Burns was transferred to the Butte Office of the FBI for disciplinary reasons.

Mr. Baker replied that Special Agent Burns was originally from Washington State and had wanted to be transferred to that area.

Mr. Seidel asked if the Bureau encouraged Agents to participate in disruptive programs and then rewarded them financially for their efforts.

Mr. Baker replied that the Bureau had an incentive award program, and if an Agent did a good job in any field, he could get recognition through an incentive award. Mr. Baker stated that he could not recall any award being given as a result of COINTELPRO activity.

Mr. Seidel asked Mr. Baker if he could recall any information concerning the Free Breakfast Program of the BPP.

Mr. Baker stated that he recalled that the operation of the Free Breakfast Program of the BPP was followed through sources. They advised that some of the BPP officials were stealing money from funds which were to be spent on the breakfast program. The breakfast program was served at a local Catholic church. Mr. Baker advised Mr. Seidel that an official of the Catholic church in San Diego was contacted regarding the priest in charge of the church where the breakfast program was being held, who was reportedly an alcoholic. Mr. Seidel was advised that the priest was transferred from the church.

U.S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT
ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel asked what Mr. Baker's definition of the COINTELPRO was.

Mr. Baker replied that the COINTELPRO was a disruptive type program.

Mr. Seidel stated that the FBI had apparently written a letter regarding a white girl friend of Kenneth Denman, a BPP leader in San Diego. He inquired as to why this letter was written.

Mr. Baker stated that Denman was considered one of the stronger leaders of the San Diego Branch of the BPP, and if it was possible to keep him from becoming a strong leader, it would be disruptive to the party. The fact that Denman was living with a white girl was considered derogatory toward him by BPP members in San Diego.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether such activity would have been taken against a leader in an organization such as the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) (see description) if the leader of such a group had been living with a white woman. Would such a letter be appropriate?

Mr. Baker replied that he did not feel that such a letter would be appropriate in this case because this organization involved a religious leader and our program was not directed at religious groups but was directed toward black militant and extremist groups.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether Mr. Baker recalled individuals in the BPP named Tate, Wallace, Denman and Bell.

Mr. Baker stated that he could not recall anything specific about any of these individuals, except what he had previously stated concerning Denman. He said he could recall the names but nothing more concerning these individuals.

U.S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT
ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel then mentioned an incident wherein the San Diego Office of the FBI had furnished information to the Los Angeles Office of the FBI for transmission to local authorities concerning a group of BPP members from San Diego who were traveling to Los Angeles to attend a funeral.

Mr. Baker stated that he could recall that such an incident occurred and that information was furnished stating that BPP members from San Diego would be carrying concealed weapons. He said he thought the furnishing of this information resulted in some of the BPP members being arrested in Los Angeles.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether Mr. Baker could recall someone from the FBI in San Diego visiting the mother of a girl who was an alleged member of the BPP in San Diego, and whether the FBI went to the mother to put pressure on another member of the family.

Mr. Baker stated that he vaguely recalled such a case but could not recall the details and could not be certain this had occurred.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether the FBI had any technical surveillances on the BPP in San Diego.

Mr. Baker stated that he knew of none and added that such coverage was not needed in San Diego because there were good sources in the BPP who could furnish excellent coverage. Mr. Baker stated that he believes he would have known of any such installations covering the BPP in San Diego.

Mr. Seidel asked if Mr. Baker knew of San Francisco using any such techniques against the BPP.

Mr. Baker replied that he believed that San Francisco had used such techniques.

Mr. Seidel then asked why such techniques were not used in San Diego if they were used in San Francisco.

Mr. Baker replied that such techniques were not needed in San Diego due to the good source coverage of party activity.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether there was a conflict between US, Incorporated, and the BPP in San Diego.

Mr. Baker replied that US, Incorporated, headquarters were in Los Angeles. There was a power struggle between the two groups for membership of blacks and much travel occurred by US, Incorporated, leaders from Los Angeles to San Diego and Mexico, and from San Diego to Los Angeles. There were considerable conflict between the two groups.

Mr. Seidel asked whether Mr. Baker recalled Ron Karenga.

Mr. Baker replied that he did recall Ron Karenga as being the Los Angeles leader of US, Incorporated.

Mr. Seidel asked whether Mr. Baker recalled some cards stating "Ron Karenga is impotent" which were printed in Los Angeles and some of which might have been sent to San Diego.

Mr. Baker replied that he does not recall these cards but this could have been correct.

Mr. Seidel asked if Mr. Baker recalled some cartoons being drawn concerning the BPP.

Mr. Baker stated that he recalled that there were two or three cartoons prepared depicting strife between US, Incorporated, and the BPP.

Mr. Seidel then stated that these cartoons were prepared by the Bureau Laboratory.

Mr. Baker stated that he did not recall.

Mr. Baker advised Mr. Seidel that US, Incorporated, and the BPP were led by and made up of people with extensive criminal records, and because of this and their general demeanor, the FBI did not really have to provoke or disrupt them because they kept themselves in a constant state of turmoil. He stated that Special Agents connected with the COINTELPRO did not devote much time to the program because of heavy case loads of other matters and because they assisted in working criminal matters such as bank robberies and other criminal violations.

Mr. Baker advised Mr. Seidel that a great deal of time was spent by the Special Agents working with their sources because they had to be extremely careful that they were protected. If a crime was planned and a source had knowledge of it, the source would try to keep the crime from being committed. If it was not possible to prevent the crime, the source might be forced to participate, and if arrested, a problem would be created in attempting to get the source out of jail and still conceal his identity as a source.

Mr. Seidel inquired of Mr. Baker as to the names of the Agents he dealt with in Los Angeles and San Francisco in connection with COINTELPRO.

Mr. Baker stated that he recalled that Supervisor Albert Clark had something to do with the program in San Francisco, and in Los Angeles he dealt with Supervisor Richard Bloeser and Bill Knowland.

U.S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel asked Mr. Baker if he was acquainted with Richard Held.

Mr. Baker stated that Richard Held was assigned as Assistant Special Agent in Charge in San Diego, and he knew him at that time. He stated that he is aware that Richard Held is now the Special Agent in Charge of the Chicago Office of the FBI.

Mr. Seidel stated to Mr. Baker that he was going to interview Assistant Director Robert Gebhardt and Special Agent in Charge Charles W. Bates.

This concluded the interview of former Special Agent Robert S. Baker by SSC Staff Member Lester Seidel.

The Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) was an organization founded by Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., with the theme of new life for poor people. Dr. King, a leader in civil rights, was assassinated on April 4, 1969.

COMMUNIST PARTY, USA

Title 50, U. S. Code, Section 781 (Internal Security Act of 1950) stated that, as a result of evidence adduced before various committees of the Senate and House of Representatives, Congress found the existence of a world communist revolutionary movement, whose purpose is to establish a communist totalitarian dictatorship in the world's countries through the medium of a world-wide communist organization. Communist action organizations in various countries endeavor to carry out the objectives of the world communist movement by bringing about the overthrow of existing governments by any means. The communist organization in the United States - the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA) - pursuing its stated objectives, presents "a clear and present danger to the security of the United States." The Subversive Activities Control Board, established by Section 791 of the above Act, found the CPUSA to be a communist action organization. This finding was upheld by the United States Supreme Court in June, 1961. The CPUSA has continued to be an arm of the international communist movement dominated by the Soviet Union. The CPUSA, in its dependence on the Soviet Union, has never knowingly adopted a position contrary to Soviet policy. Its leaders frequently confer with Soviet leaders to receive guidance and direction on the policies the CPUSA is to follow. There has been no evidence that the primary aims of the CPUSA, as they conform to Soviet objectives, have changed over the years.

APPENDIX

Revised 5/22/75

NATION OF ISLAM (NOI)
CHARACTERIZATION OF SUBVERSIVE ORGANIZATION
EXTREMIST MATTER

The Nation of Islam (NOI) is a black nationwife organization headquartered at Muhammad's Temple #2, 7351 South Stony Island Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Elijah Muhammad, self-styled "Messenger of Allah" and divinely appointed leader of the black race in America, was leader of the NOI until his death on February 25, 1975, at which time his son, Wallace D. Muhammad, became Supreme Minister of the NOI. The NOI seeks a separate black nation, espouses its own version of the Islamic Religion, and has considered all "whites" to be devils; however, Wallace D. Muhammad in an interview published in "Muhammad Speaks", March 21, 1975, same being a weekly and the official NOI newspaper, stated there would no longer be stress put on the white people's status as "devils"; that whites have "begun to reform" and "The past is the past until it is dug up. We will not dig it up." NOI official policy instructs members to obey laws of the United States that do not conflict with NOI laws; to defend NOI officials, property, women, and themselves at all costs, if attacked; and to disarm any attacker and use the attacker's weapon against him.

The NOI body is broken down into: 1) the Fruit of Islam (FOI), an all male military-type group, to which instruction in judo and karate is given, and which has as its mmission security of officials, membership, and property of the NOI, and enforcing discipline in the NOI; and 2) the Muslim Girls Training (MGT), an all female quasi military-type group which has as its mission homemaking and child guidance in accordance with NOI teachings.

NOI activity is widespread among black inmates in many prisons in the United States. In recent years internal dissidence and difficulties with rival Muslim groups and other adversaries have produced considerable violence, some involving physical confrontations and acts of violence with law enforcement agencies.

SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY

The Socialist Workers Party (SWP) is a revolutionary, Trotskyist-communist organization, which is headquartered in New York City. Its purpose, as stated in its Declaration of Principles, is the overthrow of the U. S. Government and the institution of a dictatorship of the working class and the eventual achievement of a communist society. It was founded in 1938 and maintains close association with international Trotskyist organizations as a "sympathizing" group, but it denies formal membership in any foreign group to escape application of the Voorhis Act, which regulates certain types of organizations subject to foreign control. While the SWP does not openly advocate the use of violence at the present time to overthrow the U. S. Government, it believes that eventual violent revolution in the U. S. is inevitable. Its objection to the current use of violence is based on the ground that it believes violence is premature at this time. The SWP seeks to precipitate a revolution when conditions are ripe and to seize control of the revolution and to direct it when it occurs.

APPENDIX

"US"
Also Known As
"US", Incorporated

"US" was chartered by the State of California as a non-profit corporation in September, 1966, with offices at 8211 South Broadway, Los Angeles, California. The corporation alleges that "US" is primarily an Afro-American cultural organization.

During the spring of 1968, however, a source advised that MAULANA RON KARENGA, true name RONIE MC KINLEY EVERETT, Founder-Chairman of "US", published a booklet entitled "The Quotable Karenga", in which he talked of revolution, black power, and condemned Christianity for the plight of the black man.

In this booklet, KARENGA stated "...You must have a cultural revolution before the violent revolution. The cultural revolution gives identity, purpose, and direction. ...The revolution being fought now is a revolution to win the minds of our people. If we fail to win this, we cannot wage the violent one. ...When the word is given, we'll see how tough you are. When it's 'burn', let's see how much you blow up. And when it's 'take that white girl's head too', we'll see how tough you are..."

The above source advised that "US" members are required to study and memorize this booklet. "US" members are also assigned Swahili names which they use in lieu of their given names.

A second source advised that KARENGA had spoken at various meetings in Los Angeles at which time he talked of creating an "US" army of 1,000 men, obtaining weapons and ammunition, guerrilla warfare tactics, and revolution. KARENGA also stated "The only way to get life is to take a life and as we get stronger, we will take what we want from the white man's United States." He also stated that if the police killed any "US" members, the "US" organization would kill some of them.

The first source above advised that KARENGA also stated that race riots throughout the country were not riots but were actually revolts or revolutions and that the black people were going to win their freedom by violence, if necessary.

A third source advised that KARENGA stated that a revolution would take place in the future and that no one can believe in black revolution without believing in armed conflict because the two go hand in hand.

A fourth source advised in August, 1974, that the US Organization has been evicted from its headquarters at 4302 South Crenshaw Boulevard, Los Angeles, and because of lack of funds, has been unable to locate a new meeting place. The organization has terminated all public meetings.

Attached New York teletype advises of information from former Bureau Agent, who is a current informative asset, that the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Operations (SSCIO) has become aware of Jaffe's allegations that the FBI has taken actions which have prevented him from obtaining or keeping a job in the news media field. Jaffe claims that his association with Bureau Agents with regard to Soviet intelligence matters cooled off after he was identified by a Soviet defector as cooperating with Soviet Intelligence and that the FBI has since deprived him from making a living in his profession. The SSCIO is looking into Jaffe's situation to determine if his allegations are true and if the FBI can be prevented from taking such actions in other similar situations. C

ORIGINAL FILED IN

BACKGROUND:

Jaffe is a former correspondent for ABC and CBS who was a symbol number informant of the New York Office from 1958 to 1961. During this period, he furnished information on his numerous contacts with Soviet nationals whom he met through his assignment as a CBS correspondent at the United Nations. In 1961, he joined ABC as its correspondent in Moscow where he served until he was expelled in 1965 following the publication of an article unfavorable to the Soviet Union. He was then transferred to Hong Kong where he remained until 1968. Since 1968, he has worked for various news media and has acted as a free lance journalist. Following his return from Hong Kong, he took up residence in Washington, D. C., and was in contact with the Washington Field Office, furnishing information on Soviets and Chinese nationals whom he met in the course of his employment. U

ROUTE IN ENVELOPE

Soviet defector ["Sammy"] (U) has advised that Jaffe was recruited by the KGB, in about 1962 while he was in Moscow, through his relationship with a Soviet female. [Soviet defector "Shamrock" has confirmed that Jaffe was approached but does not believe the approach was successful.]c Jaffe reported to the New York Office in 1963 what he interpreted as a recruitment effort, and he was extensively reinterviewed in 1969 concerning his association with KGB officers in Moscow. [There is no information in Jaffe's file that he was ever reported on by Col. Penkovskiy, as Jaffe reportedly has claimed.]c During the interviews with Jaffe, he denied any overt acts helpful to the KGB, although he admitted a continuing relationship with several KGB officers. Both the New York and Washington Field Offices came to the conclusion that Jaffe was a KGB agent while in Moscow, but that there was doubt as to whether he continued in that role after he was expelled.

Our relations with Jaffe were tempered by ["Sammy's"] (U) allegation, and Bureau Agents in contact with him were circumspect in any dealings with him thereafter. Jaffe very likely detected a change in the Agents' attitude which accounts for his statement that he felt his relationship with them had cooled off.

There is no evidence contained in Jaffe's file that either New York or Washington Field or the Bureau has ever taken any action which would affect Jaffe's livelihood. Following his return from Hong Kong, Jaffe told his handling Agents that he was experiencing difficulty in finding a job. He several times mentioned his concern that his association with the FBI might be the reason. On each occasion, he was assured that the FBI had never divulged his confidential relationship and would not do so any time in the future. u

Jaffe's file does disclose that during an interview with Washington Field Agents in 1969, he said that he had learned from a British Intelligence contact in Hong Kong that his recall from that city was caused by his refusal to cooperate with CIA. He also related that he later mentioned this to a CIA contact in Washington who responded that the British

Intelligence representative "had no right to tell you this." [CIA has informed us that they did have contacts with Jaffe while he was in Hong Kong and that he reported on Communist Chinese of interest to the Agency.] His file also records that Jaffe told New York Agents in 1969 that a recently published book on the Council of Foreign Relations described him as having a subversive background. He was also described in the book as being a member of the American League for Peace and Democracy. Jaffe connected the appearance of this book with his then recent recall fron Hong Kong by ABC.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC); INTERVIEW OF ASSISTANT DIRECTOR IN CHARGE ROBERT E. GEBHARDT BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

On August 7, 1975, Assistant Director Robert E. Gebhardt, Los Angeles Division, was interviewed in the Los Angeles FBI Office by Mr. Lester Seidel, Staff Member of the Senate Select Committee, United States Senate.

Gebhardt's rights were not explained to him by Seidel although Seidel did explain the purpose of the interview, that is, the Cointel Program of the FBI as it related to the FBI's investigation of the Black Panther Party when Gebhardt was the Special Agent in Charge of the San Francisco Division from 1970 to 1972.

The interview lasted from 9:05 AM until 10:30 AM, and it was not necessary for Gebhardt to consult with any Bureau representative.

Gebhardt had previously been advised by a Bureau representative of his right to counsel, the privileged areas of information, consultation privileges, and the parameters of interview.

Seidel inquired at the outset as to whether Gebhardt was aware of the Cointel Program relative to the Black Panther Party investigation on a day to day basis being specifically advised details of the investigation as it relates to the Cointel Program. It was explained to Seidel that as Special Agent in Charge of the San Francisco FBI Office wherein over 500 employees were located at the time, Gebhardt had many responsibilities in the operation of that division and therefore, relied upon the experience, expertise, and judgment of the various supervisors assigned to the office for the day to day direction of the various matters under investigation, including the investigation of the Black Panther Party.

It was further explained that if a problem was encountered or a particularly unusual situation developed, Gebhardt was, of course, consulted and was available for such consultation to resolve any particular problem areas.

Gebhardt was next asked if he recalled being SAC when the electronic coverage of the Black Panther Party and the various officials at BBP was instituted and eventually terminated. Seidel was advised that the electronic coverage was already in effect upon Gebhardt's arrival, however, he does recall receiving a phone call after the "Keith Decision" was handed down instructing that all electronic coverage of the BPP and the various members of the BPP be discontinued. The call was received from Bureau Headquarters and the discontinuance was effected immediately.

Seidel inquired as to whether Gebhardt felt the intelligence type investigations should be completely removed from the criminal investigations which investigations would be looking toward eventual prosecution.

Seidel was informed by Gebhardt that even in criminal investigations looking toward prosecutions, much intelligence information is obtained from time to time which really has no value from a prosecutive standpoint, but does have possible value with respect to the direction of the investigation. In some criminal investigations a great deal of intelligence information may be obtained and in other types, very little. Insofar as the FBI is concerned, however, every effort is made to make certain there is some Federal law which would be a basis for an investigation which procedures would include matters commonly referred to as security investigations.

In some instances, in such security investigations a great deal of intelligence information would be obtained therefore, it was Gebhardt's opinion that so-called intelligence type investigations should not be removed from or differentiated from criminal type investigations looking toward prosecutions since intelligence information is an outgrowth of the basic investigation.

Gebhardt was asked if he felt the Cointelpro was a separate entity distinguished from the basic investigation and it was explained that the Cointelpro was a phase of the overall investigation in any particular organization or individual.

Gebhardt was asked if he felt Congress should enact legislation which would set forth specific investigative techniques that could or could not be utilized by the FBI or other Federal investigative agencies. He was advised in Gebhardt's opinion, such legislation should not be enacted, and in reply to the question as to why such legislation should not be enacted, it was pointed out that as an investigative agency, there must of necessity be allowed a certain flexibility because no two investigations are exactly alike and the circumstances of such investigations could possibly not be related to such Federal law.

In answer to the question as to how Congress should assure the American public that questionable activity such as the Cointelpro, was not being engaged in by an investigative agency such as the FBI, Seidel was informed that the Congress and the American people must rely upon the integrity and honesty of the Director of the FBI and the Attorney General.

It was pointed out that both the Director of the FBI and the Attorney General are nominated by the President, hearings are held before the various Congressional Committees and finally approved by the Senate. It was further pointed out that Director Kelley has recently stated in connection with the publicity relative to Cointelpro, that he has no intention of permitting this program to be reinstituted in the FBI and if circumstances ever arose which circumstances he could not contemplate at this time, wherein it was thought such activities should be embarked upon, he would obtain the personal approval of the Attorney General prior to such instituting. Seidel was informed that Gebhardt was in total agreement with this statement of Mr. Kelley.

Gebhardt was asked as to what his feelings were relative to what the relationship should be between the FBI and Congress. He was informed that a Senate Oversight Committee was recently established and it was felt that this was a good start and that this Committee should formalize and standardize their oversight responsibilities and make regular inquiries of the Director and other officials of the FBI as to our activities. He was informed that there should be either a joint oversight committee between the House and Senate or if the Congress decided on two oversight Committees in both the House and Senate, these committees should be the entities through which all information relative to the activities of the FBI should flow.

It was emphasized however, that there should be regular consultation between these representatives and the FBI.

Inquiry was made as to Gebhardt's opinion relative to the relationship between the Department of Justice and the FBI and Seidel was informed the relationship, in Gebhardt's opinion, is excellent, should continue, and there should be a free flow of information between the FBI and the Department of Justice.

At the conclusion of the interview, Gebhardt summed up his comments by stating that Congress should definitely set up a structured oversight procedure of the activities of the FBI with due regard to the confidentiality of many of the FBI operations and investigations and must assure itself that the members of the Committee and its staff will maintain the confidentiality where necessary.

Secondly, in the areas of investigative matters usually referred to as national defense, national security or intelligence operations, all of the FBI investigations must be based on the application of the facts toward a particular Federal statute and if the facts are so oblique that they cannot be clearly applied to a particular Federal statute, consultation with the Department of Justice should be had in all instances.

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT
ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Former Special Agent Robert S. Baker was interviewed at his home at 4268 Hortensia, San Diego, California, by U.S. Senate Select Committee (SSC) Staff Member Lester Seidel on August 1, 1975. The interview began at 10:30 AM and lasted until 12:30 PM. Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) Arthur G. Barger, Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), San Diego, California, was telephonically available for consultation. Former Special Agent Baker did not consult with anyone during the course of the interview.

Prior to the interview, Former Special Agent Baker had been advised that FBI Headquarters had waived the agreement as a former employee not to furnish information received during the period of his employment, for purposes of this interview. He was advised that he had a right to counsel but that the FBI was unable to provide private counsel for him.

Former Special Agent Baker was advised that he would not be required to answer questions that might divulge the identity of any FBI source, that would reveal information relative to sensitive methods and techniques, or information which originated with other agencies, including foreign intelligence agencies.

Former Special Agent Baker was advised that the interview was to involve only the COINTELPRO as it applied to the Black Panther Party (BPP) ~~(see appendix)~~. destroyed

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT
ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Staff Member Seidel identified himself to Mr. Baker, stating that the interview would be in the form of an informal discussion and that information furnished by Mr. Baker would be placed in a memorandum for the SSC. Mr. Seidel stated that he did not intend to use the names of individuals interviewed in his memorandum. He stated that Mr. Baker did not have to talk to him, and that any information he furnished would be furnished voluntarily.

Mr. Seidel asked if Mr. Baker was a supervisor with the San Diego Office of the FBI from sometime in 1968 through April, 1971.

Mr. Baker advised that he was a supervisor of the security squad but could not recall if the dates mentioned by Mr. Seidel were correct.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to the nature of matters supervised by him, to which Mr. Baker replied that matters such as investigation of the Communist Party (see appendix), the Socialist Workers Party (see appendix), the Black Panther Party, US, Incorporated (see appendix), the Nation of Islam (see appendix), Espionage, Sabotage matters, and other investigations were conducted on the squad supervised by him, which consisted of from 12 to 15 Special Agents.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether Mr. Baker supervised the COINTELPRO.

Mr. Baker advised that he did supervise this program which was initiated by FBI Headquarters and not on the field office level. He stated that as he recalled, a letter was submitted either monthly, quarterly or semi-annually. The letter was submitted by a Special Agent whose case load was such that he could take the time to prepare the letter.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether Special Agent Roy Burns was more of a young, eager, type Agent.

U.S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT
ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Baker replied that this was not true but that Special Agent Burns had been assigned the COINTELPRO case because his case load was such that he was able to handle the program.

Mr. Seidel inquired whether Special Agent Roy Burns was transferred to the Butte Office of the FBI for disciplinary reasons.

Mr. Baker replied that Special Agent Burns was originally from Washington State and had wanted to be transferred to that area.

Mr. Seidel asked if the Bureau encouraged Agents to participate in disruptive programs and then rewarded them financially for their efforts.

Mr. Baker replied that the Bureau had an incentive award program, and if an Agent did a good job in any field, he could get recognition through an incentive award. Mr. Baker stated that he could not recall any award being given as a result of COINTELPRO activity.

Mr. Seidel asked Mr. Baker if he could recall any information concerning the Free Breakfast Program of the BPP.

Mr. Baker stated that he recalled that the operation of the Free Breakfast Program of the BPP was followed through sources. They advised that some of the BPP officials were stealing money from funds which were to be spent on the breakfast program. The breakfast program was served at a local Catholic church. Mr. Baker advised Mr. Seidel that an official of the Catholic church in San Diego was contacted regarding the priest in charge of the church where the breakfast program was being held, who was reportedly an alcoholic. Mr. Seidel was advised that the priest was transferred from the church.

U.S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT
ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel asked what Mr. Baker's definition of the COINTELPRO was.

Mr. Baker replied that the COINTELPRO was a disruptive type program.

Mr. Seidel stated that the FBI had apparently written a letter regarding a white girl friend of Kenneth Denman, a BPP leader in San Diego. He inquired as to why this letter was written.

Mr. Baker stated that Denman was considered one of the stronger leaders of the San Diego Branch of the BPP, and if it was possible to keep him from becoming a strong leader, it would be disruptive to the party. The fact that Denman was living with a white girl was considered derogatory toward him by BPP members in San Diego.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether such activity would have been taken against a leader in an organization such as the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) (see description) if the leader of such a group had been living with a white woman. Would such a letter be appropriate?

Mr. Baker replied that he did not feel that such a letter would be appropriate in this case because this organization involved a religious leader and our program was not directed at religious groups but was directed toward black militant and extremist groups.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether Mr. Baker recalled individuals in the BPP named Tate, Wallace, Denman and Bell.

Mr. Baker stated that he could not recall anything specific about any of these individuals, except what he had previously stated concerning Denman. He said he could recall the names but nothing more concerning these individuals.

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT
ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel then mentioned an incident wherein the San Diego Office of the FBI had furnished information to the Los Angeles Office of the FBI for transmission to local authorities concerning a group of BPP members from San Diego who were traveling to Los Angeles to attend a funeral.

Mr. Baker stated that he could recall that such an incident occurred and that information was furnished stating that BPP members from San Diego would be carrying concealed weapons. He said he thought the furnishing of this information resulted in some of the BPP members being arrested in Los Angeles.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether Mr. Baker could recall someone from the FBI in San Diego visiting the mother of a girl who was an alleged member of the BPP in San Diego, and whether the FBI went to the mother to put pressure on another member of the family.

Mr. Baker stated that he vaguely recalled such a case but could not recall the details and could not be certain this had occurred.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether the FBI had any technical surveillances on the BPP in San Diego.

Mr. Baker stated that he knew of none and added that such coverage was not needed in San Diego because there were good sources in the BPP who could furnish excellent coverage. Mr. Baker stated that he believes he would have known of any such installations covering the BPP in San Diego.

Mr. Seidel asked if Mr. Baker knew of San Francisco using any such techniques against the BPP.

Mr. Baker replied that he believed that San Francisco had used such techniques.

Mr. Seidel then asked why such techniques were not used in San Diego if they were used in San Francisco.

Mr. Baker replied that such techniques were not needed in San Diego due to the good source coverage of party activity.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether there was a conflict between US, Incorporated, and the BPP in San Diego.

Mr. Baker replied that US, Incorporated, headquarters were in Los Angeles. There was a power struggle between the two groups for membership of blacks and much travel occurred by US, Incorporated, leaders from Los Angeles to San Diego and Mexico, and from San Diego to Los Angeles. There were considerable conflict between the two groups.

Mr. Seidel asked whether Mr. Baker recalled Ron Karenga.

Mr. Baker replied that he did recall Ron Karenga as being the Los Angeles leader of US, Incorporated.

Mr. Seidel asked whether Mr. Baker recalled some cards stating "Ron Karenga is impotent" which were printed in Los Angeles and some of which might have been sent to San Diego.

Mr. Baker replied that he does not recall these cards but this could have been correct.

Mr. Seidel asked if Mr. Baker recalled some cartoons being drawn concerning the BPP.

Mr. Baker stated that he recalled that there were two or three cartoons prepared depicting strife between US, Incorporated, and the BPP.

Mr. Seidel then stated that these cartoons were prepared by the Bureau Laboratory.

Mr. Baker stated that he did not recall.

Mr. Baker advised Mr. Seidel that US, Incorporated, and the BPP were led by and made up of people with extensive criminal records, and because of this and their general demeanor, the FBI did not really have to provoke or disrupt them because they kept themselves in a constant state of turmoil. He stated that Special Agents connected with the COINTELPRO did not devote much time to the program because of heavy case loads of other matters and because they assisted in working criminal matters such as bank robberies and other criminal violations.

Mr. Baker advised Mr. Seidel that a great deal of time was spent by the Special Agents working with their sources because they had to be extremely careful that they were protected. If a crime was planned and a source had knowledge of it, the source would try to keep the crime from being committed. If it was not possible to prevent the crime, the source might be forced to participate, and if arrested, a problem would be created in attempting to get the source out of jail and still conceal his identity as a source.

Mr. Seidel inquired of Mr. Baker as to the names of the Agents he dealt with in Los Angeles and San Francisco in connection with COINTELPRO.

Mr. Baker stated that he recalled that Supervisor Albert Clark had something to do with the program in San Francisco, and in Los Angeles he dealt with Supervisor Richard Bloeser and Bill Knowland.

U.S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel asked Mr. Baker if he was acquainted with Richard Held.

Mr. Baker stated that Richard Held was assigned as Assistant Special Agent in Charge in San Diego, and he knew him at that time. He stated that he is aware that Richard Held is now the Special Agent in Charge of the Chicago Office of the FBI.

Mr. Seidel stated to Mr. Baker that he was going to interview Assistant Director Robert Gebhardt and Special Agent in Charge Charles W. Bates.

This concluded the interview of former Special Agent Robert S. Baker by SSC Staff Member Lester Seidel.

By communication dated July 30, 1975, Clarence M. Kelley, Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), United States Department of Justice, advised as follows concerning an interview by representative of the Senate Select Committee (SSC) of Special Agent (SA) Lawrence F. Wirick, concerning Counterintelligence Program (COINTELPRO) and Bureau investigation of the Black Panther Party (BPP) (see Appendix page). Director Kelley stated as follows:

"I have waived your employment agreements for purposes of these interviews. Each should note that he has the right to counsel; however, the FBI is unable to provide private counsel. There are certain privileged areas concerning which SAS would not be required to answer questions. Areas concern information which might divulge identities of FBI sources; information relating to sensitive methods and techniques; information which might adversely affect on-going FBI investigations; and information which originated with other agencies, including foreign intelligence agencies."

INTERVIEW OF SPECIAL AGENT
(SA) LAWRENCE F. WIRICK BY
SSC STAFF MEMBER

On July 31, 1975, at 11:45 a.m. Mr. Lester Seidel of the United States Senate Select Committee (SSC) interviewed SA Lawrence F. Wirick at the San Diego Office of the FBI. No Advice of Rights was furnished SA Wirick and it was not necessary for the interviewee to consult with an FBI representative. The interview was terminated at 12:50 p.m. and as best recalled included the following discussion in the form of questions and answers:

Seidel: You understand that this is an informal interview and is in connection with the Bureau's COINTELPRO as it relates to the FBI investigation of the BPP?

Wirick: Yes, but for what purpose is the Senate conducting this survey?

Seidel: To aid in formation of new legislation so that the FBI and other Government agencies will have more definite guidelines to follow.

Wirick: I believe the Congress already through lack of information, isolated instances and some hysteria have enacted too many restrictive laws that prevent the FBI and other Government agencies from protecting the law abiding element of our society from the "bad guys".

Seidel: (He was in general agreement) Did you handle the COINTELPRO from 1970 through March, 1971?

Wirick: Yes, but I believe the BPP ceased to function locally about November or December, 1970. As I recall my function was to write a progress type letter regarding progress which described the illegal activities of members of the BPP and to report that this information had been furnished local police agencies but information generally emanated from confidential informants.

UNITED STATES SENATE
SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES

INTERVIEW OF SPECIAL AGENT
(SA) LAWRENCE F. WIRICK BY
SSC STAFF MEMBER

Seidel: What type of illegal activities and did your program in any way instigate illegal activities on the part of the BPP?

Wirick: Criminal acts committed by local members of the BPP is what I was referring to. I don't believe it was ever necessary to instigate any illegal acts or in any way entrap BPP members in criminal acts. The majority of local BPP members were thieves, narcotics addicts, lazy, unemployed and were hero worshipers of the BPP in Oakland, California. They wanted to emulate the Oakland organization, but their own dishonesty, et cetera, was a constant source of turmoil amongst the local group.

I recall, date unknown, information was received regarding Kenny Denmon (Kenneth Lee Denmon), one time head of the local BPP, that he was using stolen credit cards.

Information was received that Walter Wallace (Walter Carl Wallace, Jr.) was on narcotics and that he and his wife, Velma, were stealing to get money for narcotics and that Velma's mother was also involved in local thefts.

All above information was furnished local law agencies and local arrests were made. Furnishing the above type of information is a function and responsibility of the FBI.

The BPP in San Diego was very effective in causing their own problems and their own extinction and their criminal activities were not restricted to the examples I've given.

Seidel: Did the COINTELPRO try to disrupt the BPP Breakfast Program?

Wirick: No, not to my knowledge. I recall that soon after the Breakfast Program was started that other members of the BPP accused Ken Denmon of stealing money from contributions made to the Program.

On second thought I believe we did disrupt the BPP Breakfast Program in that we received complaints from several dairys and bread companies, et cetera, that they had been approached by BPP members with veiled threats of extortion if they did not donate quantities of food et cetera to the BPP Breakfast Program. The FBI and local police investigated and I believe as a result their practices were discontinued, but the investigation failed to establish a prosecutable offense of extortion.

Seidel: Did you have any connection with distribution of "cartoons" depicting BPP members as compromising each other et cetera?

Wirick: No, but I have seen "cartoons" in the BPP newspaper. Have you ever seen or read copies of the BPP newspaper?

Seidel: No

Wirick: They featured "cartoons" showing the "pigs" (police) being killed, stabbed, et cetera. I believe I recall seeing some "cartoons" showing how the BPP would kill the "honkies" (white people). They were similar to the propaganda leaflets used by the Nazis against American troops before an attack. The articles in the BPP newspaper were even more foul.

Seidel: Did the COINTELPRO promote dissension between the BPP and the US Group (see Appendix page)?

Wirick: Not to my knowledge. As I recall there was never any need to. They were constantly at odds with each other and on a gang type basis were trying to eliminate each other. I believe Sylvester Bell, a San Diego BPP member was killed by an US Group member and John Savage, another local BPP member was killed by an US Group member.

In Los Angeles two other BPP members, names not recalled, were allegedly killed by US Group members. I believe this led to the popular saying in Southeast San Diego section where most blacks live that the score (game) was, "US 4 - BPP 0".

Seidel: What do you think of the merits of a proposal to spray shipments of the BPP newspaper with a noxious acid so that readers would be confronted with a vile odor when attempting to read the paper?

Wirick:	After thought, no. Because the paper itself was so vile and anti-white that the odor would never stop BPP members from reading same. I've always hoped that a large segment of the population, especially the "do-gooders" could or would experience the nauseous reaction I have felt after reading the illiterate, foul-mouthed, anti-white, anti-Government, BPP paper. I think everybody should read a copy of the BPP paper so that they will know the type and character of BPP members.
Seidel:	What do you think about anonymous letters sent to spouses of BPP members saying the husband was sleeping with a white girl, et cetera?
Wirick:	Most wives of the members I recall were also BPP members and/or common-law-wives. Many BPP members did have liaison with white girls but I doubt if such a letter would bother most spouses of BPP members. However, such a letter might be of value under certain circumstances, example: the stories that were spread during World War II which were not necessarily all true regarding Hitler, Mussolini, General Patton and others.
Seidel:	In your opinion was the COINTELPRO of any value? Should it be changed? Do you have any suggestions for changes, or should it be eliminated completely?
Wirick:	Yes, as I recall, it acted as a progress letter of the BPP, its direction, its dissension, its change in leadership, and indications of its slow local demise because of the character of the local BPP members, and as a summary of its activities for FBIHQ. I recall that we made certain requests to conduct some types of counterintelligence against the BPP, but I do not recall that the Bureau ever authorized any counterintelligence act which might be productive.

Change? COINTELPRO is not being utilized to the best of my knowledge and has not been for some time.

I believe that in about two or three years Congress will be frantically asking the FBI why we did not furnish them intelligence, advance knowledge of a demonstration, a riot and other civil unrest and elimination of the COINTELPRO has been another step in the direction of placing the FBI and other law enforcement agencies in a position where we cannot react to the activities of groups such as the BPP which have been formed with the main purpose of overthrowing the United States.

INTERVIEW OF SPECIAL AGENT EARL M. PETERSEN
BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Special Agent (SA) Earl M. Petersen was interviewed at the San Diego office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) on July 31, 1975, by U. S. Senate Select Committee (SSC) Staff Member Lester Seidel. The interview began at 10:05 A.M. and ended at 11:35 A.M. Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) Arthur G. Barger was available nearby for consultation. He was not consulted during the interview.

Prior to the interview, SA Petersen had been advised by San Diego FBI officials that FBI Headquarters had waived the employee agreement not to furnish information for the purpose of this interview. He was advised that he had a right to counsel but that the FBI was unable to provide private counsel for him.

SA Petersen was advised that he would not be required to answer questions that might divulge the identity of any FBI source; that would reveal information relative to sensitive methods and techniques; or information which originated with other agencies, including foreign intelligence agencies.

SA Petersen was advised that the interview was to involve only the COINTELPRO as it applied to the Black Panther Party (BPP) (see appendix).

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

INTERVIEW OF SA EARL M. PETERSEN BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Staff Member Lester Seidel identified himself to SA Petersen and stated that he was not warning SA Petersen of his rights as the interview was such that such a warning was not required. He advised SA Petersen that he did not have to talk to him and that any information furnished was on a voluntary basis. He stated that information furnished to him would be handled with discretion.

Mr. Seidel:	Were you in charge of the COINTELPRO in San Diego from March, 1968 through October, 1968?
SA Petersen:	This was possible but the dates the program was assigned to me are not recalled.
Mr. Seidel:	What was the name of the squad to which you were assigned at that time?
SA Petersen.	The Security Squad.
Mr. Seidel:	Who did the squad investigate? Was it groups such as US, Inc. (see appendix) and the BPP?
SA Petersen:	Yes, such groups as US, Inc., the BPP, and the Nation of Islam (NOI) (see appendix).
Mr. Seidel:	And possibly splinter groups?
SA Petersen:	Yes, groups that would form and disband and which could possibly be called splinter groups.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE

INTERVIEW OF SA EARL M. PETERSEN
BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel:	How long have you been in the Bureau?
SA Petersen:	Twenty-four years as of June 25, 1975.
Mr. Seidel:	Where have you been assigned?
SA Petersen:	In Boston, Baltimore, New York, Tampa, and San Diego.
Mr. Seidel:	The Bureau has indicated that you were a coordinator of the COINTELPRO in San Diego. As such, what were your duties?
SA Petersen:	The duties for the most part consisted of preparing letters to the Bureau asking for authority to take some specific action in the program; awaiting the reply from the Bureau; and then, if any action was taken, to advise the Bureau of the results of such action. It is noted that many of the requests to take specific action were turned down by the Bureau.
Mr. Seidel:	Were you the focal point of the program?
SA Petersen:	Yes, in the sense that any idea for action to be taken in the program was transmitted to the Bureau for approval by me and if approval was received, it would be related to whomever had suggested the activity. I would then report any results to the Bureau.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF SA EARL M. PETERSEN
BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel: Did you get heavy pressure from Bureau officials to take action in this program?

SA Petersen: Not any more than any other case, and I had a number of other cases assigned to me at the time the COINTELPRO was assigned to me.

Mr. Seidel: What type of things did you do?

SA Petersen: I do not recall at this time any specific action taken in the program. I do recall that a Black Panther leader, Walter Wallace, was removed as leader of the party in San Diego. I believe it was suspected that he might have cooperated with the FBI. This could have been accomplished by interviewing him where the interview could be seen by other party members. If the Agents shook his hand, smiled, and acted like he was a friend, it might plant the seed of suspicion in the minds of other BPP members. I do not recall specifically whether this happened but at any rate, Wallace was not trusted and was removed as leader of the party.

Mr. Seidel: Could such a thing get Wallace killed or injured?

SA Petersen: I do not see how it would because there would be no way anyone could determine whether or not Wallace was, in fact, cooperating with the FBI. He was probably removed by the BPP as a precautionary measure. I cannot recall whether or not Wallace was removed while I was coordinator of the program.

Mr. Seidel: Was COINTELPRO successful?

SA Petersen: I was not too impressed with its success in San Diego while I had it assigned to me because it was a new program and it took some time to get it established and working. Most of the success was probably due to information obtained regarding criminal violations, mostly local in nature, which was furnished to local law enforcement officers, causing the arrest of BPP members. This would have been done whether or not we had a COINTELPRO. It was necessary to prepare a letter to the Bureau asking authority to take action and then wait for a reply authorizing the activity. Many times suggested COINTELPRO activity suggestions would be turned down.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF SA EARL M. PETERSEN BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel made available Xerox copies of Bureau letters captioned, "Counter-Intelligence Program; Black Nationalist - Hate Groups," dated August 25, 1967 and March 4, 1968. These were read by SA Petersen, who said he could not specifically recall reading the letters.

Mr. Seidel: Was contact with the police formal or informal?

SA Petersen: Contact was personal or telephonic contact and at one time, information furnished to individual officers was confirmed by letter to the Chief of Police. It is not recalled if this was the policy during the time COINTELPRO was assigned to me.

Mr. Seidel: What happened to SA Roy Burns?

SA Petersen: He was transferred to the Butte, Montana Field Office.

Mr. Seidel: Did he do anything wrong? I understand Agents were sometimes transferred to Butte as a disciplinary measure.

SA Petersen: SA Burns wanted to be transferred to Butte and requested the transfer. The Special Agent in Charge (SAC), Mr. Evans, was transferred there and may have helped SA Burns get moved there.

Mr. Seidel: How old is Bob Baker:

SA Petersen: Probably 51 or 52 years old.

Mr. Seidel: Did he retire early?

SA Petersen: No. He was in a position to retire and retired because he wanted to take advantage of a cost of living increase by retiring prior to a certain date, such as June 30.

Mr. Seidel: Were the BPP and US, Inc. both violence oriented groups?

SA Petersen: Very definitely. There was extreme friction between the BPP and US, Inc. at all times.

Mr. Seidel: Do you recall some caricatures used in connection with COINTELPRO?

SA Petersen: Yes.

Mr. Seidel: Who had the program at that time?

SA Petersen: I believe SA Burns had it then.

Mr. Seidel: What were the cartoons?

SA Petersen: I recall seeing them but do not recall any specific cartoon.

Mr. Seidel: Do you think anything done in COINTELPRO could have had a reaction causing someone to kill an individual in the other group?

SA Petersen: Because of the extreme antagonism between the two groups, anything we did would have had about the same effect as a gnat biting an elephant. I do not think COINTELPRO had that kind of impact.

INTERVIEW OF SA EARL M. PETERSEN
BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel: Did you ever supervise any technical installation or electronic surveillance of the BPP in San Diego?

SA Petersen: No. I don't recall anything like that being done here.

Mr. Seidel: How would you feel about writing a letter to a wife saying her husband was sleeping with various other women if the husband was a BPP leader?

SA Petersen: I would hesitate to do this because it might break up a family. If the facts were true and this might cause the BPP leader to be less effective, it would probably be a good counterintelligence move.

Mr. Seidel: I am referring to Page 91 of a BPP COINTELPRO summary which indicates that a BPP leader was living with a white girl and an anonymous letter was written to others in the BPP saying that this individual was living with a white girl. Do you recall anything about that?

SA Petersen: I believe that leader could have been Kenneth Denmon in San Diego. I recall that he was living with a white woman and that others in the BPP were made aware of this in some manner. The BPP in San SA Petersen (continued): Diego was teaching children to hate and kill police officers. They planned violent criminal acts and were making plans to take over the established government at the first opportunity. If a leader of such a group could be discredited and removed, it would help to keep the group from becoming stronger, as they would have to select a new leader, and he would have to get the group reorganized. Denmon had many additional weaknesses which could be used in a counter-intelligence program.

Mr. Seidel: Do you recall a letter being sent to BPP Headquarters saying a leader of the BPP was cooperating with the police in Los Angeles?

SA Petersen: I do not recall such a letter.

Mr. Seidel: Do you recall some cards being sent to San Diego from Los Angeles saying, "Ron Karenga is impotent"?

SA Petersen: No, I do not recall such cards. Ron Karenga was a leader of US, Inc., not the BPP.

Mr. Seidel: Do you recall that cartoons were to be sent to BPP members to discredit the leaders?

SA Petersen: I recall the cartoons but do not recall whether they were sent to BPP members.

INTERVIEW OF SA EARL M. PETERSEN
BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel: Do you recall an anonymous letter being sent to the Catholic Church to have the priest of the church where the BPP breakfast program was operated removed from his office?

SA Petersen: I do not recall such an anonymous letter; however, I do recall that the priest was transferred by the church.

Mr. Seidel: Knowing that the BPP paper was a paper that taught and advocated violence and had cartoons in it that encouraged the killing of police officers by blacks and was a violence oriented paper, how would you feel about putting a corrosive liquid on the paper to keep it from being distributed?

SA Petersen: I would not do it as I would feel that it was a violation of the law and too drastic. I would not do it personally or personally approve of it.

Mr. Seidel: You have been very helpful and the information you have provided will be used in considering new legislation at some time in the future.

SA Petersen: In these tranquil times, it disturbs me greatly to read in the papers and to hear news broadcasts containing all kinds of allegations against the FBI and the CIA and

SA Petersen (continued):	other intelligence agencies. I like to work within the law and to be guided by legislation in my work. I would, however, hate to see such restrictive legislation passed that at some time in the future when we might be faced with violence-prone organizations trying to take control of the government, we would be unable to properly handle our responsibility for the internal security of the United States.
Mr. Seidel:	Thank you for your cooperation.

July 18, 1975

The Honorable Edward H. Levi
Attorney General
U. S. Department of Justice
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Attorney General:

On behalf of the Select Committee, we wish to express our appreciation to you for meeting with us on Wednesday afternoon. We recognize the need for the Committee to have a complete understanding of the concerns of the Department of Justice so that our inquiry can proceed in the most responsible manner. Our meeting was extremely valuable in that respect, and you may be sure that we have given full consideration to your views.

The Committee has been informed that Mr. John T. Elliff, leader of the Domestic Intelligence Task Force, and members of his staff met yesterday with Mr. K. William O'Connor, Special Counsel for Intelligence coordination, and members of his staff to agree upon procedures for delivery of and access to FBI materials requested by the Committee. The proposed procedures which resulted from that meeting are satisfactory to the Committee.

We are pleased that your staff was able to meet promptly with our representatives and that they reached agreement without delay. The Committee expects that the proposed procedures will, if implemented, expedite its work during the coming weeks. As you know, one of our major concerns was that all of the problems with the Committee's outstanding requests for materials be resolved before the August recess so that the staff can fully prepare the materials for our use when we return. We believe the procedures are an appropriate and practical accommodation of our mutual interests. Indeed, we have instructed our staff to make every effort to accomplish the work of the Committee within this framework.

The prompt resolution of this matter demonstrates a spirit of cooperation which we hope will prevail in all our future relations. The Committee looks forward to working with you personally on issues of common concern during the months ahead.

Sincerely yours,

PROPOSED PROCEDURES

(1) The Domestic Task Force Leader or the Senior Staff will submit periodically a list of materials to which the Committee staff wishes access or of which the Committee desires delivery. The first such list will be delivered to the Department of Justice within 48 hours of the adoption of this procedure, and will summarize and supersede all the presently outstanding requests; this list will be in priority order, as fixed by the Committee, with fixed delivery/access dates specified. Those materials for which the Committee requests delivery or access shall be delivered to the Committee or made accessible in Room 4171 of the Hoover Building not later than within 48 hours of the date specified. The Committee Chairman and Vice Chairman shall be informed by the Attorney General, within 24 hours of receipt of the request, of any delay beyond 48 hours, the expected length of the delay, and the specific reasons for the delay. Partial access or delivery shall be proffered, by the Bureau of/to any materials requested, while the balance of such materials are being prepared. A partial proffer shall not extend the time of full response set forth herein.

(2) The following procedures shall apply (a) where delivery of materials requested might jeopardize FBI sensitive sources or ongoing operations, or (b) where the Domestic Task Force Leader or the Senior Staff requests access to materials, rather than delivery of materials to the Committee.

(3) The Department will furnish access at the Hoover Building in Room 4171 to those materials requested:

(a) only to the members of the Committee, where it is determined by the Attorney General that the materials involve peculiarly sensitive foreign intelligence sources and ongoing operations.

(b) In all other cases, to the appropriately cleared staff who will have access to all of the materials.

(c) An exception to (a) and (b) above is made for the names of so-called "live" informants or potential informants as defined in the FBI Manual of Instructions as to which no access will be furnished unless the identity of the individual as an informant or potential informant has already been made known to the Committee, or unless the Attorney General, the Chairman and Vice Chairman, jointly agree on the limited disclosure of such names to the Chairman and Vice Chairman.

(6) The Bureau shall make copies of such materials as are specified by the staff under the provisions of (5) above for transfer to the Committee's offices

(a) before the copies of such materials are taken to the Committee's offices, the Bureau shall, within 24 hours of the selection, make appropriate excisions and paraphrases of information which might, if inadvertently disclosed, endanger sensitive FBI sources and ongoing operations.

(b) If the Task Force Leader/or the Senior Staff has any objections to the excisions or paraphrases, the materials will be forthwith conveyed by the Bureau, with a written statement of its grounds for its position, to the Special Counsel who shall resolve the matter within 24 hours.

(c) In the event the matter is not resolved within 24 hours, the Special Counsel shall submit the matter forthwith to the Attorney General who shall notify the Chairman forthwith and arrange for an appropriate disposition.

(7) The Committee staff may remove to the Office of SSC for appropriate use, any notes which they may make upon review of screened material without such notes being reviewed by the Bureau. The Committee staff may remove notes on unscreened materials only is such notes are reviewed and cleared by the Bureau under the provisions of (6) (a) thru (c) above.

(8) The staff and the members of the Committee may examine the original materials to which the staff has been given access as extensively as necessary, in the Hoover Building at Room 4171.

The Honorable Edward H. Levi
Attorney General
U. S. Department of Justice
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Attorney General:

On behalf of the Select Committee, we wish to express our appreciation to you for meeting with us on Wednesday afternoon. We recognize the need for the Committee to have a complete understanding of the concerns of the Department of Justice so that our inquiry can proceed in the most responsible manner. Our meeting was extremely valuable in that respect, and you may be sure that we have given full consideration to your views.

The Committee has been informed that Mr. John T. Elliff, leader of the Domestic Intelligence Task Force, and members of his staff met yesterday with Mr. K. William O'Connor, Special Counsel for Intelligence coordination, and members of his staff to agree upon procedures for delivery of and access to FBI materials requested by the Committee. The proposed procedures which resulted from that meeting are satisfactory to the Committee.

We are pleased that your staff was able to meet promptly with our representatives and that they reached agreement without delay. The Committee expects that the proposed procedures will, if implemented, expedite its work during the coming weeks. As you know, one of our major concerns was that all of the problems with the Committee's outstanding requests for materials be resolved before the August recess so that the staff can fully prepare the materials for our use when we return. We believe the procedures are an appropriate and practical accommodation of our mutual interests. Indeed, we have instructed our staff to make every effort to accomplish the work of the Committee within this framework.

The prompt resolution of this matter demonstrates a spirit of cooperation which we hope will prevail in all our future relations. The Committee looks forward to working with you personally on issues of common concern during the months ahead.

PROPOSED PROCEDURES

(1) The Domestic Task Force Leader or the Senior Staff will submit periodically a list of materials to which the Committee staff wishes access or of which the Committee desires delivery. The first such list will be delivered to the Department of Justice within 48 hours of the adoption of this procedure, and will summarize and supersede all the presently outstanding requests; this list will be in priority order, as fixed by the Committee, with fixed delivery/access dates specified. Those materials for which the Committee requests delivery or access shall be delivered to the Committee or made accessible in Room 4171 of the Hoover Building not later than within 48 hours of the date specified. The Committee Chairman and Vice Chairman shall be informed by the Attorney General, within 24 hours of receipt of the request, of any delay beyond 48 hours, the expected length of the delay, and the specific reasons for the delay. Partial access or delivery shall be proffered, by the Bureau of/to any materials requested, while the balance of such materials are being prepared. A partial proffer shall not extend the time of full response set forth herein.

(2) The following procedures shall apply (a) where delivery of materials requested might jeopardize FBI sensitive sources or ongoing operations, or (b) where the Domestic Task Force Leader or the Senior Staff requests access to materials, rather than delivery of materials to the Committee.

(3) The Department will furnish access at the Hoover Building in Room 4171 to those materials requested:

(a) only to the members of the Committee, where it is determined by the Attorney General that the materials involve peculiarly sensitive foreign intelligence sources and ongoing operations.

(b) In all other cases, to the appropriately cleared staff who will have access to all of the materials.

(c) An exception to (a) and (b) above is made for the names of so-called "live" informants or potential informants as defined in the FBI Manual of Instructions as to which no access will be furnished unless the identity of the individual as an informant or potential informant has already been made known to the Committee, or unless the Attorney General, the Chairman and Vice Chairman, jointly agree on the limited disclosure of such names to the Chairman and Vice Chairman.

(4) Those materials to which the staff has access may be reviewed and studied in Room 4171 of the Hoover Building and such notes may be taken as deemed appropriate by the Staff.

(5) The Committee staff shall select from these materials to which access is herein provided, those materials which it deems pertinent to the Committee's inquiries and necessary for delivery to the Committee's offices.

(6) The Bureau shall make copies of such materials as are specified by the staff under the provisions of (5) above for transfer to the Committee's offices

or the Senior Staff

(b) If the Task Force Leader/has any objections to the excisions or paraphrases, the materials will be forthwith conveyed by the Bureau, with a written statement of its grounds for its position, to the Special Counsel who shall resolve the matter within 24 hours.

(c) In the event the matter is not resolved within 24 hours, the Special Counsel shall submit the matter forthwith to the Attorney General who shall notify the Chairman forthwith and arrange for an appropriate disposition.

(7) The Committee staff may remove to the Office of SSC for appropriate use, any notes which they may make upon review of screened material without such notes being reviewed by the Bureau. The Committee staff may remove notes on unscreened materials only is such notes are reviewed and cleared by the Bureau under the provisions of (6) (a) thru (c) above.

(8) The staff and the members of the Committee may examine the original materials to which the staff has been given access as extensively as necessary, in the Hoover Building at Room 4171.

(9) Where accepted by Attorney General and the Committee, these procedures may be modified only by their joint decision.

SUBJECT: Synopsis of Responses to Request for Comments on Proposed Procedures

1. The Deputy Attorney General, Office of Legislative Affairs, and Civil Rights Division register no objections to the proposed procedures on access. OLA suggests inclusion of a preamble referencing security agreements and the need for proper security assurances from the Committee to the Attorney General.

2. Both the Criminal Division and Office of Legal Counsel address the short response time frames imposed upon the Attorney General, and OLC suggests certain language changes for purposes of clarity and focus.

3. The Attorney General is troubled by Item 9 and its need for modification as to categories of material not treatable by these proposed procedures or as to a later discovered need to make presently unanticipated changes to effect a smoother operation of the procedures.

4. The Bureau's comments on the proposed procedures are attached and should be read. This Office does not agree with the Bureau that the proposed procedures should be presented to the President and the President's Counsel.

5. No response has been received from the Solicitor General.

6. This Office recommends that Item 9 be modified as suggested by the Attorney General and that the language modifications suggested by OLC for Items 3 and 6 be adopted.

Memorandum

TO : The Deputy Attorney General
Attn: K. William O'Connor

DATE: July 18, 1975

FROM : Director, FBI

SUBJECT: PROPOSED PROCEDURES FOR ACCESS TO DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE FILES

In response to your memorandum dated July 18, 1975, captioned as above, we observe that the "substantial negotiations" which produced the proposed procedures did not include participation by a representative of the FBI and that the request for our views concerning disclosure of highly sensitive FBI material was first received at 11:14 a.m. today with a reply expected by 2:00 p.m. today. We respectfully suggest that not only should you afford greater opportunity for an expression of our views on this matter, but that any such proposed procedures should be presented to the President's Counsel for concurrence and for an expression of the President's views as to the general policy of the Executive Branch in this regard. Further, you may want to consider addressing the problem of the impact such general disclosure of files would have on pending criminal investigations.

A preliminary review in the time available revealed that certain items require considerable modification. For example, Item (3)(c) should be reconsidered with the following language:

> "An exception to (a) and (b) above is made for information that would tend to identify sources to whom the FBI has an obligation of confidentiality as to which no access will be furnished unless the identity already has been made known to the Committee, or unless the Attorney General, the Chairman and the Vice Chairman jointly agree on the limited disclosure of such identity to the Chairman and the Vice Chairman."

Item (6)(b) should be reconsidered with the following language:

"If the Task Force Leader has any objections to the excisions or paraphrases, the FBI will furnish a written statement of the grounds for its position to the Special Counsel who shall resolve the matter by negotiation within 24 hours."

Item (8) should be reconsidered with the following language:

"The Staff and the Members of the Committee may examine the original materials to which the Staff is given access as extensively as necessary between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, in the FBI J. Edgar Hoover Building at Room 4171."

In light of the difficulties described, it is my strong recommendation that such procedures should not be hastily agreed upon with the Committee and that full discussion should be had concerning this matter by representatives of the FBI, the Attorney General, the Committee and the Counsel to the President.

COMMENTS ON PROPOSED PROCEDURES

1. 48 hour lead time is very short and may create problems; 24 hour reaction time may be unreasonable for Attorney General.
2. The provision seems a little odd, out of context of negotiations.
3. Suggest that in 3(a), last line, word and should be or and "peculiarly sensitive" read to modify both foreign intelligence sources and ongoing operations.
4. No comment
5. No comment
6. Time frames are very restrictive; there should be a stated opportunity for TFL to work out any objections with FBI, before raising to Special Counsel "...if the issue is not promptly resolved between the TFL and the FBI, the materials in issue will be conveyed..."
7. Define "screened" by reference to 6(a) above

With the exception of the Solicitor General's Office, all Departmental components whose views were solicited have provided their views on the question of Congressional Access to Personal FBI Files.

OLC, OLA, and Criminal Division favor a combination of options 1 and 3. Civil Rights Division favors option 1. The Bureau chooses option 3.

This office recommends the adoption of the position articulated by OLC and concurred in by OLA and Criminal.

Suggest combine option 1 and option 3; make deletion per option 1, but make oral explanation of the deletion; entire paragraph or document should be withheld to protect source.

Feels there is a serious, if not constitutional, issue as to the prospective trespass upon a citizen's rights to give information in confidence to his government.

Option 4 is absolutely unacceptable; would fight it in the courts.

My view is that item 9 goes too far in that there must be some provision which allows the Department or the Committee to abrogate the arrangement. I should think the agreement could provide that at any time the Chairman of the Committee or the Attorney General could give a notification that the (1)agreement was not suitable for a particular category of material or(2)that for some reason the agreement was not operating suitably and that as to either one or two there would then be an endeavor to work out a suitable modification or different arrangement (but I think it has to be said that the arrangement can be cancelled by either party)

SUBJECT: Congressional Access to Personal Files Maintained by the FBI

Certain members of the Senate Select Committee have requested access to their personal files. The preferred mode of access is the subject of pending consideration by the Attorney General. As you know, under the mandate of the Senate Select Committee, access to the personal file of a member of the Senate Select Committee may be had without any consideration of Freedom of Information Act issues.

The Attorney General has considered several options, and has asked that you consider them and indicate hereon your view; he has asked that these views be delivered to me not later than 1:00 p.m., this afternoon so that he may promptly consider them. The options considered are not exclusive. If you have any suggestions other than the options indicated, please attach it to your response. Responses should be delivered to me in Room 4213, Main Justice, by the time indicated. Thank you for your cooperation.

OPTIONS

Option 1: Departmental staff examine the documents in the file and delete any references to sensitive sources or ongoing criminal investigation; thereafter, the file is made accessible to the Senator under controlled circumstances at the Department of Justice.

✓ Approved ______ Disapproved

Comment:

EITHER THIS OR 3 IS PREFERABLE BECAUSE I DON'T KNOW WHAT "PERSONAL FILES" LOOK LIKE, HARD TO CHOOSE

Option 2: Same as Option 1, except that a xerox of the documents as excised is delivered to the Senator.

______ Approved   X Disapproved

Comment: PERHAPS SOME CONSIDERATION TO XEROX COPIES OF SPECIFIED DOCS AFTER REVIEW. EVEN THIS IS QUESTIONABLE, HOWEVER, BECAUSE OF "LEAK" PROBLEM.

Option 3: The file is assembled and the Senator given access to it, with certain papers withheld and the Senator is orally advised of the reasons for withholding of the documents.

✓ Approved   ______ Disapproved

Comment:

SUBJECT: July 18 memo--congressional access to personal files maintained by the FBI

Without knowing how these files were compiled (public sources? wiretap? confidential informant?), or what is in them (personal matter of derogatory nature? national security information?), or why they exist, (I have read in newspapers that they exist, but that's all), I would probably choose in the absence of knowing something about these Option #1, with the understanding that copies of releaseable information can then be made available to the Senator according to criteria spelled out in the Freedom of Information Act. I assume, however, that whoever is advising the AG about this has actually read the files in question, at least sufficient to know in a generic sense the answers to the questions raised above.

Despite the fact that I am operating in a vacuum on this, I do appreciate being consulted.

Washington, D.C. 20530

Dear Mr. O'Connor:

I have received your letter of July 15 regarding access/delivery of documents requested in the Committee's letter of July 9, 1975. The following relates specifically to the procedure suggested for handling documents on the so called "Kissinger 17" surveillance, which is also applied in your letter to materials relating to electronic surveillance of the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City in August 1964, materials relating to the electronic surveillance of Dr. King, and possibly the O & C files.

I regard this suggested procedure as a major step forward and a recognition that previous arrangements were too cumbersome and time-consuming. Nevertheless, there are certain practical problems with the procedure which may be resolved by interpretation. For example, I assume that application of the procedure to the Atlantic City convention matters does not foreclose the Committee from receiving for use at its offices actual documents or portions of documents, as well as summaries. I understand that the FBI has no objection to providing such documents on this matter to the Committee for use at its offices.

Therefore, in order that the procedure you suggest may be applicable to all areas of Committee inquiry claimed by the Department to involve particularly sensitive matters, it should be interpreted as follows: the Committee staff will have direct access to all files and materials at FBIHQ; the Committee staff shall select certain documents from the files which it deems pertinent to the Committee's inquiry and necessary for the examination of witnesses or the establishment of certain facts during the course of the inquiry; the FBI shall at that time designate specific portions of such documents which might jeopardize particularly sensitive sources or methods; with respect to such specifically designated portions of documents, the Committee staff will prepare appropriate excisions or summaries of the information; the summaries will be checked at that time with senior Bureau executives to ensure the protection of particularly sensitive FBI sources or methods; thereafter, the excised documents and summaries will be removed to the Committee's offices; the Committee staff may check back to the original documents as extensively as necessary; staff notes on the designated specific portions of documents will not be removed from FBIHQ; and Committee members may, of course, at any time see the documents which the staff has seen.

ALL FBI INFORMATION CONTAINED

DATE 10/16/00 BY SP2 ALM/KP

I believe this interpretation can serve as a workable framework for Committee access to particularly sensitive FBI materials. You may be assured that the Task Force shares your concern for the need to provide special handling techniques to convey or secure any particularly sensitive information or materials, as indicated in the Outline for Inquiry Procedures. We hope this interpretation will facilitate the mutual effort by the Committee and the Department of Justice to accomplish this purpose.

I would appreciate receiving your immediate advice to me as to whether any further interpretation of this matter is required. Any public discussion of these arrangements and interpretations should be cast in such terms as will not jeopardize particularly sensitive FBI sources.

Sincerely,

Re: Access/Delivery of Documents Requested in Senate Select Committee Letter of July 9, 1975

Dear Mr. Elliff:

Pursuant to our conversation of July 11, and confirming it, the following arrangements are approved for access to materials and delivery of materials to the Senate Select Committee staff, in addition to that which has already been made available.

All the provisions of this letter, hereinafter stated, are, of course, subject to the agreements embodied in the Outline for Inquiry Procedures referenced in the Committee's letter of June 27, 1975. Particular reference will periodically be made to the second sentence of paragraph B, page 2, of that document which specifies:

> "...The agency will also specifically indicate any of such materials which are extraordinarily sensitive in order to facilitate the mutual effort by the Committee and the agencies to provide special handling techniques to convey or secure any particularly sensitive information or materials as appropriate..."

Special handling techniques in addition to those indicated herein may be required in order to protect the security of sensitive materials covered herein.

Page 3, Paragraph 2, Subsection A. All of the FBI files on the so called "Kissinger 17" surveillance will be made available to you and specific appropriately cleared staff in Room 4171 of the Hoover Building. These documents may be reviewed and studied there, and you and such staff may take such notes as you deem appropriate; we have agreed that the notes are to be left in the secure room of the Hoover Building during your study. When your study is completed, you may prepare a summary of the information which you consider to be appropriate for Committee use. The summary must be checked with senior Bureau executives to ensure the protection of national security matters, protection of confidential sources of information, and observation of privacy considerations. Thereafter, the approved summary may be removed to the Committee's office and all the staff notes will be destroyed. You may check the summary back to the original documents as extensively as necessary, in Room 4171.

Page 5, Paragraph 3, A & B. As you may know, representatives of the King family, including Mr. Harry H. Wachtel, attorney, have formally expressed to the Department a special concern regarding any public disclosure of any derogatory information regarding Dr. King which may be contained in Bureau files. Subject to your reaching an agreement with such representatives of the King family, and the acceptance by the Department of such a written agreement, all of the materials related to the electronic surveillance of Dr. King, in the custody of the FBI, will be made available to you and specific appropriately cleared staff under the same conditions and with the same agreements as specified above with regard to the "Kissinger 17" surveillance.

Page 6, Paragraph 4. Those materials in the custody of the FBI which reflect and relate to electronic surveillance of the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City in August 1964, will be provided under the same conditions as articulated above with regard to the "Kissinger 17" surveillance.

Page 9, Paragraph C. A summary of procedures for mail covers has been provided by my recent letter to you. In addition to that, a ~~statistical~~ summary of mail covers on closed matters will be made available to you in Room 4171, together with access to the underlying documentation requesting the individual mail covers.

Documentation relating to the opening of mail will be withheld at present, due to ongoing investigations.

After your review of the mail cover summaries and any underlying documents you wish to review, we will discuss any further access which you may request to mail cover information.

Page 10, Paragraph E. I understand and accept your explanation that the word "implementation" in line 2 of paragraph E(1) does not seek access to the "raw" files of COINTELPRO programs. All of the memoranda originating the several COINTELPRO programs will be made available to you and specific appropriately cleared staff for review in Room 4171.

We will furnish to you, for your study at Senate Select Committee offices, a complete set of the excised exhibits A-E to the Petersen Report; as previously agreed, your staff may have access to any unexcised pages of Exhibits A-E which you may wish to see, and which will be maintained at Room 4171. The back up materials underlying any particular summary in A-E will be extracted from the "raw" files upon your request and made available to you for your study in Room 4171. General access to the "raw" files is not required, as I understand it, for your purposes under this agreement. General disclosure of information derived from documents other than the excised pages of Exhibits A-E will be made available subject to limitations to be determined, dependent upon the sensitivity of such information, in conference with appropriate Bureau officials and in accordance with the provisions of paragraph B of the Outline for Inquiry Procedures, to protect the considerations outlined above.

Page 14, Item I. This will confirm your understanding that certain Huston Plan documents prepared by the Bureau in response to your request under this heading have been delivered to the White House for "third agency clearance". This statement formally confirms my previous discussions with you of this fact when we met with Mr. Schwarz and Mr. Smothers on July 2. Be advised that the documents which have been transmitted to the White House for clearance will be forwarded to you, or made available for access, if appropriate, upon our receipt of the White House directions.

Page 16, Paragraph J. This will confirm our understanding that on July 14, there will be available for your review in Room 4171, a 160 page summary document reflecting an analysis of the O & C files.

After you have reviewed that analysis, I will discuss with you an appropriate further step with regard to the O & C files if such is indicated; such an agreement would be generally similar in terms to the foregoing arrangements.

I trust that this letter accurately reflects our understanding as reached in our discussion on July 11. If it does not, your immediate advice to me of any particulars in which we disagree in our understanding will be appreciated. In the meantime, I have furnished a copy of this letter to the Attorney General and the Deputy Attorney General and have requested the Bureau's cooperation in promptly making available the information indicated.

I would appreciate meeting with you and Mr. Schwarz and Mr. Smothers around July 18, for the purpose of discussing any problems which you may have identified and to clarify any outstanding documentary request which you may have, and to agree upon an appropriate schedule. Since we have received several additional requests from you, since the July 9, letter was delivered, it would seem appropriate to re-analyze your requirements in light of the agreements reached on July 11, reflected herein.

Sincerely,

K. WILLIAM O'CONNOR

LFS

In response to your memorandum dated July 18, 1975, captioned as above, we observe that the "substantial negotiations" which produced the proposed procedures did not include participation by a representative of the FBI and that the request for our views concerning disclosure of highly sensitive FBI material was first received at 11:14 a.m. today with a reply expected by 2:00 p.m. today. We respectfully suggest that not only should you afford greater opportunity for an expression of our views on this matter, but that any such proposed procedures should be presented to the President's Counsel for concurrence and for an expression of the President's views as to the general policy of the Executive Branch in this regard. Further, you may want to consider addressing the problem of the impact such general disclosure of files would have on pending criminal investigations.

A preliminary review in the time available revealed that certain items require considerable modification. For example, Item (3)(c) should be reconsidered with the following language:

> "An exception to (a) and (b) above is made for information that would tend to identify sources to whom the FBI has an obligation of confidentiality as to which no access will be furnished unless the identity already has been made known to the Committee, or unless the Attorney General, the Chairman and the Vice Chairman jointly agree on the limited disclosure of such identity to the Chairman and the Vice Chairman."

Item (6)(b) should be reconsidered with the following language:

> "If the Task Force Leader has any objections to the excisions or paraphrases, the FBI will furnish a written statement of the grounds for its position to the Special Counsel who shall resolve the matter by negotiation within 24 hours."

Item (8) should be reconsidered with the following language:

> "The Staff and the Members of the Committee may examine the original materials to which the Staff is given access as extensively as necessary between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, in the FBI J. Edgar Hoover Building at Room 4171."

In light of the difficulties described, it is my strong recommendation that such procedures should not be hastily agreed upon with the Committee and that full discussion should be had concerning this matter by representatives of the FBI, the Attorney General, the Committee and the Counsel to the President.

PROPOSED PROCEDURES

(1) The Domestic Task Force Leader will submit periodically a list of materials to which the Committee staff wishes access or of which the Committee desires delivery. The first such list will be delivered to the Department of Justice within 48 hours of the adoption of this procedure, and will summarize and supersede all the presently outstanding requests; this list will be in priority order, as fixed by the Committee, with fixed delivery/access dates specified. Those materials for which the Committee requests delivery or access shall be delivered to the Committee or made accessible in Room 4171 of the Hoover Building not later than within 48 hours of the date specified. The Committee Chairman and Vice Chairman shall be informed by the Attorney General, within 24 hours of receipt of the request, of any delay beyond 48 hours, the expected length of the delay, and the specific reasons for the delay. Partial access or delivery shall be proffered, by the Bureau of/to any materials requested, while the balance of such materials are being prepared. A partial proffer shall not extend the time of full response set forth herein.

(2) The following procedures shall apply (a) where delivery of materials requested might jeopardize FBI sensitive sources or ongoing operations, or (b) where the Domestic Task Force Leader, chief counsel, c Minority cou requests access to materials, rather than delivery of materials to the Committee.

(3) The Department will furnish access at the Hoover Building in Room 4171 to those materials requested:

(a) only to the members of the Committee, where it is determined by the Attorney General that the materials involve peculiarly sensitive foreign intelligence sources and ongoing operations.

(b) In all other cases, to the appropriately cleared staff who will have access to all of the materials.

(c) An exception to (a) and (b) above is made for the names of so-called "live" informants or potential informants as defined in the FBI Manual of Instructions as to which no access will be furnished unless the identity of the individual as an informant or potential inf has already been made known to the Committee, or unless the Attorney General, the Chairman and Vice Chairman, jointly agree on the limited disclosure of such names to the Chairman and Vice Chairman.

(4) Those materials to which the staff has access may be reviewed and studied in Room 4171 of the Hoover Building and such notes may be taken as deemed appropriate by the Staff.

(5) The Committee staff shall select from these materials to which access is herein provided, those materials which it deems pertinent to the Committee's inquiries and necessary for delivery to the Committee's offices.

(6) The Bureau shall make copies of such materials as are specified by the staff under the provisions of (5) above for transfer to the Committee's offices

(a) before the copies of such materials are taken to the Committee's offices, the Bureau shall, within 24 hours of the selection, make appropriate excisions and paraphrases of information which might, if inadvertently disclosed, endanger sensitive FBI sources and ongoing operations.

(b) If the Task Force Leader has any objections to the excisions or paraphrases, the materials will be forthwith conveyed by the Bureau, with a written statement of its grounds for its position, to the Special Counsel who shall resolve the matter within 24 hours.

(c) In the event the matter is not resolved within 24 hours, the Special Counsel shall submit the matter forthwith to the Attorney General who shall notify the Chairman forthwith and arrange for an appropriate disposition.

(7) The Committee staff may remove to the Office of SSC for appropriate use, any notes which they may make upon review of screened material without such notes being reviewed by the Bureau. The Committee staff may remove notes on unscreened materials only is such notes are reviewed and cleared by the Bureau under the provisions of (6) (a) thru (c) above.

(8) The staff and the members of the Committee may examine the original materials to which the staff has been given access as extensively as necessary, in the Hoover Building at Room 4171.

(9) Where accepted by Attorney General and the Committee, these procedures may be modified only by their joint decision.

SUBJECT: Synopsis of Responses to Request for Comments on Proposed Procedures

1. The Deputy Attorney General, Office of Legislative Affairs, and Civil Rights Division register no objections to the proposed procedures on access. OLA suggests inclusion of a preamble referencing security agreements and the need for proper security assurances from the Committee to the Attorney General.

2. Both the Criminal Division and Office of Legal Counsel address the short response time frames imposed upon the Attorney General, and OLC suggests certain language changes for purposes of clarity and focus.

3. The Attorney General is troubled by Item 9 and its need for modification as to categories of material not treatable by these proposed procedures or as to a later discovered need to make presently unanticipated changes to effect a smoother operation of the procedures.

4. The Bureau's comments on the proposed procedures are attached and should be read. This Office does not agree with the Bureau that the proposed procedures should be presented to the President and the President's Counsel.

5. No response has been received from the Solicitor General.

6. This Office recommends that Item 9 be modified as suggested by the Attorney General and that the language modifications suggested by OLC for Items 3 and 6 be adopted.

7. It is further suggested that the Attorney General convene a meeting of the senior Bureau officials for the purpose of informing them of his policy decision in this matter.

My view is that item 9 goes too far in that there must be some provision which allows the Department or the Committee to abrogate the arrangement. I should think the agreement could provid that at any time the Chairman of the Committee or the Attorney General could give a notification that the (1) agreement was not suitable for a particular category of material or (2) that for some reason the agreement was not operating suitably and that as to either one or two there would then be an endeavor to work out a suitable modification or different arrangement (but I think it has to be said that the arrangement can be cancelled by either party)

The Honorable Edward H. Levi
Attorney General
U. S. Department of Justice
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Attorney General:

On behalf of the Select Committee, we wish to express our appreciation to you for meeting with us on Wednesday afternoon. We recognize the need for the Committee to have a complete understanding of the concerns of the Department of Justice so that our inquiry can proceed in the most responsible manner. Our meeting was extremely valuable in that respect, and you may be sure that we have given full consideration to your views.

The Committee has been informed that Mr. John T. Elliff, leader of the Domestic Intelligence Task Force, and members of his staff met yesterday with Mr. K. William O'Connor, Special Counsel for Intelligence coordination, and members of his staff to agree upon procedures for delivery of and access to FBI materials requested by the Committee. The proposed procedures which resulted from that meeting are satisfactory to the Committee.

We are pleased that your staff was able to meet promptly with our representatives and that they reached agreement without delay. The Committee expects that the proposed procedures will, if implemented, expedite its work during the coming weeks. As you know, one of our major concerns was that all of the problems with the Committee's outstanding requests for materials be resolved before the August recess so that the staff can fully prepare the materials for our use when we return. We believe the procedures are an appropriate and practical accommodation of our mutual interests. Indeed, we have instructed our staff to make every effort to accomplish the work of the Committee within this framework.

The prompt resolution of this matter demonstrates a spirit of cooperation which we hope will prevail in all our future relations. The Committee looks forward to working with you personally on issues of common concern during the months ahead.

Sincerely yours,

Frank Church

(4) Those materials to which the staff has access may be reviewed and studied in Room 4171 of the Hoover Building and such notes may be taken as deemed appropriate by the Staff.

(5) The Committee staff shall select from these materials to which access is herein provided, those materials which it deems pertinent to the Committee's inquiries and necessary for delivery to the Committee's offices.

(6) The Bureau shall make copies of such materials as are specified by the staff under the provisions of (5) above for transfer to the Committee's offices

(a) before the copies of such materials are taken to the Committee's offices, the Bureau shall, within 24 hours of the selection, make appropriate excisions and paraphrases of information which might, if inadvertently disclosed, endanger sensitive FBI sources and ongoing operations.

(b) If the Task Force Leader or the Senior Staff has any objections to the excisions or paraphrases, the materials will be forthwith conveyed by the Bureau, with a written statement of its grounds for its position, to the Special Counsel who shall resolve the matter within 24 hours.

(c) In the event the matter is not resolved within 24 hours, the Special Counsel shall submit the matter forthwith to the Attorney General who shall notify the Chairman forthwith and arrange for an appropriate disposition.

(7) The Committee staff may remove to the Office of SSC for appropriate use, any notes which they may make upon review of screened material without such notes being reviewed by the Bureau. The Committee staff may remove notes on unscreened materials only is such notes are reviewed and cleared by the Bureau under the provisions of (6) (a) thru (c) above.

(8) The staff and the members of the Committee may examine the original materials to which the staff has been given access as extensively as necessary, in the Hoover Building at Room 4171.

(9) Where accepted by Attorney General and the Committee, these procedures may be modified only by their joint decision.

COMMENTS ON PROPOSED PROCEDURES

1. No problem with this procedure, but feels that the time limits are too tight

2. No central policy objection

3. Suggest incorporate a preamble phrase that makes reference to security agreements; a specific means for assurance to the AG by the Chairman and Vice Chairman of proper security measures

Assistant Attorney General
Office of Legal Counsel

COMMENTS ON PROPOSED PROCEDURES

1. 48 hour lead time is very short and may create problems; 24 hour reaction time may be unreasonable for Attorney General.

2. The provision seems a little odd, out of context of negotiations.

3. Suggest that in 3(a), last line, word and should be or and "peculiarly sensitive" read to modify both foreign intelligence sources and ongoing operations.

4. No comment

5. No comment

6. Time frames are very restrictive; there should be a stated opportunity for TFL to work out any objections with FBI, before raising to Special Counsel "...if the issue is not promptly resolved between the TFL and the FBI, the materials in issue will be conveyed..."

7. Define "screened" by reference to 6(a) above

8. No comment

9. No comment

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC); INTERVIEW OF SUPERVISOR RICHARD H. BLOESER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

On August 5, 1975, Supervisor Richard H. Bloeser was interviewed by SSC Staff Member Lester Seidel at the Los Angeles FBI Office regarding the COINTELPRO/Black Panther Party (BPP).

Mr. Seidel advised Supervisor Bloeser that the interview was voluntary, but did not advise Supervisor Bloeser of his rights in this matter.

Mr. Seidel inquired of Supervisor Bloeser as to how many offices he had served in, his length of service in the Bureau, and how long had been spent on intelligence investigations. Supervisor Bloeser replied that he had served in Philadelphia, El Paso and Los Angeles, had been in the Bureau approximately 24½ years, and had been assigned to intelligence work for 22 years.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether Supervisor Bloeser believed that the Bureau had placed undue pressure on the field to come up with counter intelligence proposals concerning the BPP and was it difficult to come up with a proposal. Supervisor Bloeser responded that there was no undue pressure placed on the field by the Bureau, that the COINTELPRO/BPP was merely another case assigned to an agent and that agent, as in any other case, had the responsibility of handling the matter whether it concerned the solving of a case or the submission of proposals. Mr. Seidel was also informed that it was not unduly difficult to come up with a proposal and that a number of proposals were rejected at the field level and never submitted to the Bureau.

Mr. Seidel inquired specifically as to counter intelligence proposals involving cartoons ridiculing the BPP.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

ENCLOSURE

62-116395-609

Supervisor Bloeser responded that he vaguely remembered such proposals but without reviewing the file had no definite recollection. Mr. Seidel did not request that the file be reviewed.

Mr. Seidel inquired specifically about a business card which allegedly had been prepared by the Bureau bearing the phrase "Karenga is impotent." Mr. Seidel requested Supervisor Bloeser's views on the distribution of this card by the FBI. Supervisor Bloeser responded that he vaguely remembered the card, that he thought it was humorous, and that the word impotent had various meanings.

Mr. Seidel then inquired about the blood feud which existed in the past between the US Organization and the BPP and the efforts of the Bureau to keep this feud alive and thus promote violence. He specifically inquired as to the personal feelings of Supervisor Bloeser concerning any counter intelligence proposals which, if placed in operation, could lead to violence between the two groups.

Supervisor Bloeser responded first that personally he had no apologies for the counter intelligence program as a whole, that proposals submitted six or seven years ago were believed necessary at that time due to the circumstances, specifically that at that time the BPP and the US Organization were involved in violent activity against the community as a whole. Mr. Seidel was informed that the feud between the US Organization and the BPP occurred long before the FBI COINTELPRO became involved in the feud and that any proposals approved by the Bureau had relatively little effect on the violence committed by either group. Mr. Seidel was also reminded that six or seven years ago the Congress of the United States fully supported the war in Vietnam in which thousands of people were killed but that under today's circumstances no support has been given to South Vietnam.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC);
INTERVIEW OF SUPERVISOR RICHARD H. BLOESER
BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel then posed a hypothetical question involving the following factors: Would Supervisor Bloeser now or in the past approve a counter intelligence proposal whereby one extremist with a criminal record of violence be anonymously informed that another extremist with a record of criminal violence was an informant for the FBI, knowing that the alleged informant might be injured or killed. Supervisor Bloeser replied that under the present conditions such a proposal would not be approved, but that he could not give an answer as to what his feelings might have been six or seven years ago under any given situation. Mr. Seidel was again reminded that Congress in the past has not hesitated to support wars which kill thousands of people but that recently they have criti~~zed~~cized the CIA for allegedly plotting to assassinate one individual whose death might prevent a war. Mr. Seidel was also informed that it was ironic that Congress was investigating another agency of the Federal Government which was attempting to prevent revolutionary violence in this country.

Mr. Seidel then inquired into the counter intelligence proposals approved by the Bureau in relation to the actress Jean Seberg and Raymond Hewitt, a leader of the BPP. This proposal concerned the fact that Seberg, who was then married to a French producer, admitted being pregnant by Hewitt who was also married at the time. The Bureau approved anonymously leaking this information to a Hollywood columnist. Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether Supervisor Bloeser did or did not believe that this was an invasion of privacy. Supervisor Bloeser responded that the item was news worthy and that it would have been any fair game for any newsmen had they come across it in the course of their business which they could have probably easily done, and that certainly Congress would not have criti~~zed~~cized a newspaper for printing such an item or claim it to be an invasion of privacy. Mr. Seidel inquired as to the purpose of this particular operation and he was informed that Miss Seberg was giving support to the BPP and that it was hoped that such publicity would prevent any future support by her of the BPP.

He was further advised that it was the responsibility of the FBI to determine who was funding revolutionary groups in this country.

Mr. Seidel then inquired as to whether or not it was difficult to conduct intelligence investigations under present statutes and under the Criminal Rules of Procedure. He was informed that it was somewhat difficult to conduct an effective intelligence operation under present circumstances and that perhaps new legislative or executive orders would be helpful to the FBI in order to allow the FBI to continue its investigations in the Domestic Intelligence field. Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether it would be helpful to have specific legislation which might completely separate criminal and intelligence operations so one would not taint the other. He was informed that if such legislation could be enacted that it would undoubtedly help the FBI.

The interview lasted approximately two hours and it was not necessary to consult with another Bureau representative during this time.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC); INTERVIEW OF SA WALLACE E. WARD BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

On August 5, 1975, Special Agent (SA) Wallace E. Ward was interviewed by SSC Staff Member Lester Seidel at Los Angeles Field Office regarding Cointelpro/Black Panther Party. The interview lasted from 9:12 a.m. to 9:22 a.m.

SA Ward was advised by Mr. Seidel that the interview was voluntary but SA Ward was not advised of his rights in this matter.

Seidel asked how long SA Ward had been a Special Agent with the FBI, and SA Ward responded nine years. He further requested previous offices SA Ward had been assigned to, and SA Ward responded Cincinnati, Ohio. Seidel advised the Bureau informed him that SA Ward had been assigned Cointelpro/Black Panther Party in June 1969. Seidel requested to know what work SA Ward had been assigned before this, to which SA Ward responded he could not remember, but believed general criminal work.

Seidel requested to know what specific instructions were issued with regard to operating Cointelpro/Black Panther Party. SA Ward advised that due to his employment agreement, the sensitive nature of the Bureau work, and the possible overlap of Bureau investigation, he did not feel he could respond to any further questions. Seidel advised he understood SA Ward's position as he, Seidel, had worked criminal matters himself and knew the need for secrecy. The official interview was terminated at this point.

ENCLOSURE 62-116395-609

In a friendly conversation that followed for approximately ten to fifteen minutes, SA Ward advised Seidel that he had only been assigned the Cointelpro/Black Panther Party matter for three months and had no knowledge that would be of value to Seidel. The Cointelpro/Black Panther Party matter was not further discussed. The rest of the time was involved in discussing points of interest in the Los Angeles basin of tourist value, such as Marineland, Palos Verdes, and Sunset Boulevard, Los Angeles.

SA Ward advises that he is aware that the Director waived his employment agreement with certain exceptions regarding privileged areas. With this in mind, SA Ward reviewed his employment agreement and concluded, after noting the following quotation, that he could not disclose any information without following the prescribed procedure:

"The burden is on me to determine, prior to disclosure, whether information may be disclosed, and in this regard, I agree to request approval of the Director of the FBI in each such instance by presenting the full text of my proposed disclosure in writing to the Director of the FBI at least thirty (30) days prior to disclosure".

With this in mind, SA Ward answered Mr. Seidel as noted heretofore.

SUBJECT: SENSTUDY 75

Lester B. Seidel, Senate Select Committee Staff Member, requested on 8/19/75 that SA Richard H. Ross be made available for Staff interview concerning the Bureau's investigation of the Black Panther Party and COINTELPRO as it applies to the Black Panther Party. Seidel stated that he would prefer handling this particular interview in conjunction with his interview of SA Richard W. Held. He requested he be advised when the appropriate clearance procedures have been completed and SA Ross is available for interview. SA Ross is currently assigned to the Intelligence Division. SA Held was previously cleared for interview by memorandum dated 8/1/75.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That SA Ross be released from existing employment agreement for purposes of an interview concerning the Bureau's investigation of the Black Panther Party and COINTELPRO as it relates to the Black Panther Party.

(2) That an Intelligence Division representative be available but not present during the interview of SA Ross to assist in making a determination whether a question may be properly responded to.

Honorable Edward H. Levi

Dear Mr. Attorney General:

I am writing to call your attention to a matter which may be a cause of concern to you and to the Select Committee at some time in the future.

As you may know, a special unit has been established in the FBI Intelligence Division to handle this Committee's requests for materials and to handle certain arrangements for the Committee staff's interviews. The Special Agents assigned to this unit accompany Bureau witnesses to the Committee offices, travel to out-of-town locations where Committee staff interviews are conducted, and apparently "de-brief" interview subjects after the interviews.

One possible problem has arisen with this arrangement. As you are aware, one of the alleged abuses which the Committee is examining pursuant to S. Res. 21 involves the FBI's activities with respect to the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. As the inquiry has proceeded, information has been developed to indicate that one of the Special Agents who has been handling Committee staff interviews, "de-briefing" witnesses, and, presumably, compiling materials with respect to the King matter was also the supervisory case agent during the time that some of the alleged FBI improprieties regarding Dr. King took place. Moreover, as a logical step in our investigation, it was recently necessary to interview this Special Agent to determine the nature and extent of his involvement in and knowledge of the alleged abuses at the time when he served as supervisory case agent with respect to the King case. During the interview he did provide detailed information concerning his substantial participation in this matter.

The Committee in no way intends at this juncture to pre-judge the propriety of the FBI's activities with respect to Dr. King, and it would be inappropriate to characterize the conduct of any of the Bureau's personnel regarding this case until all the facts are in. Nevertheless, I am concerned that in this kind of situation, the interests of the FBI and the Department of Justice might best be served, from the standpoint of appearances, by reconsidering the assignment of this Special Agent to the King matters. It is possible that some may conclude that there is a conflict between the Special Agent's personal interest, and the interests of the FBI and the Justice Department in ensuring that full disclosure to the Committee is made with respect to this case.

Finally, let me assure you that the Committee has no evidence that the present arrangement has prevented the Committee from obtaining the full disclosures sought; but it seems to me that it would be mutually beneficial for appropriate steps to be taken so that we will both be able to assure the American people and the Congress that our oversight responsibilities were fulfilled in an objective and impartial way.

I hope you will share my view that this course will best serve our respective interests and, of course, the interests of the country.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Chairman:

Your thoughtful letter of August 14, 1975, to the Attorney General was referred to me and it has been carefully considered. I certainly agree with the view expressed therein that it is important the Committee's oversight responsibilities be fulfilled in an objective and impartial way. To that end, I have required employees with experience to assist in locating the full documentation called for in Committee requests. The voluminous files and variety of indices entries would have been much more difficult to sort for your benefit without the assistance of persons having such expertise.

I appreciate your assurance that the Committee has no evidence that our arrangements have prevented the Committee from obtaining the full disclosure sought. I have absolute confidence that those FBI employees participating in our current efforts to assist your Committee are working in good faith and have not inhibited full disclosure. Further, I have required close supervision of this work by superiors and thereby avoided the possibility of an improper decision by any one individual affecting the responses.

As to the availability of an FBI representative during Committee staff interviews of present or former FBI employees concerning alleged "abuses," I have determined that such no longer will be generally afforded. The subject matters requiring consultation with such witnesses are essentially four: (1) information which identifies or may identify FBI confidential sources; (2) information which may adversely affect on-going FBI investigations; (3) information concerning sensitive methods and techniques; and (4) information obtained from third agencies, including foreign intelligence agencies. Witnesses may be cautioned prior to interview concerning such problem areas and refrain from furnishing the information pending consultation with FBI Headquarters. This modification is effective immediately.

I hope that you will bring this matter to the attention of your staff and that in so doing you also will review the standards of objectivity and impartiality being followed in their interviews to assure protection of individual rights.

Dear Mr. Attorney General:

I would like to bring to your personal attention a situation which has severely restricted our efforts to establish the relevant facts with respect to one of the areas of alleged abuse which is the subject of inquiry pursuant to S. Res. 21.

I have been informed by the staff that numerous materials which have been requested during the past several weeks which pertain to the FBI's activities with respect to Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., have been withheld from the Committee by the Department because of concern expressed by Mr. Harry Wachtel, the attorney for the King family and estate, as to the appropriateness of the Department's "disseminating" to the Committee contents of conversations monitored during electronic surveillances of Dr. King.

Upon reviewing the lists of materials requested, I am at a loss to understand how most of those items could conceivably be encompassed by the issues raised by Mr. Wachtel, especially in view of the fact that our letters of request have specifically pointed out that tape recordings and transcripts should not be supplied.

Accordingly, I want to take this opportunity to place the Committee formally on record as reaffirming all of the outstanding requests for materials relating to the King matters, with the limited exception of (1) Mr. DeLoach's August 24 - 27, 1964 memoranda which pertain to the 1964 Democratic National Convention, and (2) those portions of any other requested materials which actually summarize or quote from conversations monitored during any electronic surveillance of Dr. King.

This is to identify additional copies of excised material which is being made available in room 4171 of the JEH building for review by staff members of the Senate Select Committee (SSC). The copies have been excised to protect sensitive sources and delete information from other agencies where there were sensitivities.

Each serial, prior to being made available for review to members of the SSC staff in room 4171, is approved by the responsible Section Chief.

Attached for the file are 23 copies of excised serials regarding the New Left which were made available for review to the SSC on 8/7/75, and 336 copies of the Black Extremist which were made available on 8/8/75 for review. The latter 336, which consists of four volumes, are being maintained in room 4426, JEH.

COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAMS

Reference is made to the August 8, 1975, meeting in your office, wherein members of your staff and officials of this Bureau discussed matters relating to the current inquiries of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities as relates to our Counterintelligence Programs (Cointelpros) documents and to the protection of FBI sources utilized in these programs.

At your request there is attached a memorandum summarizing known results in our Cointelpros directed against the Communist Party, USA, Socialist Workers Party, White Hate Groups, New Left and Black Extremists. These summaries do not indicate any actions were conducted under these programs which resulted in physical injury to the targets or that electronic techniques, surreptitious entries, or mail openings were used in connection with Cointelpro actions.

NOTE:

The Attorney General, on 8/8/75, and the Deputy Attorney General, met with Associate Director Nicholas P. Callahan, Assistant Director W. Raymond Wannall, and Inspector John B. Hotis to discuss the request of the Senate Select Committee for the identities of sources utilized to effect Cointelpro activities. The Attorney General indicated prior to discussing this problem, which relates to the overall confidentiality of FBI sources, with Senator Church, Chairman of the Committee, he desired to be furnished information which would enable him to insure himself there were no Cointelpro activities of a scandalous or infamous nature which at a later date could cause embarrassment to the Department. The attached memorandum was prepared during the period 8/8-12/75 by personnel of the Internal Security Branch of the Intelligence Division. It represents a careful review of all Cointelpro actions where results were known. It is pointed out in the majority of authorized Cointelpro actions results were not recorded. Also, because of the wide variety of Cointelpro actions, results in many areas are not subject to measurement. For example, there is no way of determining how many individuals left the Communist Party as a result of our documented mailings relating to Soviet anti-semitism.

COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAMS

Classified because sets forth information which, if disclosed, could compromise sensitive intelligence sources and methods.

In an effort to assess possible damage incurred by subversive and extremist organizations and individuals as a result of Counterintelligence Program (Cointelpro) activity, a current review has been made of the programs relating to the Communist Party, USA, Socialist Workers Party, White Hate Groups, New Left and Black Extremists.

The "Study Committee Report on FBI Counterintelligence Programs," prepared in May, 1974, by the Department-FBI Committee headed by former Assistant Attorney General Henry E. Petersen, tabulated 3,208 proposals for counterintelligence action during the period 1956 until all programs were discontinued on April 28, 1971. Of these, according to the Petersen report, 2,340 were reported approved and implemented and results were reported as known in 516 instances. Our current review has developed 626 instances where results of varying degrees are known. Excluding results of actions which appear to have been appropriate and proper law enforcement procedures, we have summarized results in 164 instances. In any instance where there was any question regarding the propriety of the action, doubts were resolved by preparing a summary.

For ready review, summaries of the actions in these 164 instances have been placed in categories and are attached as follows:

1. Anonymously furnishing information. (34 instances) Pages 3-36.

Counterintelligence Programs

In July, 1964, an anonymous letter was sent to a number of individuals in the Superior, Wisconsin, area who advertised in "Tyomies-Eteenpain," a Finnish language newspaper published in Wisconsin noting the similarity of editorials in "The Worker," published by the Communist Party, USA, to alert these advertisers to the communist nature of this newspaper so they might withdraw their support.

There was no known withdrawal of support for this newspaper, but at the same time, the newspaper was applying for membership in the Superior, Wisconsin, Chamber of Commerce and their application was denied.

Counterintelligence Programs

In December, 1969, an anonymous letter was directed to selected members of the United Klans of America, Inc. (UKA), by the Richmond Office. This letter denounced Robert H. Hudgins, Grand Dragon of Virginia, characterizing him as one interested in personal gain only. The content of the letter suggested that it had been prepared by Raymond Adams, a former UKA member, who had been banished and had been at odds with Hudgins.

The anonymous mailing resulted in continuing disruption and mistrust in certain Klan units. Hudgins' leadership was challenged. The unrest at Danville, Virginia, caused a great reduction in income for the UKA in Virginia, and affected Hudgins' salary and expenses. Information available does not indicate whether money for Hudgins' salary and expenses obtained from UKA or his employer.

Counterintelligence Programs

FBI Headquarters, in October, 1962, authorized the preparation of an anonymous mimeographed leaflet criticizing individuals and small groups with communist backgrounds who consistently attacked the United States but never took a stand against the Soviet Union. This was to be done in connection with the scheduled October 31, 1962, appearance of Herbert Eugene Aptheker, a member of the National Committee, Communist Party, USA, at the State University of New York at Buffalo (UB), as a part of a lecture series entitled "A Political Spectrum of a Contemporary World." Such individuals had been openly critical of an earlier appearance by a British fascist.

Authority was also granted to anonymously mail public source information on Aptheker to Dr. Charles Ebert, UB, a faculty member critical of the far left.

The leaflets were anonymously distributed to the local news media, the student newspaper and to 28 campus organizations and/or students.

Aptheker's scheduled speech was deferred by a last minute injunction in New York State Court. It is not known if the leaflets or letter had any bearing on the injunction. An appellate court later ruled the University had the right to invite Aptheker to speak.

Counterintelligence Programs

In August, 1963, the FBI in Seattle, Washington, became aware that a factional problem existed in the Communist Party (CP) Northwest District as a result of the Sino-Soviet split in which the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), supported the Soviet Union.

A Red Chinese letter stating their position in the ideological dispute was condensed; criticisms of the CPUSA pro-Soviet position were added, and an anonymous letter prepared and mailed to 25 selected CP members in the Northwest District.

The Seattle FBI Office later reported that some members of the Seattle area CP registered their disapproval with the National CP pro-Soviet position and that this contributed to some disharmony in CPUSA circles. The letter was discussed at CP state and local club levels in Seattle.

Counterintelligence Programs

During May, 1967, a leaflet was mailed to about 40 individuals in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, area. Recipients were labor union leaders, churchmen, members of the American Society of Friends, and the American Legion Posts in vicinity of the residence of Arthur Edelman. Some of the recipients were associated with Edelman in promoting demonstrations against the war in Vietnam and the leaflet was designed to present the membership and leadership role of Edelman and his wife, Beth, in the Western Pennsylvania Communist Party (CP).

Arthur Edelman, after being made aware of leaflet, announced it was time to come out in the open. An informant advised that Arthur Tuden, a college instructor in Pittsburgh, who was active in the antiwar movement, commented he was considering being more circumspect in his dealings with Edelman. Subsequent to circulation of leaflet, Edelman claimed the organization Trade Unionists For Peace in Pittsburgh was on verge of collapse because of friction among its leaders.

During mid-1966, the New Orleans Office mailed a series of letters to Assistant Grand Dragon Bill Windham, Louisiana United Klans of America, Inc., in the name of a fictitious organization, The National Committee for Domestic Tranquility (NCDT), an anti-Klan group. The letters, which indicated that Windham was cooperating with NCDT, were addressed in a manner that they would be intercepted by a Klan member and furnished to another Klan leader.

Resulted in a split in Klan leadership and ultimately in Windham's resignation from the Klan.

The Philadelphia FBI Office was authorized to mail an anonymous letter to Robert Shelton, Imperial Wizard, United Klans of America (UKA), Tuscaloosa, Alabama, from a "member of the Minutemen" in Pennsylvania, urging that Shelton drop Roy Frankhouser from Ku Klux Klan leadership in Pennsylvania. This letter would also suggest that Pennsylvania authorities, although not true, were considering Frankhouser as a murder suspect at that time.

During March, 1967, Robert Shelton mentioned he had dropped Frankhouser from membership in the UKA and that he had written acknowledgment from Frankhouser of this fact.

During August, 1968, the Los Angeles Office mailed an anonymous letter to selected faculty associates of Robert A. Nieman, an Assistant Professor at California State College and a candidate for the Peace and Freedom Party for the California Assembly. The letter ridiculed Nieman, pointing out that he was white, did not truly represent the blacks, that he had been arrested for possession of marijuana, and of his background with the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS). Nieman was very active in SDS and supported SDS in anti-Vietnam War demonstrations. His arrest record, under FBI Identification Number 274-888-G, reveals that he was arrested by the Los Angeles, California, Police Department, on 9/29/67 for violation of the Health and Safety Code (Possession of Marijuana).

Nieman lost the election, which he said he expected, but also stated that the letter had caused him much embarrassment, both at the school, where an effort was being made to remove him, and among black militants, who in some cases were being taught by him.

A leaflet entitled "Call...to Progressive-Minded America Announcing the Holding of a Conference Preliminary to the Founding Convention of a New, American Labor-Negro Vanguard Party" in November, 1961, was sent anonymously by the Newark Office to Communist Party (CP) officials throughout the country. The aim was to hinder the formation of the American Labor-Negro Vanguard Party (ALNVP) which was a project of the Harriet-Tubman Section which had already been expelled from the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA). It was also to make the Harriet-Tubman Section appear as a provocative agent of the FBI trying to raid the CPUSA of its membership and financial support.

The mailing created considerable confusion in the CPUSA, which found it necessary to warn its members through its newspaper, of the formation of the ALNVP and to warn against being taken in by this group.

During June, 1970, the Charlotte Office prepared about 100 copies of a leaflet, in the form of a news item, prepared by a reporter for Southern Vanguard Revolutionary Party, (a defunct extremist organization formed by purged Panther Jose Gonzalvez). The leaflet, sent to news services and to a number of residents in the vicinity of Black Panther Party (BPP) headquarters, Winston-Salem, North Carolina, was intended to publicize the split in the BPP group at Winston-Salem and to highlight that outside leadership has been brought to the BPP Winston-Salem. Leaflet mentioned Douglas Miranda, former BPP leader in New Haven, Connecticut, had been transferred to Winston-Salem and also attacked Larry Little, a BPP leader in Winston-Salem, as radical and insinuated he is pocketing donations obtained for BPP Breakfast for Children Program. The leaflet contained truthful information.

After distribution of this leaflet, sales of the BPP newspaper in Winston-Salem dropped considerably and respect for BPP leaders in Winston-Salem was reported to have been lost by members.

Douglas Paul Miranda was a successful leader and organizer of the Black Panther Party (BPP) during 1969 and 1970 in New Haven, Connecticut. An anonymous letter was sent to BPP Headquarters in San Francisco in March, 1970, using BPP slang alleging that Miranda had embezzled BPP funds and questioned whether his promiscuity was in the best interest of the BPP. There was no specific information known to the FBI that Miranda was,in fact, embezzling BPP funds, but allegations had been received that he was having sexual relations with numerous females in the New Haven area.

Miranda fell into disfavor with the BPP leadership and disciplinary action was taken with the approval of the national office. He was transferred to Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

On June 9, 1969, an informant advised that Michael Baynham, a Detroit Black Panther Party (BPP) member, disappeared from Detroit June 6, 1969, after taking $150 of BPP funds. He allegedly purchased a gun with part of this money and left Detroit. The BPP was reportedly very upset over Baynham's actions.

On June 12, 1969, Lt. William McCoy, Special Investigations Bureau, Detroit, Michigan, Police Department advised that Baynham was found fatally shot that date in the hallway of Jackie Spicer's residence, 13529 Dequindre, Detroit, Michigan. Spicer was present at the time of the shooting and advised police he had committed suicide.

The Wayne County, Michigan Medical Examiner's Office subsequently advised Baynham's death could possibly have been a suicide.

On September 15, 1969, FBI Headquarters authorized Detroit Office to mail an anonymous communication to a "representative number of Detroit BPP leaders" and members and to BPP National officer, David Hilliard. This communication, mailed September 17, 1969, would question the death of BPP member "Brother Michael Baynham," who it was believed committed suicide and would raise the question of possible responsibility on the part of national BPP leaders for the suicide. The letter would also be prepared in a manner to cause suspicion that Jackie Spicer, a BPP leader in Detroit, was the author of the letter and thus cause disruption in the BPP.

On September 19, 1969, an informant advised the receipt of the letter by Detroit BPP personnel convinced them that Jackie Spicer and Anita Hartman (also BPP member) wrote the letter. As a result, Frank Meyers of the Detroit Chapter contacted BPP National Headquarters on September 18, 1969, to so advise them. As a result, Meyers was told to stay away from Spicer since she was probably a police informant and the letter had come from the police through her.

At a BPP meeting held September 18, 1969, a decision was made to confront Spicer regarding the letter and consequently, she and Anita Hartman were purged from the Detroit BPP group.

A source who had furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Welch had been described by Rockwell in the past as "a reformed queer." The Richmond Office furnished this letter to the Dallas Office where it was mailed on September 23, 1965.

In February, 1971, the Seattle Office advised that the following action was taken to discredit Michael Thomas Justesen and Clayton Van Lydegraf among their fellow New Left associates. During December, 1970, in connection with the "Seattle 8" trial, it was apparent that the defendants and their attorneys were under the impression that the Government intended to uncover other informants in addition to the one who was surfaced for testimony. (The "Seattle 8" is a name coined by news media to describe eight persons indicted by a Federal Grand Jury at Seattle, Washington, on April 16, 1970, for violation of the anti-riot law and conspiracy to destroy Government property.) Although there was general speculation that one of the defendants was a Government informant, this was not true. The Government had no other informants to uncover. Following the declaration of a mistrial in the case, an anonymous call was made to Defense Counsel Jeffrey Steinborn. (The mistrial was declared as a result of actions by a defendant who was cited for contempt.) The anonymous caller offered to help Steinborn in defense of the case but related a fear that Steinborn's phone might be bugged. Steinborn was instructed to proceed to a particular pay telephone booth directly across from the Seattle Police Department. He was observed entering the phone booth and the call was placed to him. Steinborn was advised that he was then under observation by the caller which left the impression that the call emanated from the Seattle Police Department. The caller disclosed an intention to get even with United States Attorney Stan Pitkin of Seattle, and the FBI for what they did to the Seattle Police Department. (It is noted that Pitkin handled the Government's case concerning the "Seattle 8," and also received considerable publicity in 1970 in connection with an expose of police corruption before the Federal Grand Jury.) The anonymous caller advised him that Michael Justesen and Clayton Van Lydegraf were FBI informants. (Justesen was in fugitive status at the time and Van Lydegraf's whereabouts were not known.) In reality neither was an informant. United States Attorney Pitkin was not aware of the above action.

As a result, Steinborn confronted Pitkin a few months later and warned that disclosure during any future trial that one of the defendants was actually an FBI informant would jeopardize the Government's case. Pitkin denied any knowledge that the FBI might have an undisclosed informant within the "Seattle 8." Information from other sources indicated that some persons sympathetic with the "Seattle 8" felt that Justesen was an informant. This gave further indication of the effect of the anonymous call made to Steinborn.

On July 14, 1964, Milford Sutherland held a press conference in Seattle, Washington, where he announced his intention to run for Governor of Washington. One hundred nominating signatures were required to be placed in nomination.

On August 5, 1964, Lyle Burt, Reporter, Seattle Times, contacted the Seattle Office for background information regarding Sutherland, which Burt said he would publish in the August 9, 1964, issue of the newspaper. Material relating to Sutherland's Communist Party background was given to Burt. Such an article was published documenting this background information, and on September 4, 1964, Sutherland withdrew his candidacy for Governor. Sutherland blamed the Attorney General's Office, the Secretary of State (California), and the Washington State Supreme Court for dilatory tactics in not making a decision regarding his refusal to sign a loyalty oath.

On May 28-30, 1966, a convention of the Northwest District, Communist Party, USA (CPUSA) was held at Seattle. The CPUSA intended this convention to be secret.

Confidential sources of the Seattle Office were made aware of this "secret" convention which resulted in considerable newspaper and television publicity given to the event. Additionally, anti-CPUSA leftists and members of the Socialist Worker's Party were invited via an FBI produced invitation. Upon appearing at the convention these people were denied admittance or expelled from the convention, thus bringing the convention into disarray.

Reporter Jack Eddy, KIRO-TV, one of the newsmen confidentially advised of the convention, and his cameraman, were recommended for a raise as a result of their outstanding news coverage of the CPUSA convention and the general manager of the station indicated that he was interested in nominating Eddy's coverage for a Sigma Delta Chi award for excellence in television reporting the next time such awards were to be granted.

On April 2, 1969, the Pittsburgh Office furnished information regarding David Owens to Sherley Uhl of the "Pittsburgh Press" newspaper. Owens, a candidate for Pittsburgh City Council and an employee of the Urban League, was arrested March 30, 1969, following a gun battle between Detroit police and members of the Republic of New Africa (RNA). Since Owens was on bond in Pittsburgh following involvement in a shooting incident with Pittsburgh police, it was hoped Uhl's disclosure would cause Owens' bond to be revoked. Also, the Pittsburgh Office furnished this same information to an informant of that office.

Information furnished to Mr. Uhl resulted in unfavorable publicity for Owens as a City Council candidate. The information furnished to the informant resulted in Owens' losing his Urban League job.

The Cleveland Office recommended furnishing "The Plain Dealer" newspaper, Cleveland, Ohio, and "The Youngstown Vindicator" newspaper, Youngstown, Ohio, with the following public source information regarding Frank Wilkinson and the NCAHUAC:

1. Citizens for Constitutional Rights (CCR) letter dated August 1, 1963, which announced Wilkinson's appearance October 13, 1963, at above meeting.

2. News article "House Quiz Opposed by Visitor Here" from the May 19, 1962, issue of "The Plain Dealer."

3. Citation of the NCAHUAC contained in the "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications" prepared by the HUAC.

On June 11, 1964, Kenneth S. FBIHQ approved Cleveland's recommendation to confidentially furnish Mr. Smith "lead" information for his assistance in verifying Cooperman's background.

On July 27, 1964, Cooperman appeared at the Cleveland FBI Office and stated he wished "to set record straight." He stated that in the past he had been contacted by FBI Agents at which time he had not been fully cooperative. He wanted to now advise the FBI that he no longer believed in communism or the Communist Party (CP) and had nothing to do with communists for the past five years. When asked what prompted his visit at this time, he stated that Oliver Brooks, Vice President of the University Circle Development Foundation, had requested his resignation effective October 1, 1964. Cooperman added the reason given by Brooks was that it had come to their attention that Cooperman, in the past, had used an assumed name. Cooperman admitted to Brooks that this was so and Brooks then went on to explain that the Foundation, which was attempting to raise a large sum of money, could not risk unfavorable publicity as the result of the activities of employees.

Cooperman said he was considering accepting one of several other employments available to him and in this connection he was attempting to make it known in appropriate circles that he had been disassociated from the CP for many years.

In July, 1968, the Pittsburgh Office casually suggested to a member of the Beverly Heights Presbyterian Church, in Pittsburgh, that Reverend William R. Taylor, of that church, might be interested in her information about Carl Nicholas Flournoy, a militant black nationalist. Flournoy had been receiving finances from the Presbyterian and Catholic Churches jointly.

It was subsequently determined that this action was apparently instrumental in part in influencing three churches in refusing to provide supporting funds to racial groups unless sound reasons exist for doing so.

The San Francisco Office advised on September 12, 1960, that through its continuing informant coverage of the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), it was aware of new subscribers to the CPUSA newspaper, "Peoples World" (PW). San Francisco instituted policy of interviewing each new subscriber to PW.

Archie Brown, a Northern California CPUSA leader, complained that a major problem in trying to increase the membership of the CPUSA is that new subscribers to the PW are interviewed by the FBI. This has caused these subscribers to drop their subscriptions and to disassociate themselves from CP members.

On June 6, 1968, FBI Headquarters reminded the Detroit FBI Office to be alert to take advantage of all possible disruptive activities during the forthcoming National Convention of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), which was to be held at Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan.

A press release by the SAC, Detroit FBI Office, in June, 1968, of the Director's testimony concerning the New Left was made at the time of the SDS National Convention. This release was well received and several State Legislators, after visiting the SDS Convention site at Michigan State, severely criticized University officials for allowing SDS to utilize the campus. As a further result, the Michigan State Legislature, in late June, 1968, passed a resolution to the effect that state universities which permitted disruption (which occurred during the National SDS Convention) will suffer appropriation cuts in proportion to the number of students permitted to disrupt state university campuses.

SAMUEL ADASON JAFFE
INFORMATION CONCERNING

MDR-16
CLASSIFIED BY SP2ALM/KP
DECLASSIFY ON: 25X 1,6

On August 13, 1975, a former Special Agent of the FBI advised that he was interviewed by a representative of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Operations (SSCIO) concerning allegations by Samuel Adason Jaffe that vindictive actions taken by the FBI have prevented him from obtaining or keeping a job in the news media field. According to the SSCIO representative, Jaffe reported that he had a pleasant relationship with Special Agents of the FBI during the time he had furnished information regarding Soviet intelligence matters; however, he detected a coolness of these FBI Agents towards him after his return from Hong Kong in 1968. He attributed this coolness to his being "fingered" by Soviet defector Oleg V. Penkovskiy, who allegedly reported that he saw Jaffe's name on a piece of paper on the desk of a Soviet intelligence officer. Upon learning this, the FBI felt that Jaffe was a double agent. Since his return from Hong Kong he cannot hold a job and believes the FBI is the cause of his predicament. The former Special Agent of the FBI advised that the SSCIO representative told him he is looking into this matter to determine if Jaffe's statements are true and to determine if some controls could be created so that the FBI could not be vindictive in similar situations. (C)

Oleg V. Penkovskiy is a former Colonel in the Soviet intelligence services (SIS) who had cooperated with the West. He was arrested and tried in the Soviet Union in 1963 and reportedly was executed. (C)

The Attorney General

Jaffe, a former correspondent for ABC and CBS television networks, was an informant of our New York Office from 1958 to 1961. During this period he furnished extensive information on his numerous contacts with Soviet nationals whom he met through his assignment as a CBS correspondent at the United Nations, New York, New York. In 1961 he was assigned to Moscow, USSR, as a correspondent for ABC and served there until he was expelled in 1965 following his reporting of information unfavorable to the Soviet Union. He thereafter was transferred to Hong Kong where he served until 1968. According to information from a former SIS officer currently residing in the West, Jaffe in about 1961, while in Moscow, was recruited by the Committee for State Security (KGB). Our investigation regarding this allegation has failed to either substantiate or refute this allegation. Jaffe, however, in 1963 reported to our New York Office that while in Moscow, he was approached in what he considered an attempt at recruitment by the SIS. During interviews with Jaffe he denied any overt acts helpful to the KGB, although he admitted a continuing relationship with several KGB officers.

[No information is contained in the files of the FBI indicating Jaffe was ever reported on by Colonel Penkovskiy.] With regard to his employment difficulties, this matter was the subject of discussion with Jaffe on several occasions after his return from Hong Kong in 1968, when he explained to Special Agents in contact with him that he was experiencing difficulty in finding a job and his concern that his association with the FBI was the reason for this difficulty. On every occasion he was assured that the FBI had not disclosed his confidential relationship with the FBI. Jaffe in 1969 advised that he had learned from a British intelligence service contact in Hong Kong that his recall from that city by ABC was caused by his refusal to cooperate with the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA). He related that he later mentioned this to a CIA contact in Washington who indicated that the British intelligence service representative had no right to relate to Jaffe this information.

The Attorney General

The files of the FBI were reviewed to determine if Jaffe's allegations had any foundation in fact and no information was contained therein supporting this allegation. His observations concerning the change of attitude of FBI personnel in dealing with him to one of coolness can be accounted for on the basis of information received from the Soviet intelligence officer alleging his recruitment by the KGB. Our relationship with him thereafter was circumspect and undoubtedly he detected a change in the Agents' attitude.

Whatever employment difficulties may have been encountered by Jaffe did not arise out of any action taken by the FBI.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF SPECIAL AGENT EARL M. PETERSEN
BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Special Agent (SA) Earl M. Petersen was interviewed at the San Diego office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) on July 31, 1975, by U. S. Senate Select Committee (SSC) Staff Member Lester Seidel. The interview began at 10:05 A.M. and ended at 11:35 A.M. Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) Arthur G. Barger was available nearby for consultation. He was not consulted during the interview.

Prior to the interview, SA Petersen had been advised by San Diego FBI officials that FBI Headquarters had waived the employee agreement not to furnish information for the purpose of this interview. He was advised that he had a right to counsel but that the FBI was unable to provide private counsel for him.

SA Petersen was advised that he would not be required to answer questions that might divulge the identity of any FBI source; that would reveal information relative to sensitive methods and techniques; or information which originated with other agencies, including foreign intelligence agencies.

SA Petersen was advised that the interview was to involve only the COINTELPRO as it applied to the Black Panther Party (BPP) (see appendix).

INTERVIEW OF SA EARL M. PETERSEN BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Staff Member Lester Seidel identified himself to SA Petersen and stated that he was not warning SA Petersen of his rights as the interview was such that such a warning was not required. He advised SA Petersen that he did not have to talk to him and that any information furnished was on a voluntary basis. He stated that information furnished to him would be handled with discretion.

Mr. Seidel: Were you in charge of the COINTELPRO in San Diego from March, 1968 through October, 1968?

SA Petersen: This was possible but the dates the program was assigned to me are not recalled.

Mr. Seidel: What was the name of the squad to which you were assigned at that time?

SA Petersen: The Security Squad.

Mr. Seidel: Who did the squad investigate? Was it groups such as US, Inc. (see appendix) and the BPP?

SA Petersen: Yes, such groups as US, Inc., the BPP, and the Nation of Islam (NOI) (see appendix).

Mr. Seidel: And possibly splinter groups?

SA Petersen: Yes, groups that would form and disband and which could possibly be called splinter groups.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF SA EARL M. PETERSEN BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel: How long have you been in the Bureau?

SA Petersen: Twenty-four years as of June 25, 1975.

Mr. Seidel: Where have you been assigned?

SA Petersen: In Boston, Baltimore, New York, Tampa, and San Diego.

Mr. Seidel: The Bureau has indicated that you were a coordinator of the COINTELPRO in San Diego. As such, what were your duties?

SA Petersen: The duties for the most part consisted of preparing letters to the Bureau asking for authority to take some specific action in the program; awaiting the reply from the Bureau; and then, if any action was taken, to advise the Bureau of the results of such action. It is noted that many of the requests to take specific action were turned down by the Bureau.

Mr. Seidel: Were you the focal point of the program?

SA Petersen: Yes, in the sense that any idea for action to be taken in the program was transmitted to the Bureau for approval by me and if approval was received, it would be related to whomever had suggested the activity. I would then report any results to the Bureau.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF SA EARL M. PETERSEN BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel: Did you get heavy pressure from Bureau officials to take action in this program?

SA Petersen: Not any more than any other case, and I had a number of other cases assigned to me at the time the COINTELPRO was assigned to me.

Mr. Seidel: What type of things did you do?

SA Petersen: I do not recall at this time any specific action taken in the program. I do recall that a Black Panther leader, Walter Wallace, was removed as leader of the party in San Diego. I believe it was suspected that he might have cooperated with the FBI. This could have been accomplished by interviewing him where the interview could be seen by other party members. If the Agents shook his hand, smiled, and acted like he was a friend, it might plant the seed of suspicion in the minds of other BPP members. I do not recall specifically whether this happened but at any rate, Wallace was not trusted and was removed as leader of the party.

Mr. Seidel: Could such a thing get Wallace killed or injured?

SA Petersen: I do not see how it would because there would be no way anyone could determine whether or not Wallace was, in fact, cooperating with the FBI. He was probably removed by the BPP as a precautionary measure. I cannot recall whether or not Wallace was removed while I was coordinator of the program.

Mr. Seidel: Was COINTELPRO successful?

SA Petersen: I was not too impressed with its success in San Diego while I had it assigned to me because it was a new program and it took some time to get it established and working. Most of the success was probably due to information obtained regarding criminal violations, mostly local in nature, which was furnished to local law enforcement officers, causing the arrest of BPP members. This would have been done whether or not we had a COINTELPRO. It was necessary to prepare a letter to the Bureau asking authority to take action and then wait for a reply authorizing the activity. Many times suggested COINTELPRO activity suggestions would be turned down.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF SA EARL M. PETERSEN BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel made available Xerox copies of Bureau letters captioned, "Counter-Intelligence Program; Black Nationalist - Hate Groups," dated August 25, 1967 and March 4, 1968. These were read by SA Petersen, who said he could not specifically recall reading the letters.

Mr. Seidel:	Was contact with the police formal or informal?
SA Petersen:	Contact was personal or telephonic contact and at one time, information furnished to individual officers was confirmed by letter to the Chief of Police. It is not recalled if this was the policy during the time COINTELPRO was assigned to me.
Mr. Seidel:	What happened to SA Roy Burns?
SA Petersen:	He was transferred to the Butte, Montana Field Office.
Mr. Seidel:	Did he do anything wrong? I understand Agents were sometimes transferred to Butte as a disciplinary measure.
SA Petersen:	SA Burns wanted to be transferred to Butte and requested the transfer. The Special Agent in Charge (SAC), Mr. Evans, was transferred there and may have helped SA Burns get moved there.
Mr. Seidel:	How old is Bob Baker:
SA Petersen:	Probably 51 or 52 years old.

Mr. Seidel: Did he retire early?

SA Petersen: No. He was in a position to retire and retired because he wanted to take advantage of a cost of living increase by retiring prior to a certain date, such as June 30.

Mr. Seidel: Were the BPP and US, Inc. both violence oriented groups?

SA Petersen: Very definitely. There was extreme friction between the BPP and US, Inc. at all times.

Mr. Seidel: Do you recall some caricatures used in connection with COINTELPRO?

SA Petersen: Yes.

Mr. Seidel: Who had the program at that time?

SA Petersen: I believe SA Burns had it then.

Mr. Seidel: What were the cartoons?

SA Petersen: I recall seeing them but do not recall any specific cartoon.

Mr. Seidel: Do you think anything done in COINTELPRO could have had a reaction causing someone to kill an individual in the other group?

SA Petersen: Because of the extreme antagonism between the two groups, anything we did would have had about the same effect as a gnat biting an elephant. I do not think COINTELPRO had that kind of impact.

Mr. Seidel: Did you ever supervise any technical installation or electronic surveillance of the BPP in San Diego?

SA Petersen: No. I don't recall anything like that being done here.

Mr. Seidel: How would you feel about writing a letter to a wife saying her husband was sleeping with various other women if the husband was a BPP leader?

SA Petersen: I would hesitate to do this because it might break up a family. If the facts were true and this might cause the BPP leader to be less effective, it would probably be a good counter-intelligence move.

Mr. Seidel: I am referring to Page 91 of a BPP COINTELPRO summary which indicates that a BPP leader was living with a white girl and an anonymous letter was written to others in the BPP saying that this individual was living with a white girl. Do you recall anything about that?

SA Petersen: I believe that leader could have been Kenneth Denmon in San Diego. I recall that he was living with a white woman and that others in the BPP were made aware of this in some manner. The BPP in San SA Petersen (continued): Diego was teaching children to hate and kill police officers. They planned violent criminal acts and were making plans to take over the established government at the first opportunity. If a leader of such a group could be discredited and removed, it would help to keep the group from becoming stronger, as they would have to select a new leader, and he would have to get the group reorganized. Denmon had many additional weaknesses which could be used in a counter-intelligence program.

Mr. Seidel: Do you recall a letter being sent to BPP Headquarters saying a leader of the BPP was cooperating with the police in Los Angeles?

SA Petersen: I do not recall such a letter.

Mr. Seidel: Do you recall some cards being sent to San Diego from Los Angeles saying, "Ron Karenga is impotent"?

SA Petersen: No, I do not recall such cards. Ron Karenga was a leader of US, Inc., not the BPP.

Mr. Seidel: Do you recall that cartoons were to be sent to BPP members to discredit the leaders?

SA Petersen: I recall the cartoons but do not recall whether they were set to BPP members.

Mr. Seidel:	Do you recall an anonymous letter being sent to the Catholic Church to have the priest of the church where the BPP breakfast program was operated removed from his office?
SA Petersen:	I do not recall such an anonymous letter; however, I do recall that the priest was transferred by the church.
Mr. Seidel:	Knowing that the BPP paper was a paper that taught and advocated violence and had cartoons in it that encouraged the killing of police officers by blacks and was a violence oriented paper, how would you feel about putting a corrosive liquid on the paper to keep it from being distributed?
SA Petersen:	I would not do it as I would feel that it was a violation of the law and too drastic. I would not do it personally or personally approve of it.
Mr. Seidel:	You have been very helpful and the information you have provided will be used in considering new legislation at some time in the future.
SA Petersen:	In these tranquil times, it disturbs me greatly to read in the papers and to hear news broadcasts containing all kinds of allegations against the FBI and the CIA and

SA Petersen (continued): other intelligence agencies. I like to work within the law and to be guided by legislation in my work. I would, however, hate to see such restrictive legislation passed that at some time in the future when we might be faced with violence-prone organizations trying to take control of the government, we would be unable to properly handle our responsibility for the internal security of the United States.

Mr. Seidel: Thank you for your cooperation.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY
Formerly Known As
Black Panther Party for Self-Defense

The Black Panther Party (BPP), organized in December, 1966, at Oakland, California, by Huey P. Newton and Bobby George Seale, has the publicly-stated purpose of organizing black people to take control of the life, politics and destiny of the black community. The Party, operating the Black Panther Intercommunal News Service, publishes a newspaper called "The Black Panther," which at one time openly advocated the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in a revolutionary program to end the oppression of the black people but since early 1971 has spoken for a survival program pending revolution. BPP national headquarters, aka Black Panther Intercommunal Headquarters, is located in Oakland, California.

While openly advocating direct overthrow of the U. S. Government by force and violence until 1971, leaders have since avoided extreme statements in favor of calling for action within the established order. Newton, in an interview appearing in the May, 1973, issue of "Playboy" magazine, stated the Panthers' chief ambition is to change the American Government by any means necessary but that ultimately such change will be through armed violence.

Despite its claimed dedication to community service, indicators of the BPP's continued attraction to violence persist. Since July, 1974, Newton and other BPP members have been arrested in Oakland, California, for threatening police officers, murder of a 17-year-old female and the pistol whipping of Newton's tailor. Newton failed to appear on these charges and is now a local fugitive. Additionally, one died and three were wounded as a result of a shooting at a BPP-sponsored dance in Oakland, California, in October, 1974.

APPENDIX

"US"
Also Known As
"US", Incorporated

"US" was chartered by the State of California as a non-profit corporation in September, 1966, with offices at 8211 South Broadway, Los Angeles, California. The corporation alleges that "US" is primarily an Afro-American cultural organization.

During the spring of 1968, however, a source advised that MAULANA RON KARENGA, true name RONIE MC KINLEY EVERETT, Founder-Chairman of "US", published a booklet entitled "The Quotable Karenga", in which he talked of revolution, black power, and condemned Christianity for the plight of the black man.

In this booklet, KARENGA stated "...You must have a cultural revolution before the violent revolution. The cultural revolution gives identity, purpose, and direction. ...The revolution being fought now is a revolution to win the minds of our people. If we fail to win this, we cannot wage the violent one. ...When the word is given, we'll see how tough you are. When it's 'burn', let's see how much you blow up. And when it's 'take that white girl's head too', we'll see how tough you are..."

The above source advised that "US" members are required to study and memorize this booklet. "US" members are also assigned Swahili names which they use in lieu of their given names.

A second source advised that KARENGA had spoken at various meetings in Los Angeles at which time he talked of creating an "US" army of 1,000 men, obtaining weapons and ammunition, guerrilla warfare tactics, and revolution. KARENGA also stated "The only way to get life is to take a life and as we get stronger, we will take what we want from the white man's United States." He also stated that if the police killed any "US" members, the "US" organization would kill some of them.

APPENDIX CONTINUED

The first source above advised that KARENGA also stated that race riots throughout the country were not riots but were actually revolts or revolutions and that the black people were going to win their freedom by violence, if necessary.

A third source advised that KARENGA stated that a revolution would take place in the future and that no one can believe in black revolution without believing in armed conflict because the two go hand in hand.

A fourth source advised in August, 1974, that the US Organization has been evicted from its headquarters at 4302 South Crenshaw Boulevard, Los Angeles, and because of lack of funds, has been unable to locate a new meeting place. The organization has terminated all public meetings.

APPENDIX

Revised 5/22/75

NATION OF ISLAM (NOI)
CHARACTERIZATION OF SUBVERSIVE ORGANIZATION
EXTREMIST MATTER

The Nation of Islam (NOI) is a black nationwife organization headquartered at Muhammad's Temple #2, 7351 South Stony Island Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Elijah Muhammad, self-styled "Messenger of Allah" and divinely appointed leader of the black race in America, was leader of the NOI until his death on February 25, 1975, at which time his son, Wallace D. Muhammad, became Supreme Minister of the NOI. The NOI seeks a separate black nation, espouses its own version of the Islamic Religion, and has considered all "whites" to be devils; however, Wallace D. Muhammad in an interview published in "Muhammad Speaks", March 21, 1975, same being a weekly and the official NOI newspaper, stated there would no longer be stress put on the white people's status as "devils"; that whites have "begun to reform" and "The past is the past until it is dug up. We will not dig it up." NOI official policy instructs members to obey laws of the United States that do not conflict with NOI laws; to defend NOI officials, property, women, and themselves at all costs, if attacked; and to disarm any attacker and use the attacker's weapon against him.

The NOI body is broken down into: 1) the Fruit of Islam (FOI), an all male military-type group, to which instruction in judo and karate is given, and which has as its mmission security of officials, membership, and property of the NOI, and enforcing discipline in the NOI; and 2) the Muslim Girls Training (MGT), an all female quasi military-type group which has as its mission homemaking and child guidance in accordance with NOI teachings.

NOI activity is widespread among black inmates in many prisons in the United States. In recent years internal dissidence and difficulties with rival Muslim groups and other adversaries have produced considerable violence, some involving physical confrontations and acts of violence with law enforcement agencies.

INTERVIEW OF SPECIAL AGENT (SA) LAWRENCE F. WIRICK BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

On July 31, 1975, at 11:45 a.m. Mr. Lester Seidel of the United States Senate Select Committee (SSC) interviewed SA Lawrence F. Wirick at the San Diego Office of the FBI. No Advice of Rights was furnished SA Wirick and it was not necessary for the interviewee to consult with an FBI representative. The interview was terminated at 12:50 p.m. and as best recalled included the following discussion in the form of questions and answers:

Seidel: You understand that this is an informal interview and is in connection with the Bureau's COINTELPRO as it relates to the FBI investigation of the BPP?

Wirick: Yes, but for what purpose is the Senate conducting this survey?

Seidel: To aid in formation of new legislation so that the FBI and other Government agencies will have more definite guidelines to follow.

Wirick: I believe the Congress already through lack of information, isolated instances and some hysteria has enacted too many restrictive laws that prevent the FBI and other Government agencies from protecting the law abiding element of our society from the "bad guys".

Seidel: (He was in general agreement) Did you handle the COINTELPRO from 1970 through March, 1971?

Wirick: Yes, but I believe the BPP ceased to function locally about November or December, 1970. As I recall my function was to write a progress type letter regarding progress which described the illegal activities of members of the BPP and to report that this information had been furnished local police agencies but information generally emanated from confidential informants.

Seidel: What type of illegal activities and did your program in any way instigate illegal activities on the part of the BPP?

Wirick: Criminal acts committed by local members of the BPP are what I was referring to. I don't believe it was ever necessary to instigate any illegal acts or in any way entrap BPP members in criminal acts. The majority of local BPP members were thieves, narcotics addicts, lazy, unemployed and were hero worshipers of the BPP in Oakland, California. They wanted to emulate the Oakland organization, but their own dishonesty, et cetera, was a constant source of turmoil amongst the local group.

I recall, date unknown, information was received regarding Kenny Denmon (Kenneth Lee Denmon), one time head of the local BPP, that he was using stolen credit cards.

Information was received that Walter Wallace (Walter Carl Wallace, Jr.) was on narcotics and that he and his wife, Velma, were stealing to get money for narcotics and that Velma's mother was also involved in local thefts.

All above information was furnished local law agencies and local arrests were made. Furnishing the above type of information is a function and responsibility of the FBI.

The BPP in San Diego was very effective in causing their own problems and their own extinction and their criminal activities were not restricted to the examples I've given.

Seidel: Did the COINTELPRO try to disrupt the BPP Breakfast Program?

Wirick: No, not to my knowledge. I recall that soon after the Breakfast Program was started that other members of the BPP accused Ken Denmon of stealing money from contributions made to the Program.

On second thought I believe we did disrupt the BPP Breakfast Program in that we received complaints from several dairys and bread companies, et cetera, that they had been approached by BPP members with veiled threats of extortion if they did not donate quantities of food, et cetera, to the BPP Breakfast Program. The FBI and local police investigated and I believe as a result their practices were discontinued, but the investigation failed to establish a prosecutable offense of extortion.

Seidel: Did you have any connection with distribution of "cartoons" depicting BPP members as compromising each other, et cetera?

Wirick: No, but I have seen "cartoons" in the BPP newspaper. Have you ever seen or read copies of the BPP newspaper?

Seidel: No

(SSC)

INTERVIEW OF SPECIAL AGENT
(SA) LAWRENCE F. WIRICK BY
SSC STAFF MEMBER

Wirick: They featured "cartoons" showing the "pigs" (police) being killed, stabbed, et cetera. I believe I recall seeing some "cartoons" showing how the BPP would kill the "honkies" (white people). They were similar to the propaganda leaflets used by the Nazis against American troops before an attack. The articles in the BPP newspaper were even more foul.

Seidel: Did the COINTELPRO promote dissen~~t~~sion between the BPP and the US Group (see Appendix page)?

Wirick: Not to my knowledge. As I recall there was never any need to. They were constantly at odds with each other and on a gang type basis were trying to eliminate each other. I believe Sylvester Bell, a San Diego BPP member was killed by an US Group member and John Savage, another local BPP member was killed by an US Group member.

In Los Angeles two other BPP members, names not recalled, were allegedly killed by US Group members. I believe this led to the popular saying in Southeast San Diego section where most blacks live that the score (game) was, "US 4 - BPP 0".

Seidel: What do you think of the merits of a proposal to spray shipments of the BPP newspaper with a noxious acid so that readers would be confronted with a vile odor when attempting to read the paper?

UNITED STATES SENATE

(SSC)

INTERVIEW OF SPECIAL AGENT
(SA) LAWRENCE F. WIRICK BY

Wirick: After thought, no. Because the paper itself was so vile and anti-white that the odor would never stop BPP members from reading same. I've always hoped that a large segment of the population, especially the "do-gooders" could or would experience the nauseous reaction I have felt after reading the illiterate, foul-mouthed, anti-white, anti-Government, BPP paper. I think everybody should read a copy of the BPP paper so that they will know the type and character of BPP members.

Seidel: What do you think about anonymous letters sent to spouses of BPP members saying the husband was sleeping with a white girl, et cetera?

Wirick: Most wives of the members I recall were also BPP members and/or common-law-wives. Many BPP members did have liaison with white girls but I doubt if such a letter would bother most spouses of BPP members. However, such a letter might be of value under certain circumstances, example: the stories that were spread during World War II which were not necessarily all true regarding Hitler, Mussolini, General Patton and others.

Seidel: In your opinion was the COINTELPRO of any value? Should it be changed? Do you have any suggestions for changes, or should it be eliminated completely?

Wirick: Yes, as I recall, it acted as a progress letter of the BPP, its direction, its dissension, its change in leadership, and indications of its slow local demise because of the character of the local BPP members, and as a summary of its activities for FBIHQ. I recall that we made certain requests to conduct some types of counterintelligence against the BPP, but I do not recall that the Bureau ever authorized any counterintelligence act which might be productive.

Change? COINTELPRO is not being utilized to the best of my knowledge and has not been for some time.

I believe that in about two or three years Congress will be frantically asking the FBI why we did not furnish them intelligence, advance knowledge of a demonstration, a riot and other civil unrest and elimination of the COINTELPRO has been another step in the direction of placing the FBI and other law enforcement agencies in a position where we cannot react to the activities of groups such as the BPP which have been formed with the main purpose of overthrowing the United States.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY
Formerly Known As
Black Panther Party for Self-Defense

The Black Panther Party (BPP), organized in December, 1966, at Oakland, California, by Huey P. Newton and Bobby George Seale, has the publicly-stated purpose of organizing black people to take control of the life, politics and destiny of the black community. The Party, operating the Black Panther Intercommunal News Service, publishes a newspaper called "The Black Panther," which at one time openly advocated the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in a revolutionary program to end the oppression of the black people but since early 1971 has spoken for a survival program pending revolution. BPP national headquarters, aka Black Panther Intercommunal Headquarters, is located in Oakland, California.

While openly advocating direct overthrow of the U. S. Government by force and violence until 1971, leaders have since avoided extreme statements in favor of calling for action within the established order. Newton, in an interview appearing in the May, 1973, issue of "Playboy" magazine, stated the Panthers' chief ambition is to change the American Government by any means necessary but that ultimately such change will be through armed violence.

Despite its claimed dedication to community service, indicators of the BPP's continued attraction to violence persist. Since July, 1974, Newton and other BPP members have been arrested in Oakland, California, for threatening police officers, murder of a 17-year-old female and the pistol whipping of Newton's tailor. Newton failed to appear on these charges and is now a local fugitive. Additionally, one died and three were wounded as a result of a shooting at a BPP-sponsored dance in Oakland, California, in October, 1974.

APPENDIX

"US"
Also Known As
"US", Incorporated

"US" was chartered by the State of California as a non-profit corporation in September, 1966, with offices at 8211 South Broadway, Los Angeles, California. The corporation alleges that "US" is primarily an Afro-American cultural organization.

During the spring of 1968, however, a source advised that MAULANA RON KARENGA, true name RONIE MC KINLEY EVERETT, Founder-Chairman of "US", published a booklet entitled "The Quotable Karenga", in which he talked of revolution, black power, and condemned Christianity for the plight of the black man.

In this booklet, KARENGA stated "...You must have a cultural revolution before the violent revolution. The cultural revolution gives identity, purpose, and direction. ...The revolution being fought now is a revolution to win the minds of our people. If we fail to win this, we cannot wage the violent one. ...When the word is given, we'll see how tough you are. When it's 'burn', let's see how much you blow up. And when it's 'take that white girl's head too', we'll see how tough you are..."

The above source advised that "US" members are required to study and memorize this booklet. "US" members are also assigned Swahili names which they use in lieu of their given names.

A second source advised that KARENGA had spoken at various meetings in Los Angeles at which time he talked of creating an "US" army of 1,000 men, obtaining weapons and ammunition, guerrilla warfare tactics, and revolution. KARENGA also stated "The only way to get life is to take a life and as we get stronger, we will take what we want from the white man's United States." He also stated that if the police killed any "US" members, the "US" organization would kill some of them.

APPENDIX CONTINUED

The first source above advised that KARENGA also stated that race riots throughout the country were not riots but were actually revolts or revolutions and that the black people were going to win their freedom by violence, if necessary.

A third source advised that KARENGA stated that a revolution would take place in the future and that no one can believe in black revolution without believing in armed conflict because the two go hand in hand.

A fourth source advised in August, 1974, that the US Organization has been evicted from its headquarters at 4302 South Crenshaw Boulevard, Los Angeles, and because of lack of funds, has been unable to locate a new meeting place. The organization has terminated all public meetings.

U.S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT
ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Former Special Agent Robert S. Baker was interviewed at his home at 4268 Hortensia, San Diego, California, by U.S. Senate Select Committee (SSC) Staff Member Lester Seidel on August 1, 1975. The interview began at 10:30 AM and lasted until 12:30 PM. Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) Arthur G. Barger, Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), San Diego, California, was telephonically available for consultation. Former Special Agent Baker did not consult with anyone during the course of the interview.

Prior to the interview, Former Special Agent Baker had been advised that FBI Headquarters had waived the agreement as a former employee not to furnish information received during the period of his employment, for purposes of this interview. He was advised that he had a right to counsel but that the FBI was unable to provide private counsel for him.

Former Special Agent Baker was advised that he would not be required to answer questions that might divulge the identity of any FBI source, that would reveal information relative to sensitive methods and techniques, or information which originated with other agencies, including foreign intelligence agencies.

Former Special Agent Baker was advised that the interview was to involve only the COINTELPRO as it applied to the Black Panther Party (BPP) (see appendix).

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

ENCLOSURE

62-116395-641

U.S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT
ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Staff Member Seidel identified himself to Mr. Baker, stating that the interview would be in the form of an informal discussion and that information furnished by Mr. Baker would be placed in a memorandum for the SSC. Mr. Seidel stated that he did not intend to use the names of individuals interviewed in his memorandum. He stated that Mr. Baker did not have to talk to him, and that any information he furnished would be furnished voluntarily.

Mr. Seidel asked if Mr. Baker was a supervisor with the San Diego Office of the FBI from sometime in 1968 through April, 1971.

Mr. Baker advised that he was a supervisor of the security squad but could not recall if the dates mentioned by Mr. Seidel were correct.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to the nature of matters supervised by him, to which Mr. Baker replied that matters such as investigation of the Communist Party (see appendix), the Socialist Workers Party (see appendix), the Black Panther Party, US, Incorporated (see appendix), the Nation of Islam (see appendix), Espionage, Sabotage matters, and other investigations were conducted on the squad supervised by him, which consisted of from 12 to 15 Special Agents.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether Mr. Baker supervised the COINTELPRO.

Mr. Baker advised that he did supervise this program which was initiated by FBI Headquarters and not on the field office level. He stated that as he recalled, a letter was submitted either monthly, quarterly or semi-annually. The letter was submitted by a Special Agent whose case load was such that he could take the time to prepare the letter.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether Special Agent Roy Burns was more of a young, eager, type Agent.

Mr. Baker replied that this was not true but that Special Agent Burns had been assigned the COINTELPRO case because his case load was such that he was able to handle the program.

Mr. Seidel inquired whether Special Agent Roy Burns was transferred to the Butte Office of the FBI for disciplinary reasons.

Mr. Baker replied that Special Agent Burns was originally from Washington State and had wanted to be transferred to that area.

Mr. Seidel asked if the Bureau encouraged Agents to participate in disruptive programs and then rewarded them financially for their efforts.

Mr. Baker replied that the Bureau had an incentive award program, and if an Agent did a good job in any field, he could get recognition through an incentive award. Mr. Baker stated that he could not recall any award being given as a result of COINTELPRO activity.

Mr. Seidel asked Mr. Baker if he could recall any information concerning the Free Breakfast Program of the BPP.

Mr. Baker stated that he recalled that the operation of the Free Breakfast Program of the BPP was followed through sources. They advised that some of the BPP officials were stealing money from funds which were to be spent on the breakfast program. The breakfast program was served at a local Catholic church. Mr. Baker advised Mr. Seidel that an official of the Catholic church in San Diego was contacted regarding the priest in charge of the church where the breakfast program was being held, who was reportedly an alcoholic. Mr. Seidel was advised that the priest was transferred from the church.

U.S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT
ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel asked what Mr. Baker's definition of the COINTELPRO was.

Mr. Baker replied that the COINTELPRO was a disruptive type program.

Mr. Seidel stated that the FBI had apparently written a letter regarding a white girl friend of Kenneth Denman, a BPP leader in San Diego. He inquired as to why this letter was written.

Mr. Baker stated that Denman was considered one of the stronger leaders of the San Diego Branch of the BPP, and if it was possible to keep him from becoming a strong leader, it would be disruptive to the party. The fact that Denman was living with a white girl was considered derogatory toward him by BPP members in San Diego.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether such activity would have been taken against a leader in an organization such as the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) (see description) if the leader of such a group had been living with a white woman. Would such a letter be appropriate?

Mr. Baker replied that he did not feel that such a letter would be appropriate in this case because this organization involved a religious leader and our program was not directed at religious groups but was directed toward black militant and extremist groups.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether Mr. Baker recalled individuals in the BPP named Tate, Wallace, Denman and Bell.

Mr. Baker stated that he could not recall anything specific about any of these individuals, except what he had previously stated concerning Denman. He said he could recall the names but nothing more concerning these individuals.

U.S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT
ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel then mentioned an incident wherein the San Diego Office of the FBI had furnished information to the Los Angeles Office of the FBI for transmission to local authorities concerning a group of BPP members from San Diego who were traveling to Los Angeles to attend a funeral.

Mr. Baker stated that he could recall that such an incident occurred and that information was furnished stating that BPP members from San Diego would be carrying concealed weapons. He said he thought the furnishing of this information resulted in some of the BPP members being arrested in Los Angeles.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether Mr. Baker could recall someone from the FBI in San Diego visiting the mother of a girl who was an alleged member of the BPP in San Diego, and whether the FBI went to the mother to put pressure on another member of the family.

Mr. Baker stated that he vaguely recalled such a case but could not recall the details and could not be certain this had occurred.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether the FBI had any technical surveillances on the BPP in San Diego.

Mr. Baker stated that he knew of none and added that such coverage was not needed in San Diego because there were good sources in the BPP who could furnish excellent coverage. Mr. Baker stated that he believes he would have known of any such installations covering the BPP in San Diego.

Mr. Seidel asked if Mr. Baker knew of San Francisco using any such techniques against the BPP.

Mr. Baker replied that he believed that San Francisco had used such techniques.

U.S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT
ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel then asked why such techniques were not used in San Diego if they were used in San Francisco.

Mr. Baker replied that such techniques were not needed in San Diego due to the good source coverage of party activity.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether there was a conflict between US, Incorporated, and the BPP in San Diego.

Mr. Baker replied that US, Incorporated, headquarters were in Los Angeles. There was a power struggle between the two groups for membership of blacks and much travel occurred by US, Incorporated, leaders from Los Angeles to San Diego and Mexico, and from San Diego to Los Angeles. There were considerable conflict between the two groups.

Mr. Seidel asked whether Mr. Baker recalled Ron Karenga.

Mr. Baker replied that he did recall Ron Karenga as being the Los Angeles leader of US, Incorporated.

Mr. Seidel asked whether Mr. Baker recalled some cards stating "Ron Karenga is impotent" which were printed in Los Angeles and some of which might have been sent to San Diego.

Mr. Baker replied that he does not recall these cards but this could have been correct.

Mr. Seidel asked if Mr. Baker recalled some cartoons being drawn concerning the BPP.

Mr. Baker stated that he recalled that there were two or three cartoons prepared depicting strife between US, Incorporated, and the BPP.

U.S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT
ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel then stated that these cartoons were prepared by the Bureau Laboratory.

Mr. Baker stated that he did not recall.

Mr. Baker advised Mr. Seidel that US, Incorporated, and the BPP were led by and made up of people with extensive criminal records, and because of this and their general demeanor, the FBI did not really have to provoke or disrupt them because they kept themselves in a constant state of turmoil. He stated that Special Agents connected with the COINTELPRO did not devote much time to the program because of heavy case loads of other matters and because they assisted in working criminal matters such as bank robberies and other criminal violations.

Mr. Baker advised Mr. Seidel that a great deal of time was spent by the Special Agents working with their sources because they had to be extremely careful that they were protected. If a crime was planned and a source had knowledge of it, the source would try to keep the crime from being committed. If it was not possible to prevent the crime, the source might be forced to participate, and if arrested, a problem would be created in attempting to get the source out of jail and still conceal his identity as a source.

Mr. Seidel inquired of Mr. Baker as to the names of the Agents he dealt with in Los Angeles and San Francisco in connection with COINTELPRO.

Mr. Baker stated that he recalled that Supervisor Albert Clark had something to do with the program in San Francisco, and in Los Angeles he dealt with Supervisor Richard Bloeser and Bill Knowland.

U.S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel asked Mr. Baker if he was acquainted with Richard Held.

Mr. Baker stated that Richard Held was assigned as Assistant Special Agent in Charge in San Diego, and he knew him at that time. He stated that he is aware that Richard Held is now the Special Agent in Charge of the Chicago Office of the FBI.

Mr. Seidel stated to Mr. Baker that he was going to interview Assistant Director Robert Gebhardt and Special Agent in Charge Charles W. Bates.

This concluded the interview of former Special Agent Robert S. Baker by SSC Staff Member Lester Seidel.

The Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) was an organization founded by Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., with the theme of new life for poor people. Dr. King, a leader in civil rights, was assassinated on April 4, 1969.

APPENDIX

COMMUNIST PARTY, USA

Title 50, U. S. Code, Section 781 (Internal Security Act of 1950) stated that, as a result of evidence adduced before various committees of the Senate and House of Representatives, Congress found the existence of a world communist revolutionary movement, whose purpose is to establish a communist totalitarian dictatorship in the world's countries through the medium of a world-wide communist organization. Communist action organizations in various countries endeavor to carry out the objectives of the world communist movement by bringing about the overthrow of existing governments by any means. The communist organization in the United States - the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA) - pursuing its stated objectives, presents "a clear and present danger to the security of the United States." The Subversive Activities Control Board, established by Section 791 of the above Act, found the CPUSA to be a communist action organization. This finding was upheld by the United States Supreme Court in June, 1961. The CPUSA has continued to be an arm of the international communist movement dominated by the Soviet Union. The CPUSA, in its dependence on the Soviet Union, has never knowingly adopted a position contrary to Soviet policy. Its leaders frequently confer with Soviet leaders to receive guidance and direction on the policies the CPUSA is to follow. There has been no evidence that the primary aims of the CPUSA, as they conform to Soviet objectives, have changed over the years.

APPENDIX

Revised 5/22/75

NATION OF ISLAM (NOI)
CHARACTERIZATION OF SUBVERSIVE ORGANIZATION
EXTREMIST MATTER

The Nation of Islam (NOI) is a black nationwife organization headquartered at Muhammad's Temple #2, 7351 South Stony Island Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Elijah Muhammad, self-styled "Messenger of Allah" and divinely appointed leader of the black race in America, was leader of the NOI until his death on February 25, 1975, at which time his son, Wallace D. Muhammad, became Supreme Minister of the NOI. The NOI seeks a separate black nation, espouses its own version of the Islamic Religion, and has considered all "whites" to be devils; however, Wallace D. Muhammad in an interview published in "Muhammad Speaks", March 21, 1975, same being a weekly and the official NOI newspaper, stated there would no longer be stress put on the white people's status as "devils"; that whites have "begun to reform" and "The past is the past until it is dug up. We will not dig it up." NOI official policy instructs members to obey laws of the United States that do not conflict with NOI laws; to defend NOI officials, property, women, and themselves at all costs, if attacked; and to disarm any attacker and use the attacker's weapon against him.

The NOI body is broken down into: 1) the Fruit of Islam (FOI), an all male military-type group, to which instruction in judo and karate is given, and which has as its mmission security of officials, membership, and property of the NOI, and enforcing discipline in the NOI; and 2) the Muslim Girls Training (MGT), an all female quasi military-type group which has as its mission homemaking and child guidance in accordance with NOI teachings.

NOI activity is widespread among black inmates in many prisons in the United States. In recent years internal dissidence and difficulties with rival Muslim groups and other adversaries have produced considerable violence, some involving physical confrontations and acts of violence with law enforcement agencies.

SOCIALIST WORKERS PARTY

The Socialist Workers Party (SWP) is a revolutionary, Trotskyist-communist organization, which is headquartered in New York City. Its purpose, as stated in its Declaration of Principles, is the overthrow of the U. S. Government and the institution of a dictatorship of the working class and the eventual achievement of a communist society. It was founded in 1938 and maintains close association with international Trotskyist organizations as a "sympathizing" group, but it denies formal membership in any foreign group to escape application of the Voorhis Act, which regulates certain types of organizations subject to foreign control. While the SWP does not openly advocate the use of violence at the present time to overthrow the U. S. Government, it believes that eventual violent revolution in the U. S. is inevitable. Its objection to the current use of violence is based on the ground that it believes violence is premature at this time. The SWP seeks to precipitate a revolution when conditions are ripe and to seize control of the revolution and to direct it when it occurs.

Attached New York teletype advises of information from former Bureau Agent, who is a current informative asset, that the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Operations (SSCIO) has become aware of Jaffe's allegations that the FBI has taken actions which have prevented him from obtaining or keeping a job in the news media field. Jaffe claims that his association with Bureau Agents with regard to Soviet intelligence matters cooled off after he was identified by a Soviet defector as cooperating with Soviet Intelligence and that the FBI has since deprived him from making a living in his profession. The SSCIO is looking into Jaffe's situation to determine if his allegations are true and if the FBI can be prevented from taking such actions in other similar situations. C

BACKGROUND:

Jaffe is a former correspondent for ABC and CBS who was a symbol number informant of the New York Office from 1958 to 1961. During this period, he furnished information on his numerous contacts with Soviet nationals whom he met through his assignment as a CBS correspondent at the United Nations. In 1961, he joined ABC as its correspondent in Moscow where he served until he was expelled in 1965 following the publication of an article unfavorable to the Soviet Union. He was then transferred to Hong Kong where he remained until 1968. Since 1968, he has worked for various news media and has acted as a free lance journalist. Following his return from Hong Kong, he took up residence in Washington, D. C., and was in contact with the Washington Field Office, furnishing information on Soviets and Chinese nationals whom he met in the course of his employment. U

Soviet defector ["Sammy"] X(U) has advised that Jaffe was recruited by the KGB, in about 1962 while he was in Moscow, through his relationship with a Soviet female. [Soviet defector "Shamrock" has confirmed that Jaffe was approached but does not believe the approach was successful.] c Jaffe reported to the New York Office in 1963 what he interpreted as a recruitment effort, and he was extensively reinterviewed in 1969 concerning his association with KGB officers in Moscow. [There is no information in Jaffe's file that he was ever reported on by Col. Penkovskiy, as Jaffe reportedly has claimed.] c During the interviews with Jaffe, he denied any overt acts helpful to the KGB, although he admitted a continuing relationship with several KGB officers. Both the New York and Washington Field Offices came to the conclusion that Jaffe was a KGB agent while in Moscow, but that there was doubt as to whether he continued in that role after he was expelled.

Our relations with Jaffe were tempered by ["Sammy's"] X(U) allegation, and Bureau Agents in contact with him were circumspect in any dealings with him thereafter. Jaffe very likely detected a change in the Agents' attitude which accounts for his statement that he felt his relationship with them had cooled off.

There is no evidence contained in Jaffe's file that either New York or Washington Field or the Bureau has ever taken any action which would affect Jaffe's livelihood. Following his return from Hong Kong, Jaffe told his handling Agents that he was experiencing difficulty in finding a job. He several times mentioned his concern that his association with the FBI might be the reason. On each occasion, he was assured that the FBI had never divulged his confidential relationship and would not do so any time in the future. u

Jaffe's file does disclose that during an interview with Washington Field Agents in 1969, he said that he had learned from a British Intelligence contact in Hong Kong that his recall from that city was caused by his refusal to cooperate with CIA. He also related that he later mentioned this to a CIA contact in Washington who responded that the British

Intelligence representative "had no right to tell you this." [CIA has informed us that they did have contacts with Jaffe while he was in Hong Kong and that he reported on Communist Chinese of interest to the Agency.]S His file also records that Jaffe told New York Agents in 1969 that a recently published book on the Council of Foreign Relations described him as having a subversive background. He was also described in the book as being a member of the American League for Peace and Democracy. Jaffe connected the appearance of this book with his then recent recall fron Hong Kong by ABC.

DURING THE TIME THAT JAFFE WAS RELATING ABOVE DATA TO MILLER, SENATOR CHURCH, THE CHAIRMAN OF THE SSCI, ENTERED MILLER'S OFFICE AND BECAME VERY MUCH INTERESTED IN JAFFE'S STATEMENTS. JAFFE RELATED TO MILLER THAT AS A REPORTER FOR THE COLUMBIA BROADCASTING COMPANY, HE COVERED THE STORY INVOLVING THE RELEASE OF FRANCIS G. POWERS BY THE SOVIETS (POWERS WAS THE FORMER U-2 PILOT WHO WAS SHOT DOWN IN THE USSR IN 1960). JAFFE RELATED TO MILLER THAT THEREAFTER HE WENT TO HONG KONG. JAFFE ALSO TOLD MILLER THAT WHEN HE RETURNED FROM HONG KONG (SOURCE BELIEVES THIS TO BE IN 1966-1968), HE LEARNED THAT HE WAS "FINGERED" BY A SOVIET DEFECTOR BY THE NAME OF PENKOVSKIY. THIS DEFECTOR ALLEGEDLY REPORTED THAT HE SAW JAFFE'S NAME ON A PIECE OF PAPER ON THE DESK OF A SOVIET INTELLIGENCE OFFICER. JAFFE TOLD MILLER THAT THE FBI, UPON LEARNING THAT INFORMATION FELT THAT JAFFE WAS A "DOUBLE AGENT" BECAUSE OF THE COOLNESS OF BUREAU PERSONNEL TOWARD HIM WHEN HE RETURNED TO THE UNITED STATES FROM HONG KONG. U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC); INTERVIEW OF ASSISTANT DIRECTOR IN CHARGE ROBERT E. GEBHARDT BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

On August 7, 1975, Assistant Director Robert E. Gebhardt, Los Angeles Division, was interviewed in the Los Angeles FBI Office by Mr. Lester Seidel, Staff Member of the Senate Select Committee, United States Senate.

Gebhardt's rights were not explained to him by Seidel although Seidel did explain the purpose of the interview, that is, the Cointel Program of the FBI as it related to the FBI's investigation of the Black Panther Party when Gebhardt was the Special Agent in Charge of the San Francisco Division from 1970 to 1972.

The interview lasted from 9:05 AM until 10:30 AM, and it was not necessary for Gebhardt to consult with any Bureau representative.

Gebhardt had previously been advised by a Bureau representative of his right to counsel, the privileged areas of information, consultation privileges, and the parameters of interview.

Seidel inquired at the outset as to whether Gebhardt was aware of the Cointel Program relative to the Black Panther Party investigation on a day to day basis being specifically advised details of the investigation as it relates to the Cointel Program. It was explained to Seidel that as Special Agent in Charge of the San Francisco FBI Office wherein over 500 employees were located at the time, Gebhardt had many responsibilities in the operation of that division and therefore, relied upon the experience, expertise, and judgment of the various supervisors assigned to the office for the day to day direction of the various matters under investigation, including the investigation of the Black Panther Party.

It was further explained that if a problem was encountered or a particularly unusual situation developed, Gebhardt was, of course, consulted and was available for such consultation to resolve any particular problem areas.

Gebhardt was next asked if he recalled being SAC when the electronic coverage of the Black Panther Party and the various officials at BBP was instituted and eventually terminated. Seidel was advised that the electronic coverage was already in effect upon Gebhardt's arrival, however, he does recall receiving a phone call after the "Keith Decision" was handed down instructing that all electronic coverage of the BPP and the various members of the BPP be discontinued. The call was received from Bureau Headquarters and the discontinuance was effected immediately.

Seidel inquired as to whether Gebhardt felt the intelligence type investigations should be completely removed from the criminal investigations which investigations would be looking toward eventual prosecution.

Seidel was informed by Gebhardt that even in criminal investigations looking toward prosecutions, much intelligence information is obtained from time to time which really has no value from a prosecutive standpoint, but does have possible value with respect to the direction of the investigation. In some criminal investigations a great deal of intelligence information may be obtained and in other types, very little. Insofar as the FBI is concerned, however, every effort is made to make certain there is some Federal law which would be a basis for an investigation which procedures would include matters commonly referred to as security investigations.

In some instances, in such security investigations a great deal of intelligence information would be obtained therefore, it was Gebhardt's opinion that so-called intelligence type investigations should not be removed from or differentiated from criminal type investigations looking toward prosecutions since intelligence information is an outgrowth of the basic investigation.

Gebhardt was asked if he felt the Cointelpro was a separate entity distinguished from the basic investigation and it was explained that the Cointelpro was a phase of the overall investigation in any particular organization or individual.

Gebhardt was asked if he felt Congress should enact legislation which would set forth specific investigative techniques that could or could not be utilized by the FBI or other Federal investigative agencies. He was advised in Gebhardt's opinion, such legislation should not be enacted, and in reply to the question as to why such legislation should not be enacted, it was pointed out that as an investigative agency, there must of necessity be allowed a certain flexibility because no two investigations are exactly alike and the circumstances of such investigations could possibly not be related to such Federal law.

In answer to the question as to how Congress should assure the American public that questionable activity such as the Cointelpro, was not being engaged in by an investigative agency such as the FBI, Seidel was informed that the Congress and the American people must rely upon the integrity and honesty of the Director of the FBI and the Attorney General.

It was pointed out that both the Director of the FBI and the Attorney General are nominated by the President, hearings are held before the various Congressional Committees and finally approved by the Senate. It was further pointed out that Director Kelley has recently stated in connection with the publicity relative to Cointelpro, that he has no intention of permitting this program to be reinstituted in the FBI and if circumstances ever arose which circumstances he could not contemplate at this time, wherein it was thought such activities should be embarked upon, he would obtain the personal approval of the Attorney General prior to such instituting. Seidel was informed that Gebhardt was in total agreement with this statement of Mr. Kelley.

Gebhardt was asked as to what his feelings were relative to what the relationship should be between the FBI and Congress. He was informed that a Senate Oversight Committee was recently established and it was felt that this was a good start and that this Committee should formalize and standardize their oversight responsibilities and make regular inquiries of the Director and other officials of the FBI as to our activities. He was informed that there should be either a joint oversight committee between the House and Senate or if the Congress decided on two oversight Committees in both the House and Senate, these committees should be the entities through which all information relative to the activities of the FBI should flow.

It was emphasized however, that there should be regular consultation between these representatives and the FBI.

Inquiry was made as to Gebhardt's opinion relative to the relationship between the Department of Justice and the FBI and Seidel was informed the relationship, in Gebhardt's opinion, is excellent, should continue, and there should be a free flow of information between the FBI and the Department of Justice.

At the conclusion of the interview, Gebhardt summed up his comments by stating that Congress should definitely set up a structured oversight procedure of the activities of the FBI with due regard to the confidentiality of many of the FBI operations and investigations and must assure itself that the members of the Committee and its staff will maintain the confidentiality where necessary.

Secondly, in the areas of investigative matters usually referred to as national defense, national security or intelligence operations, all of the FBI investigations must be based on the application of the facts toward a particular Federal statute and if the facts are so oblique that they cannot be clearly applied to a particular Federal statute, consultation with the Department of Justice should be had in all instances.

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT
ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Former Special Agent Robert S. Baker was interviewed at his home at 4268 Hortensia, San Diego, California, by U.S. Senate Select Committee (SSC) Staff Member Lester Seidel on August 1, 1975. The interview began at 10:30 AM and lasted until 12:30 PM. Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) Arthur G. Barger, Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), San Diego, California, was telephonically available for consultation. Former Special Agent Baker did not consult with anyone during the course of the interview.

Prior to the interview, Former Special Agent Baker had been advised that FBI Headquarters had waived the agreement as a former employee not to furnish information received during the period of his employment, for purposes of this interview. He was advised that he had a right to counsel but that the FBI was unable to provide private counsel for him.

Former Special Agent Baker was advised that he would not be required to answer questions that might divulge the identity of any FBI source, that would reveal information relative to sensitive methods and techniques, or information which originated with other agencies, including foreign intelligence agencies.

Former Special Agent Baker was advised that the interview was to involve only the COINTELPRO as it applied to the Black Panther Party (BPP) ~~(see appendix)~~. destroyed

U.S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Staff Member Seidel identified himself to Mr. Baker, stating that the interview would be in the form of an informal discussion and that information furnished by Mr. Baker would be placed in a memorandum for the SSC. Mr. Seidel stated that he did not intend to use the names of individuals interviewed in his memorandum. He stated that Mr. Baker did not have to talk to him, and that any information he furnished would be furnished voluntarily.

Mr. Seidel asked if Mr. Baker was a supervisor with the San Diego Office of the FBI from sometime in 1968 through April, 1971.

Mr. Baker advised that he was a supervisor of the security squad but could not recall if the dates mentioned by Mr. Seidel were correct.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to the nature of matters supervised by him, to which Mr. Baker replied that matters such as investigation of the Communist Party (see appendix), the Socialist Workers Party (see appendix), the Black Panther Party, US, Incorporated (see appendix), the Nation of Islam (see appendix), Espionage, Sabotage matters, and other investigations were conducted on the squad supervised by him, which consisted of from 12 to 15 Special Agents.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether Mr. Baker supervised the COINTELPRO.

Mr. Baker advised that he did supervise this program which was initiated by FBI Headquarters and not on the field office level. He stated that as he recalled, a letter was submitted either monthly, quarterly or semi-annually. The letter was submitted by a Special Agent whose case load was such that he could take the time to prepare the letter.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether Special Agent Roy Burns was more of a young, eager, type Agent.

U.S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT
ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Baker replied that this was not true but that Special Agent Burns had been assigned the COINTELPRO case because his case load was such that he was able to handle the program.

Mr. Seidel inquired whether Special Agent Roy Burns was transferred to the Butte Office of the FBI for disciplinary reasons.

Mr. Baker replied that Special Agent Burns was originally from Washington State and had wanted to be transferred to that area.

Mr. Seidel asked if the Bureau encouraged Agents to participate in disruptive programs and then rewarded them financially for their efforts.

Mr. Baker replied that the Bureau had an incentive award program, and if an Agent did a good job in any field, he could get recognition through an incentive award. Mr. Baker stated that he could not recall any award being given as a result of COINTELPRO activity.

Mr. Seidel asked Mr. Baker if he could recall any information concerning the Free Breakfast Program of the BPP.

Mr. Baker stated that he recalled that the operation of the Free Breakfast Program of the BPP was followed through sources. They advised that some of the BPP officials were stealing money from funds which were to be spent on the breakfast program. The breakfast program was served at a local Catholic church. Mr. Baker advised Mr. Seidel that an official of the Catholic church in San Diego was contacted regarding the priest in charge of the church where the breakfast program was being held, who was reportedly an alcoholic. Mr. Seidel was advised that the priest was transferred from the church.

U.S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT
ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel asked what Mr. Baker's definition of the COINTELPRO was.

Mr. Baker replied that the COINTELPRO was a disruptive type program.

Mr. Seidel stated that the FBI had apparently written a letter regarding a white girl friend of Kenneth Denman, a BPP leader in San Diego. He inquired as to why this letter was written.

Mr. Baker stated that Denman was considered one of the stronger leaders of the San Diego Branch of the BPP, and if it was possible to keep him from becoming a strong leader, it would be disruptive to the party. The fact that Denman was living with a white girl was considered derogatory toward him by BPP members in San Diego.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether such activity would have been taken against a leader in an organization such as the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) (see description) if the leader of such a group had been living with a white woman. Would such a letter be appropriate?

Mr. Baker replied that he did not feel that such a letter would be appropriate in this case because this organization involved a religious leader and our program was not directed at religious groups but was directed toward black militant and extremist groups.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether Mr. Baker recalled individuals in the BPP named Tate, Wallace, Denman and Bell.

Mr. Baker stated that he could not recall anything specific about any of these individuals, except what he had previously stated concerning Denman. He said he could recall the names but nothing more concerning these individuals.

U.S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT
ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel then mentioned an incident wherein the San Diego Office of the FBI had furnished information to the Los Angeles Office of the FBI for transmission to local authorities concerning a group of BPP members from San Diego who were traveling to Los Angeles to attend a funeral.

Mr. Baker stated that he could recall that such an incident occurred and that information was furnished stating that BPP members from San Diego would be carrying concealed weapons. He said he thought the furnishing of this information resulted in some of the BPP members being arrested in Los Angeles.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether Mr. Baker could recall someone from the FBI in San Diego visiting the mother of a girl who was an alleged member of the BPP in San Diego, and whether the FBI went to the mother to put pressure on another member of the family.

Mr. Baker stated that he vaguely recalled such a case but could not recall the details and could not be certain this had occurred.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether the FBI had any technical surveillances on the BPP in San Diego.

Mr. Baker stated that he knew of none and added that such coverage was not needed in San Diego because there were good sources in the BPP who could furnish excellent coverage. Mr. Baker stated that he believes he would have known of any such installations covering the BPP in San Diego.

Mr. Seidel asked if Mr. Baker knew of San Francisco using any such techniques against the BPP.

Mr. Baker replied that he believed that San Francisco had used such techniques.

Mr. Seidel then asked why such techniques were not used in San Diego if they were used in San Francisco.

Mr. Baker replied that such techniques were not needed in San Diego due to the good source coverage of party activity.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether there was a conflict between US, Incorporated, and the BPP in San Diego.

Mr. Baker replied that US, Incorporated, headquarters were in Los Angeles. There was a power struggle between the two groups for membership of blacks and much travel occurred by US, Incorporated, leaders from Los Angeles to San Diego and Mexico, and from San Diego to Los Angeles. There were considerable conflict between the two groups.

Mr. Seidel asked whether Mr. Baker recalled Ron Karenga.

Mr. Baker replied that he did recall Ron Karenga as being the Los Angeles leader of US, Incorporated.

Mr. Seidel asked whether Mr. Baker recalled some cards stating "Ron Karenga is impotent" which were printed in Los Angeles and some of which might have been sent to San Diego.

Mr. Baker replied that he does not recall these cards but this could have been correct.

Mr. Seidel asked if Mr. Baker recalled some cartoons being drawn concerning the BPP.

Mr. Baker stated that he recalled that there were two or three cartoons prepared depicting strife between US, Incorporated, and the BPP.

Mr. Seidel then stated that these cartoons were prepared by the Bureau Laboratory.

Mr. Baker stated that he did not recall.

Mr. Baker advised Mr. Seidel that US, Incorporated, and the BPP were led by and made up of people with extensive criminal records, and because of this and their general demeanor, the FBI did not really have to provoke or disrupt them because they kept themselves in a constant state of turmoil. He stated that Special Agents connected with the COINTELPRO did not devote much time to the program because of heavy case loads of other matters and because they assisted in working criminal matters such as bank robberies and other criminal violations.

Mr. Baker advised Mr. Seidel that a great deal of time was spent by the Special Agents working with their sources because they had to be extremely careful that they were protected. If a crime was planned and a source had knowledge of it, the source would try to keep the crime from being committed. If it was not possible to prevent the crime, the source might be forced to participate, and if arrested, a problem would be created in attempting to get the source out of jail and still conceal his identity as a source.

Mr. Seidel inquired of Mr. Baker as to the names of the Agents he dealt with in Los Angeles and San Francisco in connection with COINTELPRO.

Mr. Baker stated that he recalled that Supervisor Albert Clark had something to do with the program in San Francisco, and in Los Angeles he dealt with Supervisor Richard Bloeser and Bill Knowland.

INTERVIEW OF FORMER SPECIAL AGENT ROBERT S. BAKER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel asked Mr. Baker if he was acquainted with Richard Held.

Mr. Baker stated that Richard Held was assigned as Assistant Special Agent in Charge in San Diego, and he knew him at that time. He stated that he is aware that Richard Held is now the Special Agent in Charge of the Chicago Office of the FBI.

Mr. Seidel stated to Mr. Baker that he was going to interview Assistant Director Robert Gebhardt and Special Agent in Charge Charles W. Bates.

This concluded the interview of former Special Agent Robert S. Baker by SSC Staff Member Lester Seidel.

STAFF MEMBER

By communication dated July 30, 1975, Clarence M. Kelley, Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), United States Department of Justice, advised as follows concerning an interview by representative of the Senate Select Committee (SSC) of Special Agent (SA) Lawrence F. Wirick, concerning Counterintelligence Program (COINTELPRO) and Bureau investigation of the Black Panther Party (BPP) (see Appendix page). Director Kelley stated as follows:

"I have waived your employment agreements for purposes of these interviews. Each should note that he has the right to counsel; however, the FBI is unable to provide private counsel. There are certain privileged areas concerning which SAS would not be required to answer questions. Areas concern information which might divulge identities of FBI sources; information relating to sensitive methods and techniques; information which might adversely affect on-going FBI investigations; and information which originated with other agencies, including foreign intelligence agencies."

INTERVIEW OF SPECIAL AGENT
(SA) LAWRENCE F. WIRICK BY
SSC STAFF MEMBER

On July 31, 1975, at 11:45 a.m. Mr. Lester Seidel of the United States Senate Select Committee (SSC) interviewed SA Lawrence F. Wirick at the San Diego Office of the FBI. No Advice of Rights was furnished SA Wirick and it was not necessary for the interviewee to consult with an FBI representative. The interview was terminated at 12:50 p.m. and as best recalled included the following discussion in the form of questions and answers:

Seidel: You understand that this is an informal interview and is in connection with the Bureau's COINTELPRO as it relates to the FBI investigation of the BPP?

Wirick: Yes, but for what purpose is the Senate conducting this survey?

Seidel: To aid in formation of new legislation so that the FBI and other Government agencies will have more definite guidelines to follow.

Wirick: I believe the Congress already through lack of information, isolated instances and some hysteria have enacted too many restrictive laws that prevent the FBI and other Government agencies from protecting the law abiding element of our society from the "bad guys".

Seidel: (He was in general agreement) Did you handle the COINTELPRO from 1970 through March, 1971?

Wirick: Yes, but I believe the BPP ceased to function locally about November or December, 1970. As I recall my function was to write a progress type letter regarding progress which described the illegal activities of members of the BPP and to report that this information had been furnished local police agencies but information generally emanated from confidential informants.

UNITED STATES SENATE
SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES
(SSC)

INTERVIEW OF SPECIAL AGENT
(SA) LAWRENCE F. WIRICK BY
SSC STAFF MEMBER

Seidel: What type of illegal activities and did your program in any way instigate illegal activities on the part of the BPP?

Wirick: Criminal acts committed by local members of the BPP is what I was referring to. I don't believe it was ever necessary to instigate any illegal acts or in any way entrap BPP members in criminal acts. The majority of local BPP members were thieves, narcotics addicts, lazy, unemployed and were hero worshipers of the BPP in Oakland, California. They wanted to emulate the Oakland organization, but their own dishonesty, et cetera, was a constant source of turmoil amongst the local group.

I recall, date unknown, information was received regarding Kenny Denmon (Kenneth Lee Denmon), one time head of the local BPP, that he was using stolen credit cards.

/ Information was received that Walter Wallace (Walter Carl Wallace, Jr.) was on narcotics and that he and his wife, Velma, were stealing to get money for narcotics and that Velma's mother was also involved in local thefts.

All above information was furnished local law agencies and local arrests were made. Furnishing the above type of information is a function and responsibility of the FBI.

The BPP in San Diego was very effective in causing their own problems and their own extinction and their criminal activities were not restricted to the examples I've given.

Seidel: Did the COINTELPRO try to disrupt the BPP Breakfast Program?

Wirick: No, not to my knowledge. I recall that soon after the Breakfast Program was started that other members of the BPP accused Ken Denmon of stealing money from contributions made to the Program.

On second thought I believe we did disrupt the BPP Breakfast Program in that we received complaints from several dairys and bread companies, et cetera, that they had been approached by BPP members with veiled threats of extortion if they did not donate quantities of food et cetera to the BPP Breakfast Program. The FBI and local police investigated and I believe as a result their practices were discontinued, but the investigation failed to establish a prosecutable offense of extortion.

Seidel: Did you have any connection with distribution of "cartoons" depicting BPP members as compromising each other et cetera?

Wirick: No, but I have seen "cartoons" in the BPP newspaper. Have you ever seen or read copies of the BPP newspaper?

Seidel: No

Wirick: They featured "cartoons" showing the "pigs" (police) being killed, stabbed, et cetera. I believe I recall seeing some "cartoons" showing how the BPP would kill the "honkies" (white people). They were similar to the propaganda leaflets used by the Nazis against American troops before an attack. The articles in the BPP newspaper were even more foul.

Seidel: Did the COINTELPRO promote dissension between the BPP and the US Group (see Appendix page)?

Wirick: Not to my knowledge. As I recall there was never any need to. They were constantly at odds with each other and on a gang type basis were trying to eliminate each other. I believe Sylvester Bell, a San Diego BPP member was killed by an US Group member and John Savage, another local BPP member was killed by an US Group member.

In Los Angeles two other BPP members, names not recalled, were allegedly killed by US Group members. I believe this led to the popular saying in Southeast San Diego section where most blacks live that the score (game) was, "US 4 - BPP 0".

Seidel: What do you think of the merits of a proposal to spray shipments of the BPP newspaper with a noxious acid so that readers would be confronted with a vile odor when attempting to read the paper?

UNITED STATES SENATE
SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES
(SSC)

INTERVIEW OF SPECIAL AGENT
(SA) LAWRENCE F. WIRICK BY
SSC STAFF MEMBER

Wirick: After thought, no. Because the paper itself was so vile and anti-white that the odor would never stop BPP members from reading same. I've always hoped that a large segment of the population, especially the "do-gooders" could or would experience the nauseous reaction I have felt after reading the illiterate, foul-mouthed, anti-white, anti-Government, BPP paper. I think everybody should read a copy of the BPP paper so that they will know the type and character of BPP members.

Seidel: What do you think about anonymous letters sent to spouses of BPP members saying the husband was sleeping with a white girl, et cetera?

Wirick: Most wives of the members I recall were also BPP members and/or common-law-wives. Many BPP members did have liaison with white girls but I doubt if such a letter would bother most spouses of BPP members. However, such a letter might be of value under certain circumstances, example: the stories that were spread during World War II which were not necessarily all true regarding Hitler, Mussolini, General Patton and others.

Seidel: In your opinion was the COINTELPRO of any value? Should it be changed? Do you have any suggestions for changes, or should it be eliminated completely?

Wirick: Yes, as I recall, it acted as a progress letter of the BPP, its direction, its dissension, its change in leadership, and indications of its slow local demise because of the character of the local BPP members, and as a summary of its activities for FBIHQ. I recall that we made certain requests to conduct some types of counterintelligence against the BPP, but I do not recall that the Bureau ever authorized any counterintelligence act which might be productive.

Change? COINTELPRO is not being utilized to the best of my knowledge and has not been for some time.

I believe that in about two or three years Congress will be frantically asking the FBI why we did not furnish them intelligence, advance knowledge of a demonstration, a riot and other civil unrest and elimination of the COINTELPRO has been another step in the direction of placing the FBI and other law enforcement agencies in a position where we cannot react to the activities of groups such as the BPP which have been formed with the main purpose of overthrowing the United States.

INTERVIEW OF SPECIAL AGENT EARL M. PETERSEN
BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Special Agent (SA) Earl M. Petersen was interviewed at the San Diego office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) on July 31, 1975, by U. S. Senate Select Committee (SSC) Staff Member Lester Seidel. The interview began at 10:05 A.M. and ended at 11:35 A.M. Assistant Special Agent in Charge (ASAC) Arthur G. Barger was available nearby for consultation. He was not consulted during the interview.

Prior to the interview, SA Petersen had been advised by San Diego FBI officials that FBI Headquarters had waived the employee agreement not to furnish information for the purpose of this interview. He was advised that he had a right to counsel but that the FBI was unable to provide private counsel for him.

SA Petersen was advised that he would not be required to answer questions that might divulge the identity of any FBI source; that would reveal information relative to sensitive methods and techniques; or information which originated with other agencies, including foreign intelligence agencies.

SA Petersen was advised that the interview was to involve only the COINTELPRO as it applied to the Black Panther Party (BPP) (see appendix).

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

INTERVIEW OF SA EARL M. PETERSEN BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Staff Member Lester Seidel identified himself to SA Petersen and stated that he was not warning SA Petersen of his rights as the interview was such that such a warning was not required. He advised SA Petersen that he did not have to talk to him and that any information furnished was on a voluntary basis. He stated that information furnished to him would be handled with discretion.

Mr. Seidel:	Were you in charge of the COINTELPRO in San Diego from March, 1968 through October, 1968?
SA Petersen:	This was possible but the dates the program was assigned to me are not recalled.
Mr. Seidel:	What was the name of the squad to which you were assigned at that time?
SA Petersen.	The Security Squad.
Mr. Seidel:	Who did the squad investigate? Was it groups such as US, Inc. (see appendix) and the BPP?
SA Petersen:	Yes, such groups as US, Inc., the BPP, and the Nation of Islam (NOI) (see appendix).
Mr. Seidel:	And possibly splinter groups?
SA Petersen:	Yes, groups that would form and disband and which could possibly be called splinter groups.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF SA EARL M. PETERSEN
BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel: How long have you been in the Bureau?

SA Petersen: Twenty-four years as of June 25, 1975.

Mr. Seidel: Where have you been assigned?

SA Petersen: In Boston, Baltimore, New York, Tampa, and San Diego.

Mr. Seidel: The Bureau has indicated that you were a coordinator of the COINTELPRO in San Diego. As such, what were your duties?

SA Petersen: The duties for the most part consisted of preparing letters to the Bureau asking for authority to take some specific action in the program; awaiting the reply from the Bureau; and then, if any action was taken, to advise the Bureau of the results of such action. It is noted that many of the requests to take specific action were turned down by the Bureau.

Mr. Seidel: Were you the focal point of the program?

SA Petersen: Yes, in the sense that any idea for action to be taken in the program was transmitted to the Bureau for approval by me and if approval was received, it would be related to whomever had suggested the activity. I would then report any results to the Bureau.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF SA EARL M. PETERSEN
BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel: Did you get heavy pressure from Bureau officials to take action in this program?

SA Petersen: Not any more than any other case, and I had a number of other cases assigned to me at the time the COINTELPRO was assigned to me.

Mr. Seidel: What type of things did you do?

SA Petersen: I do not recall at this time any specific action taken in the program. I do recall that a Black Panther leader, Walter Wallace, was removed as leader of the party in San Diego. I believe it was suspected that he might have cooperated with the FBI. This could have been accomplished by interviewing him where the interview could be seen by other party members. If the Agents shook his hand, smiled, and acted like he was a friend, it might plant the seed of suspicion in the minds of other BPP members. I do not recall specifically whether this happened but at any rate, Wallace was not trusted and was removed as leader of the party.

Mr. Seidel: Could such a thing get Wallace killed or injured?

SA Petersen: I do not see how it would because there would be no way anyone could determine whether or not Wallace was, in fact, cooperating with the FBI. He was probably removed by the BPP as a precautionary measure. I cannot recall whether or not Wallace was removed while I was coordinator of the program.

Mr. Seidel: Was COINTELPRO successful?

SA Petersen: I was not too impressed with its success in San Diego while I had it assigned to me because it was a new program and it took some time to get it established and working. Most of the success was probably due to information obtained regarding criminal violations, mostly local in nature, which was furnished to local law enforcement officers, causing the arrest of BPP members. This would have been done whether or not we had a COINTELPRO. It was necessary to prepare a letter to the Bureau asking authority to take action and then wait for a reply authorizing the activity. Many times suggested COINTELPRO activity suggestions would be turned down.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE
ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC)

INTERVIEW OF SA EARL M. PETERSEN BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel made available Xerox copies of Bureau letters captioned, "Counter-Intelligence Program; Black Nationalist - Hate Groups," dated August 25, 1967 and March 4, 1968. These were read by SA Petersen, who said he could not specifically recall reading the letters.

Mr. Seidel: Was contact with the police formal or informal?

SA Petersen: Contact was personal or telephonic contact and at one time, information furnished to individual officers was confirmed by letter to the Chief of Police. It is not recalled if this was the policy during the time COINTELPRO was assigned to me.

Mr. Seidel: What happened to SA Roy Burns?

SA Petersen: He was transferred to the Butte, Montana Field Office.

Mr. Seidel: Did he do anything wrong? I understand Agents were sometimes transferred to Butte as a disciplinary measure.

SA Petersen: SA Burns wanted to be transferred to Butte and requested the transfer. The Special Agent in Charge (SAC), Mr. Evans, was transferred there and may have helped SA Burns get moved there.

Mr. Seidel: How old is Bob Baker:

SA Petersen: Probably 51 or 52 years old.

Mr. Seidel: Did he retire early?

SA Petersen: No. He was in a position to retire and retired because he wanted to take advantage of a cost of living increase by retiring prior to a certain date, such as June 30.

Mr. Seidel: Were the BPP and US, Inc. both violence oriented groups?

SA Petersen: Very definitely. There was extreme friction between the BPP and US, Inc. at all times.

Mr. Seidel: Do you recall some caricatures used in connection with COINTELPRO?

SA Petersen: Yes.

Mr. Seidel: Who had the program at that time?

SA Petersen: I believe SA Burns had it then.

Mr. Seidel: What were the cartoons?

SA Petersen: I recall seeing them but do not recall any specific cartoon.

Mr. Seidel: Do you think anything done in COINTELPRO could have had a reaction causing someone to kill an individual in the other group?

SA Petersen: Because of the extreme antagonism between the two groups, anything we did would have had about the same effect as a gnat biting an elephant. I do not think COINTELPRO had that kind of impact.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE

INTERVIEW OF SA EARL M. PETERSEN
BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel: Did you ever supervise any technical installation or electronic surveillance of the BPP in San Diego?

SA Petersen: No. I don't recall anything like that being done here.

Mr. Seidel: How would you feel about writing a letter to a wife saying her husband was sleeping with various other women if the husband was a BPP leader?

SA Petersen: I would hesitate to do this because it might break up a family. If the facts were true and this might cause the BPP leader to be less effective, it would probably be a good counterintelligence move.

Mr. Seidel: I am referring to Page 91 of a BPP COINTELPRO summary which indicates that a BPP leader was living with a white girl and an anonymous letter was written to others in the BPP saying that this individual was living with a white girl. Do you recall anything about that?

SA Petersen: I believe that leader could have been Kenneth Denmon in San Diego. I recall that he was living with a white woman and that others in the BPP were made aware of this in some manner. The BPP in San SA Petersen (continued): Diego was teaching children to hate and kill police officers. They planned violent criminal acts and were making plans to take over the established government at the first opportunity. If a leader of such a group could be discredited and removed, it would help to keep the group from becoming stronger, as they would have to select a new leader, and he would have to get the group reorganized. Denmon had many additional weaknesses which could be used in a counter-intelligence program.

Mr. Seidel: Do you recall a letter being sent to BPP Headquarters saying a leader of the BPP was cooperating with the police in Los Angeles?

SA Petersen: I do not recall such a letter.

Mr. Seidel: Do you recall some cards being sent to San Diego from Los Angeles saying, "Ron Karenga is impotent"?

SA Petersen: No, I do not recall such cards. Ron Karenga was a leader of US, Inc., not the BPP.

Mr. Seidel: Do you recall that cartoons were to be sent to BPP members to discredit the leaders?

SA Petersen: I recall the cartoons but do not recall whether they were sent to BPP members.

INTERVIEW OF SA EARL M. PETERSEN
BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel: Do you recall an anonymous letter being sent to the Catholic Church to have the priest of the church where the BPP breakfast program was operated removed from his office?

SA Petersen: I do not recall such an anonymous letter; however, I do recall that the priest was transferred by the church.

Mr. Seidel: Knowing that the BPP paper was a paper that taught and advocated violence and had cartoons in it that encouraged the killing of police officers by blacks and was a violence oriented paper, how would you feel about putting a corrosive liquid on the paper to keep it from being distributed?

SA Petersen: I would not do it as I would feel that it was a violation of the law and too drastic. I would not do it personally or personally approve of it.

Mr. Seidel: You have been very helpful and the information you have provided will be used in considering new legislation at some time in the future.

SA Petersen: In these tranquil times, it disturbs me greatly to read in the papers and to hear news broadcasts containing all kinds of allegations against the FBI and the CIA and

SA Petersen (continued):	other intelligence agencies. I like to work within the law and to be guided by legislation in my work. I would, however, hate to see such restrictive legislation passed that at some time in the future when we might be faced with violence-prone organizations trying to take control of the government, we would be unable to properly handle our responsibility for the internal security of the United States.

Dear Mr. Attorney General:

On behalf of the Select Committee, we wish to express our appreciation to you for meeting with us on Wednesday afternoon. We recognize the need for the Committee to have a complete understanding of the concerns of the Department of Justice so that our inquiry can proceed in the most responsible manner. Our meeting was extremely valuable in that respect, and you may be sure that we have given full consideration to your views.

The Committee has been informed that Mr. John T. Elliff, leader of the Domestic Intelligence Task Force, and members of his staff met yesterday with Mr. K. William O'Connor, Special Counsel for Intelligence coordination, and members of his staff to agree upon procedures for delivery of and access to FBI materials requested by the Committee. The proposed procedures which resulted from that meeting are satisfactory to the Committee.

We are pleased that your staff was able to meet promptly with our representatives and that they reached agreement without delay. The Committee expects that the proposed procedures will, if implemented, expedite its work during the coming weeks. As you know, one of our major concerns was that all of the problems with the Committee's outstanding requests for materials

PROPOSED PROCEDURES

(1) The Domestic Task Force Leader/or the Senior Staff will submit periodically a list of materials to which the Committee staff wishes access or of which the Committee desires delivery. The first such list will be delivered to the Department of Justice within 48 hours of the adoption of this procedure, and will summarize and supersede all the presently outstanding requests; this list will be in priority order, as fixed by the Committee, with fixed delivery/access dates specified. Those materials for which the Committee requests delivery or access shall be delivered to the Committee or made accessible in Room 4171 of the Hoover Building not later than within 48 hours of the date specified. The Committee Chairman and Vice Chairman shall be informed by the Attorney General, within 24 hours of receipt of the request, of any delay beyond 48 hours, the expected length of the delay, and the specific reasons for the delay. Partial access or delivery shall be proffered, by the Bureau of/to any materials requested, while the balance of such materials are being prepared. A partial proffer shall not extend the time of full response set forth herein.

(2) The following procedures shall apply (a) where delivery of materials requested might jeopardize FBI sensitive sources or ongoing operations, or (b) where the Domestic Task Force Leader or the Senior Staff requests access to materials, rather than delivery of materials to the Committee.

(3) The Department will furnish access at the Hoover Building in Room 4171 to those materials requested:

(a) only to the members of the Committee, where it is determined by the Attorney General that the materials involve peculiarly sensitive foreign intelligence sources and ongoing operations.

(b) In all other cases, to the appropriately cleared staff who will have access to all of the materials.

(c) An exception to (a) and (b) above is made for the names of so-called "live" informants or potential informants as defined in the FBI Manual of Instructions as to which no access will be furnished unless the identity of the individual as an informant or potential informant has already been made known to the Committee, or unless the Attorney General, the Chairman and Vice Chairman, jointly agree on the limited disclosure of such names to the Chairman and Vice Chairman.

The Committee Chairman and Vice Chairman shall be informed by the Attorney General, within 24 hours of receipt of the request, of any delay beyond 48 hours, the expected length of the delay, and the specific reasons for the delay. Partial access or delivery shall be proffered, by the Bureau of/to any materials requested, while the balance of such materials are being prepared. A partial proffer shall not extend the time of full response set forth herein.

(2) The following procedures shall apply (a) where delivery of materials requested might jeopardize FBI sensitive sources or ongoing operations, or (b) where the Domestic Task Force Leader or the Senior Staff requests access to materials, rather than delivery of materials to the Committee.

(3) The Department will furnish access at the Hoover Building in Room 4171 to those materials requested:

(a) only to the members of the Committee, where it is determined by the Attorney General that the materials involve peculiarly sensitive foreign intelligence sources and ongoing operations.

(b) In all other cases, to the appropriately cleared staff who will have access to all of the materials.

(c) An exception to (a) and (b) above is made for the names of so-called "live" informants or potential informants as defined in the FBI Manual of Instructions as to which no access will be furnished unless the identity of the individual as an informant or potential informant has already been made known to the Committee, or unless the Attorney General, the Chairman and Vice Chairman, jointly agree on the limited disclosure of such names to the Chairman and Vice Chairman.

Proposed procedure

July 18, 1975

The Honorable Edward H. Levi
Attorney General
U. S. Department of Justice
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Attorney General:

On behalf of the Select Committee, we wish to express our appreciation to you for meeting with us on Wednesday afternoon. We recognize the need for the Committee to have a complete understanding of the concerns of the Department of Justice so that our inquiry can proceed in the most responsible manner. Our meeting was extremely valuable in that respect, and you may be sure that we have given full consideration to your views.

The Committee has been informed that Mr. John T. Elliff, leader of the Domestic Intelligence Task Force, and members of his staff met yesterday with Mr. K. William O'Connor, Special Counsel for Intelligence coordination, and members of his staff to agree upon procedures for delivery of and access to FBI materials requested by the Committee. The proposed procedures which resulted from that meeting are satisfactory to the Committee.

We are pleased that your staff was able to meet promptly with our representatives and that they reached agreement without delay. The Committee expects that the proposed procedures will, if implemented, expedite its work during the coming weeks. As you know, one of our major concerns was that all of the problems with the Committee's outstanding requests for materials be resolved before the August recess so that the staff can fully prepare the materials for our use when we return. We believe the procedures are an appropriate and practical accommodation of our mutual interests. Indeed, we have instructed our staff to make every effort to accomplish the work of the Committee within this framework.

The prompt resolution of this matter demonstrates a spirit of cooperation which we hope will prevail in all our future relations. The Committee looks forward to working with you personally on issues of common concern during the months ahead.

Sincerely yours,

PROPOSED PROCEDURES

or the Senior Staff

(1) The Domestic Task Force Leader/will submit periodically a list of materials to which the Committee staff wishes access or of which the Committee desires delivery. The first such list will be delivered to the Department of Justice within 48 hours of the adoption of this procedure, and will summarize and supersede all the presently outstanding requests; this list will be in priority order, as fixed by the Committee, with fixed delivery/access dates specified. Those materials for which the Committee requests delivery or access shall be delivered to the Committee or made accessible in Room 4171 of the Hoover Building not later than within 48 hours of the date specified. The Committee Chairman and Vice Chairman shall be informed by the Attorney General, within 24 hours of receipt of the request, of any delay beyond 48 hours, the expected length of the delay, and the specific reasons for the delay. Partial access or delivery shall be proffered, by the Bureau of/to any materials requested, while the balance of such materials are being prepared. A partial proffer shall not extend the time of full response set forth herein.

(2) The following procedures shall apply (a) where delivery of materials requested might jeopardize FBI sensitive sources or ongoing operations, or (b) where the Domestic Task Force Leader or the Senior Staff requests access to materials, rather than delivery of materials to the Committee.

(3) The Department will furnish access at the Hoover Building in Room 4171 to those materials requested:

(a) only to the members of the Committee, where it is determined by the Attorney General that the materials involve peculiarly sensitive foreign intelligence sources and ongoing operations.

(b) In all other cases, to the appropriately cleared staff who will have access to all of the materials.

(c) An exception to (a) and (b) above is made for the names of so-called "live" informants or potential informants as defined in the FBI Manual of Instructions as to which no access will be furnished unless the identity of the individual as an informant or potential informant has already been made known to the Committee, or unless the Attorney General, the Chairman and Vice Chairman, jointly agree on the limited disclosure of such names to the Chairman and Vice Chairman.

(4) Those materials to which the staff has access may be reviewed and studied in Room 4171 of the Hoover Building and such notes may be taken as deemed appropriate by the Staff.

(5) The Committee staff shall select from these materials to which access is herein provided, those materials which it deems pertinent to the Committee's inquiries and necessary for delivery to the Committee's offices.

(6) The Bureau shall make copies of such materials as are specified by the staff under the provisions of (5) above for transfer to the Committee's offices

(a) before the copies of such materials are taken to the Committee's offices, the Bureau shall, within 24 hours of the selection, make appropriate excisions and paraphrases of information which might, if inadvertently disclosed, endanger sensitive FBI sources and ongoing operations.

(b) If the Task Force Leader or the Senior Staff has any objections to the excisions or paraphrases, the materials will be forthwith conveyed by the Bureau, with a written statement of its grounds for its position, to the Special Counsel who shall resolve the matter within 24 hours.

(c) In the event the matter is not resolved within 24 hours, the Special Counsel shall submit the matter forthwith to the Attorney General who shall notify the Chairman forthwith and arrange for an appropriate disposition.

(7) The Committee staff may remove to the Office of SSC for appropriate use, any notes which they may make upon review of screened material without such notes being reviewed by the Bureau. The Committee staff may remove notes on unscreened materials only is such notes are reviewed and cleared by the Bureau under the provisions of (6) (a) thru (c) above.

(8) The staff and the members of the Committee may examine the original materials to which the staff has been given access as extensively as necessary, in the Hoover Building at Room 4171.

(9) Where accepted by Attorney General and the Committee, these procedures may be modified only by their joint decision.

SUBJECT: Synopsis of Responses to Request for Comments on Proposed Procedures

ALL FBI INFORMATION CONTAINED
HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED
DATE 10/16/00 BY SP2ALM/KP

1. The Deputy Attorney General, Office of Legislative Affairs, and Civil Rights Division register no objections to the proposed procedures on access. OLA suggests inclusion of a preamble referencing security agreements and the need for proper security assurances from the Committee to the Attorney General.

2. Both the Criminal Division and Office of Legal Counsel address the short response time frames imposed upon the Attorney General, and OLC suggests certain language changes for purposes of clarity and focus.

3. The Attorney General is troubled by Item 9 and its need for modification as to categories of material not treatable by these proposed procedures or as to a later discovered need to make presently unanticipated changes to effect a smoother operation of the procedures.

4. The Bureau's comments on the proposed procedures are attached and should be read. This Office does not agree with the Bureau that the proposed procedures should be presented to the President and the President's Counsel.

5. No response has been received from the Solicitor General.

Memorandum

TO : The Deputy Attorney General
Attn: K. William O'Connor

DATE: July 18, 1975

FROM : Director, FBI

SUBJECT: PROPOSED PROCEDURES FOR ACCESS TO DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE FILES

In response to your memorandum dated July 18, 1975, captioned as above, we observe that the "substantial negotiations" which produced the proposed procedures did not include participation by a representative of the FBI and that the request for our views concerning disclosure of highly sensitive FBI material was first received at 11:14 a.m. today with a reply expected by 2:00 p.m. today. We respectfully suggest that not only should you afford greater opportunity for an expression of our views on this matter, but that any such proposed procedures should be presented to the President's Counsel for concurrence and for an expression of the President's views as to the general policy of the Executive Branch in this regard. Further, you may want to consider addressing the problem of the impact such general disclosure of files would have on pending criminal investigations.

A preliminary review in the time available revealed that certain items require considerable modification. For example, Item (3)(c) should be reconsidered with the following language:

> "An exception to (a) and (b) above is made for information that would tend to identify sources to whom the FBI has an obligation of confidentiality as to which no access will be furnished unless the identity already has been made known to the Committee, or unless the Attorney General, the Chairman and the Vice Chairman jointly agree on the limited disclosure of such identity to the Chairman and the Vice Chairman."

Item (6)(b) should be reconsidered with the following language:

"If the Task Force Leader has any objections to the excisions or paraphrases, the FBI will furnish a written statement of the grounds for its position to the Special Counsel who shall resolve the matter by negotiation within 24 hours."

Item (8) should be reconsidered with the following language:

"The Staff and the Members of the Committee may examine the original materials to which the Staff is given access as extensively as necessary between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, in the FBI J. Edgar Hoover Building at Room 4171."

In light of the difficulties described, it is my strong recommendation that such procedures should not be hastily agreed upon with the Committee and that full discussion should be had concerning this matter by representatives of the FBI, the Attorney General, the Committee and the Counsel to the President.

COMMENTS ON PROPOSED PROCEDURES

1. 48 hour lead time is very short and may create problems; 24 hour reaction time may be unreasonable for Attorney General.

2. The provision seems a little odd, out of context of negotiations.

3. Suggest that in 3(a), last line, word and should be or and "peculiarly sensitive" read to modify both foreign intelligence sources and ongoing operations.

4. No comment

5. No comment

6. Time frames are very restrictive; there should be a stated opportunity for TFL to work out any objections with FBI, before raising to Special Counsel - "...if the issue is not promptly resolved between the TFL and the FBI, the materials in issue will be conveyed..."

With the exception of the Solicitor General's Office, all Departmental components whose views were solicited have provided their views on the question of Congressional Access to Personal FBI Files.

OLC, OLA, and Criminal Division favor a combination of options 1 and 3. Civil Rights Division favors option 1. The Bureau chooses option 3.

This office recommends the adoption of the position articulated by OLC and concurred in by OLA and Criminal.

My view is that item 9 goes too far in that there must be some provision which allows the Department or the Committee to abrogate the arrangement. I should think the agreement could provide that at any time the Chairman of the Committee or the Attorney General could give a notification that the (1) agreement was not suitable for a particular category of material or (2) that for some reason the agreement was not operating suitably and that as to either one or two there would then be an endeavor to work out a suitable modification or different arrangement (but I think it has to be said that the arrangement can be cancelled by either party)

SUBJECT: Congressional Access to Personal Files Maintained by the FBI

Certain members of the Senate Select Committee have requested access to their personal files. The preferred mode of access is the subject of pending consideration by the Attorney General. As you know, under the mandate of the Senate Select Committee, access to the personal file of a member of the Senate Select Committee may be had without any consideration of Freedom of Information Act issues.

The Attorney General has considered several options, and has asked that you consider them and indicate hereon your view; he has asked that these views be delivered to me not later than 1:00 p.m., this afternoon so that he may promptly consider them. The options considered are not exclusive. If you have any suggestions other than the options indicated, please attach it to your response. Responses should be delivered to me in Room 4213, Main Justice, by the time indicated. Thank you for your cooperation.

OPTIONS

Option 1: Departmental staff examine the documents in the file and delete any references to sensitive sources or ongoing criminal investigation; thereafter, the file is made accessible to the Senator under controlled circumstances at the Department of Justice.

✓ Approved　　　　＿＿＿ Disapproved

Comment:

EITHER THIS OR 3 IS PREFERABLE BECAUSE I DON'T KNOW WHAT "PERSONAL FILES" LOOK LIKE, HARD TO CHOOSE

Option 2: Same as Option 1, except that a xerox of the documents as excised is delivered to the Senator.

Comment: PERHAPS SOME CONSIDERATION TO XEROX COPIES OF SPECIFIED DOCS AFTER REVIEW. EVEN THIS IS QUESTIONABLE, HOWEVER, BECAUSE OF "LEAK" PROBLEM.

Option 3: The file is assembled and the Senator given access to it, with certain papers withheld and the Senator is orally advised of the reasons for withholding of the documents.

SUBJECT: July 18 memo--congressional access to personal files maintained by the FBI

Without knowing how these files were compiled (public sources? wiretap? confidential informant?), or what is in them (personal matter of derogatory nature? national security information?), or why they exist, (I have read in newspapers that they exist, but that's all), I would probably choose in the absence of knowing something about these Option #1, with the understanding that copies of releaseable information can then be made available to the Senator according to criteria spelled out in the Freedom of Information Act. I assume, however, that whoever is advising the AG about this has actually read the files in question, at least sufficient to know in a generic sense the answers to the questions raised above.

Despite the fact that I am operating in a vacuum on this, I do appreciate being consulted.

K. William O'Connor, Esq.
Special Counsel for Intelligence Coordination
Office of the Deputy Attorney General
U.S. Department of Justice
Washington, D.C. 20530

Dear Mr. O'Connor:

I have received your letter of July 15 regarding access/delivery of documents requested in the Committee's letter of July 9, 1975. The following relates specifically to the procedure suggested for handling documents on the so called "Kissinger 17" surveillance, which is also applied in your letter to materials relating to electronic surveillance of the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City in August 1964, materials relating to the electronic surveillance of Dr. King, and possibly the O & C files.

I regard this suggested procedure as a major step forward and a recognition that previous arrangements were too cumbersome and time-consuming. Nevertheless, there are certain practical problems with the procedure which may be resolved by interpretation. For example, I assume that application of the procedure to the Atlantic City convention matters does not foreclose the Committee from receiving for use at its offices actual documents or portions of documents, as well as summaries. I understand that the FBI has no objection to providing such documents on this matter to the Committee for use at its offices.

Therefore, in order that the procedure you suggest may be applicable to all areas of Committee inquiry claimed by the Department to involve particularly sensitive matters, it should be interpreted as follows: the Committee staff will have direct access to all files and materials at FBIHQ: the Committee staff shall select certain documents from the files which it deems pertinent to the Committee's inquiry and necessary for the examination of witnesses or the establishment of certain facts during the course of the inquiry; the FBI shall at that time designate specific portions of such documents which might jeopardize particularly sensitive sources or methods; with respect to such specifically designated portions of documents, the Committee staff will prepare appropriate excisions or summaries of the information; the summaries will be checked at that time with senior Bureau executives to ensure the protection of particularly sensitive FBI sources or methods; thereafter, the excised documents and summaries will be removed to the Committee's offices; the Committee staff may check back to the original documents as extensively as necessary; staff notes on the designated specific portions of documents will not be removed from FBIHQ; and Committee members may, of course, at any time see the documents which the staff has seen.

I believe this interpretation can serve as a workable framework for Committee access to particularly sensitive FBI materials. You may be assured that the Task Force shares your concern for the need to provide special handling techniques to convey or secure any particularly sensitive information or materials, as indicated in the Outline for Inquiry Procedures. We hope this interpretation will facilitate the mutual effort by the Committee and the Department of Justice to accomplish this purpose.

I would appreciate receiving your immediate advice to me as to whether any further interpretation of this matter is required. Any public discussion of these arrangements and interpretations should be cast in such terms as will not jeopardize particularly sensitive FBI sources.

Sincerely,

Re: Access/Delivery of Documents Requested in Senate Select Committee Letter of July 9, 1975

Dear Mr. Elliff:

Pursuant to our conversation of July 11, and confirming it, the following arrangements are approved for access to materials and delivery of materials to the Senate Select Committee staff, in addition to that which has already been made available.

All the provisions of this letter, hereinafter stated, are, of course, subject to the agreements embodied in the Outline for Inquiry Procedures referenced in the Committee's letter of June 27, 1975. Particular reference will periodically be made to the second sentence of paragraph B, page 2, of that document which specifies:

> "...The agency will also specifically indicate any of such materials which are extraordinarily sensitive in order to facilitate the mutual effort by the Committee and the agencies to provide special handling techniques to convey or secure any particularly sensitive information or materials as appropriate..."

Special handling techniques in addition to those indicated herein may be required in order to protect the security of sensitive materials covered herein.

Please refer to the attachments to the July 9, letter:

Page 3, Paragraph 2, Subsection A. All of the FBI files on the so called "Kissinger 17" surveillance will be made available to you and specific appropriately cleared staff in Room 4171 of the Hoover Building. These documents may be reviewed and studied there, and you and such staff may take such notes as you deem appropriate; we have agreed that the notes are to be left in the secure room of the Hoover Building during your study. When your study is completed, you may prepare a summary of the information which you consider to be appropriate for Committee use. The summary must be checked with senior Bureau executives to ensure the protection of national security matters, protection of confidential sources of information, and observation of privacy considerations. Thereafter, the approved summary may be removed to the Committee's office and all the staff notes will be destroyed. You may check the summary back to the original documents as extensively as necessary, in Room 4171.

Page 3, Paragraph 2, Subsection B. Materials have already been transmitted regarding the Kraft matter and the agreement between his attorney and the Attorney General. When you have reviewed those materials, and have contacted Mr. Kraft's attorney, should you deem that appropriate, I understand you will contact me if further information is requested.

Page 5, Paragraph 3, A & B. As you may know, representatives of the King family, including Mr. Harry H. Wachtel, attorney, have formally expressed to the Department a special concern regarding any public disclosure of any derogatory information regarding Dr. King which may be contained in Bureau files. Subject to your reaching an agreement with such representatives of the King family, and the acceptance by the Department of such a written agreement, all of the materials related to the electronic surveillance of Dr. King, in the custody of the FBI, will be made available to you and specific appropriately cleared staff under the same conditions and with the same agreements as specified above with regard to the "Kissinger 17" surveillance.

Page 6, Paragraph 4. Those materials in the custody of the FBI which reflect and relate to electronic surveillance of the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City in August 1964, will be provided under the same conditions as articulated above with regard to the "Kissinger 17" surveillance.

Page 9, Paragraph C. A summary of procedures for mail covers has been provided by my recent letter to you. In addition to that, a statistical summary of mail covers on closed matters will be made available to you in Room 4171, together with access to the underlying documentation requesting the individual mail covers.

Documentation relating to the opening of mail will be withheld at present, due to ongoing investigations.

After your review of the mail cover summaries and any underlying documents you wish to review, we will discuss any further access which you may request to mail cover information.

Page 10, Paragraph E. I understand and accept your explanation that the word "implementation" in line 2 of paragraph E(1) does not seek access to the "raw" files of COINTELPRO programs. All of the memoranda originating the several COINTELPRO programs will be made available to you and specific appropriately cleared staff for review in Room 4171.

We will furnish to you, for your study at Senate Select Committee offices, a complete set of the excised exhibits A-E to the Petersen Report; as previously agreed, your staff may have access to any unexcised pages of Exhibits A-E which you may wish to see, and which will be maintained at Room 4171. The back up materials underlying any particular summary in A-E will be extracted from the "raw" files upon your request and made available to you for your study in Room 4171. General access to the "raw" files is not required, as I understand it, for your purposes under this agreement. General disclosure of information derived from documents other than the excised pages of Exhibits A-E will be made available subject to limitations to be determined, dependent upon the sensitivity of such information, in conference with appropriate Bureau officials and in accordance with the provisions of paragraph B of the Outline for Inquiry Procedures, to protect the considerations outlined above.

Page 14, Item I. This will confirm your understanding that certain Huston Plan documents prepared by the Bureau in response to your request under this heading have been delivered to the White House for "third agency clearance". This statement formally confirms my previous discussions with you of this fact when we met with Mr. Schwarz and Mr. Smothers on July 2. Be advised that the documents which have been transmitted to the White House for clearance will be forwarded to you, or made available for access, if appropriate, upon our receipt of the White House directions.

Page 16, Paragraph J. This will confirm our understanding that on July 14, there will be available for your review in Room 4171, a 160 page summary document reflecting an analysis of the O & C files.

After you have reviewed that analysis, I will discuss with you an appropriate further step with regard to the O & C files if such is indicated; such an agreement would be generally similar in terms to the foregoing arrangements.

I trust that this letter accurately reflects our understanding as reached in our discussion on July 11. If it does not, your immediate advice to me of any particulars in which we disagree in our understanding will be appreciated. In the meantime, I have furnished a copy of this letter to the Attorney General and the Deputy Attorney General and have requested the Bureau's cooperation in promptly making available the information indicated.

I would appreciate meeting with you and Mr. Schwarz and Mr. Smothers around July 18, for the purpose of discussing any problems which you may have identified and to clarify any outstanding documentary request which you may have, and to agree upon an appropriate schedule. Since we have received several additional requests from you, since the July 9, letter was delivered, it would seem appropriate to re-analyze your requirements in light of the agreements reached on July 11, reflected herein.

Sincerely,

K. William O'Connor

SUBJECT: PROPOSED PROCEDURES FOR ACCESS TO DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE FILES

62-116395-610

In response to your memorandum dated July 18, 1975, captioned as above, we observe that the "substantial negotiations" which produced the proposed procedures did not include participation by a representative of the FBI and that the request for our views concerning disclosure of highly sensitive FBI material was first received at 11:14 a.m. today with a reply expected by 2:00 p.m. today. We respectfully suggest that not only should you afford greater opportunity for an expression of our views on this matter, but that any such proposed procedures should be presented to the President's Counsel for concurrence and for an expression of the President's views as to the general policy of the Executive Branch in this regard. Further, you may want to consider addressing the problem of the impact such general disclosure of files would have on pending criminal investigations.

A preliminary review in the time available revealed that certain items require considerable modification. For example, Item (3)(c) should be reconsidered with the following language:

> "An exception to (a) and (b) above is made for information that would tend to identify sources to whom the FBI has an obligation of confidentiality as to which no access will be furnished unless the identity already has been made known to the Committee, or unless the Attorney General, the Chairman and the Vice Chairman jointly agree on the limited disclosure of such identity to the Chairman and the Vice Chairman."

Item (6)(b) should be reconsidered with the following language:

> "If the Task Force Leader has any objections to the excisions or paraphrases, the FBI will furnish a written statement of the grounds for its position to the Special Counsel who shall resolve the matter by negotiation within 24 hours."

Item (8) should be reconsidered with the following language:

> "The Staff and the Members of the Committee may examine the original materials to which the Staff is given access as extensively as necessary between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, in the FBI J. Edgar Hoover Building at Room 4171."

In light of the difficulties described, it is my strong recommendation that such procedures should not be hastily agreed upon with the Committee and that full discussion should be had concerning this matter by representatives of the FBI, the Attorney General, the Committee and the Counsel to the President.

SUBJECT: Proposed Procedures for Access to Department of Justice Files

Attached hereto is a sequence of proposed procedures which are being considered by the Attorney General for dealing with the Senate Select Committee, in regard to its desire for access to materials in the Departmental/FBI files.

This document is the result of substantial negotiations; it represents what we understand to be the ultimate scope of access desired by the Senate Select Committee.

The Attorney General wishes to be advised this afternoon of the views of the addressees; accordingly, he has asked that each of you call me before 2:00 p.m., and advise me of your general approval, disapproval, or view. Please excuse the urgency of the requested response; it is necessary to react on a very short fuse because of the extreme pressures which have been generated in this matter. PROPOSED PROCEDURES

(1) The Domestic Task Force Leader will submit periodically a list of materials to which the Committee staff wishes access or of which the Committee desires delivery. The first such list will be delivered to the Department of Justice within 48 hours of the adoption of this procedure, and will summarize and supersede all the presently outstanding requests; this list will be in priority order, as fixed by the Committee, with fixed delivery/access dates specified. Those materials for which the Committee requests delivery or access shall be delivered to the Committee or made accessible in Room 4171 of the Hoover Building not later than within 48 hours of the date specified. The Committee Chairman and Vice Chairman shall be informed by the Attorney General, within 24 hours of receipt of the request, of any delay beyond 48 hours, the expected length of the delay, and the specific reasons for the delay. Partial access or delivery shall be proffered, by the Bureau of/to any materials requested, while the balance of such materials are being prepared. A partial proffer shall not extend the time of full response set forth herein.

(2) The following procedures shall apply (a) where delivery of materials requested might jeopardize FBI sensitive sources or ongoing operations, or (b) where the Domestic Task Force Leader, chief counsel, c Minority cou requests access to materials, rather than delivery of materials to the Committee.

(3) The Department will furnish access at the Hoover Building in Room 4171 to those materials requested:

(a) only to the members of the Committee, where it is determined by the Attorney General that the materials involve peculiarly sensitive foreign intelligence sources and ongoing operations.

(b) In all other cases, to the appropriately cleared staff who will have access to all of the materials.

(c) An exception to (a) and (b) above is made for the names of so-called "live" informants or potential informants as defined in the FBI Manual of Instructions as to which no access will be furnished unless the identity of the individual as an informant or potential inf has already been made known to the Committee, or unless the Attorney General, the Chairman and Vice Chairman, jointly agree on the limited disclosure of such names to the Chairman and Vice Chairman.

(4) Those materials to which the staff has access may be reviewed and studied in Room 4171 of the Hoover Building and such notes may be taken as deemed appropriate by the Staff.

(5) The Committee staff shall select from these materials to which access is herein provided, those materials which it deems pertinent to the Committee's inquiries and necessary for delivery to the Committee's offices.

(6) The Bureau shall make copies of such materials as are specified by the staff under the provisions of (5) above for transfer to the Committee's offices

(a) before the copies of such materials are taken to the Committee's offices, the Bureau shall, within 24 hours of the selection, make appropriate excisions and paraphrases of information which might, if inadvertently disclosed, endanger sensitive FBI sources and ongoing operations.

(b) If the Task Force Leader has any objections to the excisions or paraphrases, the materials will be forthwith conveyed by the Bureau, with a written statement of its grounds for its position, to the Special Counsel who shall resolve the matter within 24 hours.

(c) In the event the matter is not resolved within 24 hours, the Special Counsel shall submit the matter forthwith to the Attorney General who shall notify the Chairman forthwith and arrange for an appropriate disposition.

(7) The Committee staff may remove to the Office of SSC for appropriate use, any notes which they may make upon review of screened material without such notes being reviewed by the Bureau. The Committee staff may remove notes on unscreened materials only is such notes are reviewed and cleared by the Bureau under the provisions of (6) (a) thru (c) above.

(8) The staff and the members of the Committee may examine the original materials to which the staff has been given access as extensively as necessary, in the Hoover Building at Room 4171.

(9) Where accepted by Attorney General and the Committee, these procedures may be modified only by their joint decision.

SUBJECT: Synopsis of Responses to Request for Comments on Proposed Procedures

1. The Deputy Attorney General, Office of Legislative Affairs, and Civil Rights Division register no objections to the proposed procedures on access. OLA suggests inclusion of a preamble referencing security agreements and the need for proper security assurances from the Committee to the Attorney General.

2. Both the Criminal Division and Office of Legal Counsel address the short response time frames imposed upon the Attorney General, and OLC suggests certain language changes for purposes of clarity and focus.

3. The Attorney General is troubled by Item 9 and its need for modification as to categories of material not treatable by these proposed procedures or as to a later discovered need to make presently unanticipated changes to effect a smoother operation of the procedures.

4. The Bureau's comments on the proposed procedures are attached and should be read. This Office does not agree with the Bureau that the proposed procedures should be presented to the President and the President's Counsel.

5. No response has been received from the Solicitor General.

6. This Office recommends that Item 9 be modified as suggested by the Attorney General and that the language modifications suggested by OLC for Items 3 and 6 be adopted.

7. It is further suggested that the Attorney General convene a meeting of the senior Bureau officials for the purpose of informing them of his policy decision in this matter.

My view is that item 9 goes too far in that there must be some provision which allows the Department or the Committee to abrogate the arrangement. I should think the agreement could provic that at any time the Chairman of the Committee or the Attorney General could give a notification that the (1) agreement was not suitable for a particular category of material or (2) that for some reason the agreement was not operating suitably and that as to either one or two there would then be an endeavor to work out a suitable modification or different arrangement (but I think it has to be said that the arrangement can be cancelled by either party)

Dear Mr. Attorney General:

On behalf of the Select Committee, we wish to express our appreciation to you for meeting with us on Wednesday afternoon. We recognize the need for the Committee to have a complete understanding of the concerns of the Department of Justice so that our inquiry can proceed in the most responsible manner. Our meeting was extremely valuable in that respect, and you may be sure that we have given full consideration to your views.

The Committee has been informed that Mr. John T. Elliff, leader of the Domestic Intelligence Task Force, and members of his staff met yesterday with Mr. K. William O'Connor, Special Counsel for Intelligence coordination, and members of his staff to agree upon procedures for delivery of and access to FBI materials requested by the Committee. The proposed procedures which resulted from that meeting are satisfactory to the Committee.

We are pleased that your staff was able to meet promptly with our representatives and that they reached agreement without delay. The Committee expects that the proposed procedures will, if implemented, expedite its work during the coming weeks. As you know, one of our major concerns was that all of the problems with the Committee's outstanding requests for materials . .

be resolved before the August recess so that the staff can fully prepare the materials for our use when we return. We believe the procedures are an appropriate and practical accommodation of our mutual interests. Indeed, we have instructed our staff to make every effort to accomplish the work of the Committee within this framework.

The prompt resolution of this matter demonstrates a spirit of cooperation which we hope will prevail in all our future relations. The Committee looks forward to working with you personally on issues of common concern during the months ahead.

Sincerely yours,

COMMENTS ON PROPOSED PROCEDURES

1. No problem with this procedure, but feels that the time limits are too tight

2. No central policy objection

3. Suggest incorporate a preamble phrase that makes reference to security agreements; a specific means for assurance to the AG by the Chairman and Vice Chairman of proper security measures

Assistant Attorney General
Office of Legal Counsel

COMMENTS ON PROPOSED PROCEDURES

1. 48 hour lead time is very short and may create problems; 24 hour reaction time may be unreasonable for Attorney General.

2. The provision seems a little odd, out of context of negotiations.

3. Suggest that in 3(a), last line, word and should be or and "peculiarly sensitive" read to modify both foreign intelligence sources and ongoing operations.

4. No comment

5. No comment

6. Time frames are very restrictive; there should be a stated opportunity for TFL to work out any objections with FBI, before raising to Special Counsel "...if the issue is not promptly resolved between the TFL and the FBI, the materials in issue will be conveyed..."

7. Define "screened" by reference to 6(a) above

8. No comment

9. No comment

In response to your memorandum dated July 18, 1975, captioned as above, we observe that the "substantial negotiations" which produced the proposed procedures did not include participation by a representative of the FBI and that the request for our views concerning disclosure of highly sensitive FBI material was first received at 11:14 a.m. today with a reply expected by 2:00 p.m. today. We respectfully suggest that not only should you afford greater opportunity for an expression of our views on this matter, but that any such proposed procedures should be presented to the President's Counsel for concurrence and for an expression of the President's views as to the general policy of the Executive Branch in this regard. Further, you may want to consider addressing the problem of the impact such general disclosure of files would have on pending criminal investigations.

A preliminary review in the time available revealed that certain items require considerable modification. For example, Item (3)(c) should be reconsidered with the following language:

> "An exception to (a) and (b) above is made for information that would tend to identify sources to whom the FBI has an obligation of confidentiality as to which no access will be furnished unless the identity already has been made known to the Committee, or unless the Attorney General, the Chairman and the Vice Chairman jointly agree on the limited disclosure of such identity to the Chairman and the Vice Chairman."

Item (8) should be reconsidered with the following language:

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC); INTERVIEW OF SUPERVISOR RICHARD H. BLOESER BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

On August 5, 1975, Supervisor Richard H. Bloeser was interviewed by SSC Staff Member Lester Seidel at the Los Angeles FBI Office regarding the COINTELPRO/Black Panther Party (BPP).

Mr. Seidel advised Supervisor Bloeser that the interview was voluntary, but did not advise Supervisor Bloeser of his rights in this matter.

Mr. Seidel inquired of Supervisor Bloeser as to how many offices he had served in, his length of service in the Bureau, and how long had been spent on intelligence investigations. Supervisor Bloeser replied that he had served in Philadelphia, El Paso and Los Angeles, had been in the Bureau approximately 24½ years, and had been assigned to intelligence work for 22 years.

Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether Supervisor Bloeser believed that the Bureau had placed undue pressure on the field to come up with counter intelligence proposals concerning the BPP and was it difficult to come up with a proposal. Supervisor Bloeser responded that there was no undue pressure placed on the field by the Bureau, that the COINTELPRO/BPP was merely another case assigned to an agent and that agent, as in any other case, had the responsibility of handling the matter whether it concerned the solving of a case or the submission of proposals. Mr. Seidel was also informed that it was not unduly difficult to come up with a proposal and that a number of proposals were rejected at the field level and never submitted to the Bureau.

Mr. Seidel inquired specifically as to counter intelligence proposals involving cartoons ridiculing the BPP.

Supervisor Bloeser responded that he vaguely remembered such proposals but without reviewing the file had no definite recollection. Mr. Seidel did not request that the file be reviewed.

Mr. Seidel inquired specifically about a business card which allegedly had been prepared by the Bureau bearing the phrase "Karenga is impotent." Mr. Seidel requested Supervisor Bloeser's views on the distribution of this card by the FBI. Supervisor Bloeser responded that he vaguely remembered the card, that he thought it was humorous, and that the word impotent had various meanings.

Mr. Seidel then inquired about the blood feud which existed in the past between the US Organization and the BPP and the efforts of the Bureau to keep this feud alive and thus promote violence. He specifically inquired as to the personal feelings of Supervisor Bloeser concerning any counter intelligence proposals which, if placed in operation, could lead to violence between the two groups.

Supervisor Bloeser responded first that personally he had no apologies for the counter intelligence program as a whole, that proposals submitted six or seven years ago were believed necessary at that time due to the circumstances, specifically that at that time the BPP and the US Organization were involved in violent activity against the community as a whole. Mr. Seidel was informed that the feud between the US Organization and the BPP occurred long before the FBI COINTELPRO became involved in the feud and that any proposals approved by the Bureau had relatively little effect on the violence committed by either group. Mr. Seidel was also reminded that six or seven years ago the Congress of the United States fully supported the war in Vietnam in which thousands of people were killed but that under today's circumstances no support has been given to South Vietnam.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC);
INTERVIEW OF SUPERVISOR RICHARD H. BLOESER
BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

Mr. Seidel then posed a hypothetical question involving the following factors: Would Supervisor Bloeser now or in the past approve a counter intelligence proposal whereby one extremist with a criminal record of violence be anonymously informed that another extremist with a record of criminal violence was an informant for the FBI, knowing that the alleged informant might be injured or killed. Supervisor Bloeser replied that under the present conditions such a proposal would not be approved, but that he could not give an answer as to what his feelings might have been six or seven years ago under any given situation. Mr. Seidel was again reminded that Congress in the past has not hesitated to support wars which kill thousands of people but that recently they have criti~~zed~~cized the CIA for allegedly plotting to assassinate one individual whose death might prevent a war. Mr. Seidel was also informed that it was ironic that Congress was investigating another agency of the Federal Government which was attempting to prevent revolutionary violence in this country.

Mr. Seidel then inquired into the counter intelligence proposals approved by the Bureau in relation to the actress Jean Seberg and Raymond Hewitt, a leader of the BPP. This proposal concerned the fact that Seberg, who was then married to a French producer, admitted being pregnant by Hewitt who was also married at the time. The Bureau approved anonymously leaking this information to a Hollywood columnist. Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether Supervisor Bloeser did or did not believe that this was an invasion of privacy. Supervisor Bloeser responded that the item was newsworthy and that it would have been any fair game for any newsmen had they come across it in the course of their business which they could have probably easily done, and that certainly Congress would not have criti~~zed~~cized a newspaper for printing such an item or claim it to be an invasion of privacy. Mr. Seidel inquired as to the purpose of this particular operation and he was informed that Miss Seberg was giving support to the BPP and that it was hoped that such publicity would prevent any future support by her of the BPP.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC);
INTERVIEW OF SUPERVISOR RICHARD H. BLOESER
BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

He was further advised that it was the responsibility of the FBI to determine who was funding revolutionary groups in this country.

Mr. Seidel then inquired as to whether or not it was difficult to conduct intelligence investigations under present statutes and under the Criminal Rules of Procedure. He was informed that it was somewhat difficult to conduct an effective intelligence operation under present circumstances and that perhaps new legislative or executive orders would be helpful to the FBI in order to allow the FBI to continue its investigations in the Domestic Intelligence field. Mr. Seidel inquired as to whether it would be helpful to have specific legislation which might completely separate criminal and intelligence operations so one would not taint the other. He was informed that if such legislation could be enacted that it would undoubtedly help the FBI.

The interview lasted approximately two hours and it was not necessary to consult with another Bureau representative during this time.

U. S. SENATE SELECT COMMITTEE ON INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES (SSC); INTERVIEW OF SA WALLACE E. WARD BY SSC STAFF MEMBER

On August 5, 1975, Special Agent (SA) Wallace E. Ward was interviewed by SSC Staff Member Lester Seidel at Los Angeles Field Office regarding Cointelpro/Black Panther Party. The interview lasted from 9:12 a.m. to 9:22 a.m.

SA Ward was advised by Mr. Seidel that the interview was voluntary but SA Ward was not advised of his rights in this matter.

Seidel asked how long SA Ward had been a Special Agent with the FBI, and SA Ward responded nine years. He further requested previous offices SA Ward had been assigned to, and SA Ward responded Cincinnati, Ohio. Seidel advised the Bureau informed him that SA Ward had been assigned Cointelpro/Black Panther Party in June 1969. Seidel requested to know what work SA Ward had been assigned before this, to which SA Ward responded he could not remember, but believed general criminal work.

Seidel requested to know what specific instructions were issued with regard to operating Cointelpro/Black Panther Party. SA Ward advised that due to his employment agreement, the sensitive nature of the Bureau work, and the possible overlap of Bureau investigation, he did not feel he could respond to any further questions. Seidel advised he understood SA Ward's position as he, Seidel, had worked criminal matters himself and knew the need for secrecy. The official interview was terminated at this point.

ENCLOSURE

In a friendly conversation that followed for approximately ten to fifteen minutes, SA Ward advised Seidel that he had only been assigned the Cointelpro/Black Panther Party matter for three months and had no knowledge that would be of value to Seidel. The Cointelpro/Black Panther Party matter was not further discussed. The rest of the time was involved in discussing points of interest in the Los Angeles basin of tourist value, such as Marineland, Palos Verdes, and Sunset Boulevard, Los Angeles.

SA Ward advises that he is aware that the Director waived his employment agreement with certain exceptions regarding privileged areas. With this in mind, SA Ward reviewed his employment agreement and concluded, after noting the following quotation, that he could not disclose any information without following the prescribed procedure:

"The burden is on me to determine, prior to disclosure, whether information may be disclosed, and in this regard, I agree to request approval of the Director of the FBI in each such instance by presenting the full text of my proposed disclosure in writing to the Director of the FBI at least thirty (30) days prior to disclosure".

With this in mind, SA Ward answered Mr. Seidel as noted heretofore.

Lester B. Seidel, Senate Select Committee Staff Member, requested on 8/19/75 that SA Richard H. Ross be made available for Staff interview concerning the Bureau's investigation of the Black Panther Party and COINTELPRO as it applies to the Black Panther Party. Seidel stated that he would prefer handling this particular interview in conjunction with his interview of SA Richard W. Held. He requested he be advised when the appropriate clearance procedures have been completed and SA Ross is available for interview. SA Ross is currently assigned to the Intelligence Division. SA Held was previously cleared for interview by memorandum dated 8/1/75.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That SA Ross be released from existing employment agreement for purposes of an interview concerning the Bureau's investigation of the Black Panther Party and COINTELPRO as it relates to the Black Panther Party.

(2) That an Intelligence Division representative be available but not present during the interview of SA Ross to assist in making a determination whether a question may be properly responded to.

Honorable Edward H. Levi
Attorney General

Dear Mr. Attorney General:

I am writing to call your attention to a matter which may be a cause of concern to you and to the Select Committee at some time in the future.

As you may know, a special unit has been established in the FBI Intelligence Division to handle this Committee's requests for materials and to handle certain arrangements for the Committee staff's interviews. The Special Agents assigned to this unit accompany Bureau witnesses to the Committee offices, travel to out-of-town locations where Committee staff interviews are conducted, and apparently "de-brief" interview subjects after the interviews.

One possible problem has arisen with this arrangement. As you are aware, one of the alleged abuses which the Committee is examining pursuant to S. Res. 21 involves the FBI's activities with respect to the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. As the inquiry has proceeded, information has been developed to indicate that one of the Special Agents who has been handling Committee staff interviews, "de-briefing" witnesses, and, presumably, compiling materials with respect to the King matter was also the supervisory case agent during the time that some of the alleged FBI improprieties regarding Dr. King took place. Moreover, as a logical step in our investigation, it was recently necessary to interview this Special Agent to determine the nature and extent of his involvement in and knowledge of the alleged abuses at the time when he served as supervisory case agent with respect to the King case. During the interview he did provide detailed information concerning his substantial participation in this matter.

The Committee in no way intends at this juncture to pre-judge the propriety of the FBI's activities with respect to Dr. King, and it would be inappropriate to characterize the conduct of any of the Bureau's personnel regarding this case until all the facts are in. Nevertheless, I am concerned that in this kind of situation, the interests of the FBI and the Department of Justice might best be served, from the standpoint of appearances, by reconsidering the assignment of this Special Agent to the King matters. It is possible that some may conclude that there is a conflict between the Special Agent's personal interest, and the interests of the FBI and the Justice Department in ensuring that full disclosure to the Committee is made with respect to this case.

Finally, let me assure you that the Committee has no evidence that the present arrangement has prevented the Committee from obtaining the full disclosures sought; but it seems to me that it would be mutually beneficial for appropriate steps to be taken so that we will both be able to assure the American people and the Congress that our oversight responsibilities were fulfilled in an objective and impartial way.

I hope you will share my view that this course will best serve our respective interests and, of course, the interests of the country.

Sincerely,

Frank Church

Dear Mr. Chairman:

Your thoughtful letter of August 14, 1975, to the Attorney General was referred to me and it has been carefully considered. I certainly agree with the view expressed therein that it is important the Committee's oversight responsibilities be fulfilled in an objective and impartial way. To that end, I have required employees with experience to assist in locating the full documentation called for in Committee requests. The voluminous files and variety of indices entries would have been much more difficult to sort for your benefit without the assistance of persons having such expertise.

I appreciate your assurance that the Committee has no evidence that our arrangements have prevented the Committee from obtaining the full disclosure sought. I have absolute confidence that those FBI employees participating in our current efforts to assist your Committee are working in good faith and have not inhibited full disclosure. Further, I have required close supervision of this work by superiors and thereby avoided the possibility of an improper decision by any one individual affecting the responses.

Honorable Frank Church

As to the availability of an FBI representative during Committee staff interviews of present or former FBI employees concerning alleged "abuses," I have determined that such no longer will be generally afforded. The subject matters requiring consultation with such witnesses are essentially four: (1) information which identifies or may identify FBI confidential sources; (2) information which may adversely affect on-going FBI investigations; (3) information concerning sensitive methods and techniques; and (4) information obtained from third agencies, including foreign intelligence agencies. Witnesses may be cautioned prior to interview concerning such problem areas and refrain from furnishing the information pending consultation with FBI Headquarters. This modification is effective immediately.

I hope that you will bring this matter to the attention of your staff and that in so doing you also will review the standards of objectivity and impartiality being followed in their interviews to assure protection of individual rights.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Attorney General:

I would like to bring to your personal attention a situation which has severely restricted our efforts to establish the relevant facts with respect to one of the areas of alleged abuse which is the subject of inquiry pursuant to S. Res. 21.

I have been informed by the staff that numerous materials which have been requested during the past several weeks which pertain to the FBI's activities with respect to Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., have been withheld from the Committee by the Department because of concern expressed by Mr. Harry Wachtel, the attorney for the King family and estate, as to the appropriateness of the Department's "disseminating" to the Committee contents of conversations monitored during electronic surveillances of Dr. King.

Upon reviewing the lists of materials requested, I am at a loss to understand how most of those items could conceivably be encompassed by the issues raised by Mr. Wachtel, especially in view of the fact that our letters of request have specifically pointed out that tape recordings and transcripts should not be supplied.

Accordingly, I want to take this opportunity to place the Committee formally on record as reaffirming all of the outstanding requests for materials relating to the King matters, with the limited exception of (1) Mr. DeLoach's August 24 - 27, 1964 memoranda which pertain to the 1964 Democratic National Convention, and (2) those portions of any other requested materials which actually summarize or quote from conversations monitored during any electronic surveillance of Dr. King.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Mr. Clarence M. Kelley
Director, FBI

FROM: William D. Ruckelshaus

SUBJECT: Substantive Issues Regarding the Future of the FBI

F.B.I.

Pursuant to our conversation earlier this week, I hereby submit a list of issues that will undoubtedly be coming up from time to time regarding the present and future status of the FBI. This list is by no means exhaustive, but is a good starting point from which to go forward and come to grips with many of the problems that will have to be addressed in the near future in one form or another. The list, in no particular order, is as follows:

1. Wiretaps. The whole question of wiretaps should be reviewed with a view toward developing a firm Department-wide policy on the issues involved.

2. The issue of whether the function of intelligence gathering should be separated from the law enforcement function of the FBI. This issue should be studied with particular reference to those countries which have adopted this division and a clear analysis of the pros and cons developed. From this analysis again should flow a clear policy.

3. The statutory basis for the FBI's intelligence gathering functions. Is there any statutory basis? Is the whole function based on Presidential and Attorney General directives? Should a firm statutory basis be sought?

4. Should the FBI Director be appointed for a term of years? (All the issues surrounding the appointment and tenure of the Director should be explored.)

5. Should the FBI be an independent agency or continue as part of the Justice Department? The pros and cons of this recurrent question should be analyzed again with the purpose of adopting a firm policy.

6. Assuming the FBI remains a part of the Justice Department, what should be the relationship of the Director to the Attorney General? All the organizational and substantive relationships should be examined.

7. Investigative techniques. The whole question of the variety of techniques from clearly legal to clearly illegal should be examined in some detail. In addition, the question of authorization and Congressional oversight should be touched upon in this examination.

8. The whole question of files and their disclosure must be studied with a view toward understanding why files are kept, what categories of files there are, what information is contained in the files and whether the purposes for maintaining files are being met under present policy. In the issue of disclosure, when, where, and to whom must also be thoroughly examined.

9. The question of a Civilian Review Board for the intelligence gathering activities of the FBI should be examined. This is a recurrent suggestion which came up at the Princeton conference in addition to other forums.

10. What should be the relationship between the FBI and the other Departments and Agencies of the Federal Government? To what extent should the FBI keep tabs on other Departments and Agencies through the development of sources and informants in those Agencies?

X

11. Should the FBI have foreign officers reporting directly to the Director?

This list is not exhaustive, but should get us started toward an indepth examination of some of the problems facing the Bureau in the future.

INTELLIGENCE INVESTIGATIONS~~

Reference is made to my memorandum to the Attorney General August 7, 1973, captioned as above, which among other things proposed that an Executive order be issued which would define FBI responsibilities concerning Federal statutes relating to the national security.

My memorandum made reference to new guidelines recently issued in manual form and to a study which was prepared in August, 1972, at the request of Acting Director L. Patrick Gray, III.

On August 15, 1973, Mr. Jack Goldklang, Office of Legal Counsel, Department of Justice, called Mr. Nicholas P. Callahan's office and referred to the guidelines and study mentioned above. He said that these documents are likely to be pertinent to his analysis of the proposal set forth in my memorandum, and he asked that the two documents be made available to him.

For your information, the guidelines referred to are the recently revised Section 87 of our Manual of Instructions concerning Investigations of Subversive Organizations and Individuals. As you know, our Manual of Instructions has not heretofore been disseminated outside the FBI, although this particular Section (87) was loaned to the Department for study recently in connection with a request made of the Department by Senator Edward M. Kennedy.

However, we recognize that these two documents may assist the Department in analyzing our proposal concerning the issuance of an Executive order and therefore I am enclosing a copy of the two documents requested by Mr. Goldklang. We request that these documents not be disseminated outside the Department of Justice; that the documents not be duplicated or photographed; and that, if possible, they be returned to the FBI after they have served their purpose.

If you, or members of your staff, feel that additional information would clarify our proposal, it is suggested that consideration be given to arranging conferences between members of your staff and the FBI officials in the Intelligence Division and our Legal Counsel's Office who have conducted considerable research into the matter.

ISSUE: Should the Intelligence Gathering-Function of the FBI Be Separated From the Law Enforcement Function of the FBI?

Note that the issue, as originally raised, referred to law enforcement and intelligence functions. What was meant by intelligence was the missions of internal security and counterintelligence. Criminal intelligence, e.g., against organized crime, was intended to fall within the law enforcement mission. However, the functions of the FBI do not neatly fall within "intelligence" and "law enforcement" categories. Internal security cases are both intelligence and law enforcement operations, and counterintelligence sometimes involves arrests and prosecutions, i.e., law enforcement. To most accurately reflect the diverse missions of the FBI the terms law enforcement, internal security, and counterintelligence will be used throughout this paper.

Preface

1. The Problem: revolves around the question whether the three missions can be accommodated by one agency. That is, are they so distinct in nature that an organizational structure set up to perform one of the missions absolutely cannot perform the others; or can all three missions be accommodated but only to the detriment of the others; or can all the missions be adequately performed by one agency?

2. The Present Policy: is that all three missions are performed by the FBI. The FBI organizational structure is primarily a unitary one, i.e., there is one organization with a multiplicity of responsibilities, which can be broken down into three general missions, law enforcement, internal security (domestic) and counterintelligence (foreign). The organization's personnel are hired and catalogued into one of three general functional categories, agent, steno, and to a lesser degree, clerks, without further differentiation based on mission, i.e., no employees, with rare exceptions, are criminal or counterintelligence specialists, all are generalists and are regularly interchanged among the three general missions. The administration of cases at headquarters and, to a lesser extent, the conduct of investigations in the field follow the same format in all three general areas of responsibility.

The underlying rationale for, and history behind, these concepts is:

Personnel - the generalist allows for a highly flexible, mobile force which can be deployed, generally solely on the basis of manpower needs, i.e., any agent can do any job in the FBI. There are some exceptions; some employees have unique abilities which tend to make them less mobile in the eyes of administrators, e.g., language or technical factors in the case of agent deployment and promotion; they are more determinative in cases of clerks: special employees, translators, etc.

Administration of cases and conduct of investigation these were originally geared to accommodate a relatively few criminal and civil investigative matters, and as the responsibilities of the organization grew they were modified and adapted, within the unitary structure, to accommodate the various missions. Thus they are quite similar in all three missions.

3. The Issues Raised:

a. Are the missions of law enforcement, internal security, and counterintelligence separable?

b. If so, is complete separation possible, practical or politically feasible or desirable?

c. Can the three missions be accommodated in one organization?

d. By doing so, do any of the missions suffer?

e. If all three missions can be accommodated in one agency, is the FBI currently doing it the best way possible?

f. If not, is it practically or politically feasible or desirable to change the FBI's way of performing the mission?

g. Why are other Western intelligence services separate from law enforcement agencies?

4. Options for Future Policy:

The missions of law enforcement, internal security, and counterintelligence are separate, distinct and distinguishable functions, even though each partakes a little of each other. Law enforcement is investigation after a crime has been committed to identify suspects and build a case for prosecution; counterintelligence is the identification, penetration and neutralization of foreign intelligence activity in the U. S.; and internal security is identification and thwarting of home-grown plots to subvert the government and activities within the U. S. in illegal support of foreign causes, whether by U. S. citizens of foreigners.

The missions overlap to some degree. For example, law enforcement requires some intelligence collection, and is intimately concerned with internal security criminal acts, e.g., foreign related terrorist bombings, skyjackings, gunning, and subversive groups' kidnappings, bank robberies, bombings, etc. Counterintelligence sometimes results in criminal prosecution, and some internal security groups are funded by, and act on behalf of, foreign intelligence services. Internal security is a hybrid; the basis for its investigation is that acts, politically motivated, are being committed in violation of the U. S. criminal law. Yet, the investigation may be a continuing effort, based on continuing acts threatening the internal security without actually violating the criminal law, and thus the investigation is more like a counterintelligence investigation, than like the typical law enforcement closed cycle of crime, investigati and prosecution.

While counterintelligence could adequately, and with more success in some cases, be handled by an organization totally separate from one with law enforcement powers, internal security work, in many cases, is directly related to criminal prosecution. There has been little effort, and less success, in most English speaking Western democracies in prosecuting domestic "subversives," even those with foreign ties; however, prosecution is often a principal, if not primary, objective in cases involving emigre bombing and harassment of foreign diplomatic establishments, fund and arms procurement for foreign political groups, politically motivated terrorist acts, e.g., skyjacking, etc.

An examination of the services of the democracies mentioned above, viz., Britian, Australia and Canada, reveal that all do distinguish between the pure law enforcement function and the counterintelligence/internal security function; however, there is not a total separation of the functions. For example, the British Security Service (MI-5) handles counterintelligence exclusively with MI-5 case officers, but places it's internal security investigations in the hands of the Special Branches of the local constabularies (comparable to the intelligence divisions of local U. S. police departments). The Australian Security Intelligence Organization (ASIO), modeled after MI-5, and of recent vintage (post W.W.II), handles all counterintelligence and internal security investigation with its own officers; however, it is rivailed to some extent in the internal security field by the Intelligence Bureau of the national Commonwealth Police. The Royal Canadian Mounted Police, a truly national police force, with extensive local and Federal jurisdiction, has branched off its intelligence division into a new, near autonomous Security Service, with operational procedures more akin to MI-5 and ASIO than to traditional law enforcement.

In short, these countries recognize that the political, social and foreign policy considerations which must go into counterintelligence and internal security investigations make them a different animal from "routine" criminal investigation; yet, they also recognize that the agency with internal security jurisdiction must also have an intimate and close working relationship with a law enforcement agency.

SENSITIVE FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE SOURCES

Complete separation, at least of the internal security function from law enforcement, does not appear to be practically feasible. MI-5 and ASIO were originated without law enforcement powers, and MI-5 candidly admits it would like to become part of a national police force. RCMP Security Service case officers would not consider surrendering their police powers.

Separation of the counterintelligence function would be more practically feasible; however, the commingling of counterintelligence and internal security interests, and the threat of a merger of the counterintelligence function with the positive foreign intelligence collection agency, especially in the U. S., are both practical and political reasons militating against this course.

Separation of the internal security function also presents serious political considerations. Internal security or as some say, at least in reference to its "subversive" investigations, political intelligence, is the most controversial of government's intelligence collection activities. In the U. S., this function was originally given to the FBI which had established for itself a reputation for being responsible, competent, and most importantly, politically neutral, and had the confidence of most Americans. It is recognized that this reputation is not etched in stone, and that because of the diversity of peoples, political views, and activities tolerated in the U. S. no internal security agency can, using human judgement, attempt to fulfill its responsibility without offending someone, sometime, someplace.

It is to the advantage of an internal security agency, which is subjected to such political pressures, to be somewhat insulated by being part of a larger, respected organization which has a high profile as a competent and fair investigative agency in the less politically complex law enforcement and counterintelligence fields. Adding to this insulation is the tradition of FBI political independence, and the new Congressional concern with keeping the FBI politically independent. While the law enforcement and counterintelligence wings of the FBI dislike the controversies into which its internal security wings drags the FBI name, separation of internal security into a separate agency would probably subject it to more intense political pressures, both from within the administration and without, which pressures it might not be capable of withstanding. Such separation appears politically unfeasible and undesirable.

Practical considerations against divestiture of the counterintelligence and internal security functions from the FBI are that: basic criminal investigative experience equips men in many areas to be intelligence officers; a pool of trained criminal investigators is available to the intelligence missions to draw from, either on an ad hoc emergency basis, e.g., seizure of an embassy or political kidnapping or skyjacking, or as candidates for the position of intelligence officer; a divestiture might result in the loss to the counterintelligence and internal security wings of the effective use of the FBI name, reputation, and contacts and sources built-up over years using the FBI name.

The RCMP has shown that all three missions can be accommodated in one agency, although the distinctive character of each mission requires internal adjustments of policy, structure, administration, personnel considerations, and operations.

Implementation of adjustments within the FBI is being considered at this time.

Consequently, based on above considerations, the FBI recommends that all three missions of law enforcement, internal security, and counterintelligence remain with the FBI.

SUBSTANTIVE ISSUES REGARDING
THE FUTURE OF THE FBI

Technical Surveillance - general

Reference is made to your memorandum of August 20, 1973, detailing a format to be followed in setting forth our responses to your memorandum of July 20, 1973, captioned "Substantive Issues Regarding the Future of the FBI." Attached is an undated study of 17 pages with a five-page appendix captioned "Electronic Surveillance."

This study was prepared in response to your July 20, 1973, request, prior to receipt of your format memorandum of August 20, 1973. The responses to most of the questions raised in your August 20, 1973, memorandum are contained in this study. Rather than repeat points considered in this study, it is attached and it is recommended it be read prior to the attached paper dated September 14, 1973, written according to your suggested format. This second paper considers issues raised in your August 20, 1973, memorandum not discussed in our first study, e.g., "Options for Future Policy." Attached to the September 14, 1973, paper is a copy of a petition for rehearing in U.S. v. Ivanov, and a July 11, 1973, memorandum concerning the Ivanov case to that date. These attachments pertain to a discussion of foreign national security electronic surveillance in the September 14, 1973, paper.

I. AUTHORIZATION OF CONSENSUAL, TITLE III, AND NATIONAL SECURITY ELECTRONIC SURVEILLANCES

The legal foundation for each of the above types of electronic surveillance differs, and in part as a consequence of that, the administrative procedure for securing authorization to use each type differs.

A. Consensual

The current law is that as long as one party to a conversation, whether over the telephone or in person, consents to a monitoring of that conversation by another or a recording of that conversation by another or by himself, such a monitoring or recording is legal, and may be introduced into evidence in a legal proceeding.

At present, the monitoring or recording of telephone conversations by the FBI with the consent of one of the parties, e.g., via a device attached to the consenting party's telephone or a monitoring via use of an extension telephone, is authorized internally within the FBI by either a Special Agent in Charge or, if the case is "sensitive," by a Headquarters official, generally the Director. On the other hand, the present policy with regard to consensual monitoring of nontelephone conversations, e.g., body or hidden recorders or transmitters, is that the Attorney General must approve these in advance, except in an emergency, at which time the Director (or someone designated by him) can approve them and then promptly notify the Attorney General. The method of requesting Attorney General approval, or of notifying the Attorney General of the exercise of the emergency authorization, is a memorandum to the Attorney General setting forth the identity of the target, the background of the case, and the reason for the request or authorization.

B. Title III

These electronic surveillances are permitted by act of Congress for the purpose of gathering evidence of enumerated crimes. A requirement for the submission of an affidavit to a court showing probable cause that a crime is being committed and that evidence not obtainable otherwise can be obtained via the electronic surveillance is set forth in the statute. Current procedure is to submit to the Attorney General a copy of the affidavit the FBI proposes to submit to the court, with a cover memorandum setting forth the background of the case. The affidavit has been worked out between FBI field personnel and the local United States or Strike Force attorney, and between FBI Headquarters personnel and Department of Justice attorneys before submission to the Attorney General. The Attorney General either approves or disapproves proceeding with the application for court approval via a memorandum to the Director.

C. National Security

The continuous position of the Department of Justice and several Presidents has been that the President has the constitutional power to authorize warrantless electronic surveillances in the exercise of his Articles II and IV responsibilities "to conduct foreign affairs" and "to protect the States against invasion." This power has generally been exercised by the Attorney General for the President. While not specifically approving this interpretation or intending to grant or restrict any powers along these lines, but rather as a declaration of noninterference, Congress, when it passed Title III, stated in 18 U.S.C. 2511(3) that nothing in Chapter 119, Title 18, of the U.S.C. or in Section 605 of the Federal Communications Act of 1934 limited the constitutional powers of the President (whatever they might be) to authorize electronic surveillance: (1) to protect the Nation against actual or potential attack or other hostile acts of a foreign power; (2) to obtain foreign intelligence information deemed essential to the security of the United States; (3) to protect national security information against foreign intelligence activities; (4) to protect the United States against the overthrow of the Government by force or other unlawful means; (5) (to protect) against any other clear and present danger to the structure or existence of the Government.

In United States versus U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan (407 U.S. 297), commonly called the Keith case after Judge Damon Keith, the Supreme Court held that the President did not have the power to authorize warrantless electronic surveillance directed against purely domestic organizations (and their members). The Court stated that the issue in Keith fell within the language of categories 4 and 5, as above, of 18 U.S.C. 2511(3), and that it was not deciding on cases involving individuals or organizations that had a "significant connection" with a foreign power.

Consequently, since Keith, the only requests for national security warrantless electronic surveillance referred to the Attorney General for approval involve individuals or organizations with a "significant connection" with a foreign power. The procedure for submitting these requests is uniform. The Director submits to the Attorney General a memorandum requesting approval for initiation or continuation of an electronic surveillance on a particular individual or organization; an attachment which is a summary of background information and the circumstances on which the request is based; and a memorandum from the Attorney General to the Director approving the electronic surveillance based on, and in the language of, one or more of categories 1 - 3 of 18 U.S.C. 2511(3). If the Attorney General approves the electronic surveillance, he signs and returns this latter memorandum and keeps for his records a copy of the Director's memorandum to him and a copy of the attached summary.

II. BACKGROUND OF FEDERAL ELECTRONIC SURVEILLANCE LAW

The term electronic surveillance encompasses both wiretapping (tap), i.e., the interception of a telephone conversation by a third party, and microphone surveillance (bug), i.e., the interception of a nontelephone conversation by means of a microphone which can lead either to a recorder or merely transmit the conversation to a third party, or both. Both wiretapping and microphone surveillance can be conducted with or without the knowledge and consent of the parties to the conversation. Consensual monitoring, i.e., tapping or bugging with the consent of one of the parties to the conversation, has generally been held to be legal, and is not considered in the following discussion.

The separate development of the law pertaining to wiretapping and microphone surveillance is, since passage of Title III of the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 and the Keith decision, apparently of historical interest only.

Prior to Title III and Keith, the law that developed around electronic surveillances concerned itself primarily with the admissibility of evidence obtained from electronic surveillances rather than with the basic issue of the "legality" of electronic surveillance itself. Evidence, or evidence obtained from leads, gathered via wiretapping was excluded from any criminal prosecution on the basis that presentation of such evidence was a "disclosure" prohibited by Section 605 of the Federal Communications Act; and evidence, or evidence obtained from leads, gathered via a microphone surveillance or a wiretap was excluded if it was determined the installation required a "trespass" and was thus an unlawful search and seizure. (These decisions often turned on technicalities such as minimal physical penetration by a "spike mike.")

Title III established the Congressional intention that electronic surveillance, under specific conditions, is to be lawful and the evidence obtained therefrom admissible.

Title III also, while not conferring any statutory authority on the President, indirectly recognized that he was authorizing warrantless electronic surveillances in matters affecting national security, and stated that Title III or Section 605 of the Federal Communications Act did not affect any such powers he might have.

Title III did not distinguish between wiretaps and microphone surveillances, and court decisions since Title III involving both criminal and national security matters seem to be drifting away from the artificial bases that distinguished these electronic surveillances in the past and are looking at the real issue of governmental powers versus Fourth Amendment rights and the right to privacy. The requirement of prior judicial review, the element on which Keith turned, is a new factor in judicial consideration of electronic surveillances, introduced by Title III.

III. NATIONAL SECURITY ELECTRONIC SURVEILLANCE

A. Domestic

1. The Keith Decision

The case originated as U.S. versus Plamondon, et al., and involved Federal prosecution of defendants accused of bombing the CIA office in Ann Arbor, Michigan, in September, 1968. Pursuant to a defense motion, Federal Government electronic surveillance records were checked and revealed Plamondon had been intercepted via a national security wiretap on the Black Panther Party office in Oakland, California.

Under current court procedure regarding national security electronic surveillances, the Government is required to disclose to the court all interceptions; the judge then determines whether the interception was legal or illegal. If he finds it to be illegal, he orders the prosecution to make available to the defense all the logs and tapes pertaining to the interception so that the defense can determine if any of the case against it is based on illegally obtained electronic surveillance evidence.

The trial Judge Damon Keith held that the President had no power to authorize electronic surveillance of the Black Panther Party without prior judicial approval, i.e., a warrant, that therefore the wiretap was illegal, and the prosecution had to turn the logs and tapes of the conversation over to the defense.

The Government appealed this decision to the Supreme Court, thus the case at that level was titled U.S. versus U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan, commonly called the Keith case.

On June 19, 1972, the Supreme Court affirmed Keith's decision and held that the President has no warrantless, national security power to authorize electronic surveillance of domestic organizations (or their members). The Supreme Court defined a domestic organization as one having no "significant connection" with a foreign power, its agents or agencies.

The Justice Department, in the words of Deputy Assistant Attorney General Kevin J. Maroney before the Senate Subcommittee on Administrative Practice and Procedure on June 29, 1972, stated that it understands "significant connection" to mean that the domestic organization must be substantially financed by, or in active collaboration with a foreign power for the purpose of committing unlawful activities against the United States Government.

2. Guidelines and Procedures Currently Used by the FBI and the Department of Justice in Determining Whether a Proposed National Security Electronic Surveillance Falls Within/Without the Keith Decision

The Keith decision applies solely to a domestic organization (and its members) "with no significant connection with a foreign power." The issues are what constitute a "domestic organization" and "significant connection."

The Department of Justice has issued the FBI no formal oral or any written guidelines on these issues.

The reason is that the standard to be applied is a "facts and circumstances" test in each case in the light of the Supreme Court's language in the Keith case and the Department of Justice's position as stated by Mr. Maroney before the Subcommittee.

The Supreme Court in Keith said that while it was "attempt(ing) no precise definition" the scope of its decision was limited to a "domestic organization...composed of citizens of the United States...which has no significant connection with a foreign power, it agents or agencies." The Court also recognized the difficulty in distinguishing "between 'domestic' and 'foreign' unlawful activities directed against the Government of the United States where there is collaboration in varying degrees between domestic groups or organizations and agents or agencies of a foreign power."

The Subcommittee asked the Department of Justice what level of foreign dominance and control of a domestic group would be considered sufficient to bring the group into the area of foreign activities on which the Court has not yet ruled. Maroney replied:

"The Keith decision has suggested a standard of 'significant connection with a foreign power, its agents or agencies.' We do not interpret this as meaning casual, unrelated contacts and communications with foreign governments or agencies thereof. We would not try to apply this standard without the presence of such factors as substantial financing, control by or active collaboration with a foreign government and agencies thereof in unlawful activities directed against the Government of the United States. Obviously, such factors will be present in a very minimum number of situations. (Emphasis added.)

"I wish to assure the (sub)Committee on behalf of the Attorney General, that the Department of Justice accepts both the letter and the spirit of the Court's ruling in the Keith case. It is the intention of the Executive Branch to utilize electronic surveillance in present and future national security matters in full and ungrudging application of the rationale of the decision." (Emphasis added.)

The FBI carried on an informal dialogue with the Department of Justice after the Keith decision in an attempt to establish some general guidelines in the abstract, but the discussions eventually came back to the above language, and the conclusion that each case requires a facts and circumstances test, and an exercise of the independent judgment of the Attorney General on the facts presented.

As a result, the FBI submitted some borderline cases, which it recognized as such, to the Attorney General in order to get a feeling of how he and the Department of Justice applied the above standard to specific fact situations. Some were approved, some refused. As a result the FBI feels it has a fairly clear idea of the outer limits, beyond which no electronic surveillance will be approved.

The lack of formal guidelines beyond the Court's language and Maroney's testimony presents no practical or administrative difficulty within the FBI. As Maroney noted, the factors he related would be present in a very minimum number of cases. That is true. Prior to Keith, domestic national security electronic surveillances conducted by the FBI had been winding down for some time. At the time of the Keith decision only six, four telephone and two microphone, were in effect. The few cases in which are present some of the factors noted by Maroney are subjected to joint scrutiny by, and discussion between, FBI field and Headquarters supervisory personnel, and only after these feel the FBI may have a case does the field initiate the request, which must be personally approved by the field supervisor and the Special Agent in Charge. Upon receipt, the Headquarters supervisor drafts a memorandum to the Attorney General, setting forth all pertinent facts, including those showing foreign involvement, on which the request is believed justified. He must also be able to justify the request in the language of one or more of the first three categories of 18 U.S.C. 2511(3). The request is presented through channels (i.e., Headquarters unit chief, section chief, branch chief, Assistant Director of the Intelligence Division, Associate Director, and Director) to the Attorney General who must make an independent judgment.

There are arguments pro and con that the lack of formal written guidelines pose an added threat to the Fourth Amendment rights or right to privacy of a domestic organization or individual. The argument that it does pose an added threat would seem to be based on the supposition that formal guidelines would be exclusive, and binding in all instances. Any guidelines issued would probably be more illustrative of the above standard than definitive. Formal written guidelines made available to the public might curtail criticism that we are operating without a definitive standard, however, they might also trigger criticism that they are too vague, not interpretive of the Court's intent, etc.; and, should a case arise that does not fit squarely within the guidelines but could possibly be justified on a broader standard, reasonably within the Court's language, we could be criticized for not adhering to our own guidelines. Both career professionals in the FBI and Department of Justice attorneys review the electronic surveillance request for need, sufficiency, and legality. The Department of Justice has committed itself, and the FBI, to abiding by the letter, spirit, and rationale of the Keith decision (and has expanded upon the decision to the extent of Maroney's testimony). If legal action ensues, whether criminal or civil, the courts in looking at the legality of a national security electronic surveillance are bound only by the Keith decision regardless of any Department of Justice guidelines.

In summary then, the procedure is: the FBI does not submit a request to the Attorney General for approval of an electronic surveillance upon a domestic organization composed of United States citizens, unless it has a "significant connection" with a foreign power, its agents or agencies; by "significant connection" the FBI and the Department of Justice understand that the domestic organization must be substantially financed by, controlled by, or in active collaboration with such foreign power for the purposes of committing unlawful activities against the United States Government. The FBI presents its request to the Attorney General with all the facts and circumstances on which the request is based, and he must exercise an independent judgment as to whether the request falls within this standard and the letter, spirit, and rationale of the Keith decision.

Senator Kennedy has expressed concern in the past that a political appointee, the Attorney General, rather than career professionals, is the final authority on these matters. This is a two-edged sword. If the ultimate authority were non-public career professionals, there would be less response from them than from the appointee of an elected official to public pressure criticizing procedures and decisions.

On the other hand, the Attorney General's decision could possibly be based more on personal political attitudes and motivation than on his interpretation of the law.

The present procedure attempts to meet both shortcomings. The Attorney General does not recommend or initiate electronic surveillance requests; they are initiated by and processed through several levels of career professionals who at each step judge whether the request falls within the standard. The request is then sent to the Attorney General, who refers it to the Internal Security Section, Criminal Division, of the Department for its independent judgment, before he makes the ultimate decision. Thus, any electronic surveillance request, if it makes it to the Attorney General, has already been approved by the career professionals. It is arguable that a career professional might be more cautious if he, and his agency, bore the final authority and responsibility rather than passing both on to another agency. There is no airtight response to this; it is a question of human motivation, sense of obligation, duty and responsiblity. The impulse to be less than diligent is countered by an employee's professionalism and career considerations.

3. Status

The President has no warrantless power to authorize purely domestic national security electronic surveillances. He may have the power to subject domestic targets to electronic surveillance, but these electronic surveillances must be subjected to prior judicial review, i.e., a warrant, before installation. Admissibility of evidence obtained from such electronic surveillances is a correlative question, not yet directly considered. Presumably, such evidence would be admissible.

B. Foreign

The legality and admissibility of evidence issues have not yet been directly considered by the Supreme Court. The issue of "legality," based on whether prior judicial review is required (key issue in Keith), was resolved in the Government's favor by the United States District Court, District of New Jersey, in United States versus Ivanov. Following an ex parte, in camera inspection of the surveillance logs by the district court and argument on the legality issue by the parties, the court sustained the authority of the Attorney General to acquire foreign intelligence information by warrantless electronic surveillance.

The United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit reversed and remanded, assuming, arguendo, that the President did have such authority and that therefore any electronic surveillances in the case were legal. Further, the Appellate Court felt it had to assume "in the present posture" of the case, that the case was in fact built on electronic surveillance evidence. Consequently, the Appellate Court held that since the case arose prior to passage of Title III, Section 605 of the Federal Communications Act of 1934 applied, and it prohibited "divulging" of electronic surveillance results as evidence in court.

The issue of the legality of foreign national security electronic surveillances is also currently under advisement by the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit in the case of United States versus Enten. In Keith, the Supreme Court specifically noted that two lower courts (the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in United States versus Clay, 430 F.2d 165 (1970) and the United States District Court, Central District of California in United States versus Smith, 321 F. Supp. 424 (1971)) have held that "warrantless surveillance... may be constitutional where foreign powers are involved."

The argument that even foreign related electronic surveillances should be subject to initial judicial review is based on the argument that this is the only guaranteed method of protecting the Fourth Amendment rights and right to privacy of aliens, and United States citizens who might be involved. The argument on the other side is that the nature and objective of the activity, viz., foreign intelligence gathering, the needs of security, the many nonprosecutive factors to be considered, and often the time element, do not lend themselves to effective or efficient initial judicial review; consequently, the Government must be granted a measure of confidence to utilize this technique on its own authority, with the safeguards of protection from conviction or the remedies of a civil action available to any target of an electronic surveillance, if the Government abuses this authority.

This area is still in limbo, the same condition as prior to Title III and Keith. Until Ivanov and Enten, or more likely until a post Section 2511(3) espionage case, actually built on electronic surveillance evidence, are decided by the Supreme Court, the Government, to be safe, must be willing to sacrifice a criminal prosecution to obtain electronic surveillance intelligence.

IV. VALUE OF NATIONAL SECURITY ELECTRONIC SURVEILLANCES

(See classified Appendix)

V. DOMESTIC "INTERNAL SECURITY" ELECTRONIC SURVEILLANCE: ALTERNATIVES TO KEITH PROHIBITION

There are several elements within United States society which pose a threat to the safety and tranquility of segments of that society, e.g., police officers, symbols of the "Establishment," etc. While some of these elements claim to be "revolutionary" and claim as an ultimate objective the overthrow of the United States Government, there is no responsible opinion that feels any of these elements have any chance of success in toppling the Government. Yet, they do pose a significant threat of inflicting serious, and sometimes extensive, damage on individuals and property.

In combatting these elements, law enforcement is confronted with the opposite of its usual task. Ordinarily, law enforcement is confronted with a completed crime and investigates to identify suspects and to prove guilt; in these cases it has the suspects, e.g., individuals or groups have said they intend to murder police officers, bomb buildings, etc., so law enforcement's job is then to thwart commission of the crime. This is an intelligence investigation. It is conducted prior to a threatened criminal act, not after the act, and as such ranges wider and looks into more fawcets of the suspect's behavior. Yet, it is not a "fishing expedition"; it is based on some solid indication that the suspect intends to, and has the capability of, committing some crime.

Because of the exaggerated rhetoric of many of these elements, which never do actually commit a crime, the difficulties in identifying specific individuals as suspects, in showing a cause-effect relationship between the urgings and claims of group leaders and the act of the actual triggerman or bomber, and in showing suspected imminence of the criminal act, it is almost impossible to make a probable cause showing, as we understand that term today, to support a warrant for restricted types of investigation. Essentially what law enforcement has, or depending on your emphasis, all that law enforcement has, is a suspicion, based on stated criminal objectives of these elements, claims of criminal accomplishments, and indications from behavior and attitudes, that these elements may engage in destructive criminal behavior sometime in the future.

Because these elements threaten and commit crimes in furtherance of their stated goal of overthrowing the United States Government, investigation of them has often proceeded on a "national security" basis; and because there is no practical, immediate prospect of their accomplishing this goal, the "national security" foundation for investigation of them has, in many quarters, not been taken seriously, and is often suspect because of the latitude that has been allowed in "national security" investigations as opposed to simple criminal investigations.

The difficulty is that these domestic "internal security" cases lie somewhere between what is generally accepted as "national security" matters and plain, simple criminal violations. If one interprets national security to mean only matters which threaten the stability of the Government, either from within or without, then these cases are not national security matters; yet, they pose a threat to the safety and tranquility of the community beyond individual incidents of crime, or even random sprees of criminal acts by an individual or group. These cases also have some effect on national and international attitudes towards U.S. standards, morale, government, law enforcement, and the elements involved, e.g., "Why can't law enforcement protect society, and itself, against attacks"; or "These people are victims of a repressive system and attack is their only effective avenue of protest for change."

Consequently, law enforcement is confronted with a situation wherein it is threatened with criminal acts in furtherance of a claimed political goal, the mere condition of being so threatened often having an impact beyond a completed routine criminal act (although many of these threats are eventually carried out); yet, this condition is generally insufficient to show probable cause to justify a warrant for an electronic surveillance.

Assuming that there is valuable intelligence to be obtained from electronic surveillance in these matters to be used in attempting to thwart these crimes, how can we fill the void created by Keith?

Title III has very limited value in this area. Its stated purpose is to gather evidence of crimes that we have probable cause to believe are being, or are about to be, committed. It is doubtful whether the threats of these elements, or even evidence of past attacks, would be sufficient probable cause to support a continuing electronic surveillance with no specific crime in immediate view. Title III could perhaps be used in some of these cases where the investigation has developed to a point where we do have probable cause for a specific crime, but the probable cause would be momentary and would expire after the act or probability of the act. Title III also has limited value for continuing intelligence purposes because of its applicability only to specified crimes; the short time period (30 days per request); the requirement that the target eventually be given notice and the results of the electronic surveillance (this can be postponed but not indefinitely); and the number of people who could become involved with and thus aware of a recurring monthly application to a court.

After the Keith decision, there was extensive debate within the FBI and between the FBI and the Department of Justice on its effect, and how we could proceed, within the Keith restriction, in cases where we felt there was a clear "internal security" (which went undefined) threat where electronic surveillance would be valuable. It was accepted that Title III would be of minimal value because of the problems noted above. Within the FBI it was also argued, and finally accepted, that FRCrP 41, might be utilized to obtain a routine search warrant to install an electronic surveillance where Title III was inapplicable. Assistant Attorney General Olson and Deputy Assistant Attorney General Maroney disagreed, feeling that Title III was intended to preempt all other methods of securing electronic surveillances, besides Presidentially approved surveillances.

The argument is largely theoretical. FRCrP 41, like Title III, requires a showing of probable cause, so it likewise is available only when specified criminal acts are believed to be going on or are imminent. FRCrP 41 warrants must also be executed forthwith, and notice must be given to the target and he must be served with an inventory of the items seized. Given a case which falls within both Title III and FRCrP 41, Title III procedures are preferable because they are less restrictive and more clear cut since they deal exclusively with electronic surveillances.

Title III is fairly broad in specifying the crimes for which electronic surveillances can be authorized under its sections. It is difficult to think of a threat to the internal security so significant that acts in furtherance of the threat would not involve criminal violations specified in Title III. Of course, the FBI would be limited to basing its requests for electronic surveillances on Federal crimes enumerated in Title III, and the threatened destructive acts might involve solely local offenses, e.g., murders of policemen. Title III provides for local authorities to use electronic surveillances in such cases.

Even assuming that there was a case falling outside of Title III, but within FRCrP 41, the FBI is still limited to using search warrants obtained thereunder to seize evidence of Federal crimes; if the threatened act is a local violation only FRCrP 41 is of no value to the FBI.

Without a showing of probable cause of an ongoing or imminent crime, it is doubtful if either Title III or FRCrP 41 could be used to secure an electronic surveillance. It is believed an ongoing intelligence-gathering electronic surveillance based on indications but not probable cause, that the target might engage in purely domestic criminal activity, for the purpose of thwarting that activity, no matter how potentially destructive, will require enabling legislation. Mr. Maroney in his testimony before the Senate Subcommittee on Administrative Practice and Procedure stated that the Department of Justice was not requesting such legislation at that time, but that if it became evident that a void clearly detrimental to United States security interests had been created by Keith, the Department of Justice will seek new legislation.

Chance for passage of such legislation at this time is probably nil.

APPENDIX

IV. VALUE OF NATIONAL SECURITY ELECTRONIC SURVEILLANCES

A. Foreign

Electronic surveillances provide positive intelligence regarding the positions and activities of foreign nations, and thus are of value to United States Government policymakers and diplomats, and also provide information of assistance in our counterintelligence efforts against foreign intelligence services operating against the United States.

1. Positive Intelligence

Examples of positive intelligence obtained via electronic surveillances, not directly related to our counterintelligence responsibility, are as follows:

At 7:40 p.m. on August 20, 1968, the New York Office called Headquarters to inform that our wiretap on the Soviet Mission to the United Nations was intercepting an inordinate amount of traffic, approximately 40 intercepts in the preceding 30 minutes. The Soviets were calling representatives of many of the delegations to the United Nations stating they had a message which they desired to deliver urgently, and would meet the representatives anywhere, even on a street corner.

SENSITIVE FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE OPERATION

The Headquarters duty supervisor thought this activity might relate to a recently completed full plenum of the Supreme Soviet on the Czechoslovakian question, reported on the UPI ticker. He relayed this information to Mr. Hoover, the White House Situation Room, and the State Department.

SENSITIVE FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE OPERATION

Later in the evening State Department informed us that Soviet Ambassador Dobrynin had visited the President that evening, left, and State was now urgently attempting to locate him. Via our wiretap on the Romanian Embassy, we were able to inform State that Dobrynin was with the Romanian Ambassador at that time.

The first indicator the CIA received of abnormal activity regarding the Czechoslovakian question was a telephone call from the White House Situation Room at 9:30 p.m., August 20, 1968.

The Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia occurred August 20, 1968.

There was a great deal of intercept activity during the days following the invasion, which reflected on various governments' positions and reactions. This raw material was relayed as fast as it came in to the State Department and the White House Situation Room.

This example indicates the potential value of such intercepts in extreme national security emergencies directly affecting the United States, e.g., by indicating withdrawal of official and diplomatic personnel from the United States, movement of foreign nationals to certain areas of the country, or hostile intentions against the United States. Such information is a priority requirement of the United States Intelligence Board.

During the Arab-Israeli Six Day War and the India-Pakistan War, our intercepts on various missions to the United Nations and embassies in the United States provided many indicators as to the intercepted parties' relative positions and sympathies, and consequently assisted State Department and the White House in its dealings with these nations on that issue.

SENSITIVE FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE OPERATIONS

Via an electronic surveillance we obtained information concerning the location of Soviet ships removing missiles from Cuba in 1962.

2. Counterintelligence

Electronic surveillances assist our counterintelligence efforts by providing personality data and information regarding the contacts and activities of known and suspected foreign intelligence officers. This information assists in planning counterintelligence activity, assessing defection potential, analyzing routines and patterns, conserving manpower, and in directing sources against these officers.

SENSITIVE FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE INFORMATION

There are currently 165 known and 70 suspected Soviet intelligence officers, and 72 known and 43 suspected Soviet-bloc intelligence officers in the United States.

Examples of information obtained via electronic surveillance of value to our counterintelligence responsibility are as follows:

An individual was detected in contact with a hostile intelligence service in September, 1972. He expressed a desire to defect and to offer information regarding United States naval intelligence to which he had access. Although the interception did not give us his name, it provided sufficient information to conduct an investigation which established his identity, confirmed that he had been engaged in very sensitive naval communications intelligence, and disclosed that he was a fugitive, wanted on local charges. He was arrested on November 23, 1972.

In one case, electronic surveillance furnished information, within four days of its installation, of a contact between an official of the Soviet Illegal Support Branch and an individual who appears to be a Soviet illegal agent.

Electronic surveillance furnished information concerning an attempt in 1969 by a United States serviceman to defect to the Soviets.

An example of the value of electronic surveillance coverage in foreign terrorist matters involved an Al Fatah leader formerly in the United States. In the Summer of 1972 he departed this country for a visit to the Middle East. He later applied for a reentry permit which was denied. In late November, 1972, a telephone surveillance disclosed a contact by an individual suspected to be the Al Fatah leader. An investigation was initiated and a second electronic surveillance revealed the Al Fatah leader had reentered the United States using a variation of his family name. This information enabled his arrest by the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

B. Domestic

The primary value derived from intelligence gathering, as opposed to evidentiary, electronic surveillances in this area is in obtaining plans for carrying out threatened criminal acts, evidence of foreign influence or financing, and information which assists in planning apprehensions of wanted individuals with less risk to the lives of officers and bystanders.

Examples: Via electronic surveillance of the Black Panther Party, Cleaver Faction, in New York City; Huey P. Newton in Oakland, California; and the Los Angeles Black Panther Party, the following information was obtained.

On November 6, 1971, plans to kill New York Police Commissioner Murphy were discussed.

On September 14, 1971, use of police radios to monitor New York City Police Department activity was discussed.

On April 26, 1971, electronic surveillance identified Robert Vickers as the assailant of a New York City police officer killed April 19, 1971. (Although this information was also evidentiary, it identified Vickers as a triggerman for the group who could be used in the future.)

On December 28, 1970, electronic surveillance reported that Newton received $1,400 from a Swedish group.

On September 20, 1971, electronic surveillance reported a communication between Newton and the President of Tanzania.

On September 28, 1971, electronic surveillance reported Newton's travel plans to China, and on October 19, 1971, it reported details of his visit.

During July, 1971, a conversation was intercepted, and when pieced together with previously monitored conversations and other background, enabled us to apprehend, without injury or incident, two Black Panther Party members wanted for the murder of a policeman.

Physical surveillance of a meeting to plan the murder of Black Panther Party rivals, the meeting site having been learned of via electronic surveillance, resulted in the apprehension of two fugitives. The apprehension caused a gun battle, however, the electronic surveillance information allowed for advance planning which cut the risk to arresting officers and bystanders.

Electronic surveillance of the Students for a Democratic Society Headquarters, Chicago, Illinois, provided information on plans for the "Days of Rage" violent demonstrations in Chicago during October, 1969. This advance information, relayed to Chicago police, enabled them to anticipate, to some degree, destructive activity, and to concentrate their force where needed.

September 14, 1973

ELECTRONIC SURVEILLANCE

1. The Problem:

Use of electronic surveillance falls into three broad areas: criminal, domestic national security, and foreign national security.

Little policy consideration need be given to use in criminal cases. Such use is prescribed and proscribed in Title III of the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968, has been upheld by the courts, and has been used to great advantage under the current procedures and policy. In short, there is no policy problem in this area.

Electronic surveillance in both domestic and foreign national security cases is primarily used for intelligence purposes, not evidentiary purposes; however, it often produces information of evidentiary value.

The only Congressionally approved electronic surveillance is for the sole purpose of obtaining evidence of stated crimes (Title III).

Foreign national security electronic surveillances produce a good deal of positive intelligence value to U.S. foreign policymakers, a good deal of information necessary for counterintelligence activity, and, rarely, information of evidentiary value.

Domestic national security electronic surveillances produce information valuable to law enforcement in thwarting murders, serious injury to persons, and extensive damage to property, and also, rarely, information of evidentiary value.

Electronic surveillance in domestic national security cases which was previously approved by the Attorney General for the President utilizing his Constitutional powers has been prohibited by the Supreme Court in the Keith case, i.e., held illegal without prior judicial approval.

This document is prepared in response to your request and is not for dissemination outside your Committee. Its use is limited to official proceedings by your Committee and the content may not be disclosed to unauthorized personnel without the express approval of the FBI.

EM

The issue of the legality of warrantless, Presidentially approved electronic surveillance in foreign national security cases has not yet been decided by the Supreme Court; this issue is now pending in two Circuit Courts of Appeals.

Thus the specific problems with regard to domestic national security electronic surveillance are that it produces information of value not obtainable by other means; it has been prohibited without prior judicial approval; there is no mechanism to obtain prior judicial approval. Consequently, we conduct no domestic national security electronic surveillances.

The specific problems with regard to foreign national security electronic surveillance are that: it produces information of value not obtainable by other means; the legality of the President to authorize its use without prior judicial review is being challenged; if it is held illegal there probably will also be no mechanism to obtain prior judicial review; current court procedure requires in camera disclosure of the existence of national security electronic surveillance in criminal trials and if found illegal, disclosure of the content of the intercepts to the defense, which for overriding security and foreign policy reasons can usually not be made.

2. Present Policy

Domestic National Security Cases:

We do not conduct electronic surveillance in these cases.

Foreign National Security Cases:

Pending Supreme Court consideration of the "legality" of electronic surveillance in these cases, they continue to be approved by the Attorney General, and utilized without warrant.

3. The Issues

The main issue in both domestic and foreign national security electronic surveillance cases is the right and need of the Government to obtain intelligence information in cases involving (1) U.S. foreign policy considerations; (2) threats to our security as a nation from without; and (3) threats to the tranquility and safety of U.S. society from within, versus 4th Amendment rights and the right to privacy.

The specific issues with regard to domestic cases are: (1) Is the threat to the safety and tranquility of U.S. society posed by certain domestic groups of such magnitude to justify electronic surveillance as an intelligence-gathering device to be used against them? (2) If so, is the threat of national, i.e., Federal dimensions, or is the threat primarily to local or regional interests? (3) If this coverage is needed, has Keith presented obstacles; and if so, how can they be overcome? (4) If enabling legislation is the answer to (3), should the electronic surveillance intelligence-gathering authority be given to the Federal or local government, or both as in Title III? What should enabling legislation entail? (5) Is there any option other than enabling legislation?

The primary issue with regard to foreign cases is: Is Presidentially approved, warrantless electronic surveillance in cases involving a "significant connection" with a foreign power constitutional, or "legal." On the resolution of this issue hangs all else in these cases, viz., admissibility of electronic surveillance evidence in court; degree of disclosure to be required in criminal proceedings; and if held illegal, the judicial review procedure to be proposed in order to continue such surveillances, if they are deemed of sufficient importance to continue them in the face of additional risks inherent in a judicial review.

4. Options for Future Policy

The chief issue for future policy consideration is, will the Department support the argument for the need for intelligence electronic surveillance? In foreign cases? In domestic cases?

If so, then the discussion centers on Department policy regarding the means to effect such surveillances.

Foreign national security cases:

Hopefully, the examples of intelligence value set out in the classified appendix of the attached study carried the argument that electronic surveillance in these cases is highly desirable, if not essential, to our counterintelligence efforts and to our foreign policy considerations. Even without specific examples of value derived from these surveillances, the bottom line argument is that electronic surveillance of foreign intelligence services is at least an inconvenience to them, and makes it more difficult for them to carry on their intelligence activities.

The present policy is to support the legality of the President's authority to conduct this surveillance without warrant, to restrict disclosure of the existence or contents of such surveillances, and presumably, to support the argument that any evidence obtained from such surveillance is admissible in a criminal proceeding.

These issues are discussed very well in the Government's petition for rehearing in U.S. v. Ivanov, attached. Also attached is a classified memorandum summarizing the case up to the petition for rehearing.

Until these issues are resolved, consideration of future policy options would be speculative, and may be unnecessary.

Domestic national security cases:

The FBI Intelligence Division feels there is something of intelligence value to be gained from electronic surveillance coverage of some domestic groups. The opinion of former Assistant Attorney General Olson and Deputy Assistant Attorney General Maroney is that there is no need to utilize this type of electronic surveillance and therefore no need to seek enabling legislation at this time, but that if a need does appear the Government will seek such legislation.

The examples set out in the classified appendix to the attached study show the value that can be derived from intelligence coverage of domestic groups. Is information of this type worth the financial manpower expenditure (which is considerable) to obtain it? Is it worth the task of trying to write enabling legislation (providing for judicial review to satisfy Keith) to allow intelligence electronic surveillance in domestic cases? Is it worth the fearsome battle such a bill would cause in Congress? Does such a bill have a chance at this time, or in the foreseeable future?

Upon reconsideration, the blanket pessimisim on chance for passage of such legislation in the attached study seems extreme. It is believed that the Department and the FBI should attempt to write a bill, with as restrictive judicial control as necessary in order to obtain Congressional approval, to permit intelligence electronic surveillance against domestic groups which threaten death or "extensive damage" (to be either defined or specifically enumerated, e.g., plane hijackings, bombings, murders of officials or police, etc). A restrictive enumeration of specific acts which if threatened, but not to the extent of producing probable cause, would justify appeal to a court or magistrate for an intelligence electronic surveillance, might have some chance for passage. The judicial review would satisfy the 4th Amendment requirements; and a specific list of acts limited to major contemporary concerns would allow for item deletions and additions as conditions change. Such a specific section to the bill would allow for not only effective judicial review, but also effective Congressional review.

Such a bill, in our opinion, should avoid mention of controversial and difficult to define terms such as "domestic national security," "internal security," "threats to the existence or structure of the Government," and all terms with political connotations; and should use terms emphasizing the aim of preventing serious criminal acts which threaten life and limb (without mention of motivation, whether political or otherwise).

In our opinion, such a bill should make intelligence electronic surveillance available to both local and Federal agencies. It is envisioned that such a bill would cover purely local groups which, e.g., threaten murder of local police officers, and groups national in scope, e.g., Black Liberation Army.

As discussed in the attached study, Title III and FRCrP 41 do not seem to offer practical alternatives for this type of coverage.

ENCLOSURE

UNITED STATES COURT OF APPEALS FOR THE THIRD CIRCUIT

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, :
Appellee, :
v. : NO. 72-1741
IGOR A. IVANOV, : Appellant. :

PETITION FOR REHEARING

The United States petitions the Court to grant a rehearing in this case and modify its opinion and decision. We limit our request to that portion of the decision which relates to the disclosure to defendant of the logs of electronic surveillance initiated with the express authorization of the Attorney General to obtain foreign intelligence information.

In our view, the decision, insofar as it relates to said disclosure, is not in accord with the Supreme Court's prior mandate in this case and has misapprehended relevant precedent relating to disclosure in instances where there has been no violation of Fourth Amendment rights.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

In its initial decision in this case, the Court affirmed appellant's conviction of conspiracy to violate the espionage statute, 18 U.S.C. § 794(a) and (c). 384 F.2d 554 (1967). While appellant's certiorari petition was pending, the Solicitor General informed the Supreme Court that appellant had been electronically overheard. The Supreme Court considered the effect of such disclosures in this case and in one arising from the Tenth Circuit in Alderman v. United States, 394 U.S. 165 (1969) and remanded both cases to the respective District Courts:

> "for a hearing, findings, and conclusions (1) on the question of whether with respect to any petitioner there was electronic surveillance which violated his Fourth Amendment rights, and (2) if there was such surveillance with respect to any petitioner, on the nature and relevance to his conviction of any conversations which may have been overheard through that surveillance."
> 394 U.S. 186 (emphasis added)

The Supreme Court, in elaborating on its instructions, repeated again that the scope of inquiry was to be confined to possible Fourth Amendment violations. It ordered that:

> The District Court should confine the evidence presented by both sides to that which is material to the question of the possible violation of a petitioner's Fourth Amendment rights, to the content of conversations illegally overheard by surveillance which violated those rights and to the relevance of such conversations to the petitioner's subsequent conviction. The District Court will make such findings of fact on those questions as may be appropriate > in light of the further evidence and of the entire existing record. If the District Court decides on the basis of such findings (1) that there was electronic surveillance with respect to one or more petitioners but not any which violated the Fourth Amendment, or (2) that although there was a surveillance in violation of one or more of the petitioner's Fourth Amendment rights, the conviction of such petitioner was not tainted by the use of evidence so obtained, it will enter new final judgments of conviction based on the existing record as supplemented by its further findings, thereby preserving to all affected parties the right to seek further appropriate appellate review. 394 U.S. 186-87 (emphasis added)

On remand, the Government conceded for purposes of the hearing that one set of electronic surveillances, contained in logs designated 4001-S* and 4002-S*, violated appellant's Fourth Amendment rights and voluntarily disclosed those logs to him (1095a). A taint hearing resulted in a finding by the District Court that appellant's conviction was not tainted from these logs and that finding was unanimously upheld by this Court. (Opinion pp. 12, 22).

The Government further disclosed that there existed a second set of logs, designated Government Exhibits A-1, A-2 and A-3. The Government represented that these logs were duly obtained by the Department of Justice in the exercise of the President's right to obtain foreign intelligence information and that, although certain conversations of Ivanov were overheard, he was not the subject of the electronic surveillance reflected on those logs (14a, 20a). These logs were submitted to the Court for an in camera inspection, along with an affidavit of Attorney General Mitchell, designated Government Exhibit B. A copy of the affidavit was made available to Ivanov. Upon review of these materials, the District Court made the following findings:

1. that the surveillances here under attack were expressly authorized by the Attorney General shown in the exhibits;

2. that they were not made pursuant to a surveillance of the defendant Ivanov;

3. that said surveillances were directed against certain premises in which Ivanov had no interest, the description and location of said premises being set forth in the exhibits;

4. that said surveillances were conducted and maintained solely for the purpose of gathering foreign intelligence information;

5. that it was reasonable and necessary to authorize such surveillances in the national interest; and

6. that it would prejudice the national interest to make a disclosure of the particular facts concerning said surveillances. (20a)

Based on these findings, the Court concluded that disclosure need not be made because the surveillances were lawful and not in violation of any Fourth Amendment rights of Ivanov (20a). Although not directed to do so by the Supreme Court's mandate, the Court also concluded that disclosure was not required by reason of the provisions of the Communications Act of 1934, 47 U.S.C. § 605 because that Act was inapplicable to the situation disclosed by the withheld material (23a).

On appeal, this Court reversed the District Court holding in a split decision (per Aldisert, J.) that 47 U.S.C. § 605 barred "any use of the intercepted material beyond the confines of the Executive branch" (Opinion pp 20-21), that, in the present procedural posture of the case, "it must be assumed that the conversations of Ivanov overheard on the wiretaps led to evidence used at this trial" (Opinion p. 13) and, therefore that appellant is entitled "to disclosure or an evidentiary hearing" (Opinion p. 21). In reaching this conclusion, the majority accepted, for purposes of analysis, the proposition that the interceptions were a lawful exercise of the Presidential power vested by Article II of the Constitution. (Opinion p. 15)

The majority did not even consider the question of whether Ivanov's Fourth Amendment rights might have been violated. In dissent, Judge Adams concluded both that the proposition accepted by the majority for purposes of analysis was, in fact, correct and that Ivanov's Fourth Amendment rights were not violat

As the case presently stands, therefore, there has been no determination of the issue which the Supreme Court specifically directed to be determined and disclosure is being ordered on a misapprehension of the legal necessity for such disclosure.

ARGUMENT

POINT I

ASSUMING THE CORRECTNESS OF THE COURT'S CONSTRUCTION OF 47 U.S.C. § 605, APPELLANT IS NOT ENTITLED TO THE DISCLOSURE OF THE SURVEILLANCE LOGS OR TO AN EVIDENTIARY HEARING WITH RESPECT THERETO

In remanding this case the United States Supreme Court was very careful and very specific as to the scope of its mandate. It ordered the District Court to determine whether or not there has been any electronic surveillance which violated Appellant's Fourth Amendment rights. It did not ask the District Court to consider whether or not there may have been a violation of § 605 or any other federal statute. It is in this context that the Court's language as to disclosure must be understood because there exists no precedent which requires the United States to turn over the logs of a foreign intelligence surveillance where such surveillance has not violated any Fourth Amendment rights of a defendant.

The necessity for the disclosure of the records of electronic surveillances only arises where such disclosure is necessary to protect a defendant's Fourth Amendment rights. Alderman v. United States, 394 U.S. 165, 182-85 (1969); Taglianetti v. United States, 394 U.S. 316, 317 (1969); see also the concurring opinion of Stewart, J., in Giordano v. United States, 394 U.S. 310 (1967), the opinions of Douglas, J., in granting a stay in Russo v. B[illegible]rne, U.S. , 34 L.[illegible]. 30 (1972) and dissenting from the denial of a petition for certiorari in the same case, 409 U.S. 1013 (1972).

As stated by the Court in Taglianetti:

> Nothing in Alderman v. United States, Ivanov v United States, or Butenko v. United States, ante, p. 165, requires an adversary proceeding and full disclosure for resolution of every issue raised by an electronic surveillance. On the contrary, an adversary proceeding and disclosure were required in those cases, not for lack of confidence in the integrity of government counsel or the trial judge, but only because the in camera procedures at issue there would have been an inadequate means to safeguard a defendant's Fourth Amendment rights. 394 U.S. at 317 (Emphasis added)

As stated by Mr. Justice Stewart in Giordano:

> As we made explicit in Alderman, Butenko, and Ivanov, the requirement that certain products of governmental electronic surveillance be turned over to defense counsel was expressly limited to situations where the surveillance has violated the Fourth Amendment. 394 U.S. 310, 313 (Emphasis added)

In Alderman, the Court concluded that although in camera procedures were sufficient to vindicate statutory rights, such as those under the Jencks Act and certain due process rights, such as the right to the disclosure of the identity of an informer (384 U.S at 182-83, f.n. 14), such procedures "are unable to provide the scrutiny which the Fourth Amendment exclusionary rule demands" in those circumstances where there exist "a large volume of factual materials". 384 U.S. 183-84.

Thus, Alderman cannot be read to require disclosure where there has been no violation of Fourth Amendment rights. Indeed, even in cases involving a possible violation of Fourth Amendment rights, Alderman can be read as not requiring disclosure where there exist compelling reasons for nondisclosure and the factual materials involved are neither voluminous nor require complex judgments. United States v. Lemonakis, __ F.2d __, No. 71-1745, D.C. Ct. of App. June 29, 1973, pp. 35-40.

In the Lemonskis case, the Court, like the majority of the Court in the case at bar, pretermitted the constitutional issues involved in the executive authorization of foreign intelligence gathering by means of electronic surveillance and held, based on its own in camera examination of the logs in question, that that material contained therein had no relevance to the issues or evidence in appellant's trial and that, because of the national interest involved in the revelation of logs of foreign intelligence operations, the logs need not be revealed. Id.

If the teachings of both Alderman and Lemonakis be applied to the case at bar in its present posture, it is clear that the logs in question need not be disclosed for two reasons. First, as the Court has assumed, there has been no Fourth Amendment violation. Second, as the Court can readily ascertain from its own examination of Government Exhibits A-1, A-2 and A-3, the logs are not voluminous and the task of evaluating them is neither burdensome nor complex.1/

1/ In this connection, it should be noted that the Supreme Court has not yet directly addressed the question of whether disclosure of logs of foreign intelligence surveillances is required. In United States v. United States District Court, 407 U.S. 297, [illegible], f.n. 21 (1972), in which the Court expressly reserved decision as to the constitutional issues involved in foreign intelligence

Therefore there is no legal justification for disclosing sensitive logs of a foreign intelligence surveillance of a spy for a foreign power. To do so would not only be inconsistent with the narrowly and specifically drawn mandate of the Supreme Court in this case but would, in addition, make a mockery of the assumed conclusion by this Court that the surveillance itself was lawful. The procedural question of whether and under what circumstances disclosure should be made is fully as sensitive and delicate as the constitutional question of the presidential power to conduct the surveillance, and procedures ought not to be employed which would emasculate the constitutional power.

Surely the considerations which compel the conclusion that the President is vested under Article II of the Constitution of the United States to conduct foreign intelligence operations by means of electronic surveillance equally compel the conclusion surveillances, the Court also found it "unnecessary at [that] time and on the facts of [that] case" to reexamine "the basis and the scope of the ... decision in Alderman" insofar as that decision related to the disclosure of the records of surveillances where Fourth Amendment rights had been violated. In denying certiorari in Russo v. Byrne, 409 U.S. 1013 (1972), the Court let stand a Ninth Circuit decision which upheld an in camera determination by the Trial Court that the records of an arguably foreign intelligence electronic overhearing of defendant's counsel were not relevant to any issue in defendant's trial. Dissent from denial of certiorari, Ibid. See also opinion per Mr. Justice Douglas granting a stay of the Ninth Circuit's ruling. U.S. , 34 L.Ed. 30 (1972).

that the results of such surveillance should not be disclosed where no Fourth Amendment rights of any individual have been violated because to do otherwise would reveal information which would make the surveillance valueless in the future.

To conclude otherwise would be to put the Government to an untenable election. It would have to elect between disclosure of a vital and proper intelligence operation, on the one hand, and prosecution of a criminal who may have blundered or even intruded himself on the other. Such a construction would even give to a criminal the power to prevent his prosecution by simply taking steps to ensure that a conversation of his is overheard during the course of a foreign intelligence surveillance.

POINT II

PRIOR JUDICIAL CONSTRUCTIONS OF 47 U.S.C. § 605 REINFORCE THE CONCLUSION THAT DISCLOSURE OF THE SURVEILLANCE LOGS IS NOT REQUIRED IN THIS CASE

The correctness of the conclusion that disclosure is inappropriate in circumstances where there has been no Fourth Amendment violation is further reinforced by the considerations which underlie prior judicial constructions of 47 U.S.C. § 605. In those cases, courts have made it clear that wiretap evidence and its fruits are to be suppressed only in those instances where the wiretap was utilized by law enforcement officers improperly to obtain evidence.

As stated by the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit in United States v. Gris, 247 F.2d 860, 864 (1957):

> Wiretap evidence is excluded by the federal courts in order to discourage persons from undertaking the proscribed activities in an effort to obtain evidence for use in those courts. Where exclusion would not serve this purpose, the evidence is admitted.

If the Government was acting lawfully in conducting the surveillance, there is no illegal conduct to deter and hence no reason for applying the remedy of suppression in this case. If there is no reason for suppressing, there is no reason for either disclosure or for an evidentiary hearing.

It is clear beyond cavil, that, in construing § 605 to bar either testimony as to the contents of an intercepted conversation or the derivative use of an intercepted conversation to obtain evidence, the Supreme Court did so, solely to deter law enforcement personnel from utilizing wiretapping as a means of obtaining evidence. Nardone v. United States, 302 U.S. 389 (1937); Nardone v. United States, 308 U.S. 338 (1939) (Nardone II).

In Nardone I, the Supreme Court held that the Communications Act of 1934 barred testimony by federal agents as to the con of messages intercepted by wiretaps by application of the principle of statutory construction "that the sovereign is embraced by general words of a statute intended to prevent injury and wrong". 302 U.S. at 384. The "injury and wrong" which the Court perceived and it speculated that, in enacting § 605, "Congress may have thought it less important that some offenders should go unwhipped of justice than that officers should resort to methods deemed inconsistent with personal liberty". Id. at 383.

In Nardone II, the Court, to further the policy expressed in Nardone I, held that where "a substantial portion of the case" against a defendant is proven by him to have been developed by means of illicit wire-tapping, his conviction cannot be permitted to stand. In so holding, the Court rejected the argument that § 605 only barred testimony as to the content of an intercepted message stating that:

> Such a reading of § 605 would largely stultify the policy which compelled our decision in Nardone v. United States, supra. That decision was not the product of a merely meticulous reading of technical language. It was the translation into practicality of broad considerations of morality and public well-being. This Court found that the logically relevant proof which Congress had outlawed, it outlawed because "inconsistent with ethical standards and destructive of personal liberty." 302 U.S. 379, 383. To forbid the direct use of methods thus characterized but to put no curb on their full indirect use would only invite the very methods deemed "inconsistent with ethical standards and destructive of personal liberty." 308 U.S. at 340

In other words, the linchpin of analysis in both Nardone decisions is the perceived Congressional rejection of wiretapping for the purposes of obtaining evidence -- wiretapping which was in the Court's view "illicit". Divulgence was held to include use in obtaining evidence and was comprehended by the statute solely because the Court determined that such a construction was necessary to discourage officers from wiretapping to obtain evidence.

In the case at bar, the wiretap was not for the purposes of obtaining evidence but rather for the purpose of obtaining foreign intelligence information. The "broad considerations of morality and public well-being" deemed relevant to the former purpose are not mutatis mutandis translatable to the latter purpose.2/

If those considerations are not so translatable then the exclusionary rule forged by the Court in Nardone II is not so translatable. As the Court makes clear, the derivative use of intercepted messages is prohibited not because of the statutory language but solely to preclude illicit wiretapping.3/

If, as the Court is willing to assume, the wiretap in issue in this case was not illicit but was, instead, a proper exercise of Presidential power pursuant to Article II of the Constitu

2/ For this reason, we urge the Court to reconsider those decisi cited at pages 44-47 of our main brief and at pages 22-29 of Judge Adams' dissenting opinion which hold that 47 U.S.C. § 605 has no applicability to the type of wiretapping in issue here. See also United States v. Lemonakis, supra at pp. 35-40.

3/ In this respect, the basic justification for the rule is thus identical to that with respect to the Fourth Amendment exclusionar rule -- the belief that it is the only effective deterrent to po misconduct. Terry v. Ohio, 392 U.S. 1, 12 (1968); Mapp v. Ohio, U.S. 643, 655 (1961); Linkletter v. Walker, 381 U.S. 618, 636 (

there exists no rational purpose for holding an evidentiary hearing to determine whether the wiretap has been derivatively used against Ivanov.[4]

None of the cases cited by the majority are authority for the proposition that such a hearing is required in cases where the interception was not illicit. Benanti v. United States, 355 U.S. 96 (1957), does not carry the absolutist implications which the majority reads into it. (Opinion, p. 14) The Benanti decision simply holds that the provisions of § 605 cannot be superseded by state law and that state agents as well as federal agents are included within its coverage. In the course of its opinion, the Court made clear that it was dealing with the kind of wiretapping, it had earlier characterized as "illicit" in both Nardone decisions, i.e., wiretapping for the purposes of obtaining evidence. The opinion does not suggest that a divulgence of a lawful interception would constitute a violation of § 605. Moreover, it expressly refused to reach the issue reached by the majority in this case -- i.e., whether both interception and divulgence are necessary elements of a § 605 violation. 355 U.S. at 100, f.n. 5. Thus, all that Benanti stands for is the proposition that §605 applies uniformly to state and federal officers.

[4] In advancing this contention, we do not mean to be understood as implicitly stating that there was, in fact, any such derivative use much less that "a substantial portion of the case" against Ivanov was the fruit of the wiretap in issue. As either this Court or the District Court can readily determine in camera, the wiretap materials are wholly irrelevant to the issues and evidence in this case.

Indeed, the very same day the Court decided Benanti, it also decided in Rathbun v. United States, 355 U.S. 107 (1957), that not every interception is an "interception as Congress intended the word to be used" in 47 U.S.C. § 605, stating that "(e)very statute must be interpreted in the light of reason and common understanding to reach the results intended." 355 U.S. at 109. In that case, over a strong dissent, the Court held that where one party to a telephone conversation gives the police authority to listen in on an extension, there has been no interception "as Congress intended the word to be used." Id. (Emphasis added) See also United States v. Sugden, 226 F.2d 281 (9th Cir. 1955), affd per curiam 351 U.S. 916 (1956) (holding it would defeat the policy of § 605 to bar testimony as to the content of an intercepted illegal private broadcast).

Therefore, neither Benanti nor United States v. Coplon, 185 F.2d 629 (2d Cir., 1950), also relied upon by the majority require a hearing in this case because neither case addressed the legality of the wiretaps in question "Instead", as Judge Adams correctly notes with specific reference to Coplon, "the court merely assumed that the surveillance itself was illegal under section 605." Id. Such an assumption is not proper under the facts of this case and, indeed, is flatly inconsistent with the assumption of legality made by the majority.

CONCLUSION

The Court should amend its decision to require that disclosure of the surveillance logs not be made.

SUBJECT: U. S. VS. JOHN WILLIAM BUTENKO AND IGOR A. IVANOV, IGOR A. IVANOV, APPELLANT

On June 21, 1973, the U. S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit reversed the conviction of Ivanov for violations of 18 U.S.C. 794 (a) and (c), and 18 U.S.C. 951, and the court remanded the case for further proceedings.

BACKGROUND

Ivanov, an Amtorg Trading Corporation chauffeur, and Butenko, a U. S. citizen, were originally convicted of a violation of 18 U.S.C. 794 (a) and (c) (espionage) and a conspiracy violation of 18 U.S.C. 951 (by causing Butenko to act as an agent of the Soviet Union without prior notification to the U. S. Secretary of State).

On appeal the Supreme Court found the electronic surveillance issue in their cases was "nearly identical" to the electronic surveillance issue in Alderman et al v. U. S., and considered it in conjunction with that case (394 U.S. 165). (Alderman had been convicted of conspiracy to transmit murderous threats in interstate commerce.)

In Alderman the Supreme Court, noting that no evidence or evidence obtained from leads which were obtained from an illegal electronic surveillance i.e., one which violated a defendant's 4th Amendment rights, could be utilized in a criminal trial, disregarded the Government's contention that a trial court's in camera inspection of electronic surveillance records was sufficient, and held that the defendant was the only one in a position to adequitely knowingly review such records to determine if the case against him was built on electronic surveillance. Consequently the defendant was to be given access in a discovery hearing to illegal electronic surveillance records of interceptions of his conversations.

Justice Harlan, concurring in part and dissenting in part, distinguished between routine criminal cases and foreign intelligence-espionage criminal cases, arguing that while full disclosure to the defendant was acceptable in the

NO FOREIGN DISSEMINATION/NO DISSEMINATION ABROAD former, it was not in the latter and might prejudice on-going intelligence operations vital to the national security. In these cases, he argued on behalf of disclosure to the defendant of only those portions which the trial court in camera found "arguably relevant" to the Government's case against the defendant.

The Ivanov and Butenko cases were remanded to the District Court, 1) to determine whether there was electronic surveillance which violated either defendant's 4th Amendment rights and 2) if so, to determine whether any of the intercepted conversations were relevant to his conviction. The Supreme Court stated that if the District Court found 1) that there was electronic surveillance but it did not violate the defendant's 4th Amendment rights, or 2) there was electronic surveillance which did violate the defendant's 4th Amendment rights but his conviction was not tainted by evidence obtained from that surveillance, the District Court should enter new judgements of conviction based on the existing record, along with its further findings, thus preserving the defendant's right to further appeal.

On remand in Ivanov the case revolved around two sets of FBI electronic surveillances on which Ivanov was monitored during 1963: 1) 2 microphones at the homes of Ivanov and Karatsuba, a KGB officer and neighbor of Ivanov (for the sake of argument, the District Court held them both to be directed at Ivanov), and 2) a wiretap on the Soviet Mission to the United Nations, and a wiretap and a microphone at Amtorg.

The residence microphones, which at that time Department procedures did not require to be authorized by the Attorney General, were conceded by the Government to be illegal, thus falling within the disclosure requirement of Alderman. The District Court held that the Government, on remand, made full disclosure on these microphones, after some argument, and ruled that the defendant had not shown, and the Government had carried its burden to refute, that Ivanov's case was built on evidence from these microphones.

The more important issues related to the other set of surveillances. The Government contended that those surveillances were duly authorized under the President's national security powers to obtain foreign intelligence, thus were legal and therefore it was not required to disclose the logs to the defense or to participate in an evidentiary hearing regarding these surveillances. The District Court, by reference to its finding on remand in Butenko (318 F. Supp. 66), agreed, finding that these surveillances and the Government's use of the logs from them did not violate Section 605 of the Communications Act of 1934 or the 4th Amendment, and upheld the Government's refusal to disclose or participate in an evidentiary hearing.

The District Court in Butenko found that 4th Amendment rights are not absolute, that there are exceptions to the warrant requirement, and that the President's responsibility for foreign affairs and national security do not preclude him from authorizing a warrantless foreign intelligence electronic surveillance. It also found that, since Title III of the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968, specifically 18 U.S.C. 2511 (3), clearly showed Congress' inclination not to limit or interfere with the President's power of obtaining foreign intelligence by electronic surveillance, Section 605 also must not have intended to limit this power.

OPINION OF THE THIRD CIRCUIT COURT OF APPEALS, JUNE 21, 1973.

The Court of Appeals makes it clear at the outset that it is not considering Title III since the interceptions in issue occured prior to passage of that Act. Both the Government and the appellant agreed that the governing statute at the time of the interceptions in issue was Section 605 of the Communications Act of 1934.

The Court of Appeals found no error in the District Court's ruling that the Government had given full disclosure on the concededly illegal microphones, and that these did not taint Ivanov's conviction.

The Court of Appeals cites Alderman for the proposition that the question of whether or not the Government's evidence was obtained from electronic surveillance could be resolved only by an evidentiary hearing, and because the Government would not participate in a hearing on the second set of surveillances the Court of Appeals felt it had to assume "in the present posture of this case" that the Government had intercepted communications and utilized the results from them in the criminal proceedings against Ivanov. (The District Court made an in camera review of the second set of surveillances, but never made a written finding that none of the Government's case was based on information from these surveillances; he only found in camera that they did not violate the 4th Amendment or Section 605, and therefore could not "...properly be considered on the taint issue" (342 F. Supp. at 931).)

(Note that Alderman ruled only on "illegal" electronic surveillances, and instructed the District Court that if, on remand, it found the defendant's 4th Amendment rights had not been violated it should reimpose judgment of conviction. The Supreme Court did not discuss the effect of Section 605 on the cases before it in Alderman.)

The Court of Appeals states that it is not defining the parameters of the President's national security surveillance powers under Section 605, but that the limited issue before it, with respect to the second surveillance is: assuming a constitutional power of the President to have ordered electronic surveillance of foreign agents in 1963, was it permissable for the Government, under Section 605, to utilize the products of such surveillance in a criminal prosecution.

The Court of Appeals then decides the case on this evidentiary issue and thus avoids the larger 4th Amendment issue of whether or not the President has the power to authorize foreign intelligence warrantless electronic surveillances.

The Court of Appeals recognizes that the President has constitutional powers to defend against foreign intelligence activities and to obtain foreign intelligence, and assumes, solely for the sake of argument, that he had the constitutional power to authorize these surveillances; however, the Court of Appeals draws the distinction, that was drawn by the Government for years, between the President's power to authorize such surveillances and the power of the Congress and Court to make an evidentiary rule excluding evidence obtained from such surveillances in criminal proceedings.

The Court of Appeals holds that the Supreme Court opinion in U. S. vs. Nardone (308 U.S. 338), interperting Section 605 as being a complete bar to the introduction of electronic surveillance results into evidence in a Federal criminal proceeding, was governing.

CONTINUED - OVER

Section 605 states that "... no person not being authorized by the sender shall intercept any communication and divulge...the existence, contents, substance, purport, effect, or meaning of such intercepted communication to any person." The Supreme Court in Nardone held that "no person" encompassed federal agents, and "divulge...to any person" barred testimony in court.

This Court accepts the interpretation that what Section 605 prohibits is the interception and divulging, i.e., that both elements must be present to incur the prohibition of Section 605. Thus, the President is not violating Section 605 if he only intercepts the conversation, but he is prohibited from also divulging the contents of the interception in court.

Since this Court assumed that intercepted electronic surveillance information was used in the trial and therefore was divulged in violation of Section 605, Ivanov's conviction was reversed and the case remanded for further proceedings, viz., to conduct an evidentiary hearing to determine if in fact any of the Government's case was built on electronic surveillance information.

In further defining "divulging" the Court of Appeals accepts the argument that, the President himself will not conduct the interceptions, but that agents of the Executive Branch, acting as his representatives will, and that many others within the Executive Branch can also be his representatives to receive the results of such a surveillance, and that therefore it is not inconsistent with Section 605 to consider the Executive Branch (or at least all persons within the Executive Branch with a right to such information) as "a person", so that disclosure within the Executive Branch does not violate the Section's prohibition against divulging the contents of such interceptions.)

MINORITY OPINION, THIRD CIRCUIT COURT OF APPEALS, JUNE 27, 1973

Judge Adams, disagrees that Section 605 on its own, or as interpreted by Nardone, requires the exclusion of evidence obtained from a Presidentially approved warrantless foreign intelligence electronic surveillance in a Federal criminal proceeding.

CONTINUED - OVER

He argues that Section 605 itself, its legislative history, and subsequent case law do not indicate that Section 605 intended to prohibit the President from utilizing electronic surveillance to gather foreign intelligence or to use the information gathered in cases involving a defendant's foreign intelligence gathering. He traces the legislative history of the Communications Act and finds its main purpose was to establish a Communications Commission and that it extended to wire communications almost the identical provisions of Section 27 of the Radio Act of 1927, which was thought neither to apply to federal officers nor to bar testimony relating to the contents of radio messages intercepted by them. Judge Adams notes there was no Congressional debate over the meaning of the provisions of Section 605, implying that if it had been intended to limit the President's foreign intelligence powers, there probably would have been debate.

Similarly, Judge Adams finds that in response to the Government's argument in Nardone that "a construction be given Section 605 which would exclude Federal agents since it is improbable Congress intended to ... impede ... the detection and punishment of crime.", the Supreme Court concluded "that the question is one of policy." Judge Adams argues that where the Supreme Court might, as a matter of policy, find that Congress intended to exclude electronic surveillance evidence in run-of-the-mill domestic criminal cases, there is no evidence it would extend the exclusion to cases involving the gathering of foreign intelligence. Additionally, this surveillance was not aimed solely at securing evidence to convict a person of crime, but at gathering foreign intelligence deemed essential to the security of the U. S. He thus concludes that the Nardone interpretation of Section 605 is not applicable to this kind of case, and argues that in view of the breadth of the President's authority in foreign affairs, Section 605 should be interpreted to limit that power only if Congress' intent to do so is clearly manifest, which he argues it is not.

Judge Adams then addresses the constitutional question avoided by the majority, viz., does the 4th Amendment allow the President to authorize warrantless electronic surveillances in foreign intelligence cases. He concludes that it does. He argues that constitutional rights are not absolute; they must be weighed against competing rights; and the 4th Amendment prohibits only unreasonable searches and seizures.

Judge Adams finds that the constitutional responsibility to conduct foreign affairs is vested in the President; that the gathering of foreign intelligence and the protecting against foreign intelligence activities is concerned with the very existence of the nation; that as a result, the President has great latitude in this area; and that to require a judicial warrant prior to his use of electronic surveillance presumes that a warrant could be denied, thus interjecting the courts into foreign affairs decisions, in effect overruling the President in a field where he has the responsibility and they do not.

Thus concluding that the 4th Amendment does not and the courts cannot, prohibit the President from utilizing electronic surveillance in foreign affairs, Judge Adams argues that a defendant's 4th Amendment rights can still be reconciled with the President's electronic surveillance power by a judicial post surveillance review. If the court finds that the surveillance is related to the conduct of foreign affairs it would, ipso facto, be reasonable and therefore not in violation of the 4th Amendment. If unrelated, it would be unreasonable, and its results excluded from a criminal trial.

ANALYSIS

As previously noted Alderman dealt exclusively with illegal electronic surveillances, i.e., surveillances in violation of a defendant's 4th Amendment rights. It did not distinguish between "routine" criminal cases and foreign intelligence-espionage cases when it required that full disclosure of all interceptions of the defendant be made to him so that he, in an adversary proceeding, might determine if the Government's case against him was "tainted." Justice Harlan, objecting to full disclosure in foreign intelligence-espionage cases, and on behalf of disclosure only of portions deemed "arguably relevant" to the Government's case by the trial court after an in camera review, did not raise the issue of "legal" vs. "illegal" electronic surveillance, so presumably he was also talking about, and intending to limit disclosure even on surveillances which violated the 4th Amendment.

The Third Circuit Court of Appeals assumes the Ivanov surveillances in issue were legal, but still cites Alderman as requiring an evidentiary hearing, and without that hearing feels it must conclude that Ivanov's conviction was based on electronic surveillance evidence, introduction of which must be excluded under Section 605.

At the conclusion of Alderman, when remanding Ivanov, the Supreme Court instructed the District Court that if it found the surveillance in question did not violate the defendant's 4th Amendment rights it should reimpose judgments of conviction. The Supreme Court did not consider the effect of Section 605 on the cases before it in Alderman.

The case has been remanded for further proceedings, apparently an evidentiary hearing on the second set of surveillances. The Government can opt to save Ivanov's conviction by participating in such a hearing, since none of his case was actually built on surveillance information; however this would require disclosure to Ivanov of his intercepted conversation at the Mission and Amtorg, a disclosure concession we don't want to have to make because of the impact it would have on diplomatic relations, ongoing counterintelligence operations, and possibily on future prosecutions. Additionally, the salvaging of Ivanov's conviction falls far short of the original purpose of continuing the appeals in this case, viz., to obtain a Supreme Court ruling on the legality of Presidential warrantless foreign intelligence electronic surveillances. Consequently, the Government probably will either ask for dismissal of the case or appeal the Third Circuit's ruling to the Supreme Court.

If Ivanov is appealed the Supreme Court will face three possible issues, the 4th Amendment issue of the legality of warrantless foreign intelligence electronic surveillance, the disclosure issue, and the Section 605 evidentiary issue. The Court could seize onto the Section 605 evidentiary issue, not considered by it in Alderman, to dispose of the case without reaching the 4th Amendment or disclosure questions; or it could stand on its instructions to the District Court and rule on the District Court's remand finding that the surveillance did not violate the 4th Amendment.

If the Supreme Court found the surveillance illegal, presumably Alderman's requirement of full disclosure would apply, and the case would be remanded for an evidentiary hearing to exclude any electronic surveillance evidence, and the Section 605 issue would be avoided.

If the Court found the surveillances legal it could:

1) extend Alderman and require full disclosure of all interceptions even if legal, possibly arguing something to the effect that Congress in Title III has imposed the requirement of full disclosure in those cases, and that a similar safeguard should be imposed on Presidential surveillances;

2) allow in camera review and require disclosure limited to elements "arguably relevant" to the Government's case;

3) not require disclosure at all if the Government proved in camera that the surveillances were related to foreign intelligence, possibly arguing that since the defendant's rights against unreasonable search and seizure were not violated, he has not been injured, the Government's case is not illegally "tainted," therefore, disclosure is not necessary, and, additionally, disclosure would be very damaging to national security.

Even if the surveillances were found legal, however, the Section 605 evidentiary issue would remain. A Hearing or an in camera review would have to determine whether any of the Government's case was built on electronic surveillance, and, if so, the Section 605 evidentiary bar decided with respect to foreign intelligence-espionage cases. Since the Ivanov case is not built o electronic surveillance evidence, presumably the convictions would be reimposed; however, supposedly the Supreme Court does not know this, and it would conclude that if the District Court found electronic surveillance evidence to be involved, it would be bound by the Third Circuit's finding that the Section 605 bar did apply, and the case would find its way back to the Supreme Court for a final determination on this point. Thus if the Supreme Court chose to rule on the 4th Amendment issue and found the surveillance legal, it would have to rule on two issues immediately, the 4th Amendment issue and the disclosure issue, and might eventually have to decide the third issue, the Section 605 evidentiary issue; if the Supreme Court affirmed the Court of Appeals, it would have to decide only the Section 605 evidentiary issue.

CONCLUSION

The constitutional issue here is, as was the issue in Nardone, a policy question. Given today's climate and public attitude towards electronic surveillances in general, unchecked Presidential (White House) power, the distinction between use of electronic surveillance for intelligence purposes vs. use for criminal prosecution, and the Supreme Court's tradition of avoiding constitutional issues if it can decide a case on lesser issues, I am inclined to think the Court would grasp the "out" of the Section 605 evidentiary issue, thus leaving the constitutional issue unresolved and allowing Presidentially approved foreign intelligence electronic surveillances to continue for the time being.

The practical result of this of course would be only to reverse the conviction of one man, Ivanov, presently at home in the Soviet Union. This ruling would not preclude post 1968 prosecutions based on foreign intelligence electronic surveillance information, since 2511 (3) presumably expresses Congress' intent to negate the evidentiary effect of Section 605 with respect to such cases: "The contents of any wire or oral communication intercepted by authority of the President in the exercise of the (powers enumerated in the statute, generally relating to foreign intelligence and efforts to unlawfully overthrow or endanger the structure of the Government) may be received in evidence in any trial, hearing or other proceeding only where such interception was reasonable..."

With the Section 605 evidentiary obstacle presumably disposed of by 2511 (3), it would seem that a post 1968 case on facts similar to Ivanov, or preferably one actually built on electronic surveillance information, would be the best vehicle for eventually getting a ruling on the 4th Amendment issue.

re SUBSTANTIVE ISSUES REGARDING THE FUTURE OF THE FBI

F.B.I.

Reference is made to your memorandum to me captioned "Substantive Issues Regarding the Future of the FBI" dated July 20, 1973, enumerating issues on which you desired the Bureau's comments.

Concerning Issue Three in your memorandum, I call your attention to memorandum from me to the Attorney General captioned "Scope of FBI Jurisdiction and Authority in Domestic Intelligence Investigations," dated August 7, 1973, as well as my August 24, 1973, memorandum to you under the same caption.

My August 7, 1973, memorandum proposed an Executive order to define FBI responsiblities concerning Federal statutes relating to national security. Mr. Jack Goldklang, Office of Legal Counsel, Department of Justice, pursuant to his analysis of the proposal in my August 7, 1973, memorandum, requested a copy of Section 87 of our Manual of Instructions concerning Investigation of Subversive Organizations and Individuals, as well as a copy of a study prepared in August, 1972, at the request of former Acting Director L. Patrick Gray, III. These were furnished with my August 24, 1973, memorandum.

Inasmuch as this Bureau's extensive analysis regarding authority for our intelligence gathering was previously furnished for the Department's consideration in August 7 and 24, 1973, memoranda, I assume that your needs to study Issue Three can be met by reference to those communications without additional submissions.

SCOPE OF FBI JURISDICTION AND AUTHORITY IN DOMESTIC

Security Jurisdiction

During our meeting on July 26, 1973, you referred to a discussion you had with Senator Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., of Maryland during your confirmation hearings as to the statutory authority of the FBI and the Department of Justice in the field of domestic intelligence investigations. You then asked Mr. William D. Ruckelshaus to work with the FBI in weighing the pros and cons with regard to statutory authority in this area. I mentioned that research was being performed on this subject at the present time and that we would be in touch with Mr. Ruckelshaus with regard to this matter when we have completed the results of our consideration and findings within the FBI.

Actually, a study has been going on in the FBI for more than two years as to the scope of FBI jurisdiction and authority in domestic intelligence investigations. When Mr. L. Patrick Gray, III, was designated as Acting Director of the FBI, he instructed that a position paper be prepared concerning the jurisdiction and authority of the FBI to conduct domestic intelligence investigations. A position paper was prepared which in essence stated that authority of the FBI in this field is based on legislative enactments, even though we may have publicly relied heavily on Presidential directives as the basis for such authority. Mr. Gray ordered an in-depth study made of the position and in August, 1972, a detailed report was furnished to him. The following is a summary of that report.

REC-29 62-66727-1824

Over a period of several months there were a number of public statements questioning authority and jurisdiction of the FBI to conduct domestic intelligence-type investigations, particularly where there is no clear-cut legislative authority apparent. One of the most searching inquiries was contained in a paper presented by Professor John T. Elliff at a two-day conference at Princeton University in October, 1971, sponsored by the Committee for Public Justice.

SEE NOTE PAGE EIGHT

A major thrust of Professor Elliff's paper concerned FBI authority derived from legislative enactments as opposed to that derived from Presidential directives, beginning with a directive issued by President Roosevelt in September, 1939. Professor Elliff is of the opinion that the 1939 directive, which was reiterated on three subsequent occasions, was magnified by the FBI from its original purpose to a definitive order to conduct intelligence-type investigations.

Senator Sam J. Ervin, as you know, had been probing into the nature and extent of FBI intelligence-type investigations. Senator Ervin had even announced that he intended to propose legislation to prohibit the FBI from investigating any person without that individual's consent, unless the Government has reason to believe that person has committed a crime or is about to commit a crime. Other Congressmen indicated a similar interest in FBI investigative activities.

Our study revealed that the FBI had declared publicly over a long period of time that its responsibilities in the domestic intelligence field are authorized under legislative enactments, Presidential directives, and instructions of the Attorney General. The Presidential directives are obviously the 1) directive dated September 6, 1939, and reiterated January 8, 1943; July 24, 1950; and December 15, 1953, and 2) Executive Order 10450 dated April 27, 1953 (and amended but not yet implemented by Executive Order 11605 dated July 2, 1971).

In carefully analyzing the language of the first directive, dated September 6, 1939, and considering that the subsequent directives are all hinged on that one, we believe that there is a misconception as to the extent of jurisdiction or authority conveyed to the FBI by these directives. It appears that while the 1939 directive fixed responsibility on the FBI to handle espionage, sabotage, and neutrality matters, it did not convey any authority or jurisdiction which the FBI did not already have from legislative enactments. It is difficult to read into this directive or in any of those which followed any authority to conduct intelligence-type investigations which would or could not be conducted under an umbrella of legislative enactments.

As a matter of historical fact, President Roosevelt in August, 1936, did request former Director J. Edgar Hoover to conduct investigations of subversive activities in this country, including communism and fascism. This request, however, was a confidential oral request and there is doubt that any record of it was made outside the FBI. This request, or Presidential mandate, was based, incidentally, on the fact that the law provided that the FBI could conduct such investigations if the Secretary of State should so request.

The study revealed that while the 1939 et seq. directives did not grant any special intelligence-gathering authority to the FBI, we were responsible under these directives to collect all intelligence information furnished by local, state, and Federal law enforcement agencies and patriotic citizens and to sift and coordinate all such information for indications of subversive activity covered by Federal statutes.

The study concluded that the FBI has the responsibility to conduct whatever investigations are necessary to determine if statutes relating to espionage, sabotage, insurrection or rebellion, sedition, seditious conspiracy, advocacy of overthrowing the Government, and other such crimes affecting the national security have been violated. In this connection we note that in a letter dated September 14, 1967, the Department of Justice advised that the FBI is continually alert to the problem of recurring riots and is submitting intelligence reports to the Department of Justice concerning such activity. This letter enumerated several Federal statutes and stated these could be applicable in using maximum available resources, investigative and intelligence, to collect and report all facts bearing on the question of schemes or conspiracies to plan, promote or aggravate riot activity.

In other words, the Department was requesting all possible intelligence-type investigative activity based on the existence of certain statutes. We see this as being no different from our intelligence-type investigations relating to plans of groups or individuals to overthrow, destroy, interfere with or threaten the survival of effective operation of national, state, and local governments.

The Attorney General

Based on this study, we believe that had there never been a single one of the Presidential directives in question the FBI would have conducted and will, through necessity, continue to conduct the same intelligence-type investigations as were conducted from 1939 to the present date. We also believe, however, that in order to counter the criticism and skepticism of such individuals as Professor Elliff and Senator Sam J. Ervin that an up-to-date Executive order should be issued clearly establishing a need for intelligence-type investigations and delineating a clear authority for the FBI to conduct such investigations based on guidelines established by the Attorney General and adhering to constitutional principles.

The study concluded with two basic recommendations. 1) That the Department of Justice be requested to sponsor comprehensive legislation spelling out the FBI's investigative authority in the collection of intelligence information relating to the national security and; 2) that the Department of Justice be requested to seek a comprehensive Executive order which would cover any possible gap between statutory authority and Executive necessity in protection of the national security.

At first glance these recommendations may appear to contradict our position that we already have statutory authority to conduct security-type investigations; that this being the case we do not need additional legislative enactments, nor do we need an Executive order. But being realistic we think that the basic statutes upon which we rely for our authority to conduct domestic intelligence investigations need to be updated to fit 1973 needs. Title 18 U.S.C. Sections 2383, 2384, and 2385 relate to the national security, but the legislative history of 2383 and 2384 indicates that they were designed for the Civil War era, not the Twentieth Century, and Section 2385 has been reduced to a fragile shell by the Supreme Court. These statutes are unquestionably still valid, but updating is certainly indicated. The bills introduced as H.R. 6046 and S. 1400 in the 93rd Congress appear to contain language which should fill our statutory needs, except perhaps for those groups, such as the Ku Klux Klan, which do not seek to overthrow the Government, but nevertheless are totalitarian in nature and seek to deprive constitutionally guaranteed rights.

As to the need for an Executive order, we think that two issues are involved. We have statutory authority, but what we need is a definitive requirement from the President as to the nature and type of intelligence data he requires in the pursuit of his responsibilities based on our statutory authority. In other words, there is a need, from our standpoint, for both authoritative and definitive guidelines. The statutes give us the authority. The Executive order would define our national security objectives.

Members of Congress, including such men as Senator Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, have proposed legislation to spell out jurisdiction and authority of the FBI in this field. It would appear that the President would rather spell out his own requirements in an Executive order instead of having Congress tell him what the FBI might do to help him fulfill his obligations and responsibilities as President.

The political climate of suspicion and distrust resulting from disclosures coming out of the Watergate hearings could present an obstacle to getting any such Executive order signed in the immediate future. However, the rationale is nevertheless valid and when scrutinized closely, the language in the Executive order we hereinafter propose establishes definitive guidelines which have heretofore been unclear. It is my belief that we should go forward with this.

We therefore propose and recommend that an Executive order along the following lines be submitted to the White House with a strong recommendation for approval. The language which follows is merely to illustrate the type of Executive order which we think would be appropriate and does not necessarily represent an ideal format or style which should be submitted to the White House.

EXECUTIVE ORDER

"Whereas the Constitution of the United States was established to insure, among other things, domestic tranquility; to provide for the common defense; and to promote the general welfare for the people of the United States; and

"Whereas the President of the United States has the constitutionally imposed responsibility of defending the Constitution and the existence of the Government thereunder; and

"Whereas there have been continuing unlawful acts of violence perpetrated against the Government of the United States or against citizens of the United States or against persons entitled to the protection of the United States thereby endangering the domestic tranquility, threatening the common defense, and jeopardizing the general welfare of the people of the United States; and

"Whereas the Congress has enacted laws prohibiting acts such as treason, sedition, sabotage, espionage, insurrection and rebellion, seditious conspiracy, civil disobedience, rioting, assassination, kidnaping, deprival of civil rights, and conspiracies to commit such acts; and

"Whereas the President of the United States as Chief Executive in the maintenance of the Government thereunder must have intelligence information for appropriate decisions in the discharge of his constitutionally imposed responsibilities;

"Now by authority vested in me by the Constitution and statutes of the United States and in the interest of orderly operation of this Government and in furtherance of the domestic tranquility, common defense, and general welfare of the people of the United States it is ordered that;

"The Attorney General prepare and issue guidelines, conforming to the principles of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, and outlining the necessary direction, coordination, and guidance of investigations to assure that the Federal Bureau of Investigation provides on a continuing basis intelligence information essential to the execution of laws pertaining to subversive activity and other such activity affecting the national security, domestic tranquility, and general welfare of the United States."

The Nation has been going through a time of terror. The concept of urban guerrilla terrorism has been adopted by various extremist elements in the United States. Bombings of public buildings and national institutions; killing of police officers who, by their uniform, are a symbol of the democratic establishment; hijacking of aircraft in furtherance of revolutionary movements; terrorist assaults on foreign diplomatic personnel and establishments; and open declaration of war on our form of government are only a few of the violent acts which have been perpetrated by domestic subversives who seek to destroy or seriously cripple our Government. Terrorist guerrilla attacks which were once confined to far away places and related to problems of no immediate concern of ours are now possible in this country. Foreign terrorist groups in collusion with domestic terrorists have laid plans for an airport massacre of the type which recently occurred in Israel. Other foreign terrorist elements have laid plans for terrorist attacks on American soil. Already one foreign official has been assassinated, possibly by terrorists.

It would be folly to adopt an investigative policy based on the concept of investigation only when there is reason to believe a crime involving the national security has been committed. The FBI must obviously anticipate the crimes described above. We believe that in order for the Government to be in position to defend itself against revolutionary and terrorist efforts to destroy it, the FBI must have sufficient investigative authority to conduct intelligence-type investigations not normally associated with enforcement of the statutes. In other words we think the President has the inherent Executive power to expand by further defining the FBI's investigative authority to enable it to develop advance information concerning the plans and aspirations of terrorists and revolutionaries who seek to overthrow or destroy the Government. However, we also believe that such expanded authority must be formally set forth in an Executive order and that this recommendation is responsive in the Attorney General's expressed interest in laying more formal guidelines to our work in areas where definition is not now clear.

We consider the issuance of a new Executive order delineating our jurisdiction, authority, and responsibility to gather and report intelligence information relating to the national security to be a very important and high priority matter. We believe the issuance of guidelines by the Attorney General under Title 28, Section 533, United States Code, to be equally important.

The Attorney General

For your information, our own investigative guidelines as contained in our Manual of Instructions relating to domestic subversive investigations have been completely rewritten to conform with the concept that our domestic intelligence-type investigations are based on Federal statutes. These guidelines provide that in each instance, the domestic intelligence investigation must be predicated on information indicating that the organization or individual is engaged in activity which could involve a violation of specific statutes relating to the national security. A copy of the new guidelines was previously provided to the Department of Justice in connection with the request of Senator Edward M. Kennedy to obtain a copy of the FBI's Section 87 of the Manual of Instructions. The effective date of the new guidelines was August 1, 1973.

In response to your request, the following is submitted concerning the tenure of the Director of the FBI:

1. The problem:

In view of the unique position occupied by the FBI Director, is it in the best interests of the Government and the Nation to limit the term of office?

2. The present policy:

ENCLOSURE

The options are whether the tenure of the Director of the FBI should have no limitation or that a fixed term be established.

In my testimony before the Committee on the Judiciary in June, 1973, I indicated that I felt independence is achieved through tenure, and expressed my thought that nine years would be a proper term.

This document is prepared in response to your request and is not for dissemination outside your Committee. Its use is limited to official proceedings by your Committee and the content may not be disclosed to unauthorized personnel without the express approval of the FBI.

After assuming the office of Director I have had an opportunity to afford further thought to this question and appreciate that there are some substantial considerations that question whether the Director of the FBI should be restricted to a given term of office. From a practical standpoint, it is doubted that legislation to specifically restrict the term of office of a Presidential appointee is necessary. We know of no clear-cut authority to remove an official who has received a Presidential appointment. However, in the final analysis, the President would likely get his way because he has the power to appoint a successor, in this case the Director. In effect, in absence of tenure, the Director will be serving at the pleasure of whoever is President.

Should the position of Director of the FBI be singled out for restriction as to term of office? An informal check by this Bureau has disclosed no restrictions on the tenure of heads of other investigative agencies; namely, Central Intelligence Agency, Drug Enforcement Administration, and Secret Service. Accordingly, to single out the Directorship of the FBI would be in effect an exception. To provide tenure for the Director of the FBI would be tantamount to placing him in the same category as heads and commissioners of regulatory bodies and the Interstate Commerce Commission who do serve for specific periods. The latter officials make regulatory decisions affecting the Nation and specific terms of office have the effect of assuring a continuing balance of political power. The office of Director of the FBI is not political.

Experience has shown that cooperation by other law enforcement agencies and the general public has been instrumental in FBI investigative success. While it cannot be precisely measured, the degree of confidence inspired by the individual serving as Director influences the quality and quantity of such cooperation. The office of Director, a non-political one, has been charged with the responsibility of providing factual information upon which administrations of diverse political persuasions could formulate prosecutive policy and look after the internal security interests of the country. Singling out the position of Director of the FBI for a restricted term of office could suggest that perhaps the confidence heretofore placed in the FBI is no longer merited. Whether this would have any impact on the confidence and cooperation by the public would be problematic.

After weighing the foregoing and considering the unique role of and regard for the Director of the FBI, it is my conclusion that the Nation would feel comfortable with tenure for the Director of the FBI, and tenure would contribute toward countering any construction that appointment of any Director was political in the sense that the Directorship would not necessarily change hands with each administration. I feel the incumbent senses a greater independence through tenure.

I feel that tenure should be for a period such as nine years to minimize the occasions when appointive consideration would coincide with a change in administrations. Such a period would also provide the incumbent a sufficient feeling of independence. However, this Bureau defers to the Department on the subject of length of time.

4. Options for Future Policy: The main options for the future of the FBI are two: (1) Remove it from its position as an integral part of the Department of Justice and establish it as an independent agency, or (2) maintain the present status of the FBI in its role as the investigative arm of the Department and, as such, responsive to the directives of the Attorney General.

20 OCT 19 1973

A brief look at history indicates that in 1908 Congress created the Bureau of Investigation and designated it as a part of the Department of Justice. The main reason for this action was that a certain void existed prior to this time in the enforcement function performed by the Attorney General. While the Department traditionally bore the responsibility of enforcing the laws of the United States and prosecuting violators of these laws, there existed no permanent group of individuals who could conduct the fact-finding investigations necessary to sustain successful prosecutions. The creation of this "detective" force by Congress aimed to fill that void.

Over the years the responsibilities of this agency, which eventually became known as the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), have increased tremendously. From a small agency charged with the task of conducting investigations regarding relatively few matters, the FBI has developed into an agency held accountable for investigating violations of over 180 categories of Federal Law. In addition, the FBI has become more than just an investigating agency, due to its maintenance of various data in certain areas indispensable to a criminal justice system.

The proposal to make the FBI an independent agency within the Executive Branch has been voiced on several occasions in Congress. Within the very recent past two bills were introduced in the Senate to achieve this aim. Additionally, as far back as 1947, Congressional sentiment existed to separate the FBI as an independent agency.

The proponents of this move have made it clear that the possibility of a politically motivated FBI has caused them great concern and led to the introduction of measures which they feel would go a long way toward preventing undue political influence. The argument is made that the Attorney General is almost always a political appointee of the President, whose views generally conform with his own. Those espousing this argument point to recent events as examples of how an Attorney General could use his position to political advantage and fear that because of this motivation he could easily manipulate an agency possessing vast amounts of sensitive information and substantial resources, such as the FBI, and easily misuse this organization which is subject to his directives as a part of the Department he heads.

The question arises at this point whether removal of the FBI from the Department of Justice is the proper means of assuring its justifiable degree of independence and freedom from undue political pressure. The designation of the FBI as an independent agency would simply mean that the Director would no longer report to the Attorney General, but would instead be responsible directly to the White House, as is the case with existing independent agencies. There appears to be some serious doubt whether an FBI Director would be more or less subject to political pressure when placed in this posture. The FBI must be responsive to the desires and needs of the American public and in this sense only should it be considered politically responsive. The danger of becoming enmeshed in partisan political dealings might easily be increased by removing this additional layer of Executive Branch responsibility which now exists in the person of the Attorney General.

Opponents of these proposed Senate bills note that, while some danger does exist in the FBI's reporting to a political appointee, a far greater danger would exist if the FBI, performing as an independent agency, became the arm of a politically motivated Director who was responsible to no one but the White House.

When one considers the possibility of an independent FBI, it is difficult to ignore the specter of a national police force at the disposal of the incumbent administration, a condition generally repugnant to our citizens.

The relationship between the investigator and the prosecutor is a very delicate, yet vital one. Neither can properly fulfill his role without the wholehearted assistance of the other. So it is with the FBI and the Department of Justice. A close working relationship has developed and must be maintained if the responsibilities of each are to be met.

The FBI does need a certain amount of independence and this fact has been recognized by even its most severe critics. In addition, Congress, in creating a new Subcommittee on FBI Oversight, has in effect insured a certain degree of FBI independence.

In consideration of all the foregoing, it is believed the FBI should remain a Bureau within the Department of Justice where it can properly perform its function to investigate violations of various Federal laws and report its impartial findings to those who will conduct the prosecution of these violations in our judicial system.

Issue #6: Assuming the FBI remains a part of the Justice Department, what should be the relationship of the Director to the Attorney General? All the organizational and substantive relationships should be examined.

1. The problem: By Congressional enactment, the Attorney General has been designated the head of the Department of Justice and has been charged with the responsibility of supervising and directing the administration and operation of that Department. Further, the Federal Bureau of Investigation has been placed in the Department of Justice with the Director of the FBI as its head. The FBI, through Congressional enactment, Executive Order, and Directive of the Attorney General, has been charged with the responsibility of performing certain duties subject to the general supervision and direction of the Attorney General. The Director of the FBI, a Bureau chief within the Department, having been granted enormous responsibility, must attain a proper balance between independence and responsiveness in order to properly discharge this responsibility.

2. The present policy: Disclosures of political and business corruption and unethical practices during the investigation of land-fraud and antitrust cases in the early 1900's, coupled with the recognition of the need for an investigative arm within the Department of Justice subject to its control, led to the creation of the Bureau of Investigation (forerunner of the Federal Bureau of Investigation) within the Department in 1908. In an effort to reverse a trend of political influence within the Bureau and the Department, Attorney General Harlan Fiske Stone in 1924 appointed J. Edgar Hoover as Acting Director of the Bureau. Shortly thereafter Attorney General Stone dictated that the Director of the FBI be directly responsible to him with respect to the operations of the Bureau as a whole. In addition, it was understood that the Bureau was to operate free of political influence and limit its investigative activity to certain violations over which the Bureau had jurisdiction.

This pact was formed to give the Director, charged primarily with delegated investigative responsibility, a degree of independence recognized as so necessary for him to properly discharge his duties and still remain subordinate to the Attorney General, who had been charged primarily with a prosecutive function. Codification of duties to be performed by the Attorney General as head of the Department of Justice, and the Director as head of the FBI within that Department, plus recognition that both must attempt to perform their related duties within the criminal justice system to the optimum, has led to the necessity for a substantial degree of independence on the part of the Director, balanced with a responsiveness by him to reasoned counsel, guidance, supervision and control by the Attorney General.

3. The issues raised:

(a) During the "Princeton Conference" it was said that time and practice have made the FBI a totally separate power answerable to no one. More specifically, the Attorneys General, Presidents and Congress have granted power and responsibility to the FBI but have failed to direct, guide and control it.

(b) During the course of the FBI investigation of the "Watergate break-in," allegations were made that the FBI has been too responsive to demands made upon it, particularly those of a political nature.

4. Options for future policy: The Director of the FBI, as head of the principal investigative Bureau within the Department of Justice, must be permitted to discharge his responsibilities free from political or unethical pressure. This must be balanced with his responsibility to remain responsive to the Attorney General's leadership and direction of that Department having as one of its principal functions the enforcement of the Federal law through prosecution. A Congressional oversight committee, available to give the FBI counsel, guidance and direction, could greatly assist the FBI in achieving and maintaining this balance.

There must be an efficient working relationship, with free and open channels of communication between the Director and the Attorney General, due to their mutual and interlocking responsibilities in the criminal justice field, primarily investigative on the part of the FBI and prosecutive on the part of the Department. This relationship should generate, at descending levels in the Department and the FBI, a commitment to accomplish an efficient work flow, in appreciation of the impact of this interaction on the entire criminal justice system. Because of the multiple and varied responsibilities of the FBI, the Attorney General-Director relationship and the counterpart division relationships should insure a smooth and coordinated effort which will enable the accomplishment of major objectives, while at the same time providing necessary FBI services to other elements of the criminal justice system.

That we are well aware of our role and responsibilities in this regard, and to cite only one of several examples, is evidenced by the operation of the Computerized Criminal History Program which provides much needed data to all branches of the system. Thus, to the extent possible, these relationships should be such that both objective achievement and mutual assistance between components of the systems are enhanced.

With regard to other continuing relationships having a bearing on the Attorney General-FBI Director relationship, the FBI head must communicate directly with the President on occasion, and with the recent establishment of a Congressional oversight committee, direct contact will be maintained with this group. Concerning ultimate alternatives in the relationship, the FBI Director must be in a position to register reasoned disagreement at times and, if the situation dictates, to take up important matters of disagreement with the President and with the Congressional oversight committee.

STUDY OF FBI PROGRAMS AND POLICIES

Reference is made to your letter of December 5, 1973, captioned as above.

I fully support the idea of a study being launched for the purpose of considering the need for additional legislation to enable the FBI to counter violence in the time of crisis such as existed at the time the FBI implemented the COINTELPRO - New Left.

As you know, the FBI has conducted an in-depth study of the scope of FBI jurisdiction and authority and it was concluded that additional legislation is needed to enable us to more fully discharge our responsibilities relating to the national security. Copies of this study have been furnished to the Department.

As for the general study of programs and policies of the FBI which was initiated by former Attorney General Richardson and former Deputy Attorney General Ruckelshaus, we have completed compiling most of the information requested. However, as pointed out during our meeting on December 5, 1973, information requested in item No. 7 relating to Investigative Techniques was so broadly requested by Mr. Ruckelshaus that it encompasses extremely sensitive foreign intelligence collection techniques. Such information is so closely held in the FBI that it is handled on a strictly need-to-know basis. We therefore do not feel that the information should be included in a study of this type which will be beyond the control of the FBI.

Mr. Petersen noted at the meeting that such information is needed if we expect to get legislation which would give us the authority we need in the sensitive foreign field. We recognize this, but we feel that such could be handled during oral briefings during high-level conferences. In this regard, you have designated Messrs. Henry E. Petersen, Robert Dixon, J. Stanley Pottinger, and Irving Jaffe to be available for consultation and advice.

I am designating Assistant to the Director-Deputy Associate Director Edward S. Miller; Assistant Director W. R. Wannall, Intelligence Division; Inspector John A. Mintz, Legal Counsel; and Inspector Thomas J. Smith, Intelligence Division, to meet with the aforesaid for the purpose of resolving issues bearing on FBI programs and policies.

I feel that it would be highly profitable if the Department and FBI representatives could arrange a two- or three-day conference away from Washington, possibly at our Quantico facilities, where an uninterrupted discussion of the various problems could be held and during which recommendations for positive action could be formulated. If you agree, I will try to arrange something for soon after the first of the year.

NOTE:

A conference was held 12/5/73, between Mr. Bork and the Director. Also present were Assistant to the Director Edward S. Miller and Inspector Thomas J. Smith from the Bureau and Mr. Henry E. Petersen. Relet was discussed at the conference. The letter was deemed necessary because of the Carl Stern suit involving his request under the Freedom of Information Act for documents relating to the COINTELPRO - New Left. Mr. Bork feels that the Bureau and Department should study need for future legislation in connection with issues relating to the COINTELPRO.

DATE: December

FROM : Robert H. Bork, Acting Attorney General RHB

SUBJECT: Study of FBI Programs and Policies

Mr. Miller - See me plo

As you know, a general study of the programs and policies of the FBI was initiated in July by former Attorney General Richardson, former Deputy Attorney General Ruckelshaus, and yourself.

As Acting Attorney General, I have continued to support this effort and you and I have discussed various approaches to further implementation of the study. In addition, I have discussed the matter with Senator Saxbe to assure that he is properly advised of on-going matters pending before the Department. As a result of my conversation with him, I am certain the study will continue to receive the highest priority when the new Attorney General assumes office.

A new dimension was added, however, as a result of a suit filed against the FBI under the Freedom of Information Act by a reporter for the National Broadcasting Company, Carl Stern. The suit brought to my attention certain information which demonstrates anew the importance of the study. In my capacity as Solicitor General, I decided that the law and the public policy expressed in the Freedom of Information Act did not warrant appealing the district court's decision that the documents in question must be provided to Mr. Stern. I understand that the material is in the process of being turned over to Mr. Stern.

Meanwhile, it is appropriate--indeed imperative--that you complete as rapidly as possible the inquiry into investigative techniques that you and Mr. Ruckelshaus had begun. As you and I have agreed, the study should focus in particular on the programs and activities referred to in the documents involved in the Stern litigation. I ask that you report on these matters as expeditiously as possible, and that your report include a detailed summary of conduct in the past under such programs and actions taken to insure that the rights of individuals are not violated while essential FBI investigations are pursued. In terms of priority, I think that the program COINTELPRO--New Left should receive first consideration. I also seek your recommendations as to any corrective action that should be taken either by you or by the Attorney General. It may be that the best solution would be additional legislation.

In addition to the general support of the Department and its personnel to assist you in your undertaking, I am specifically designating four Department officials to make themselves available to you, individually or as a group, for consultation and advice. They are Henry E. Petersen, Assistant Attorney General in charge of the Criminal Division, Robert Dixon, Assistant Attorney General in charge of the Office of Legal Counsel, J. Stanley Pottinger, Assistant Attorney General in charge of the Civil Rights Division, and the acting head of the Civil Division, Irving Jaffe. They will also be available to the incoming Attorney General for the same purpose.

I know that you agree with me that it is critical to the national interest that the FBI be able effectively to counter violence in time of crisis and that there be no occasion for public doubt concerning the legitimacy of its actions.

INQUIRY # 8

Issue #8

FILES AND THEIR DISCLOSURE

I. Problem:

Mr. William D. Ruckelshaus, in item #8 of memorandum to the Director dated 7/20/73, stated, "The whole question of files and their disclosure must be studied with a view toward understanding why files are kept, what categories of files there are, what information is contained in the files and whether the purposes for maintaining files are being met under present policy. In the issue of disclosure, when, where, and to whom must also be thoroughly examined."

As problems involved in creation and maintenance of files and disclosure of information contained in them are rather complex they are being discussed separately. Identification Division records consisting of fingerprint cards and identification records (Rap Sheets) are not considered to fall in this category of "Files" and their use is not being commented upon.

II. Present Policy

A. Why Files Are Kept:

Age of information in FBI files covers a relatively short span of years. FBI had very few files until the President in 1939, directed the FBI be responsible for the Internal Security of the United States. In view of this, and as the number of violations of law over which the FBI has jurisdiction has nearly doubled since 1939, the vast majority of FBI files have been created since 1939.

Regulations of National Archives and Records Service, (NARS) General Services Administration, which are based on Title 44, Chapter 33, Sections 3301 and 3302, U.S. Code, govern the type of material which we must maintain. Record material is described as including "all books, papers, maps, photographs, or other documentary materials, regardless of physical form or characteristics, made or received by an agency of the United States Government under Federal Law or in connection with the transaction of public business and preserved or appropriate for preservation by that agency or its legitimate successor as evidence of the organization, functions, policies, decisions, procedures, operations, or other activities of the Government or because of the informational value of data contained therein."

This document is prepared in response to your request and is not for dissemination outside your Committee. Its use is limited to official proceedings by your Committee and the content may not be disclosed to unauthorized personnel without the express approval of the FBI.

In view of this definition of record material, we are required to retain any material which we have made or received during the course of public business, and which has been preserved or is appropriate for preservation.

In 1969, NARS surveyed the records of the Department of Justice including those of FBI and subsequently instructed that certain categories of FBI files at FBIHQ be retained indefinitely. Included were files which would have historical value and would document policies, procedures, functions, budgetary policies, etc. In addition, vast majority of investigative files must be kept indefinitely although it was prescribed that only a representative sampling of certain types of violations at five year intervals be retained. These requirements apply only to files at FBIHQ. NARS has previously approved destruction of closed field files as all pertinent information is in file at FBIHQ. As a practical matter, however, field investigative files are retained 20 years before being destroyed.

The FBI has an active program to keep its records at FBIHQ to the barest minimum. While certain categories of our files, as previously mentioned, must be retained permanently, some are obsolete and valueless. With approval of NARS we destroy certain categories of such obsolete material. Examples of the larger categories are: Results of investigations over 25 years old regarding alleged subversive and espionage activities wherein complaints were nebulous and no derogatory information was developed, and investigations where the perpetrators of the crimes were never identified.

In order to reduce amount of storage space required for files we microfilm, with approval of NARS, majority of files regarding criminal violations which are over 10 years old.

B. Categories of Files

Material is filed into one of the following general types of files:

Main Files

A main file is opened on an individual, organization, or subject matter when there will be an adequate volume of mail or the matter is deemed of sufficient importance to be assembled in one place. Main files are referred to as "Case Files" when we are making an investigation.

General Files

General files are used for nonspecific violations, complaints over which we have no jurisdiction, and miscellaneous matters. General files are also maintained on various individuals; organizations; foreign, local, and state law enforcement agencies as well as Federal agencies (for information regarding cooperation, liaison, general organization, etc.); associations; patriotic organizations such as the American Legion; newspapers, magazines, radio and television stations which cooperate with the Bureau in publishing fugitives and to whom we give press releases; and activities of foreign nations such as Soviet and satellite activities, etc.

Control Files

Control files are maintained for the purpose of having all information regarding a specific matter immediately available without the necessity of reviewing numerous case files. An example is "Threats Against the President." Individual case files are opened for each threat on which we conduct an investigation; however, a copy is placed in the control file so that all such threats are recorded in one place.

Policy Files

A policy file is maintained for each violation over which the FBI has investigative jurisdiction along with various specific programs arising from this jurisdiction.

Administrative Files

Administrative files are maintained on statistical reports, appropriations, conferences, training schools, FBI National Academy matters, and related subjects.

Set-up Files

These are files which are set up by locality or special category with subs for field offices, states, continents, or foreign nations. Almost any type of file can be made a set-up file if the volume of mail expected is great enough or if the supervision of the subject matter is divided among several Special Agent Supervisors according to locality.

C. Type of Information Contained in the Files

Generally speaking, there are no limits as to the type of information in our files. The FBI, by the very nature of its jurisdiction and its worldwide reputation as an elite law enforcement agency, attracts information. In addition to being responsible for investigations relating to interstate criminal activity throughout the United States, the FBI is also responsible for the Internal Security of the United States. Any intelligence organization survives on information uncovered by investigation or received from other sources. Citizens write to the FBI regarding any matter which they feel is against the best interests of the United States or where they feel an individual or organization might be violating a law. The average citizen is not aware of the jurisdiction of the various investigative agencies, local, state or Federal and many of them bring their problems to the FBI. The FBI will promptly disseminate any matter which is under the jurisdiction of another agency to that agency. The nondisseminated information is either acted upon and filed, or filed because no action is required.

In addition to the filing of material relating to criminal and security matters, the Bureau is responsible for a number of applicant-type (background) investigations and the information developed during these investigations is filed.

D. Disclosure of Information in FBI Files

1. Responsibility for Proper Utilization of Information

Among the foremost of the FBI's responsibilities is the proper utilization of information received either through investigative activities or through other means as this information may be of vital interest to another Government agency or a local law enforcement agency. It is extremely important that the FBI keep these agencies informed concerning matters in which they would have a legitimate interest. Information is disseminated at both field and Headquarters level, with FBIHQ making the information available to Federal agencies at the national level.

2. Basis for Dissemination

a. To Government Agencies

The FBI is under obligation to act as a clearing house for information which affects the Internal Security of the United States. This obligation is based on the following:

1. Beginning in 1939, various Presidential directives requested all law enforcement officers to report information regarding espionage, sabotage, subversive activities and related matters to the FBI. These directives charge the FBI with the responsibility of correlating the material and referring matters under jurisdiction of other Federal agencies to the appropriate agencies.

2. The Delimitations Agreement between the FBI and the Armed Forces intelligence agencies provides that the responsibilities assumed by one organization in a given field carries with it the obligation to exchange freely and directly with other subscribing organizations all information of mutual interest. In addition, a supplemental agreement provides that certain information of general interest to the intelligence services of the Armed Forces be furnished them.

3. The National Security Act of 1947 provides that upon written request from the Director of Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) the Bureau shall make available information for correlation, evaluation and dissemination essential to national security.

4. Executive Order 10450 (Security of Government Employees) requires the FBI to check names of all civil applicants and civil incumbents of any department or agency of the Executive Branch against records of the FBI.

5. Supplement Number Four (Revised) of Departmental Order 3464, signed by the Attorney General in January, 1953, classified all official records and information of the FBI as "Confidential." However, in accordance with long-standing policy concurred in by the Attorney General, the practice of passing to other Government agencies information coming to the FBI's attention in connection with the conduct of investigations normally within the Bureau's jurisdiction was entirely appropriate and correct. The Attorney General advised the Bureau it would be remiss in its duty if it failed to pass along information which might prove of interest to the general welfare.

b. White House Requests

Pursuant to requests from the White House, the names of individuals who attend, serve or perform at White House functions, or who may be considered for Presidential appointments are checked against Bureau files including Identification Division records for any derogatory data which indicates the individual might pose a threat or embarrassment to the President or members of his family. Such requests are handled expeditiously and any derogatory information is reported directly to the White House staff security officer by appropriate communications depending upon the time factors involved. At the request of the White House, the FBI conducts background investigations on Presidential appointees, White House employees and persons having regular access to the White House.

For a number of years we have followed the practice of furnishing significant intelligence information, both in the domestic and foreign areas, on a timely basis directly to the White House concurrent with the dissemination of the same data to the Attorney General and other interested agencies. The Bureau disseminates by teletype to the White House and other interested agencies summary data concerning civil unrest and acts of violence as they occur in the U.S. We also provide the White House by letter or teletype, as circumstances indicate, top-level intelligence data developed through our sources when it appears the President or senior members of his staff would have an interest. Much of this originates with our Legats and through our coverage of foreign establishments in the U.S. Simultaneous dissemination is made to the Attorney General who is advised of our dissemination to the White House.

It is noted that frequently the value of information being disseminated depends entirely on the timeliness of our dissemination. Therefore, direct and immediate dissemination to the White House is the only effective way to handle these matters.

FBI Legal Counsel on 7/20/72, set forth the opinion that the FBI had no legal basis to disseminate information to the White House concerning a current criminal case. It is the obligation of the FBI to keep the Attorney General fully informed and leave further dissemination to him. Acting FBI Director Gray instructed this policy be followed and we have been complying with this direction.

c. Exceptions

1. Congressional Committees

The Attorney General on 6/14/54, ruled that the FBI shall make name checks and investigations of individuals being considered for staff positions of the following Congressional Committees when such requests are made by the chairmen:

a. Senate and House Appropriations Committee

b. Senate and House Judiciary Committee

c. Joint Committee on Atomic Energy (Cooperation extended to this Committee pursuant to the Atomic Energy Act of 1946)

d. Senate Armed Services Committee

e. Senate Foreign Relations Committee

2. Supreme Court

The Bureau conducts name checks for the Supreme Court, which checks are normally limited to employees such as charwomen, elevator operators and individuals of this type.

3. Foreign Intelligences Services

As a matter of cooperation with friendly intelligence services, the Bureau conducts name checks for the following such agencies who have liaison representatives stationed in Washington, D.C.

a. Royal Canadian Mounted Police (Canada)

b. MI-5 (British Security Service)

c. Australian Security Intelligence Organization (Australia)

d. New Zealand Security Service (New Zealand)

e. French Foreign Intelligence and Counterespionage Service

f. MI-6 (British Secret Intelligence Service)

g. BFSS (Bureau For State Security) (South Africa)

In addition, name check requests are conducted for cooperative foreign police and intelligence services through the Bureau's Legal Attaches stationed in foreign countries. In a very limited number, name check requests are handled for cooperative foreign police agencies by direct correspondence.

d. To Local and State Law Enforcement Agencies

The FBI traditionally has cooperated with local and state law enforcement agencies in matters of common interest. Pertinent information regarding local criminal matters if furnished to local and state law enforcement agencies when such dissemination will not jeopardize FBI investigations or informants. During Fiscal Year 1973, 189,910 items of criminal information were furnished by the FBI to local and state law enforcement agencies.

E. Type of Information Disseminated

Name check requests received from agencies within the Executive Branch, as a general rule, are checked against FBI files for "subversive-type" references only and criminal-type references are not reviewed. However, for some agencies, at their specific request, all references in Bureau files are reviewed. All agencies are aware of the limitation on the type of search made as they are furnished a copy of an FBI booklet describing procedures for requested name checks.

The policy of disseminating only "subversive-type" information is based on the fact that any agency desiring to obtain a copy of the individual's identificatio record showing his arrests may do so by submitting a separate request directly to the Identification Division. A second reason for limiting the search is due to economy as searching criminal-type references would require additional personnel and an increase in the cost of conducting name checks.

In response to name check requests, the Bureau disseminates the results of Bureau investigations, information received from reliable sources concerning membership in subversive groups, pertinent public source information, and information which good judgment and common sense dictate should be furnished. Information falling in the category of rumor or gossip which is found in Bureau files is not disseminated unless a compelling reason exists therefor, and when such information is disseminated to a requesting agency, that agency is alerted to the nature of the information and the fact that it has not been verified by the FBI.

Derogatory information on Federal employees is furnished to the Civil Service Commission and where common sense dictates, it is also furnished to the employing agency.

F. How Dissemination is Made

1. Name Checks

When possible a copy of the FBI communications is furnished to the requesting agency. A record is maintained on the original of this communication that a copy was furnished to the particular agency. When information is located in numerous FBI communications, the pertinent data is abstracted and summarize into a separate communication. A copy of this communication is retained in FBI files.

2. Other Than Name Check Requests

Any information received by the FBI which is of interest to another Federal Agency is furnished in writing to that agency.

G. Protection of Information Disseminated

When reports or letterhead memoranda already in the file are disseminated to a requesting agency, each such document contains the following statement:

> "This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency."

Data abstracted from the files and disseminated by letter or in letterhead memoranda form contains, in substance, terminology appearing above.

III. Issues

Basic issue appears to be whether FBI should retain and disseminate information in its files which is not acquired as a direct result of its investigations.

IV. Options

There are no options. We are required by law to retain information which has been made or received in connection with the transaction of public business and which has been preserved or which is appropriate for preservation as evidence of the organization, functions, policies, decisions, procedures, operations, or other activities or because of the informational value of data contained there. With respect to the dissemination of information to Federal agencies, we are required by law, Presidential directives, and instructions of the Attorney General to furnish information in our files to agencies of the Executive Branch. The exceptions cited previously are logical and no change is believed necessary.

Likewise, the welfare of the general public requires that we continue our policy of furnishing pertinent information regarding local criminal matters to local and state law enforcement agencies.

9. Problem - The question of a Civilian Review Board for the intelligence-gathering activities of the FBI should be examined. This is a recurrent suggestion which came up at the Princeton Conference, in addition to other forums.

Policy - There is no Civilian Review Board to monitor the FBI inasmuch as various checks and reins are available to check or control the FBI. (See Options)

Issue - Is it necessary to have a group of civilians review the FBI's policy and activities to insure that nothing improper is being done and to handle complaints regarding the FBI?

Options - No Civilian Review Board is required since numerous means exist to control the FBI. These specifically include: a Senate Oversight Committee, the Senate and House Appropriations Committees, the Office of Management and Budget, the National Security Council, the President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board, the Civil Service Commission, the Attorney General, the Department of Justice, the Federal Courts, the news media, and of course public opinion. The President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board is in reality a civilian review board for the President. Its members are non-government personnel qualified in matters relating to national defense on the basis of their knowledge and experience. Especially is the FBI opposed to the concept of civilian boards exploring the field of FBI counterintelligence and intelligence-gathering operations which would adversely affect this Bureau's relations with foreign intelligence agencies. In general, we feel that the Congressional oversight concept should have put this question to rest.

INQUIRY # 10

Issue # 10

I. THE PROBLEM:

What should be the relationship between the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the other Departments and Agencies of the Federal Government? To what extent should the Federal Bureau of Investigation keep tabs on other Departments and Agencies through the development of sources and informants in those Agencies?

II. THE PRESENT POLICY:

A. Relationship between the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other Departments and Agencies of the Federal Government

The Federal Bureau of Investigation enjoys a close working relationship with the other Departments and Agencies of the Federal Government and traditionally has cooperated fully with local, State and Federal agencies in matters of common interest.

Cooperation among the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other Federal Departments and Agencies takes a variety of forms, including high-level coordinating committees, contractual agreements, and written guidelines for investigative jurisdiction in areas in which the Federal Bureau of Investigation and one or more Departments or Agencies have concurrent jurisdiction and share responsibility for enforcing a Federal Statute. The purposes of the committees, agreements, and guidelines are to promote the closest possible cooperation and coordination between the involved agencies, to insure there is no duplication of effort in any field, and to insure that proper coverage is maintained.

In addition to the above cooperative means, the Federal Bureau of Investigation maintains the following programs relevant to its relationship with other Federal Agencies and Departments:

1. FBI Liaison Program

In order to insure adequate and effective liaison arrangements with other Government agencies, the Federal Bureau of Investigation maintains a Liaison Section within its Intelligence Division at Federal Bureau of Investigation Headquarters. The objective of this section is to insure that the Federal Bureau of Investigation's business with other U. S. Government Agencies is accomplished promptly, effectively, economically, and with a minimum of jurisdictional or policy problems, through appropriate high-level liaison with key officials of these Agencies.

This document is prepared in response to your request and is not for dissemination outside your Committee. Its use is limited to official proceedings by your Committee and the content may not be disclosed to unauthorized personnel without the express approval of the FBI.

By the establishment of effective liaison contacts, we recognize and solve minor problems before they become major problems, requiring protracted and expensive negotiations between the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other Agencies. These objectives are achieved by placing experience FBI representatives in contact with officials at the highest levels of other Government Agencies where the Federal Bureau of Investigation either needs assistance or has concurrent interests. The Federal Agencies with which the Federal Bureau of Investigation currently maintains direct personal liaison are:

(a) The White House
(b) Office of the Vice President
(c) National Security Council
(d) Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board
(e) Drug Enforcement Administration
(f) Central Intelligence Agency
(g) Postal Inspection Service
(h) Department of Defense
  (includes direct liaison with various elements of Army, Navy, Air Force, and Marine Corps)
(i) National Security Agency
(j) Atomic Energy Commission
(k) Department of Transportation
(l) Department of State
(m) Department of the Treasury
  (Internal Revenue, Bureau of Customs, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, Secret Service)
(n) Immigration and Naturalization Service
(o) U. S. Marshal Service

Liaison with other Federal Agencies is handled by receiving telephone calls and visits from representatives of those Agencies, and by contacts with them on an irregular basis as the need may arise.

In addition to maintaining close liaison with various Federal Agencies at the Headquarters level in Washington, D. C., FBI regulations call for an effective liaison program at the field level. The Special Agents in Charge (SACs) of the FBI's fifty-nine field offices are directed to specifically designate an Agent (or Agents) to be responsible for developing and maintaining liaison with other Federal Agencies represented locally. In each instance, liaison contacts are developed to include a close friendly relationship, mutual understanding of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Agency jurisdictions, and an indicated willingness by the Agency representative to coordinate activities and to discuss problems of mutual interest.

2. Dissemination of Information

The proper utilization of information received by the FBI, either through investigation or otherwise, is foremost among our responsibilities. Such information may be of vital interest to another Government Agency and/or local law enforcement agency, and it is not FBI policy to withhold from dissemination information to which other agencies are justifiably entitled. Dissemination of information to other agencies is handled at the Headquarters level in Washington, D. C., as well as in the field.

The FBI serves as a clearing house for information affecting the internal security of the United States. This is based on various Presidential directives which have specifically requested all law enforcement officers to report information regarding espionage, sabotage, subversive activities, and related matters to the FBI. These directives charge the FBI with the responsibility of correlating this material and referring matters which are under the jurisdiction of any other Federal Agency with responsibilities in this field to the appropriate Agencies.

Various agreements between the FBI and other Federal Agencies provide for exchange of information of mutual interest and require that the FBI disseminate certain information to other Departments and Agencies of the Federal Government. An example is the agreement between the FBI and U. S. Secret Service concerning protective responsibilities which requires that we disseminate to Secret Service certain information which by its nature reveals a definite or possible threat to the President's safety.

Under provisions of Executive Order 10450 the FBI checks names of all civil applicants and civil incumbents of any department or agency of the Executive Branch against FBI records.

In August, 1972, the FBI instituted a program aimed at providing effective and expanded coordination of efforts with the local, state and Federal Agencies having direct responsibilities in the narcotics field. Each FBI office has designated an Agent to act in a liaison capacity as a narcotics coordinator and FBI Headquarters has designated a national narcotics coordinator to expedite this program. Any information received by the FBI concerning narcotics is promptly disseminated to the Drug Enforcement Administration, which is charged with the responsibility of enforcing the various drug laws.

3. Cooperative Services

In its traditional role of seeking professionalism at all levels of law enforcement, the FBI is enthusiastically committed to providing expert assistance to local, State and Federal law enforcement agencies. Some of the facilities of the FBI available to Federal law enforcement agencies are:

(a) The FBI Identification Division. The FBI is the central repository for fingerprint identification information. Data from the identification records are furnished to law enforcement and governmental agencies at the Federal, State, and local levels for official use only.

(b) The FBI Laboratory. The FBI maintains a well-equipped technical laborato at its Headquarters in Washington, D. C., for the investigative and probative use of local, State and Federal law enforcement agencies, and prosecutors throughout the United States. An excellent working relationship now exists between the FBI Laboratory and the laboratories of other Federal Agencies for the exchange of technical data and procedures. The services of the FBI Laboratory are made available on a cost-free basis to all Federal Agencies in civil and criminal matters, and to State and local law enforcement agencies in criminal matters only. Expanded programs of scientific aid and training to State and local crime laboratories are presently under development and will involve the continuing, close cooperative efforts of local, State and Federal Agencies and the FBI.

(c) The National Crime Information Center (NCIC). The FBI's NCIC is a computerized information system established as a service to all law enforcement agencies--local, State and Federal. The system operates by means of computers, data transmission over communication lines, and telecommunication devices. Its objective is to improve the effectiveness of law enforcement through the more efficient handling and exchange of documented police information. In the beginning NCIC contained data concerning stolen property and wanted persons. In November, 1971, NCIC operations were expanded to include a file of offenders' criminal histories, which is known as the Computeri Criminal History (CCH) file.

(d) The FBI National Academy. Since its establishment in 1935, the FBI National Academy has provided a professional training program of highest quality to career officers from throughout the law enforcement community. At its new training facilities at Quantico, Virginia, during Fiscal 1973, 1,044 officers from various local, state, Federal and friendly foreign law enforcement agencies completed the intensive 12-week course. This course is designed to enhance an officer's capabilities as a law enforcement administrator and to better prepare him to teach his fellow officers.

Although many officers from other Federal law enforcement agencies attend the FBI National Academy each year, the number in attendance is limited due to the mandate that the FBI provide this service to local and state law enforcement officers.

B. Extent to which the FBI should keep tabs on other Departments and Agencies through the development of sources and informants in those Agencies

The FBI does not have the authority or responsibility to keep tabs on other Departments and Agencies of the Federal Government; therefore, it does not have any policy whereby it checks on other Departments and Agencies. Because of the lack of FBI jurisdiction to keep tabs on other Federal Departments and Agencies, no effort has ever been made for the development of sources and informants in those Agencies for that purpose.

Although the FBI does not keep tabs on other Departments and Agencies, it has long been an accepted procedure among other Agencies of the Government that the FBI would conduct investigations of violations of Federal law in those Agencies where primary investigative jurisdiction is vested in the FBI, and we do so on a regular basis. Violations of Federal law involving personnel of other Government Agencies over which the FBI has statutory investigative jurisdiction include bribery, civil rights, Fraud Against the Government, Theft of Government Property, and Federal Housing Administration matters. This is not a situation unique to the FBI. A comparable situation exists in which the U. S. Secret Service is charged with investigating the theft of a Government check. It carries out its responsibilities not only in its own Department (Treasury) but in all other Federal Agencies as well.

III. THE ISSUES RAISED:

A. Relationship between the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other Departments and Agencies of the Federal Government

No issues are known to have been raised relative to the FBI's present policy regarding its relationship with other Departments and Agencies of the Federal Government.

B. Extent to which the FBI should keep tabs on other Departments and Agencies through the development of sources and informants in those Agencies

In regard to the present policy of not developing sources and informants in other Federal Departments and Agencies for the purpose of keeping tabs on those agencies, no issues are known to have been raised.

IV. OPTIONS FOR FUTURE POLICY:

A. Relationship between the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other Departments and Agencies of the Federal Government

It is imperative that there be a friendly, cooperative association between the FBI and other Departments and Agencies of the Federal Government. There must be an efficient working relationship, with free and open channels of communications, among all Federal Agencies. The Director of the FBI and the heads of other Federal Agencies should confer periodically on matters of mutual interest and definitely work together on all occasions. In order to avoid duplication of effort and problems of jurisdictional responsibilities there should be a clear delineation of duties and investigative limits for all Federal investigative Agencies.

A prevailing cooperative spirit throughout the entire Federal law enforcement community is a vital necessity in our Nation's war on crime and subversion. The rapid escalation of serious crime and the complexities of upholding the law in today's society have made it imperative that information, expertise, and resources be freely and expeditiously shared by all Federal investigative Agencies. Cooperation is a bilateral obligation. If the FBI does not continue to cooperate and reciprocate in exchange of information and resources with other Federal Agencies, it cannot conduct a successful operation. Therefore, it is my recommendation that the FBI continue its policy of working closely and cooperating fully with other Departments and Agencies of the Federal Government.

B. Extent to which the FBI should keep tabs on other Departments and Agencies through the development of sources and informants in those Agencies

Inasmuch as no issues have been raised regarding the FBI's current policy in this area, and since a change in policy involving the FBI keeping tabs on other Federal Departments and Agencies through the development of sources and informants in those agencies could be most detrimental to all concerned, I recommend there be no change in the FBI's present policy in this area.

11. Problem - Should the FBI have foreign officers reporting directly to the Director?

Policy - The FBI has had Agents stationed abroad in American Embassies since 1940. This has not been a secret or classified fact. They are known as Legal Attaches and are not operational. They do not conduct investigations but depend upon law enforcement and security agencies of the host government for coverage of FBI leads overseas. They maintain regular liaison with such agencies in countries where stationed, as well as in other countries that they visit on road trips.

Legal Attaches are regularly called upon to secure in-depth cooperation from foreign agencies on criminal and security matters which are frequently of a complicated and sensitive nature. These matters frequently include requests for surveillances, complicated interviews, information from normally confidential records of foreign agencies, apprehensions and informal deportations. In order to handle such matters effectively, a Legal Attache must be proficient in the language of the foreign country involved and must have an extensive knowledge of its culture, customs and judicial process. On the other hand, he must have a thorough knowledge of FBI jurisdiction, regulations and policy. This knowledge, which can only be achieved through years of experience as an FBI Agent, is extremely broad.

In addition, in order to maintain the cooperation of foreign agencies, Legal Attaches assist these agencies by having investigations conducted in the United States concerning matters of interest to the foreign countries involved. These matters frequently involve major criminal cases, espionage and terrorist cases which are often of substantive interest to the FBI.

Numerous problems arise in connection with handling leads abroad and matters in this country on behalf of foreign countries. Since each country is different with regard to its laws, customs, language and tradition, the FBI has found it necessary and in fact invaluable to have a man stationed abroad, on the scene, who can insure that prompt and efficient action is taken and that cooperative relationships are nurtured and protected.

ENCLOSURE

While our representatives abroad are still FBI employees, they are well aware that the American Ambassadors hold authority through various Presidential directives over the entire American presence in their respective countries of assignment and that all matters of interest must be coordinated with Ambassadors and their staffs. This includes political intelligence information acquired by Legal Attaches.

Issue - Is the FBI to continue using Legal Attaches to meets its responsibilities abroad?

Options:

1. Retain FBI representatives to carry out functions which have served since 1940 to assist the FBI and U.S. law enforcement agencies in their responsibilities having foreign ramifications, as well as to assist foreign law enforcement and security agencies.

The liaison function of FBI representatives serves to develop and maintain close, cooperative relationships with police and other investigative agencies of the countries covered. In the modern-day world, with the speed and facility of communication and transportation, crime has taken on immense international aspects which require constant liaison attention.

Accomplishments attained by the FBI through the liaison activities of the Legal Attaches with foreign law enforcment agencies in the past fiscal year (1973) include 1,047 FBI fugitives located; 109 fugitives located for state, local and other agencies; 167 automobiles recovered; and total property recovered worth $2,260,725.00.

Retention of Legal Attaches will permit further accomplishments, such as in several specific cases set forth below. It is firmly believed that these successes would not have occurred in the absence of personal and direct FBI liaison with foreign police agencies in the countries involved.

SENSITIVE FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE SOURCE

The Legal Attache, Beirut, has obtained through contacts a considerable amount of vital information concerning Arab terrorist activities which have become in recent years a major law enforcement problem throughout the world. The Central Intelligence Agency and the State Department have congratulated us on the intelligence information developed by this particular Legal Attache. In addition, he recently uncovered an international car theft ring involving the theft of over 180 cars stolen in the U.S. and valued at $700,000.

The Legal Attache, Buenos Aires, located and is currently attempting to arrange for the return of a subject from Argentina who was involved in a $200,000 fraudulent traveler's check case. This office has also been successful in tentatively identifying two individuals in Argentina who have been involved in the disposition of part of $8,000 worth of securities and blank money orders stolen in Chicago in 1971 during a robbery in which the owner was shot. This Legal Attache was commended by the American Ambassador in Buenos Aires for the part he played in the successful recovery of a hijacked American airliner in Buenos Aires which occurred without loss of life or damage to the aircraft. The Legal Attache, Buenos Aires, also played a leading role in preventing Meyer Lansky, the financial wizard of U.S. organized crime, from receiving asylum in South America. This action resulted in Lansky's return to the U.S. and arrest by the FBI on Federal criminal contempt charges.

SENSITIVE FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE SOURCE

The Legal Attache, London, has valuable contacts not only with New Scotland Yard but also with all major police departments in Great Britain. Time and again his office has acted as a conduit in major cases involving British and FBI interests. He also maintains close liaison with British intelligence services. The recent rash of letter bombs, one of of which wounded an employee of the British Embassy in Washington, has called for immediate and close liaison with British authorities. FBI bomb experts collaborated closely with Scotland Yard in London to the benefit of both agencies. Since the U.S. and Great Britain are prime targets of Soviet espionage, numerous instances of cooperation in this very delicate and secretive field have occurred between the FBI and the British intelligence service. This would be most difficult had we not had a Legal Attache stationed in London.

SENSITIVE FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE SOURCE

The Legal Attache, Madrid, through the cooperation of Spanish police, was able to effect 24-hour coverage on an Arab Al Fatah representative from Puerto Rico who visited and made contacts in Spain in June of this year. He also was able to arrange similar coverage on a visit to Madrid in 1973 of John Joseph Lombardozzi of the Carlo Gambino family of La Cosa Nostra. The extensive police work needed for such coverage would certainly not have been put forth by the Spanish police had they not had a close personal friendship with and confidence in our Legal Attache in Madrid.

SENSITIVE FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE SOURCE

The Legal Attaches in Manila and Mexico City combined in a joint effort which resulted in the capture and return to the U.S. of a fugitive in connection with the theft of over 1 million dollars in California. This individual had fled to Australia in 1970 and extradition was impossible. The Legal Attache, Manila, who handles Australia, determined that subject regularly traveled to Mexico. The Legal Attache, Mexico City, arranged for his apprehension by Mexican authorities on a visit to that country.

Another example of the importance of foreign offices concerns the kidnaping of a Mexican child in Pueblo, Mexico, by an American citizen. Ransom in the amount of $105,000 was paid in New Orleans and the child was safely recovered in a motel in Louisiana. Mexican police authorities developed very little information concerning this matter. The Legal Attache, Mexico City, however, through investigative guidance established the identity of the kidnaper and the fact that he had an estranged wife residing in Australia. The Legal Attache, Manila, working through Australian police had this woman interviewed with negative results. Australian police authorities were then guided into checking her finances and determined she had received large sums of money from Tel Aviv, Israel.

The Legal Attache, Tel Aviv, through Israeli police located the subject, recovered part of the ransom money and arranged for his extradition to the U.S. where he is awaiting trial in New Orleans. There is no doubt that this case would not have been solved had we not had Legal Attaches in the above-mentioned locations. The foreign police agencies involved had come up with negative information and only through personal contact and on-the-scene counsel by our experienced Legal Attaches, were local authorities able to produce the information required for the successful conclusion of this case.

SENSITIVE FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE SOURCE

The Legal Attache, Tel Aviv, has effected a close working relationship with Israeli police and intelligence agencies and regularly furnishes information which is vital to our coverage of the militant Jewish Defense League's activities in the U.S. and of Arab terrorist activities. It is extremely doubtful that we would regularly receive such information were it not for the presence of our representative in Israel.

SENSITIVE FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE SOURCE

The tracing of Watergate funds by Legal Attache, Mexico City, through established Mexican banking sources, is another example of the capabilities developed by our Legal Attache system.

2. Attempt to accomplish FBI responsibilities with foreign ramifications by having other Embassy personnel handle FBI work. This option, while removing FBI personnel from foreign embassies, would require an increase in State Department personnel to assume a work load, based on August 31, 1973, figures, of 4,283 FBI cases in the 20 FBI posts abroad, including 734 in Mexico, 527 in Hong Kong, 498 in Canada and 401 in Great Britain. Expenses involved in the returning of all FBI personnel and equipment in these 20 offices would be considerable and would be doubled by similar expenses to assign additional State Department personnel abroad to handle the work formerly handled by FBI personnel.

More important, such a change would result in the FBI being represented abroad by personnel with no experience in law enforcement and no knowledge of the internal policies and regulations of the FBI. It would also result in a person outside the Bureau, not under FBI control, becoming intimately acquainted with numerous sensitive matters and thereby opening the gate to leaks or other embarrassing situations from a security point of view. It is not believed that Foreign Service officers who differ greatly in background, experience and training from law enforcement officers could effectively represent the FBI with foreign law enforcement and security agencies.

3. Have FBI interests abroad handled by the Drug Enforcement Agency, Immigration and Naturalization Service, U.S. Customs Service, U.S. Secret Service or other Federal law enforcement agencies which currently maintain liaison offices abroad. None of these agencies have the broad scope of investigative jurisdiction which the FBI is required to shoulder. Their standards, policies, methods of operations, investigative techniques and calibre of personnel differ greatly from that of the Bureau. Some of these agencies are actually operational abroad. No matter how well intentioned such a representative might be on behalf of the FBI, it is not felt that he would have the necessary experience and/or knowledge of Bureau operations to successfully function as a representative of the FBI. It is, therefore, not believed that this option would be advantageous.

4. End all FBI pursuit of foreign ramifications in criminal and security responsibilities by FBI personnel stationed abroad and conduct them by direct communications. This option does not appear to have any advantageous aspects and would tend to stifle effective foreign liaison. Only a man on the scene can be thoroughly aware of the local customs, tradition and judicial process of the numerous foreign countries involved. Each country is different and the unique understanding of these differences is vital for successful communication and cooperation. It is not believed that a supervisor stationed in Washington can adequately grasp these unique situations. If such an option is adopted, it is felt that our present outstanding relationships with hundreds of foreign police agencies would quickly disintegrate. Furthermore, such communications, because of a lack of direct cable connections with foreign countries, would force the FBI to utilize direct mail or public cable systems as opposed to secure methods presently being utilized. This would not only create long delays, but would also pose serious security risks. This option is, therefore, not acceptable.

Conclusion

For the reasons set out above, it is felt that the only effective way for the FBI to discharge the full scope of its responsibilities is to maintain its liaison posts abroad.

Question A

(Revised 2/24/75)

BLACK PANTHER PARTY
FORMERLY KNOWN AS THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY FOR SELF-DEFENSE
CHARACTERIZATION OF SUBVERSIVE ORGANIZATION
EXTREMIST MATTER - BLACK PANTHER PARTY

The Black Panther Party (BPP), organized in December, 1966, at Oakland, California, by Huey P. Newton and Bobby George Seale, has the publicly-stated purpose of organizing black people to take control of the life, politics and destiny of the black community. The Party, operating the Black Panther Intercommunal News Service, publishes a newspaper called "The Black Panther," which at one time openly advocated the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in a revolutionary program to end the oppression of the black people but since early 1971 has spoken for a survival program pending revolution. BPP national headquarters, aka Black Panther Intercommunal Headquarters, is located in Oakland, California.

While openly advocating direct overthrow of the U. S. Government by force and violence until 1971, leaders have since avoided extreme statements in favor of calling for action within the established order. Newton, in an interview appearing in the May, 1973, issue of "Playboy" magazine, stated the Panthers' chief ambition is to change the American Government by any means necessary but that ultimately such change will be through armed violence.

Despite its claimed dedication to community service, indicators of the BPP's continued attraction to violence persist. Since July, 1974, Newton and other BPP members have been arrested in Oakland, California, for threatening police officers, murder of a 17-year-old female and the pistol whipping of Newton's tailor. Newton failed to appear on these charges and is now a local fugitive. Additionally, one died and three were wounded as a result of a shooting at a BPP-sponsored dance in Oakland, California, in October, 1974.

Incident #14 & 15

Question A

SECRET ARMY ORGANIZATION

The Secret Army Organization (SAO) was clandestinely formed during the Fall of 1971 in Arizona. Membership to date has been small and it appears to have the same basic tenets as the Minutemen. In fact, several of those involved in SAO were formerly active in the Minutemen. The mail drop for this organization reportedly is in care of an individual in Ramona, California, who has been involved in Minutemen and white-hate activities in the past.

This ultraconservative paramilitary organization was recently involved in extremist activities in San Diego, California. Members of this group reportedly made threatening telephone calls to a local college professor who is active in a group which plans to organize demonstrations at the forthcoming Republican National Convention. Following these telephone calls, a member of SAO fired shots from an automobile into the professor's home, wounding a guest.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY
INFORMATION CONCERNING

Information was received from Inspector Francis Johnson, Alexandria, Virginia Police Department on February 27, 1969 to the effect that an unknown source of information to the Alexandria, Virginia Police Department had recently been approached by persons, which that source described as Black Panther members, had requested the floor plans for Hunter's Haven, also known as Potomac Arms, located at 0 Prince Street, Alexandria, Virginia. This company conducts business in the sale of firearms and ammunition.

COULD IDENTIFY SOURCE OF OTHER LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCY

The Alexandria, Virginia Police Department established appropriate surveillance at this company, and an unknown person was seen to cut through the cyclone fence approximately 7:30 P.M. on March 1, 1969, and thereafter crawl under the building. An attempt was made by this individual to saw a hole through the floor of the building, but the would-be burglar was hampered in his sawing operation by guns and cases, which obstructed his sawing as well as the cold and water under the building. He was seen to depart through the hole in the fence, which he then temporarily repaired. He was not successful in gaining access to the building nor in obtaining any weapons. No arrests were made, hoping that accomplices would also be involved.

Inspector Johnson advised on March 3 and March 10, 1969 that the police have a "monitoring device" at the building, which will alert them at the police headquarters to any unusual noises after working hours, inasmuch as they have withdrawn their surveillance team. He stated that the source of information is not a member of the Black Panthers, but that the source continues to describe the burglars as such.

A characterization of the Black Panther Party is attached hereto.

ENCLOSURE

BLACK PANTHER PARTY

According to its official newspaper, the Black Panther Party (BPP) was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics, and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by Bobby George Seale, BPP Chairman, and Huey P. Newton, BPP Minister of Defense. Newton is presently serving a sentence of 2 to 15 years on a conviction of manslaughter in connection with the killing of an Oakland police officer.

The official newspaper, "The Black Panther", which further describes itself as the "Black Community News Service," states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to in the publication as "pigs" who should be killed.

"The Black Panther" issue of September 7, 1968, contains an editorial by BPP Minister of Education, George Mason Murray, which ends with the following:

"Black men. Black people, colored persons of America , revolt everywhere! Arm yourselves. The only culture worth keeping is a revolutionary culture. Change. Freedom everywhere. Dynamite! Black Power. Use the gun. Kill the pigs everywhere."

Included in the introduction to an article appearing in the October 5, 1968, edition of "The Black Panther" is the statement, "... we will not dissent from American Government. We will overthrow it."

Issues of "The Black Panther" regularly contain quotations from the writings of Chairman MAO Tse-tung of the People's Republic of China and feature MAO's statement that "political power grows out of the barrel of a gun."

The national headquarters of the BPP is located at 3106 Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley, California. Branches have been established at various locations throughout the United States.

This matter is being pursued intensively by the Detroit Office and contact is maintained on a daily basis with the Intelligence Unit of the Michigan State Police and the Special Investigations Bureau of the Detroit Police Department, both having direct interest in local black nationalist activities and conduct surveillances in regard to key black nationalist figures in the Detroit area. Racial informants, who are familiar with the black nationalist activity in the Detroit area, are contacted often in regard to an organized BPP in the Detroit area. Contact with the above sources has revealed that no organized BPP has been established in the Detroit area wherein the BPP is holding regular scheduled meetings.

In the event any information is received to show that a BPP is organized and meeting at a regularly scheduled time, the Bureau and other appropriate offices will be properly advised.

Re: Black Panther Party (BPP)

A characterization of the BPP is contained in the appendix attached hereto.

Sources hereinafter referred to have furnished reliable information in the past.

On November 11, 1968, from 7:00 p.m. to 7:30 p.m., WTVS Channel 56, a local educational television station in the Detroit area, carried a program entitled, "Facts About the Black Panther Party". The program was moderated by Lonnie Peeks, a local black militant associated with the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC).

A characterization of the SNCC is contained in the appendix attached hereto.

This was a panel type program with the following persons, all from the Detroit area, appearing:

Lonnie Peeks
Luke Tripp
Leonard Brown
Victor Stewart
Marian Kramer

Mich

Peeks advised that Marian Kramer was a replacement for John Williams, who had another engagement.

The panelists were introduced by the moderator Lonnie Peeks with the following titles:

Luke Tripp - Deputy Minister of Information

Leonard Brown - Deputy Minister of Education

Victor Stewart - Deputy Chairman

Marian Kramer - No title

Luke Tripp stated that the Black Panther Party is not a party that adheres to violence but is geared towards political education for the black people. Tripp stated that the Black Panther Party is running Eldridge Cleaver, leader of the BPP in San Francisco, California, for the presidency of the United States in Michigan. Cleaver is being sponsored by the New Politics Party. Tripp stated that the BPP is not interested in seeking or getting votes, rather it is concerned with presenting its program for revolution to the American people. Tripp stated that social turmoil as manifested by George Wallace, youth rebellions and riots in the streets, can be blamed on power being in the hands of the establishment and not in the hands of the people where it belongs. Tripp stated that the black economic, political and social condition as opposed to the condition of the whites is far below normal. The system has as its basis a cast system based on race. It is the relationship of the oppressor and the oppressed, superior to the inferior. Tripp stated that socially the black man is unable to control his destiny. School, police and welfare are all in the hands of the white people and the black people must grasp for what is left.

Tripp further stated the BPP has a ten point program that is geared towards elevating the black people out of the slums. He further stated that the BPP in the Detroit area is in the process of organizing a party and at this point has no definite meeting place or date. However, any persons interested in assisting the organization of the BPP in the Detroit area may do so by contacting Luke Tripp or Leonard Brown.

Leonard Brown mentioned the fact that the white policemen must realize that the black people are not afraid of them and will defend themselves in any critical situation. Brown mentioned the fact that a good example of the white police officer is the incident that occurred in New York City where 200 white off-duty policemen attacked innocent members of the BPP. Brown further stated that the black political leaders in the country are nothing but "phonies" and "Uncle Toms". He further stated it is time for the white power structure to realize that it is impossible to dictate to the black people as they have been doing for years and that the black people only want a chance to govern their community as they see fit.

Victor Stewart stated that the BPP in its useful state is not an "underground party" but an "above the ground party". Stewart stated that the only way the black people can excel or exist in this world controlled by the white man is to take what he wants. Stewart stated that this does not mean asking or getting on your knees begging the white power structure. He further stated that the key to the black man's destiny is through black political education classes in which he will be cognizant of the political structure in this country. Stewart further stated that the BPP's motto is "All power to the people; Black power to black people".

Marian Kramer, Negro, female, stated that the black female must awaken and play a vital role in organizing the BPP. She stated for years the black female has been neglected from the political system in our country.

Sources in the Detroit area who are familiar with the black nationalist movement, stated that they have no information at this time that a BPP is organized in the Detroit area and conducts regular scheduled meetings. These sources further advised that during other black militant organizational meetings the name Black Panther Party has come up; however, no significant meaning as to actually being established in the Detroit area is known.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY, also known as Black Panther Party for Self Defense

A source advised that the Black Panther Party for Self Defense (BPPSD) was formed by HUEY PERCY NEWTON, Minister of Defense, and BOBBY GEORGE SEALE, Chairman, in December, 1966, as a militant black nationalist political organization to combat "police brutality", to unite militant black youth, and to determine the destiny of black communities. The political philosophy was taken from writings of Chairman MAO Tse-tung of Communist China and black militant writers.

In March, 1968, the name of the organization was changed to Black Panther Party (BPP).

The official BPP publication, "The Black Panther Party - Black Community News Service", states that the BPP advocates use of guns and guerrilla tactics in their violent revolutionary program to end oppression of black people.

On February 17, 1968, ELDRIDGE CLEAVER, Minister of Information, announced merger of the BPP and Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) and bestowed title of Minister of Justice, BPP, upon H. RAP BROWN, Chairman of SNCC.

SNCC is a militant Negro organization which preaches black supremacy.

STUDENT NON-VIOLENT COORDINATING COMMITTEE

The Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), headquartered at 360-362 Nelson Street, S.W., Atlanta, Georgia, is a non-membership organization, which was born out of the sit-in movement that erupted across the South beginning in 1960.

Today SNCC identifies itself as an organization in the revolutionary vanguard. It advocates that to be successful it is necessary to develop a revolutionary ideology and revolutionary program.

According to SNCC, the year 1967 marked a historic milestone in the struggle for the liberation of black people in the United States and the year that revolutionaries throughout the world began to understand more fully the impact of the black movement. SNCC declared that "liberation will come only when there is final destruction of this mad octupus--the capitalistic system of the United States with all its life-sucking tentacles of exploitation and racism that choke the people of Africa, Asia, and Latin America. The realities of black life, together with the recognition instilled in SNCC workers forced its members to further popularize the legitimacy of self-defense and rebellious when oppression became too great."

From May, 1966, until May, 1967, STOKELY CARMICHAEL was National Chairman of SNCC. As of July, 1968, CARMICHAEL resided in Washington, D.C., where he was affiliated with SNCC and active as temporary chairman of a black coalition group. In May, 1967, CARMICHAEL was replaced by HUBERT GEROID BROWN, commonly known as H. RAP BROWN, who served until June, 1968.

In June, 1968, at the Staff and Central Committee meeting of SNCC held in Atlanta, Georgia, it was decided to restructure the organization by equalization of responsibility by creating ten deputy or vice chairmanships. The primary purpose for this change is to take law enforcement pressure off any single individual.

According to the official newspaper of the BPP, the BPP was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics, and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by BOBBY G. SEALE, BPP Chairman, and HUEY P. NEWTON, Minister of Defense, BPP.

The BPP newspaper, issue of October 5, 1968, had an article introduced with the following statement: "We will not dissent from American government. We will overthrow it."

DAVID HILLIARD, Chief of Staff, BPP, in a speech at the San Francisco Polo Field on November 15, 1969, said "We will kill Richard Nixon."

DAVID HILLIARD, in the "New York Times," issue of December 13, 1969, was quoted as follows: "We advocate the very direct overthrow of the government by way of force and violence."

In the issue of April 25, 1970, the BPP newspaper had an article by Minister of Culture EMORY DOUGLAS as follows:

> "The only way to make this racist US government administer justice to the people it is oppressing, is...by taking up arms against this government, killing the officials, until the reactionary forces...are dead and those that are left turn their weapons on their superiors, thereby passing revolutionary judgement against the number one enemy of all mankind, the racist US government."

The BPP Headquarters is located at 1046 Peralta Street, Oakland, California. Branches of the BPP, and Committees to Combat Fascism, under control of the BPP, have been established in various locations in the USA.

There are enclosed to the Bureau and to interested offices a letterhead memorandum pertaining to captioned organization. Five copies of the LHM are designated for the Bureau and three copies are designated for pertinent field offices.

INFORMANT

The confidential informant who ~~furnished the~~ information contained in the LHM is PX 783-E, who furnished the information on 10/18/71 to the Phoenix office.

COULD IDENTIFY INFORMANT

Inasmuch as the organizing group that met at Yuma, Arizona, was small and only one person from Arizona attended the meeting in question, the ~~possibility of uncovering~~ Phoenix' confidential informant would be an easy task. It is, therefore, recommended that the LHM not be disseminated outside the Bureau. No dissemination is being made at Phoenix. It is felt that this could be done at a later date when the organization has been developed in more concrete form.

NO

Phoenix' informant advised that the individuals spearheading the organization of the Secret Army Organization seemed to be SAM DAVIS, aka JERRY DAVIS, together with (FNU) BARRY, both of San Diego. The mail drop for the organization will be care of HOWARD CLARK, 1080 6th Street, Ramona, California 92065. Informant advised that (FNU) STAN seemed to lack enthusiasm for the new organization, and seemed to be more politically oriented along the lines of the American Nazi Party. Informant himself took a cautious stand toward the deliberations of the group. Names mentioned in the course of the meeting as being knowledgeable about the new organization are: ~~JOE BURTON~~, Las Vegas, Nevada; and (FNU) DOYLE, Las Vegas, Nevada.

Source made reference to the opening paragraph in the "HISTORY OF THE SECRET ORGANIZATION" material attached to this LHM wherein a group of six Minutemen allegedly met in Northern Arizona in February 1970. Based on the general tenor of the conversations at Yuma incidental to the organizational meeting there informant feels that the meeting he attended at Yuma is the first official organizational meeting of the group. The assassination of Minutemen leader has reference to TROY HAUGHTON, former State Coordinator of the Minutemen in California, who has been missing approximately three years.

History of the Secret Army Organization

CONFIDENTIAL

One early morning in February, 1970, a group of six Minutemen leaders from four states met secretly in Northern Arizona to discuss the crisis that the arrest and imprisonment of two top Minutemen leaders and the assassination of a third had brought on the organization. Although some of these men had met before in their roles as Minutemen group leaders, others were meeting for the first time.

After much discussion, two principal points were agreed upon. First, that the Minutemen as a national coordination organization of militant right-wing groups had effectively been destroyed by the pro-communist elements inside the Justice Department. While individual units still existed throughout the country, few had the financial support or leadership to be really effective. Second, that the need for such a coordinating organization was greater than ever in view of the increased revolutionary activity by communists in the United States.

With these two points in mind, suggestions were put forward on a course of action to be followed. After a meeting that lasted all that day and far into the next morning, an overall plan of action was finally agreed upon. All present agreed to merge their individual units together and form a new organization under the command of one leader elected from among themselves, with the other five to be members of a General Staff that would advise and assist the new leader.

While retaining the basic programs and policies of the Minutemen, it was decided that not only should this new organization have a different name, but also a completely new chain of command and organizational structure. If the new organization was going to survive the attacks that befell the old one, a whole new approach would be needed. Never again could the arrest or death of a few leaders be allowed to cripple the entire organization.

For this reason it was decided that only a highly disciplined military type orgainization with a definite chain of command would have any chance of success. This then, was the beginning of the Secret Army Organization. Beginning with an original force of hard core patriots that numbered fewer than two hundred, the Secret Army Organization began the job of picking up the pieces and continuing to fight for national and individual freedom. Using this cadre of dedicated personnel as a nucleus, the S. A. O. has been recruiting and training new members in the skills they will need as the freedom fighters of tomorrow.

The leaders of the S. A. O. have no idea of fighting a last ditch stand. We have no desire to commit suicide ourselves, or to let our members do so. We have a strategy which we believe will ultimately lead to victory. Only one thing is essential. We must start preparing and training NOW! We of the S. A. O. believe that our country is worthy of any sacrifice. If you feel the same way, we invite you to join us.

CONFIDENTIAL

To Prospective Members Of The
SECRET ARMY ORGANIZATION

CONFIDENTIAL

The Secret Army Organization is the most active, most completely dedicated and most selective in its membership of all the many patriotic organizations in America. We are willing to make any sacrifice for our country and we fully expect that some of us will have to make the ultimate sacrifice before victory is achieved. Our very lives depend on each other. There is no place in this organization for bunglers, playboys or lukewarm conservatives. If you join the Secret Army Organization, there might easily come a time that your life would depend on how competently some other member had learned his job.

Unless you are especially well informed on the domestic and world political situation, it is probable that you have a lot to learn about the present threat our nation faces. Unless you have had many years experience in actual underground warfare, there is undoubtedly a lot you can learn from the experts in our organization who have developed and supervised our training program.

OUR NATION IS IN IMMEDIATE DANGER

It is possible that within a very few years, perhaps even within months, our nation could be conquered and enslaved by the communists. To prevent this we must know as much as possible about our enemies. Unless we know who they are and what they are doing we will not succeed in our efforts to maintain a free America.

THE RESISTANCE MOVEMENT

In driving an invader from your land the resistance involved goes through three stages of development.

1) The Underground Network
2) Active Guerrilla Warfare
3) Open or Conventional Warfare

The conventional warfare stage uses everything in the way of weapons that the enemy does but must also have active guerrillas and underground agents working against the enemy, too. In the present state of military tactics conventional warfare cannot succeed unless these other two ingredients are used simultaneously.

The first step is to form an underground network. An active guerrilla system must have the support of an underground network of approximately three times its own size. This underground must supply the active guerrilla fighter with supplies, concealment, information, etc. An underground network starts with departments of intelligence, security and propaganda in that order.

Sabotage, espionage, subversion, infiltration, escape and evasion, training, clandestine fabrication of supplies, counterfeiting enemy documents, recruiting, communications and propaganda are other phases of underground activity. Each member of the Secret Army Organization, to be effective, must have a working knowledge of all these tactics as well as the military tactics more commonly associated with guerrilla activities.

CONFIDENTIAL

ASSIGNMENT TO UNITS

CONFIDENTIAL

Many people that inquire about membership in the Secret Army Organization seem to have an idea that they will be immediately accepted into an active unit. Look at it this way. Suppose you had spent a year or more carefully recruiting and training until you had a hard hitting team where every individual was reliable, dedicated, and had confidence in his fellow unit members. Wouldn't it make you mad to have the national or regional organization assign some rank amateur to your unit that you you knew little or nothing about?

Before any new member is assigned to an active unit or to an important underground project, he must undergo a period of training. During this training he will be directed through the mails by an experienced member and some of his activities may be observed by other members without his knowledge. Only when a new member proves himself to be conscientious, trustworthy, self-disciplined and able to operate effectively alone will he be accepted as a "secure member" and invited to participate with other unit members in a teamwork operation.

EXPENSES

Unfortunately, most good things don't come cheap. Although we make every effort to keep down the expense of membership in the Secret Army Organization, you must expect to pay your own way.

Dues to the Secret Army Organization are $3.00 per month. This money is absolutely necessary for use to maintain our central files and headquarters, for postage and printing, to finance our extensive intelligence network, and to maintain training areas.

Each member will have other expenses depending on the type of activity he is engaged in. Every member will be expected to buy his own gun, ammunition and other basic combat equipment. During training the new member may be expected to buy certain books or subscribe to certain magazines that his work requires. During this time the new member will also be supplied with reading material on the strategy and tactics of guerrilla warfare. This home work will make it possible for him to fit in quickly to an active unit and participate effectively in actual maneuvers, marksmanship training, etc.

Following this preliminary training a member may be either assigned to an existing unit, assisted in organizing his own unit if he has shown sufficient leadership qualities or become part of an underground network.

Upon your acceptance into the Secret Army Organization you will be given a definite series of projects described in writing so you will know exactly what will be expected of you.

We hope that you can succeed in this effort because your country desperately needs patriots at this time.

DETAILS:

I. BACKGROUND

A. Birth

On August 17, 1966, the records of the New Jersey Bureau of Vital Statistics, State Health Building, Trenton, New Jersey, were reviewed by SA NORMAN A. HENDRICKS, and a birth record for FRANK AUGUST DRAGER, II, was located. This record showed he was born August 4, 1940, at Trenton, New Jersey, and his parents were listed as FRANK AUGUST DRAGER, age 23, white, occupation - farmer, and who was born in Pennsylvania; and his mother was listed as MINNIE MOORE DRAGER, age 18, white, housewife, who was born in Pennsylvania. The residence of the subject's parents was listed as RD #1, Lower Makefield Township, Pennsylvania.

B. Citizenship Status

The subject is a citizen of the United States by virtue of birth.

C. Education

could identify source

Identifies source

On July 1, 1966, RH T-1 made available an application for membership in the American Nazi Party (ANP) dated July 26, 1965. This application pertained to FRANK AUGUST DRAGER, JR. Under the section marked "Education," DRAGER indicated that he had attended elementary school in Trenton, New Jersey, from 1945 to 1954. He then attended Hamilton Junior High School in Trenton, New Jersey, from 1954 to 1956; and Pemberton High School, Pemberton, New Jersey, from 1956 to 1958. The application also indicated he had attended Omaha University in Omaha, Nebraska, nights, from 1958 to 1960, but did not receive a degree.

Concerning the ANP, see Appendix.

D. Marital Status

Identifies source

The above-mentioned ANP application pertaining to the subject reflected that DRAGER, as of July 26, 1965, was single.

E. Residences

1. Present Residence

On January 21, 1967, RH T-1 advised that DRAGER presently resides at 6150 Wilson Boulevard, Arlington, Virginia, in a dwelling known as the "Barracks." This building houses the ANP National Headquarters. The source stated that DRAGER spends approximately one-half of his time living in the ANP printing building, located in Spotsylvania County, Virginia.

2. Past Residences

The records of the Mercer County Probation Office, Trenton, New Jersey, as made available on August 17, 1966, by JOSE WILLIAMS to SA NORMAN A. HENDRICKS, reflected the following residences for the subject:

Confidential source

214 East Franklin Street, Trenton, New Jersey (15 years legal residence);

44 Dill Avenue, S. W., Atlanta, Georgia, 1964;

180 13th Street, N. E., Atlanta, Georgia, 1964.

F. Employments

1. Present Employment

On January 21, 1967, RH T-1 advised that DRAGER is presently employed on a full-time basis by the ANP. His place of employment is normally located at the ANP printing press building located in Spotsylvania, Virginia, but he sometimes does odd jobs at the ANP Headquarters, 6150 Wilson Boulevard, Arlington, Virginia. The source stated DRAGER receives room and board and a small amount of spending money for his efforts. He is considered an assistant to ANP member JOHN PATLER, the ANP printer.

2. Previous Employments

DRAGER's probation record, as mentioned above, on August 17, 1966, listed employments by the subject as a cook at the Holiday Inn, Princeton, New Jersey, for three and one-half months; the White Horse Bowling Alley for four weeks (place not shown); and the Hotel Stacey Trent (place not shown), one month, during the period 1964-1966. Specific dates were not listed for these employments, and a notation in the probation record reflected that the subject had been fired from each job.

identifies source

On July 1, 1966, RH T-1 made available the subject's ANP application which indicated that as of July 26, 1965, DRAGER was employed at the Park Colonial Restaurant, 18 East Park Avenue, Trenton, New Jersey, as a waiter and cook. His Social Security Number was listed as 139-30-1035. Previous places of employment on this application reflected that from October, 1964, to December, 1964, he was employed at "Trader Eng's" in Atlanta, Georgia, as a waiter; and from September, 1964, to October, 1964, he was employed by OTIS BAKER, Atlanta, Georgia, as a painter, part-time.

G. Military Service

A review on December 23, 1966, of the military records on file at the Military Personnel Records Center, St. Louis, Missouri, by IC EDWARD J. MERGEN, indicated that FRANK AUGUST DRAGER, II, Serial Number AF 21 780 489, enlisted in the U. S. Air Force on August 22, 1958, and entered active duty on the same date at Newark, New Jersey. He was given a General Discharge under honorable conditions on September 2, 1960, as an Airman Basic at Offutt Air Force Base, Nebraska, by reason of being involved in frequent incidents of a discreditable nature with civil or military authorities.

His commanding officer recommended discharge action based on two Summary Courts-martial for sleeping on guard post and for absence without official leave; for being arrested by Sarpy County, Nebraska, authorities for alleged larceny of automobile accessories, for which he was fined $25.00 and court costs of $2.00; for being cited by civil authorities for loaning his vehicle operator's license to an unauthorized person; for a civilian arrest for careless driving, for which he was fined $35.00 and costs of $4.00.

His commanding officer further reported that he had an improper attitude.

His military occupation was shown as Apprentice Air Policeman, and he was shown as having attended Air Police Course at Lackland Air Force Base from September, 1958, to November, 1958.

confidential source

The records of the U. S./Selective Service System, Local Board #6, Mount Holly, New Jersey, as made available on August 8, 1966, by Miss JUNE HARMON, to SA NORMAN A. HENDRICKS, reflected that DRAGER was classified at that time as 4-A. The records also reflected that he originally registered with Local Board #6 on August 8, 1958, and at that time was residing at Box 995, New Egypt-Cookstown Road, New Egypt, New Jersey. He had previously enlisted in the National Guard in New Jersey on August 5, 1957, as a Private and was assigned to Company D, 216th Armed Infantry Battalion of the New Jersey National Guard. He received Serial Number 21780489 at the time of this enlistment, and was discharged on August 21, 1958, in order to allow him to enlist in the U. S. Air Force.

H. Credit and Criminal Record

The records of the Credit Bureau of Trenton, New Jersey, as checked by SA NORMAN A. HENDRICKS on August 18, 1966, contained a credit record pertaining to DRAGER, which listed his age as of May, 1963, as 22. The record contained no information concerning him except that he had been arrested on May 17, 1963, as a burglary suspect by the Trenton, New Jersey, Police Department.

confidential source

The records of the Atlanta,/Georgia, Credit Bureau, as made available by Mr. ROBERT EIDSON on November 15, 1966, to IC JAMES L. MARTIN, failed to reflect any information concerning the subject.

On November 15, 1966, Miss JO PRESLEY, Identification Division, Atlanta Police Department, Atlanta, Georgia, advised IC JAMES L. MARTIN her records failed to reflect any information concerning the subject.

A check of the records of the following agencies was made, on the indicated dates, with negative results regarding DRAGER:

On August 17, 1966, Mr. JOSE WILLIAMS, Probation Officer, Mercer County Probation Office, Trenton, New Jersey, advised SA NORMAN A. HENDRICKS that subject had been arrested on various burglary charges in Trenton, New Jersey, during 1963 and 1964. He stated that DRAGER had Trenton Police Department Number 20118, and New Jersey State Identification Number 758412. Mr. WILLIAMS stated that as to a sentence on March 6, 1964, for nine months for assault with a deadly weapon, this particular crime was committed by DRAGER in a service station on May 12, 1963. The owner of the station surprised him committing a larceny at the station at 1:00 a.m., and DRAGER shot at the owner, firing through a window, and thus making his escape. He was later arrested and identified as the burglar by the owner of this station. The subject later claimed he had fired the pistol in the air. He received a two-year probation sentence after the nine months for assault, and his probation ended on March 6, 1966.

J. Make and Model of Automobile Used by Subject

confidential source

On January 25, 1965, Mrs. BARBARA OLIVER, Clerk, Virginia State Division of Motor Vehicles, Richmond, Virginia, advised that she could locate no information in her files to show that a motor vehicle is currently registered in the name of FRANK AUGUST DRAGER, JR., in the State of Virginia.

On January 21, 1967, RH T-1 advised that DRAGER does not own an automobile, but has, as a member of the ANP, access to automobiles utilized by that organization. One of these automobiles is a 1965 El Dorado bearing 1966 Virginia License CO 4364. He added that a 1963 Ford, four-door sedan, bearing 1966 Virginia License 863-696, is also available for use by ANP members.

K. Special Abilities of Subject, Including Knowledge of Weapons, Explosives, Radio and Electronics

A review of the subject's Military Personnel Records, supra, failed to contain any information indicating subject had any specific knowledge or training in the field of demolition or explosives.

On January 21, 1967, RH T-1 advised that DRAGER, in 1966, came to Arlington, Virginia, and when he arrived he had no weapons whatsoever. The source added that as a Lieutenant in the ANP, DRAGER would have access to a small cache of weapons maintained at the ANP Headquarters and at Spotsylvania, Virginia.

L. Associates, Both Business and Social

On January 21, 1967, RH T-1 advised that subject, since arriving in Arlington, Virginia, in 1966, has been closely associated only with other members of the ANP; and to the knowledge of this source, DRAGER has not made any outside acquaintances.

M. Up-to-date Photograph of the Subject

On August 8, 1966, Detective AL CALLAHAN, Trenton, New Jersey, Police Department, made available to SA NORMAN A. HENDRICKS a photograph of the subject taken at the time of his arrest in 1963.

II. CONNECTIONS WITH KLAN-TYPE AND HATE-TYPE ORGANIZATIONS

On April 8, 1966, RH T-1 advised that "Probationary Trooper" FRANK DRAGER had joined the ANP on March 9, 1966, and attended a meeting of the ANP held on March 13, 1966, at the ANP Barracks, 6150 Wilson Boulevard, Arlington, Virginia.

On April 22, 1966, RH T-1 advised that "Probationary Trooper" FRANK DRAGER attended a formal meeting of the ANP held April 3, 1966, at the ANP Barracks, Arlington, Virginia.

On October 31, 1966, RH T-2 advised that as of October 26, 1966, DRAGER was assigned the following duties in his employment with the ANP: "Printing operations, including purchase of materials, quality control on press, and bindery operations, as well as on call for special assignments."

On January 21, 1967, RH T-1 advised that DRAGER is presently a "Lieutenant" in the ANP, attached to National Headquarters, 6150 Wilson Boulevard, Arlington, Virginia.

III. STATEMENTS BY THE SUBJECT CONCERNING VIOLENCE AND ACTIVITY IN RACIAL SITUATIONS

identifies source

As noted before, on July 1, 1966, RH T-1 made available an ANP application pertaining to DRAGER dated July 26, 1965. Under a section of this application entitled "State In Your Own Words Why You Want To Join The American Nazi Party," the following was contained:

> "I have tired of the unecessary and rediculous Negro gains to overthrow the United States and dominate the white race. I find it nealy impossible to locate non Jew owned businesses and feel that the American Jew is nerly in control of our nations capitol. I feel that it is time for something to be done. The ANP seems to be the only organization combating the existing racial problems in the U. S. and I want to do my part."

identifies source

The above application was signed "Frank A. Drager, Jr."

On June 12, 1966, ALAN WELCH, who advised he was Deputy National Commander of the ANP, stated that eight ANP members, including the subject, would attend a Klan rally at Camp Springs, Maryland, on that date. WELCH stated the members have been invited to attend by the Interstate Klan leaders.

Concerning the Interstate Klan, see Appendix.

On June 13, 1966, RH T-1 advised that DRAGER did attend a rally given by the Interstate Klan at Camp Springs, Maryland, on June 12, 1966. No incidents or arrests were noted.

On October 7, 1966, Captain FRANCIS JOHNSON, Alexandria, Virginia, Police Department, advised that 26 members of an organization known as the Action Coordinating Committee to End Segregation in the Suburbs (ACCESS) had marched from Gum Springs, described as a Negro section of Fairfax County, Virginia, to Alexandria, Virginia, starting at 2:00 p.m., and ending at approximately 3:45 p.m.

Captain JOHNSON stated that preceding the parade by ACCESS was a member of the ANP, who identified himself as FRANK DRAGER. Captain JOHNSON stated that DRAGER was astride a horse and carried a sign "The Niggers Are Coming." Captain JOHNSON stated that DRAGER was allowed to use this horse until he reached the City Limits of Alexandria, Virginia, at which time he was told to dismount and remove himself and the horse from the parade. JOHNSON stated that this was done to prevent violence within Alexandria.

At approximately 11:00 p.m., on October 7, 1966, Captain JOHNSON advised that the 26 members of ACCESS had reached a public housing development in Alexandria, Virginia, and at 8:00 p.m., had conducted a rally. The rally, according to JOHNSON, was peaceful, and no incidents or arrests had been made by the Alexandria Police Department during the day of October 7, 1966.

On October 9, 1966, Major WILLIAM FAWVER, Chief of Police, Arlington County, Virginia, advised that thirteen individuals in a group led by MATTHIAS KOEHL, National Secretary of the ANP, marched in front of the Buckingham Theater, Glebe Road and Pershing Drive, Arlington, Virginia, from approximately 1:30 p.m. to 4:40 p.m., on that date. They carried signs reading, "The Niggers Are Coming;" "Who Needs Niggers;" "White Power."

Major FAWVER stated that approximately 110 persons representing ACCESS appeared in the same area at 4:00 p.m., and marched until 4:40 p.m., carrying signs criticizing "Segregated Housing at the Apartments." The Major added that at a rally held later on that date by ACCESS, JOHN PATLER, who described himself as an ANP member, was escorted from the park for heckling speakers of the ACCESS group.

AMERICAN NAZI PARTY OF THE WORLD UNION OF FREE ENTERPRISE NATIONAL SOCIALISTS, ALSO KNOWN AS THE GEORGE LINCOLN ROCKWELL PARTY

In his book "This Time The World", copyrighted in 1961, George Lincoln Rockwell identified himself as Commander, American Nazi Party of the World Union of Free Enterprise National Socialists (ANP - WUFENS), Arlington, Virginia.

The April 4, 1963, issue of "The Richmond News Leader", a Richmond, Virginia, daily newspaper, reported that George Lincoln Rockwell had, on the previous day, again applied for the American Nazi Party to be chartered in the State of Virginia, but this request was turned down by the Virginia State Corporation Commission. This action was taken pursuant to an act of the 1962 Virginia Assembly which prohibits use of "Nazi" or "National Socialism" in a Virginia charter. This article further pointed out that Rockwell's Party is presently chartered in the State of Virginia as the George Lincoln Rockwell Party.

On August 14, 1964, a source advised that the ANP - WUFENS was organized by George Lincoln Rockwell at his residence in Arlington, Virginia, on February 26, 1959, as an international "National Socialist" movement based on the German Nazi Party headed by Adolf Hitler. He added that Rockwell is the dominant force and personality in this party; that he is espousing a "line" of hatred against the Jews and Negroes; and that he is seeking, through speeches, distribution of literature and picketing, to establish a cohesive and dominant political party in the United States and in foreign countries.

According to the "Stormtrooper's Manual", an official publication of the ANP, the phases of ANP struggle for power are fourfold, namely, first "to make ourselves known to the masses"; second, "the dissemination of our program and truth about the Party"; third, "organizing the people who have been converted to our propaganda"; and fourth, "the attainment of power through the votes of the newly-won masses".

On August 19, 1966, the source advised that George Lincoln Rockwell presently believes that he has completed the first two phases in his struggle for power and is well into the third stage, to wit, "the organizing of the people who have been converted to our propaganda". The source added that Rockwell had previously believed that he would be elected Governor of Virginia in November, 1965, and when defeated, he made the statement that he was not ready for stage four.

RE: INTERSTATE KLAN,
KNIGHTS OF THE KU KLUX KLAN

A source advised on June 12, 1966, that on that date, FRANCIS XAVIER EDWARDS, then Exalted Cyclops of the Wheaton, Maryland, Klavern of the United Klans of America, Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan (UKA), at an open meeting of that organization at Camp Springs, Maryland, publicly stated that his organization, the Wheaton, Maryland, Klavern of the UKA would cooperate with but not merge with the American Nazi Party (ANP) as they had a common goal. At the above meeting, EDWARDS also announced publicly that his Klavern was leaving the UKA and would be known as the Maryland Knights of the Ku Klux Klan (MKKK).

A second source advised that EDWARDS' group was expelled from the UKA, June 12, 1966, for cooperating with the ANP.

Subsequent to the above time, a third source determined that the MKKK had changed its name to the Interstate Klan, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan (IK) with national office at Post Office Box 185, Savage, Maryland, and FRANCIS XAVIER EDWARDS its Imperial Wizard and highest official.

The third source advised that the oath taken by new IK members includes pledges of loyalty to the country, the Klan and white supremacy.

The IK, according to the third source, claims members in Maryland, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia and Washington, D. C.

As set forth in the initial New York teletype, interview of UN employees was prohibited by the Secretary-General's office until 8/20/74. Since that date, however, the Legal Department of the Secretary-General's office has advised the NYO that it will authorize the interview and appearance for testimony of all UN employees necessary to the successful prosecution of the captioned matter. All interviews, however, must be held outside the UN premises.

The suspect in this matter, MICHAEL HALSEY BROWN, FBI #313 717 E, previously known to the Los Angeles and Alexandria Offices as a former member of the American Nazi Party in 1966 through 1967 and a one-time bodyguard of GEORGE LINCOLN ROCKWELL, founder of that organization. Los Angeles files indicate that in 1969 BROWN was identified as a member of the Iron Cross Motorcycle Club, a pro-Nazi motorcycle group in Glendale, California.

The Louisville Office has obtained, by subpoena, the suspect's toll call records for the period covering the captioned incident. Initial investigation tends to support theory that after departure from Berea, Kentucky, BROWN contacted pro-Nazi associates in Falls Church, Virginia, Hicksville, NY, and the NYC area during the period of the captioned incident.

Initial opinion of AUSA confirmed by separate communication.

LEADS

ALEXANDRIA

At Falls Church, Virginia

DETAILS: Enclosed for the Assistant United States Attorney, Southern District of New York are 3 photographs of the captioned device obtained from the United Nations (UN) Security Force on August 7, 1974, and a UN pamphlet captioned, "A Room of Quiet".

Investigation in this matter is predicated upon receipt of information from the United States Mission to the United Nations (USMUN) on August 7, 1974, that an explosive device, consisting of five sticks of dynamite, had been located in the southwest corner of the Meditation Room, UN General Assembly Building, New York, New York.

On August 7, 1974, Assistant United States Attorney (AUSA) MAURICE MC DERMOTT, Southern District of New York (SDNY), was apprised of the details in this matter, and advised that it was his opinion that further FBI investigation was warranted in accordance with Title 18, USC, Section 970, regarding the protection of foreign diplomatic establishments and international organizations.

The following investigation was conducted at New York, New York:

DERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date of transcription 8/12/74

Detective CHARLES WELLS, Bomb Squad, New York City Police Department (NYCPD) furnished the following information to SA JAMES R. LYONS:

On August 7, 1974, he and Officer BRIAN MURRAY were working an 8:00AM to 4:00PM tour of duty. At 9:55AM, he received a telephone call from the United Nations Security Section and was advised that a bomb was discovered in the United Nations General Assembly building.

Detective WELLS further advised that he and Officer MURRAY responded to the United Nations General Assembly building, U.N. Plaza, and were led to the Meditation Room located on the first floor just inside the main lobby.

WELLS observed five loose sticks of dynamite located in a corner of the room beneath a small wicker stool. He also observed a length of red firecracker type fuse which was placed on one stick of dynamite, a book of matches, and a partially burned Lucky Strike cigarette butt.

WELLS stated that he removed the above described material to the NYCPD bomb truck. The explosive filler was transported to the NYCPD Range, Rodman's Neck, New York, and the dynamite wrappers, the book of matches, cigarette butt and fuse were taken to the NYCPD Bomb Squad office.

Detective WELLS described the dynamite as five sticks of Hercules 60 Percent Gelatine Extra, manufactured August 21, 1973, and measuring 1 1/4 inches by 8 inches.

RICHARD LEE GRANGER, Security Officer, Security and Safety Section, United Nations (UN) General Assembly (UNGA) Building, was interviewed in the vicinity of 43rd Street and UN Plaza, New York, New York. Security Officer GRANGER furnished the following information:

On Wednesday, August 7, 1974, he reported to his place of employment at the UN Building, New York, New York, at approximately 9:00 a.m. At 9:15 a.m., the guard shift for that day underwent inspection and he was assigned security post 117, which is the Meditation Room, First Floor, UN Building. GRANGER described the Meditation Room as a small, darkened room set aside for purposes of prayer and meditation for persons of all religious faiths. He described the room as being almost rectangular in shape with one end being smaller than the other, however. The room contains a small square stone, and the west end of the room contains ten small benches utilized for the purposes of prayer or meditation. GRANGER further stated that following his assignment, he obtained the key to the Meditation Room from the basement Conference Room at 9:25 a.m. and proceeded directly to the Meditation Room, which is normally locked, except for the hours of operation of 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., seven days a week. He advised that after unlocking the room, he undertook the normal procedure of physically searching the room with a flashlight for packages or articles of clothing possibly left by visitors to the UN Building. He advised that he searched the east end of the room near the large painting first, and then proceeded to search in the vicinity of the west end, turning over each of the small benches in the process of searching. He advised that when he turned over the small bench in the extreme southwest corner of the room, he saw what appeared to be five sticks of dynamite. He advised that on looking closer, he observed what appeared to be two sticks of dynamite taped together, three loose sticks, an open pack of matches, a cigarette, and a fuse assembly lying in the corner of the room. He advised that the cigarette was not smoking. He advised that he immediately left the room, without touching any part of the device, locking the door behind him and notified his immediate superior, Sergeant MITCHELL. GRANGER advised that he did not re-enter the room until approximately 3:30 p.m., by which time the explosive device had already been removed by the New York City Police Department (NYCPD).

GRANGER advised that the guard posts at the UN are rotated frequently and that he had only been assigned duty at the Meditation Room on a few other occasions in his four years of employment with the UN Security Force. He advised that he had not worked at the UN on either Monday or Tuesday, these dates being his days off that week and that he had not observed any suspicious activity in the vicinity of the Meditation Room prior to his unlocking the room. He added that no visitors had been allowed in the UN Building as yet that morning and that he could think of no possible motive for the attempted bombing. Security Officer GRANGER advised that he could furnish no further information.

NEIL BREEN, Lieutenant, Special Services Unit, United Nations (UN) Security and Safety Section, was interviewed in the vicinity of 43rd Street and UN Plaza, New York, New York. Lieutenant BREEN furnished the following information:

On Wednesday, August 7, 1974, he was on duty in the UN General Assembly (UNGA) Building, when he was notified by Sergeant MITCHELL that an explosive device had been discovered in the Meditation Room. Lieutenant BREEN advised that he then participated in the clearing of the UN lobby of all visitors. He advised that the New York City Police Department (NYCPD) Bomb Squad arrived shortly thereafter and removed the explosive device through the UN main entrance.

Lieutenant BREEN advised that he then participated with other members of the Special Services Unit in the interview of UN security personnel on duty that morning. Lieutenant BREEN advised that the Meditation Room is open only from the hours of 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., seven days a week. He advised that the room is normally cleaned daily, during the morning hours usually. He further stated that no smoking is permitted in the Meditation Room and that no packages are allowed to be carried into the room. Lieutenant BREEN advised that the room is a small, dark enclosure frequently used for purposes of prayer and meditation by both UN delegates and visitors. He added that normally there are three UN security officers on duty in the main lobby of the UN at all times.

Lieutenant BREEN stated that the officers on duty are instructed to search incoming packages and that visitors are invited to check packages and related items at the UN main gate prior to entry into the UN Building. He advised that on occasion various ethnic and political groups during the course of demonstrations in the UN had staged sit-down strikes, but that there had never been any warning or indication regarding the use of explosives. Lieutenant BREEN advised that he could furnish no further information regarding the incident at the present time.

Date of transcription 8/13/74

WILLIAM JUNIOR STAFFORD, residing at 1103 Claridge Lane, Lexington, Kentucky, and known to interviewing agent as JAY STAFFORD, furnished the following information.

STAFFORD advised that an individual known to him as MIKE BROWN appeared at Stafford Lock Shop, Lexington, Kentucky, in the fall of 1973 and at that time involved JAY and his brother LARRY [illegible] STAFFORD in a conversation concerning the STAFFORDS' knowledge of locks, their ability to pick locks and their attitudes concerning involvement in any activities which might require the unauthorised picking or opening of locks. STAFFORD advised that neither he nor his brother expressed any interest in BROWN's suggestions and BROWN left the Stafford Lock Shop and was not seen again until his appearance at the Stafford Lock Shop on or about Monday, July 22, 1974.

JAY STAFFORD advised that on or about Saturday, July 20, 1974, an article appeared on the front page of the Richmond, Kentucky, Newspaper and this article referred to the fact that JAY and his brother, LARRY, had been involved in a burglary in Frankfort, Kentucky, on the evening of July 3, 1974. On this appearance by BROWN at the Stafford Lock Shop on July 22, 1974, BROWN disclosed that he had read this article concerning JAY and his brother LARRY and advised that he felt like the STAFFORDS were his kind of people. BROWN suggested that the STAFFORD brothers might need some help in getting out of this mess and that if they were willing to "go for broke", he would disclose to them a scheme to be considered, wherein the STAFFORDS' participation might gain them influence and friends who could assist the STAFFORDS with the resolution of their problem. BROWN then advised the STAFFORDS that if they were interested in this scheme that they should contact him at his residence at 101 Cherry Street, Berea, Kentucky.

by SA JOHN W. GILL / jt Date dictated 8/12/74

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

JAY STAFFORD advised that he and his brother proceeded to the residence in [illegible], Kentucky, on July [illegible], 1974, arriving there at approximately 5:00 p.m. Upon arrival, JAY and his brother were invited into the BROWN residence and JAY STAFFORD, at that time, observed a white female mowing the yard in the back of the residence. This female is described as being approximately 5'5", weighing around 115 pounds. JAY STAFFORD advised that he assumed this female to be [illegible] wife.

STAFFORD stated that while at the BROWN residence, BROWN disclosed to he and his brother that he, BROWN, was a member of the Iron Cross Motorcycle Gang, an organization which originated in the state of California. BROWN advised that the Iron Cross Motorcycle Gang is now active in the state of Texas and that BROWN had been instrumental in bringing this motorcycle gang to Kentucky on a previous occasion. BROWN talked about the fact that he had a Harley Davidson Motorcycle which BROWN described as a "chopper" and that this motorcycle was currently loaned to a friend of his in the state of Florida.

BROWN exhibited to JAY STAFFORD and his brother, a number of newspaper articles and clippings to include photographs which BROWN stated were the result of his activities at demonstrations around the country. BROWN disclosed to the STAFFORD brothers that he had been involved in various movements wherein he was hired and paid to participate in a [illegible] march or event for the purpose of creating disturbances and starting fights during the course of the demonstrations.

BROWN further displayed to JAY STAFFORD and his brother a number of photographs which STAFFORD recalled as totaling five, and these photographs, according to BROWN, were of the United Nations facilities in New York City. BROWN pointed out to JAY STAFFORD particulars of these photographs, noting on some of them that guards at the United Nations facilities did not wear sidearms, but merely contained a canister of mace on their belts. One of these photographs was of a group of people outside the United Nations building and STAFFORD advised that it appeared that this photograph was made of a tour group. BROWN also explained one photograph as being taken inside the United Nations facilities and related to the fact that a surveillance camera, not in the photograph, would appear adjacent to the upper right hand corner of this photograph, if it encompassed a greater area of the facilities.

BROWN advised JAY and his brother LARRY, that he was at one time in the United States military and that he had been a paratrooper during his enlistment.

BROWN questioned JAY STAFFORD and his brother as to their knowledge of firearms, asking if they had had any experience with pistols, and further asking if JAY and LARRY STAFFORD had ever given thought to shooting anyone or if the STAFFORD brothers, if trapped, would be willing to shoot their way out of a situation. After this discussion, BROWN then introduced the subject of the STAFFORD brothers' participation in a plan to destroy statues in the United Nations building at New York City. BROWN discussed the fact that several statues in the United Nations building related to philosophies that that he was opposed to and that these statues should be destroyed. BROWN described to the STAFFORD brothers one statues which is located on the Main Floor of United Nations building which BROWN stated depicted evil and was the devil in disguise. BROWN then described another statue which is contained in the basement of the United Nations facilities which BROWN felt depicted a pagan idol relating to pagan ritual and sacrifice.

JAY STAFFORD stated BROWN then discussed a scheme with he and his brother LARRY wherein BROWN was financed by a retired Colonel or General of the Army and this individual had contracted with BROWN to destroy the statues. JAY STAFFORD stated that BROWN disclosed that he had contracted to "perform" and had received $250 in payment to go to the United Nations building and destroy the statues. The $250 was allegedly payment for supplies and expenses during the trip. BROWN disclosed a plan wherein he was to place incendiary or explosive devices around the base of this statue and solicited the involvement of JAY and LARRY STAFFORD for the purpose of keeping people off of his back and causing disturbance while he placed explosives around the statue base and lit the fuse. BROWN discussed the possibility of having an expert pistol shot shoot out the surveillance camera, which covered the area of the devil statute. BROWN also discussed the possibility of arriving at the United Nations building in a van type vehicle which would be lettered with the name Acme Image and Engraving Repair, Incorporated. BROWN felt that this type of vehicle would be inconspicuous inasmuch as the name Acme Image and Engraving Repair, Incorporated lettered on the side of the van would indicate that he and his accomplices were employed by a company which maintained, repaired, or cleaned statues in the United Nations facilities. BROWN also discussed the possibility of having an individual in a wheel chair, sitting on the explosive charge, and suggested that entrance to the United Nations facilities could be accomplished this way without suspicion.

BROWN also discussed with JAY STAFFORD and his brother the possibility of involving another individual in this scheme, explaining that this individual had been teaching or instructing BROWN in the use of rappelling walls with ropes. BROWN discussed the fact that a freeway was adjacent to or under the United Nations facilities and that escape could be made out the rear of that facility and down an embankment or wall and, once escaping the facilities in this manner, an automobile could be stopped, a pistol stuck in the face of the occupant and the occupant forced to drive BROWN and other members of the group to any destination in New York.

JAY STAFFORD advised that BROWN, apparently in an attempt to impress he and his brother, related to the fact that if they were interested in involving themselves in this type of scheme and could "perform" well, that they would acquire a number of influential friends and might even be able to see Governor GEORGE WALLACE. BROWN related to the fact that the STAFFORD brothers would have no expenses if they involved themselves on the trip to New York City inasmuch as he, (BROWN) had a number of friends and associates who they could lodge with to and from New York. JAY STAFFORD advised that BROWN repeatedly referred to the term "performance" and STAFFORD interpreted the word "performance" to mean or identical with pulling off some type of job. BROWN related that he had not "performed" in several years and needed to "perform" at this time in order to regain influence or re-establish himself with prior associates.

BROWN further briefly discussed religious philosophies with JAY STAFFORD and his brother, relating the fact that the Bible had been misinterpreted. BROWN stated that the Bible referred to or authorizes man to have at least seven wives and also related to the fact that the destruction of statues in the United Nations building would be accomplished for religious as well as political reasons.

BROWN then asked of JAY STAFFORD and his brother, if they were aware of anyone in Kentucky who could furnish him dynamite. JAY STAFFORD advised that he might have given BROWN information concerning a younger brother of a person known to JAY STAFFORD as GLENN LYNN DEORTING, of Lexington, Kentucky. JAY STAFFORD advised that he at one time was a friend of DEORTING and believed that DEORTING's younger brother had experience with nitroglycerin and had perhaps attempted to, or had in fact, produced nitroglycerin in the garage of DEORTING's residence in Lexington, Kentucky. STAFFORD advised he could not say for certain whether or not he gave BROWN DEORTING's name. BROWN discussed the possibility of using dynamite on the statue that was in the basement of the United Nations building.

JAY STAFFORD advised that BROWN exhibited a box upstairs at the BROWN residence and this box contained some bags of white powder. BROWN described these bags of powder as being ingredients which were to be incorporated in a chemical composition, this composition being capable of producing extremely high temperatures if it was ignited. BROWN expressed the fact that this composition would completely melt any bronze or steal item and that it would acquire a temperature of 50,000 degrees. BROWN stated that he was expecting a shipment of another ingredient which he did not have at the time, and once this ingredient arrived, he would be able to manufacture the heat producing product. JAY STAFFORD advised that BROWN called the name of this ingredient and that it either had something to do with, sounded like, or incorporated aluminum.

JAY STAFFORD stated that BROWN made a number of references to "swine pigs". BROWN then asked JAY STAFFORD and his brother if it wouldn't be more rewarding to let the "swine pigs" know that their days were numbered than to be rich. BROWN suggested that the STAFFORD brothers could involve themselves in activities that he had in mind, and if they "performed" well, they would not have any money or other problems.

BROWN advised that he was going to place the explosives at the United Nations building whether or not JAY STAFFORD and his brother wanted to go along. BROWN gave the impression that he was committed to do this some time around the first of August. BROWN told the STAFFORD brothers that it would have to be done and that he would do it alone if necessary. BROWN told the STAFFORDS that he had proposed this scheme to some of his associates which he had known for ten years and that they had refused to go along with it. BROWN discussed the fact that he had been charged on a number of counts in the state of California, but had never been convicted. BROWN also alleged that he was using an alias and that if he used his true name, he would not be able to get employment. BROWN also exhibited to the STAFFORD brothers, a motorcycle magazine, which BROWN suggested he was publishing or some how involved in the publication of this magazine. JAY STAFFORD further advised that he observed four high powered rifles in one of the upstairs rooms of the BROWN residence. STAFFORD described the upstairs of BROWN's residence as being an attic which had been converted into utility space containing two rooms, one of these rooms being walled with a paneling material and unfinished and the other room used to store what appeared to be personal items.

JAY STAFFORD advised that neither he nor his brother LARRY considered BROWN's proposal to be legitimate at the time and that their visit with BROWN was terminated with the understanding or feeling that JAY and LARRY would recontact him if and when they were interested in involving themselves in the type of activity which BROWN had described. JAY STAFFORD stated that he felt that BROWN trusted he and his brother, probably basing this trust on the fact that JAY and LARRY had been involved in a burglary-safe cracking attempt. JAY STAFFORD advised that he and his brother left the BROWN residence on the evening of July 23, 1974, and have not seen nor been contacted by BROWN since that time.

JAY STAFFORD described BROWN as a white male, 6'2", 180 pounds, blond hair (combed back), full beard with mustache. BROWN drives an old green Chevrolet automobile, possibly a 1967 model.

LARRY ~~SWEENEY~~ STAFFORD, 3676 Crosby Drive, Lexington, Kentucky, known to the interviewing agent by previous association, furnished the following information:

Lair [illegible]

STAFFORD advised that an individual known to him as MIKE BROWN appeared at the Stafford Lock Shop of Richmond, Kentucky, in August, 1973. The Stafford Lock Shop is a business owned and managed by LARRY SWEENEY STAFFORD and WILLIAM JUNIOR (JAY) STAFFORD from the fall of 1973 until approximately August 1, 1974. During this visit by BROWN in the fall of 1973, BROWN involved LARRY STAFFORD and his brother JAY in a conversation which was interpreted by LARRY STAFFORD as designed to produce LARRY's and JAY's feelings or attitudes concerning the possibility of the STAFFORD brothers' involvement in burglary or unauthorized lock picking activities. LARRY STAFFORD advised that neither he nor his brother JAY gave the impression that they would be interested in those type of activities and BROWN subsequently left the STAFFORD Lock Shop and was not heard of nor seen again until July 22, 1974.

On July 22, 1974, BROWN again appeared at the Stafford Lock Shop and disclosed the fact that he had read an article in the Richmond, Kentucky, newspaper wherein JAY and LARRY STAFFORD were described as two individuals arrested on July 4, 1974, burglarizing the Grant's Department Store in Frankfort, Kentucky. BROWN made reference to the fact that he had read this article and disclosed to the STAFFORD brothers that he felt that they were his kind of people. LARRY STAFFORD advised that BROWN then asked if he and his brother JAY would be interested in "going for broke". BROWN suggested that LARRY and JAY STAFFORD might be interested in involving themselves in some activities which he (BROWN) had in mind and if these activities were a success, LARRY and JAY STAFFORD would gain a number of influential friends who could help them with any problem they had. STAFFORD advised BROWN suggested that they meet at his residence at 101 Cherry Street, Berea, Kentucky, and further discuss ideas that he (BROWN) had in mind.

LARRY STAFFORD stated that he and his brother JAY STAFFORD drove to Berea, Kentucky, on the following day, July [illegible], 1974, and met with BROWN at BROWN's residence at 101 Cherry Street, Berea, Kentucky. During an ensuing visit at that residence, BROWN proposed a scheme involving he, (BROWN) and LARRY and JAY STAFFORD wherein the three of them would travel to New York City and destruct several statues in the United Nations building. BROWN described one of these statues as depicting or being the devil in disguise, this statue being on the main floor of the United Nations building. STAFFORD advised that BROWN then described a statue in the basement of the United Nations building which depicted some type of idol worship or, pagan sacrifice.

LARRY STAFFORD advised that BROWN discussed a number of alternative methods of destroying these statues in the United Nations building, these alternatives involving the use of a van type truck with lettering on the side which suggested that the truck belonged to some type of statue cleaning or repair service. BROWN also exhibited to LARRY STAFFORD and his brother a number of photographs which BROWN stated were taken of the United Nations facilities in New York City and pointed out several items in these photographs of interest, to include the fact that guards in the photograph did not wear sidearms. LARRY STAFFORD stated that BROWN further discussed the possibility of shooting out a surveillance camera in the United Nations building in order to restrict the taking of pictures or photographs of them while they placed explosives in that facility. BROWN talked about his participation in a motorcycle gang named the Iron Cross and also discussed the fact that this motorcycle gang originated or was headquartered in California. BROWN also exhibited a number of newspaper articles and clippings in a scrap book and made reference to the fact that he was involved in activities and demonstrations reported in these clippings. BROWN [illegible] that he had other individuals had been [illegible] in the past to go to peaceful, public demonstrations and create disturbances and fights in order to alter the nature of those events.

LARRY STAFFORD further disclosed that BROWN exhibited a box in his residence which he claimed contained chemicals required to make explosives and exhibited several bags of what appeared to be white powder. BROWN talked about the fact that he required one remaining ingredient to included in an explosive or incendiary formula and that this ingredient was to arrive soon in the mail. BROWN described the end product of these chemicals as being some type of incendiary composition, which, when lit, produced a burning effect of such a high temperature, that it would melt any bronze or steel statue.

LARRY STAFFORD advised that BROWN continuously made reference to activities which he referred to as "performances" and was apparently attempting to impress he and his brother, [illegible] STAFFORD, with the fact that alignment with his (BROWN's) philosophies would gain them a great deal of influence and friends.

LARRY STAFFORD advised that BROWN claimed to be a publisher or distributor of some type of magazine and the impression was given that BROWN either published or participated in the publication of a motorcycle oriented magazine. STAFFORD advised that BROWN inquired of he and his brother how he might obtain dynamite and further discussed plans of using dynamite to destroy statues in the United Nations facilities. STAFFORD stated that BROWN was attempting to convince he and his brother, JAY, to involve themselves in placing explosives in the United Nations Building, the STAFFORD brothers' involvement being that of causing a disturbance while BROWN placed chemicals around the base of the devil type statue on the main floor of the United Nations Building. BROWN further discussed alternative methods of getting into the building, one of the methods being the use of an individual in a wheel chair who would sit on explosives to conceal them. BROWN further discussed the possibility of exiting out the rear of the United Nations facilities which BROWN described as being built adjacent to or over a freeway. BROWN discussed the use of ropes to rappel walls and the possibility of an escape method wherein the freeway would be reached, and then a passing motorist would be flagged down. Once the passing motorist stopped, a pistol would be shoved in his face and he could be forced to take an individual or several individuals anywhere they wanted to go.

LARRY STAFFORD advised that BROWN claimed that he had contracted to destroy statues at the United Nations building and that his orders or contract came from a retired Colonel or General in the Army. BROWN talked about having $250 expense money which would be used for the purchase of explosives and travel to and from New York State. BROWN discussed the fact that little money was needed inasmuch as he had associates or friends in route to New York, who would provide food and lodging.

LARRY STAFFORD advised that BROWN continued to use the expression "performance" and advised that he would travel to New York and complete this contract assignment whether or not LARRY and his brother participated. BROWN also discussed the fact that a friend or another individual was currently giving him instructions on rappelling walls and cliffs.

STAFFORD advised that BROWN is described as a white male, approximately 6'1"-2", 170-180 pounds (slim), light blondish brown hair, full, medium length beard and moustache, and BROWN's hair is combed back on his head [illegible] medium to conservative length. STAFFORD advised that BROWN is observed to drive a green Chevrolet, approximately 1963 vintage.

STAFFORD advised that the meeting was terminated with the feeling that he and his brother, JAY STAFFORD, could recontact BROWN if they felt like they were interested in involving themselves in the United Nations scheme.

On August 16, 1974, the telephone records for the residence of MICHAEL HALSEY BROWN, 101 Cherry Road, Berea, Kentucky, telephone number 502-986-9744, were obtained by subpoena. The following toll charges and information pertaining to each are set forth:

August 2, 1974	Call from BROWN's residence at Berea, Kentucky, to Falls Church, Virginia, 703-532-1527.
August 3, 1974	Collect call to BROWN's residence from Falls Church, Virginia. Records reflect call was made from a coin phone with the first three digits 532.
August 3, 1974	A third party call by MIKE BROWN from coin phone at Falls Church, Virginia, 703-532-9515, to New York City, New York, 212-877-7048.
August 3, 1974	A third party billing by MIKE BROWN from Falls Church, Virginia, coin phone, 703-532-1527 to Hicksville, New York, 516-938-8700.
August 5, 1974	A collect call from 687 telephone exchange in New York City accepted at the residence of MIKE BROWN in Berea, Kentucky.
August 6, 1974	A collect station-to-station call to Darien, Connecticut (the call appears on the bill to be from BROWN's residence at Berea, Kentucky) number 655-1950.

It is noted that 687 exchange (or MUrray Hill 7) is used by the New York Telephone Company for the area in Manhattan from East 37th Street north to East 47th Street and from Fifth Avenue east to the East River. WILLIAM F. MC GARTY, New York Telephone Company, stated that recording of only exchange numbers on a long distance collect call, i.e. 687, indicates that the call was placed from a coin box in the above-described area.

GEORGE MENEGUS, 37 Schenck Avenue, Brooklyn, New York, telephone (212) 647-8368, was interviewed at the Commodore Hotel, 42nd Street and Park Avenue, Manhattan, New York City, where he is employed as Chief of Security.

He advised that a hotel registration card indicates that MIKE BROWN registered at the hotel at 7:15 p.m., August 5, 1974, and was assigned Room 1092. BROWN indicated that his address was Rt. 7, Box 236, Little Rock, Arkansas. BROWN paid $29.08 cash in advance for the room and checked out sometime on August 6, 1974. MENEGUS stated that there is no check-out time stamped on the registration card and BROWN presumably checked out sometime before the hotel's 1 p.m. check-out time. MENEGUS stated that the registration card indicates that BROWN checked in alone and that no additional charges, such as telephone calls, were billed to him. The registration indicates that Commodore Hotel clerk #16, Mr. BILL FOSTER, handled the transaction with BROWN.

MENEGUS stated that the original registration card is maintained by Mr. JAMES J. SHEVLIN, General Credit Manager, Hotel Biltmore, Madison Avenue at 43rd Street, Manhattan. MENEGUS explained that the Commodore Hotel and Biltmore Hotel are part of the same chain and records of both hotels are maintained at the Biltmore.

Re: MICHAEL HALSEY BROWN
(Also Known As MIKE H. BROWN)
RACIAL MATTER - HAWAII

On November 23, 1964, William File, 634 East Boulder Street, Colorado Springs, Colorado, advised that his daughter Irene had been arrested approximately three months ago in Pueblo, Colorado, on a charge of robbing a filling station. He reported his daughter had been placed in the custody of her parents until such time as there is an additional hearing in the matter.

While Irene was in the Pueblo County Jail she started receiving letters from Brown, a person whom she has never personally met. File pointed out Irene's picture had appeared in newspapers after her arrest, and it is possible Brown may have gotten her name and address from a newspaper article.

File made available a copy of a letter of November 9, 1964, addressed to his daughter. He advised she is not aware of the fact he had made such a copy. The letter is quoted as follows:

"Nov. 9, 1964

"Dear Irene,

"Looks like my boy Barry sure took a shellacking, doesn't it? I lost $115 on that clown. Next time I'll back Robert Shelton (Grand Imperial Wizard of the KKK) or somebody I can get better odds on. As long as I'm going to lose I'd like better than 4 to 1 odds like I got on Goldwater.

"Commander George Lincoln Rockwell (head of the American Nazi Party) spoke here last week at the university. He was fabulous! If he's ever in Colorado speaking be sure to hear him. My little band of extremists and I had dinner with him and decided to cast our lot with his movement--the guy really knows some things. Like did you hear that 15 out of 17 convicted traitors since 1945 have been Jews? (Of course, 17 out of 17 members of the Mafia are Italians). Or that Jews run the NAACP (PRES; Sidney Fineberg), CORE, etc? Or that three Russian Jews own ABC. CBS, and NBC (For a record of their activities see 'None Dare Call it Treason ')? What he said that really hit me between the eyes, though, was when he referred to the 6 million Jews Hitler allegedly gassed: 'Dont' you think those people DID something'?

"What really drove his point home to me, however, was a full page ad in our city newspaper- 'Six Reasons Why You Should Worry About Extremism' Put out by the National Council for Civic Responsibility (A very left-wing outfit). Most of the people listed as directors, etc of the organization were you-know-what. Seems they're scared stiff of the John Birch Society, etc., because they might repeal the income tax and impeach Earl Warren. It's too bad they didn't mention us Nazis- we're not going to impeach Earl Warren when Rockwell gets to be President in '72. We're going to hang him.

"Sure will be glad when I get back to the states. All the girls over here are a bunch of coon-loving bleeding hearts and it makes my Alabama blood boil.

"Is there any race problem in Colorado? My buddy in the photo is going there in a year or two and if there's a demand for white men to stand up to the racemixers I might go with him. The way the Negroes are pushing now we're headed for a full-scale racial war: I don't want to be left out when it starts.

"You sure got over on your jail time. I got six months in the stockade once for just having a pistol. Colorado must be a swinging state.

"Well, be good. Lots of Luck,

"Mike

Honolulu, Hawaii"

RE: MICHAEL HALSEY BROWN

On January 8, 1965, Mrs. R. S. Lowrey, 1920 Awapuhi Street, Honolulu, advised as follows:

Mrs. S. H. Snodgrass, a woman in her early 60's, has resided next door at 1926 Awapuhi for at least 12 years. Mrs. Lowrey stated she has no idea of Mrs. Snodgrass' background and does not know if she is a divorcee or widow. She related that Mrs. Snodgrass lives a quiet life, has a substantial home, and enjoys a good reputation in the community. She related that Mrs. Snodgrass has a divorced daughter, Mrs. Brown, who is a local school teacher. Mrs. Brown formerly lived on Oahu Avenue and her two children, Mike and Leilani, have occasionally stayed with the grandmother. Mrs. Lowrey stated she believes Leilani Brown is presently in school in England. Mike Brown, about 20 years of age, has recently returned to Honolulu to live with his grandmother. He has been in one of the branches of the armed services for some three years and is now attending the University of Hawaii. Mrs. Lowrey stated Mrs. Snodgrass had expressed relief that her grandson had enrolled at the university, explaining that when he had graduated from high school he had not wanted to go on with his schooling.

On January 13, 1965, HN T-1 advised as follows:

Dr. Dorothy Brown has taught in the English Department of the University of Hawaii at Honolulu for at least 13 years. She is presently Assistant Professor at the university and resides in the Kalia Apartments. Mrs. Brown is a divorcee and has two children, Mike, aged 22, and Leilani, about 17.

During the early 1950's Dorothy Brown resided on campus with her two children. Mike was a large boy for his age and his mother found him a difficult problem as far as discipline was concerned. When he was some 14 years of age he was caught burglarizing the ROTC Armory on the campus. The following year he was sent to Arkansas to live with his maternal grandfather and finish high school there. Mrs. Brown has related in the past that Mike is fond of guns and has been a disciplinary problem and also experienced some trouble in the Army. Mike returned to Honolulu before the fall semester of 1964 and enrolled at the University of Hawaii as a freshman intending to major in political science. In late October 1964 the Associated Students of the University of Hawaii sponsored a political symposium featuring speakers of diverse political views including George Lincoln Rockwell, head of the American Nazi Party, a characterization of which is appended hereto.

RE: MICHAEL HALSEY BROWN

Mrs. Brown, after the political symposium, had stated that many of the immature students at the university had been very impressed with Rockwell's speech.

source On January 11, 1965, Mrs. Beatrice Shinoda, Office of the Dean of Student Personnel, University of Hawaii, Honolulu, reported that university files reveal Mike H. Brown, born September 11, 1942, Montgomery, Alabama, is presently enrolled at the university as a freshman. University records indicate he was graduated from Fountain Lake High School, Hot Springs, Arkansas.

A check of the records of the Honolulu Police Department under File Numbers G83259, G82369 and G8230I, reflected that Michael Halsey Brown, born September 11, 1942, Montgomery, Alabama, was arrested on April 25, 1957, for burglary and released that date to Juvenile Crime Prevention. Those files reflect Brown, then a resident of 2648B Rock Road, was a 14-year-old juvenile attending St. Louis High School. He had been arrested along with Robert Vincent Fletcher of 1839 Keller Road who was 13 years old and attending the University High School. Police files reflect that on about April 13 or 14, 1957, forced entry had been made into the university snack bar. Cones, icecream, coin wrappers, and possibly coins were taken. On the same date the ROTC Armory and Supply Room were entered through a forced entry. Apparently nothing was taken from the Supply Room but two .22 rifles valued at $60 were taken from the Armory. The rifles were found before police were notified - one on the rifle range and one in the ROTC garage. On April 20 - 22, 1957, the ROTC Supply Room was again entered. Fletcher and Brown, when questioned by the police, admitted the above burglaries and the fact they had taken some $6.95 in cash, $5 in school supplies and $10 worth of ROTC equipment. They also admitted entering a campus service station by taking screws off door hinges on April 14, 1957, and taking some $5 in tools.

Police File under Number K40001 notes a notice of AWOL of Michael Halsey Brown, Army Serial Number RA25434648, Social Security Number 576-40-3284. The notice reflects that Brown was AWOL on August 6, 1962, from Company E, First ABG, 501st Infantry, Fort Campbell, Kentucky. The AWOL notice listed Brown's father as Robert Arthur Sylvester Brown, whereabouts unknown; mother as Dorothy Snodgrass Brown, 2865 Oahu Avenue, Honolulu.

AMERICAN NAZI PARTY OF THE WORLD UNION OF FREE ENTERPRISE NATIONAL SOCIALISTS, ALSO KNOWN AS THE GEORGE LINCOLN ROCKWELL PARTY

In his book, This Time The World, copyrighted in 1961, George Lincoln Rockwell identified himself as Commander, American Nazi Party of the World Union of Free Enterprise National Socialists (ANP - WUFENS), Arlington, Virginia.

The April 4, 1963 issue of "The Richmond News Leader," a Richmond, Virginia daily newspaper, reported that George Lincoln Rockwell had, on the previous day, again applied for the American Nazi Party to be chartered in the State of Virginia, but this request was turned down by the Virginia State Corporation Commission. This action was taken pursuant to an act of the 1962 Virginia Assembly which prohibits use of "Nazi" or "National Socialism" in a Virginia charter. This article further pointed out that Rockwell's party is presently chartered in the State of Virginia as the George Lincoln Rockwell Party.

On August 14, 1964, a source advised that the ANP - WUFENS was organized by George Lincoln Rockwell at his residence in Arlington, Virginia, on February 26, 1959, as an international "National Socialist" movement based on the German Nazi Party headed by Adolf Hitler. He added that Rockwell is the dominant force and personality in this party; that he is espousing a "line" of hatred against the Jews and Negroes; and that he is seeking, through speeches, distribution of literature and picketing, to establish a cohesive and dominant political party in the United States and in foreign countries.

According to the "Stormtrooper's Manual," an official publication of the ANP, the phases of ANP struggle for power are fourfold, namely, first "to make ourselves known to the masses;" second "the dissemination of our program and the truth about the Party;" third "organizing the people who have been converted to our propaganda;" and fourth "the attainment of power through the votes of the newly-won masses."

On February 17, 1964, Karl Rogers Allen, Jr., former Deputy National Commander of the ANP, advised that George Lincoln Rockwell believes he has completed the first two phases in his struggle for power and is now well into the third phase. Allen said, however, in his opinion, Rockwell has only completed phase one.

DE T-1
October 26, 1973

The benefit dinner of October 16, 1973, was a financial failure due to poor attendance.

DE T-1
October 17, 1973

The BPP decided to vacate its offices because the owner was going to charge them rent for the house.

DE T-1
December 18, 1973

The BPP rented a commercial bus for its free bussing program on December 22, 1973, and paid the rent of $124.50 with quarters.

DE T-9
December 26, 1973

Contributions to the BPP are almost nonexistent, and the free breakfast program was halted due to a lack of funds.

DE T-1
January 28, 1974

The free bus to prison scheduled for February 3, 1974, was canceled due to a lack of money.

DE T-1
February 5, 1974

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company canceled the telephone service to the BPP office due to non-payment of the bill.

DE T-1
February 27, 1974

The safe house used by LONNIE DARDEN was repossessed by the lender as a result of non-payment by the BPP. The home was located at 11746 Littlefield.

DE T-10
June 10, 1974

VII. MISCELLANEOUS

DE T-6 advised that the office building purchased for the BPP office was paid for by a Detroit Real Estate agent, and this agent guaranteed all payments, and handled the sale of the office when the BPP vacated and relocated in California.

DE T-1 advised they also used the apartment at 4200 Buena Vista as a residence for the BPP female members and this residence was vacated when active members relocated in California.

Relocating in Oakland, California and working for the BPP headquarters located in that city are PHILANDERS LONNIE DARDEN, ERMA MORRIS, LORENE BANKS and ALEASE STALLWORTH. All were active members of the Detroit chapter.

I. ORGANIZATIONAL AND OPERATIONAL STRUCTURE OF THE DETROIT BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP)

The Black Panther Party (BPP) is a black extremist organization started in Oakland, California, in December, 1966. It formerly advocated the use of guns and guerrilla tactics to bring about the overthrow of the United States Goernment. Since early 1971, it has preached a policy of "survival pending revolution".

A. Goals, Guidelines and Objectives

The goals and objectives of the Detroit Chapter of the BPP remain in accord with those specified by BPP National Headquarters in Oakland, California. The Party advocates a non-violent philosophy of education of the black community to the "evils of the oppression and suppression of the poor by a racially oriented society." The Party has put aside the gun and no longer advocates the use of guerrilla tactics to change the political system. An additional goal of the Party is to change the community image of the Panthers as "thugs dressed in black".

DE T-1
April 27, 1973

It is against the laws of the BPP for members to carry guns or to use hard drugs.

DE T-2
November 8, 1972

BPP members must dedicate their entire energies to the furtherance of the programs and philosophies of the Party and all personal desires must assume a secondary role.

DE T-1
April 27, 1973

In a February 2, 1973, article entitled "Black Panthers Seek to Expand Survival Service", which appeared in the "Michigan Chronicle", a weekly black oriented Detroit newspaper, LEONARD MONGO, a BPP member, was quoted as saying, "Our goal is not recognition but service to the people". The article further quoted MONGO as saying, "Much of our image in the past was created by an unfriendly press. Our goal continues to be survival of the people. The people themselves will determine the approaches to be used in the meantime. The Black Panther Party makes itself available for guidance and assistance. Our survival services are essential to the daily existence of the people."

B. Location of Detroit BPP Offices

The BPP Office on Detroit's east side located at 2228 Bewick, closed down at the end of December, 1972. This site was the location of the BPP Free Breakfast Program. The only office now in operation is the Ministry of Information Office located at 157 Collingwood on Detroit's west side.

DE T-3
January 4, 1973

The BPP Ministry of Information Office on Collingwood was closed down on February 28, 1973 and the Party relocated its members to 2228 Bewick, the former site of the Party's east side office. The 2228 Bewick address is a temporary location.

DE T-1

2. Communication with BPP National Headquarters

DE T-1 advised on April 27, 1973 that LONNIE DARDEN, Detroit BPP Minister of Information, received a telephone call in late April, 1973, from BOBBY SEALE in California. SEALE reportedly told DARDEN that the Detroit BPP Chapter has the least number of actively involved members of all BPP Chapters throughout the country. SEALE also complained that the Detroit Chapter is operating only two survival programs (the Free Breakfast Program and the Free Busing to Prison Program) and warned DARDEN that the Detroit Chapter will have to take steps to initiate a substantial number of survival programs to serve the Detroit Black community as it deserves to be served.

II. MEMBERSHIP

A. Requirements for Membership

The BPP is constantly attempting to recruit community workers from the black community to help in the operation of the BPP programs. Outsiders, however, are not trusted by established Party members and community workers are not allowed inside the Party Office or pad. They are required to sell BPP newspapers and to perform various other duties "in the field".

B. Identities of BPP Local Leaders and Members

The following individuals are considered to hold a leadership position in the Detroit Chapter of the BPP.

AC PHILANDERS LONNIE DARDEN, also known as Lonnie Darden -- In Charge (Minister of Information)

AC ROLLIN GARY REID -- Acting Second in Command

AC LEONARD MONGO -- In Charge of Distribution and Communications

AC ALEASE PATRICIA STALLWORTH -- In Charge of Finances

There are also approximately six community workers who are young high school age blacks who are interested in the BPP and help sell BPP newspapers and solicit donations to the Party. They hold no official Party status and their interest in the Party's work vacillates and their work is irregular and inconsistent.

DE T-2
April 4, 1973

The fact that four Detroit Party members are presently in California, the fact that so many Detroit Party members work for the Party on a very limited basis and the wavering interest of the community workers has severely hurt the BPP's success in the last six months in Detroit.

DE T-1
May 3, 1973

AC AC

GERALD CRAWFORD and CAROLYN STURDIVANT, former stalwarts of the Detroit BPP Chapter, have ceased all activity in the Party in the last few months. They are no longer considered Party members.

DE T-1

III. BPP PUBLICATIONS

A. Distribution of the BPP Newspaper

DE T-4 and DE T-5 advised on various dates between November, 1972 and April, 1973 that the BPP received the following number of copies of the "Black Panther" newspaper from BPP National Distribution, New York City, New York:

November, 1972	6,000
December, 1972	6,000
January, 1973	4,000
February, 1973	4,000
March, 1973	4,000
April, 1973	4,000

Party members and community workers sell BPP newspapers on street corners at two locations in the Detroit area and have recently taken up "paper routes" in the black community and attempt to sell newspapers door to door.

DE T-1
March 2, 1973

B. BPP Literature Distributed in the Detroit Area

DE T-1, DE T-2, DE T-3 and DE T-6 furnished the following leaflets which were distributed in the Detroit area by the BPP between November, 1972 and April, 1973:

FREE BREAKFAST PROGRAM FOR SCHOOL

TO THE CONCERNED BUSINESSMEN:

THE DETROIT BRANCH OF THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY WOULD LIKE TO TAKE TIME OUT TO THANK YOU FOR THE MANY TIMES YOU HAVE DONATED TO THE SURVIVAL PROGRAMS THAT WE HAVE HAD. IN THE PAST, YOUR CONTRIBUTIONS HAVE ENABLED US TO GIVE AWAY 1,600 FREE BAGS OF GROCERIES TO THE MASSES OF PEOPLE IN DIFFERENT AREAS THOUGHOUT THE CITY.

SINCE THERE ARE SO MANY HUNGRY PEOPLE IN THE CITY OF DETROIT, WE FEEL WE CAN'T JUST STOP FEEDING THEM. SO IN THE FUTURE, WE PLAN TO START STOCKING UP ON FOOD TO GIVE TO THE PEOPLE ON A DAY TO DAY BASIS. BUT WE CANNOT DO THIS WITHOUT THE BEAUTIFUL HELP THAT YOU, THE STORE OWNERS GIVE BY JUST DONATING ONE OR TWO ITEMS A WEEK. WE ALSO IN TURN, INFORM THE COMMUNITY WHICH STORES HAVE DONATED - FOR WHEN YOU HELP THE COMMUNITY IN RETURN THEY HELP YOU. SO, IF YOU ARE CONCERNED ABOUT THE COMMUNITY THEN SHOW THEM, BY GIVING YOUR SUPPORT.

IV. BPP SPONSORED PROGRAMS AND GENERAL COMMUNITY ACTIVITY

A. The BPP Free Busing to Prison Program

The Free Busing to Prison Program provides free transportation to persons in the black community for families and friends of incarcerated men and women to visit Jackson, Michigan, State Penitentiary.

DE T-1
April 27, 1973

The BPP sponsored a bus trip to Jackson State Prison on January 7, 1973. The bus was rented from a commercial carrier and departed 157 Collingwood, Detroit at 9:00 a.m.

DE T-7
January 10, 1973

The BPP sponsored bus trips to Jackson State Prison on January 27 and 28, 1973.

DE T-8
January 29, 1973

DE T-1 advised on various dates during March and April, 1973, that the BPP sponsored bus trips to Jackson State Prison on each of the following dates: March 11, March 16, March 25, April 8, April 14 and April 22, 1973.

An article which appeared in the February 17, 1973, edition of the "Michigan Chronicle" entitled "Panthers Appeal for Support of Prison Busing Program" quoted ROLLIN REID, a BPP member as saying "The Community should do more to support the program. Basically we cannot get more community support because of the old BPP image of leather coats and guns. People think we are thugs."

An article which appeared in the February 27, 1973, edition of the "Detroit News", a daily Detroit newspaper, entitled "Panthers Appeal for Bus Funds" quoted LONNIE DARDEN, BPP leader as saying that what the Panthers are seeking is "a good used vehicle" which would cost them around $2,500.00. DARDEN stated that commercial rental costs are too high and that the BPP funds would not allow the Party to purchase a used bus even if one were to be found. DARDEN stated that the Party funds at the present time for the purchase of a used bus stand at zero.

An article which appeared in the April 20, 1973, edition of the "Detroit News" entitled "Panthers Add Trips to Prison Program" stated that the Panthers are appealing to Churches and other civic groups for the loan of vans or busses for their busing to prison services and have been successful in receiving aid from the Burnette Baptist Church in Detroit which has offered to make their vans available.

B. The BPP Free Breakfast and Lunch Programs

The Free Breakfast Program provides free hot breakfasts for school children in the black community from 7:30 to 8:30 a.m. on each school day. The Free Lunch Program is an alternate program which is run during the summer months when schools are closed and provides a free lunch to children who live in the vicinity of the BPP Office. The Free Lunch Program was suspended in September, 1972 and will be reinstituted in June, 1973.

DE T-1
April 27, 1973

The Free Breakfast Program at 2228 Bewick was shut down in late December, 1972 when the Party closed down that office. During November and December, 1972, approximately 80-85 children were fed each day at the Bewick Office.

DE T-3
January 4, 1973

During January and February, 1973, approximately 20-25 children were provided a free breakfast at the 157 Collingwood Office.

DE T-1
March 6, 1973

Between February 28, 1973 and April 13, 1973, the Free Breakfast Program was suspended by the Party due to the relocation of the Party Office to the Bewick address. From April 13, 1973 to May 1, 1973, the Party has again provided a free breakfast for approximately 80-85 children on each school day.

DE T-1
May 3, 1973

Some of the food for the Free Breakfast and Free Lunch Programs is provided by local grocery stores and some is purchased by the Party.

DE T-1
March 21, 1973

C. BPP Free Food Programs

The BPP gave away three hundred bags of groceries during the Party's "Black Christmas Free Food Giveaway Survival Day Program", on December 23, 1972.

DE T-2
January 9, 1973

Survival Day refers to a program implemented by the BPP with purpose of giving away bags of groceries to oppressed families living in the inner city of Detroit.

Due to the great expense of purchasing the necessary large quantities of groceries for Survival Day Programs, the Party has not held a Free Food Giveaway in the past three months.

DE T-1
April 27, 1973

D. Political Education Classes

Political Education classes are no longer held on a regular basis. The classes are held occasionally during the week as the Party feels it is more beneficial to personally come into contact with members of the black community on a one-to-one basis. For this reason, Party members solicit donations and sell BPP newspapers door to door and attempt to "rap" with the people concerning the BPP, its aims and programs.

DE T-2
April 3, 1973

For example, DE T-2 advised on January 30, 1973 that a Political Education class was conducted by ALVIN BROWN, BPP Member at the 157 Collingwood Office on January 29, 1973. The class was entitled "Liberalism in the Red Book of Chairman Mao". Only three non-Party members were in attendance.

In order to establish a better rapport with the members of the black community and in order to raise money for the Party, the Party organized and sponsored the following events:

January 5, 1973
"Skate To Survive" -- Roller Skating Party attended by approximately 30 non Party members.

DE T-2
January 15, 1973

January 20, 1973

The BPP sponsored no rallies and held no demonstrations between November, 1972 and April, 1973.

V. REVOLUTIONARY ACTIVITIES

A. Weapons and Fortifications

On March 12, 1973, DE T-1 advised that the BPP Headquarters, Ministry of Information Office, 157 Collingwood, Detroit, had been closed down and that the Party members had moved out temporarily and relocated their office at 2228 Bewick, Detroit.

On March 12, 1973, ORELL BENJAMIN, 18580 Dequindre, Detroit, owner of the residence located at 157 Collingwood, Detroit, advised that the BPP had vacated the residence recently and relocated their members to a different office. BENJAMIN stated that the FBI was free to enter the premises if they so desired.

On March 13, 1973, a search of the residence located at 157 Collingwood, Detroit, was conducted by Special Agents of the FBI. Results of the search are set out below as well as descriptions of rooms and floor space.

The residence of 157 Collingwood, Detroit, is a two story dwelling with a basement and attic space. The BPP Office space at 157 Collingwood comprised one side of a two family duplex type dwelling. The Party occupied one half of the entire dwelling.

The first floor consists of a living room, dining room, kitchen and pantry. Steps off the kitchen lead down to the basement. Four bedrooms and a bathroom are located on the second floor. Steps lead upstairs to an attic area from the second floor.

Physical observation of the interior of the residence revealed that all furniture had been removed and that the house was not habitable.

No pertinent BPP literature of any kind was observed in any rooms of the house.

The windows of the living room which face the north front entrance to the dwelling were painted black. Built in wooden boxes beneath these three windows were filled with sand. Two other windows facing east were boarded up. The front north windows in the attic space were covered with a heavy iron grate and draped with blankets.

The north and south basement brick walls were pocked with large holes which penetrated deep into the brick and masonry work.

Also observed stored in the basement was a four foot by eight foot sheet of three-quarter inch plywood covered with a heavy gauge metal grate.

On March 20, 1973, DE T-1 and DE T-2 advised that KENNETH BERNARD HORSTON, former BPP Minister of Information and various other BPP members selected by HORSTON had on occasion taken target practice in the basement of BPP Office at 157 Collingwood. Above sources stated, however, that it has been over one year since Party members fired or possessed weapons. Sources stated that LONNIE DARDEN, the present BPP Minister of Information, in view of the BPP's new philosophy of non-violence, has prohibited the use and possession of weapons by Party members. Sources advised that no weapons are currently maintained by any Party members.

Sources further advised that the sandbox and iron mesh grates for fortification also date back to the "old days" of the Party when the Party was "at war" with the establishment and in constant fear of being raided by law enforcement agencies.

On May 1, 1973, DE T-3 provided the following floor plan of the former BPP Headquarters Office at 157 Collingwood, Detroit, Michigan:

B. Arrests

No members of the Detroit BPP were arrested during the period November, 1972 to April, 1973.

DE T-3
May 1, 1973

VI. CONNECTIONS WITH OTHER BLACK EXTREMIST GROUPS

BPP Members are not allowed to hold membership in any other group or organization. The BPP operates independently and has no affiliation with other extremist groups. BPP members do not officially come into contact or associate with members of other militant organizations.

DE T-1
February 14, 1973

DE T-1, DE T-2, DE T-9 and DE T-10 all advised in January, 1973, that the BPP faction headed by HUEY P. NEWTON remains diametrically opposed to the BPP faction headed by ELDRIDGE CLEAVER.

> HUEY P. NEWTON is the leader of the BPP-Newton Faction (NF) headquartered in Oakland, California.
> ELDRIDGE CLEAVER is a leader in the BPP and early in 1971 was expelled from that organization and those members of the BPP who continue to support him and advocate the use of guns and guerrilla tactics became known as the BPP-Cleaver Faction (CF).

On December 20, 1972, LONNIE DARDEN, BPP-NF leader at Detroit, was interviewed under suitable pretext by a Special Agent of the FBI and DARDEN made the following statement regarding ELDRIDGE CLEAVER:

> "Eldridge Cleaver will not be allowed back in the BPP. We're (BPP-NF) not saying that there is a peaceful co-existence that will exist between the BPP and Eldridge Cleaver. We're saying that the court systems are responsible for the execution of poor and oppressed people and we in turn are exposing the court system in this particular racist attitude against poor and oppressed people and not trying to build a peaceful co-existence with a particular element that had defected from the Party."

VII. BPP FUNDS

The following is a summary of the financial situation of the BPP provided by DE T-1 and DE T-2 from November, 1972 to April, 1973. Income was from such sources as the sale of BPP newspapers, donations, and contributions from Party members. Expenses were for such items as food, lodging, transportation, and telephone.

Month	Income	Expenses
November, 1972	$1,400	$2,080
December, 1972	1,200	2,170
January, 1973	437	1,819
February, 1973	410	1,734
March, 1973	600	1,850
April, 1973	575	1,800

Above sources noted that Party assets are considerably higher than indicated above due to the fact that Party members turn over large amounts of money to the Party from their welfare checks.

The BPP maintains neither a checking nor a savings account at any banking institution in the Detroit area.

DE T-2
March 27, 1973

VIII. MISCELLANEOUS

In a December 21, 1972 edition of the "Detroit Free Press", a Detroit daily newspaper, an article appeared entitled "Black Panthers Charge Police with Harassment". LONNIE DARDEN, BPP leader, charged the Detroit Police Department with harassing Panthers while they were selling the Party newspaper at the corner of State and Woodward in Detroit. DARDEN charged that Party members had been ticketed more than 25 times in the past year for loitering and interfering with pedestrian traffic. DARDEN went on to state that members of the Party are being harassed because they are black. DARDEN stated that the police are attempting to stop the selling of the Party newspaper because the BPP is involved in various programs to serve the people of the community.

DE T-1 advised on April 27, 1973, that the BPP's lease on 2228 Bewick expires on September 15, 1973, and that the Panthers must vacate the premises on or before that date. Source further advised that LONNIE DARDEN is currently seeking suitable office space for the Party's headquarters.

DETAILS:

I. ORGANIZATIONAL AND OPERATIONAL DATA OF THE DETROIT BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP)

A. Location of Detroit BPP Headquarters and Offices

The BPP is a black extremist organization started in Oakland, California, in December, 1966. It advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics to bring about the overthrow of the United States Government.

The Ministry of Information continues to be located at 157 Collingwood, Detroit, Michigan.

The BPP continues to operate an office at 2228 Bewick, Detroit, which is the location for the free breakfast program. This location is rented by LORENE BANKS, who coordinates the free breakfast program and is an active member of the BPP in Detroit.

The BPP has a pad at 4200 Buena Vista, Detroit.

DE T-1
June 16, 1972

The BPP continues to operate offices at the following locations:

157 Collingwood, Detroit
2228 Bewick, Detroit
Pad - 4200 Buena Vista, Detroit

DE T-2
October 25, 1972

B. Local Leaders and Membership Totals

The following is a summary of membership totals for the BPP during the period May - October, 1972, which was furnished by DE T-1 and DE T-2:

Month	Community Workers	Members	Temporarily Elsewhere
May, 1972	6	8	0
June, 1972	9	17	0
July, 1972	13	20	0
August, 1972	17	18	3
September, 1972	13	15	3
October, 1972	10	15	3

During the months of August - October, 1972, sources advised that three members of the BPP are currently in California assisting in the campaign of Chairman BOBBY SEALE.

> BOBBY SEALE is the National Chairman of the BPP currently running for Mayor of Oakland, California.

> LONNIE DARDEN is Minister of Information and in charge of BPP operation in Detroit.

D. Connections with BPP National Headquarters

LONNIE DARDEN and JODY WEAVER flew to BPP headquarters in Oakland, California. Purpose of this trip unknown.

DE T-3
May 9, 1972

JODY WEAVER has been an active member of the Detroit BPP and is currently in California.

LONNIE DARDEN talked about his trip to San Francisco, California, and the activities at the BPP headquarters. He noted that BOBBY SEALE will soon cross the United States on a special train, handing out free groceries and making political speeches. This supposedly is to get SEALE's name in the public's mind for his upcoming bid for Mayor of Oakland, California.

DE T-3
May 10, 1972

LONNIE DARDEN said the situation at BPP headquarters in Oakland, California, is very tense with all of the members carrying guns on their person at all times. Everyone is jockeying for the number two position. No one trusts anyone else. Confusion, competition, contention, and bad feelings mark the mood of the office. They all seem to be out to get each other. DARDEN seemed to be making these statements out of personal observation when he was in California.

DE T-3
May 31, 1972

LEONARD MONGO contacted BPP headquarters in Oakland, California, requesting additional copies of the BPP newspaper.

DE T-5
June 10, 1972

The BPP chapter in Detroit contacted the Oakland headquarters and advised them that ROLAND REID will depart June 18, 1972, at 5:15 PM on American Airlines flight 91 and will arrive in San Francisco at 7:50 PM.

LIBERATION SCHOOL AND FREE LUNCHEON PROGRAM

DEAR PARENT (S):

ALL POWER TO THE PEOPLE,

AFTER CAREFUL STUDY AND ANALYSES OF THE CHILDREN'S LIBERATION SCHOOL AND FREE LUNCH PROGRAM, WE HAVE FOUND THAT THE OVERWHELMING MAJORITY OF THE YOUTH ATTENDING THE PROGRAM, COME FOR JUST THE FREE LUNCH PORTION. NO QUESTION ABOUT IT BROTHERS AND SISTERS, FOOD IS LACKING IN THE COMMUNITY, AND THE FREE LUNCH PROGRAM HELPS TO QUELL THE HUNGER IN OUR STOMACHS.. WE ALSO MUST REMEMBER, BROTHERS AND SISTERS, THAT ANOTHER NEEDED THING IN OUR POOR AND OPPRESSED COMMUNITY IS EDUCATION THAT TEACHES US OUR TRUE ROLE IN THIS DECADENT SOCIETY, A SOCIETY THAT REFUSES TO MEET THE BASIC HUMAN NEEDS AND DESIRES OF THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR MAKING AMERIKKKA THE RICHEST COUNTRY IN THE WORLD TODAY. REMEMBER IT WAS OUR BLOOD AND SWEAT THAT WAS AND/IS EXPLOITED. OUR YOUTH MUST BE EDUCATED TO THE TRICKERY THAT HAS KEPT US DIVIDED FOR TO LONG. SO THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY URGES YOU AS A PARENT TO SEND OR BRING YOUR CHILDREN TO THE LIBERATION SCHOOL!!

F. Philosophy of the BPP

In explaining the new Panther image, GERALD CRAWFORD stated, "For too long the Panther Party has found itself in the role of defender, rather than educator of the community. We feel the Party should be a vehicle to take the community to liberation and not the force which consistently finds itself in conflict with the Police. We are now moving toward the role of humanitarians, and our goal is humanization of all mankind. We would like to remove all racial and class barriers. Our struggle is more a class struggle -- rather than a racial one, and our role is to educate the community to that fact. We are not trying to teach individuals what to think, but instead, we are trying to teach them to think for themselves and objectively analyze the situation we find ourselves in.

"Ironically, those people who can best perform this service turn their backs on the community and help those forces which are oppressing all of us. College students today do not bring their talents back to the community, but help to build the system which they have suffered under. In order for us to successfully perform our duty, we need the support of the community. The Panthers are a part of the community and need its entire support. Without this support, we will be unable to continue our fight against oppression.

"For the past ten years, the Black Panther Party has found itself on the covers of national magazines and in newspapers. Reporters have described Panther members as Communists and revolutionaries: But for several reasons this description is not applicable to today's Black Panther Party. In the past two years, the Panther Party has undergone drastic changes. Black Panther members have tried to drop the role of guerilla fighters and are putting every effort into being known as educators and humanitarians.

"The Party's Detroit Chapter is trying extremely hard to change its image from community bodyguard to community servant."

I. REVOLUTIONARY PROGRAMS AND POLICIES AS EXPRESSED BY BPP LEADERS

On April 28, 1971, DE T-1 advised that the Ministry of Information for the Detroit National Committee to Combat Fascism (NCCF), organizing bureau for the Black Panther Party (BPP), was moved to a new office at 157 Collingwood, Detroit, Michigan, by orders of KENNETH HORSTON, leader of the Detroit NCCF.

DE T-1 advised that 611 Continental, Detroit, Michigan, is Community Information Center Number One.

A characterization of the BPP is contained in the appendix pages attached hereto.

II. ACTS IN FURTHERANCE OF THE REVOLUTIONARY PROGRAM

DE T-1 advised on April 5, 1971, that 157 Collingwood, Detroit, was being opened as NCCF Community Information Center Number Two on that date.

DE T-1 advised on April 12, 1971, that four members of the Detroit NCCF, ANTHONY NORMAN, RONNIE IRWIN, RONALD SMITH, and LARRY POWELL, held up what they believed to be a dope house and one of the victims was killed.

Detective Lieutenant WILLIAM MC COY, Security Section, Intelligence Division, Detroit Police Department, advised on April 14, 1971, that Murder One warrants were obtained on April 14, 1971, for LARRY POWELL, RONNIE IRWIN, and ANTHONY NORMAN, all NCCF members.

A search warrant executed by the Detroit Police Department on April 14, 1971, at the home of BARBARA PLISKOW, white female associate of the NCCF, resulted in her arrest as well as the arrest of the above three, RONALD SMITH, and CAROLYN SMITH, members of the NCCF, and recovery of property stolen in a robbery on April 11, 1971, in which one man was killed.

DE T-1 advised on April 21, 1971, that the Free Breakfast for School Children Program is currently operating five days a week at the following locations:

611 Continental (30 children)
157 Collingwood (15 children)
St. Leo's Church (15 children)

DE T-1 advised on April 21, 1971, that the Detroit NCCF scheduled a free community dinner in front of 611 Continental, Detroit, on Saturday, April 24, 1971, at 5:30 p.m. Tables will be set up to serve the food buffet style and there is to be no gathering at the dinner as seating will not be provided.

DE T-3 advised on April 26, 1971, that there were not over 30 people at the NCCF dinner on April 24, 1971, at any one time, and that no incidents occurred.

DE T-1 advised on April 27, 1971, that the NCCF prepared servings of food for about 400 people for the dinner on April 24, 1971, and that all of the food was passed out.

DE T-24 advised on April 28, 1971, that someone is assigned to a desk facing the front door of 2009 Albert, Flint, Michigan, on a daily basis. A loaded M-1 is kept at the desk to prevent anyone from entering the house who is not supposed to. Posters have been removed from some first floor windows so they can see anyone approaching the house. These measures were instituted due to the raid by the police in March, 1971, which caused the NCCF in Flint to loose face as the police took over so easily.

III. TEACHING OF THE REVOLUTIONARY PROGRAM

DE T-1 advised on April 24, 1971, that political education classes are held at 611 Continental, Detroit, every Sunday and that the classes consist of reading from and discussing articles appearing in "The Black Panther" newspaper, particularly the center section.

DE T-24 advised on April 28, 1971, that only nine people, mainly young kids, showed up for the political education class on April 18, 1971. Attendance at the classes have fallen off sharply since the police raid in March, 1971.

DE T-24 advised on April 29, 1970, that political education classes are held at the NCCF, Flint, Michigan, every Sunday and that the classes consist of reading from and discussing articles, primarily the center-fold of "The Black Panther" newspaper.

IV. DOCUMENTS URGING THE REVOLUTIONARY PROGRAM

On April 9, 1971, DE T-3 provided copies of the following leaflets entitled "Wanted by the People" and "Free Breakfast Program for Children", which were distributed by the Detroit NCCF.

Free Breakfast Program
FOR CHILDREN

THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE'S TO COMBAT FASCISM, IS MOVING TO MEET BASIC NEEDS OF THE POOR UNDERPRIVILEDGED OF OUR COMMUNITY. ONE THE WAYS IN WHICH WE DO THIS IS BY THE IMPLEMENTATION OF A FREE AKFAST FOR CHILDREN PROGRAM.

THE BREAKFAST PROGRAMS ARE NOT ONLY TO FEED THE CHILDREN IN COMMUNITY, BUT ALSO TO BRING THE CHILDREN, PARENTS AND ALL PEO- OF THE COMMUNITY TOGETHER TO WORK AND SEE TO IT THAT EVERY LD IS FED A WELL-BALANCED BREAKFAST EACH MORNING.

THIS BEING THE PEOPLE'S BREAKFAST, OUR GOAL IS TO SPREAD THIS GRAM THROUGHOUT THE COMMUNITIES IN MICHIGAN. THIS IS THE PEOPLE'S GRAM AND WITHOUT THE PEOPLE'S SUPPORT, WE HAVE NOTHING SINCE S IS A BASIC NECESSITY, IT HAS TO BE MET.

V. EVIDENCE OF NATIONAL UNITY

SF T-16 advised on April 17, 1971, that KENNETH HORSTON, leader of the Detroit NCCF, was in California, and talked with Minister of Defense, HUEY NEWTON, on April 16, 1971.

DE T-1 advised on April 21, 1971, that EDGAR ROBINSON, distribution manager of "The Black Panther" newspaper for the Detroit NCCF, left Detroit en route Oakland, California, on April 20, 1971, apparently to attend the funeral of SAM NAPIER, a member of the BPP who was killed in New York.

DE T-1 advised on April 24, 1971, that LONNIE DARDEN, a member of the Detroit NCCF, went to Toledo to check on the situation there as some members apparently walked into the office wearing Cleaver buttons on April 23, 1971, but were put out. He was then to proceed to Cleveland where HUEY NEWTON, Minister of Defense for the BPP was scheduled to appear, however, he failed to show up.

DE T-3 advised on April 29, 1971, that LONNIE DARDEN, member of the Detroit NCCF, returned from Cleveland, Ohio on April 25, 1971.

DE T-3 further advised that EDGAR ROBINSON, distribution manager of "The Black Panther" newspaper, returned from California on April 26, 1971.

DE T-1 advised on various dates in April, 1971, that Detroit received approximately 31,600 copies of "The Black Panther" newspaper during April, 1971, from BPP distribution, New York. DE T-1 advised that money for payment of the newspaper is sent to BPP headquarters, Oakland, California.

VI. FACTIONALISM

NY T-5 advised on April 12, 1971, that OLIVER MC CLURE, also known as Malik arrived in New York from Detroit over the weekend of April 9-11, 1971, for consultation with leaders of the BPP Cleaver Faction.

MC CLURE was the leader of the Detroit NCCF but was purged. Detroit continues to be loyal to NEWTON.

DE T-1 advised on April 14, 1971, that OLIVER MC CLURE returned to Detroit from New York on April 12, 1971, and brought with him an unknown number of Cleaver Faction newspapers, "Right On". MC CLURE has not made any attempts to organize a Cleaver Faction in Detroit to source's knowledge.

DE T-1 advised on April 20, 1971, that MC CLURE is currently in New York.

DE T-1 advised on April 27, 1971, that MC CLURE returned to Detroit from New York about 3:00 p.m. on April 27, 1971.

DE T-1 learned on April 28, 1971, that MC CLURE allegedly was ordered to kill VIRON REDWINE and KENNETH HORSTON, and to use his judgment as whether or not to kill CHARLES HOLT. These three are leaders in the Detroit NCCF. DE T-1 advised that HOLT has expressed sympathy for the Cleaver Faction and is probably no longer being considered for assassination.

APPENDIX

BLACK PANTHER PARTY, also known as Black Panther Party for Self Defense

According to the official newspaper of the Black Panther Party (BPP), the BPP was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by Bobby G. Seale, BPP Chairman, and Huey P. Newton, Minister of Defense, BPP.

The official newspaper, called "The Black Panther," regularly states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to as "pigs" who should be killed.

The newspaper, in its issue of September 7, 1968, had an article by the then Minister of Education George Murray. This article ended with the following:

"Black men. Black people, colored persons of America, revolt everywhere! Arm yourselves. The only culture worth keeping is revolutionary culture. Change. Freedom everywhere. Dynamite! Black power. Use the gun. Kill the pigs everywhere."

The BPP newspaper, issue of October 5, 1968, had an article introduced with the following statement: "We will not dissent from American government. We will overthrow it."

David Hilliard, Chief of Staff, BPP, in a speech at the San Francisco Polo Field on November 15, 1969, said, "We will kill Richard Nixon."

David Hilliard, in the "New York Times," issue of December 13, 1969, was quoted as follows: "We advocate the very direct overthrow of the government by way of force and violence."

CONFIDENTIAL

In the issue of April 25, 1970, the BPP newspaper had an article by Minister of Culture Emory Douglas as follows:

"The only way to make this racist U. S. Government administer justice to the people it is oppressing, is . . . by taking up arms against this government, killing the officials, until the reactionary forces . . . are dead, and those that are left turn their weapons on their superiors, thereby passing revolutionary judgement against the number one enemy of all mankind, the racist U. S. Government."

The BPP headquarters is located at 1046 Peralta Street, Oakland, California. Branches of the BPP, and Committees to Combat Fascism, under control of the BPP, have been established in various locations in the U. S.

Title: BLACK PANTHER PARTY - DETROIT DIVISION

Character: EXTREMIST MATTERS

Synopsis: The Detroit NCCF was raised to full BPP status, 5/71. Their headquarters the Ministry of Information, is located at 157 Collingwood, Detroit, with offices at 2531 Pennsylvania, and 2435 Pennsylvania, Detroit. The office at Flint, Michigan, was closed during this period. Detroit continues to be directed from BPP headquarters, Oakland, California, and have contact with other BPP chapters. Detroit continues to sell "The Black Panther" newspaper, which is their main source of funds, although sales fell off during 9/71 and 10/71. A number of NCCF members were arrested the first part of 1971, in connection with robberies, beatings. Some members of the Detroit BPP have become disenchanted with NEWTON's policies and are switching to the faction of the BPP supporting ELDRIDGE CLEAVER.

The Ministry of Information for the Detroit NCCF was moved to a new office at 157 Collingwood, Detroit, Michigan, by orders of KENNETH HORSTON, leader of the Detroit NCCF.

611 Continental, Detroit, was designated CIC #1.

DE T-2
April 28, 1971

The NCCF office at 2009 Albert, Flint, Michigan, was abandoned by the NCCF because the member who had been paying the rent dropped out of the NCCF. Flint members plan to function out of Detroit.

DE T-1
May 17, 1971

The BPP moved out of 611-13 Continental, Detroit, the first of June, 1971, and moved into 2591 Pennsylvania, Detroit.

The Detroit NCCF was raised to full BPP status in May, 1971.

RONALD SMITH, in charge of Free Clothing Program

DE T-2
January, 1971

In March, 1971, the Detroit NCCF had 25 active members, including five community workers.

DE T-2
March, 1971

DE T-2 advised in April, 1971, that the membership and leaders of the Detroit NCCF for April, 1971, are as follows:

KENNETH HORSTON, leader
CHARLES HOLT, second in command
VIRON REDWINE, coordinator
EDGAR ROBINSON, distribution manager
LORENE BANKS, Breakfast Program.

31 active members including four community workers.

DE T-2 advised in April, 1971, that the leader of the Flint branch of the Detroit NCCF is WAYNE THEODORE ROBERTSON and that Flint has ten active members, including three community workers.

DE T-2 advised in May, 1971, that during May, 1971, LONNIE DARDEN was officer of the day at 157 Collingwood and that the membership consisted of 38 active members including six community workers.

CHARLES HOLT, second in command of the NCCF, has been reduced to a community worker by KENNETH HORSTON.

DE T-2
May 11, 1971

DE T-2 advised during June, 1971, that the membership of the BPP in June, 1971, consisted of 34 active members and five community workers.

When KENNETH HORSTON is not available, EDGAR ROBINSON, distribution manager, is in charge of 157 Collingwood, and LONNIE DARDEN is in charge of 2591 Pennsylvania.

DE T-4
July 2, 1971

DE T-4 advised in July, 1971, that the BPP consisted of 24 active members and four community workers in July, 1971.

DE T-4 attributed the decrease in membership to the fact that some people were unhappy with HUEY NEWTON's policy of non-violence and because they had been directed to attend church.

DE T-4 advised during August, 1971, that the following persons were leaders of the Detroit BPP during August, 1971:

KENNETH HORSTON, leader
DIANE BROWN, Minister of Information
LONNIE DARDEN, CIC #1

COMMUNITY NEWS

EVERY SINCE THE BLACK LIBERATION MOVEMENT STARTED IN 1965, GREEDY INDIVIDUALS HAVE BEEN PIMPING OFF THE PEOPLE. ONE SUCH BAND OF INDIVIDUALS EXIST IN FLINT, GOING UNDER THE GUISE OF BRO-HAM, BROTHERS OF HAM.

WILLY NOLAND, JOHN (BIG WORD) COLEMAN, AND WILL (RUN THE SHOW) FRANKLIN STARTED THIS ORGANIZATION SUPPOSEDLY TO SERVE THE PEOPLE. THROUGH TRICKERY AND DEMAGOGIC STRATEGY, THEY WENT ON TO DECEIVE THE PEOPLE INTO THINKING THAT THIS ORGANIZATION WAS A RIGHTEOUS BLACK MILITANT ORGANIZATION, INTENT ON SERVING THE PEOPLE AND BRINGING JUSTICE TO THE PEOPLE.

RUN THE SHOW FRANKLIN AND LOUDMOUTHED COLEMAN, USED WILL NOLAND AS A HAND TOOL. THEY ALSO TRICKED A LOT OF UNKNOWING BROTHERS INTO DOING THEIR LITTLE DEEDS. LIKE GETTING MONEY FROM THEIR COHERENCE, THE PIGS. FROM THERE, THEY MOVED ON TO A HIGHER LEVEL, OMBUDSMAN, WHICH IS NO MORE THAT AN ORGANIZATION THAT IS BUILT AROUND TELLING THE PEOPLE ONE THING AND THEN TELLING THEIR COHERENCE ANOTHER. GETTING MONEY AND SAYING THAT THEY ARE GOING TO HELP THE PEOPLE IN THE BLACK COMMUNITY, WHILE THE PIGS ARE STILL BRUTALIZING, BEATING AND KILLING NIGGERS.

BLACK PEOPLE ARE STILL LIVING IN ROACH AND RAT INFESTED HOUSES. BLACK PEOPLE ARE BEING HERDED INTO URBAN RENEWAL PROJECTS, WHICH ARE IN ESSENCE, NIGGER REMOVAL PROJECTS. BLACK CHILDREN ARE STILL HUNGRY, WHILE PIGS STILL PATROL AND CONTROL THE COMMUNITY, AND APART FROM THIS, 17 NEW PIG RIDES HAVE BEEN ADDED TO THE BLACK COMMUNITY TO HARASS THE COMMUNITY.

EVEN THE STUDENTS IN SCHOOL ARE BEING VAMPED ON WHILE THE BOOT-LICKING LACKEYS, RUN THE SHOW AND BIG WORD, LOUDMOUTHED LYING COLEMAN, ARE RUNNING AROUND WITH .25'S IN THEIR POCKETS, SITTING AROUND ON THE BOARD OF THE URBAN COALITION WITH PIG PROSECUTOR, TWO FACED ROBERT LEONARD, GREEDY, AVARICIOUS BUSINESSMEN SOMMERFIELD AND OTHER PIG BUSINESSMEN, WHO AIN'T GONNA GIVE A DIME TO ANY BLACK PEOPLE AT ALL. THEY DRINK PLENTY OF LIQUOR.

Open Letter To The Community

THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE TO COMBAT FASCISM IS AN ORGANIZING BUREAU OF BLACK PANTHER PARTY. THIS MEANS THAT WE WILL BE IMPLEMENTING AND ANIZING THE VARIOUS SOCIALISTIC PROGRAMS FOR THE PEOPLE IN THE COMMU- Y AS ESTABLISHED BY THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY.

THE FREE BREAKFAST PROGRAM WHICH IS SOON TO BE STARTED, WILL FEED THE YOUTHS IN THE BLACK COMMUNITY A GOOD WHOLESOME MEAL. WE RECOGNIZE T A CHILD CANNOT STUDY, LEARN OR CONCENTRATE AS WELL ON AN EMPTY ACH AS HE CAN AFTER HAVING EATEN A HEALTHY MEAL. CAPITALISM, THE Y OF ALL PEOPLE, HAS CAUSED MANY BLACK FAMILIES TO HAVE TO SEND THEIR DREN TO SCHOOL IN THE MORNING WITHOUT FOOD. BUT THROUGH OUR PROGRAM, S PROBLEM WILL BE ELIMINATED.

THE FREE MEDICAL HEALTH CARE CLINIC WILL SUPPLY THE PEOPLE WITH MUCH ED FREE HEALTH CARE. TIME AND AGAIN, BLACK PEOPLE HAVE DIED FROM LACK EDICAL TREATMENT BECAUSE THEY DIDN'T HAVE THE MONEY TO PAY THE MONEY RY DOCTORS. WE MUST SUFFER FOR HOURS IN CROWDED DOCTORS OFFICE'S TO MEDICAL TREATMENT WHICH IS SIMILAR TO BEING TREATED LIKE A PIECE OF INERY ON A FACTORY ASSEMBLY LINE. OUR FREE MEDICAL CLINIC WILL GIVE TREATMENT AND MEDICINE TO THE PEOPLE THROUGH THE SERVICES OF QUALI- LICENSED DOCTORS AND NURSES.

WE TOO, REALIZE THAT DOPE ADDICTION IS A VERY PRESSING PROBLEM IN THE K COMMUNITY. IT IS LITERALLY ASSISTING THE ENEMIES OF BLACK PEOPLE HEIR PLANS OF EXTERMINATION OF OUR RACE. OUR YOUNG BROTHERS AND SIS- AND SONS AND DAUGHTERS ARE LOSING THEIR LIVES CONSTANTLY BECAUSE OF VERDOSE OF SOME POISON DRUG. THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY AND ITS ORGANI- BUREAU, THE N.C.C.F., HAS STOOD FORTH BOLDLY AND CONDEMED THOSE WHOM BLAME SHOULD REALLY REST ON. IT IS THE GREEDY AVARIOUS BUSINESSMEN THE CROOKED BRIBE TAKING PIG POLICEMEN, WHO ARE LETTING AND PROMOTING ENTRANCE OF HERION AND COCAINE INTO THE BLACK COMMUNITY. AND NOW THEY TRYING TO COVER UP FOR IT WITH A PROGRAM THAT GETS THE ADDICTS STRUNG ON METHODONE, A DRUG SIMILAR TO HERION. WE NOW HAVE A PROGRAM WHICH NOW WILL END THIS PROBLEM ONCE AND FOR ALL.

WE ALSO HAVE A FREE CLOTHING PROGRAM WHICH WILL MEET THE CLOTHING S OF THE PEOPLE THROUGH THE DONATIONS WE RECEIVE, AND ARE WORKING ENGENTLY TOWARD OPENING A FREE SHOE FACTORY, A FREE PEOPLE'S LIBRARY A NO-INTEREST LOAN PROGRAM.

AVE JUST RECENTLY OPENED A NEW OFFICE IN YOUR COMMUNITY AT 2009 RT. THE OFFICE HOURS ARE FROM 9:00 A.M. TO 9:00 P.M. YOU ARE OME TO COME THROUGH ANY DAY.

THE CATECHISM OF THE REVOLUTIONIST
BY Mikhail Alexandrovich Bakunin with Introduction by Minister of Information Black Panther Party

The Catechism of the Revolutionist, by Mikhail Alexandrovich Bakunin, is one of the most important formulation of principles in the entire history of revolution. A contemporary of Marx, Bakunin was the epitome of the activist and his deeds spoke louder than his words. But his words, are what history has allowed to endure, Bakunin's message. The history of revolutionary movements all over the world attest to the fact that Bakunin's message must be unearthed and scrutinized by a new generation faced with a new tyranny. In the midst of all this Evil and human suffering there is too much co-existence going on. Peach seekers co-existing with War Mongers. Communists co-existing-with Capitalist; Slaves co-existing with Slave Masters. Black nationalists co-existing with Anti-Aro-American hordes.

It's time to intensify the struggle. Within the black colony of Afro-America, this means a declaration of war upon the black bourgeoisie and upon the class of Big Business Men who have turned the National Liberation Struggle into Big Business. These Civil Rights Executives must be allowed one choice and one choice only: return to your people, bringing with you your wealth and skills, and put it at the disposal of your people's cause. You have nothing that is sacred—not even your life.

Intesifying the Struggle means, at this stage within the white mother country, arising from the sleep of tradition and making some new definitions. Some new distinctions. Within the ranks of the white mother country radicals, the new generation must part company with the old at the very least. Preferably, the new generation should take hold of the old and bend them or break them. There is nothing left for them to prove. They must be demoted to advisory and technical positions. Pressure on them must be stepped up to the maximum and kept there. Stop at nothing.

Compared to the job that Afro-American Revolutionaries and white mother country radicals have on their hands, all revolutions and national liberation struggles of the past have been childs play. What must be kept clear is that white mother country radicals are fighting for a revolution--while Afro-American revolutionaries are fighting for national liberation -- against a common enemy: White Racist Capitalism and its bastard offsprings, Colonialism, Imperialism, and Neo-Colonialism.

Read the Catechism. Perhaps you will find a word or phrase that will enhance your revolutionary perspective and intensify your activity. At the very least you have to appreciate Bakunin's spirit. "If you got Bakunin's message, then the whole world will have moved a little closer to the future.

THE CATECHISM OF THE REVOLUTIONIST

The Revolutionist's Attitude Toward Himself

The revolutionist is a doomed man. He has no personal interests, ffairs, sentiments, attachments, property, not even a name of his Everything in him is absorbed by one exclusive interest, ont tho-
, one passion -- the revolution.

In the very dept of his being, not merely in word but in deed, he broken every connection with the social order and with the whole ated world, with all the laws, appearances, and generally accepted ventions and moralities of that world which he considers his ruthless Should he continue to live in it, it will be solely for the pur-of destroying in more surely.

The revolutionist despises every sort of doctrinairism and has renced the peaceful scientific pursuits, leaving them to future generation ons. He knows only one science, the science of destruction. For this only this purpose he makes a study of mechanics, physics, chemistry possibly medicine. For this purpose he studies day and night the ing science of human beings, their characters, situation, and all conditions of the present social system in its various strats. The ect is but one__ The quickess possible destruction of that ignoble tem.

He despises public opinion. He despises and hates the present day e of morals with all its motivations and manifestation.. To him, tever side the triumph of the revolution is ethical; all that which ders it is unethical and criminal.

The revolutionist is a doomed man. He is merciless toward the State toward the entire system of privileged educated classes; he need in n expect no mercy from them. Between him and them there is continuous irreconcilable war to the bitter end, whether it be-waged openly or retly. He must be ready to die at any moment. He must train himself stand torture.

Rigorous towards himself, he must also be severe with others. All der, softening sentiments of kinship, friendship, love, gratitude, and en honor itself must be snuffed out in him by the one cold passion of revolutionary cause. For him there is only one satisfaction, con-lation, and delight---the success of the revolution. Day and night we st have one thought, one aim--inexorable destruction. Striving coldly unfairly towards this aim, he must be ready to perish himself and to stroy with his own hands everything that hinders its realization.

The nature of a real revolutionist precludes every bit of sentimen-lity; romanticism, of infatuation and exaltation. It precludes even rsonal hatred and revenge. Revolutionary passion having become a nor-l phenomenon, it must be combined with cold calculation. At all times d places the revolutionist must not be that towards which he is impell-by personal impulses, but that which the general interests of the

The Relations of the Revolutionists Toward His Comrades in the Cause

8. A revolutionist may feed friendship or attachment only for those who have proven themselves by their actions to be revolutionists like himself. The measure of friendship, devotion, and other obligations towards such a comrade is determined solely by the degree of his usefulness to the cause of the alldestructive revolution.

9. Solidarity of the revolutionists goes without saying. The whole strength of the revolutionary cause is based on it. The fellow revolutionists who stand in the same plane of revolutionary understanding and ardor must, as far as possible, discuss all important matters jointly and decide them unamimously. In the execution of a plan thus decided upon, however, everyone must, as far as possible, count upon himself. In carrying out acts of destruction each one must act alone and resort to the counsel and aid of comrades only when this is necessary for success.

10. Each comrade must have at hand several revolutionists of the second and third degree, i.e. such as are not entirely initiated. He must consider them a part of the common revolutionary capital placed at his disposal. He must spend his portion of the capital economically, always striving to extract the greatest possible use from it. He is to consider himself as capital, fated to be spent for the triumph of the revolutionary cause; however, he has no right personally and alone to dispose of that capital without the consent of the aggregate of the fully initiated.

11. When a comrade comes to grief, in deciding the question whether or not to save him, the revolutionists must take into consideration not his personal feelings, but solely the interests of the revolutionary cause. Therefore, he must weigh on the work contributed by the comrade, and on the other, the expenditure of revolutionary forces necessary to rescue him, and he is to decide according to which side.

The Revolutionist's Relations with Society

12. The admission into the organization of a new member, who has proved himself not in words but in deeds, can be effected only by unanimous agreement.

13. The revolutionist enters the world of the State and of the educated privilege classes and lives in it only for the purpose of its fullest and quickest destruction. He is not a revolutionist if he is attached to anything in this world, if he can stop before the annihilation of any situation, relation, or person belonging to this class or world--everything and everybody must be equally hateful to him. All the worse to him if he has any relations of kinship, friendship, or love; he is not a revolutionist if they can stop his hand.

14. For the purpose of ruthless destruction, the revolutionist may and frequently must live in society, pretending to be something entirely different from what he is. The revolutionist must penetrate everywhere, into all the higher and middle classes, the merchant's store, the church the nobleman's home, the bureaucratic world and military circles, into literature, into the Third Department (Secret Police), and even into draw up a list of persons thus condemned in the order of their relative harmfulness to the success of the cause so that the preceding numbers may be removed before the subsequent ones.

16. In making up such lists and for the purpose of establishing the above mentioned order, one should by no means be guided by the personal villainy of the individual, nor even by the hatred of which he calls forth in the association or among the people. This villainy and this hatred may even by party useful by helping to arouse the masses of the revolt. It is necessary to be guided by the measure of usefulness which would result from his death, to the revolutionary cause. Thus, first of all, those men must be destroyed who are particularly harmful to the revolutionary organization and also those whose sudden and violent death may fill the government with the greatest fear and shake its power by depriving it of its cleaver and energetic man.

17. The second category must consist of persons whose lives would be spared only temporaily so that, by a series of brutal acts, they bring the people to the point of inevitable revolt.

18. To the third category belong a great many brutes in high positions not distinguished by any particular intellect or energy, but due to their position, enjoy riches, connections, influence, and power. It is necessary to exploit them in every possible way; trap them into one's slaves. Their power, influence, connections, riches, and strength will become the inexhaustible treasury and support of various revolutionary enterprises.

19. The fourth category consists of ambitious officeholders and liberals of various shades. One may conspire with them in accordance with their programs, making them in accordance that one follows them blindly and at the same time one should take hold of them, get possessions of all their secrets, compromise them to the utmost; so that no avenue of escape may be left to them and use them as instruments for stirring up distrubances in the State.

20. The fifth--doctrinaires (refers to Bakunin's opponents within the revolutionary camp), conspirators, revolutionist talking idly in groups and on paper. They must be continually pushed and pulled forward, towards practical neckbreaking statements, the result of which would be the complete destruction of the majority and the real revolutionary training of a few.

21. The sixth and very important category includes women who should be classified under three main divisions; empty headed, stupid, soulless who may be under like the third and fourth category of men; others ardent, devoted, capable, but not with us because they have not yet worked themselves up to the real phraseless and genuine revolutionary understanding; they are to be made use of like the men in the third category; finally, women, entirely ours, i.e. fully initiated and having completely accepted our program. They are our comrades. We must look upon them as our most precious treasure. Without the aid of with we cannot get along.

The Attitudes of the Association Toward The People

22. The association has no other aim other than the complete liberation and happiness of the masses, i.e. of the people who live by manual labor. But, convinced that this liberation and the achievement of this liberation and happiness is possible

Only through an all-destroying popular revolution and the Association will by all means and all its power further the developement and extension of those evils and those calamities which must at last exhaust the patience of the people and drive them to a general uprising.

23. By Revolution the Association does not understand a regulated movement after the classical Western model. A movement which always bowing to the property rights and the traditions of the social systems of so-called civilization and morality, has until now limited itself everywhere to the overthrow of one political form in order to replace it by another and striven to create a so-called revolutionary state. Only that revolution will be beneficial to the people which will destroy at the very root every vestige of statehood and will annihilate all of this country's old traditions, institutions, and classes.

24. The Association therefore does not intend to force on the people any organization from above. The future organization will no doubt evolve out of popular movement and out of life itself. But this is the business of future generations. Our business in destruction, terrible, complete, universal, and merciless.

25. Therefore, in getting closer to the people, we must first of all join those elements of the masses, which, since the foundation of the U.S. powers, have never ceased to protest, not in words alone but in deeds as well, against everything which is directly or indirectly connected with the State: against nobility, the bureaucracy, the clergy, the guilds (meaning the merchants and capitalist in general) and against the parasitie kulak. Let us join hands with the cold and bold hands and world of the bandits--the only genuine revolutionist in the U.S.

26. To consolidate this world into one invincible, all-destroying force is the sole subject of our organization; this is our conspiracy; our task.

The following is the text of an article which appeared in the March 27, 1971 edition of "The Black Panther" newspaper, page three, and according to DE T-2, was written by WAYNE THEODORE ROBERTSON:

"PIGS FEEBLE ATTEMPT TO SABOTAGE
FREE BREAKFAST PROGRAM

"THE NEWLY OPENED OFFICE OF THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE TO COMBAT FASCISM (N.C.C.F.), THE POLITICAL ORGANIZING BUREAU OF THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY AT 2009 ALBERT ST. HAS IMPLEMENTED A FREE BREAKFAST PROGRAM FOR CHILDREN.

"THIS PROGRAM WAS STARTED BECAUSE WE OF THE N.C.C.F. KNOW THE FININCIAL STATUS OF THE BLACK COMMUNITY AND KNOWING THAT MOST BLACK FAMILIES ARE NOT ALWAYS ABLE TO FEED THEIR CHILDREN A HOT, WELL BALANCED, NOURISHING BREAKFAST. WE KNOW THAT CHILDREN AREN'T ABLE TO CONCENTRATE ON THEIR STUDIES IN SCHOOL AS OPPOSED TO PAINS OF HUNGER WITHOUT A NOURISHING HOT BREAKFAST; SO THAT THRY WILL BE ABLE TO OBTAIN AN EDUCATION TO BETTER THEIR CONDITIONS OF LIVING IN THE YEARS UP COMING.

"WHEN THE FREE BREAKFAST PROGRAM FIRST STARTED, WE SAW THAT QUITE A FEW CHILDREN WERE INTERESTED BUT RELUCTANT TO COME. IN OUR TIRELESS EFFORT TO BETTER SERVE THE NEEDS OF THE PEOPLE OF THE BLACK COMMUNITY, WE IMMEDIATELY STARTED TO INVESTIGATE

THE REASON BEHIND THE CHILDREN NOT COMING TO THE FREE BREAKFAST PROGRAM. IN OUT INVESTIGATION, WE DISCOVERED THE ROOT OF THE PROBLEM; WHICH LIES AT DORT ELEMENTARY SCHOOL, LOCATED AT THE CORNER OF HAMILTON AND AVE. A.

"YOUR CHILDREN ARE CONSTANTLY BEING HARASSED, FRIGHTENED BY MEMBERS OF A PROFESSIONAL STAFF, BETTER KNOWN AS TEACHERS. ONE SUCH RACIST LACKEY'S MISS BROWN, MURPHEY, A MISS COLDPEPPER, A MR. HOLIDAY AND YOUR EVERYDAY PRINCIPAL SIMMONS.

"THESE FOWL LOW NATURED TEACHERS ARE HARASSING YOUR CHILDREN ABOUT COMING TO THE FREE BREAKFAST PROGRAM. THEY TELL THEM THAT IF THEY COME TO THE FREE BREAKFAST PROGRAM THAT THEY WILL BE KICKED OUT OF SCHOOL, THAT WE PUT DOPE IN THE FOODS, OR THAT WE INTEND TO HARM THEM.

"ALONG WITH HARASSMENT BY THA TEACHERS THEY ARE EVEN SUBJECTED TO BEING HARASSED BY YOUR UNFRIENDLY BLUE-SUITED PIG. THEY ARE NOT SATISFIED WITH JUST LYING TO THE CHILDREN, THEY HAVE MOVED IT TO A HIGHER LEVEL, TO INSURE THAT THE CHILDREN OF THE BLACK COMMUNITY WOULD NOT RECIEVE AMPLE NOURISHMENT, AND SO THAT THEY COULD FURTHER ENHANCE THEIR GENOCIDAL PRACTICES OF THIS DECADENT COMMUNITY.

"THESE FOWL INSTITUTIONS OF LEARNING HAVE UNIFORMED PIGS ALONG WITH THEIR NIGGER LACKEYS TO PATROL THE HALLS OF THE SCHOOL, ARMED WITH . 357 MAGNUMS/ PISTOLS, UNSTRAPPED AT THEIR SIDES.

"THESE PIGS PATROL THE HALLS DAILY UNDER THE PRETENSE OF KEEP-' OLDER STUDENTS FROM OTHER SCHOOLS OUT OF DORT. INSTEAD THEY RUN AROUND IN THE HALLS, TAKING CHILDREN TO THE OFFICE THAT COME IN LATE, TAKING CHILDREN OUT OF CLASS ON A PASS FOR THE BATHROOM, TO THE OFFICE.

"THESE LOW NATURED BEASTS GO SO FAR AS TO DO SUCH THINGS AS TO THREATEN YOUR CHILDREN WITH SHOOTING THEM, AND TAKE THE CHILDREN TO SOME SECLUDED AREA AND BEAT THEM. WHEN THERE IS CLEARLY A LAW IN THE STATE OF MICHIGAN THAT CHILDREN ARE NOT TO BE WHIPPED, BEATEN OR PADDLED WITHOUT PERMISSION FROM THE PARENTS.

"THIS CLEARLY INDICATED HOW THE FASCIST RACIST PIGS OF FLINT AND THEIR LACKEYS THAT ARE WORKING IN THE INSTITUTIONS OF LEARNING HAVE NO REGARDS FOR THE RIGHTS AND WELL BEING FOR THE PEOPLE OF THE BLACK COMMUNITY.

"WE THE MEMBERS OF THE N.C.C.F. AND THE PEOPLE SAY THAT WHEN THE PUBLIC FACILITIES NO LONGER WORK TO SERVE THE PEOPLE AS THEY WERE DESIGNED FOR, BUT WORK ONLY IN THE INTEREST OF THHE FEW THAT CONTROL THIS CORRUPT DECADENT SOCIETY KNOWN AS THE RULING CIRCLE, THAT WHEN THIS HAPPENS IT SHALL BE DEALT WITH BY ANY MEANS NECESSARY. IN KNOWING THIS WE KNOW THAT THE ONLY WAY IS WITH THE HAND TOOLS OF LIBERATION.

"DEATH TO THE PIGS AND THEIR LACKEYS IN THE FASCIST INSTITUTIONS OF LEARNING.

THE DETROIT "16"

THE DETROIT "16" IS "16" BROTHERS AND SISTERS WHO ARE BEING HELD IN THE MEDIVAL DUNGEONS BETTER KNOWN AS WAYNE COUNTY JAIL, ON CHARGES OF MUDER AND CONSPIRACY TO COMMIT MURDER.

ON OCTOBER 24, THESE BROTHERS AND SISTERS WERE TAKEN OUT OF THE BLACK (16th & MYRTLE) COMMUNITY FOR FEEDING HUNGRY KIDS IN THE MORNINGS, FOR TRYING TO ESTABLISH A FREE MEDICAL CLINIC WHICH WOULD SERVE ALL THE PEOPLE, AND OTHER SURVIVAL PROGRAMS. BUT THE PIGS JUSTIFICATION FOR TAKING THE PEOPLE'S WARRIORS OFF THE STREET, WAS FOR THE MURDER OF PIG GLENN SMITH AND CONSPIRING TO MURDER PIG GLENN SMITH.

5 OF THE 8 SISTERS ARE OUT ON $5,000 BONDS EACH. ONLY ONE OF THE EIGHT BROTHERS, LONNIE DARDEN, HAVE BOND WHICH IS $20,000 AND TWO SURITIES. THE REMAINING 7 ARE WITHOUT BONDS.

THE UNJUST TRIAL OF THE DETROIT 16 HAS BEEN SCHEDULED FOR MAY 10, 1971, BUT YOU, ONLY YOU, THE MASSES OF PEOPLE CAN TURN THIS UNJUST TRIAL INTO A JUST TRIAL, BY SEEING TO IT THAT THE DETROIT 16 WALK THE STREETS AGAIN——BY ANY MEANS NECESSARY.

IN ORDER TO ASSURE THE BROTHERS AND SISTERS OF THE PROPER DEFENSE, DEFENSE FUNDS AND BAIL MONEY IS NEEDED. ALL CHECKS- MONEY ORDERS, PROPERTY SLIPS-SURETIES ARE TO BE SENT TO THE NATIONAL COMMITTEES TO COMBAT FASCISM, MINISTRY OF INFORMATION, 613 CONTINENTAL, DETROIT, MICH.

ON THE DEFECTION OF ELDRIDGE CLEAVER
FROM THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY AND THE DEFECTION OF THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY FROM THE BLACK COMMUNITY

BY HUEY P. NEWTON,

MINISTER OF DEFENSE OF THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY AND SERVANT OF THE PEOPLE

THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY BASES ITS IDEOLOGY AND PHILOSOPHY ON A CONCRETE ANYALYSIS OF CONCRETE CONDITIONS, USING DIALECTICAL MATERIALISM AS OUR ANALYTICAL METHOD. AS DIALECTICAL MATERIALIST WE RECOGNIZE THAT CONTRADICTIONS CAN LEAD TO DEVELOPMENT. THE INTERNAL STRUGGLE OF OPPOSITES BASED UPON THEIR UNITY CAUSES MATTER TO HAVE MOTION AS PART OF THE PROCESS OF DEVELOPMENT. WE RECOGNIZE THAT NOTHING IN NATURE STANDS OUTSIDE OF DIALECTICS, EVEN THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY. BUT WE WELCOME THESE CONTRADICTIONS, BECAUSE THEY CLARIFY AND ADVANCE OUR STRUGGLE. WE HAD A CONTRADICTION WITH OUR FORMER MINISTER OF INFORMATION, ELDRIDGE CLEAVER. BUT WE UNDERSTAND THIS IS NECESSARY TO OUR GROWTH. OUT OF THIS CONTRADICTION HAS COME NEW GROWTH AND A NEW RETURN TO THE ORIGINAL VISION OF THE PARTY.

EARLY IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY I WROTE AN ESSAY TITLED "THE CORRECT HANDLING OF A REVOLUTION". THIS WAS IN RESPONSE TO ANOTHER CONTRADICTION - THE CRITICISMS RAISED AGAINST THE PARTY BY THE REVOLUTIONARY ACTION MOVEMENT (R.A.M.). AT THAT TIME R.A.M. CRITICIZED US FOR OUR ABOVE-GROUND ACTION -- OPENLY DISPLAYING WEAPONS AND TALKING ABOUT THE NECESSITY FOR THE COMMUNITY TO ARM ITSELF FOR ITS OWN SELF-DEFENSE. R.A.M. SAID THAT THEY WERE UNDERGROUND, AND SAW THIS AS THE CORRECT WAY TO HANDLE A REVOLUTION. I RESPONDED TO THEM BY POINTING OUT THAT YOU MUST ESTABLISH YOUR ORGANIZATION ABOVE GROUND SO THAT THE PEOPLE WILL RELATE TO IT IN A WAY THAT WILL BE POSITIVE AND PROGRESSIVE TO THEM. WHEN YOU GO UNDERGROUND WITHOUT DOING THIS, YOU BURY YOURSELF SO DEEPLY THAT THE PEOPLE CAN NEITHER RELATE TO NOR CONTACT YOU. THEN THE TERRORISM OF THE UNDERGROUND ORGANIZATION WILL BE JUST THAT--STRIKING FEAR INTO THE HEARTS OF THE VERY PEOPLE WHOSE INTEREST THE ORGANIZATION CLAIMS TO BE DEFENDING--BECAUSE THE PEOPLE CANNOT RELATE TO THEM AND THERE IS NOBODY THERE TO INTERPRET THEIR ACTIONS. YOU HAVE TO SET UP A PROGRAM OF PRACTICAL ACTION AND BE A MODEL FOR THE COMMUNITY TO FOLLOW AND APPRECIATE.

MAR 27 1972
XEROXED ORIGINAL-RETAIN

4443

THE PEOPLE WOULD SUP[illegible]T US AND DEFEND US. THEY WOULD KNOW THA[illegible]N SPITE OF THE OPPRESSOR'S INTER[illegible]TATIONS, THAT OUR ONLY DESIRE WAS TO SERVE THEIR TRUE INTERESTS; AND THEY WOULD DEFEND US. IN THIS MANNER WE MIGHT BE FORCED UNDERGROUND, BUT THERE WOULD BE A LIFELINE TO THE COMMUNITY WHICH WOULD IDENTIFY WITH US AND NOT WITH OUR COMMON ENEMY.

FOR A TIME THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY LOST ITS VISION AND DEFECTED FROM THE COMMUNITY. WITH THE DEFECTION OF ELDRIDGE CLEAVER, HOWEVER, WE CAN MOVE AGAIN TO A FULL SCALE DEVELOPMENT OF OUR ORIGINAL VISION AND COME OUT OF THE TWILIGHT ZONE WHICH THE PARTY HAS BEEN IN DURING THE RECENT PAST.

THE ONLY REASON THAT THE PARTY IS STILL IN EXISTENCE AT THIS TIME, AND THE ONLY REASON THAT WE HAVE BEEN ABLE TO SURVIVE THE REPRESSION OF THE PARTY AND MURDERS OF SOME OF OUR MOST ADVANCE COMRADES IS BECAUSE OF THE TEN POINT PROGRAM -- OUR SURVIVAL PROGRAM. OUR PROGRAMS WOULD BE MEANINGLESS AND INSIGNIFICANT IF THEY WERE NOT COMMUNITY PROGRAMS. THIS IS WHY IT IS MY OPINION THAT AS LONG AS THE BLACK COMMUNITY AND OPPRESSED PEOPLE ARE FOUND IN NORTH AMERICA THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY WILL LAST. THE PARTY WILL SURVIVE AS A STRUCTURED VEHICLE, BECAUSE IT SERVES THE TRUE INTERESTS OF OPPRESSED PEOPLE AND ADMINISTERS TO THEIR NEEDS -- THIS WAS THE ORIGINAL VISION OF THE PARTY. THE ORIGINAL VISION WAS NOT STRUCTURED BY RHETORIC NOR BY IDEOLOGY. IT WAS STRUCTURED BY THE PRACTICAL NEEDS OF THE PEOPLE, AND ITS MEMBERS WERE ARMED WITH AN IDEOLOGY WHICH PROVIDED A SYSTEMATIC METHOD OF ANALYSIS OF HOW BEST TO MEET THOSE NEEDS.

WHEN BOBBY SEALE AND I CAME TOGETHER TO LAUNCH THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY, WE HAD BEEN THROUGHT MANY GROUPS. MOST OF THEM WERE SO DEDICATED TO RHETORIC AND ARTISTIC RITUALS THAT THEY HAD WITHDRAWN FROM LIVING IN THE TWENTIETH CENTURY. SOMETIMES THEIR ANALYSES WERE BEAUTIFUL, BUT THEY HAD NO PRACTICAL PROGRAMS WHICH WOULD DELIVER THEIR UNDERSTANDINGS TO THE PEOPLE. WHEN THEY DID TRY TO DEVELOP PRACTICAL PROGRAMS, THEY OFTEN FAILED, BECAUSE THEY LACKED A SYSTEMATIC IDEOLOGY WHICH WOULD HELP THEM DO CONCRETE ANALYSES OF CONCRETE CONDITIONS TO GAIN A FULL UNDERSTANDING OF THE COMMUNITY AND ITS NEEDS. WHEN I WAS IN DONALD WARDEN'S AFRO AMERICAN ASSOCIATION, I WATCHED HIM TRY TO MAKE A REALITY OF COMMUNITY CONTROL THROUGH BLACK CAPITALISM. BUT WARDEN DID NOT HAVE A SYSTEMATIC IDEOLOGY AND HIS ATTEMPTS TO INITIATE HIS PROGRAM CONTINUALLY FRUSTRATED HIM AND THE COMMUNITY TOO. THEY DID NOT KNOW WHY CAPITALISM WOULD NOT WORK FOR THEM, EVEN THOUGH IT HAD WORKED FOR OTHER ETHNIC GROUPS.

WHEN WE FORMED THE PARTY, WE DID SO BECAUSE WE WANTED TO PUT THEORY AND PRACTICE TOGETHER, IN A SYSTEMATIC MANNER. WE DID THIS THROUGH OUR BASIC TEN POINT PROGRAM. IN ACTUALITY IT WAS A 20-POINT PROGRAM, WITH THE PRACTICE EXPRESSED IN "WHAT WE WANT" AND THE THEORY EXPRESSED IN "WHAT WE BELIEVE". THIS PROGRAM WAS DESIGNED TO SERVE AS A BASIS FOR A STRUCTURED POLITICAL VEHICLE.

THE ACTIO[illegible] WE ENGAGED IN AT THAT TIME WERE STRICTL[illegible]ATEGIC ACTIONS, FOR POLITICAL PURPOSES. THEY WERE DESIGNED TO MOBILIZE THE COMMUNITY. ANY ACTION WHICH DOES NOT MOBILIZE THE COMMUNITY TOWARD THE GOAL IS NOT A REVOLUTIONARY ACTION. THE ACTION MIGHT BE A MARVELOUS STATEMENT OF COURAGE, BUT IF IT DOES NOT MOBILIZE THE PEOPLE TOWARD THE GOAL OF A HIGHER MANIFESTATION OF FREEDOM, IT IS NOT MAKING A POLITICAL STATEMENT AND COULD EVEN BE COUNTER-REVOLUTIONARY.

WE REALIZED AT A VERY EARLY POINT IN OUR DEVELOPMENT, THAT REVOLUTION IS A PROCESS. IT IS NOT A PARTICULAR ACTION, NOR IS IT A CONCLUSION. IT IS A PROCESS. THIS IS WHY WHEN FEUDALISM WIPED OUT SLAVERY, FEUDALISM WAS REVOLUTIONARY. THIS IS WHY WHEN CAPITALISM WIPED OUT FEUDALISM, CAPITALISM WAS REVOLUTIONARY. THE CONCRETE ANALYSIS OF CONCRETE CONDITIONS WILL REVEAL THE TRUE NATURE OF THE SITUATION AND INCREASE OUR UNDERSTANDING. THIS PROCESS MOVES IN A DIALECTICAL MANNER AND WE UNDERSTAND THE STRUGGLE OF THE OPPOSITES BASED UPON THEIR UNITY.

MANY TIMES PEOPLE SAY THAT OUR TEN-POINT PROGRAM IS REFORMIST; BUT THEY IGNORE THE FACT THAT REVOLUTION IS A PROCESS. WE LEFT THE PROGRAM OPENENDED, SO THAT IT COULD DEVELOP AND PEOPLE COULD IDENTIFY WITH IT. WE DID NOT OFFER IT TO THEM AS A CONCLUSION; WE OFFERED IT AS A VEHICLE TO MOVE THEM TO A HIGHER LEVEL. IN THEIR QUEST FOR FREEDOM, AND IN THEIR ATTEMPTS TO PREVENT THE OPPRESSOR FROM STRIPPING THEM OF ALL THE THINGS THEY NEED TO EXIST, THE PEOPLE SEE THINGS AS MOVING FROM A TO B TO C; THEY DO NOT SEE THINGS AS MOVING FROM A TO Z. IN OTHER WORDS THEY HAVE TO SEE FIRST SOME BASIC ACCOMPLISHMENTS, IN ORDER TO REALIZE THAT MAJOR SUCCESSES ARE POSSIBLE. MUCH OF THE TIME THE REVOLUTIONARY WILL HAVE TO GUIDE THEM INTO THIS UNDERSTANDING. BUT HE CAN NEVER TAKE THEM FROM A TO Z IN ONE JUMP, BECAUSE IT IS TOO FAR AHEAD. THEREFORE, WHEN THE REVOLUTIONARY BEGINS TO INDULGE IN Z, OR FINAL CONCLUSIONS, THE PEOPLE DO NOT RELATE TO HIM. THEREFORE HE IS NO LONGER A REVOLUTIONARY, IF REVOLUTION IS A PROCESS. THIS MAKES ANY ACTION OR FUNCTION WHICH DOES NOT PROMOTE THE PROCESS - NON-REVOLUTIONARY.

WHEN THE PARTY WENT TO SACRAMENTO, WHEN THE PARTY FACED DOWN THE POLICEMEN IN FRONT OF THE OFFICE OF RAMPARTS MAGAZINE, AND WHEN THE PARTY PATROLLED THE POLICE WITH ARMS, WE WERE ACTING (IN 1966) AT A TIME WHEN THE PEOPLE HAD GIVEN UP THE PHILOSOPHY OF NON-VIOLENT DIRECT ACTION AND WERE BEGINNING TO DEAL WITH STERNER STUFF. WE WANTED THEM TO SEE THE VIRTUES OF DISCIPLINED AND ORGANIZED ARMED SELF-DEFENSE, RATHER THAN SPONTANEOUS AND DISORGANIZED OUT-BREAKS AND RIOTS. THERE WERE POLICE ALERT PATROLS ALL OVER THE COUNTRY, BUT WE WERE THE FIRST ARMED POLICE PATROL. WE CALLED OURSELVES THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY FOR SELF DEFENSE. IN ALL OF THIS WE HAD POLITICAL AND REVOLUTIONARY OBJECTIVES IN MIND, BUT WE KNEW THAT WE COULD NOT SUCCEED WITHOUT THE SUPPORT OF THE PEOPLE.

OUR STRATEGY WAS BASED ON A CONSISTENT IDEOLOGY, WHICH HELPED US TO UNDERSTAND THE CONDITIONS AROUND US. WE KNEW THAT THE LAW WAS NOT PREPARED FOR WHAT WE WERE DOING AND POLICEMEN WERE SO SHOCKED THAT THEY DIDN'T KNOW WHAT TO DO. WE SAW THAT THE PEOPLE FELT A NEW PRIDE AND STENGTH BECAUSE OF THE EXAMPLE WE SET FOR THEM; AND THEY BEGAN TO LOOK TOWARD THE VEHICLE WE WERE BUILDING FOR ANSWERS.

LATER WE DROPPED THE TERM "SELF-DEFENSE" FROM OUR NAME AND JUST BECAME THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY. WE DISCOURAGED ACTIONS LIKE SACRAMENTO AND POLICE OBSERVATIONS BECAUSE WE RECOGNIZED THAT THESE WERE NOT THE THINGS TO DO IN EVERY SITUATION OR ON EVERY OCCASION. WE NEVER CALLED THESE REVOLUTIONARY ACTION. THE ONLY TIME AN ACTION IS REVOLUTIONARY IS WHEN THE PEOPLE RELATE TO IT IN A REVOLUTIONARY WAY. IF THEY WILL NOT USE THE EXAMPLE YOU SET, THEN NO MATTER HOW MANY GUNS YOU HAVE, YOUR ACTION IS NOT REVOLUTIONARY.

THE GUN ITSELF IS NOT NECESSARILY REVOLUTIONARY, BECAUSE THE FASCISTS CARRY GUNS--IN FACT THEY HAVE MORE GUNS. A LOT OF SO-CALLED REVOLUTIONARIES SIMPLY DO NOT UNDERSTAND THE STATEMENT BY CHAIRMAN MAO THAT "POLITICAL POWER GROWS OUT OF THE BARREL OF A GUN." THEY THOUGHT CHAIRMAN MAO SAID POLITICAL POWER IS THE GUN, BUT THE EMPHASIS IS ON GROWS. THE CULMINATION OF POLITICAL POWER IS THE OWNERSHIP AND CONTROL OF THE LAND AND THE INSTITUTIONS THEREON, SO THAT YOU CAN THEN GET RID OF THE GUN. THAT IS WHY CHAIRMAN MAO MAKES THE STATEMENT THAT, "WE ARE ADVOCATES OF THE ABOLITION OF WAR, WE DO NOT WANT WAR; BUT WAR CAN ONLY BE ABOLISHED THROUGH WAR, AND IN ORDER TO GET RID OF THE GUN, IT IS NECESSARY TO TAKE UP GUN." HE IS ALWAYS SPEAKING OF GETTING RID OF IT. IF HE DID NOT LOOK AT [illegible] THOSE TERMS, THEN HE SURELY WOULD NOT BE REVOLUTIONARY. IN OTHER WORDS, [illegible] BY ALL REVOLUTIONARY PRINCIPLES IS A TOOL TO BE USED IN OUR STRATEGY; [illegible] AN END IN ITSELF. THIS WAS A PART OF THE ORIGINAL VISION OF THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY.

I HAD ASKED ELDRIDGE CLEAVER TO JOIN THE PARTY A NUMBER OF TIMES. BUT HE DID NOT JOIN UNTIL AFTER THE CONFRONTATION WITH THE POLICE IN FRONT OF THE OFFICES OF RAMPARTS MAGAZINE, WHERE THE POLICE WERE AFRAID TO [illegible] THEIR GUNS. [illegible] KNOWLEDGE, HE TOOK THIS AS THE REVOLUTION AND THE PARTY. [illegible] IT WAS NOT UNTIL POINT 7 THAT WE MENTIONED THE GUN, AND THIS WAS IN [illegible]. WE WERE TRYING TO BUILD A POLITICAL VEHICLE [illegible] WHICH THE PEOPLE COULD EXPRESS THEIR REVOLUTIONARY DESIRES. [illegible] RECOGNIZED THAT NO PARTY OR ORGANIZATION CAN MAKE THE REVOLUTION, ONLY THE PEOPLE CAN. [illegible] WE COULD [illegible] AS A GUIDE TO THE PEOPLE. BECAUSE [illegible] IN A PROCESS, AND [illegible] THE PROCESS MOVES IN A DIALECTICAL MANNER, [illegible] THE SAME ACTION COULD BE IMPROPER AT ANOTHER [illegible] CRETE ANALYSIS OF CONCRETE CONDITIONS, AND [illegible] CONDITIONS AS A WAY OF MOBILIZING THE PEOPLE AND L[illegible]

CONSCIOUSNESS.

PEOPLE CON[illegible]Y THOUGHT THAT WE WERE SECURITY GUARD[illegible] COMMUNITY POLICE OR SOMETHING LIKE THIS. THIS IS WHY WE DROPPED THE TERM "SELF DEFENSE" FROM OUR NAME AND DIRECTED THE ATTENTION OF THE PEOPLE TO THE FACT THAT THE ONLY WAY THEY WOULD GET SALVATION IS THROUGH THEIR CONTROL OF THE INSTITUTIONS WHICH SERVE THE COMMUNITY. THIS WOULD REQUIRE THAT THEY ORGANIZE A POLITICAL VEHICLE WHICH WOULD KEEP THEIR SUPPORT AND ENDORSEMENT THROUGH ITS SURVIVAL PROGRAMS OF SERVICE. THEY WOULD LOOK TO IT FOR ANSWERS AND GUIDANCE. IT WOULD NOT BE AN ORGANIZATION WHICH RUNS CANDIDATES FOR POLITICAL OFFICE, BUT IT WOULD SERVE AS A WATCHMAN OVER THE ADMINISTRATORS WHOM THE PEOPLE HAVE PLACED IN OFFICE.

BECAUSE THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY GROWS OUT OF THE CONDITIONS AND NEEDS OF OPPRESSED PEOPLE, WE ARE INTERESTED IN EVERYTHING THE PEOPLE ARE INTERESTED IN, EVEN THOUGH WE MAY NOT SEE THESE PARTICULAR CONCERNS AS THE FINAL ANSWERS TO OUR PROBLEMS. WE WILL NEVER RUN FOR POLITICAL OFFICE, BUT WE WILL ENDORSE AND SUPPORT THOSE CANDIDATES WHO ARE ACTING IN THE TRUE INTERESTS OF THE PEOPLE. WE MAY EVEN PROVIDE CAMPAIGN WORKERS FOR THEM AND DO VOTER REGISTRATION AND BASIC PRECINCT WORK. THIS WOULD NOT BE OUT OF A COMMITMENT TO ELECTORAL POLITICS, HOWEVER. IT WOULD BE OUR WAY OF BRINGING THE WILL OF THE PEOPLE TO BEAR ON SITUATIONS IN WHICH THEY ARE INTERESTED. WE WILL ALSO HOLD SUCH CANDIDATES RESPONSIBLE TO THE COMMUNITY, NO MATTER HOW FAR REMOVED THEIR OFFICES MAY BE FROM THE COMMUNITY. SO WE LEAD THE PEOPLE BY FOLLOWING THEIR INTERESTS, WITH A VIEW TOWARD RAISING THEIR CONSCIOUSNESS TO SEE BEYOND PARTICULAR GOALS.

WHEN ELDRIDGE JOINED THE PARTY IT WAS AFTER THE POLICE CONFRONTATION, WHICH LEFT HIM FIXATED WITH THE "EITHER-OR" ATTITUDE. THIS WAS THAT EITHER THE COMMUNITY PICKED UP THE GUN WITH THE PARTY OR ELSE THEY WERE COWARDS AND THERE WAS NO PLACE FOR THEM. HE DID NOT REALIZE THAT IF THE PEOPLE DID NOT RELATE TO THE PARTY, THEN THERE WAS NO WAY THAT THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY COULD MAKE ANY REVOLUTION, BECAUSE THE RECORD SHOWS THAT THE PEOPLE ARE THE MAKERS OF THE REVOLUTION AND OF WORLD HISTORY.

SOMETIMES THERE ARE THOSE WHO EXPRESS PERSONAL PROBLEMS IN POLITICAL TERMS, AND IF THEY ARE ELOQUENT, THEN THESE PERSONAL PROBLEMS CAN SOUND VERY POLITICAL. WE CHARGE ELDRIDGE CLEAVER WITH THIS. MUCH OF IT IS PROBABLY BEYOND HIS CONTROL, BECAUSE IT IS SO PERSONAL. BUT WE DID NOT KNOW THAT WHEN HE JOINED THE PARTY, HE WAS DOING SO ONLY BECAUSE OF THAT ACT IN FRONT OF RAMPARTS. WE WEREN'T TRYING TO PROVE ANYTHING TO OURSELVES, ALL WE WERE TRYING TO DO, AT THAT PARTICULAR POINT, WAS DEFEND BETTY SHABAZZ. BUT WE WERE STRANDED BY THE PEOPLE.

UNDER THE INFLUENCE OF ELDRIDGE CLEAVER THE PARTY GAVE THE COMMUNITY NO ALTERNATIVE FOR DEALING WITH US, EXCEPT BY PICKING UP THE GUN. THIS MOVE WAS REACTIONARY SIMPLY BECAUSE THE COMMUNITY WAS NOT AT THAT POINT. INSTEAD OF BEING A CULTURAL

CULT GROUP, WE BECAME, BY THAT ACT, A REVOLUTIONARY CULT GROUP. BUT THIS IS A BASIC CONTRADICTION, BECAUSE REVOLUTION IS A PROCESS, AND IF THE ACTS YOU COMMIT DO NOT FALL WITHIN THE SCOPE OF THE PROCESS THEN THEY ARE NON-REVOLUTIONARY.

WHAT THE REVOLUTIONARY MOVEMENT AND THE BLACK COMMUNITY NEEDS IS A VERY STRONG STRUCTURE. THIS STRUCTURE CAN ONLY EXIST WITH THE SUPPORT OF THE PEOPLE AND IT CAN ONLY GET ITS SUPPORT THROUGH SERVING THEM. THIS IS WHY WE HAVE THE SERVICE TO THE PEOPLE PROGRAM - THE MOST IMPORTANT THING IN THE PARTY. WE WILL SERVE THEIR NEEDS, SO THAT THEY CAN SURVIVE THROUGH THIS OPPRESSION. THEN WHEN THEY ARE READY TO PICK UP THE GUN, SERIOUS BUSINESS WILL HAPPEN. ELDRIDGE CLEAVER INFLUENCED US TO ISOLATE OURSELVES FROM THE BLACK COMMUNITY, SO THAT IT WAS WAR BETWEEN THE OPPRESSOR AND THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY, NOT WAR BETWEEN THE OPPRESSOR AND THE OPPRESSED COMMUNITY.

THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY DEFECTED FROM THE COMMUNITY LONG BEFORE ELDRIDGE DEFECTED FROM THE PARTY. OUR HOOK-UP WITH WHITE RADICALS DID NOT GIVE US ACCESS TO THE WHITE COMMUNITY, BECAUSE THEY DO NOT GUIDE THE WHITE COMMUNITY. THE BLACK COMMUNITY DOES NOT RELATE TO THEM, SO WE WERE LEFT IN A TWILIGHT ZONE, WHERE WE COULD NOT ENTER THE COMMUNITY WITH ANY REAL POLITICAL EDUCATION PROGRAMS; YET WE WERE NOT DOING ANYTHING TO MOBILIZE WHITES. WE HAD NO INFLUENCE IN RAISING THE CONSCIOUSNESS OF THE BLACK COMMUNITY AND THAT IS THE POINT WHERE WE DEFECTED.

WE WENT THROUGH A FREE SPEECH MOVEMENT IN THE PARTY, WHICH WAS NOT NECESSARY AND ONLY FURTHER ISOLATED US FROM THE BLACK COMMUNITY. WE HAD ALL SORTS OF PROFANITY IN OUR PAPER AND EVERY OTHER WORD WHICH DROPPED FROM OUR LIPS WAS PROFANE. THIS DID NOT HAPPEN BEFORE I WAS JAILED, BECAUSE I WOULD NOT STAND FOR IT. BUT ELDRIDGE'S INFLUENCE BROUGHT THIS ABOUT. I DO NOT BLAME HIM ALTOGETHER; I BLAME THE PARTY BECAUSE THE PARTY ACCEPTED IT.

ELDRIDGE WAS NEVER FULLY IN THE LEADERSHIP OF THE PARTY. EVEN AFTER BOBBY WAS SNATCHED AWAY FROM US, I DID NOT PLACE ELDRIDGE IN A POSITION OF LEADERSHIP, BECAUSE HE WAS NOT INTERESTED IN THAT. I MADE DAVID HILLIARD ADMINISTRATOR OF PROGRAMS. I KNEW THAT ELDRIDGE WOULD NOT DO ANYTHING TO LIFT THE CONSCIOUSNESS OF THE COMRADES IN THE PARTY. BUT I KNEW THAT HE COULD MAKE A CONTRIBUTION; AND I PRESSED HIM TO DO SO. I PRESSED HIM TO WRITE AND EDIT THE PAPER, BUT HE WOULDN'T DO IT. THE PAPER DID NOT EVEN COME OUT EVERY WEEK UNTIL AFTER ELDRIDGE WENT TO JAIL. BUT ELDRIDGE CLEAVER DID MAKE GREAT CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY WITH HIS WRITING AND SPEAKING. WE WANT TO KEEP THIS IN MIND, BECAUSE THERE IS A POSITIVE AND NEGATIVE SIDE TO EVERYTHING.

THE CORRECT HANDLING OF A REVOLUTION IS NOT TO OFFER THE PEOPLE AN "EITHER-OR" ULTIMATUM. WE MUST INSTEAD GAIN THE SUPPORT OF THE PEOPLE THROUGH SERVING THEIR NEEDS. THEN WHEN THE POLICE OR ANY OTHER AGENCY OF REPRESSION TRIES TO DESTROY THE PROGRAM, THE PEOPLE WILL MOVE TO A HIGHER LEVEL OF CONSCIOUSNESS AND ACTION.

THEN THE ORGANIZED STRUCTURE CAN GUIDE THE PEOLE TO THE POINT WHERE THEY ARE PREPARED TO DEAL IN MANY WAYS. THIS WAS THE STRATEGY WE USED IN 1966 WHEN WE WERE RELATED TO IN A POSITIVE WAY.

SO THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY HAS REACHED A CONTRADICTION WITH ELDRIDGE CLEAVER AND HE HAS DEFECTED FROM THE PARTY, BECAUSE WE WOULD NOT ORDER EVERYONE INTO THE STREETS TOMORROW TO MAKE A REVOLUTION. WE RECOGNIZE THAT THIS IS IMPOSSIBLE BECAUSE OUR DIALECTICS OR IDEOLOGY, OUR CONCRETE ANALYSIS OF CONCRETE CONDITIONS SAY THAT IT IS A FANTASY, BECAUSE THE PEOPLE ARE NOT AT THAT POINT NOW. THIS CONTRADICTION AND CONFLICT MAY SEEM UNFORTUNATE TO SOME, BUT IT IS A PART OF THE DIALECTICAL PROCESS. THE RESOLUTION OF THIS CONTRADICTION HAS FREED US FROM INCORRECT ANALYSES AND EMPHASES.

WE ARE NOW FREE TO MOVE TOWARD THE BUILDING OF A COMMUNITY STRUCTURE WHICH WILL BECOME A TRUE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE, PROMOTING THEIR INTERESTS IN MAY WAYS. WE CAN CONTINUE TO PUSH OUR BASIC SURVIVAL PROGRAM. WE CAN CONTINUE TO SERVE THE PEOPLE AS ADVOCATES OF THEIR TRUE INTERESTS. WE CAN TRUELY BECOME A POLITICAL REVOLUTIONARY VEHICLE WHICH WILL LEAD THE PEOPLE TO A HIGHER LEVEL OF CONSCIOUSNESS, SO THAT THEY WILL KNOW WHAT THEY MUST REALLY DO IN THEIR QUEST FOR FREEDOM, AND THEY WILL HAVE THE COURAGE TO ADOPT AND OBTAIN THAT FREEDOM.

DE T-4 furnished copies of the following leaflets on September 1, 1971:

WORD LIST

REVOLUTION- Revolution means change. A revolutionary is one who is dissatisfied with a system that brutalizes, murders, exploits and oppresses the people it pretends to serve (Amerikkka). He is not only dissatisfied but he also moves to change the system by educating the people to truth and setting examples of how to change it, so that it functions for the poor and not just the rich.

BOURGEOISIE- the select few that own and control the businesses,etc.

PETTY BOURGEOISIE- Owners of small businesses, and professionals for example doctors, lawyers and teachers.

PROLETARIAT- The workers, those that produce the goods and services the wealth that is taken away by the Bourgeoisie.
LUMPEN-PROLETARIAT- unemployed, students, hustlers, etc.

ATROCITIES- in human crimes committed against the people (My Lai killings at Jackson and Augusta)

MONOPLY- very large and powerful businesses, which control whole industries, or large parts of industries (Standard Oil, General Moters)

MERCENARY- A soldier who only fights for pay, doing the dirty work for someone else.

HOUSE NIGGER- The slave that thinks he is free because the master invites him for coffee (but not for dinner) and then is used to control the field niggers.

FIELD NIGGER - Slave who must work the hardest but gets almost nothing and therfore revolts against the master.

ECONOMICS- How people produce goods and wealth, and how these are distributed, accumulated and consumed. In othe r words, who gets what and how they get it.

COLONIALISM- control by a powerful nation over a dependent nation or people.

COLONY- A community, nation or country that is owned and controlled outright by an outside country. In our case, Black people live in a colony and arthorefore colonized. Our community is controlled by the white mother country economically, politically, militarily, and culturall etc.

CAPITALISM- A social system based on profit (amerikkka, Britain,France) where only a seledt few own and controll the businesses, courts, law making and dicisions in their own interest and at the expense of and not in the interest of the masses of people.

The following leaflet was furnished on September 22, 1971, by DE T-3:

THE SAN QUENTIN BRANCH OF THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY OPENS!

A NEW ERA HAS ARISEN IN THE UNITED STATES. INSURRECTION, REVOLUTION AND LIBERATION HAS KNOCKED AT THE DOOR OF AMERICA, THE WORLD'S NOW MOST POTENT BASTION OF IMPERIALISM. HISTORICAL CONDITIONS HAVE FORCED THE CONFLICTING ASPECTS OF AMERICAN SOCIETY TO THE POINT OF DIVISION. NOW ONLY THE STRAGGLERS ARE PICKING WHICH SIDE THEY WISH TO FIGHT ON, THE SIDE OF THE FORCES OF OPPRESSION, RACISM AND FASCISM OR WITH THE FORCES OF LIBERATION - THE PEOPLE'S JUST CAUSE OF FREEDOM. BECAUSE THIS CONFRONTATION IS ALREADY RAISED TO THE LEVEL OF SPORADIC MILITARY ENCOUNTERS- REVOLUTIONARIES SHOOTING IT OUT WITH THE PIGS, REVOLUTIONARIES BEING HARASSED FOR SELLING PAPERS REVOLUTIONARIES LIBERATING THE GOODS THAT HAVE BEEN EXPORTED FROM THE COMMUNITY - MANY BROTHERS ARE BEING LOCKED UP IN NUMEROUS PRISONS AND JAILS OF BABYLON.

THE INCREASE IN REVOLUTIONARY PRISONERS HAS PROPORTIONATELY INCREASED THE LEVEL OF POLITICAL AWARENESS THROUGHOUT THE PENAL SYSTEM. SAN QUENTIN, BECAUSE OF ITS LARGE POPULATION, IS GETTING ITS SHARE OF POLITICAL PRISONERS. REAGAN'S GOVERNMENT AND HIS PUPPET PRISON ADMINISTRATORS ARE WELL AWARE OF THIS AND ALSO ITS EFFECT. THAT AWARENESS CREATES A REPRESSIVE ATMOSPHERE THROUGHOUT THE PENS. HERE IN SAN QUENTIN WE ARE FEELING THAT REPRESSION FULL FORCE. ALTHOUGH IT HAS BEEN PREVALENT FROM THE TIME OUR COMRADES JONATHAN JACKSON, WILLIAM CHRISTMAS AND JAMES MCLAIN MADE THEIR SUPREME SACRIFICE FOR FREEDOM, IT HAS INTENSIFIED, CULMINATING WITH A WEEK OF STORYBOOK REIGN OF TERROR. THE NEW EXCUSE AND PRETEXT FOR LOCKING BROTHERS IN THE HOLE IS "POSSESSION OF INFLAMMATORY LITERATURE". THIS LITERATURE IS, OF COURSE, REVOLUTIONARY, AND IS IN OUR POSSESSION BECAUSE WE ARE TRYING TO BRING OUR INCARCERATED BROTHERS UP TO A HIGHER LEVEL OF AWARENESS. THEY CAN THEN CHANGE THEIR OUTMODED IDEAS OF INDIVIDUAL MATERIAL GAIN THROUGH EXPLOITATION OF THE BLACK COMMUNITY.

THE PIGS SEE US AND ANYONE WHO ASSOCIATES CLOSELY WITH THE CADRE HERE TAKING ON A NEW COMPLEXION, A NEW OUTLOOK ON SOCIAL CONDITIONS. WE ARE BECOMING MORE DISCIPLINED AND ARE STARTING TO UNIFY AROUND THE IDEOLOGY OF ESTABLISHING REVOLUTIONARY POLITICAL POWER FOR BLACK PEOPLE. THE PIGS KNOW THAT ONCE WE ESTABLISH THE NECESSARY POLITICAL POWER THEY CAN NO LONGER EXPLOIT AND OPPRESS US. THEY WILL NOT BE ABLE TO LOCKUP OUR WARRIORS IN PRISONS AND JAILS ANY LONGER. THEY ALSO REALIZE THAT ONCE THE MASSES OF ANGRY BLACKS BECOME POLITICALLY AWARE, WE ARE GOING TO BRING THE MACHINERY OF OPPRESSION TO A SCREECHING HALT, THROUGH VIOLENT, BLOODY, BUT JUSTIFIED WARFARE.

THIS HARASSMENT TAKES ON A FAMILIAR FORM. THEY WATCH A GROUP OF BROTHERS WHO ARE KNOWN REVOLUTIONARIES, THEN ACCUMULATE THIS KNOWLEDGE INTO SPECIAL FOLDERS, LABELED "MILITANTS, VANGUARDS, REVOLUTIONARIES AND BLACK PANTHERS," ALONG WITH PHOTOGRAPHS. THIS INFORMATION IS KEPT AT THE FOREPOST (A CENTRAL COMMAND HEADQUARTERS HERE IN QUENTIN, SIMILAR TO THE PENTAGON OR THE F.B.I. HEADQUARTERS). WHENEVER THE PIGS GET THE ITCH OR URGE THEY DIG OUT THIS FOLDER AND PROCEED TO SYSTEMATICALLY SHAKE DOWN OUR CELLS. (THE SHAKE DOWN IS A PROCEDURE WHEREBY THEY GO INTO A PERSON'S CELL AND SEARCH IT THROUGHLY, DIGGING UP THE BEDS, TEARING ALL OF THE PICTURES OFF THE WALLS AND GENERALLY MAKING A PIGGISH MESS. THEY SIT DOWN AND READ EVERY LETTER, DOCUMENT, PERSONAL WRITING AND ANYTHING ELSE, HOPING TO FIND SOMETHING SPEAKING AGAINST THE PRESENT SOCIAL ORDER. THAT IS THEN LABELED "INFLAMMATORY LITERATURE", AND THE OWNER OF THE MATERIAL IS TAKEN TO THE "HOLE" OR THE ADJUSTMENT CENTER TO WAIT A HIGH TRIBUNAL OF TRANSPLANTED KU KLUX KLANSMEN AND DISPOSSESSED NAZI PRISON CAMP TENDERS.

SINCE A MAN'S TH[illegible]HTS REFLECT HIS ATTITUDE AND HIS [illegible]TINGS MIRROR BOTH, WE AS POLITICALLY AWARE INDIVIDUALS WILL HAVE THIS SO-CALLED INFLAMMATORY LITERATURE IN OUR POSSESSION ONEHUNDRED PERCENT OF THE TIME. THIS WEEK FIVE BROTHERS WERE TAKEN OFF THE YARD: JAMES ELLISON, KENNY FAVRE, CHARLES AUGUSTINE, J.P. TROTTER AND EDDIE CHILLIES. ALL WERE CHARGED WITH HAVING REVOLUTIONARY MATERIAL IN THEIR POSSESSION. THERE WAS ONCE A TIME WHEN WE WOULD RUN TO OUR CELLS AND DESTROY ALL WRITINGS IN HOPE THAT WE COULD KEEP THE BUST FROM COMING DOWN ON US. THAT TIME HAS PASSED. NOW WE REALIZE THAT THIS PIG HAS NO LAWS WHICH WE AS OPPRESSED PEOPLE ARE BOUND TO RESPECT. HE CANNOT STIFLE OUR THOUGHTS IN ORDER TO SLOW UP HISTORICAL INEVITABLE REVOLUTION - LIBERATION. WE SAY DAMN HIM AND ALL OF HIS REACTIONARY, FASCIST RUNNING DOGS, BECAUSE WE WILL CONTINUE TO WRITE AND EDUCATE WHENEVER WE ARE AMONG THE MASSES AND REGARDLESS OF THE REPRESSIVE MEASURES AND REPERCUSSION HAPPENING BEHIND IT. IT IS TIME THAT WE AS PEOPLE STAND UP AND FIGHT OFF THIS PIG POWER STRUCTURE. WE ARE RIGHT; HISTORY HAS PROVEN BEYOND A SHADOW OF A DOUBT THAT WE ARE MORALLY, INTELLECTUALLY AND SPIRITUALLY JUSTIFIED IN TAKING OUR FREEDOM BY THE MOST DRASTIC MEANS AVAILABLE.

THE LINES HAVE BEEN DRAWN AND TO THE PIGS WE SAY COME ON, FOR HISTORY AND UNBORN GENERATIONS ARE WATCHING OUR ACTION CLOSELY. IF WE DO NOT TAKE A STAND FOR LIBERATION NOW, THEN WE DO NOT DESERVE TO BREATH THE OXYGEN WE INHALE, OR THE SPACE WE TAKE UP. THIS IS THE YEAR OF THE YOUTH, SO WE MUST GIVE THE YOUTH THE PROPER TOOLS TO FIGHT AND DESTROY THIS SYSTEM OF RACISM, FASCISM AND IMPERIALISM. THE TOOLS NEEDED ARE BRAVERY, LOYALTY TO THE CAUSE OF LIBERATION AND FAITH IN THE PEOPLE. WE CANNOT GIVE THEM ANYTHING TO FIGHT WITH, IF WE ALLOW OURSELVES TO BE BACKED INTO A CORNER WITH OUT PUTTING UP ANY STRUGGLE. IF WE DO NOT GIVE THE YOUTH ANYTHING BUT A FLEETING GLANCE AT A REVOLUTIONARY ACT, THAT IS MUCH BETTER THAN FOUR HUNDRED YEARS OF TOMISM AND STEP N' FETCH IT, FOOTSHUFFLING, SPINELESS COWARDICE.

ONCE, WE AS MEN, ARE RECONGIZED AS WHAT WE ARE, POLITICAL PRISONERS, A NEW SITUATION DEVELOPS. THE CORRUPT PRISON OFFICIAL, THE GOVERNOR, THE STATE DEPARTMENT AND THE WORLD LOOK AT US AS POLITICAL PRISONERS AND TREAT US IN ACCORD WITH THE GENEVA CONVENTION'S MANDATE FOR THE TREATMENT OF THE POLITICAL PRISONER AND THE PRISONER OF WAR. AS OF NOW WE ARE NOT TREATED ANY BETTER THAN ANIMALS IN A CAGE. ONCE OUR PEOPLE, THE SENSIBLE PEOPLE OF THE COUNTRY, REALIZE THE NATURE OF A POLITICAL PRISONER, THEY WILL DEMAND OUR HUMANE TREATMENT, UNTIL THEY BUILD UP THE NECESSARY FORCES TO DO JUST WHAT THE FRENCH PEOPLE DID TO THE BASTILLE IN THE 18th CENTURY. THEY WILL NOT SIT AROUND AND WAIT FOR THE COURTS OR THE PAROLE BOARDS OR ANY OF THE OTHER SHAMS OF JUDICIAL MOCKERY TO RELEASE US. THE PEOPLE WILL AND MUST DO IT THEMSELVES. YOU OUT THERE, MOLD YOURSELVES INTO A POLITICAL AND MILITARY UNITE; AND ONCE ALL OPPRESSED PEOPLE UNITE AROUND THE BANNER OF LIBERATION, NO FORCE IN THE WORLD CAN STOP THE NATURAL COURSE OF HISTORY. THE FRENCH COULD NOT STOP THE OPPRESSED PEOPLE, THE VIETNAMESE OR ALGERIAN PEOPLE; THE JAPANESE AND THE REACTIONARY CHINESE COULD NOT STOP THE OPPRESSED PEOPLE OF CHINA; IAN SMITH AND HIS APARTHEID PARTNERS WILL NOT STOP THE PEOPLE OF RHODESIA, SOUTH AFRICA OR SOUTH WEST AFRICA FROM GAINING THEIR FREEDOM.

THE PIGS IN THIS COUNTRY, REGARDLESS OF THE TECHNICAL EQUIPMENT, CANNOT STOP THE PEOPLE'S STRUGGLE FOR LIBERATION. THE PIGS HERE IN SAN QUENTIN REGARDLESS OF THE INTIMIDATION AND HARASSMENT CANNOT STOP THE EXCHANGE OF REVOLUTIONARY KNOWLEDGE. THEY ARE ONLY MAKING SURE OF THEIR DEATH BY CONTINUING TO INDULGE IN THE CHILDISH GAMES OF COPS AND ROBBERS.

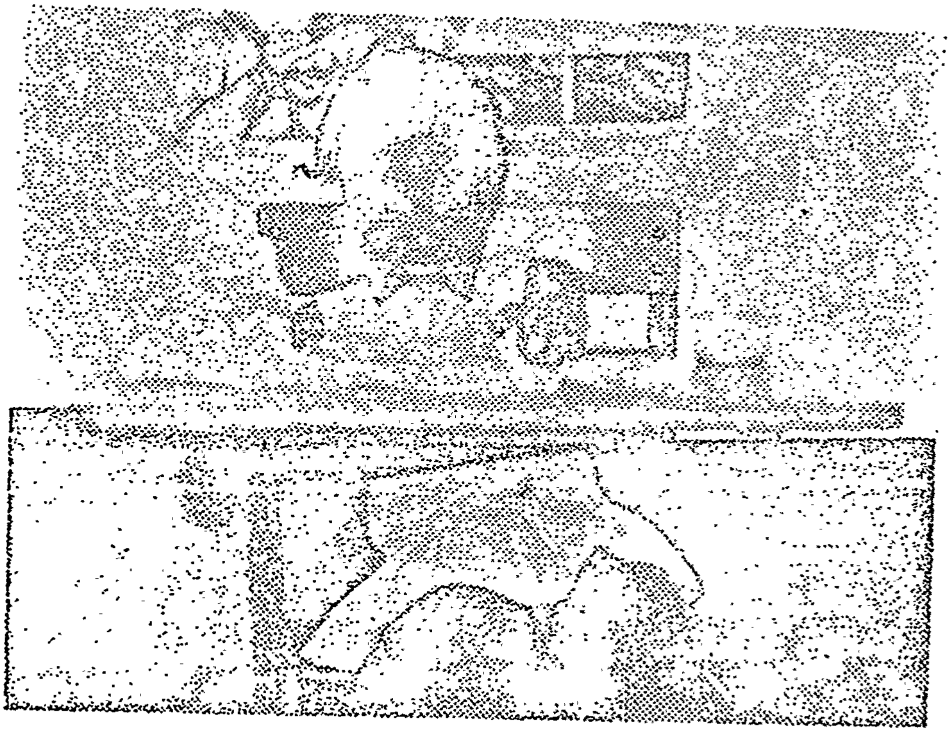
SUPPORT THE "FREE BREAKFAST FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN"

THE YOUTH OF OUR BLACK COMMUNITY ARE IN SCHOOL AGAIN, AND AGAIN THE PROBLEM OF PROVIDING A HEALTHY WELL BALANCED "FREE BREAKFAST" FOR THESE YOUNG BROTHERS AND SISTERS STILL EXIST IN OUR COMMUNITY.

DURING THE SUMMER VACATION, THE DETROIT BRANCH OF THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY PROVIDED A "FREE LUNCH AND LIBERATION SCHOOL". AT THIS SCHOOL SUBJECTS SUCH AS MATH, HISTORY, ENGLISH AND THE IDEOLOGY OF THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY WERE TAUGHT.



THE EARLY PART OF THIS YEAR A "FREE BREAKFAST PROGRAM" WAS INTIATED BY THE PARTY AND WE WERE ABLE TO FEED AS MANY AS 50 CHILDREN A DAY. WE WOULD NOT HAVE BEEN ABLE TO DO THIS WITHOUT YOUR HELP. WE MUST STRIVE TO EXTEND THE "FREE BREAKFAST PROGRAM" TO ALL THE YOUTH IN OUR COMMUNITY, WHICH MEANS WE WILL NEED YOUR HELP MORE THAN EVER TO DO THIS. YOUR CONTRIBUTION WILL HELP PROVIDE A FREE BREAKFAST FOR THE SCHOOL CHILDREN.

REQUESTED ITEMS: EGGS, MILK, BREAD, CANNED FRUITS, JUICES, BACON, SAUSAGES, HAMS, ETC.

COMRADE GEORGE JACKSON: ON MEMBERSHIP IN THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY

THE FOLLOWING LETTER WAS SENT TO US ON JUNE 21, 1971, FROM OUR THEN INCARCERATED COMRADE, GEORGE JACKSON. BECAUSE OF CONFUSION CREATED PARTICULARLY BY THE PRESENT GOVERNMENT'S PROPAGANDA MEDIA SURROUNDING COMRADE GEORGE'S MEMBERSHIP IN THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY, AND, BECAUSE THE MESSAGE THE LETTER CONTAINS IS SO CLEARLY IMPORTANT AS A GUIDE TO OUR STRUGGLE, WE FEEL IT APPROPRIATE TO NOW PRINT THE LETTER HERE:

MASS MOVEMENTS THAT ARE EGALITARIAN AND AIMED AT THE FUTURE ESTABLISHMENT OF REVOLUTIONARY MASS SOCIETY MUST AT ALL SUBSTRUCTURAL LEVELS BE GUIDED BY AN AGGRESSIVE AND DISCIPLINED VANGUARD POLITICAL PARTY. WITHOUT THIS LEADERSHIP, POSITIVE ACTIONS AND UNITARIAN CONDUCT OF THE PEOPLE'S AFFAIRS IS NOT POSSIBLE. ONE SIMPLY CANNOT ACT WITHOUT A HEAD. FOR THE VANGUARD PARTY, IT IS ALWAYS THE INTERESTS OF THE PEOPLE AND THEIR FORWARD MOVEMENT THAT IS OF PRIMARY CONCERN. WITHOUT THE VANGUARD PARTY, THOUGH, ALL ARE IN FACT EQUAL. THE PARTY ITSELF CANNOT ACT WITH PURPOSE WITHOUT THE TRUEST EXPRESSION OF DEMOCRATIC CENTRALISM: THE PARTY CADRE, FREELY ELECTED OR OTHERWISE DISTINGUISHED IN THE SERVICE OF THE PARTY AND THE PEOPLE, MUST REACH FOR MAJORITY DECISIONS THAT ONCE ARRIVED AT MUST BE RESOLUTELY CARRIED OUT BY ALL, EVEN THOSE WHO MAY HAVE IN THE PROCESS OF DECISION-MAKING OPPOSED THE MEASURE.

NOTHING CAN BE ACCOMPLISHED WITHOUT SUCH DISCIPLINED AND PRINCIPLED CONDUCT. WE HAVE TO CONTEND WITH NOT ONLY THE ENEMY FORCES THAT WOULD RESTRICT OUR MOVEMENT, BUT ALSO PRIMAL IMPULSES WITHIN EACH OF US, LITTLE UNDERSTOOD AND AT MOST OCCASIONS JUST BARELY UNDER CONTROL.

MAR 27 1972

XEROXED ORIGINAL-RETAINED

163

DISCIPLINARIAN CONDUCT IS THE CONSCIOUS EFFORT TO SUPPRESS THE EGOTISM, SELF-INDULGENCE, INTROVERSION THAT WE ABSORBED WHILE STILL IN THE HELPLESS NON-CONSCIOUS STATE. IT IS ACTIVELY COMBATING THE SELF-[illegible], THE PIG IN EVERY MAN THAT FORCES HIS BEHAVIOR TO

THE PRISON MOVEMENT - NOT TO BE CONFUSED WITH THE OPPOSITE PRISON "REFORM" MOVEMENT - BUT THE PRISON MOVEMENT, AIMED AT THE PROTECTION AND LIBERATION OF POLITICAL PRISONERS AND THE CONVICT CLASS IN GENERAL, AND ALSO POLITICALLY MOTIVATED TO PROVE TO THE AMERIKAN FASCISM-CORPORATIVISM THAT THE CONCENTRATION CAMP TECHNIQUE WILL NOT RESTRAIN OUR MOVEMENT, WAS, FROM THE OUTSET, FASHIONED AND FORWARDED BY THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY. THE SEVERAL CHARACTERISTICS OF THE MOVEMENT WERE CONCEIVED BY THE SUPREME SERVANT, HUEY NEWTON; THE CHAIRMAN, BOBBY SEALE; AND CHEIF OF STAFF, DAVID HILLIARD. THESE INCLUDED THE BUSSING PROGRAMS, DESIGNED TO COMBAT SOME OF THE ISOLATIONIST ASPECTS BUILT INTO PRISON CAMP LIFE, RELATIVES, FRIENDS AND LEGAL AIDS ARE TRANSPORTED TO THE VARIOUS PRISONS FREE OF CHARGE; IN SPECIAL CASES ATTORNEYS WERE AND AND ARE BEING EMPLOYED TO HELP PRISONERS WITH PROBLEMS THAT CAN STILL BE ADDRESSED IN LEGAL FORMS OF STRUGGLE. REVOLUTIONARY ART AND LITERATURE ARE BEING PROVIDED PRISONERS TO FURTHER DEVELOP THEIR POTENTIAL CONTRIBUTION TO THE EAGER MOVEMENT UPON RELEASE. THEN, OF COURSE, SOME OF THE NECESSITIES THAT CAN BE PURCHASED WITH MONEY ARE BEING FUNNELED INTO THE PRISONS AND PRISONERS. MASS ATTENTION IS BEING FOCUSED UPON THE RATIONALE OF THE CONCENTRATION CAMP TECHNIQUE.

WHEN WE THREE SOLEDAD PRISONERS, FLEETA, JOHN AND MYSELF, WERE SINGLED OUT FOR PERSECUTION IN THE DEATH OF A PIG IN THE WING THAT WE WERE HOUSED IN JANUARY OF 1970, IT WAS THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY THAT PROVIDED THE FIRST $10,000. THAT WENT TOWARD OUR LEGAL DEFENSE; THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY THAT DID MOST OF THE HEAVY POLITICAL WORK AND ORGANIZING AROUND THE CASE; THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY THAT BURIED OUR DEAD AFTER THE TRIAL OF COMBAT IN MARIN - AUGUST 7th. THEY GATHERED UP THE BODIES, CLEANED THEM, EXPLAINED THEM AND NEVER THOUGHT TO DENY OR CONDEMN THEIR PEOPLE'S INTENSE LONGING TO BE FREE. BUT IN THE TRUE MARXIST-LENINIST INTERPRETATION OF PEOPLE'S GUERILLA WARFARE SUPPORTED IT ON THE PRINCIPLE THAT PEOPLE FIGHT "...IN CER--TAIN PERIODS OF ACUTE ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL CRISES...", AND BECAUSE WE KNOW THAT "...IT IS NOT GUERILLA ACTIONS WHICH DISORGANIZE THE MOVEMENT, BUT THE WEAKNESS OF A PARTY WHICH IS INCAPABLE OF TAKING SUCH ACTIONS UNDER ITS CONTROL." (V.I. LENIN) I HAVE BEEN A MEMBER OF THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY SINCE THE SUPREME SERVANT APPOINTED ME, WHEN HE HIMSELF WAS STILL IN PRISON. I HOLD MY MEMBERSHIP AND OBLIGATION TO SERVE THE PEOPLE WITH ALL THE SINCERITY OF WHICH I AM CAPABLE. SO FAR, INSTEAD OF PLACING OUR TOTAL DEFENSE, LEGAL AND POLITICAL, IN THE HANDS OF THE PARTY, WE HAVE ALLOWED VARIOUS ELEMENTS OF THE NON-PARTISAN BLACK AND RADICAL WHITE COMMUNITIES TO CONDUCT ASPECTS OF OUR DEFENSE ON THE THEORY THAT INVOLVEMENT ON SUCH A BASIS WOULD PROMOTE WIDER MOBILIZATION INTO THE MOVEMENT IN GENERAL FROM OUR SUBSTRUCTURAL LEVEL; THAT IS, EXPOSURE IN THIS PARTICULAR AREA OF ANTI-ESTABLISHMENT WOULD SERVE TO MOVE THEM INTO ACTIONS LATER ON AT HIGHER LEVELS. INSOLUBLE CONTRADICTIONS HAVE RESULTED...

WE CONDEMN NO ONE. WE THANK ALL THOSE SWEET, EARNEST PEOPLE WHO TRIED TO ACT IN OUR BEHALF. BUT, WE DO NOW RECOGNIZE THAT ALL ASPECTS OF THE MOVEMENT THROUGH THE TWO STAGES, REBELLION AND SOCIALIZATION, MUST PROCEED UNDER THE PURPOSEFUL GUIDANCE OF THE PEOPLE'S VANGUARD PARTY.

G. Propensity for Violence and Preparation for Confrontation

On January 4, 1971, EDGAR ROBINSON, distrobution manager for the Detroit NCCF, visited the office at Flint, Michigan, and told a woman from the neighborhood who dropped in that there are eight million Panthers in the country who will take up the gun and take over the country, giving it a blood bath if two BPP members on trial in New Haven, Connecticut are convicted.

DE T-11
January 8, 1971

On Sunday, January 10, 1971, members of the NCCF were marching in the street in front of 611-13 Continental after the political education meeting, and were made to move by the police.

DE T-2
January 13, 1971

On Sunday, January 17, 1971, members of the NCCF again marched in front of 611-13 Continental and had observers from the community patroling the streets, hoping to get some favorable publicity by causing an incident when the police arrived, however, no police cars were seen, and no more marching is planned.

DE T-2
January 18, 1971

WAYNE THEODORE ROBERTSON, leader of the Flint branch of the Detroit NCCF, at their regular political education meeting on January 31, 1971, placed emphasis on the brothers arming themselves and recommended that they get a pistol to carry as soon as possible.

DE T-1
February 8, 1971

DE T-2 advised on April 12, 1971, that four members of the Detroit NCCF, ANTHONY NORMAN, RONNIE IRWIN, RONALD SMITH and LARRY POWELL held up what they believed to be a dope house and one of the victims was killed.

A desk has been placed facing the front door of the Flint Office of the NCCF, where a member now sits during the hours the office is open with a .30 caliber M-1 carbine to prevent anyone from entering that is not supposed to. They have removed posters from the downstairs windows so that the police cannot sneak up on them and the person on duty at the desk has been ordered to kill any police who attempt to enter.

DE T-11

H. Arrests

EDGAR ROBINSON was arrested by the Detroit Police Department on warrants charging assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder per Detective Lieutenant WILLIAM MC COY, Detroit Police Department, January 25, 1971.

CHARLES HOLT was arrested by the Detroit Police Department for assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder on January 27, 1971, and lodged in Wayne County Jail in lieu of $25,000 bond according to Lieutenant MC COY on January 27, 1971.

Lieutenant MC COY advised that eleven members and associates of the NCCF were charged along with EDGAR ROBINSON and CHARLES HOLT in connection with the beating of an NCCF associate January 21, 1971. On January 29, 1971, the charges against all eleven were dropped when the victim changed his story and claimed he was unable to identify anyone who beat him.

Lieutenant MC COY advised on January 13, 1971, that CLEVELAND HOLT, an associate of the NCCF, was arrested January 12, 1971, charged with larceny under $100.00 and released on $50.00 bond.

Lieutenant MC COY advised that KENNETH HORSTON was arrested on March 28, 1971, for possession of a stolen airline ticket valued at over $100.00, however, this charge was dismissed at the examination.

Detective Lieutenant LOUIS SZABO, Flint, Michigan, Police Department, advised on March 30, 1971, that the following persons were arrested at 2009 Albert, Flint, Michigan, the Flint office of the Detroit NCCF:

Name	Date	Place	Charge
HUBERT HENSON	3/30/71	Flint, Michigan	Armed Robbery
WAYNE THEODORE ROBERTSON	"	" "	Traffic
LOUIS TOLBERT JOHNSON	"	" "	Bond Default
YVONNE COOPER	"	" "	Contributing to the Delinquency of a Minor
JERRY PAGE	"	" "	Breach of Peace
CALVIN SUTTON, JR.	"	" "	Armed Robbery
JOHN SMITH	"	" "	Armed Robbery

Detective Lieutenant WILLIAM MC COY, Detroit Police Department, advised of the arrest of the following members of the Detroit NCCF:

Name	Date	Place	Charge
✓LARRY POWELL	4/14/71	Detroit, Michigan	Murder One
RONNIE IRWON	"	" "	"
✓ANTHONY NORMAN	"	" "	"
✓RONALD SMITH	"	" "	"
✓VIRON REDWINE	4/26/71	" "	Carrying a Concealed Weapon

On July 21, 1971, ERONE C. DESSAUSURE, BENJAMIN W. FONDREN and DAVID M. JOHNSON were sentenced to three to four years, State Prison of Southern Michigan, Jackson, Michigan, by Detroit Recorders Court Judge JOHN R. MURPHY, on a charge of Felonious Assault.

DE T-13
July 21, 1971

The above three individuals were members of the Detroit 15, 15 members and associates of the Detroit NCCF arrested on October 24, 1970, at the NCCF office, 3370 16th Street, Detroit, in connection with the shooting of two Detroit Police Officers on that date. Of the 12 who were tried regarding this matter, all were found not guilty except the above three.

DE T-13 advised on July 7, 1971, that RONALD SMITH pled guilty to second degree murder, RONNIE IRWIN, LARRY POWELL and ANTHONY NORMAN pled guilty to armed robbery, before Detroit Recorders Court Judge JOHN R. MURPHY on July 7, 1971.

On August 23, 1971, Detective Sergeant WILLIAM HENAHAN, Detroit Police Department, advised that POWELL was sentenced to 20 to 40 years, NORMAN to 15 to 30 years, and SMITH life in prison. IRWIN changed his plea.

DE T-3 advised on September 23, 1971, that IRWIN was found guilty and sentenced to life in prison on September 23, 1971.

I. Weapons

The Flint branch of the NCCF has several handguns, .38 revolvers or .357 magnums and one .45 caliber automatic as well as several 12 gauge shotguns.

DE T-1
January 7, 1971

The NCCF has about nine rifles and shotguns at 611-13 Continental.

DE T-2
January 22, 1971

The Detroit NCCF currently has about seven rifles, most of which are FN assault rifles, two of which do not work, and two 12 gauge shotguns, one of which does not work, probably due to the fact that KENNETH HORSTON knows little about guns.

DE T-2
March 11, 1971

The Flint branch of the Detroit NCCF has gathered materials to make pipe bombs and have also been acquiring ammunition.

DE T-11

The front window of the NCCF branch at 2009 Albert, Flint, Michigan, is barricaded completely with sand leaving only places for guns to be pushed through.

DE T-1
February 8, 1971

All of the windows in the NCCF office, 2009 Albert, Flint, are covered with heavy wire mesh, similar to that found on school buildings. Around each window and built up from the floor 3½ to 4 feet high are wooden frames standing approximately two to three feet from the wall, which are filled with sand for the purpose of stopping any bullets filed into the house. The rear door is covered with heavy wire mesh and braced with two 2 inch by four inch boards to keep it shut. The front door is also covered with wire mesh and can be barred closed with a two inch by four inch board which fits into brackets.

K. Meetings and Rallies

The Flint branch of the Detroit NCCF holds political education meetings at their office, 2009 Albert, Flint, every Sunday.

DE T-1
February 8, 1971

The Detroit NCCF continues to hold political education classes every Sunday at CIC #1, 611 Continental, Detroit, Michigan.

DE T-2
March 2, 1971

DE T-1 and DE T-2 further advised on the above dates that the political education classes consist of indoctrinating members and people of the community into the doctrine of the BPP as well as leading and discussing articles appearing in "The Black Panther" newspaper.

The Detroit branch of the BPP held a rally in support of the Detroit 15 in Kenneth Square, Detroit, from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. on June 25, 1971. KENNETH HORSTON, leader, Detroit BPP, was master of ceremonies and introduced the speakers. Mrs. JOSEPH SMITH, mother of CAROLYN SMITH, one of the Detroit 15, spoke regarding political prisoners.

YVONNE KING, BPP, Chicago, spoke regarding efforts of the BPP to help black men.

CHOKWE LUMUMBA, Consul of the Republic of New Africa (RNA)(Richard Henry Faction) spoke of obtaining power through the acquisition of land.

> The RNA was founded in Detroit, Michigan, in March, 1968. Its purpose is to establish an independent black nation within the U.S., demanding the States of Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, and Mississippi, and $10,000 per black citizen for reparations. The RNA, a violence-prone, black extremist, separatist organization, is now headquartered in New Orleans, Louisiana.

Approximately 700 persons, a majority being Negroes in their late teens, attended the rally, which was peaceful.

L. Programs of Detroit NCCF and BPP

1. Free Breakfast for School Children

The Free Breakfast Program in Flint is slacking off due to lack of money and interest in the community.

DE T-1
January 7, 1971

The interest in the Flint branch of the NCCF is continuing to decrease, only about five children are showing up for the Breakfast Program, this is probably due to the preparation of the food, which is very bad.

DE T-1
January 14, 1971

DE T-2 advised on various dates in January, 1971, that the Breakfast Program operated at the following locations, five days a week:

St. Leo's Church, 15th and Grand River, Detroit about seven children per day

3591 17th Street, Detroit
about ten children per day

3595 17th Street, Detroit
about ten children per day

611 Continental, Detroit
about forty children per day

The Breakfast Program in Flint decreased to less than eight children per day in February, 1971.

DE T-1
February, 1971

The Detroit Breakfast Program has been discontinued due to lack of funds.

DE T-2
February 10, 1971

The Breakfast Program was reinstituted the last week in March, 1971, at 611 Continental, and St. Leo's Church, Detroit.

DE T-2
April 1, 1971

The Breakfast Program in Flint is a flop as no one is showing up for meals.

DE T-1
March 24, 1971

DE T-2 advised on April 21, 1971, that the Breakfast Program is currently operating at the following locations:

611 Continental, Detroit
30 children per day

157 Collingwood, Detroit
15 children per day

St. Leo's Church
15 children per day

DE T-2 advised that the Breakfast Program is operating at the following locations in May, 1971:

611 Continental, Detroit
34 children per day

157 Collingwood, Detroit
20 children per day

The Free Breakfast Programs were temporarily dis= continued during June, 1971.

DE T-2
June, 1971

The Free Breakfast Programs have been reinstituted at 157 Collingwood and 2591 Pennsylvania, both BPP offices. They operate five days a week and feed 20-25 children per day, however, KENNETH HORSTON is disappointed because of lack of response.

DE T-4
July 2, 1971

The Breakfast Programs currently are being operated at 157 Collingwood and 2435 Pennsylvania, Detroit.

DE T-4
August, 1971

About 40 to 50 children are being fed at 2435 Pennsylvania each day.

DE T-4
September 30, 1971

2. Free Lunch Program

A Free Lunch Program was opened at 2591 Pennsylvania in July, 1971, which was attended by only 20 to 25 persons until the Archdiocese began providing box lunches and the attendance jumped to about 150 children.

DE T-4
July, 1971

The Free Lunch Program is held at 2435 Pennsylvania five days a week from 10:00 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

DE Tpr
August, 1971

About 40 to 50 children are being fed each day, the Archdiocese is no longer furnishing lunches.

DE T-4
September 30, 1971

3. Free Clothing Program

The Free Clothing Program is operating at 3591 17th Street, Detroit, Monday through Saturday.

DE T-2
January, 1971

The Free Clothing Program has been discontinued due to lack of funds.

DE T-2
February 10, 1971

M. Teaching Revolutionary Programs and Policies

Attendance is poor at the political education classes in Flint, Michigan. There were only eleven persons at the last meeting and each meeting is gernally made up of new faces.

DE T-1
January 7, 1971

Political Education classes are currently held each Sunday at 611 Continental, Detroit. Classes have been discontinued on 3595 17th Street, Detroit.

DE T-2
January, 1971

DE T-4 advised on various dates in 1971, through October, 1971, that the Detroit BPP attempted to regularly hold political education meetings at its various offices. These meetings were generally boring and consequently poorly attended. Various BPP members would lead discussions of articles appearing in "The Black Panther" newspaper and a number of persons attending the meetings would have a tendency to sleep.

A liberation school has been initiated at 2435 Pennsylvania, Detroit, and is operated in conjunction with the Free Lunch Program. About 30-40 children are being indoctrinated in BPP philosophy at this school, which opened July, 1971.

DE T-4
July 27, 1971

The liberation school was closed the first of October, 1971, as everyone was needed to sell papers. The attendance at the school had dropped to 20-25 children.

DE T-4
October 8, 1971

N. Factionalism

DE T-14 advised on February 28, 1971, that DAVID HILLIARD, BPP Chief of Staff, purged ELDRIDGE CLEAVER, BPP Minister of Information, and his Algerian associates from the BPP.

On February 28, 1971, representatives of the New York BPP met and decided to separate from the California-based BPP headed by HUEY P. NEWTON and to support CLEAVER.

DE T-14
February 28, 1971

CHARLES HOLT, a member of the Detroit NCCF, which supports HUEY P. NEWTON, Minister of Defense, BPP, contacted ZAYD SHAKUR, BPP Cleaver Faction in New York, to determine his standing with the Cleaver Faction and was requested to travel to New York to confer with Cleaver Faction members.

DE T-2
March 17, 1971

OLIVER MC CLURE, also known as Malik, former leader of the Detroit NCCF, who had been purged, was in New York the weekend of April 9-11, 1971, for consultation with leaders of the BPP, Cleaver Faction.

DE T-14
April 12, 1971

A BPP, Cleaver Faction was begun in Detroit the end of June, 1971, and during July, 1971, some members of the BPP Newton Faction who were discontent with his policies, quit and became associated with the Cleaver Faction.

O. Miscellaneous

An NCCF community workers, accused of stealing guns and television sets belonging to the NCCF was beaten by NCCF members in the basement of 611 Continental, Detroit.

A second individual, a short time member of the NCCF, stole two pistols from the NCCF. He was located by NCCF members, forcibly taken to the NCCF office at 611 Continental, Detroit, where he was scalded, burned and severely beaten.

January 25, 1971

VIRON REDWINE, Detroit NCCF member who went to California to act as Newton's bodyguard, was disillusioned with the BPP on his return to Detroit, claiming that NEWTON was crazy, sniffs cocaine, and that everyone follows his lead and does whatever he commands without question. REDWINE claimed that internal discipline is disintegrating as female Panther members in Oakland use birth control pills and everyone uses marijuana.

DE T-2
March 5, 1971

KENNETH HORSTON is losing popularity with BPP members, wears expensive clothes and drinks excessively.

DE T-4
July, 1971

The BPP had a booth at the Michigan State Fair the end of August and the first of September, 1971, at which they sold papers, flags, and sought donations. All members in the booth were clean, neatly dressed and polite, in an effort to change the rough, violent image of the BPP.

DE T-4
September, 1971

DE T-3 advised on September 23, 1971, that KENNETH HORSTON, leader, Detroit BPP, held a press conference on that date. HORSTON claimed that early on the morning of September 23, 1971, Detroit Police Officers fired on the BPP office at 2591 Pennsylvania, Detroit, and presented a woman claiming to be a witness to the shooting. The woman stated that she saw four men in a black car with "Detroit Police" on the side fire at 2591 Pennsylvania, Detroit.

CONFIDENTIAL

DE T-3 advised that 2591 Pennsylvania is in the area covered by the Fifth Precinct, Detroit Police Department and that no complaint of any shooting into 2591 Pennsylvania has been made. Source further advised that the Detroit Police Department was not aware of the alleged shooting until HORSTON's press conference,

DE T-3 advised on October 18, 1971, that no complaint has been made to the Detroit Police Department regarding alleged shooting into 2591 Pennsylvania, Detroit, and consequently no investigation will be conducted by the Detroit Police Department.

DE T-3 advised that an informal inquiry by the Detroit Police Department failed to substantiate the charges made by KENNETH HORSTON.

DE T-~~1~~2 and DE T-4 are not aware of any shooting at the BPP office, 2591 Pennsylvania, Detroit, and believe that HORSTON was attempting to obtain publicity by making the above charge.

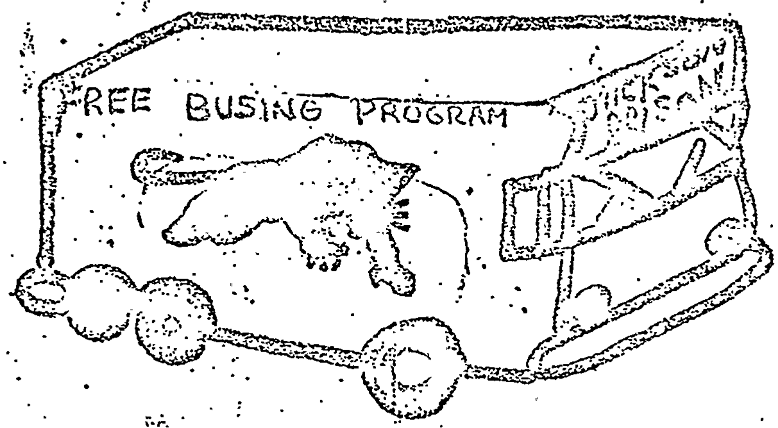
On December 22, 1972, DE T-10 furnished a copy of the following leaflet which was being distributed by the BPP:



TO: THE BROTHERS & SISTERS IN THE STRUGGLE FOR LIBERATION!

BECAUSE OF A NEED FOR COMMUNICATION BETWEEN THE PEOPLE INSIDE THE PRISONS AND OUTSIDE THE PRISONS (CONCENTRATION CAMPS). THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY IS SPONSORING A "FREE BUSING PROGRAM" TO JACKSON STATE PENITENTIARY. THE FIRST BUS WILL BE LEAVING ON DECEMBER 23, 1971 FROM 157 COLLINGWOOD AT 10:00 A.M. AND RETURN AT 6:00 P.M. WE WOULD LIKE TO HAVE THE BUSING PROGRAM ON A MORE CONSISTENT BASIS SUCH AS:

(1) HAVING A BUS OR BUSES GOING TO PRISONS MORE THAN JUST ONCE A MONTH.

(2) HAVING MORE THAN ONE BUS.

IN ORDER TO HAVE A SUFFICIENT BUSING PROGRAM, SUPPORT IS NEEDED, EITHER BY GETTING A BUS DONATED OR SUPPLYING SOME FINANCIAL AID TO THE PROGRAM. WITH THE UNDERSTANDING WE ALL HAVE BY BEING PART OF THE LIBERATION STRUGGLE AND KNOWING THE NECESSITY OF THE BUSING PROGRAM, WE HOPE THAT YOUR ORGANIZATION WILL COOPERATE WITH THE PROGRAM AND ASSIST US WITH IMPLEMENTING A SUCCESSFUL BUSING PROGRAM.

K. Meetings and Rallies

DE T-14 advised on December 14, 1971, that BOBBY GEORGE SEALE, Minister of Defense, BPP, arrived in Detroit from Oakland, California, on December 9, 1971, spent the evening with the Detroit BPP and on December 10, 1971, proceeded to Ann Arbor, Michigan, where he spoke at the John Sinclair Freedom Rally, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

DE T-14 heard SEALE comment to a small group of people that the BPP is opening free food clinics and that "if the pigs interfere with him in any way, he will open free gun clinics and distribute free guns". SEALE further commented that "we have access to all the guns we want and will kill any pig that gives us trouble". DE T-14 advised that SEALE spoke regarding plans and programs of the BPP.

JOHN SINCLAIR is chairman of the White Panther Party (WPP), also known as the Rainbow Peoples Party.

The WPP is a national white, hippie-oriented revolutionary organization which was founded ostensibly to offer support to the BPP. [illegible] ched ten-point [illegible] s added a ten-point program of its own, all of which call for the [illegible] freedom of the individual.

5. Youth Cadre

On April 12, 1972, a pretext call was made by a Special Agent of the FBI to the East Side Office of the Detroit BPP, 2228 Bewick, Detroit, and GERALD CRAWFORD provided the following information:

A program designated as the Youth Cadre has recently been initiated to teach children black history, the tradition of the black people, black dignity and respect, and to analyze things for themselves.

CRAWFORD advised that this is an educational program given to all the children who attend the Breakfast Program and is not militant in nature. He advised that this program is operated only at the East Side Office by those who operate the Breakfast Program.

Prior to the Breakfast Program, GERALD CRAWFORD holds an indoctrination class, which is primarily a question and answer session. Most of the discussion seems to go oer the heads of the children who are too young to understand.

M. Teaching Revolutionary Programs and Policies

A political education class was held at 157 Collingwood, Detroit, on October 24, 1971. The class was led by EDGAR ROBINSON and consisted of reviewing the "Red Book". KENNETH HORSTON and LONNIE DARDEN, leaders of the Detroit Chapter, were present.

DE T-1
October 26, 1971

Political education classes are no longer regularly held on Sundays. The classes are now held at random during the week as the BPP is currently more concerned with the survival of its members rather than the community.

DE T-3
November 3, 1971

KENNETH HORSTON, leader of the Detroit BPP, currently in BPP National Headquarters, Oakland, California, advised Detroit to get involved in the church, stay away from ideological debates, and try to bring the church people around to their thinking.

Title: BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP)
NATIONAL COMMITTEE TO COMBAT FASCISM (NCCF)
DETROIT DIVISION

Character: RACIAL MATTERS

Synopsis: The Ministry of Information for the Detroit NCCF is located at 613 Continental, Detroit. Branch Community Information Center offices are located at 611 Continental, Detroit, 3595 17th St., and 2009 Albert, Flint, Mich. Detroit continues to operate under the direction and guidance of BPP national headquarters, Oakland, Calif, who sent KENNETH HORSTON to take charge of the Detroit NCCF. Detroit continues to have financial difficulties. Sales of "The Black Panther" newspaper are down and Detroit has been receiving fewer copies lately. Detroit has also been distributing a number of its own leaflets. Detroit has been operating free breakfast programs and recently initiated a free clothing program. Representatives of the Detroit NCCF went to both the BPP Convention at Philadelphia and the one in Washington, D.C. NCCF members were involved in shooting at a TV news car and two Detroit Police Officers. Detroit continues to maintain weapons.

II. APPENDIX 78

I. ORGANIZATION AND OPERATIONAL DATA

A characterization of the Black Panther Party (BPP) is contained in the appendix pages attached hereto.

A. Location of Detroit NCCF Headquarters and Branches

The Detroit National Committee to Combat Fascism (NCCF), organizing branch of the BPP, is going to operate three centers in Detroit, 2219 Indiandale, which will be Community Information Center (CIC) Number One, 7708-12 Mack Avenue, CIC Number Two, and 12847 14th Street, which will be the Ministry of Information.

DE T-1
July 15, 1970

The Detroit NCCF is currently operating the above three locations.

DE T-1
August 21, 1970

The Detroit NCCF moved from 7708-12 Mack Avenue and 2219 Indiandale Streets, Detroit, to 3376 16th Street on October 15 and 16, 1970, respectively.

DE T-1
October, 1970

The Detroit NCCF has opened a branch in Flint, Michigan, at 2009 Albert Street, which is headed by WAYNE THEODORE ROBERTSON.

DE T-26
November 12, 1970

The Detroit NCCF is to move into 611-13 Continental, Detroit, Michigan, on November 24, 1970.

DE T-3
November 23, 1970

The 613 Continental, Detroit, location is the Ministry of Information for the Detroit NCCF.

The 611 Continental location is CIC Number One.

DE T-1
November, 1970

The NCCF opened a new office at 3595 17th Street, Detroit, which has been designated CIC Number Two.

DE T-1
December, 1970

B. Officers and Members

OLIVER MC CLURE, III, also known as Malik, is in charge of the Detroit NCCF and the Ministry of Information, 12847 14th Street, Detroit, Michigan.

CHARLES HOLT is second in command of the Detroit NCCF and is in charge of CIC Number Two, 7708-12 Mack Avenue, Detroit.

MICHAEL DENNIS HILL, BPP, California, is currently in charge of CIC Number One, 2219 Indiandale, Detroit.

DE T-1
July 15, 1970

LORENE BANKS is the only member of the Detroit NCCF who is currently receiving any type of welfare assistance, she receives Aid to Dependent Children.

DE T-1
August 26, 1970

OLIVER MC CLURE is no longer leader of the Detroit NCCF.

DE T-1
September 9, 1970

BRENDA JACKSON, member Detroit NCCF, had a baby girl, fathered by Malik (OLIVER MC CLURE), former leader of the Detroit NCCF.

DE T-1
October 5, 1970

MICHAEL DENNIS HILL, BPP, California, is now leader of the Detroit NCCF; OLIVER MC CLURE having been purged. CHARLES HOLT is second in command and LORENE BANKS is financial secretary. EDGAR ROBINSON is distribution manager for "The Black Panther" newspaper, and RONALD SMITH is in charge of the Free Clothing Program.

WAYNE THEODORE ROBERTSON is in charge of the NCCF branch at Flint, Michigan.

DE T-1
November, 1970

KENNETH HORSTON, BPP, San Francisco, is the present leader of the Detroit NCCF as MICHAEL DENNIS HILL, former leader, left the area because he was afraid of being implicated in the shooting of two Detroit Police Officers on October 24, 1970.

RONALD SMITH is in charge of the Free Clothing Program.

EDGAR ROBINSON is in charge of distribution of "The Black Panther" newspaper.

RONNIE IRWIN is in charge of the NCCF office at 3595 17th Street, Detroit, and resides at this location.

CI

TONY NORMAN is officer of the day at 3595 17th Street, Detroit, and resides at this location.

CI

DORTHEA SMITH is in charge of communications.

CI

ALICE RAYFORD is in charge of finances.

LORENE BANKS, who is now living at 611 Continental, is in charge of the Breakfast Program.

WAYNE THEODORE ROBERTSON is in charge of the Flint Branch of the Detroit NCCF.

DE T-1
January 4, 1971

C. Funds

Gestetner (phonetic) Corporation, from whom the NCCF purchased printing equipment, have threatened to obtain a court order to confiscate the equipment because it has not been paid for.

DE T-1
July 17, 1970

OLIVER MC CLURE, leader of the Detroit NCCF, who is currently in San Francisco, contacted Detroit on August 5, 1970, requesting that he be sent $100.00 plane fare in order for him to return to Detroit as the NCCF is broke after putting up the money for HUEY P. NEWTON's bond.

DE T-1
August 5, 1970

As of August 7, 1970, the Detroit NCCF owed National Headquarters about $3,000.00 for "The Black Panther" newspaper.

DE T-1
August 7, 1970

The Detroit NCCF held a picnic at Belle Isle Park, August 30, 1970, but the turnout was poor and the NCCF lost about $200.00.

DE T-1
August 31, 1970

The Detroit NCCF receives most of its funds through sale of "The Black Panther" newspaper. They also acquire some money through donations and raids on dope houses. Most of the NCCF money is spent for payment of the newspapers, for food, and housing for the NCCF members. The telephone, when they can afford to pay for it, is also a heavy drain on NCCF finances.

DE T-1
September 15, 1970

The Detroit NCCF did not pay any bills in September, 1970, and put up $1,000.00 to get CHARLES HOLT, second in command, Detroit NCCF, out of jail.

DE T-1
October 14, 1970

During three speaking engagements on November 16 and 17, 1970, by HUEY P. NEWTON, Minister of Defense, BPP, $7,300.00 was collected. This money was supposedly for the defense fund for the Detroit 16, however, NEWTON kept it all, leaving the NCCF no benefit from his appearance.

DE T-1
November, 1970

The rent for 613 Continental is $75.00 per month and 611 Continental is $85.00 per month.

The Detroit NCCF has not been selling quite half of the papers they have been receiving and consequently are not making enough to pay the paper bill.

DE T-1
November, 1970

D. Connection with BPP National Headquarters

OLIVER MC CLURE, leader, Detroit NCCF, left Detroit Metropolitan Airport, August 3, 1970, en route BPP San Francisco, where he plans to confer with BPP leaders regarding Detroit's receipt of "The Black Panther" newspaper.

DE T-1
August 4, 1970

OLIVER MC CLURE departed San Francisco on United Airlines Flight 86 to arrive in Detroit at 7:15 p.m., August 8, 1970.

FACIST PIGS OF HIGHLAND PARK

Jerome Lawlah was shot and killed on July 10 by this racist owner of the Kozy Korner Bar in Highland Park. This brother was killed in cold blood because he was black. The racist bar owner was taken down to the pig station where he was charged with first degree murder which was later dropped to 2nd degree murder. The brothers and sisters in Highland Park couldn't relate to this murder of this brother and nothing being done about it. The brothers and sisters had protested at the bar. The people of Highland Park were witnesses to the unjustful laws used by the pig's for their unjust act. Saturday evening the bar was burned down. This was an open opportunity for the pig Mayor of Highland Park Blackwell to call in the gestapo pig force into the community. These pigs were carrying weapons in our community that are used in combat in Vietnam. There was an illegal curfew put on in Highland Park by this pig Mayor to try to control the tension of the Community. This low-lifed pig Mayor had the nerve enough to make a statement saying that the people of the community go to their homes and let the local pig force department handle the problems. These pig's came in the community with blood in their eyes and the power of the gun. The inhuman pig's who call themselves protectors of Liberty, are nothing but facists outlaws who patrol our community looking for brothers and sisters to rip off in the name of law and order.

About 150 bloods were arrested on trumped up charges. The brothers and sisters were told to get off the streets or be shot. We as Black People must realize we Highland Park is th[illegible]ame community where little Da[illegible] Smith was shot down by these racist pigs. The[illegible]eople of this community are no[illegible]going to stand still and see another little Danny Smith get shot down.

Some of the brothers and sisters who are members of the N.C.C.F. were victims of pig harrassment. These brothers and sisters were relating to the people in the community of Highland Park. They were beaten and kidnapped off the streets of Babylon. This is the plot and plan of the facists to try to exterminate the Black Panther Party. The pig's are openly making statements on radio and T.V. to try and destroy the Party. But the Black Panther Party is strong. It is strong because it's the peoples party. After the statement was made by Pig Mayor Blackwell, J. Hog-Head Hoover made a statement about the Black Panther Party being the most dangerous and violent organization in the country. This pig knows that the Black Panther Party is relating the real deal about this foul system. How these pig forces are carrying out the orders of fascism against the American People in general and Black People in particular. J. Hog Head Hoover knows he is a pig and a pig is a pig is a pig. Right On!!

The lying politicians runs this cold game on the people that the U.S. Government is existing for the benefit of the people. The real deal is that the U.S. Government is the largest facist force there is. And the Black Panther Party is hip to the game these low-lifed pigs are trying to run down. So there is no way out for these pigs.

SEIZE THE TIME..BEFORE TIME SEIZES YOU
ALL POWER TO THE PEOPLE

WHY SHOULD WE REWRITE THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

The Constitution of the U.S.A. does not and never has protected our people or guaranteed to us those lofty ideals enshrined within it. When the Constitution was first adopted we were held as slaves. We were held in slavery under the constitution. We have suffered every form of indignity and imposition under the Constitution, from ecomic exploitation, political subjugation to physical extermination.

We need no further evidence that there is something wrong with the Constitution of the United States of America. We have had our Human Rights denied and violated perpetually under this Constitution-- for hundreds of years. As a people, we have received neither the Equal Protection of the Laws nor Due Process of Law. Where Human Rights are being daily violated there is denial of Due Process of Law and there is no Equal Protection of the Law. The Constitution of the United States does not guarantee and protect our Economic Rights, or our Political Rights, nor our Social Rights. It does not even guarentee and protect our most basic Human Right, the right to LIVE!

The pigs here in fascist America are using their power to repress the masses of poor and oppressed people. The oppressor makes the laws and then turns these same laws into weapons to be used against the masses of oppressed people.

Evidence of this is seen daily through out the Black Community. Such as the unauthorized imposing of curfew by the mayor of Ecorse, We all learned then that the mayor does not have the authority to impose curfews, on June 12,1970 Mayor Blackwell of Highland Park imposed another of these unauthorized curfews, in which black people were beaten, gased, shot, arrested , for violation of this illegal curfew.

June 28,1970 Red, Lawrence White, and Michael Anderson were attacked, gased, fired upon, arrested, and incarcerated by the Detroit Police Department, and held for 75,000 dollars ransom apiece. These brothers are in Jail today because they chose to defend themselves when attacked, rather than accepting their own murder in the name of so-called law and order.

June 17, 1970 Mrs. Mc Clure and her two sons Malik and, William Mc Clure, and Tommy Ward were for no other reason other than general harassment stopped, harassed viciously beaten, arrested, and charged with resisting and obstructing justice, after which they were also incarcerated.

These are only a very few of the incidents that take place in the oppressed communities through out the United States of America, under the existing constitution of the United States.

We therefore call for a Revolutionary People's Constitutional Convention, to be convened by the American people, to write a new Constitution that will guarantee and deliver to every American Citizen the inviolable Human Right to Life, Liberty, and The Pursuit of Happiness!

REVOLUTIONARY PEOPLES CONSTITUTIONAL CONFERENCE

1. Revolutionary Peoples Planning Session, August 8th and 9th, Washington D.C. The purpose of this session is to construct, and organize the plenary session and to pool resources for the event.

A. Establishing machinery to provide for the following:
   1. A place for the plenary session in Philadelphia.
   2. Housing transportation, and food.
   3. Communications.
   4. Information.
   5. Funds.

B. Implementation of Constitutional Convention Information Center (to be held on national levels) Tentatively the role of the Constitutional Convention Information Center will be to organize and educate around the plenary session and the Revolutionary Peoples Constitutional Convention. This will include the distribution of information and the coordination of efforts to get people to come to the plenary session and the Constitutional Convention.

2. Revolutionary People's Plenary Session (Sept. 5-7, 1970);

The purpose of the Revolutionary Peoples Plenary Session is to bring all progressive forces together for the Revolutionary Peoples Constitutional Convention, lay the bases and organize the structure for a Revolutionary Peoples Constitutional Convention, which will convene on November 4, 1970, at a place to be announced in the near future.

The plenary session will be the first step towards a constitution that will guarantee us the right to life, liberty, and the persuit of happiness; a consitution that has respect for the people, a constitution that serves the people instead of a constitution that serves the ruling class.

The plenary session will lay the ground-work for a true people's constitution. A constitution that takes into account the ethnic and pluralistic nature of this society, and that guarantees proportional representation to all of its people in a society free of the exploitation of man by man.

3. The Revolutionary People's Constitutional Convention will be on November 4,70. The location agenda, in particular, for the Revolutionary People's Constitutional convention will be decided at the plenary session.

The locations of the Revolutionary People's Planning Session, August 8th and 9th in Washington, D.C., and the revolutionary Peoples Plenary Session, September 5-7, will be given in later Progress Reports.

PRESS RELEASE

ON JULY 15, 1979 FBI CHIEF J. EDGAR HOOVER ISSUED A STATEMENT CALLING THE B.P.P. THE GREATEST THREAT TO THE NATIONAL SECURITY OF AMERICA; IN THE HISTORY OF THE NATION DAYS AFTER THIS STATEMENT MEMBERS OF THE DETROIT POLICE DEPARTMENT VICIOUSLY ATTACKED THREE MEMBERS OF THE N.C.C.F. HERE.

MALIK AND WILLIAM McCLURE AND TOMMY WARD WERE HELPING TO PAINT THE HOME OF MRS. EARLENE McCLURE (MOTHER OF MALIK AND WILLIAM). WHEN THEY RAN OUT OF PAINT MALIK AND WILLIAM VOLUNTEERED TO GET MORE. THEY WERE THREE DOORS FROM THE HOUSE WHEN 50 STORMTROOPERS STOPPED THEM AND DEMANDED A CAR REGISTRATION. WHEN THIS WAS PRODUCED THEY COMPLAINED THAT IT WAS UNCLEAR AND SAID THAT THE BROTHERS WERE LYING. THIS WAS ENOUGH FOR THEM TO HAND CUFF THE BROTHERS.

THE TWO BROTHERS TRYED TO CLARIFY THE ISSUE, AND WERE HIT IN THE HEAD WITH GUNS AND CLUBS. BY THIS TIME MRS. McCLURE AND TOMMY HAD COME OUT OF THE HOUSE. WHEN TOMMY CAME OUT ON THE PORCH, THE RACIST DOGS TURNED ON HIM. MRS. McCLURE WAS ATTACKED WHEN SHE WENT OVER TO FIND OUT WHAT WAS HAPPENING TO HER SONS.

MRS. McCLURE, MALIK, TOMMY AND WILLIAM PROTECTED THEMSELVES AS BEST THEY COULD BUT ALL WERE BRUTALLY BEATEN. MALIK SUFFERED SEVERE HEAD WOUNDS, INTERNAL BLEEDING AND BRUISES OVER THE FACE AND UPPER PART OF HIS BODY. TOMMY SUFFERED UNCONCIOUSNESS, BRUISES ON THE FACE AND HEAD, HE HAS FOUR STICHES. WILLIAM AND HIS MOTHER RECEIVED CUTS AND LACERATIONS.

ALL THREE BROTHERS WERE CHARGED WITH RESISTING ARREST, AND OBSTRUCTION OF "JUSTICE" AND RELEASED ON $500.00 BONDS. WE RECOGNIZE THIS MOST RECENT ACT OF BRUTALITY AS AN INTRICATE PART OF THE PREPLANNED ATTEMPT TO DESTROY THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY AND ITS ORGANIZATIONAL BUREAUS. FRED HAMPTON SAID IN 1969, THAT YOU CAN KILL A REVOLUTIONARY BUT, YOU CAN'T KILL THE REVOLUTION. WE WILL CONTINUE TO RESIST THE GENOCIDAL POLICYS OF THIS CORRUPT SYSTEM. WE WILL NOT STOP FEEDING HUNGRY CHILDREN OR PROVIDING CLOTHING FOR OUR PEOPLE. THE MURDERES OF AMERICA KNOW THAT WE ARE TRYING TO ESTABLISH A FREE MEDICAL CLINIC IN DETROIT AND THEY THINK THEY CAN STOP US WITH THEIR FOUL ACTS. OUR ANSWER TO THESE ATTACKS ARE THE SAME- WE WANT AN IMMEDIATE END TO POLICE BRUTALITY AND MURDER OR THE RACIST DOG POLICEMEN WILL FACE THE WRATH OF AN ARMED PEOPLE.

PRESS STATEMENT

SINCE FBI CHIEF J. EDJAR HOOVER ISSUED A STATEMENT ON JULY 15, 1970 CALLING THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY THE GREATEST THREAT TO THE NATIONAL SECURITY OF AMERICA; IN THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES, HIS MAIN TASK HAS BEEN TO LIQUIDATE THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY BY MURDER, IMPRISONMENT, AND FRAME - UPS.

AUGUST 10, 1970 TONY NORMAN, ROBERT SMITH, RONNIE IRWIN, DELPHINE Mc RAY, AND TEDDY ROBERTSON ALL MEMBERS OF THE N.C.C.F., WERE VICIOUSLY ATTACKED, AND BRUTALLY BEATEN, BY MEMBERS OF THE DETROIT POLICE DEPARTMENT. THE EXCUSE USED THIS TIME BY THE D.P.D. TO SO CALLED JUSTIFY THE ATTACK, STEMMED FROM AN ACCUSATION MADE BY THE OFFICER ON THE BEAT AT THE CORNERS OF STATE AND WOODWARD, THAT LINDA LAURA: ALSO A MEMBER OF THE N.C.C.F. ., HAD THROWN SOME PAPER ONTO THE SIDEWALK. LINDA TOLD HIM THAT SHE HAD NOT, THE OFFICER SAID "EITHER PICK UP THE PAPER OR I'LL GIVE YOU A TICKET FOR LITTERING" THEN HE RADIOED FOR REINFORCEMENT AND PROCEEDED TO ARREST THE SISTER. 30 STORMTROOPERS ANSWERED THE CALL TO ARREST ONE SISTER. TONY, TEDDY, RONNIE, ROBERT, AND DELPHINE, ALONG WITH OTHER PEOPLE WENT OVER TO FIND OUT JUST WHAT WAS GOING ON, AFTER FINDING OUT THEY BEGAN TO RELATE TO THE PEOPLE AROUND THEM OF THE INJUSTICE TAKING PLACE, THE STORMTROOPERS IMMEDIATLY ATTACKED THEM BEATING THEM WITH THEIR FISTS, BILLY CLUBS, BLACK JACKS, AS THEY FELL THE BEATING CONTINUED THEY WERE STOMPED AND KICKED, NEARLY UNCONSIOUS. THESE BROTHERS AND SISTERS PROTECTED THEMSELVES AS BEST THEY COULD, BUT ALL WITH THE EXCEPTION OF LINDA WERE TAKEN TO THE 1st PRECINCT, AFTER REACHING THE 1st PRECINCT RONNIE WAS AGAIN BEATEN.

ALL FIVE WERE THROWN INTO CELLS AND NOT INFORMED OF THEIR CHARGES, TONY AND TEDDY WERE HOSPITALIZED WITH CUTS AND BRUISES, RECEIVED DURING THE BEATING, TEDDY RECIEVED 13 STICHES TO THE HEAD AND RIGHT HAND, TONY HAS A POSSIBLE CONCUSSION.

WE REALIZE THAT THIS ACT OF AGGRESSION AGAINST THESE MEMBERS OF THE DETROIT N.C.C.F. IS PART AND PARCEL OF J. EDGAR HOOVERS' PREPLANNED LIQUIDATION OF BLACK PANTHER PARTY BY ANY MEANS NECESSARY. THEY BELIEVE THAT THESE ATTACKS WILL DISCOURAGE USE IN OUR STRUGGLE FOR LIBERATION, BUT WE WILL NOT BE DISCOURAGED. IT ONLY SHOWS MORE CLEARLY THAT OUR STRUGGLE IS JUST AND VERY NECESSARY.

AS #7 OF THE BLACK PANTHER PARTY PLATFORM AND PROGRAM STATES: "WE WANT AN IMMEDIATE END TO POLICE BRUTALITY AND MURDER OF BLACK PEOPLE.

THESE ARE THE SAME TANKS THAT OCCUPIED THE BLACK COMMUNITY IN DETROIT IN 1967 AND THEY ARE THE SAME TANKS THAT WILL ATTEMPT TO OCCUPY THE COMMUNITY In 1970!

THAT'S WHY I'LL DIE

I was born September 7, 1942--a baby--a boy--a slave. I died sometime in August, 1970--an ex-slave--a revolutionary.

My name is Michael D. and as much as I dig life, as much as I want to be with my family, my three children; Eric, Damon and Oneke and everyone I love, my mother--just everyone, but I think that the time has come when the price for struggling against this murderous, fascist government and all its repressive forces and lackey running dogs, has to be paid.

The eminence of death has been with me since I joined the Black Panther Party in September 1968, but it has never been as strong as it is now. It seems as though all that my mind is turned to now is how to die like a man. My sons and my daughter and my people deserve nothing less. My only regret is that I wish I would have worked harder and been able to see with my own eyes, the people rising like a mighty storm-with guns--with guns for self-defense in their hands.

I have already tasted the fruits of socialism within the ranks of the Party. It is a good taste. I have seen niggas from off the street become educated and given a socialist consciousness. Those who once stole and lied and cheated and robbed, and pimped and sold dope to black people now sharing and doing without to make sure his or her comrade had some. Niggas excepting someone elses child as their own. Niggas who like myself, lived only for themselves, now ready to give their most precious jewels to the people--their lives.

Today is August 2, 1970. I am in the city of Detroit, working with the N.C.C.F. here. A lot of us will be dead soon--very soon. The chief of Pigs in this city--Murphy has conspired with the head of the F.B.I., J. Edgar Hoover (Pig) to attack and destroy the members of the N.C.C.F. here. At this very moment the 10th precinct is and has been for two weeks stock piling weapons, and when I say weapons, I mean tanks and half tracks and all the conventional weapons of modern warfare to attack what they call the "Panther Complex"--not office but complex. They (the pigs) have been trying hard to create an incident. First the news media comes out with a lie that we have over 200 weapons and over 100,000 rounds of ammunition at this office alone. This statement was made a week after a minor rebellion went down in an area known as Highland Park where the Mayor stated after occupying the community, shooting and beating Black people--"I don't know why the Black Panthers want to pick on my little city." When in actuality it was the people responding to the racist murders of people at the Kozy Korner Bar. The brother was shot after an argument ensued because the brother didn't have the money for a drink. The brother was Black--the murderer was White--the brother was unarmed. The people's response was; the bar was immediately burnt down and niggas hit the streets. The Panthers were the scapegoat. When we went into the area to educate the people to the pigs tactics we were immediately arrested.

About four days ago the people around the office here on Indiandale hung posters and when the pigs attempted to tear them down they were run away. Then the people got really uptight and began saying that this is their community, and they have a right to do what they want to do. So they changed the street from Indiandale & 14th to Panther Ave. and Free Red. They sang revolutionary songs and rapped about how they would like things to be for everybody. The following morning a pig was shot at, trying to sneak up and pull down the sign. The N.C.C.F. was blamed immediately, a few hours later a channel 50 news car was fired on in the same neighborhood, again the N.C.C.F. was blamed -- immediately the area was surrounded by pigs of the 10th precinct. They did this without permission from Pig Chief Murphy. They were about to attack when orders came and they were instructed not to make a move because they were not equipped to handle the situation. That they were in reality about to be barbequed because it just so happens that the people here relate to the Black Panther Party and it would be impossible to move on us without moving on the whole West Side. That's why the 10th Precinct right now has tanks and half tracks and 50 cal. machine guns--to kill niggas. That's why today August 2nd, pigs have been going door to door telling people where to lay in their house when the attack comes. They also stated that if they were to come out on the street that they would be killed.

So this is no joke, this is war in the truest sense of the word. This is the highest form of politics. We want freedom--they want blood. I say they can have mine, I guess I won't see my mother or "Li'l Bra" any more or Maria, or Kathy or Ora--e women most close to my heart. Or drink no more wine with [illegible], or get cursed out Landon and Big Bob, the two niggas I learned the most from.

All because they have people that have no respect for the needs and desires of he masses of people. Because they would rather kill and oppress rather than share n the vast wealth that this planet possesses. Because they oppose all that is proressive, we must die. Eldridge is in exile--but he's coming home, Huey was in jail--ut he's home, Bobby is in jail facing the electric chair but he's coming home, andon and Rory and countless other prisoners of war will be back--right here on the treets--niggas will be free and that is a fact that the reactionary pig forces on't want to relate too. Niggas will have the power to determine their own destiny nd that's what I'm fighting for and that's why I'll die.

ORGANIZING SELF-DEFENSE GROUPS

MINISTRY OF INFORMATION
N.C.C.F. DETROIT
12847 14th St.
869-1058

PART 1

In organizing self-defense groups at this stage of the struggle the most important consideration is whether or not the person to be in incorporated into the group understands fully that what he or she is doing is the right thing to do. At this stage of the struggle if any members of a self-defense group are weak minded or do not understand that the only way to put an end to brutality & murder is to organize self-defense groups & counter-attack, practice has shown that if this weak minded person is ever captured he or she will certainly not be able to withstand the methods of persuasion used by the fascist pigs and they will talk, give up information. So the first priority for any self-defense group is to be armed ideologically.

Because of the consequences if anything goes wrong during an operation, members within the group must maintain a face to face relationship, get to know each others strength and weaknesses thoroughly, and participate fully in the planning of operations. Liberalism at this level can cost the lives of comrades and/or jeopardize the success of an operation.

At this time self-defense groups should have no more than four to six members. The struggle at this time requires no operation that cannot be hanlced by four to six people. Also security is sacrificed the larger the group. At this time self-defense groups should be formed all across Babylon, North, South, East and West. However, at this time groups must work autonomously. Under no circumstances should any group seek out and try to make contact with another group. Due to the fact that this level of struggle is in its embryonic stages and fools, agents and provacateurs are scattered all across Babylon; if autonomy is maintained when a member of a group is captured he or she will only be able to give up information on one group, their own.

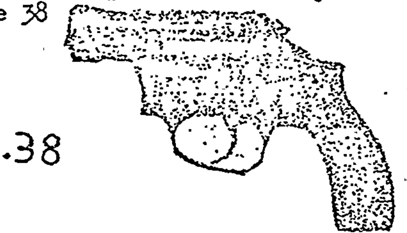
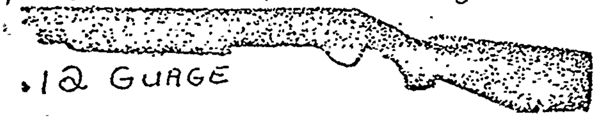
PART 11

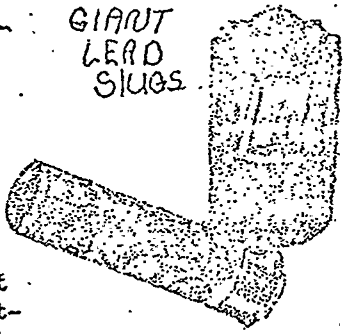
Due to the brainwashing done by TV, movies, comics ect, there are a lot of incorrect ideas about firearms that must be cleared up. The first thing to understand is, there is no piece (gun) that covers any and all situations. Although they show pigs on TV and in the movies killing people a block away with a snub-nose 38 revolver, in reality this is not very practical and shouldn't even be attempted unless you are an expert's expert. From seeing to much Wyatt Earp and Mat Dillon, too many people think that if they have a hand gun either pistol or revolver that they are ready for anything. All that is necessary to give you a different perspective is to examine the armament of the pigs that occupy our Black Communities anywhere in Babylon. When you do that you will discover that most pig cars have at least one .12 gauge pump or automatic shotgun, one or two semi-automatic or automatic assault rifles, one or two bolt action rifles with a scope mounted for snipping purposes, and of course, the pigs have strapped on at least one handgun either an automatic pistol or a revolver. In San Francisco, the S.F. Tactical Squad members carry two handguns, their standard service revolver plus a second handgun which is their personal preference; in many cases an automatic pistol. So at this time let's examine these three types of weapons; the shotgun, the rifle, and the handgun.

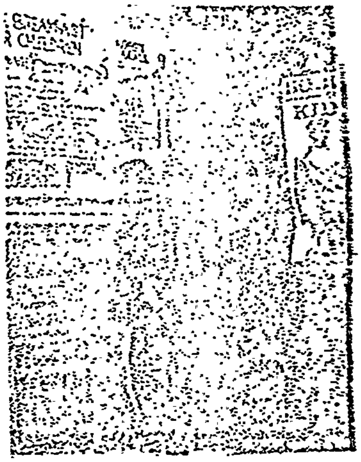




.12 GUAUGE SHOTGUN: the pigs use the hotgun, either pump or semi-automatic, oaded with 00 buckshot generally in rowd situations such as rebellions. The tandard load is nine (9) buckshot pellets er shell, however there is the magnum oad of 12 pellets per shell. These magnum loads are to be used only in magum shot-ns. If you

The pigs also use slugs, 1 giant lea ball. In the plans the Berkeley pig dept. had drawn up to attack National Headquart of the Black Panther Party, they inte to use slugs to knock the amour plate off of our windows and to knock out the doors This photograph shows what slugs used by Chicago pigs did to the steel plate on the door of our office there.





There is also a tear gas shell now designed to be fired from a .12 gauge gun.

Every Black home should have at leas one .12 gauge shotgun to be used to prot the door. Use 00 buckshot and it will dea with any criminals trying to enter uninvi Cuban guerrilas used shotguns very succes fully in the revolutionary war led by Fid Castro. They would set up ambushes close to roads usually only a few feet away and shotguns loaded with 00 buck would have a devastating effect upon the occupants of cars and/or trucks.

There is one thing about shotguns that possibly can be viewed as in our fav at this time, that is, that the barrel is smooth inside so it doesn't put any marks on the pellets; therefore, the pigs can't make an investigation based on ballistic marks.

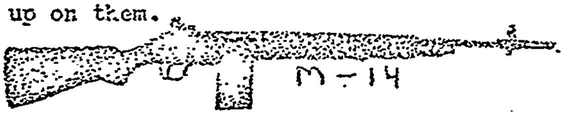
THE RIFLE: The bolt-action rifle in .30-06 or .308 (7.62 MM Nato) with a four (4) power scope (or better) mounted, is a snipping weapon. A specialist piece. This virulent (deadly) combination is for one purpose, and one purpose only-to fire ONE well placed shot. So each self-defense unit needs only one such weapon at this time. There is nothing else to say about that.

The assault rifle is either semi-automatic or preferable one that can be fired either semi-automatic or fully automatic. The limit here is that posed by the limit of the enemy's arsenal. Here we will discuss the most common seen in our communities carried by the gestapo pig forces. The AR-15 caliber .223 is the semi-automatic civilian model called "sporting" model of the M-16 used in Vietnam. The M-16 fires either semi-auto or fully auto. After the lives of many brothers were lost in Vietnam because the weapon was new and untested, it has now been de-bugged and is fairly reliable. It can be found on all military bases and some gestapo police arsenals. The AR-15 was taken off the public market and has been replaced by the AR-180 caliber .223. The AR-180 does not appear to be as good as the AR-15. However, many pig departments are stocking up on them.



Another very good assault rifle is the M-14 caliber 7.62MM Nato (.308 in English). This is a very good weapon although it has been replaced by the lighter M-16 in the fascist military. Most national guard units, at least here in California, are equipped with the M-14. Check your local National Guard availability.

The Thompson Sub-Machine gun if in good working order is very reliable in ..45 ACP caliber. It fires either semi or fully auto. One rewarding feature is it uses the same ammunition as the .45 automatic pistol cutting down on the variety of ammunition necessary for you [illegible]

Finally the age-old M1-Garand caliber 30-06. Very good, plenty of t around, heavy and accurate way out, e to get and plenty of ammo. around. Ch your pawn shops and gun shops also se national guard units and college ROTC units have them readily available.

The M1-30 caliber carbine? Use i for target practice and training.

Assault rifles are to be used in fire fights, more commonly known as s outs. People waging wars of liberatio around the world also use assault rif to annihilate (wipe out) their enemy' in ambushes and in counter attacks against fascist military outpost.

HANDGUNS: There are two types, semi-automatic pistols and revolvers.
There are so many different brands an calibers, I will only deal with what consider to be the best choices.

.357 Magnum revolver made by eit
Colt or Smith & Wesson. It holds six shots and with armour piercing ammo is supposed to crack an engine block. Man pig departments have switched or are swit from .38 special to .357. There was an in dent where a brother was defending himsel against a pig and fired at the pig with a special. The bullet hit the pig's badge a was deflected. Had the brother been using .357 magnum that would have been one barque pig.

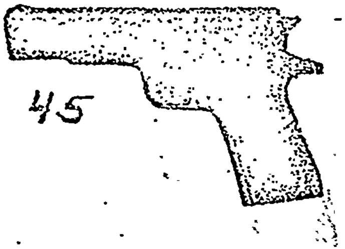
9MM automatic pistol. Although pistol are called 'automatic' they really are sem automatic. The trigger has to be pressed f every shot. I recommend the Browning 9MM

If you put one in the chamber that means 14 shots available. If you're up against someone with a 6 shot revolver, they will have to reload 2 times and you've still got two shots left. You can also purchase a 21 shot magazine. That's a lot of fire power for a handgun.



.45 Automatic pistol. This is still the sidearm issued to the U.S. fascist military troops. They also can be purchased in stores. There also seems to be a lot of these available in the streets. Check with your local street merchants.

Even if you have the finest self-d weapons they are no better than clubs i you don't know how to use them. By the token if you practice, it is possible t good enough to kill elephants with a .2

ESSAYS FROM THE MINISTER OF DEFENSE
HUEY NEWTON

"IN DEFENSE OF SELF DEFENSE:
THE CORRECT HANDLING OF A REVOLUTION."

The Vanguard Party must provide leadership for the people. It mus teach the correct strategic methods of prolonged resistance through literature and activities. If the activities of the party are respected b the people, the people will follow the example. This is the primary jo of the party. This knowledge will probably be gained second-hand by th masses just as the above mentioned was gained indirectly. When the peo le learn that it is no longer advantageous for them to resist by going into the streets in large numbers, and when they see the advantage in t activities of the guerrilla warfare method, they will quickly follow th example.

But first, they must respect the party which is transmitting this message. When the Vanguard group destroys the machinery of the oppres by dealing with him in small groups of three and four, and then escapes the might of the oppressor, the masses will be overjoyed and will adher to this correct strategy. When the masses hear that a gestapo policem has been executed while sipping coffee at a counter, and the revolution executioners fled without being traced, the masses will see the validit of this type of approach to resistance. It is not necessary to organiz thirty million Black people in primary groups of two's and three's but important for the party to show the people how to go about revolution. During slavery, in which no vanguard party existed and forms of communication were severely restricted and insufficient, many slave revolts occurred.

The Black Panther Party for Self Defense teaches that in the final analysis, the amount of guns and defense weapons, such as hand grenades bazookas, and other necessary equipment, will be supplied by taking the weapons from the power structure, as exemplified by the Viet Cong. The fore, the greater the military preparation on the part of the oppressor the greater is the availability of weapons for the black community. I is believed by some hypocrites that when the people are taught by the vanguard group to prepare for resistance, this only brings the man down on them with increasing violence and brutality; but the fact of the mat is that when the man becomes more oppressive, this only heightens the r olutionary fervor. The people never make revolution. The oppressors b their brutal actions cause the resistance by the people. The vanguard party only teaches the correct methods of resistance. So, if things car get worse for oppressed people, then they will feel no need for revoluti or resistance. The complaint of the hypocrites that the Black Panther Party for Self Defense is exposing the people to deeper suffering is an incorrect observation. People have proved that they will not tolerate more oppression by the racist dog police through their rebellions in th black communities across the country. The people are looking now for guidance to extend and strengthen their resistance struggle.

The National Committees to Combat Fascism, organizing bureau of the Black Panther Party would like to inform the communities of the childrens free breakfast program at this time.

The breakfast programs are not only to feed the children in our community but also to bring the children, parents, and all people of the community together, to work and see to it that every child is fed a balanced breakfast each morning.

This being the peoples breakfast, our goal is to spread this program throughout the communities in Michigan. This is the peoples program and without the peoples support we have nothing. Since this is a basic necessity, it has to be met.

UNLOADING:

Holding gun in left hand (pointed in safe direction) release cylinder latch with right hand, (#3). Push out cylinder with the fingers of left hand (#2). Now that you have swung out the cylinder and the bullets are visible you gently push down on the extractor and let bullets drop out into your right hand (#4).

LOADING:

To load, simply follow the same steps in unlatching the cylinder. Then drop bullets into the chambers of your cylinder. Gently push cylinder closed, and you are ready to fire. DO NOT SLAM CYLINDER CLOSED, this causes extra wear on your gun.

COCKING A REVOLVER:

Put the tip of your thumb on the hammer holding revolver steady in the palm of your hand. Do not put your finger in the trigger. Pull straight back steadily on your hammer spur until your hammer locks back. Your gun is ready to fire. After cocking hammer, place your thumb directly on the frame besides the hammer, resting the tip of your thumb on the cylinder latch. (Photo #4) Your forefinger should be placed on the other side of the gun straight out just above the trigger guard until ready to fire. Everytime you cock the hammer before firing, this is called single action firing.

STEPS IN FIRING A REVOLVER:

The following steps must be observed in accurate shooting. If you don't pay attention to all four steps you will end up shooting just anywhere. Before you can learn to just draw and shoot you must observe the first steps in shooting. Practice these steps with your gun unloaded, until you can get them down pat, you will be able to see if you are following them correctly by the way you shoot.

ITIONS IN FIRING:

here are various positions in firing (shown) ow). Each one is used for a different battle dition. The prone position is for when you being shot at and you have no cover, lay n as shown below making yourself as small a get as possible. The kneeling position is when you can get behind a car or something, in making yourself as small a target as sible, and your standing position can be d in defense (for making yourself a small get) or for use in pursuit or offense. M-16 is a 5.56 mm, Magazine fed, gas- ated air-cooled, shoulder weapon. By ging the position of a selector lever rifle can be made to shoot fully auto- c. The rifle also has a flash suppres- mounted on the muzzle. The barrel is ounded by heat resistant material, of fiberglass, which has been shaped a handguard and forearm. There are accessories that can be added such as: net, grenade launcher, and rocket cher, The gun holds a 20 or 30 round zine, but to insure operation it is able to never fill any magazine to stated capacity. Nineteen(19) in the hot magazine, and 27 - 28 in the 30 magazine will work best. The rifle has zle velocity of 3,250 feet per second muzzle energy of 1,300 pounds. What means is that the bullet leaves the traveling 3,250 feet in one second ng someone with 1,300 foot pounds of energy. So as yo[illegible]an see this small bullet travels at a very[illegible]igh rate of speed. The bullet is said to be one of the most deadly caliber of all; when it hits its target it starts to tumble, tearing everything it hits. The picture above shows what damage this rifle can do.

Firing semi-automatic the M-16 will shoot up to 45 to 65 rounds per minute; Fully-automatic it shoots 150 to 200 rounds per minute. The gun has a killing range up to 500 yards. (100 yards is the length of a football field). Comparing the M-16 to the M-14, the M-16 fires faster semi-automatic than the M-14 does fully automatic. The ammunition that the M-16 uses, 5.56 mm, also called .223 caliber, weighs half as much as the 7.62 NATO, that the M-14 shoots or the 30.06 which the M-I Garrand shoots. Therefore it is possible to carry twice as much
The model that has been explained so far is the government military version. There is a commercial model that is still being sold in gun stores, although not in large quantities; it is called the AR-15. The only difference between the two is the AR-15 does not have a selector switch that enables you to change the fire from semi-automatic to automatic fire. The bolt of the AR-15 is not chrome-plated like the M-16, and the M-16 is made up of a heavy mat-

PRESS RELEASE OCTOBER 25, 1970

On October 24, 1970, at approximately 6:30 PM, two racist pigs from the 2nd Precinct, without provocation, brutally beat 2 black youths on the corners of Myrtle and 16th Streets. Two brothers from the local National Committee To Combat Fascism, interceeded, simply exposing the police brutality to the people in the community, and they also were beaten by the pigs. People in the crowd that had formed came to the brothers aid and began to attack the pigs. At this point, Mod Squad, bootlicking, yardnigger pigs Forrest Harvey, Glenn Smith and Marshall Emerson, responding to their masters orders and wantonly opened fire on the crowd.

The crowd defended theselves and one treacherous dog police was dead and to others layed wounded. Many people from the community ran into the newly opened National Committee to Combat Fascism office at 3376 16th Street.

The Detroit gestapo forces moved in with its overkill machinery, which included 2 tanks, automatic weapons and other types of lethal weapons exactly like the ones these same imperialist use in Vietnam. The pigs indiscriminately opened fire on our office and other houses in the community. The fork tongued police have said that they used "great restraint," but we know that if it wasn't for the swift actions taken by the black community and other progressive people, Commissioner Nicholas' henchmen would have committed mass murder. The sisters and brothers in the N.C.C.F. office, not taking the word of lying pigs, refused to come out and didn't do so until they were insured by trusted people from the community that conditions were favorable.

We see this as part and parcel of the relentless attempt by the fascist U.S. government to destroy the Black Panther Party and its organizing bureau's, The National Committee to Combat Fascism. For the last six months, since the Nixon, Agnew, Mitchell, Hoover gang has been oinking its fascistic "law and order" rhetoric, gangsters, disguised as "guardians of the law" have attacked Black Panther Party and National Committee to Combat Fascism offices, all across the country. Our Party offices and N.C.C.F. offices in Philadelphia, New Orleans, Toledo, Ohio and New Bedford, Mass. have been under attacked by the forces of repression. And now, here in Detroit, police Commissioner Nicholas' and [illegible] forces have joined in this fascist act.

However, we want the people here in Detroit and throughout the world to know that the Black Panther Party and its organizing bureau's, the National Committee to Combat fascism, will not quiver in the wake the U.S. inspired onslaught that is being waged against our Party, Black people and other oppressed people throughout the world. And we have said it before and we will say it again:

THE RACIST DOG POLICEMEN MUST WITHDRAW IMMEDIATELY FROM OUR COMMUNITIES AND THE COMMUNITIES OF THE WORLD, CEASE THEIR WANTON MURDER AND BRUTALITY AND TORTURE OF OPPRESSED PEOPLE, OR FACE THE WRATH OF THE ARMED PEOPLE.

The Courts in Detroit are holding our comrades in Preventive detention and have placed a astronimical ransom on our sisters and brothers.

Dear Sir:

The Free Breakfast for School Children has covered the the country and has been initiated in every city where there is a Black Panther Party and National Committee To Combat Fascism. This program was created because we as black people and human beings understand that our children need a nourishing breakfast every morning so that they can learn.

These breakfasts include every nutrient that they need for the day. For too long our people have gone hungry and without the proper health aids they need. It is beautiful to see our children eat in the morning for it is a fact this enables them to think.

To begin and continue this program it takes donations from concerned people, businessmen, merchants and grocers who draw their profits from the black and oppressed people in Detroit. We need donations of foods which can be stored, such as cereal, grits, sugar, cocoa, salt and pepper, jelly and cooking oil, also syrup.

We need daily and weekly donations of perishable foods such as eggs, milk, oranges, bacon, sausage, ham, butter, bread and cheese, etc..

We need donations of money to buy food and utensils with which to prepare the breakfast.

If you want to help make the Free Breakfast for Children a program that truly satisfies the pressing needs of Black People,)donate or offer your services.

PART 3 TRAINING

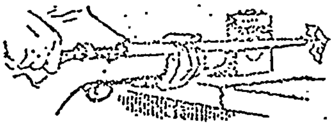
When planning any operation, the pigs' C.M.I. must be taken into consideration in planning tactics.

Practice - Practice - Practice - Practice - Practice - Practice

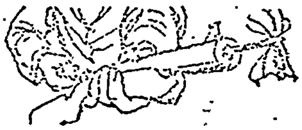
In order to perform well in your work on all levels it is necessary to practice. The more you practice, the better you perform. Don't think just because you read something you can do it. You can memorize a book on how to drive a car but until you get behind the wheel and practice, you still can't drive.

The first things to understand before you ever put a round of ammo in a chamber are basic safety rules. 99% of all accidental shootings happen with guns that aren't loaded and/or by people that say "I'm sorry, I didn't know it was loaded." Therefore, rule #1 is: the first thing you do when you pick up a weapon is check to see if it is loaded, keep your finger off the trigger and follow the following procedure. Point gun away from area where someone could possibly be shot. If it is a revolver swing out the cylinder; if it is a pistol, remove the magazine and pull back the slide. Even after you have unloaded the gun or see that it is unloaded, treat the gun in the manner as if it were still loaded. Never touch the trigger unless you are practicing trigger squeeze (explanation later), firing on training ground or dealing with the enemy. Never point a gun at anyone you don't intend to shoot. I can't stress these points enough however, people that generally haven't had any experience with pieces violate these rules constantly. If I am ever shot accidentally by some idiot it will be very difficult to suppress the desire to blow his or her head off, providing I'm only wounded.

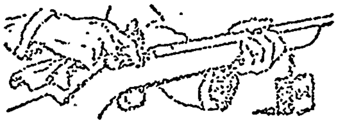
The next step is to learn to disassemble and assemble your pieces, also care and maintenance. Due to the fact that self-defense activity will not be limited to daylight hours you should learn to break your piece down and assemble it even in the dark. Your life depend on it. So do it.



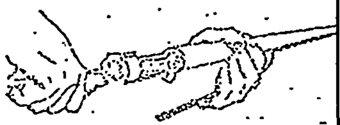
CLEAN BARREL AND METAL PARTS WITH GOOD COMMERCIAL SOLVENT



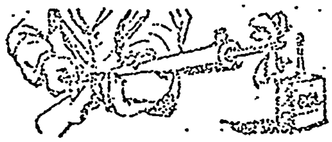
CLEAN BORE UNTIL DRY PATCH COMES THROUGH AS CLEAN AS POSSIBLE



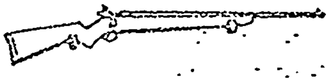
ALL METAL PARTS SHOULD GET LIGHT COAT OF OIL



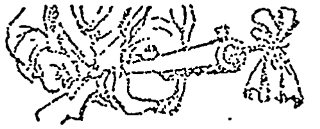
BORE SHOULD BE CLEANED THROUGH BREECH END WHERE POSSIBLE



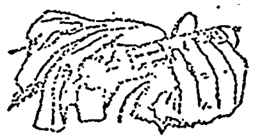
RUN OILY PATCH THROUGH BARREL



STORE IN HORIZONTAL POSITION



AFTER STORAGE RUN CLEAN PATCH THROUGH BORE BEFORE FIRING



REMOVE ALL EXCESS GREASE AND OIL

After you've gotten this down, the next step is to learn how to aim and fire your weapons properly. All of this is to be done before you ever put your first round of ammo in the chamber, the first thing to deal with is proper s [illegible] alignment. Sight alignment is lining up your front sight with your rear sight and both lined up on the target is called the "sight picture". The correct sight picture basically is having the front not too high or too low, not to the right or to the left, but having the target resting on top of the front sight. The sight picture will not always appear perfect, but if the correct sight picture is understood practice will bring improvement.

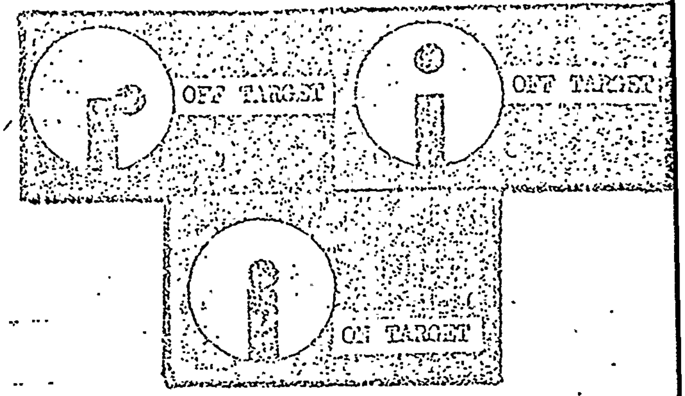
The next thing to get down with is trigger squeeze. That's right you squeeze the trigger, you don't pull it or jerk it, contrary to what ever you saw on t.v., trigger squeeze is a process of putting slow steady pressure on the trigger until a shot goes off. If you try to anticipate the shot, you will jerk and mess up your aim.

It would be ideal if you could incorporate into your group a veteran of the pigs' military service. Veterans are of great value and assitance in helping with the above training also when you are ready to begin practice with live ammunition. When practicing with live ammunition make sure your location is where you won't be hasseled by pigs. Actual combat conditions can be deadly as a training ground. When practicing with live ammo., remember it is valuable. Don't just start popping caps for the heck of it; the whole purpose is to prepare yourself to be "a Match for One Hundred" which will only come about as a result of correct practice.

One thing to guard against is flinching. Flinching is caused by being intimidated by the sound and kick of your weapon. With proper trigger squeeze and breath control, you won't have any problems with flinching. If you have problems keeping all your shots in a fairly small group or if you have a problem just getting your shots on the target anywhere you are probably flinching. Have someone watch you as you fire and they will be able to tell you whether or not you are flinching.

The basic thing in the training of members of self-defense groupsis to know how to handle fire arms of all types, hand guns, rifles shot-guns [illegible]chine guns, etc.

The use of different types of ammunition and explosives should be considered also.



PART 4 RECIPES

I will begin by pointing out that we must not allow the racist power structure to defi our struggle. What I mean is the language th we use like everything else in this society in the service of the racist capitalist bandi They control the educational institutions, t news media and the means of production to tu out all the educational material. We sometim are trapped by the rhetoric (words) of the s master. In our 400 year struggle for survival it has been the guns and force manifested in the racist pig cops that occupy our communit that directly oppress, repress, brutalize an murder us. So for us to talk about self-defe against this brutality and murder that is de ined by the racist power structure as justif homicide. So when a self-defense group moves against this oppressive system, by executing a pig by any means, sniping, stabbing, bombi etc., in defense against the 400 years of ra ist brutality and murder this can only be de fined correctly as self-defense. The slavema however, through his lackeys and puppets call it "terrorism", the work of crazed men, crim insane killers, etc.. We must define our str ggle not the pigs. Carlos Marighella an urba guerrilla in Brazil who was assassinated Nov 1969 just one month before Fred Hampton and Clark, says, "the accusation of assault or te rorism no longer has the pejorative (negativ meaning it used to have. It has acquired new coloration. It does not factionalize, it doe not discredit; on the contrary it represents focal point of attraction."

is a quality that ennobles any honorable man because it is an act worthy of a revolutionary engaged in [illegible] struggle against the shameful military dictatorship and its monstrosities."

So with that, I say this, all self-defense groups must strike blows against the slavemaster until we have secured our survival as a people and if this takes shooting every pig and blowing up every pig sty then let's get on up.

PEOPLE'S HANDGRENADE

Take a (water) pipe about 3" in diameter and 8" long with caps to screw on at ends. Screw on bottom cap then put wadding in the bottom. (Wadding can consist of cardboard, rubber or toilet tissue) for tighter packing and prevent leaking. Put in about one inch of shot or scrap metal, then put tube with BLACK POWDER packed in it and put fuse into pipe taped at ends, then pour shot or scrap metal between tube and pipe wall (as shown in drawing) leave about one inch space at top of pipe for top wadding (don't put wadding tightly around fuse). Put top pipe cap on and tighten. Then bend to side of pipe and tape to keep it from being pulled out.

This handgrenade should be tested by using a small amount of ingredients, then taken out away from people so the person using it could test his work before moving on his or her objective. It will normally move outward in all directions or could have some directional pattern, depending upon the placement of the container.

PART 5 HOW TO COMBAT C.M.I.

The principal of Juche (self-reliance) clarified by Eldridge Cleaver, the Minister of Information to the Black Panther Party, is "use what you got to get what you need." To answer the question of how do you combat the pigs' C.M.I. (communication, mobility and information), we must first determine what we have going for ourselves. Checking out the practice of self-defense groups, we see that we have the power to determine what is to happen, when it is to happen and how it is supposed to go down. What, When and How (W.W.H.)—the element of surprise. The pigs have C.M.I. and self-defense groups have W.W.H.

To consider a self-defense operation suc cessful : t to just plan and execute bu to plan, execute AND escape. There have be too many instances where members of self-defense groups have planned and executed righteous blows against this racist system only to be captured, wounded or killed. Th are the consequences for revolutionary activity, however we must keep casualties wit an acceptable minimum. The slogan must be Maximum Damage to the Enemy, Minimum Damag to Us. Practice has shown that when planni W.W.H. if it is done with knowledge and an understanding of C.M.I. casualties will be kept within an acceptable minimum. Too oft much attention is given to a plan up to th point of execution without giving the same attention to evasion and escape, that phas of the operation that determines success. This is a subjective approach, a one-sided approach. W.W.H. is only one side of the c C.M.I. is the other side. Because self-def groups use W.W.H., the pigs' C.M.I. does n go into operation until a self-defense gro commits itself by actually executing some of self-defense activity.

All of us should be aware that once C.M.I is activated pigs start showing on the set from 30 seconds to 1 minute maximum in ever major city in Babylon, therefore the succes or failure of a defense operation is depend upon the attention given to C.M.I. and the planning of evasion and escape. As I see it learning to deal with the pigs' C.M.I. is t number one military problem facing revoluti forces in Babylon today, It is time for all have something to teach, by example, to ste forward. And remember, to die honorably, on does not need company.

Fifteen members of the local National Committee to Combat Fascism, the organizing bureau of the Black Panther Party, are in jail. Each of them has been charged with first degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder.

They were in or near the N.C.C.F. office on Saturday evening, October 24, when two pigs beat two black youths who were selling the Black Panther Newspaper. The people in the community responded by defending the two brothers; and when more pigs came on the scene with their guns out and shooting, the people again defended themselves, leaving one pig dead and another wounded. A whole army of officers converged upon the N.C.C.F. office, and finally, after about eight hours, the 15 sisters and brothers inside surrendered.

OUT WITH THE OLD FASCIST IN WITH THE NEW

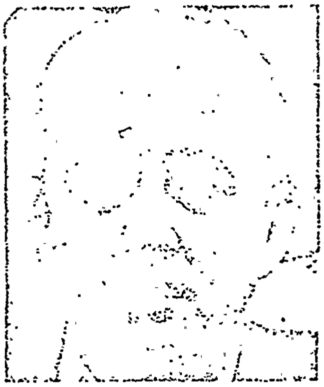
The pig media has been broadcasting the resignation of Chief Pig Commissioner Murphy as a great loss to Detroit and again for New York. The pig media is oinking that Detroit has lost a great pig Commissioner who is well experienced and has done many things to improve Detroit and the police forces here. At the same time that the Detroit Pig Dept. is expressing great sorrow for such a grevious loss, they wish him luck in his exciting and new job. So with tears in their eyes the Detroit Pig Dept. pig Mayor Gribbs etc., wish him a fond farewell.

To black people and other oppressed people the whole buildup and play sounds like a story from Mother Goose. That's exactly what it is, one of the biggest fairy tales the pigs have ever tried to get over. Pig Murphy and no other pigs have done anything for poor and oppressed people. To get the books straight, pig Murphy didn't have a choice on whether to resign or not, he was told either to retire or get another job. To dig where I am coming from, you must understand how and who controls the oppressive pig forces in Detroit and the events that lead to pig Murphy getting his hat. The pig forces are controlled by the D.P.O.A. (Detroit Police Officers Association), Chief Detective, Field Lt. and related conspirators. Murphy got the position of Chief Pig Commissioner during the time he was an Inspector for the New York Pig Dept. This made a lot of top pigs in Detroit mad because they had been working on the pig force all their low-lives and thought that if anybody should get the position it should come out of their little circle instead of a pig from New York that nobody ever heard of. So antagonistic conditions existed from the jump. Many things came into play that strained the relationship between the Pig Commissioner and the D.P.O.A.



PIG CHIEF MURPHY

The black community began to respond to the continuous pig brutality and murder of black people with shots of gun fire and dead pigs. Pigs were getting up-tight because all across the nation people were defending their homes [illegible] the pig administrators and the pig Commissioners by the D.P.O.A., the Chief Detective and the top pigs to give them more liberties to deal with the people. The stop and frisk laws and the no-knock laws were passed to benefit these racist pigs. Other demands were made to pig Murphy by the D.P.O.A. The N.C.C.F. (organizing bureau of the Black Panther Party) was beginning to grow rapidly and these racist dogs demanded the green light to vamp on our office. The Pig Commissioner told them to hold off until they could get a warrant or a trumped-up conspiracy charge.

Two major events happened recently within the black community that caused pig Murphy to get his walking papers quick. In the area around the N.C.C.F. office on Indiandale, members of the N.C.C.F. and people in the community were putting up posters and passing out free posters to the community. The pigs came into the area and began tearing the posters down and harassing the people. Shouts of "kill the pigs" and "get out of our community" came from the people as they dug the pigs tearing up their posters. The next day a news car that looked exactly like a pig's car came into the area to take pictures and to get posters. Someone in the community thought that it was the pigs intimidating the people once again, therefore they righteously shot at them. When the report of the shooting got to the 10th precint, these pigs immediately saw their chance to vamp on our office. Without notifying pig Murphy and the rest of the pigs downtown the [illegible] called in all their units [illegible] Indiandale. We got a message from the 10th precinct that we better be out of Detroit by 10:00 p.m.

A press conference was held at our office and the only news reporters that were present were the very ones who had been shot at. We informed them that the shots didn't come from our office and they agreed that they didn't believe they did. Pig Murphy realized that he didn't have an alibi to justify a raid on the office, so he told the 10th precint to call the raid off. This sent the D.P.O.A., the Chief Detective, Field Lt. etc, into an outrage. They had exposed their half-track tanks in the parking lot of the 10th precint and flooded the Indiandale area with mod-squad pigs but most of all they didn't feel that they had to justify raiding a Panther office and pig Murphy had the audacity to call it off. There wasn't any future at all left for pig Murphy in Detroit. The fascist D.P.O.A. hooked up their machinery to either force Murphy to come down on the black community and raid our office on Indiandale or lose his job, one way or the other. Information started flooding our office that the fascist pigs were really putting pressure on Murphy to raid our office.

This was the last straw for pig Murphy. the D.P.O.A., the Chie Detective, Ku Klux Klan etc. had hooked up and demanded a nev pig Commissioner, pig Murphy was pawned off to New York agai and the stage was set for completely new fascist pig Commissioner. Nigger Sheriff Lucas coat-tail had been pulled to refus the top paying Commissioner's jo if he wanted to stay on good relations with his bosses. They ha just got pig Murphy out and ye know they couldn't trust a nigge in that position even if he is a goo nigger. Now the lying pig newspapers are saying that it will b hard to decide who will be the nex pig Commissioner. Well th D.P.O.A., the Chief Detecti Field Lt. and Roman Gribbs hav already decided. If there is an doubt about who the next pig Commissioner is it must be a toss up between Hitler and Spiro Agne

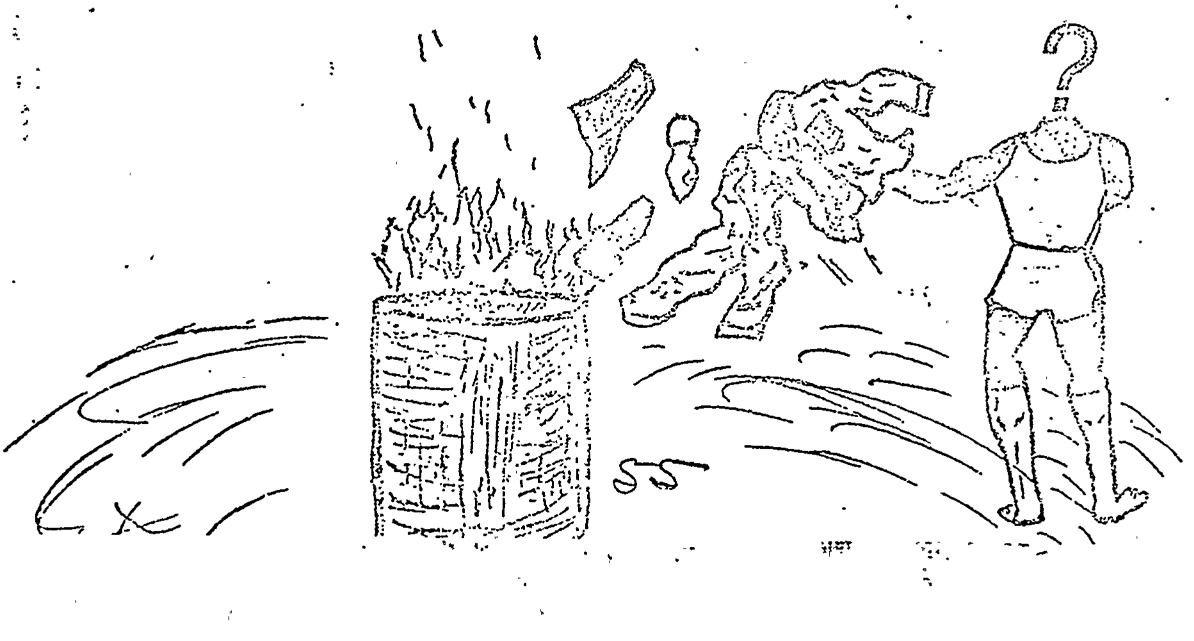
OUR HISTORY IN THIS COUNTRY HAS BEEN WRITTEN IN BLOOD. OUR BLOOD. E MOST TRAGIC SCENES IN THAT HISTORY ARE THOSE OF BLACK BLOOD BEING ILLED BY BLACK MEN. IT IS NOW TIME TO CHANGE THOSE SCENES. IT IS E TO REGAIN THAT HONOR THAT WAS TAKEN FROM OUR PEOPLE BY THOSE IN- VIDUALS THAT HAVE ALLOWED THEMSELVES TO BE USED AS PAWNS, AND CANNON DDER'S BY THE OPPRESSORS OF THE PEOPLE.

JUST AS OUR BLACK MEN ARE USED IN VIETNAM TO KILL THE POOR PEOPLE VIETNAM FOR OUR OWN OPPRESSORS WHO ALSO EMPLOY PEOPLE WITH WEAPONS WAR TO PATROL, BRUTALIZE AND KILL BLACK PEOPLE HERE IN THE UNITED ATES, HERE IN DETROIT.

JUST AS THE BLACK G.I. MUST SALVAGE HIS HONOR, OUR HONOR BY REFUS- G TO BE COME A PART OF THE MONSTEROUS WAR MACHINE ABROAD. YOU MUST FUSE TO BECOME A PART OF THE MONSTEROUS WAR MACHINE HERE IN THE THER COUNTRY OF WAR - THE AMERICAN EMPIRE.

WE HAVE TO PULL AWAY FROM THAT FLUNKEYISM. ESPECIALLY WHEN IT'S ALING WITH THE WELL BEING OF OUR PEOPLE AND THE HONOR OF YOUR OWN SOUL. . MUST NOT ALLOW OURSELVES TO FIGHT FOR THE PRIVATE INTERESTS OF A FEW DIVIDUALS OR A NARROW CLIQUE, BUT FOR THE INTERESTS OF ALL OUR PEOPLE. : MUST FIGHT FOR FREEDOM AND SANITY.



YOU MUST MAKE THE DECISION NOW, IF YOU ARE GOING TO WORK HARD TO LL US, OR WORK WITH US TO OBTAIN OUR FREEDOM. AS FAS AS OUR OWN DESIRE CONCERNED, WE DON'T WANT TO FIGHT EVEN FOR A SINGLE DAY. BUT IF CIR- MSTANCES FORCE US TO FIGHT, WE CAN FIGHT TO THE FINISH.

IF ANYONE WHETHER HE BE WHITE OR BLACK ATTACKS US AND IF CONDITIONS E FAVORABLE FOR BATTLE, WE WILL CERTAINLY ACT IN SELF-DEFENSE TO WIPE M OUT RESOLUTELY, THOROUGHLY, WHOLLY AND COMPLETELY.

G. Locally Stated Aims and Policy

LARRY POWELL, member of the Detroit NCCF, conducted the political education classes on July 5, 1970, at which time the topic of discussion was the center page of the July 4, 1970, issue of "The Black Panther" newspaper. Those in attendance were instructed as follows:

Whenever you say "death to the pigs" mean it. Put your words into action. Use the slogan "all power to the people" as the pigs think they are the power. Now we have to add to our slogan "death to the pigs," so stop talking and start putting your words into action. The pigs are planning genocide against us. The reason there are more pigs in the community this year than last year is because they are planning to get rid of all blacks, and they want all blacks to move into the projects so all they would have to do is put a fence around it and give them just enough money to get food. They want to take everything away from us, but we still have the power to destroy and there is no way the pigs can destroy the BPP. If they kill us off, our struggle will be taken up by the people in the community as we are the people's party. If we don't go to the people then we are not serving the people. Our struggle is not confined and exists also in the South in the field of Civil Rights. We have to fight for national salvation, deal with repression and will fight for the liberation of all oppressed peoples.

The following is the transcript of a tape recording made by RONNIE IRWIN, Detroit NCCF, which was recovered on October 16, 1970, by the Detroit Police Department, behind 7708 Mack Avenue, Detroit, an NCCF Office which had been abandoned on October 15, 1970:

"I say hungry children should be fed. Not because they got money but because they're hungry. This morning the children sitting here at this free breakfast for children program. This is Chairman Bobby Seale's idea. He organized the breakfast for childrens program for you children and you know where Chairman Bobby Seale is right now? He's in Connecticut. There fascist pigs tried to murder him in the electric chair for feeding all the children.

"Now you children know what we are going to do to the pigs for that? Right on. (Group in background replies "Right On.")

"Deputy Chairman Fred Hampton of the Illinois Chapter of the Black Panther Party was murdered in his sleep for implementing the socialistic programs that Chairman Bobby Seale laid down for him. The free breakfast for children program, the free medical health care clinic is why.

"He was murdered in his sleep, you know? (response from group in background "Right On.")

"You can look at, you can look at the pigs and you can see every time somebody tries to help the people are do some for the people or serve the people like the members of the Black Panther Party and National Committees to Combat Fascism do, the pigs will vamp down on them. Pigs will start coming down on them hard. And that shows you that they're doing their job. But there's a lot of people running around here who call themselves serve the people call themselves so-called revolutionaries, you know. And the pigs they don't care nothing about them. They don't look at them twice. All the pigs do is laugh at them. And you know they ain't doing their job. You know? Revolution comes out the barrel of a gun, not out of the sleeve of no dashaki. Right On? (people in background respond "Right On.")

The Association of Black Students, Oakland University, Rochester, Michigan, sponsored a rally in support of the Detroit 16 on November 16, 1970, featuring HUEY P. NEWTON.

The main theme of the speech given by HUEY P. NEWTON on November 16, 1970, at Oakland University, was that all poor blacks and poor whites, the working classes, the oppressed of the world, must all join forces as a united body against the "ruling circle" in the United States. NEWTON repeatedly referred to this "ruling circle" throughout his entire speech and apparently interpreted this "ruling circle" as those leaders of Government and industry, the imperialists or those who are rich in this society. NEWTON wanted equality for everyone with no one being superior to his fellow man. He indicated the Negro is a class brother with the poor whites and they must join in their effort to overcome the "ruling circle."

NEWTON stated,"The Black Panther Party is the vanguard of the revolution on a world-wide level because the world is really one community and we've taken Marxist-Leninist to a greater level-and, therefore, we are the greatest Marxist-Leninists that ever lived, and we say this not to be arrogant because some times I wish that someone else would carry that banner because the way is narrow and the burden is heavy."

In conclusion, the speech by NEWTON was a rambling, many times incoherent Marxist-Leninist influenced, low-key revolutionary type speech which attempted to show a connection between the BPP and the League of Revolutionary Black Workers (LRBW), as well as a unity between the BPP and all oppressed persons of the world.

A characterization of the LRBW is contained in the appendix pages attached hereto.

His speech called for the release of the Detroit 16, freedom for ANGELA DAVIS, BOBBY SEALE, and all the oppressed brothers and for the ultimate overthrow of the pigs.

The speech appeared to be rather poorly organized and NEWTON was easily diverted from the main topics which he seemed to be pursuing. The speech had very few references to any actual radical action or violent confrontation.

The Black Student Union, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan, sponsored a rally in support of the Detroit 16 on November 17, 1970, featuring HUEY NEWTON.

NEWTON stated that the working class will be the ones to carry out the "revolution" and carry the "revolution banner" and will most likely initiate the creation of the new order. Throughout his speech, NEWTON talked about the new order which will occur when the world is taken over by Communism. Throughout the speech, NEWTON refers to capitalism stating that while it has caused many problems, it has also laid the foundation for Communism. He stated that the wealthy are the ruling circle and named ROCKEFELLER and FORD as being in this circle. NEWTON stated that they offered troops to the Vietnamese people, however, did not get a definite answer on their proposal.

The Black Liberation Front International, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan, sponsored a rally in support of the Detroit 16 on November 17, 1970, featuring HUEY NEWTON.

The speech given by NEWTON was scheduled for 10:00 a.m.,,in the auditorium at Michigan State University. The doors were open prior to 10:00 a.m., and persons admitted after a thorough search, for a fee of $2.00, except Negro females, who were charged 25 cents. Those persons attending the speech were advised that they were not allowed to leave, applaud, or stand during the speech, and that anyone leaving could not return. NEWTON arrived at approximately 11:30 a.m., and spoke on Marxist-Leninist theories placing particular emphasis on the Russian Revolution and its relationship to the BPP. The body of the speech was concluded at 1:45 p.m. At approximately 1:00 p.m., most of the audience had left because they were unable to understand NEWTON and were getting fed up with the treatment they were receiving. After a question and answer session, NEWTON finished speaking at 2:30 p.m.

OLIVER MC CLURE, leader of the Detroit NCCF, began swearing at the police officers and the driver, WILLIAM BYRON MC CLURE, brother of OLIVER, also began yelling insults. WILLIAM MC CLURE jumped on one of the officers' backs and appeared to grab for his gun, which fell to the ground, and was picked up by a second officer. While the officers were struggling with the MC CLUREs, an additional scout car arrived and the third passenger of the car, THOMAS KIRK WARD, also a member of the Detroit NCCF immediately jumped one of the officers from this car. Detective Lieutenant WILLIAM MC COY, Security Section, Intelligence Division, Detroit Police Department, advised on July 30, 1970, that about 9:30 a.m., this date, a Channel 50 television news car was in the vicinity of Detroit NCCF headquarters, 2219 Indiandale, Detroit, when a Negro male, age 25 to 30 years, 6'2", 200 pounds, with beard and moustache, fired three shots at the news car from the porch of the office. There were no injuries to the occupants of the car, which was probably in the vicinity to film traffic signs in the vicinity of the above office, which had been painted black and had posters pasted on them.

On October 24, 1970, Detective Lieutenant WILLIAM MC COY, supra, advised that at 5:45 p.m., October 24, 1970, two Detroit Police Department Officers put out a radio "officer in trouble" call due to difficulty in subduing individuals who had been given loitering tickets, apparently in connection with their distributing NCCF literature.

Two unmarked patrol cars with plain clothes officers responded and arrived in the area almost immediately, however, a crowd had gathered and one of the officers was recognized and the crowd began to attack the car with bottles and rocks. When the officers attempted to leavethe area by driving across a vacant lot, the car was hit by gunfire and one officer suffered minor injuries.

The second police car had stopped near the corner of 16th and Myrtle near an NCCF office and a short time later another shot hit one of the patrolman on the back of the head and he was dead on arrival at the hospital.

The NCCF office at 3376 16th Street was immediately surrounded and a search warrant obtained.

At the first meeting of the branch of the Detroit NCCF at 2009 Albert, Flint, Michigan, November 15, 1970, WAYNE THEODORE ROBERTSON asked who had guns and stated that they were no problem to obtain as all you would have to do is kill a policeman and take his equipment. It was also mentioned that they should be willing to give their lives for the NCCF.

DE T-26 advised on November 30, 1970, that one of the trucks being driven by the Detroit NCCF members headed for the Constitutional Convention in Washington, D.C. broke down on the turnpike near Pittsburgh, on November 26, 1970. While stopped, they called Washington, D.C. and determined that the convention had been called off and were instructed to return to Detroit. The group was upset upon receipt of this information but decided to return to Detroit, and the truck that had broken down was left to be repaired and the rest of the convoy made a U-turn on the Pennsylvania Turnpike and headed back to Ohio. Upon reaching the end of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, all vehicles had to pay the full toll after which they again called Washington, D.C. and determined that the convention had been re-scheduled so they turned around and headed back to Washington, D.C. picking up the truck which had broken down en route.

ROBERT BAY, BPP, New York, was hit on the head with a gun butt by JUNE HILLIARD, Assistant Chief of Staff, BPP, because BAY beat up someone he thought was a police informer.

On December 2, 1970, Detective WILLIAM HENNAHAN, Security Section, Intelligence Division, Detroit Police Department, advised that he was contacted by the Detroit Edison Electric Company, who advised that a crew from the electric company went out to check the meter at 611 Continental, Detroit, a NCCF office, which is in the rear of the house, as the house was occupied and a request for service had not been received. They discovered that the meter had been jumped and were going to disconnect service at the meter but were chased away by occupants of the house. The electric company is not going to take any further action as they consider it too dangerous to attempt to cut off the electricity and are going to let the NCCF have the electricity.

LEAGUE OF REVOLUTIONARY BLACK WORKERS
Also known as
Dodge Revolutionary Union Movement (DRUM)

A source advised on April 22, 1970, that the League of Revolutionary Black Workers (LRBW) is a black extremist labor union, with headquarters at 179 Cortland, Highland Park, Michigan, in the greater Detroit metropolitan area. Source advised that the LRBW is attempting to oust the United Auto Workers (UAW) from their position as bargaining representative for black workers in the Detroit area automotive plants. Source advised that the LRBW has used threats of violence against both black and white supervisory personnel and UAW leaders in an attempt to intimidate them into an agreement with LRBW demands. The LRBW has referred to the automotive industry and the UAW as "racist".

A second source advised that membership in the LRBW is limited to Negroes only, by virtue of the LRBW constitution which states "membership is denied to all honkies due to the fact that said honkey has been the historic enemy, betrayer and exploiter of black people." Membership in the LRBW is less than 25 persons.

The second source also stated that the LRBW had suborganizations operating at Ford Motor Company which was known as the Ford Revolutionary Union Movement (FRUM) and Eldon Avenue Gear and Axle Plant (ELRUM) as well as other assembling and supplying plants, but that at the present the LRBW is active only at the Dodge Main Assembly Plant in Hamtramck, Michigan. This suborganization is known as Dodge Revolutionary Union Movement (DRUM). The other suborganizations are now defunct.

The first source stated that in 1969 RONALD LEE MARCH, KENNETH JOHN WATSON and GENERAL GORDON BAKER, JR., who source identified as members of the Central Committee of the LRBW, met with diplomatic representatives of the North Vietnamese Government in Windsor, Ontario, Canada, to request support of the LRBW both morally and financially by the North Vietnamese.

The official publication of the LRBW is the "Inner City Voice".

A characterization of "Inner City Voice" is attached hereto.

"INNER CITY VOICE"

The "Inner City Voice" (ICV) was registered with the Wayne County Clerk's Office, Assumed Names Division on August 4, 1967, by KENNETH JOHN WATSON, under Certificate Number 208945.

A bulletin entitled, "Build Black Newspaper" dated July, 1967, stated, "A group of black revolutionaries in Detroit, Michigan, have begun work on the production of a new newspaper. It is hoped that the first edition of the 'Inner City Voice', will appear on the newsstand in August of 1967." According to the bulletin, the ICV's goal is the building of a mass circulating revolutionary propaganda program. The bulletin stated the newspaper was to concentrate on local news, cultural and social events, as well as providing coverage of radical politics.

A source advised on March 17, 1970, that the ICV was published from July of 1967 through June of 1968, when it was terminated. In the fall of 1969 a newspaper similar to ICV appeared on Detroit newsstands which was called "SAUTI", meaning Voice in Swahili. This publication, in its first edition stated that it emerged from the ICV, and its purpose, in addition to the above, would be to exist as the official organ of the League of Revolutionary Black Workers (LRBW). In January of 1970, an edition of "SAUTI" stated that it would continue publication under the old name of "Inner City Voice" and would provide coverage of the black extremist labor movement. In the spring of 1970, the ICV did not publish the inflammatory articles which were common in 1967-68, but called for the overthrow of the United Auto Workers (UAW) leadership and control of black workers at Detroit area auto plants.

Source advised that the editors of the ICV are KENNETH JOHN WATSON, LUKE SAMUEL TRIPP, GENERAL GORDON BAKER, MICHAEL C. HAMLIN and RONALD LEE MARCH, all of whom source identified as members of the Central Committee of the LRBW.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP
also known as
Black Panther Party for Self Defense

According to the official newspaper of the BPP, the BPP was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics, and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by BOBBY G. SEALE, BPP Chairman, and HUEY P. NEWTON, Minister of Defense, BPP.

The official newspaper, called "The Black Panther," regularly states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to as "pigs" who should be killed.

The newspaper, in its issue of September 7, 1968, had an article by the then Minister of Education, GEORGE MURRAY. This article ended with the following:

> "Black men. Black people, colored persons of America, revolt everywhere! Arm yourselves. The only culture worth keeping is revolutionary culture. Change. Freedom everywhere. Dynamite! Black power. Use the gun. Kill the pigs everywhere."

The BPP newspaper, issue of October 5, 1968, had an article introduced with the following statement: "We will not dissent from American government. We will overthrow it."

DAVID HILLIARD, Chief of Staff, BPP, in a speech at the San Francisco Polo Field on November 15, 1969, said "We will kill Richard Nixon."

DAVID HILLIARD, in the "New York Times," issue of December 13, 1969, was quoted as follows: "We advocate the very direct overthrow of the government by way of force and violence."

In the issue of April 25, 1970, the BPP newspaper had an article by Minister of Culture EMORY DOUGLAS as follows:

> "The only way to make this racist US government administer justice to the people it is oppressing, is...by taking up arms against this government, killing the officials, until the reactionary forces...are dead and those that are left turn their weapons on their superiors, thereby passing revolutionary judgement against the number one enemy of all mankind, the racist US government."

The BPP Headquarters is located at 1046 Peralta Street, Oakland, California. Branches of the BPP, and Committees to Combat Fascism, under control of the BPP, have been established in various locations in the USA.

A .38 caliber revolver is kept in the reception desk at 2009 Albert, Flint, Michigan, Flint branch of the Detroit NCCF, and a 12 gauge shotgun is kept on a blanket on the floor behind the desk.

DE T-24
January 7, 1971

After the NCCF political education meeting on January 10, 1971, persons attending the meeting went out into the street and marched up and down the block in formation, a practice they have followed since the beginning of January, 1971.

DE T-1
January 11, 1971

On January 10, 1971, about 4:20 p.m., Detroit Police Officers arrived on Continental Street, Detroit, where about 16 persons were marching in the street in front of 611 Continental, Detroit, NCCF Office, blocking traffic. The police approached the individual directing the marching and requested that the people move onto the the sidewalk, which request this individual ignored. The police car was forced to back down the street, and was shortly joined by two other police cars, at which time the marchers left the street and entered 611 Continental.

DE T-3
January 13, 1971

The interest in the Flint branch of the Detroit NCCF has continued to decrease and there are approximately five children showing up for the Breakfast for School Children Program.

DE T-26
January 14, 1971

KENNETH HORSTON, BPP, Oakland, California, currently in charge of the Detroit NCCF, has been trying to raise funds for the BPP Defense Fund, which he is to send to Stronghold Productions, New York, New York.

DE T-1
January 13, 1971

Members of the Detroit NCCF tortured and beat two persons who had both been affiliated with the NCCF for a short time and were accused of stealing guns from the NCCF on separate occasions. The NCCF members talked of killing both, however, they were both released.

DE T-1

BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP),
also known as
Black Panther Party for Self Defense

According to the official newspaper of the BPP, the BPP was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics, and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by BOBBY G. SEALE, BPP Chairman, and HUEY P. NEWTON, Minister of Defense, BPP.

The official newspaper, called "The Black Panther," regularly states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to as "pigs" who should be killed.

The newspaper, in its issue of September 7, 1968, had an article by the then Minister of Education, GEORGE MURRAY. This article ended with the following:

> "Black men. Black people, colored persons of America, revolt everywhere! Arm yourselves. The only culture worth keeping is revolutionary culture. Change. Freedom everywhere. Dynamite! Black power. Use the gun. Kill the pigs everywhere."

The BPP newspaper, issue of October 5, 1968, had an article introduced with the following statement: "We will not dissent from American government. We will overthrow it."

DAVID HILLIARD, Chief of Staff, BPP, in a speech at the San Francisco Polo Field on November 15, 1969, said "We will kill Richard Nixon."

DAVID HILLIARD, in the "New York Times," issue of December 13, 1969, was quoted as follows: "We advocate the very direct overthrow of the government by way of force and violence."

In the issue of April 25, 1970, the BPP newspaper had an article by Minister of Culture EMORY DOUGLAS as follows:

> "The only way to make this racist US government administer justice to the people it is oppressing, is...by taking up arms against this government, killing the officials, until the reactionary forces...are dead and those that are left turn their weapons on their superiors, thereby passing revolutionary judgement against the number one enemy of all mankind, the racist US government."

The BPP Headquarters is located at 1046 Peralta Street, Oakland, California. Branches of the BPP, and Committees to Combat Fascism, under control of the BPP, have been established in various locations in the USA.

I. REVOLUTIONARY PROGRAMS AND POLICIES AS EXPRESSED BY BLACK PANTHER PARTY LEADERS

A characterization of the Black Panther Party (BPP) is contained in the appendix pages attached hereto.

The following is an article by the Detroit National Committee to Combat Fascism (NCCF), organizing bureau of the BPP, which appeared in "The Black Panther" newspaper dated November 28, 1970, author unknown:.

FREE THE DETROIT 15

The judicial system is proving at every turn of events that it is impossible for Black people to receive a fair trial in Babylon. Fifteen members of the Detroit N.C.C.F. are illegally being held in the Wayne County jail. Seven brothers and eight sisters are being held on charges of murder, conspiracy to commit murder and malicious destruction of police property.

These charges stem from an incident that happened On October 24th when a nine year old youth and 2 members of the N.C.C.F. were severly beaten by the fascist pigs The people in the community showed their contempt for the pigs by hurling bricks and bottles in their direction. In response, the pigs drew their guns and began firing into the crowd of people. An exchange of fire took place between the pigs and an unknown assailant. The results were one dead pig and one wounded pig, and a victory for the people.

Using this as an excuse the pigs raided the N.C C F. office. The brothers and sisters inside the office relating to Executive Mandate No. 3, defended their home in a confrontation that lasted from 6:00 p.m. to 4:00 a.m. the next morning. The pigs had alerted the national guard and they were about to enforce the McCarran Act. If the whole community would have been armed the cowardly pigs wouldn't have even come into the community brutalizing the people. the brothers and sisters would not be in jail and the people would have had an even greater victory.

As it stands now they are all being held on trumped-up charges. The sisters have ransoms of $10,000 with 2 sureities; the brothers' ransoms are $25,000 except for one brother (Erene; whose bail ransom is $30,000 plus 2 sureities.

They have all been brutally beaten and constantly harassed by the dogs since they have been incarcerated. Cassandra limps, (due to a beating from the pigs). The entire left side of Linda's face is swollen from being beaten; David's face is also swollen from being beaten. Kim's right forearm was busted by a pig who slamed a cast iron door on it. And Jerome has severe burns (his face, neck, ears and right arm), from a pig trying to set him on fire.

They were arraigned in court on the 25th of October and had their preliminary hearing on the 30th of October. A preliminary hearing is held to determine if the pigs have enough evidence to prosecute the defendants.

If there isn't sufficient evidence produced then the defendant is to be released from custody. The pigs realizing that they didn't have any evidence whatsoever to continue the confinement of the brothers and sisters, decided to employ the fascist tactics of "the 17-man citizens grand jury". This grand jury has been given the authority to continue the confinement of the defendant on given word from the police department. "The 17-man citizens grand jury' was ruled unconstitutional by Genesee Circuit judge Elra H. Papp. Judge Papp ruled against the grand jury law on three counts.

The first issue deals with the provision in the law that a defense attorney cannot see grand jury testimony from a witness until after that witness has testified at the trial. Judge Papp found that this procedure does not "adhere to the principles of a fair trial".

"Never could I effectively prosecute or defend without thorough investigation, discovery and preparation", she said.

The second issue concerns the right of an accused person to have an effective attorney.

The judge ruled that an attorney cannot be effective when he gets a copy of grand jury testimony during the trial.

"He can neither properly prepare a defense , nor can he recommend to his client that he plead guilty without knowledge of what witnesses have said against that client" Judge Papp said.

The third issue involves the denial of a preliminary examination to persons indicated by a citizens grand jury.

"Preliminary examination or at least access to the grand jury transcript before trial is vital for one accused of a crime" she said.

A preliminary examination's purpose is to determine if there is evidence to force a person to stand trial.

Judge Papp said that under the citizens grand jury law, this is done by inexperienced lay people "acting as an arm of the prosecutor".

The pigs are desperately trying to make a case. They have no evidence, since all of the original complaints and warrants have been dismissed. But the fascists are still trying to railroad these brothers and sisters on make believe trumped-up charges. This is just another example of the need for a Revolutionary, People's Constitutional Convention

DEATH TO THE FASCIST PIGS

N.C.C.F. Detroit

WAYNE THEODORE ROBERTSON, leader of the Flint, Michigan branch of the Detroit NCCF, lead a discussion at 2009 Albert, Flint, Michigan, on December 1, 1970, during which the following items were discussed:

Tactics to eliminate the foot patrolman in the black community through the use of three-man squads to attack them and obtain their weapons and radios. The police are not to be killed if possible, however, this is permissible if there is no other means. The attacking of police stations and knocking out power facilities was also discussed as a future tactic.

II. ACTS IN FURTHERANCE OF REVOLUTIONARY PROGRAMS AND POLICIES

On December 2, 1970, Detective WILLIAM HENNAHAN, Security Section, Intelligence Division, Detroit Police Department, advised that he was contacted by the Detroit Edison Electric Company, and advised that a crew from the electric company went out to check the meter at 611 Continental, Detroit, an NCCF office, which is on the rear of the house, since a request for service had not been received, and found that the meter had been jumped. They were going to disconnect the electricity at the meter but were chased away by occupants of the house. The electric company is not going to cut the wire at the pole as they consider it too dangerous and are going to let the NCCF have the electricity.

The Flint Chapter of the Detroit NCCF has begun work on fortifying the house at 2009 Albert, Flint, Michigan, by placing plywood a few inches from the wall, which they then plan to fill with sand.

BLACK PANTHER PARTY (BPP)
Also known as
Black Panther Party for Self Defense

According to the official newspaper of the BPP, the BPP was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics, and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by BOBBY G. SEALE, BPP Chairman, and HUEY P. NEWTON, Minister of Defense, BPP.

The official newspaper, called "The Black Panther," regularly states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to as "pigs" who should be killed.

The newspaper, in its issue of September 7, 1968, had an article by the then Minister of Education, GEORGE MURRAY. This article ended with the following:

> "Black men. Black people, colored persons of America, revolt everywhere! Arm yourselves. The only culture worth keeping is revolutionary culture. Change. Freedom everywhere. Dynamite! Black power. Use the gun. Kill the pigs everywhere."

The BPP newspaper, issue of October 5, 1968, had an article introduced with the following statement: "We will not dissent from American government. We will overthrow it."

DAVID HILLIARD, Chief of Staff, BPP, in a speech at the San Francisco Polo Field on November 15, 1969, said "We will kill Richard Nixon."

DAVID HILLIARD, in the "New York Times," issue of December 13, 1969, was quoted as follows: "We advocate the very direct overthrow of the government by way of force and violence."

In the issue of April 25, 1970, the BPP newspaper had an article by Minister of Culture EMORY DOUGLAS as follows:

> "The only way to make this racist US government administer justice to the people it is oppressing, is...by taking up arms against this government, killing the officials, until the reactionary forces...are dead and those that are left turn their weapons on their superiors, thereby passing revolutionary judgement against the number one enemy of all mankind, the racist US government."

The BPP Headquarters is located at 1046 Peralta Street, Oakland, California. Branches of the BPP, and Committees to Combat Fascism, under control of the BPP, have been established in various locations in the USA.

The Association of Black Students, Oakland University, Rochester, Michigan, sponsored a rally in support of the Detroit 16 on November 16, 1970, featuring HUEY P. NEWTON.

HUEY P. NEWTON is the Minister of Defense, BPP.

The main theme of the speech given by HUEY P. NEWTON on November 16, 1970, at Oakland University, was that all poor blacks and poor whites, the working classes, the oppressed of the world, must all join forces as a united body against the "ruling circle" in the United States. NEWTON repeatedly referred to this "ruling circle" throughout his entire speech and apparently interpreted this "ruling circle" as those leaders of Government and industry, the imperialists or those who are rich in this society. NEWTON wanted equality for everyone with no one being superior to his fellow man. He indicated the Negro is a class brother with the poor whites and they must join in their effort to overcome the "ruling circle."

NEWTON stated, "The Black Panther Party is the vanguard of the revolution on a world-wide level because the world is really one community and we've taken Marxist-Leninist to a greater level and, therefore, we are the greatest Marxist-Leninists that ever lived, and we say this not to be arrogant because some times I wish that someone else would carry that banner because the way is narrow and the burden is heavy."

In conclusion, the speech by NEWTON was a rambling, many times incoherent Marxist-Leninist influenced, low-key revolutionary type speech which attempted to show a connection between the BPP and the League of Revolutionary Black Workers (LRBW), as well as a unity between the BPP and all oppressed persons of the world.

A characterization of the LRBW is contained in the appendix pages attached hereto.

His speech called for the release of the Detroit 16, freedom for ANGELA DAVIS, BOBBY SEALE, and all the oppressed brothers and for the ultimate overthrow of the pigs.

The speech appeared to be rather poorly organized and NEWTON was easily diverted from the main topics which he seemed to be pursuing. The speech had very few references to any actual radical action or violent confrontation.

The Black Student Union, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan, sponsored a rally in support of the Detroit 16 on November 17, 1970, featuring HUEY NEWTON.

NEWTON stated that the working class will be the ones to carry out the "revolution" and carry the "revolution banner" and will most likely initiate the creation of the new order. Throughout his speech, NEWTON talked about the new order which will occur when the world is taken over by Communism. Throughout the speech, NEWTON refers to capitalism stating that while it has caused many problems, it has also laid the foundation for Communism. He stated that the wealthy are the ruling circle and named ROCKEFELLER and FORD as being in this circle. NEWTON stated that they offerred troops to the Vietnamese people, however, did not get a definite answer on their proposal.

The Black Liberation Front International, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan, sponsored a rally in support of the Detroit 16 on November 17, 1970, featuring HUEY NEWTON.

The speech given by NEWTON was scheduled for 10:00 a.m., in the auditorium at Michigan State University. The doors were open prior to 10:00 a.m., and persons admitted after a thorough search, for a fee of $2.00, except Negro females, who were charged 25 cents. Those persons attending the speech were advised that they were not allowed to leave, applaud, or stand during the speech, and that anyone leaving could not return. NEWTON arrived at approximately 11:30 a.m., and spoke on Marxist-Leninist theories placing particular emphasis on the Russian Revolution and its relationship to the BPP. The body of the speech was concluded at 1:45 p.m. At approximately 1:00 p.m., most of the audience had left because they were unable to understand NEWTON and were getting fed up with the treatment they were receiving. After a question and answer session, NEWTON finished speaking at 2:30 p.m.

On Sunday, November 15, 1970, a meeting of the National Committee to Combat Fascism (NCCF), organizing bureau for the BPP, was held at 2009 Albert, Flint, Michigan, at which WAYNE THEODORE/ROBERTSON was in charge. Everyone present was asked if they had a weapon and those that did not were told to get one and that it was no big problem to obtain weapons as all they would have to do is kill some "pigs" and take their weapons and equipment. ROBERTSON emphasized that Flint was overdue in the killing of police officers and also commented that if you owned a gun, there would never be an excuse for being arrested for carrying a concealed weapon as Flint Police Officers worked only two men to a car and the officers should be killed if confronted. It was also mentioned that they would attempt to get a black policeman to become an informer for the NCCF.

II. ACTS IN FURTHERANCE OF REVOLUTIONARY PROGRAMS AND POLICIES

The Detroit NCCF sponsored a rally at the Malcolm X Community Center, Inkster, Michigan, at 7:00 p.m., on October 30, 1970, to raise funds for the defense of the Detroit 15. About 50 people attended and approximately $200.00 worth of papers, buttons, and literature were sold. Speakers from the NCCF talked about the police coming into the community stating that the community should defend itself.

The NCCF also sponsored a rally at the Northside Family Center, 150 Belmont, Detroit, on November 1, 1970, at 7:30 p.m., and NCCF speakers again talked about the police coming into the community and stating that the community should defend itself.

RONNIE IRWIN, Detroit NCCF, at a rock concert to raise money for the NCCF Defense Fund on November 10, 1970, Wayne State University, Student Center Building, made a speech regarding the shooting of the Detroit Police Officers on October 24, 1970, and stated that the white radicals should support the Detroit 16. He stated that the "pigs" came down on the community and the NCCF responded, and that if community leaders had not interceded, the NCCF members would have been killed.

A general meeting and political education class is to be held on November 15, 1970.

On November 18, 1970, members of the Flint branch of the Detroit NCCF, nailed 2 x 4s around the down stairs windows as a framework for some heavy screen or fence which they plan to stretch across the windows. WAYNE THEODORE ROBERTSON ordered that sand should be brought in to bullet proof the walls by using plywood sheets to box in an area approximately three feet from the outer walls of the house both upstairs and downstairs and then filling the area with sand. They also feel that heavy screening on the windows will prevent tear gas from being thrown or shot through the windows. A sign "National Committee to Combat Fascism" has been placed in front of 2009 Albert, Flint, Michigan.

A discussion was held as to the obtaining of gas masks, water canteens, and a fire extinguisher.

They were in or near the N.C.C.F. office on Saturday evening, October 24, when two pigs beat two black youths who were selling the Black Panther Newspaper. The people in the community responded by defending the two brothers, and when more pigs came on the scene with their guns out and shooting, the people again defended themselves, leaving one pig dead and another wounded. Who Are The Black Panthers?

The 10 point program of the Black Panthers Party begins "We want our freedom. We want power to determine the destiny of our black community." The Black people in America were brought here from their native land as slaves, and ever since they have been kept on the lowest level of American society. They are a community of people with their own history, economic life, and culture. Yet they've never had political power over their own community. The Black Panther Party formed to fight for this political power.

But the founders of the Black Panther Party, led by Huey P. Newton, knew that they had to have more than their goals. They had to understand how they were going to achieve them. Huey's answer was "Serve the People" and "Pick up the gun." The Black Panthers realized that the people can be liberated only by their own efforts, and that the Panthers had to reach out to their community, find out its needs, and respond to them. And they realized that "political power grows out of the barrel of a gun," that the people in the black community were being mowed down by the police and had to defend themselves, and that political power over their community would never leave the hands of the rich and enter their own hands unless they combatted the police--the army of the rich.

Huey first put his understanding of serving the people and picking up the gun into practice when he and Bobby Seale went out one night with a hammer and a shot gun to put up a stop sign that was badly needed by the community. Bobby stood guard with the shot gun while Huey hammered in the sign. Later, the Panthers started many health clinics, breakfast for children programs, and other community services.

Because of what the Panthers want for their people, because they are going about getting it, and because the community is beginning to look towards them for leadership, their enemy is scared. So scared that they have started a nation wide campaign to destroy the Panthers. Fred Hampton was murdered in Chicago while he slept, Bobby Hutton was murdered in Oakland, Calif. as he walked out of a house with his hands up, both by police officers that still remain free. Black Panther and N.C.C.F. offices all across the nation (L.A., New Orleans, Toledo, Philadelphia) have been attacked and ransacked by police officers. And now Detroit joins the list, just as the N.C.C.F. here was beginning to start a free community health clinic and to gain the support of the community.

But the Panthers continue to grow and sink deeper and deeper roots among the people. And all of us poor and working people, black and white, should be glad, should defend the Panthers and help them grow. For the Panthers are fighting the enemy of all poor and working people: the rich (e.g. the owners of GM) who run this country and control not only the black community but all of our communities, schools and factories. Huey says "We don't hate white people; we hate the oppressor." And so do we. We say right on Huey P. Newton. Power to the Black Panther Party! Power to the People! Free the Detroit 15!

The Palestinian Revolution

Message from The Palestine
National Liberation Movement
(Fateh) to the 17th Annual Convention of Arab Students in the United States and Canada held in Ann Arbor, Michigan
August 26-31, 1968

It is indeed an honor to address this Seveneenth Convention of the Organization of Arab Students n the United States and Canada. I wish to thank the rganization for its kind invitation to Fateh to ddress this conference which represents a cornertone of active Arab thought vis-a-vis the Palestinian Revolution. It is evident from the delegates, the rogr[illegible], and the guests, that we are concerned here not with rhetoric but with conscious analysis, planning, and understanding of the importance of the Palestinian Revolution and its far-reaching impact upon the Palestinian people, the Arab nation, the world's conscience and all humanistic values.

As you no doubt know, the Palestinian people have not ceased to struggle against their oppressors ever since they first realized that world colonialism and expansionist Zionist settler colonialism were conspiring to rob them of their Palestinian homeland. To Zionists, this was the first step toward seizure and control of the Arab nation's resources which will effectively hinder its economic development and cultural progress.

* As you also know, the Palestinian people subsequent to the 1948 catastrophe have been subjected to severe constraints, as well as destitution, poverty, dispersion, and persecution. It is indeed amazing that this treatment has not led to the loss of the Palestinian people's identity, destruction of their will, and their total dispersion, as was originally intended. The Palestinians' genuine revolutionary will, their clear understanding that they are part of the Arab nation and that their struggle against Zionism is in reality the Arab nation's struggle, their ultimate victory, and their mature understanding of the moral and human imperatives for the liberation of their homeland are all various elements combined to thwart their opponent's well-laid plans. The Palestinian people withstood all pressures and continued to resist by different means. Finally, they stood to take once again the full responsibility for their own destiny, especially after the continuous failure of the Arab governments became blatantly evident.

The beginning of 1965 signaled the end of dependency and asserted the Palestinians' right to take command of their own struggle. Hence the Palestinian people formed the general framework of the Revolution according to the following principles:

1. All action must be guided by a free and independent Palestinian will in thought, words, and deed.
2. Protecting the Revolution from any influence or interference from any Arab government and avoiding involvement in the internal affairs of the Arab governments.
3. Considering the struggle for the liberation of Palestine a phase of national struggle and hence must absorb all strata and all segments of the Palestinian society, asserting that the "liberation of Palestine is the road to unity."
4. Fusing the Palestinian people and the revolutionary vanguards through armed struggle.
5. Fusing the Palestinian people with the Arab masses through the armed revolution, for the Palestinian Revolution is Palestinian in inception, Arab in depth, and national in goals and objectives.
6. Setting the liberation of Palestine over all other Arab issues.

24

7. Mobilizing the channeling forces in the Arab world toward the Palestinian Revolution.

8. Rejecting the principle of conventional warfare due to the international imperialist circumstances which protect the Zionist forces in our occupied Palestine and due to the contradictions in the Arab countries which resulted in a passive atmosphere and led to continuous failure regarding the Palestinian question, thus enabling the enemy to grow and prepare for its next expansionist battle.

9. Adopting "armed struggle" as the only means for the liberation of Palestine and "people's war" as the only method for action.

10. Adopting the concept of "national security of the Arab nation" instead of "divided regional security" which parcels responsibilities and leads its proponents into a morass of cost-benefit accounting.

11. Rejecting any international patronage which is inevitably allied to the interest of colonialism and Zionist influence.

This persistent insistance of the Palestinian people to revolt, their conscious rebellion against any and all attempts to impose upon them external limitations or solutions, and their rejection of resettlement or compensation plans would have been impossible were there not material, national, moral, and human imperatives far stronger than those external forces.

The material imperative is clearly demonstrated in the loss of their homeland and the attack on all their rights for livelihood. This also includes the Arab people who live under the constant threat of Zionist expansion. The Arab economies are being [illegible] defense expenditures to counter the Zionist presence which caused and still causes tremendous dislocation in the social and political fibers of the Arab world. The result of this has been the continuing backwardness of the Arab people and will be their ultimate destruction.

From this point, the national imperative for the Palestinian Revolution becomes apparent, for in the process of liberating Palestine, the Revolution will also destroy that ever-present expansionist Zionist threat to the Arab people. By so doing, it also destroys the most important stronghold for world colonialism in the Arab land. Such development would open the way for the Arab nation to assert its cultural presence, material progress, and would allow it to cooperate with the other nations of the world to realize peace.

The moral imperative of the Palestinian Revolution finds concrete expression in the people's rejection of the injustices heaped upon them, the aggressions committed against their national and human rights and in their rejection of all forms of oppression and injustice. This is what gives the Palestinian Revolution its humanitarian foundation and goals since it is a struggle against world Zionism whose foremost base is occupied Palestine.

Why?

--because Zionism is a movement of an aggressive and racist nature, employing neo-Nazi fascist means to achieve its expansionist settlement aims.

--because a Zionist victory in Palestine deprives all previous liberation movements their human content.

Hence it follows:

1. The Palestinian Revolution does not aim at annihilating the Jews, for such an act is based on racism, against which the revolution is struggling. Furthermore, the Arab people, of whom the Palestinians are an integral part, have not known racism throughout their long history.

2. Likewise, the Palestinian Revolution is not an anti-semitic movement, for "anti-semitism" is a Western concept alien to the Arab past.

3. The Palestinian Revolution aims at destroying the Zionist structure in Palestine as represented by the political entity of the State of Israel. It has been pseudo-legitimized by so-called international recognition which ignored the will of the Palestinian people, their right to self-determination and to sovereignty on their Palestinian soil.

4. The Palestinian Revolution aims at regaining the lost rights of the Palestinian people. After the liberation of our homeland, we shall live with those who will live with us according to our inherent belief in the principles of equality, justice, and humanity.

The Palestinian people hate war as much as any other people, but the continued presence of Zionism on our land and the continued political existence of Isra[illegible] our country impose war on us because the victory of Zionism does not mean peace. It means continuous oppression and danger. Likewise, it encourages all racist movements and ideologies to act viciously against truth and justice. This leads to nothing but war. Therefore, it is imperative that we fight, and fight until victory. This is a just struggle for the welfare of justice and true peace.

The Zionist movement today is a new form of Nazism; in other words, opposing it and fighting it are human duties, for the struggle is merely an extension of the world's struggle against Nazism and the continuation of the long chain of human struggle against forces of oppression, injuctice, and racism. The destruction of Zionism, of the political entity of Israel, is essential; otherwise, all those who gave their lives in World War II and in all wars of liberation throughout history will have died in vain, will have been robbed of their imperatives and values that motivated these sacrifices.

Brothers: In spite of their dispersion and destitution, the Palestinian people stand today through their Revolution as the front line of defense of their rights, the Arab nation's right, and the rights of humanity at large.

The principles of the Revolution, having been declared long before the June, 1967, War, aim at more than merely removing the effects of that aggression. The Revolution's basic principle, "Revolution till Victory," means that it is a movement aiming at the liberation of Palestine and the world from one of the most dangerous international movements threatening man's humanity, dignity, and freedom. Thus, exposing Zionism's dangers and fighting it everywhere is as important as the military struggle being waged by your brothers in the occupied areas, though obviously it is no substitute for it.

Having clarified the basic principles and the position of the Palestinian Revolution, we must now proceed to analyze the present condition of this revolution and its strength in facing the future.

The Fedayeen vanguards of the Palestinian people who began their commando activities against the enemy on January 1, 1965, were, and still are, fully aware of the difficulties that lie ahead of them on their road to revolution and freedom.

The phase through which we passed prior to June, 1967, was that of preparation for the revolution, preparation for it through steadfast resistance and in a manner drowned in secrecy due to the tremendous pressures and limitations imposed upon the Palestinian people by the Arab states. These constraints and the concomitant secrecy were the two prime obstacles preventing the creation of a widespread cadres among the Palestinian people and obstructing the cohesion of the vanguards and the people. This, in turn, slowed down the growth of the Revolution, for the organic development of the movement requires a total merging of the Palestinian people with the revolutionary vanguards. They, in turn, should unite with the Arab masses, for then and only then will the Revolution come into its own as a revolution that is Palestinian in inception, Arab in depth, capable of effective action and continuous growth to meet the enemy's challenge.

After the June War, however, the Palestinian Revolution moved from preparatory stage to the actual launching of the revolutionary struggle. The June War proved the validity of the operational and theoretical foundation underlying the Palestinian armed struggle. The War turned opponents of the Revolution into supporters and to a great degree effectively silenced the doubters and the skeptics. In general, a widespread shift in the attitude of the Arabs as a whole, and the Palestinian people in particular, occurred. Some changed because of their true belief in the principles of the Revolution; others for emotional reasons. We believe, however, that continued action, continued mobilization and organization, and continued struggle will alleviate the dangers inherent in such an emotional allegiance, and reinforce a principled commitment, which leads to fusion between the Palestinian Revolution and the Arab people in a conscious organized struggle.

Therefore, the Revolution must succeed as it gradually acquires its Arab and human depth, for it is a revolution based on the masses. It aims to alleviate the injustice that has befallen the Palestinians as the first victims of Zionism, to safeguard the Arab rights insofar as they are the ultimate goal of expansionist Zionism, and to reaffirm those human rights that the world community cherishes and that are threatened by racist movements everywhere starting with Zionism.

Brothers: Since the basic aim of the Palestinian Revolution is the liberation of Palestine, it is clear that it must mobilize, absorb, and utilize all Palestinian and Arab potentialities regardless of their social and economic status. It was therefore inevitable that we should raise the slogan of "non-interference in the internal affairs of any Arab state." This does not mean that we do not recognize the relationship of the Palestinians to the Arab people. It simply means that we consider the current phase of our struggle as one of national liberation; and, therefore, the interest of the Revolution is best served by avoiding entanglement in secondary fights and side issues. This is particularly feasible since Zionism is not opposed to any specific Arab doctrine, but rather aims at the Arab lands which it seeks to occupy, the Arab nation which it seeks to destroy, and the Arab individual whom it seeks to enslave. This only means that the Arab states are also living in a state of national struggle, for they, too, are threatened by the same danger regardless of their political orientation. This fact of paramount importance gives opposition to Zionism the primary position in any ranking of Arab problems. Furthermore, protracted armed confrontation with the Zionist enemy is certain to produce greater cohesiveness and cooperation among the Arabs and will eventually destroy many of the obstacles hitherto encountered on the path to unity.

The newly born Palestinian Revolution was conceived of the will of the Palestinian people to face all challenges and through their belief in armed struggle as the unescapable path to freedom. Though it is still in the developing stages, it undoubtedly will reach the required level of action through continuous struggle. The remaining road is still a long one, but it befits us to pause and analyze the future prospects of the Revolution and to shed some light upon its state since the June War.

It is evident that the Revolution today is passing through a new phase in which two opposite forces are active:

First: Escalating of commando activity which has qualitatively changed the nature of the confrontation and created a new spirit of commitment and unity among the Palestinian people.

Second: The counter-revolutionary forces attempting to destroy our movement and abort our Revolution by limiting our actions and forbidding us from acting in two critical fields: confronting the enemy, which when blocked prevents our commando activity from evolving into a full-scale war of national liberation; and, interacting with the Arab masses in a revolutionary manner whose inevitable effects, the counter-revolutionary forces fear.

These two opposite orientations point directly to the responsibility of the Palestinians and the Arab citizens. They are to oppose all attempts to impede the Revolution by following clear systematic and organized action aiming at the escalation of the armed struggle to the point where all aborting attempts will be fruitless.

The catastrophe of June, 1967, has not only proven the validity of the principles and strategy of our Revolution, it also pointed out many aspects of the counter-revolutionary movements, the most evident of which are the following:

1. It is noticeable that after each catastrophe we have suffered starting with 1948 and ending with 1967, the Arab nation found itself subjected to tremendous political pressures in which the international aspect completely overshadowed the Arab aspect, in general, and the Palestinian aspect, in particular. These pressures inevitably assert the new "fait accompli" for Israel and further legitimize Israeli military gains by giving them international sanctions and protection. The pressures following the June War, however, are of a special and more dangerous nature, since they aim at completely liquidating the Palestinian issue under the guise of "political settlement" or so-called "peaceful settlement." These efforts revolve around three main points: returning to the pre-June 5th situation in exchange for ending the state of belligerency, ensuring safe frontiers for Israel along with other international guarantees, and destroying the identity of the Palestinian struggle by creating what they call a "frail political society," or the "dummy Palestinian identity."

2. If we can say that the partition resolution of 1947 opened the dossier of Zionist usurption of Palestine, then it is equally correct to infer that the projects for "political settlement" aim at closing that same dossier permanently. Likewise, as the 1947 partition resolution gave the Zionists a political entity upon our land, the present efforts aim at completing the past efforts by legitimizing all the demands of that entity on one hand, and putting, on the other hand, Palestinians and the Arab people in the impotent position of being unable to undertake or to justify any future action for liberation.

3. These dangerous prospects transcend the above-mentioned goals into a systematic psychological warfare that uses the military debacle to create a feeling of impotence among the Arab vis-a-vis Israeli military superiority and hence to entrench even further the fear of Israeli expansionism. From here, it is but a short step, after imposing the peace settlement, to justify ending the period of armed resistence against the Israeli aggression which, in turn, would pave the way for striking at the Palestinian resistence movement and embroil it in secondary disputes that would weaken it and divert it from its well-marked course of action against Zionist occupation.

Brothers: The Palestinian Revolution rejects all such proposals and rationalizations, for in reality it is but a new way of presenting an unconditional surrender leading to the eventual destruction of the Palestinian people. None of these efforts acknowledges the basic premise of the Israeli political entity. This is the basic strategic foundation upon which the Palestinian Revolution is based and for which it strives under its slogan [illegible]volution until Victory." For this reason, armed struggle must be escalated to a degree that will paralyze the forces opposing the Revolution.

The current phase of the Revolution is the most critical one in spite of the victories we have so far achieved. It is imperative that we confront all those counter-revolutionary attempts and stand fast by the Revolution, protecting it from the internal Arab contradictions and partisan fights, allowing it to concentrate on its main task and to avoid secondary struggle. It is our duty to exert our utmost pressure on the Arab governments and the [illegible] support the Revolution instead of competing with it or attempting to contain it under the pretexts of its "Arab nature" or of "increasing its effectiveness."

Actually, increasing the effectiveness of the Revolution occurs in two main fields:

1. In the Palestinian realm, which includes the Palestinian people and the armed struggle in the occupied areas;

2. In the Arab realm, which includes the Arab people, land, and government.

The Palestinian Revolution needs both the Palestinian people and the Arab people.

The Revolution, likewise, needs the Arab land as well as Palestine.

Training must occur on Arab soil. Movement of armaments and supplies must pass through Arab land. Storage of arms and supplies must be in Arab land. Financial support comes from the Arab people. Information and news must go through Arab channels.

The mobilization and organization of the Palestinian people must be accomplished in Arab land where they are located.

All this means that the Revolution is affected in one way or another by Arab conditions and Arab power structures. This highlights the extent of the effort to be expended in the Arab countries in order to harness all the potential in support of the Revolution.

Now comes the role of the Arab citizen.
Now comes the role of the Arab organizations.
Now comes the role of the Arab political parties.

Now comes the role of the Arab governments.
Now comes the role of whoever grasps the future implications of the Palestinian Revolution, its needs, and demands within the Arab realm.

The tremendous amount of Arab administrative, intellectual, and executive efforts required by the Palestinian Revolution are now clear............... It is also clear that at the present the duty of the [illegible]ab people is to direct their efforts within th[illegible]rab realm to serve the Revolution; solidify it; aid it; fulfill its moral, financial, and material needs...............

This needed work in the Arab realm must be carried out with complete dedication based on absolute conviction that one's duty is to support and to strengthen the Revolution, not to compete with it by creating new organizations, then calling for their unification on the pretext that "unity is preferable to division." One should protect the Revolution by not creating differences within it and then ask for their resolution on the grounds that "such differences weaken the Revolution."

Brothers: It is necessary to believe in the na[illegible] for strengthening the power of the Revolution as a Palestinian national movement, not to weaken it by introducing into it internal Arab contradictions, be they regional, political, or ideological.

If they accept this concept of the Revolution, the Arab citizen, the Arab political party, and the Arab government can participate in the Revolution just as much as the Palestinian. If fact, their participation, emanating from such a clear understanding, is critical to the ultimate success of the Revolution. For only then would all the requirements and needs mentioned above be adequately met.

Brothers: These are the basic tenets of the Palestinian Revolution, the validity of which has been unquestionably confirmed by the actual active experience of the last four years. We must in all honesty work to make this Revolution more and more successful until victory is attained. This is all the more important since the "honeymoon period" we are experiencing with some Arab governments may come to an abrupt end in the near future, and this means that the future holds possibilities and dangers that can only be met by adopting the concepts and strategies we have just discussed..........

Brothers: Your responsibility here is not less than that of your brothers who bear arms on the field of battle in the occupied land. The Revolution is a complexity of complementary efforts needing intellect, specialization, organization, funds, and military capabilities, each in its own place, within a general framework emanating from a clear vision of objectives and a clear understanding of the underlying tenets and realities.

You bear a responsibility that your brothers back home cannot bear and vice versa. Through this basic complementary work, we must proceed to our victory through our Revolution: Victory for the Arab nation; victory for humanity.

Cairo, January 1969

ADDRESS BY THE AL-FATEH DELEGATION TO THE SECOND INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE IN SUPPORT OF THE ARAB PEOPLES

Cairo, January 1969

Friends,

In the name of the people of Palestine, in the name of the Palestinian Revolution, in the name of Justice and Peace for which we fight, we thank you for your concern and the concern of your people in Justice and Peace in our part of the world.

We are very happy to have the opportunity to meet with you, because you represent people who fought for peace based on justice.

We can see among you people who fought the Nazi invasion and the fascist terror in Europe.

We also find among you people who fought, and are still fighting, imperialism and colonialism and racial discrimination in Africa, Asia and Latin America.

We honestly feel that we stand among friends and comrades who believe in the right of every people to self-determination and its right to enjoy liberty on its own land, free of oppression and discrimination.

Our people were deprived of their rights to self-determination and to the enjoyment of life on their own land without oppression. This was the result of a serious racist aggression carried out by an imperialist organisation: Zionism.

The aggression of the 5th of June is one manifestation of this basic aggression that had its roots in the 19th century, and whose culmination was the establishment of the State of Israel in 1948. The major victim of this aggression was the Arab Palestinian people who were forced to evacuate their homes and land under a reign of terror and oppression.

We therefore refuse to consider the 1967 aggression as a separate and distinct phenomenon, and we refuse to accept any solution focussed on the results of the last aggression without considering the source of the aggression itself.

The Resolution of the Security Council, November 22nd 1967, and all further proposals explaining or modifying it, are inadequate and irrelevant from our point of view, and therefore are totally and categorically unacceptable to us.

All such proposals skirt the real issue and avoid its core, namely: the right of the Palestinians to liberate their country, to enjoy [illegible] land and homes, and to have the right to decide how they want [illegible] run it.

We, the people of Palestine, are carrying on an armed revolution in order to re-establish peace with justice in the Holy Land.

We would like you to consider the magnitude of our problem. For we are facing a Zionist structure that had its roots in 19th century Europe, at the heart of the imperialist movement. Zionism is one of the most oppressive and aggressive forms of imperialism, one that has as its major goal the total uprooting of one people from a country to replace them by another.

The roots of the aggression lie in the Zionist ideology itself, with its belief in the need to bring a select, chosen people without a land, to a land that is to be evacuated by its inferior people.

Let me quote one of the original Jewish pioneers in Palestine, Nathan Chofshi, who wrote to the editor of the Jewish Newsletter in February 1959:

"If you really wanted to know what happened, we old Jewish settlers in Palestine who witnessed the fight could tell you how and in what manner we Jews forced the Arabs to leave cities and villages...Some of them were driven out by force of arms; others were made to leave by deceit, lying and false promises. It is enough to cite the cities of Jaffa, Lydda, Ramleh, Beer Sheba, and Acre from among numberless others." Nathan Chofshi continued. "Here we have people who lived on its own land for 1,300 years. We came and turned the native Arabs into tragic refugees. And still we dare to slander and malign them, to besmirch their name. Instead of being deeply ashamed of what we did and of trying to undo some of the evil we committed, by helping these unfortunate refugees, we justify our terrible acts and even attempt to glorify them."

Professor Erich Fromm, the noted Jewish writer and thinker, had this to add: "It is often said that the Arabs fled, that they left the country voluntarily, and that they therefore bear the responsibility for losing their property and their land. But, in general international law, the principle holds true that no citizen loses his property or his rights of citizenship, and the citizenship right is a de facto right to which the Arabs in Palestine have much more legitimacy than the Jews. Just because the Arabs fled?" Professor Fromm asks. "Since when is that punishable by confiscation of property and by being barred from returning to the land on which a people's forefathers have lived for generations? The claim of the Jews to the land of Israel cannot be a realistic political claim. If all nations would suddenly claim territories in which their forefathers have lived two thousand years ago this world would be a madhouse."

The Zionists went ahead coldbloodedly with their sinister scheme to vacate Palestine of its people, by the use of terror, massacres and frightening rumors.

Arthur Koestler, the pro-Zionist author, described what happened at Deir Yassin on April 9th, 1948, as the "blood bath that was the psychologically decisive factor in the Arabs' spectacular exodus."

On that day, the Zionist terrorist organization Irgun Zvei Leumi killed 250 men, women and children. After 1948 there were other mass killings in occuped Palestine, e.g. Ikrit (1951), Al Tira (1953), Abu Ghosh (1953), Kafr Kassem (1956), etc., as part of the systematic Zionist plan for the complete evacuation of the Palestinians, to be replaced by Jewish settlers from all over the world.

These were the conditions that forced the Palestinians to leave their homeland.

The Zionists did not come to a country without people. There lived in Palestine a people with a civilization. They reacted to the Zionist challenge by education, economic and human mobilization, and competed with the Zionists in the fields of management, finance and technology.

With all their efforts, by 1947 the Zionists had only been able to acquire 5.6% of the total area of Palestine. However, the 1947 U.N. resolution for partition allowed them 56% of Palestine, and by terror and aggression they went on to occupy 80% in 1948. Today, after the June 5 1967 aggression, the rest of our Palestine is occupied, as well as Sinai and the Golan Heights.

For twenty years, the Palestinians were the victims of world procrastination. While many resolutions were passed in the United Nations, the Israelis continued to occupy more and more territory while the world remained indifferent. Under such conditions, the only alternative left to the Palestinians was armed revolution.

I am sure that the facts of the case are very clear to you. You can visualize the conditions under which our people have suffered. For twenty years most of the Palestinians have lived in a diaspora of shabby tents, misery and the humiliation of a meager dole. In this schizophrenic world of [illegible] the rights of Africans, Asians and Polynesians were recognized and espoused, while Palestinian rights were disregarded and forgotten. Not even the tragedy of the heroic Angolans, South Africans and Zimbabwans equalled theirs. For, alon[illegible] ong these oppressed people, the Palestinians were totally uprooted from their land and completely denied the right to live on it and enjoy its fruits.

Our people have risen to arms because all other means have been exhausted. We refuse to accept misery and diaspora as our fate, and we refuse charity and compromise as solutions to our problem. We shall overcome: through a long-term liberation revolution to destroy the bases of colonialist aggression that frustrate the exercise of our inalienable rights, and to bring an end to the racist militarist regime that oppresses our people. We will fight so that peace with justice is restored to our land.

Our revol[illegible] started its first operations at the beginning [illegible] ce the June 5 war. With old rusty weapons and against heavy odds, our youth embarked on the revolution with all the determination and persistence of a long-oppressed people. Now as we embark on our fifth year of struggle, the fruits of our sacrifices are beginning to show. The Palestine Liberation Movement has succeeded in awakening our people, in rekindling its hope for a better future with dignity and respect in our own land. We are forcing the enemies of peace to admit their failure to extinguish our revolution, we are winning battles, and we are starting to shape our destiny. We are not swayed by emotional appeals, we are not seekers of revenge, we are not bloodthirsty terrorists. We are freedom fighters with clear and mature goals. We are fighting today to create the new Palestine of tomorrow: A progressive, democratic, secular Palestine in which Christian, Moslem and Jew will worship, work, live peacefully and enjoy equal rights. This is no utopian dream or false promise, for we have always lived in peace, Moslems, Christians and Jews in the Holy Land. The Palestinian Arabs gave a refuge, a warm shelter and a helping hand to Jews fleeing persecution in Christian Europe and to the Armenians fleeing persecution in Moslem Turkey, as well as to Greeks, Circassians and Maltese among others.

Our Palestinian revolution still stretches its welcoming hand to all human beings who want to fight for, and live in, a democratic, tolerant Palestine, irrespective of race, color or religion.

During the last four years, some 500 of our people have given their lives on the battlefield. During the same period many more than that have died in refugee camps from bitter cold, poor nourishment and disease.

We are here to assert to you, and to ask you to confirm to your people, that our people will not lay down their arms until Palestine is liberated and our rights restored. We will not accept any settlement that denies us these rights, be it the Security Council's resolution, or any other proposal or political settlement ensuing from it. We will not accept any substitute to a war of national liberation and will tenaciously hold to it regardless of sacrifices and costs. Could anybody have asked you to accept anything less than total freedom from Nazism, fascism or colonialism? We are confident the people of the world will back our struggle and will support our revolution, for it is the struggle of man to achieve the loftiest of man's values: peace and justice.

"Dialogue with Abu-Ammar"
(Yasir Arafat)

Published by The Palestine
National Liberation Movement
(Fateh)

Translator's Introduction

This dialogue was conducted with "Abu-Amar" by Talal Salman, a Lebanese journalist who visited the fedayeen bases and wrote a series of articles in al-Sayyad, a Lebanese weekly magazine. The first article, "Dialogue with Abu-Amar", appeared in al-Sayyad on January 2, 1969.

The article is an important document because it presents the ideas and thoughts of the leader of al-Fateh in a comprehensive manner. "Abu-Amar" discusses the ideas of the Movement in clear terms, and attempts to answer critics by further explaining the Movement's stand on certain ambiguous questions.

A number of important ideas are clarified in this article. First, the emergence of "Palestinian identity" as an independent force, adopting armed struggle to regain the "land" and confront the Imperialist presence. Second, Fateh's relation to Arab governments is clarified. "Abu-Amar" stresses that the movement does not interfere in the local politics of the Arab governments. It depends on popular support and on the masses for protection. Fateh seeks a certain independence and in that sense it interferes in the affairs of Arab States; by existing on their territory, by moving freely, and by exercising the right to fight for liberation of the occupied territories. Third, Fateh appears as a unifying force, since its bases exist in most Arab states and its men move freely from one state to another. Fateh, therefore, works against regionalism and promotes Arab unity in action. Fourth, the question of ideology or leftist vs. rightist contraversy is clarified. "Abu-Amar" stresses that all Fateh men are of the wretched of the earth since they lack the means for existence.

Moreover, this is a stage of "liberation struggle," where actions are more important than words, and where efforts of all Palestinians are needed. Fateh has its orientation, however, and in terms of armed struggle against Imperialism, it is more leftist than the Soviet Union and the Arab Communist parties. Disagreement between Communist parties and Fateh exist over proposals for "peaceful settlement" of the conflict, for Fateh rejects any "peaceful settlements" and believes in armed struggle as the only solution.

At this stage of Arab history, Fateh ideas are popular and represent a turning point in Arab thought. They represent the beginning of a new Arab re-awakening, an attempt at the re-definition of the Arab being in terms of armed struggle. Fateh spearheads this re-awakening, it is the vanguard of the revolution, and it leads by action and armed struggle.

Fateh is thus the antithesis of Arab "revolutionary" thought, which was limited to slogans and devoid of any action in the form of armed struggle. Fateh is action and armed struggle, and the new synthesis between action and thought will be [illegible] free and liberated Arab human being.

This article is the product of an open discussion with "Abu Amar". I hope it represents a true and comprehensive picture of his ideas, which are the ideas of the "Palestine National Liberation Movement - Fateh".

As I entered the cave, Abu Amar's voice greeted me: "Welcome." He then added, "We are in a state of alert as you know, and this make it necessary for us to cancel many of our meetings. I am sorry for having made you wait this morning."

I shook his hand and greeted the men as I walked inside. I sat on a chair facing his small table. Abu Amar smiled as I looked at his small face: his shiny eyes, his flat nose, and the natural moustache. His clothes were simple, the same as what other fighters wore.

I began with, "I have a number of questions in mind, as do many people, about "Fateh" and its ideas and operations. Much has been written and said about "Fateh" and its ideas and operations. Much has been written and said about "Fateh" in newspapers and magazines all over the world, and it is necessary to explain and answer."

He said quickly: "I do not understand this concern with Fateh. Everybody asks of Fateh; others criticize Fateh, and every time the accusation is different. Once we were accused of being "Moslem Brethren", another time of being "Chinese Communists", a third time "Ba'thists", and after June 5th it was said we were "Nasserites". Others, of course, insist we are a satellite of Saudi Arabia. Why? How can we be all these things at the same time? We do not find it necessary to deny these accusations because they are not true and the contradictions in them are the proof." He continued with a smile, before I asked him a new question: "Now the situation is different. Poems of praise are written about us. Those who accused us before, now view us as heroes who have given back to this Arab nation its confidence and its hope for victory at a time when it was sunk in the shame of defeat."

I said: "Some explain the accusations against you as a result of not clarifying your ideological ide[illegible]y ..." Abu Amar moved and said: "This is the [illegible]ux of the matter. Let us first define our terms. What is meant by ideological identity? Is it to declare to people my belief in Marxism? Is this what I have to do at this stage? Everybody inquires about the social content of our movement and our revolution. Is this the time for defining the social content? Are we not, still, at a stage of national liberation? How do you expect me, then, to deprive many classes of the Palestinian people of their right to participate in the struggle for liberation?"

I said, arguing: "Let us define, at the same time, the forces we are fighting. The enemy is Israel, Zionism, and the imperialist powers that sup[illegible]t it..."

Abu Amar interrupted me: "Usually people describe Israel as a fort guarding imperialist interests in the Arab World ... I prefer to compare Israel to the East India Company."

I then continued: "The battle then is not only against the state of Israel, but against all imperialist presence on Arab soil. Thus it is not a battle for Palestinians alone, but for all Arabs. Israel now occupies, in addition to Palestine, Egyptian and Syrian territories, and its expansionist designs include Lebanon, East Jordan, and parts of Iraq."

Abu Amar said: "That is true. But I am a Palestinian first, and as a Palestinian I am a refugee, homeless, without a country or a land. Is it expected of me to wait and slumber until the Arab revolution explodes? I have to struggle to regain my country. Others, too, need to struggle. The Syrian people must struggle to liberate their occupied territories, the Egyptian people must fight to regain Sinai. As for me, my battle is here, on Palestine's land and for it." I said: "But you do not exist in isolation. You move within specific conditions imposed upon you by the imperialist presence."

Abu Amar continued, as he pointed to his Soviet machine gun: "For me, as a Palestinian, I made the choice and chose to face the Imperialist presence...with the gun alone I confront it." --"You are free in your choice, but you will certainly clash with the present Arab 'establishments'."

Abu Amar said seriously: "Yes, the clash did, in fact, occur. Before June 5th, we were accused of aiming at involving Arab governments in a war for which they were not prepared. It was said that, as agents of CENTO, we were conspiring to embarass the progressive governments and preparing for their overthrow. After June 5th, we were told, 'If you fire one bullet we will consider you criminals and traitors... your action now would be irresponsible, and will lead to the destruction of the Arab nation, so calm down and stop your play ... or else.'" Abu Amar smiled and went on: "If our movement was not genuine and was not expressing the consciousness and will of our people, we would be hanged in a number of Arab states for high treason." He added: "When they (the governments) saw the Israeli alarm about our Movement and the Arab popular support we received because we refused to accept defeat and surrender, they rallied to us."

He continued: "Before, the Arab governments could delay our struggle and prevent it. But the situation has changed now. We have become strong, much stronger than they think, and the source of our strength is not guns or the number of men who carry them, rather the source of our strength is the Arab people. You might ask here: 'Why, then, do we proclaim that we will not interfere in other Arabs' affairs?' This question has caused much [illegible] and has been used against us. Let me, however, assure you; we are the ones who interfere in Arab affairs the most. We impose our presence on all Arab governments, and impose on them the fulfillment of all our demands. We get from them all we ask for. This cannot be an indication of weakness, but on the contrary. There is no necessity for a conflict with them if they support the Palestinian revolution. But if they forbid us what we need, then we will not remain silent."

Without being interrupted, he continued: "Let me give you an example from Lebanon to clarify the idea. In principle, we have no right to give an opinion about the present Lebanese regime. It is not our duty to demand or work for a change of government; that is the duty of the Lebanese people, and it is not for us, therefore, to give an opinion about internal matters, to demand the resignation of Al-Yafi's government or the appointment of this or that minister. Our only interest is that the Lebanese regime does not stand against the Resistance Movement to destroy it. Even if the regime attempts to strike against us, we would not retaliate to overthrow it. Rather we would let the Lebanese people express their will. The day the incident of Kafr Shuba occurred, Fateh men and the Al-Asifah fighters did not demonstrate to demand protection for the Resistance Movement. It was the Lebanese people who demonstrated and demanded protection for the Resistance Movement. This is also [illegible] concerning Jordan. We never thought of asking King Hussein to remove such and such minister, and appoint another. We never asked him to remove any officer or governor and such internal matters. We do, however, exercise our right for self-protection and for the continuation of our struggle."

Abu Amar continued in a serious tone: "Do you know how many martyrs we lost on 4/11/1968 (referring to the clash between the Jordanian security forces and the Resistance Movement)? We had 17 martyrs. Hundreds of innocent and unarmed civilians were also injured. If we had not been wise that day and if we had not controlled ourselves, we would have witnessed a great massacre. We informed the King of our intentions clearly. We told him that we will not interfere in his government's internal affairs, except when our own existence is threatened. What is our basic demand from Jordan at this stage? Our demands are: to exist on its territory, to move freely among Palestinians, and to have the right of dying for our land."

I asked him: "The relation between Arab governments and the Palestinian Resistance Movement could deteriorate...if a "peaceful settlement" is reached the picture will change and the governments would attempt to liquidate the Resistance Movement. What then?"

Abu Amar answered: "That is possible, and I assure you that we are in a state of alertness, because we expect attempts at our liquidation anytime. We know that some Arab governments are using us, in their international contacts, as a trump card in their play at reaching a "peaceful settlement". But these governments do not know that we are now stronger than ever. We are the third largest force here ... right after the Jordanian Army and the Iraqi forces in Jordan. This is our own military strength. We also derive strength from popular support here, in Jordan, and abroad. This support stems from the determination of our nation to resist defeat and to attain victory.

I am not boasting when I say that we (Fateh) have affirmed the nation's will for victory. After June 5th, we alone moved and declared with our bullets that the war was not ended, that the Palestinian people still exist and that the Arab nation is stronger than defeat. Our revolution is the clear declaration of our will. We regard all "peaceful settlements" as surrender and nothing else. You must have heard what "Al-Asifah" Radio said about the Soviet proposal. "Al-Asifah" criticized it in strong terms, and affirmed that the Palestinian people alone determine their destiny."

I listened, engrossed, as he continued: "It is strange that we are accused of regionalism when we, in practice, have ended all divisions. We do not recognize borders. Our men move from one Arab state to another with Fateh identity cards only. We work on every Arab soil and wherever Palestinians are. We have bases in Syria, we train our forces in Iraq, Egypt and Algeria, and wherever the opportunity is offered us (China and Viet-Nam). We have active groups in Saudi Arabia, Kuwait and the Gulf area. It is not reasonable for us, in order to defend ourselves against the accusation of regionalism, to attempt to overthrow King Faisal, or the government in Qatar or Bahrain or any other Arab state. We are not willing to discuss the problems and orientations of any Arab government and we are not willing to take a stand vis-a-vis any government on the basis of its outlooks - for example, about socialism."

I then said: "Now we are beginning to discuss the problem of the left...."

Abu Amar answered in a strong voice: "Everybody asks if we are right or left ... foreign correspondents ask about this. Our brethren, the [illegible] (Al-Qawmiyun Al-Arab) accuse us of being rightists. I read an article in Al-Huriyah a few days ago, which claimed that we betray the armed struggle due to our class composition."

He turned to the men around him, laughed and asked: "Men, I have forgotten where my father's property is.... Do you remember?" He continued, as the men quieted down: "There are no capitalists, exploiters or bourgeois among Fateh men. You have visited our bases. Did you see any rich fighters? We are all of the wretched of the earth. Actually, we are the poorest of the world, for as Palestinians, we lack not only the means for existence, but our own country, and that is the worst kind of poverty."

I said: "You are now confirming what the leftists are saying ..."

Abu Amar answered with emotion: "I am a refugee. We are a nation of refugees. Do you know the meaning of being a refugee? I am a human being who has lost everything. I own nothing. Even my country has been taken from me and I have been kicked out. What is the meaning of Left or Right in this liberation struggle? I want my country even if the devils liberate it for me. As a Palestinian, I do not, anyhow, have the time to spend on arguing left or right. Am I in a position to refuse the participation and help of any human being? Do you ask me to refuse money from Saudi Arabia because they are rightists? But with their money, we buy weapons from China. How do you call this action, leftist or rightist? The problem in my mind and in the mind of other Palestinians is simple, and there is no need for complications. We have been expelled from our country which is being occupied by another people through the force of arms and by the aid of Imperialism. It is our duty and our right to work for the liberation of our land and to regain it even by force of arms. The confusion is due to extraneous complications. If we deal with the situation in simple terms, we can understand it better. Words do not mean a thing. What is important is action and results."

I said: "But action is tied to thought ... and Fateh, as a revolutionary movement, must have a clear ideology. Not every person who carries a gun is a revolutionary. In this complex battle which was imposed on the Palestinian people and the Arab nation, ideology seems to be the most needed instrument ... " Abu Amar calmly asked me to explain what I meant exactly. I said: "Isn't our battle against Israel and Zionism a battle against colonialism and imperialism at the same time?" He answered: "Yes, certainly ... "

- "Are Israel's designs limited to Palestine alone?"

- "No, they include most Arab states... "

- "Isn't the Zionist presence directly related to imperialist interests in our area?"

- "Yes.... "

- "Aren't imperialist interests reflected in one way or another by Arab governments?"

- "Yes... "

- "Isn't then our confrontation with Israel, as an imperialist base and outpost for the protection of imperialist interests, a direct clash with all imperialist forces?"

Abu Amar answered: "You mean from this analysis that we should be in the 'leftist' camp. Let me tell you then: we are the most 'leftist' of all people on earth. Don't be surprised. Isn't the Soviet Union the leader of the 'leftist' camp in the world? We are more 'leftist' than the Soviet Union itself, because the Soviet Union calls for a "peaceful settlement" and presents proposals for that purpose. We refuse "peaceful settlements" and all their proposals. Are the Arab Communist parties more 'leftist' than us? Let me say frankly that they are not, for Communist parties advocated at one time, peace with Israel, which you call an imperialist base in our midst, on our land."

I said: "But I am not arguing with you from a Communist point of view."

He then continued: "I understand that.. But they have, until this time, reservations about the Resistance Movement, and they (the Communists) say that we are fanatics and extremists, driven by religious feelings. The Soviets told me that; they said that we are making matters worse, that we do not understand the nature of our present struggle and, therefore, we are overextending ourselves. I want to ask you: Is our struggle with Israel simply due to its military fascist regime? And if leftists do reach power in Israel would that solve the problem?"

I said: "Rest assured that there are no true socialists in Israel, for socialism cannot survive in an exclusive society based on religion and race."

Abu Amar continued: "Even if you believe that, it is still premature to demand that our new revolutionary movement have a social content. Do you want us to specify the nature of the regime to be in Palestine after its liberation, now? That discussion would be too early. Moreover, to speak of a social content for our Resistance Movement at this time would reflect a leftist missionary zeal and a leftist immaturity. We are now in a stage of national liberation. At this stage all ideological differences which are a form of theoretical luxury, must be forgotten until liberation is won. Then, we can disagree among ourselves as much as we like over leftist, rightist, socialist or liberal ideas...

We are not a party. We are a group of Palestinians who have discovered, before others, that our country will not be returned to us unless we fight for its liberation. So, we have carried weapons and begun the armed struggle without trying to exhaust our thoughts over ideological analyses."

I said: "But when you carry the gun, then by necessity you are in the leftist camp."

Abu Amar explained: "It is not fair that you ask us to be more radical than Mao Tse-Tung. He fought Chiang Kai-Shek who defended the bourgeoisie; but when Japan occupied China, Mao formed an alliance with Chiang Kai-Shek, because the liberation of the country was more important than the ideological differences over the form of government. Why do you ask us to remove basic and effective nationalist forces from our revolution, especially at a time when we need the effort of all the Palestinian people? What right do I have to classify Palestinians? The only criteria for judgment is dedication to the revolution. Those who join the revolution are therefore nationalists. We cannot refuse the financial aid of those who provide it because they are bourgeois or capitalists. Can you, anyhow, show me any Palestinians who are capitalists? They do not exist. Those who became wealthy had lived for years in the Arabian Gulf and made their wealth by hard work and by their own efforts; there are no capitalists among us. The majority are homeless, refugees. I need money, and money is a basic factor for the revolution, for with money I buy arms and protect the martyrs' families. Where can I get

I answer it: "From the people..."

He continued: "Do I get money from the governments? No, I get it from the people. But I am not going to examine the money to determine whether it came from small business men or big business men. There is no difference among them except in their devotion to the revolution. Many people claim that our money comes from "reactionary governments" because we are, according to them, "Moslem Brethren". You can trust, however, that most of Fateh's money comes from popular contributions ... but we do not refuse aid if it comes from the far right or the far left.

"Let us examine matters in simple terms. Our problem is clear: our land is occupied and we [illegible] to fight for its liberation. We have sacrificed [illegible] for this purpose. What more can we do to prove that we are loyal to our people's cause? We are refugees. You have seen the refugees, standing in line before the UNRWA offices - waiting for their rations. That picture is changing, and we are changing it. Compare that picture to what you see in the guerrilla bases. Without using leftist childishness or leftist zeal we can tell you in simple terms: while this nation experienced the pain of defeat, our young [illegible] to [illegible] back [illegible] [illegible]. We have [illegible] ourselves to the Arab nation. Some claimed that we were a backward people that could not determine our own destiny. We have proved this contention to be false. We have proved it by our action and not by discussions around the coffee tables. We are struggling. Let others struggle too; let them realize [illegible] and we will salute them. We struggle and through action our thoughts will emerge and crystallize. At this stage, theoretical discussions about social content, left or right are a waste of time and effort."

42

Abu Amar glared at me: "Look at the Israelis. They liquidated all their ideological differences and united as ONE. Shouldn't we unite?"

The time was already 2:00 after midnight. The men were still wide awake and ready. I said to Abu Amar: "I have taken much of your time."

He replied: "Not at all. You are always welcome. We welcome questions and the exchange of views, but we will not disregard, for a moment, our enemies' plans. We are always on the alert. We try to uncover the aims of our enemy and that takes time. Believe me, the most important thing at this stage is to direct all energies to the battle."

I bid him and the men farewell and left with some fedayeen (freedom fighters) for Amman.

also known as
Black Panther Party for Self Defense

According to the official newspaper of the BPP, the BPP was started during December, 1966, in Oakland, California, to organize black people so they can take control of the life, politics, and the destiny of the black community. It was organized by BOBBY G. SEALE, BPP Chairman, and HUEY P. NEWTON, Minister of Defense, BPP.

The official newspaper, called "The Black Panther," regularly states that the BPP advocates the use of guns and guerrilla tactics in its revolutionary program to end oppression of the black people. Residents of the black community are urged to arm themselves against the police who are consistently referred to as "pigs" who should be killed.

The newspaper, in its issue of September 7, 1968, had an article by the then Minister of Education, GEORGE MURRAY. This article ended with the following:

> "Black men. Black people, colored persons of America, revolt everywhere! Arm yourselves. The only culture worth keeping is revolutionary culture. Change. Freedom everywhere. Dynamite! Black power. Use the gun. Kill the pigs everywhere."

The BPP newspaper, issue of October 5, 1968, had an article introduced with the following statement: "We will not dissent from American government. We will overthrow it."

DAVID HILLIARD, Chief of Staff, BPP, in a speech at the San Francisco Polo Field on November 15, 1969, said "We will kill Richard Nixon."

DAVID HILLIARD, in the "New York Times," issue of December 13, 1969, was quoted as follows: "We advocate the very direct overthrow of the government by way of force and violence."

In the issue of April 25, 1970, the BPP newspaper had an article by Minister of Culture EMORY DOUGLAS as follows:

> "The only way to make this racist US government administer justice to the people it is oppressing, is...by taking up arms against this government, killing the officials, until the reactionary forces...are dead and those that are left turn their weapons on their superiors, thereby passing revolutionary judgement against the number one enemy of all mankind, the racist US government."

The BPP Headquarters is located at 1046 Peralta Street, Oakland, California. Branches of the BPP, and Committees to Combat Fascism, under control of the BPP, have been established in various locations in the USA.

LEAGUE OF REVOLUTIONARY BLACK WORKERS Also known as Dodge Revolutionary Union Movement (DRUM)

A source advised on April 22, 1970, that the League of Revolutionary Black Workers (LRBW) is a black extremist labor union, with headquarters at 179 Cortland, Highland Park, Michigan, in the greater Detroit metropolitan area. Source advised that the LRBW is attempting to oust the United Auto Workers (UAW) from their position as bargaining representative for black workers in the Detroit area automotive plants. Source advised that the LRBW has used threats of violence against both black and white supervisory personnel and UAW leaders in an attempt to intimidate them into an agreement with LRBW demands. The LRBW has referred to the automotive industry and the UAW as "racist".

A second source advised that membership in the LRBW is limited to Negroes only, by virtue of the LRBW constitution which states "membership is denied to all honkies due to the fact that said honkey has been the historic enemy, betrayer and exploiter of black people." Membership in the LRBW is less than 25 persons.

The second source also stated that the LRBW had suborganizations operating at Ford Motor Company which was known as the Ford Revolutionary Union Movement (FRUM) and Eldon Avenue Gear and Axle Plant (ELRUM) as well as other assembling and supplying plants, but that at the present the LRBW is active only at the Dodge Main Assembly Plant in Hamtramck, Michigan. This suborganization is known as Dodge Revolutionary Union Movement (DRUM). The other suborganizations are now defunct.

"INNER CITY VOICE"

The "Inner City Voice" (ICV) was registered with the Wayne County Clerk's Office, Assumed Names Division on August 4, 1967, by KENNETH JOHN WATSON, under Certificate Number 208945.

A bulletin entitled, "Build Black Newspaper" dated July, 1967, stated, "A group of black revolutionaries in Detroit, Michigan, have begun work on the production of a new newspaper. It is hoped that the first edition of the 'Inner City Voice', will appear on the newsstand in August of 1967." According to the bulletin, the ICV's goal is the building of a mass circulating revolutionary propaganda program. The bulletin stated the newspaper was to concentrate on local news, cultural and social events, as well as providing coverage of radical politics.

A source advised on March 17, 1970, that the ICV was published from July of 1967 through June of 1968, when it was terminated. In the fall of 1969 a newspaper similar to ICV appeared on Detroit newsstands which was called "SAUTI", meaning Voice in Swahili. This publication, in its first edition stated that it emerged from the ICV, and its purpose, in addition to the above, would be to exist as the official organ of the League of Revolutionary Black Workers (LRBW). In January of 1970, an edition of "SAUTI" stated that it would continue publication under the old name of "Inner City Voice" and would provide coverage of the black extremist labor movement. In the spring of 1970, the ICV did not publish the inflammatory articles which were common in 1967-68, but called for the overthrow of the United Auto Workers (UAW) leadership and control of black workers at Detroit area auto plants.

Source advised that the editors of the ICV are KENNETH JOHN WATSON, LUKE SAMUEL TRIPP, GENERAL GORDON BAKER, MICHAEL C. HAMLIN and RONALD LEE MARCH, all of whom source identified as members of the Central Committee of the LRBW.

ADMINISTRATIVE

The identity of HOWARD B. GODFREY is known to the Bureau.

This report is being classified "Confidential" because it contains information from SD T-1 and SD T-2, a confidential source of continuing value to the Bureau in security matters. The unauthorized disclosure of the information contained in the report could reasonably result in the identification of the informant which would be prejudicial to the defense interests of the nation.

All individuals referred to herein as leaders of the SAO in the San Diego area are either being actively investigated or have been so investigated in the past to determine whether they should be placed on the ADEX.

For the additional information of the Bureau and Kansas City, which is Office of Origin in the Minutemen investigation, all individuals associated with the Secret Army Organization (SAO) at San Diego are former members of the Minutemen organization or sympathizers or supporters of that organization. Inasmuch as information contained in this report covers the main areas of Minutemen-type activity within the San Diego area and due to the fact that the individuals who have formed the SAO consider the Minutemen organization to effectively be non-existent, this report is being submitted to Kansas City in lieu of the regular report on Minutemen activity at San Diego.

INFORMANT

For the information of the Phoenix Division, SD 1155-E reported on 11/9/71 that the SAO had received a written request from one CHARLES MANLEVE, 2938 North Seventeen Drive, Phoenix, Arizona, asking for information regarding the SAO.

In connection with its investigation of the individual named JOHN OWEN BURTON as referred to in Las Vegas letter dated 12/6/71 and Phoenix letter dated 12/17/71, Oklahoma City should note that, in early January, 1972, JERRY LYNN DAVIS, SAO leader at San Diego, indicated to SD 1155-E that there were one or — INFORMANT more individuals in the State of Oklahoma, exact location not known, who DAVIS referred to as contacts of the SAO.

INFORMANT

In addition, it is noted that SD 1155-E has advised of other contacts of the SAO or written requests for information about the SAO from areas within the Kansas City, El Paso, Baltimore, Los Angeles, Portland, and Sacramento Divisions.

Part II, C., of this report sets forth information regarding an incident in which a young woman, PAULA ELAINE THARP, was injured by sniper fire while at the residence of a San Diego State College professor named PETER GEORGE BOHMER.

Both THARP and BOHMER are subjects of investigation in the San Diego Division on the basis of their activities in the New Left Movement.

BOHMER's residence is a commune known as "The Box," which is a focal point of New Left activity in San Diego and, at this time, is primarily concerned with formulating plans for confrontations and demonstrations during the 1972 Republican National Convention at San Diego. It has been determined that THARP's wound is not serious in nature. SD 1155-E, who was present during the incident on an intelligence gathering assignment for the SAO, has identified the assailant as GEORGE M. HOOVER (San Diego 100-15356) who accompanied informant on this assignment. Informant has advised that this incident was not premeditated by the SAO or any member of it, including HOOVER, and that it was a spur of the moment action on HOOVER's part. This information has been disseminated on a confidential basis to the San Diego Police Department, which is investigating the incident.

It is noted that much of the printed literature and propaganda of the SAO has been forwarded to the Bureau via referenced Phoenix communications. However, in order to assure the completeness of this report, one copy of each piece of printed material distributed by the SAO is being included at the end of this report in a section marked "Addendum."

It is noted that details of this report include information dated prior to that of the investigative period. This information is included so as to show a more complete picture of the origin and structure of this organization.

A copy of this report is being disseminated locally to U.S. Secret Service, San Diego, California.

DETAILS: AT SAN DIEGO, CALIFORNIA

I. ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE

A. Location of Headquarters

On May 5, 1971, it was reported that JERRY LYNN DAVIS, leader of the SAO, in laying plans for the formation of the organization, wanted it to appear in several cities at the same time. However, the headquarters would be at San Diego, California.

(SD T-1, May 5, 1971)

On September 13, 1971, it was reported that, in preparation for future organizational work, DAVIS had rented several Post Office boxes in the San Diego area which would be used for this purpose. These included Post Office Box 5791, San Diego, California 92105, which was rented in DAVIS' name, and Post Office Box 503, Lemon Grove, California 92045, which was rented in the name of "Artist Supply." It was reported that "Artist Supply" was the name utilized for a mail drop operated by TROY HAUGHTON, former West Coast leader of the Minutemen (MM) organization.

(SD T-1, September 13, 1971)

The Minutemen (MM) is a paramilitant group organized in June, 1960, by ROBERT B. DE PUGH in Norborne, Missouri, as a resistance to the spread of communism in the United States by use of guerrilla tactics. DE PUGH is currently incarcerated in a Federal penitentiary for violation of the Federal Firearms Act.

The Patriotic Party has been the political arm of the Minutemen.

[illegible] Patrick McDonald [illegible]

On January 7, 1972, it was reported that the organization has no formal headquarters and that it is operated out of the homes of JERRY LYNN DAVIS and other members.

[illegible] Spring Valley, Calif.

B. Charter Information

On January 7, 1972, it was reported that the SAO has no plans for formulating charters as such for the parent or subsidiary groups.

(SD T-2, January 7, 1972)

C. Objectives

On May 5, 1971, it was reported that JERRY LYNN DAVIS was highly interested in forming a new Right Wing group to organize people in various localities and to provide them with military-type training for the purpose of being ready to eventually take over political power in the United States when the present government fails due to oppression or communist influence.

(SD T-1, May 5, 1971)

On December 20, 1971, it was reported that, in correspondence with another similar group, DAVIS stated that, although the SAO was a new organization with a new name, it would continue to adhere to the tenets and principles of the old MM organization.

(SD T-1, December 20, 1971)

On January 7, 1972, it was reported that the SAO intended to conduct intelligence-type operations and to offer training in urban guerrilla warfare to be used against Left Wing groups and suspected enemies of the United States.

A leaflet entitled, "Join the Secret Army Organization" was made available which offered the following statements of purpose:

"1) To prepare the means of personal defense and survival in case of enemy attack.

2) To resist and expose the spread of communist influence and propaganda within our own national boundaries.

3) To investigate by means of our own secret memberships the infiltration of communist sympathizers into American organizations of government, business, labor, religion and education.

4) To resist by any and all means the passage of laws which regulate the private ownership of firearms or which detract from the individual's ability to defend his own family and personal property.

5) To promote knowledge and skill in the use of arms by our own members and by the general public.

6) To form in advance of actual need a secret underground organization equipped to spy upon, harrass and destroy troops of any foreign power that might occupy United States territory.

7) To lend assistance and support wherever possible to other resistance organizations, domestic or foreign, opposing communist expansion or subversion.

8) To pursue these programs as private citizens motivated only by patriotism and to remain entirely free of government subsidies or control."

(SD T-2, January 7, 1972)

D. Officers

On January 7, 1972, it was reported that, if the organization continues to progress as originally envisioned, it will eventually be operated by a General Staff. This General Staff will be composed of JERRY LYNN DAVIS, 2393 Washington, Spring Valley, California, with the title of "Commander," and the leaders of various area groups who will hold the title of "Captain." At the present time, such area groups tentatively exist in the following places:

San Diego, California
with the "Captain" being HOWARD B. GODFREY 746 Graves
El Cajon, California

GODFREY is a former MM and will be Number Two man in the SAO.

Phoenix, Arizona
where the "Captains" will be EVERETT MOORE and his wife. The MOOREs are known MM leaders in the Phoenix area.

Seattle, Washington
where the "Captain" will be CY ANDERSON
10418 N.E. 168th Place
Bothell, Washington

Las Vegas, Nevada
where the "Captains" will be JACK DOYLE and ED (LNU)
Post Office Box 2191
Las Vegas, Nevada
These individuals allegedly have former connections with the MM organization.

(SD T-2, January 7, 1972)

E. Summary of Overall Activities

On May 5, 1971, it was reported that JERRY LYNN DAVIS was continually talking about the plans he was making to start a new organization. According to DAVIS, he considered the MM organization to be defunct, at least in the San Diego area and in most of the Western states, and felt the need to organize a new Right Wing group to fill the power vacuum which it had left. He indicated that he knew people in Phoenix, Arizona; Portland, Oregon; Seattle, Washington, and Las Vegas, Nevada, who he wanted to contact regarding such an organization, feeling that they would be highly interested in helping to organize and get it going. He said his plans included having Post Office boxes rented for the new organization in all these cities and having leaflets and stickers regarding the organization printed using the respective Post Office box numbers. On a pre-determined day, press releases would be made in each of these cities announcing the formation of the organization with the leaflets and stickers being put up in the cities on the same day. This would be done for the purpose of disguising the location of the national headquarters, which would be actually located in San Diego, California.

(SD T-1, May 5, 1971)

On September 13, 1971, it was reported that DAVIS had become very interested in the National Socialist White Peoples Party (NSWPP) as a possible answer to the need for a Right Wing group in the San Diego area. He was reportedly studying that organization and considering becoming a member.

(SD T-2, September 13, 1971)

> The National Socialist White Peoples Party, also known as The American Nazi Party, American Nazis, and The George Lincoln Rockwell Party, was organized on February 26, 1956, at Arlington, Virginia, based upon the concept of an international "National Socialist" movement as espoused by the German Nazi Party headed by Adolf Hitler. The organization supports and follows the line of hatred against Negroes, Jews, and communists through various propaganda media seeking a legitimate dominant political party in the United States and foreign countries.

On September 16, 1971, it was reported that, while very interested in the NSWPP, DAVIS was still considering going ahead with plans for the new organization. In addition, DAVIS indicated that he expected to obtain membership lists and the necessary materials for setting up application forms, bulletins and training literature for the new organization from BETTIE HAUGHTON, wife of TROY HAUGHTON. DAVIS said he would attempt to have the bulletins, training materials, and membership application forms printed in the near future and that, tentatively, the responsibility for making the monthly mail-outs would alternate between DAVIS and GODFREY. DAVIS advised that O. A. ALEXANDER of Alex Rapid Print, 7609 El Cajon Boulevard, La Mesa, California, had agreed to print some of these materials. ALEXANDER was described as a former MM supporter who had allowed TROY HAUGHTON to use his printing facilities for the benefit of the West Coast MM organization.

Other plans for the new organization included eventually setting up two membership lists which would be recorded on microfilm. One of the lists would be maintained by DAVIS and the other by GODFREY. The purpose in placing the membership lists on microfilm was for easy destruction. Two lists were to be maintained to guard against the possibility of one being lost or destroyed.

(SD T-2, September 16, 1971)

On October 8, 1971, it was reported that DAVIS had chosen the name "Secret Army Organization" for his new group. In addition, it was learned DAVIS had had 1,000 copies each of letterhead stationery and membership application forms for the SAO printed up the previous weekend. DAVIS also advised that he, GODFREY, and other associates would attend the Annual Yuma Gun Show at Yuma, Arizona, on October 16 and October 17, 1971, at which time he expected contact would be made with people attending the gun show from Phoenix, Arizona, and Seattle, Washington, regarding the SAO.

(SD T-1, October 8, 1971)

On October 16, and October 17, 1971, DAVIS, GODFREY, and STANLEY DON MC DADE, a prospective member of the SAO residing at 4114 Massachusetts, La Mesa, California, were in attendance at the Yuma Gun Show. Following the gun show, a meeting was held in a motel room at Yuma, Arizona, with persons in attendance, including the above three individuals and EVERETT MOORE and his wife from Phoenix, Arizona, and CY ANDERSON from Seattle, Washington. The topic of discussion was the SAO and those attending the meeting were in general agreement that a new cohesive force was necessary among Right Wing groups as a result of the power vacuum left by the disintegration of the MM organization. MOORE and ANDERSON tentatively agreed to having their respective groups join the SAO subject to the approval of the members of these groups. Copies of printed material of the SAO, including a leaflet entitled, "History of the Secret Army Organization," a copy of the first bulletin of the SAO entitled, "To Prospective Members of the Secret Army Organization," and membership application forms were passed around among the group.

It was decided that subsequent contacts regarding expansion of the SAO would be made and that the San Diego area mail drop for the Phoenix group would be the address of HOWARD FRANCIS CLARK, 1080 6th Street, Ramona, California, a former member of the MM organization.

En route to the gun show, CY ANDERSON's automobile had broken down some place in the State of Nevada and it had been necessary for him to hire transportation from there to the gun show. After the gun show, DAVIS drove to Las Vegas, Nevada, accompanied by ANDERSON, to make contact with people known to him regarding the SAO.

It was reported that DAVIS, who is part American Indian, had abandoned the idea of joining the NSWPP when he learned in late September, 1971, that the NSWPP is adamantly opposed to persons having American Indian blood, considering them to be of an inferior race. It was felt that this fact was responsible for DAVIS' decision to finally go ahead and organize the SAO.

It was also reported that, in addition to the letterhead stationery and application forms, several thousand copies of the history leaflet and the first bulletin had also been printed at the same time as well as a number of stickers advertising for the SAO. The printing of these materials was done by BETTIE HAUGHTON on an offset press which she had maintained since the time her husband was in the MM organization. Many copies of these printed materials have been sent out to people known in the past to have been MM members or other Right Wing sympathizers.

The meeting mentioned in the first paragraph of the history leaflet is actually a disguised reference to the meeting which took place in the motel room at Yuma, Arizona, on October 17, 1971.

(SD T-2, October 20, 1971)

DAVIS returned home from Las Vegas, Nevada, on the evening of October 23, 1971. He stated that the reason for this delay was that he had become very involved in Las Vegas with meeting people and with organizing the SAO indicating that arrangements had been made for the group he contacted at Las Vegas to join the SAO. He further advised that arrangements had been made to get insignia patches from CY ANDERSON for the berets that SAO members would be given to wear.

(SD T-2, October 26, 1971)

On October 27, 1971, DAVIS was reported to have advised that ANDERSON had gone to El Paso, Texas, from Las Vegas, Nevada, to make contact with people known to him there. DAVIS advised he expected ANDERSON to be in San Diego on October 29, 1971, for additional discussions regarding the organizing of the SAO. DAVIS said he also felt the need for him and GODFREY to travel to Phoenix, Arizona, sometime in December, 1971, for the purpose of recontacting EVERETT MOORE regarding the SAO.

(SD T-2, October 27, 1971)

On November 9, 1971, it was reported that CY ANDERSON had spent approximately a day and a half at DAVIS' residence discussing the SAO. Resulting from these discussions were tentative plans for a trip during December, 1971, or January, 1972, during which DAVIS and ANDERSON would travel through Arizona to El Paso, Texas, following which they would cross the border at Juarez, Mexico, and drive to Mexico City. Returning from Mexico City, they would travel to Las Vegas where the individual named ED (Last Name Unknown) would be picked up and who would then travel with them to Denver, Colorado, and the State of Montana. The purpose of the trip would be to contact people regarding expansion of the SAO and to solicit support for that organization.

(SD T-2, November 9, 1971)

On December 17, 1971, correspondence was observed at the DAVIS residence from an individual named JESSE CLAYBURN STEVENS at Silver Springs, Maryland. The correspondence, which was addressed to the SAO, indicated that STEVENS was in control of at least part of what was left of the former MM organization on the East Coast. In the letter, STEVENS expressed hatred for ROBERT BOLIVAR DE PUGH, former national leader of the MM organization, and interest in establishing future contact with the SAO. STEVENS also indicated that he corresponded with several individuals in the San Diego area and did not know who had furnished him information on the SAO. According to DAVIS, this was done by STANLEY DON MC DADE. In addition, DAVIS advised he is known to STEVENS by the alias of PATRICK MC DONALD.

A letter replying to the above correspondence from STEVENS which DAVIS had written was also observed. In this letter, DAVIS also expressed interest in making contact with STEVENS' group. DAVIS indicated in his letter that, even though the SAO was a new organization with a new name, it would continue to adhere to the tenets and principles of the old MM organization.

(SD T-1, December 20, 1971)

[illegible]

On December 20, 1971, the SAO distributed several hundred copies of a special intelligence bulletin which it had prepared regarding PETER GEORGE BOHMER, a professor of Economics at San Diego State College, and a well-known figure in New Left activities in the San Diego area. The information contained in the bulletin was obtained by the SAO primarily from research of newspaper articles and surveillance of BOHMER's activities.

(SD T-1, December 20, 1971)

On December 29, 1971, it was reported that DAVIS had received additional correspondence from JESSE CLAYBURN STEVENS. In this letter, STEVENS agreed to the formation of an alliance between his group and the SAO. Guidelines which were set up would have STEVENS' group in control of Right Wing activities in the East and in the South, while the SAO would operate in the Western states. It was also agreed that the two groups should work on finding an individual in or near Chicago, Illinois, to act as coordinator of Right Wing activities in the Midwest area. DAVIS mentioned JAMES EVAN POTO as a good possibility in this regard. POTO, an SAO member at San Diego, is employed by a national restaurant chain and is expecting to be transferred to the Chicago area in the early part of 1972 to open a new restaurant there.

In addition, arrangements were made between SAO and STEVENS' group regarding the trading of information on individuals of interest to these organizations who reside in each other's areas. Furthermore, it was agreed that members of their respective groups would be transferred from one group to another if they should move to a new area.

STEVENS indicated that his group has microfilming equipment and "secure" messages between the two groups will be transmitted by microfilm as soon as the SAO acquires the necessary equipment.

(SD T-1, December 29, 1971)

On December 29, 1971, it was reported that BETTIE HAUGHTON will remarry in the near future and, upon doing so, expects to leave the San Diego area. At that time, she will give the offset press, which she has, to the SAO for its use.

DAVIS has been very busy recently preparing the next SAO bulletin. According to what he has said, this bulletin will contain eight pages of technical information dealing with explosives, booby traps and other weapons and will have two pages of general information regarding news, recruiting, and training.

(SD T-2, December 29, 1971)

On January 5, 1972, it was reported that the new SAO bulletin had been printed and was ready for distribution. In addition, DAVIS was reported to have stated that he wanted to begin work on a new special bulletin such as the one done by the SAO on PETER GEORGE BOHMER. However, this time the target of the bulletin would be a nationally-known figure of the New Left Movement.

(SD T-1, January 5, 1972)

F. Acquisition of Firearms and Explosives

On January 7, 1972, it was reported that most members of the SAO possess several firearms and frequently are armed. Furthermore, members of the SAO are endeavoring to acquire explosives and munitions of all descriptions.

(SD T-2, January 7, 1972)

II. ACTIVITIES OF LOCAL GROUPS

A. Name, Location, and Estimated Membership

On January 7, 1972, it was reported the SAO leadership considers that the organization has groups established at the following locations:

San Diego, California

The group at San Diego controls the State of California and has the same location as the national headquarters. This group has eight members and approximately the same number of prospective members and supporters.

Phoenix, Arizona

Moore

The Phoenix group controls the State of Arizona. There are only two individuals, EVERETT MORRE and his wife, known at this time, although, allegedly, a larger groups exists.

Seattle, Washington

This group controls the State of Washington and possibly Idaho and Oregon as well. Contact with only one individual, CY ANDERSON, is known, although a larger group allegedly exists.

Las Vegas, Nevada

This group controls the State of Nevada with at least two individuals, JACK DOYLE and ED (Last Name Unknown) and possibly more in the group.

In addition, DAVIS has claimed to have two members, names not known, at Carson, near Los Angeles, California, and to have made contact regarding the SAO with acquaintances in the States of Oklahoma and Kansas.

Furthermore, DAVIS has advised that individuals near Redding, California, and in the State of Maryland have written in requesting information on the SAO.

(SD T-2, January 7, 1972)

B. Officers

On January 7, 1972, it was reported that, for the time being, officers of local groups of the SAO will be the same as those listed for national and state positions of the SAO.

(SD T-2, January 7, 1972)

C. Summary of Activities

It is noted that most of the information regarding activities of the SAO at San Diego has been reported in the section entitled "Overall Activities" in order to more easily show the organization and growth of the group.

On January 7, 1972, an article appeared in the San Diego Union, daily newspaper at San Diego, California, and reported that, on the previous evening, a young woman at the residence of PETER GEORGE BOHMER had been wounded by sniper fire from an unknown assailant. According to the article, stickers regarding the SAO had been placed on the door of BOHMER's office at San Diego State College earlier that day and BOHMER had allegedly received threatening telephone calls from the SAO.

The article stated that the San Diego Police Department was investigating the incident.

On January 7, 1972, Detective ERNIE TRUMPER, Investigative Support Division, San Diego Police Department, advised that a witness at the scene of the shooting incident had described seeing two shots fired from a light blue 1964 Plymouth Valiant automobile. According to TRUMPER, the individual firing the shots had been described as a white male in his middle 20's, slender build, with dark curly hair and a light, neatly trimmed beard.

On January 7, 1972, it was reported that members of the SAO had indeed placed stickers on BOHMER's office door during the day on January 6, 1972. However, it was reported that the description of the vehicle and the assailant as furnished by the San Diego Police Department did not match any known SAO member or vehicle belonging to any SAO member.

III. FINANCES

On September 16, 1971, JERRY LYNN DAVIS was reported to have stated that he estimated the monthly operating cost of the organization he had in mind to be approximately $100.00.

He further advised that O. A. ALEXANDER of Alex Rapid Print had agreed to do printing for the SAO at cost.

(SD T-2, September 16, 1971)

On October 8, 1971, it was reported that initiation fees in the SAO would be $5.00 and that monthly dues of membership would be $3.00.

(SD T-1, October 8, 1971)

On November 26, 1971, DAVIS was reported to have stated that he had spent $300 of his own money on printing materials for the SAO and for other expenses.

(SD T-1, November 26, 1971)

On December 20, 1971, it was reported that the SAO had then spent $140 on printing its literature. The last bulletin put out by the group had been done at Alex Rapid Print at a cost of $3.50 for 200 copies. A total of $16.00 was spent on stamps to mail the bulletin out.

(SD T-2, December 20, 1971)

IV. PUBLICATIONS AND PROPAGANDA

On January 7, 1972, it was reported that present plans of the SAO call for putting out a monthly bulletin for members of the group and for other special bulletins, leaflets, posters and stickers as the need and occasion arises. Future plans call for the eventual publication of a bulletin which will be distributed publicly.

The SAO is presently contemplating using the slogan "We're Everywhere."

(SD T-2, January 7, 1972)

V. MISCELLANEOUS

Included at the end of this report as a special section marked "Addendum" is one copy of each piece of literature printed so far by the SAO.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

ADDENDUM

SECRET ARMY ORGANIZATION
GENERAL HEADQUARTERS

Dear Fellow American,

At the request of a mutual friend we are sending you this invitation to join the Secret Army Organization. Those of us who have been members for some time sincerely believe that our organization can be of real value in preserving for future generations the land of freedom and opportunity which our forefathers handed down to us.

It is the belief of our organization that the communist-socialist conspiracy has infiltrated the United States Government to such an extent that the American people cannot rely on this country's elected leaders to protect them from communist domination and slavery.

We believe that the time will come when the American people will have to fight for their lives, and their liberty. In this belief, we have formed in advance a secret underground army with but one objective, to defend our constitutional republic and to help our fellow Americans to do the same.

We do no want lukewarm members. We are an organization of people willing to make any sacrifice necessary for our country. If you feel the same way, we invite you to join us.

SECRET ARMY ORGANIZATION

SECRET ARMY ORGANIZATION
GENERAL HEADQUARTERS

Dear Fellow American,

Your letter of inquiry concerning the Secret Army Organization was received a few days ago. We have had so many inquiries during the past few months that it has been impossible to answer each of them promptly with a personal letter.

We certainly appreciate your interest in our organization and we hope you will join us in our battle for national and individual freedom. As you learn more about the Secret Army Organization I'm sure you will come to realize that we are not radicals, but are far more inclined to be quietly dedicated and clear thinking individuals.

Enclosed is some further information about our organization, its history, objectives and programs. After you have given this material careful study, we hope you will use the enclosed application form to join our organization. When sending in your application, do not put your return address or name on the outside of the envelope.

After your membership application has been processed, we would certainly welcome having you work with one of our local units, or better still, help you organize your own unit with our assistance after you have completed preliminary training.

Sincerely yours,

Captain Patrick McDonald

History of the Secret Army Organization

One early morning in February, 1970, a group of six Minutemen leaders from four states met secretly in Northern Arizona to discuss the crisis that the arrest and imprisonment of two top Minutemen leaders and the assassination of a third had brought on the organization. Although some of these men had met before in their roles as Minutemen group leaders, others were meeting for the first time.

After much discussion, two principal points were agreed upon. First, that the Minutemen as a national coordination organization of militant right-wing groups had effectively been destroyed by the pro-communist elements inside the Justice Department. While individual units still existed throughout the country, few had the financial support or leadership to be really effective. Second, that the need for such a coordinating organization was greater than ever in view of the increased revolutionary activity by communists in the United States.

With these two points in mind, suggestions were put forward on a course of action to be followed. After a meeting that lasted all that day and far into the next morning, an overall plan of action was finally agreed upon. All present agreed to merge their individual units together and form a new organization under the command of one leader elected from among themselves, with the other five to be members of a General Staff that would advise and assist the new leader.

While retaining the basic programs and policies of the Minutemen, it was decided that not only should this new organization have a different name, but also a completely new chain of command and organizational structure. If the new organization was going to survive the attacks that befell the old one, a whole new approach would be needed. Never again could the arrest or death of a few leaders be allowed to cripple the entire organization.

For this reason it was decided that only a highly disciplined military type orgainization with a definite chain of command would have any chance of success. This then, was the beginning of the Secret Army Organization. Beginning with an original force of hard core patriots that numbered fewer than two hundred, the Secret Army Organization began the job of picking up the pieces and continuing to fight for national and individual freedom. Using this cadre of dedicated personnel as a nucleus, the S. A. O. has been recruiting and training new members in the skills they will need as the freedom fighters of tomorrow.

The leaders of the S. A. O. have no idea of fighting a last ditch stand. We have no desire to commit suicide ourselves or to let our members do so. We have a strategy which we believe will ultimately lead to victory. Only one thing is essential. We must start preparing and training NOW! We of the S. A. O. believe that our country is worthy of any sacrifice. If you feel the same way, we invite you to join us.

JOIN THE SECRET ARMY
ORGANIZATION

An organization of loyal Americans dedicated to the preservation of both national and individual freedom.

1. To prepare the means of personal defense and survival in case of enemy attack.
2. To resist and expose the spread of communist influence and propaganda within our own national boundaries.
3. To investigate by means of our own secret memberships the infiltration of communist sympathizers into American organizations of government, business, labor, religion and education.
4. To resist by any and all means the passage of laws which regulate the private ownership of firearms or which detract from the individual's ability to defend his own family and personal property.
5. To promote knowledge and skill in the use of arms by our own members and by the general public.
6. To form in advance of actual need a secret underground organization equipped to spy upon, harrass and destroy troops of any foreign power that might occupy United States territory.
7. To lend assistance and support wherever possible to other resistance organizations, domestic or foreign, opposing communist expansion or subversion.
8. To pursue these programs as private citizens motivated only by patriotism and to remain entirely free of government subsidies or control.

The Secret Army Organization is a national organization of patriotic Americans who are preparing themselves as a last line of defense against communism. To exemplify the necessity of such an organization, we quote the 1960 Annual Report of the Committee on Un-American Activities as follows:

"Events of the past year have provided convincing evidence that the American people cannot rely completely on this country's armed forces to protect themselves from communist domination and slavery. This is not because our military forces lack the power or the will to defend this country, but rather because the nature of the attacks being made on the United States by it's major and only significant enemy are so designed as to render conventional military forces as ineffective as possible for defense purposes."

Starting from nothing 50 years ago, communism now rigidly controls one-third of the human race and has subverted to varying degrees the remaining two-thirds. In the past 20 years the communists have conquered 20 sovereign nations, one by armed conquest and 19 by internal subversion or negotiation.

There is not one of these countries in which the communists rule by the consent of the people. Everywhere they must perpetuate themselves by terror. They remain in power only through the use of the most brutal police state tactics.

The communists consider their party workers not simply as an accessory to armed conquest but as the actual spearhead of any invasion into new territory. From this point of view the United States was "invaded" by Soviet troops more than 30 years ago. It has been authoritatively estimated that the communists now have an army of 500,000 combatants already landed on American shores and already working by the most insidious means to destroy our American way of life.

The cold war is very real. It must be fought and won. The only alternative is to lose and to lose means that future Americans for generations to come must live in terror and in slavery. Appeasement is futile. We cannot bargain with moral barbarians who never have and never will know the meaning of honesty.

Communism must be defeated, not merely resisted. We must rid our country of traitors and fellow travelers. We must embark on a massive offensive turning every communist trick - from propaganda to infiltration - against our mortal enemy. This is the one and only way to win the struggle for survival.

SECRET ARMY ORGANIZATION

The Secret Army Organization is the most active, most completely dedicated and most selective in its membership of all the many patriotic organizations in America. We are willing to make any sacrifice for our country and we fully expect that some of us will have to make the ultimate sacrifice before victory is achieved. Our very lives depend on each other. There is no place in this organization for bunglers, playboys or lukewarm conservatives. If you join the Secret Army Organization, there might easily come a time that your life would depend on how competently some other member had learned his job.

Unless you are especially well informed on the domestic and world political situation, it is probable that you have a lot to learn about the present threat our nation faces. Unless you have had many years experience in actual underground warfare, there is undoubtedly a lot you can learn from the experts in our organization who have developed and supervised our training program.

OUR NATION IS IN IMMEDIATE DANGER

It is possible that within a very few years, perhaps even within months, our nation could be conquered and enslaved by the communists. To prevent this we must know as much as possible about our enemies. Unless we know who they are and what they are doing we will not succeed in our efforts to maintain a free America.

THE RESISTANCE MOVEMENT

In driving an invader from your land the resistance involved goes through three stages of development.

1) The Underground Network
2) Active Guerrilla Warfare
3) Open or Conventional Warfare

The conventional warfare stage uses everything in the way of weapons that the enemy does but must also have active guerrillas and underground agents working against the enemy, too. In the present state of military tactics conventional warfare cannot succeed unless these other two ingredients are used simultaneously.

The first step is to form an underground network. An active guerrilla system must have the support of an underground network of approximately three times its own size. This underground must supply the active guerrilla fighter with supplies, concealment, information, etc. An underground network starts with departments of intelligence, security and propaganda in that order.

Sabotage, espionage, subversion, infiltration, escape and evasion, training, clandestine fabrication of supplies, counterfeiting enemy documents, recruiting, communications and propaganda are other phases of underground activity. Each member of the Secret Army Organization, to be effective, must have a working knowledge of all these tactics as well as the military tactics more commonly associated with guerrilla activities.

ASSIGNMENT TO UNITS

Many people that inquire about membership in the Secret Army Organization seem to have an idea that they will be immediately accepted into an active unit. Look at it this way. Suppose you had spent a year or more carefully recruiting and training until you had a hard hitting team where every individual was reliable, dedicated, and had confidence in his fellow unit members. Wouldn't it make you mad to have the national or regional organization assign some rank amateur to your unit that you you know little or nothing about?

Before any new member is assigned to an active unit or to an important underground project, he must undergo a period of training. During this training he will be directed through the mails by an experienced member and some of his activities may be observed by other members without his knowledge. Only when a new member proves himself to be conscientious, trustworthy, self-disciplined and able to operate effectively alone will he be accepted as a "secure member" and invited to participate with other unit members in a teamwork operation.

EXPENSES

Unfortunately, most good things don't come cheap. Although we make every effort to keep down the expense of membership in the Secret Army Organization, you must expect to pay your own way.

Dues to the Secret Army Organization are $3.00 per month. This money is absolutely necessary for use to maintain our central files and headquarters, for postage and printing, to finance our extensive intelligence network, and to maintain training areas.

Each member will have other expenses depending on the type of activity he is engaged in. Every member will be expected to buy his own gun, ammunition and other basic combat equipment. During training the new member may be expected to buy certain books or subscribe to certain magazines that his work requires. During this time the new member will also be supplied with reading material on the strategy and tactics of guerrilla warfare. This home work will make it possible for him to fit in quickly to an active unit and participate effectively in actual maneuvers, marksmanship training, etc.

Following this preliminary training a member may be either assigned to an existing unit, assisted in organizing his own unit if he has shown sufficient leadership qualities or become part of an underground network.

Upon your acceptance into the Secret Army Organization you will be given a definite series of projects described in writing so you will know exactly what will be expected of you.

We hope that you can succeed in this effort because your country desperately needs patriots at this time.

SECRET ARMY ORGANIZATION

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS

Dear Fellow American,

Your application for membership in the Secret Army Organization has been processed and approved. It is our profound hope that your membership in the S. A. O. will prove to be a benefit to the organization and yourself as well. A dedicated member will find that his association with our organization is a way of life that is far more rewarding than the ordinary mediocre existence of his fellow enlightened citizens.

For security purposes all records regarding individual members are listed by numbers only. Your number will be ______________. Please sign all future correspondence addressed to the organization with this number. You need not list your address unless it is different from the one in our records.

Another security measure employed by our organization is the use of mail drops. The mail drop is an address listed in a fictitious name of a person or company not connected with the organization. Each member is assigned one that he will use in sending all reports, correspondence, materials, etc., to the organization. Your assigned mail drop is:

We have a tremendous job ahead of us. Certainly, none of us pretend to know what the future holds for ourselves or for our native land. We do feel, however, that our freedom is gravely threatened. It is not always possible to know the best thing to do. But we do know this - our forefathers have given us a life of freedom and opportunity such as never existed before in all history. We must strive to pass this heritage on to future generations intact.

Our organization is not suggesting or doing anything more than Americans have always done - starting in 1776.

Enclosed is some further information about our organization, its history, objectives, and programs. Your record has been turned over to our training section and you should receive your first training program within two weeks.

Sincerely yours,

THE COMBAT TEAM

General Outline

The "Combat Team" is the smallest organizational unit used by the Secret Army Organization. When organized in the proper manner it is capable of operational initiative when detached from the parent organization. When developed to its highest degree of efficiency the Combat Team is almost totally self-sufficient and able to perform any one of several missions. To attain these aims the following elements are essential:

a. Equipment should be well-chosen and standardized as much as possible.

b. Communications, internal and external, must be capable of rapid transmission, be varied in nature, and be exercised with prime emphasis on security.

c. Internal coordination should be automatic in response. Confidence among members of the team must be developed.

d. Selection of each position on the team should be based on psychological aspects as well as technical competence.

e. Training of the men in each function should be at regular intervals and continuous. Field problems should be given dry runs in detail.

f. The logistics problem should be studied with care, and made simple and direct.

g. Each team will have a "leader" (Lieutenant) and an "assistant leader" (Sergeant). These men shall be given special training by the Secret Army Organization at "leadership seminars".

h. Team "marshalling points" should be selected in advance and be well defined. Practice "alerts" will determine the team's efficiency in response and security.

i. Terrain familiarity within the expected operational radius of the team must be developed.

j. Weapons familiarity must be obtained through live firings at various targets. Team action must be stressed as well as individual competence.

k. The team leader should see that a constant flow of information is provided to team members on the ideological struggle. This will help induce the proper frame of mind in each member.

l. Team missions and targets must be identified and the proper training equipment made available for each assignment.

m. The team leaders will be responsible for maintaining the overall security of the unit. Personal feelings should not affect decisions involving reprimand or dismissal of men from the team for reasons that endanger its operation or security.

n. Intelligence gathering as an important part of each team member's duties should be stressed. Information on the location and movements of local communist and left-wing enemies of the organization should be sent to either Regional or General Headquarters.

o. The team leaders will be responsible for maintaining contact with higher command and for the transmission of orders from same.

ORGANIZATION

The "Combat Team" will consist of six men. These six men will be divided into two sub-teams (Sections). Number One Section will consist of the Team Lieutenant and two other team members. Number Two Section will consist of the Team Sergeant and the two remaining team members. When completely assembled the unit will act directly under the command of the Team Lieutenant. When split into sections the Team Sergeant will carry out the orders of the Team Lieutenant during missions, but will be in immediate command of the Number Two Section. In the absence of the Team Lieutenant the Sergeant will take command of the Unit.

TRANSPORTATION

Transportation of the Combat Team will be effected by the use of two carriers. Interception and/or destruction of one carrier will not, then, immobilize the team. In addition, each carrier can serve as a scouting element for the other. Motorized carriers should be as inconspicuous as possible and still serve their purpose. Jeeps and pickup trucks should be used only where such vehicles are owned and used commonly by the general population or where the terrain makes their use necessary. Most often an ordinary passenger car will suffice. The model selected should have a good road clearance so it can be used on dirt roads. Tire chains (if needed), hydraulic jacks, extra gas, water, and suitable tools should be stored in the vehicle.

TRAVEL PROCEDURES

Underway, Carrier #1 will lead and Carrier #2 will trail. The "interval" will vary with conditions. In cities close-aboard trailing will be used. Open road, by day, will require an interval of approximately 300 yards. At night this will be reduced to approximately 100 yards. During travel, all equipment (especially arms and ammunition) should be kept out of sight. Special team equipment and weapons should be locked in the trunk of the vehicle until needed. The trunk key should be carefully hidden so as to make it difficult to search the trunk in case law enforcement agents should stop the car on some pretext with the intention of searching it illegally.

WEAPONS AND EQUIPMENT

Selection of w[illegible]pons and supplies should give the [illegible]mbat Team maximum flexibility to meet any condition that may be encountered in either rural or urban warfare. Consideration should be given to all possible situations that may develop relating to both traditional guerrilla warfare and modern underground warfare techniques. It should be kept in mind that the Combat Team is a functional part of a resistance network. It's activities should be coordinated with other teams to take maximum advantage of its striking powers.

Disregarding the inclusion of weapons peculiar to a given mission, the standard distribution of men and weapons could be as follows:

#1 (Team Lieutenant) AR-180 Assault Rifle, automatic pistol, sheath knife, flare gun, and binoculars. 300 rounds of ammunition loaded in clips should be carried for the rifle, plus 50 extra rounds of ammunition for the pistol.

#2 (Team Member) Riot Shotgun, automatic pistol, sheath knife, and wire cutters (with insulated handles). 100 rounds of No. 4 Buckshot in pouches for the shotgun, and 50 rounds of pistol ammunition.

#3 (Team Member) AR-180 Assault Rifle, automatic pistol, sheath knife, and smoke grenades or flares. 300 rounds of ammunition in clips for the rifle, and 50 rounds of pistol ammunition.

#4 (Team Sergeant) AR-180 Assault Rifle, automatic pistol, sheath knife, flare gun, and binoculars. Ammunition requirement is the same as #1 man.

#5 (Team Member) M1903 Springfield Rifle with sniper scope, automatic pistol, sheath knife, and entrenching shovel. 100 rounds of AP ammunition in bandoleers for the rifle, and 50 rounds of pistol ammunition.

#6 (Team Member) AR-180 Assault Rifle, automatic pistol, sheath knife, and 30 feet of climbing rope with grappling hook. Ammunition requirement is the same as #1 man.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL

In addition to the weapons and supplies already listed each team member should have the following basic equipment:

a. Sleeping bag and waterproof ground cloth
b. Canteen (1 quart army type)
c. Survival rations for three days
d. First aid kit
e. Gas mask with extra filter
f. Flashlight with extra batteries
g. Fatigue or camouflage clothing
h. Combat or paratrooper boots

PRACTICAL SECURITY MEASURES

1. Use deceptive measures. Subscribe to one or more left-wing periodicals or get on the mailing list of some "peace movement". This will keep the postal inspecotrs guessing as to which side you are really on. While doing this our members can be of great assistance in searching this left-wing literature for names and addresses of fellow travelers and forwarding this information for our Central Intelligence files. We desperately need people to assist in this work. Please inquire as to detailed instructions for such activity.

2. Always use two envelopes in sending mail to any patriotic organizations or to any other member of our own organization. Do not put a return address on the outer envelope. Put your return address on the inside envelope with the words, "return postage guaranteed".

3. Place some opaque material such as tin foil, carbon paper, etc. between the inner and outer envelopes to prevent your mail from being read by infra-red cameras.

4. Send all letters from corner mail boxes or from post offices where you are not known.

5. Be careful in the use of the telephone. Avoid telephone calls to known members of the organization as much as possible.

6. Prepare telephone codes ahead of time for future protection.

7. In recruiting new members always learn as much as you can about the prospective recruit and make sure he is not an infiltrator before you identify yourself as a member of the organization.

8. Members of the organization in each area should be divided into four groups:

A. Those who have been identified publicly or by law enforcement agencies as members of the Secret Army Organization.

B. Those persons not known as members of this organization but who are generally known as being patriots.

C. Those persons who have kept their political beliefs hidden.

D. Members who profess to be liberal for the purpose of infiltrating enemy organizations.

All members should be very careful in making contact with persons in a different category than themselves. For example, people in Class D should be very secret in their contacts and communications with persons of Class A or Class

8. Each member must respect the security of every other member. Do not, under any circumstances, identify one member of the organization even to other members without his expressed permission on each and every occasion.

9. Avoid loose talk. Do not discuss organizational plans in public places where you could be overheard. Do not even hint at such a discussion in the presence of non-members.

10. Do not write patriotic letters to newspapers or magazines under your own name. To do so achieves very little except to identify you to the enemy.

11. If you are already known as a patriot, or as a member of this organization you may find it advisable to spread the rumor that you have become disillusioned with the right-wing or for you to pretend a gradual loss of interest.

12. Classify your various members addresses, you communications and your other activities as "top secret", "secret" or "restricted". Use your most secret lines of communication only for the most important messages rather than flooding them with unimportant material.

13. Demand obedience to all security measures from all members. Persistent disregard for security measures should be cause for disciplinary action.

14. Check your lines of communication from time to time by sending phoney messages to make certain they are not intercepted.

15. Change mail drops, meeting places, etc. frequently.

16. Prepare secret rendevous points, mail drops, etc. now that may be used in time of some future emergency.

17. Each unit should assign some member the rank of Security Officer and should set up a system of fines or other penalties for failure to comply with security precautions.

18. Observe the "need to know" rule. Each member should be given only that information which is needed by him in the performance of his duty or which he will need in cooperating with other members of the unit. No member should feel "left out" because he is denied such information. Instead every member should willingly avoid information which he does not need.

19. Be careful that you are not followed in going to and from meeting places or in making contact with other members of the organization.

20. Keep all records and correspondence carefully hidden and in a manner that they can be easily destroyed. Records should be kept in code whenever possible.

S A O

SECRET ARMY ORGANIZATION

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS

S A O

Dear Fellow American,

Enclosed with this letter is your Preliminary Training Program. This first program is only a brief outline of some of the material that will be covered in later programs. There are four basic programs used by the Secret Army Organization: Intelligence, Security, Propaganda, and Recruiting, in that order. Each program will cost the new member $3.00 and will take between one to three weeks to complete.

The correspondence training program serves a number of purposes, but the two major purposes are:

1. It lets us know which members of the organization have the patience and determination to finish assignments given them.

2. It lets us be certain that the members have the necessary basic training in intelligence, security, etc., which is essential to almost any important task which we could assign a member in underground warfare.

Proper training in these four basic skills is absolutely essential for every member of an underground army. A member may be an expert in survival techniques, use of weapons, urban warfare tactics and all the rest but experience has shown that without these other basic skills they seldom do much fighting - they just commit suicide.

For those of you who wish to become active and trusted members of the Secret Army Organization, let us emphasize again that the quickest way of doing so is to begin and diligently complete the basic training programs.

After you have completed the five work projects listed in the Preliminary Training Program send $3.00 in to your regular mail drop and we will send you the first training program on Intelligence. In view of the urgent situation we now face some of our new members may receive special assignments after having completed the first two training programs. If this happens please try to redouble your efforts so that your special assignments can be taken care of while continuing to complete your regular training program.

PRELIMINARY TRAINING PROGRAM

It would be a mistake to think that our enemies have one set plan for the conquest of the United States. They are maintaining many continuous attacks on many fronts at the same time - political, education, business, labor, and even religion. They are continuously probing for weak spots in the defenses of our nation. During the past fourty years so many openings have been left to them by the stupidity and collusion of our national leaders that they have been able to advance almost at will.

There is little we can do to change this situation at this time. Rather than deplete our limited resources on futile attempts to do so, we must concentrate on building a workable anti-communist underground army based on realities rather than wishful thinking and organized on the tried and proven principles of underground warfare.

The communists have fifty years experience in supressing anti-communist underground activity. If we are to fight them successfully - if we are to hold out until the final victory of freedom over tyranny - then our underground army is going to have to be the most skillful and dedicated that the world has ever known. There is only one kind of member that can qualify for such an army - the very best!

This will require intensive training and practice. There is no short cut to perfection. By drawing on the talents of several of our more experienced members we think we now have a training program that can develop that kind of underground army.

In this program four different types of training will be involved:

1. Correspondence and printed material.

2. Tape recordings, picture slides, charts, etc., sold or loaned to S. A. O. units or members.

3. Actual experience - "On the job" training by carrying out assignments under supervision of more experienced members.

4. Training maneuvers - Due to the difficulty of keeping large training sessions secret the General Staff has decided that such training sessions will be held only for small select groups that have already completed sufficient preliminary training at the local level.

INTELLIGENCE - SECURITY - PROPAGANDA

This preliminary training lesson is designed to give our members basic knowledge and practice in intelligence, security and propaganda. This first lesson is basic preparation for advanced training in these three important activities which will be dealt with in greater detail further on in the training program.

INTELLIGENCE

Underground warfare, as we customarily think of it, cannot succeed unless it is supported by a well developed organization comprising all the essential functions of intelligence, security, propaganda, communications, supply, medical services, etc.

Of all these, intelligence is most important. Let's consider one example: Suppose you picked up a telephone book, opened it up to any page at random, closed your eyes and put your finger on one name. Now suppose you read that name for the first time and said to yourself, "Sometime in the next 30 days I'm going to kill this man."

Consider the situation - one man, picked at random is marked for death. He might be the most powerful, the wealthiest, the most influential man in that city but none of thes things woul help him in the least. He would be defenseless. Why? Because you would have one thing that he did not have - intelligence. You would know his identity and he would not know yours. So long as that condition continued, there would be no possible way in which he could arrange an adequate defense against you.

Exactly the same situation exists between ourselves and our communist and socialist enemies. Our success will be directly proportionate to our knowledge of them and inversely proportionate to their knowledge of us.

Whatever a member's principal job may be in the Secret Army Organization, he must have a basic knowledge of intelligence techniques. This subject is therefore the first to be considered in our training program.

The word "intelligence", when used in a military sense refers to those methods that can be used to gain useful information. We usually think of this as knowledge of the enemy but it also includes information about the terrain, general population, available supplies and all other facts that will help in planning future activities.

Intelligence is roughly divided into three parts:

1. Observation. During a hot war this includes scouting and patrolling, observation of enemy troop movements, etc. On the cold war front this includes shadowing of enemy personnel, surveillance of enemy officers, tapping of telephones, interception of messages, etc.

2. Research and Analysis. Collecting and cataloging all possible useful information from general sources, newspapers, radio, trade magazines, etc., then matching up isolated scraps of information until an accurate picture is obtained of some situation that would not therwise be known.

3. Espionage. [illegible]s involves the placing or recru[illegible]g of agents within the enemy personnel where they can learn the enemy's plans first hand, steal the enemy's documents or materials, influence or misdirect the enemy's plans or policies.

Suppose you had a chance to see some important document for just a few minutes. How quickly could you scan it for its essential content? How well could you separate the important from the unimportant? Could you record this information in a written message that can be easily read and will not be misinterpreted?

Imagine that you are the leader of a patrol sent forward to observe and track an enemy column prior to a possible ambush. From time to time you will need to send back your observations in written form. Each S. A. O. member must develop the ability to put his thoughts on paper in such a way that they will be easily read and unmistakable.

The first two projects are designed to give the new member an opportunity to test those skills while learning (or reviewing) basic elements of espionage activity. When these have been completed more advanced material will be furnished to the member directly. Useful intelligence projects of increasing complexity and importance will be assigned to those wishing to specialize in this work.

SECURITY

It is obvious what a great advantage we can gain over our enemies by proper information about their plans and activities. It is equally true that much of this advantage will be lost unless we can keep our plans and activities secret from them. This is the basic purpose of all security activities. Overall security operations of an underground movement can be divided into five basic parts:

1. Protecting the identity of underground personnel and their families.

2. Keeping secret the location, movements and plans of underground units.

3. Keeping secret the location of underground headquarters, alternate hideouts and supply depots.

4. Protecting the identity of civilians, or individual members of the population that are friendly to underground forces.

5. Maintaining secrecy of communications.

As we have already said it is difficult to even guess what forms the coming conflict will take. Nevertheless, the strategy of all successful underground movements must satisfy these three basic principles:

First, is the "Principle of Deliberate Delay". During this state, the underground gathers its forces, checks its security, prepares its intelligence, establishes its lines of communications and waits for the enemy to become complacent and overconfident.

3k

Second is the "Principle of Provocation". At the beginning of this stage only a few real patriots are willing to take part in underground activity. The vast majority of the population is still wishfully thinking that they can "get along" with the oppressive forces. They want only to be left alone and will not take action until they are personally threatened. During this stage the underground conducts a series of actions which provoke the enemy forces into making harsh repressive measures on the general population. This turns the general population against the oppressive forces and convinces them that the underground is really their only hope.

Stage Three may be called "Principle of Natural Allies". When the government's action against the general population becomes sufficiently brutal then large numbers of people will be willing to help or join the underground. Their reasons for doing so may be numerous and their ideology man not always be the same as the basic underground movement. During this stage minor differences between different underground groups must be minimized and all of our natural allies must be rallied to the cause of freedom.

The intelligence branch of our organization is well aware of the communist infiltration and control of the present United States government. It can rightly be said that we are now partially controlled by a foreign ideology. Thus, we are already engaged in Phase I of this conflict. How long this will continue until open warfare breaks out is anyone's guess. Once again, the best prediction of our intelligence department is that Stage II will last for several months, perhaps even years. This will be a time of assessination and counter assassination, terror and counter terror. During this phase the "average citizen" may avoid direct conflict at the price of his dignity and individual freedom. Known patriots will be in extreme danger.

For most people membership in the Secret Army Organization will not materially increase their danger during this time. For many years our enemies have carefully catalogued the name and address of every person who has ever written a patriotic letter to a newspaper. The membership lists of the more prominent "conservative" organizations have long been available to communist infiltrators in these organizations.

Continued activity and membership in other conservative organizations by members of the S. A. O. is desirable in many cases but those individuals should not identify themselves as members of the Secret Army Organization. For most of our own members it will be best if you do not take part in the activities of these other organizations. Although many of you are already "marked" men a certain degree of security can still be achieved by quietly dropping out of other right-wing activities and keeping your membership in the S. A. O. secret from all except your most trusted fellow members.

There may come a time when the average American is still able to go about his business with little regimentation but during which you as a known or suspected patriot, may be sought out for arrest or assassination.

37

Project III liste[illegible]t the end of this chapter may mak[illegible]t possible for the organization to contact you and render assistance should you ever find it necessary to go into hiding with little advance notice.

Project IV is a first step toward learning more about your enemies and at the same time, confusing them as to which side you are really on.

PROPAGANDA

Another essential function of the underground is to convincingly inform the general public of what they stand for and thus gain the support of the general population. This must be done through propaganda, both written and spoken. Under conditions of enemy occupation the spreading of anti-communist propaganda would obviously be very dangerous. Even now there are certain phases of our propaganda effort that is best done by surreptitious means. Thus, observation, communication and propaganda are three elementary duties of every underground member.

Never before has propaganda been so important to the ultimate outcome of a major conflict. The ultimate object of any war is to force your desires on the minds of your enemies. Our enemies are attempting to do this by the non-violent means of psychological warfare.

PRELIMINARY TRAINING LESSON

Project No. 1

Look over the various books in your local public library that have been written on intelligence and espionage. Select two that seem best and read them carefully.

Project No. 2

Write a brief outline of these two books and send it to your regular assigned mail drop or to General Headquarters.

Project No. 3

Get in touch with one trusted friend that you do not ordinarily see too often. Preferably one that does not live in your present neighborhood. Inform him that he may, in the future, receive letters with an inner envelope with your name on it. Make sure he will keep these envelopes confidential and will secretly pass them on to you or hold them until you can pick them up. Let us know this alternate address in case we need to contact you in extreme circumstances.

Project No. 4

Make necessary preparations to use a fictitious name for receipt of left-wing literature and correspondence. An important part of each members duties is to keep yourself and our organization informed on left-wing and communist activity in your area.

A phoney organization that includes the word "Peace" as part of its name is always a suitable cover. The address can be a P. O. Box, that of a friend, or even your own address. Mail several letters to the name and address you decide on to get the postal employees accustomed to it now. Then you will be ready to use it for the real thing.

Project No. 5

While working in the library, place the enclosed Secret Army Organization leaflets in between the pages of various books where they will be found and read by others.

Secret Army Organization

TRAINING PROGRAM

INTELLIGENCE

We are faced with a dangerous enemy who has repeatedly boasted of his plans to destroy our Constitutional Republic and to enslave our people.

For more than fourty years they have been infiltrating their agents into the most sensitive areas of labor, press, entertainment, education, law, communications, religion, industry and government. The degree of their success is made obvious by our government's failure to oppose communism internationally and by our fellow citizens' lack of interest in their own preservation.

We already know a considerable amount about this enemy; their origin, objectives, approximate strength, organizational structure and general methods of operation.

There are four areas where we especially need additonal information:

1. Details of the techniques used in espionage, infiltration and subversion by individual agents, including the methods by which they control their fellow travelers.

2. The equipment used for surveillance, communication, assassination, sabotage, etc., by individual enemy agents.

3. Working details of their short range programs either in operation or planned for the near future.

4. The actual identity of enemy agents, fellow travelers and sympathizers along with details regarding their work, place of residence, cover operation, means of transportation, travel pattern, personal appearance, mental characteristics, personal lives, business and organizational activities.

Our ultimate victory or defeat may depend on our ability to obtain enough of this vitally important information.

There are literally thousands of sources from which bits of valuable information can be obtained. These range from such extremes as the local newspapers to documents stolen from the enemy's guarded vaults.

42

The methods of gathering intelligence are roughly divided into two groups: 1) Research and Analysis, and 2) Espionage.

Espionage includes all the "illegal" means of obtaining information, such as wire-tapping, interception of mail, stealing of documents, secretly photographing records, infiltrating spies into enemy organizations, bribing or blackmailing individuals of the enemy apparatus.

Research and Analysis includes the careful systematic search of all newspapers, magazines, trade journals, house organs, political pamphlets, books, public records, etc., to sift a few "needles" of valuable intelligence from several "haystacks" of general information.

Professional intelligence organizations obtain about 95% of their information from Research and Analysis and only about 5% from Espionage. When espionage techniques are used, they prove most effective when a specific mission is carefully planned out in advance which takes advantage of all possible background information that may be obtained by research methods.

Let's examine how these various techniques might be used to obtain additional information of the four basic types we need most.

1. Details of the techniques used in espionage, infiltration and subversion by individual agents including methods by which they control their fellow travelers.

An agent trainee may learn something of the general espionage methods used by communist agents who have defected from the party and have then written about their experiences. Beyond this they are of very little value. The actual details of such techniques are uniformly neglected.

More useful information can be obtained from the study of past court records in which evidence has been presented in espionage cases. Hints and clues may occasionally be picked up from continuous and careful study of the regular news media. Really basic information of this type, however, must be obtained by infiltration and espionage techniques.

2. The equipment used for surveillance, communications, assassination, sabotage, etc., by individual agents.

Hints about the type of hidden microphones, short wave transmitters, miniture tape recorders, etc. used in surveillance and communication by espionage agents sometimes are mentioned by chance in the regular press or news magazines, in connection with reported spy cases. Technical details and construction plans occasionally are given in the electronics or "Popular Science" type magazines. Other information may be requested directly from the manufacturers of such equipment.

The type of short[illegible]ting or long acting poisons best su[illegible]d for assassination under various conditions might be anticipated by a careful study of toxicology: from "Chemical Abstracts" and Biological Abstracts"; from current magazines on pharmacology, as well as from such magazines as "Scientific Monthly" and "Science Newsletter", all available from larger city libraries.

Information on explosives is available from ordinance journals, literature from manufacturers, technical books, mining and drilling magazines, etc.

Naturally, such special fields of interest are best pursued by some person who already has an aptitude in each particular line.

This is one of the things that makes us feel that the American people are uniquely equipped to form a deadly effective underground. Nowhere else in the world does any population have as many useful hobbies and avocations that could be adapted to underground warfare. Many by products of these hobbies can be used as sabotage instruments. Just one typical example - the dust from grinding wheels in metal shops should be saved to mix with grease for the bearings of enemy machinery.

3. Working details of their immediate and future plans and activities.

Advance information about "peace marches" and racial demonstrations can be had by subscribing to appropriate communist front publications. Details as to the size of the demonstration and degree of violence anticipated must be obtained by infiltrating such organizations. Communist plans for future propaganda campaigns, subversion, espionage, blackmail of government officials, etc., may be learned directly by infiltration or may be deduced from a close study of their past activities.

4. Identity and personal information about enemy agents.

This requires the full scope of counter espionage activity; research and analysis of enemy publications, monitoring of communist sponsored meetings, surveillance of party offices, infiltration of enemy apparatus, recruitment of double agents, interception of enemy communications, etc., etc.

TECHNIQUES OF EFFECTIVE RESEARCH

1. Every researcher should be constantly on the alert for useful information in the general news media - radio, TV, magazines, etc.

2. Each researcher should have one field of interest to which he gives special attention.

For example:

One researcher might read every book available on "escape and evasion" and all the stories or articles written on prison escapes, looking for ideas that might someday help our members escape from a concentration camp.

Another researcher might continuously search the communist front publications for names of fellow travelers; for announcements of future meetings, rallies or similar activities; for additional information that would tie suspected communists to known communist organization; for friendships, business connections and family relationships between known communists and unknown communists.

Each city should have one researcher that carefully reads the daily papers to extract such information as: names of speakers at left wing meetings, names and addresses of both left and right wing letters to the editor, social functions attended by known communists, names of persons who might be potential recruits, news of coming "peace marches" and similar demonstrations, expressions of either pro or anti communist sentiments by local public officials, educators, businessmen, ministers, etc., evidence of communist inspired violence, sabotage or blackmail.

There is an almost endless variety of areas that need to be covered. Based on his or her own interests and abilities each researcher should choose the specialty for which they are best qualified.

3. Be as specific as possible. Look for details. Include blue-prints, drawings or photographs of all technical equipment when possible. Don't expect your analyist to be a "mind reader". Include all the facts. Continuously ask yourself the questions: Would this information be of value to the Secret Army Organization? To individual espionage agents? To other members? To our technical specialists?

4. Avoid editorial opinions and general news items as these are of little value and needlessly swamp our limited staff of analysts.

5. Do all the work locally that you possibly can. If the person is local, look them up in the telephone book or cross index. Double check to make sure the address is correct and that they still live there. Type cards if possible, otherwise, print plainly. Include phone numbers and licence numbers of cars whenever possible.

6. Use standard 3 x 5 inch index cards for sending in information on individuals. Clip pages of magazines or photostat important articles. In outlining books, be sure important facts are fully covered.

7. Always state the source of all information reported to the organization.

Printed below is a sample index card showing the proper placement of information. Use it as a guide when making out your cards.

WORK PROJECTS

1. Write to the following "peace publication" (most of them are actually communist fronts) and ask for subscription price and a sample copy.

(A) When these sample copies are received by you, proceed to make out an index card on each person mentioned as supporting or taking part in any peace organization. Do not forget to include the magazine staff (editor, circulation manager, authors, etc.) include a description of the position held or activity referred to for each.

(B) Analyze the propaganda content of each magazine - in what way does it serve the communist cause? When completed, send these magazines in to your regular assigned mail drop along with your index cards, comments and analysis.

2. Using your fictitous name, write to the following "peace organization". Tell them you are concerned about the world situation and would like to help in the peace movement. Ask for the location of their nearest headquarters or a local member you could contact, as well as further information about their organizational plans and objectives.

(A) Make out index cards on all persons listed on their letterhead and in their literature.

(B) Analyze their propaganda literature and forward it to your regular mail drop along with your comments on how this particular organization promotes communist objectives.

(C) Send a note to let us know what research specialty you feel best qualified for and what plans you are making to gain useful information in this field.

SECRET ARMY ORGANIZATION

SPECIAL BULLETIN

No doubt most citizens of San Diego are aware of the controversy surrounding the activities of San Diego State Economics Professor PETER G. BOHMER. For any of you who are not, here is a brief run down:

Bohmer, age 27, is a self-proclaimed left wing radical professor out at San Diego State who amoung other things has been teaching that the communist economic system is superior to our own free enterprize system. That the tax payers have to put with this kind of treason is bad enough, but it does not end there. Bohmer, who has a long record of communist activities behind him, has made it his policy to give lower grades to students in his classroom who do not share his left wing views. One of his students was a veteran of the Vietnam War, with a fine combat record. This student was a special target of Bohmer, who never missed an opportunity to ridicule and insult this students beliefs.

A quick look at Bohmer's record will show why he hated this student. In 1970 Bohmer's record will show 45 days in the pokey for anti-war protesting. This was when he was a graduate student at MIT in Massachusetts. The demonstration that earned him his jail was against defense research conducted on the MIT campus. He was also a member of SDS and a supporter of the Black Panther Party while at Harvard and MIT. It does seem strange that San Diego State was not able to find another professor somewhere who was not a communist jail bird.

For any of our readers who may care to look up this Red Scum, and say hello, here is some information that may help. His address is 5155 Muir, Ocean Beach, telephone number is 222-7243, he drives a dark blue 1968 VW Sedan, California license DKT 147. Just to make sure you talk to the right guy here is his descriptions he has dark brown shoulder length hair, green eyes, weight is about 160 lbs. and he is 5'10" tall. Now in case any of you don't believe in hitting people who wear glasses, to be fair I guess we will have to tell you he wears contact lences.

If you do run out to see Bohmer one night here are a few other people you may run into: Michele Mansky, she is Bohmer's girl friend and lives at the same address as he. She is a student at San Diego State. She is no doubt the "Teacher's Pet". One can bet she gets good grades. She drives a bronze two door Corvair with the front smashed in, California license KUZ 777. Next comes George Katsiaficas, a good friend of Bohmer's. George came from Boston a short time after Bohmer, and lives at the Muir address too. Next in line comes Sharl Ann Whitehead, she is George's girl friend and lives at the Muir address part of the time. The rest of the time you can find her at 302 Whaley, Oceanside. She drives a 1965 two door Dodge Dart, number PGH 420. And lastly we come to Elizabeth Jane Laird of 5544 Indiana St, San Diego. Her car is a Plymouth Valiant 1964 light blue, license number EKJ 385. Who's girl friend she is, is your guess.

Enclosed for Mobile is a xerox copy of a portion of a map of the Central and Kent, Alabama, area.

ADMINISTRATIVE:

For all receiving offices, DRAGER is presently carried as an ADEX subject. Inasmuch as DRAGER has indicated he advocates the violent overthrow of the US. Government and has overtly been attempting to recruit personnel, arms and ammunitions in efforts to accomplish this end, it is recommended DRAGER be continued as an ADEX subject and his activities be closely followed.

Information copies of instant report are being made available to designated offices, inasmuch as investigation has revealed the subject has associates and contacts residing within these divisions. Subject is believed to have travelled within these divisions between September, 1973 and June, 1974.

Investigation by Newark Division has failed to identify any members of a group called the National Revolutionary Army. DRAGER and WILLIAM ERIC CARROLL have claimed to have recruited disgruntled right wing patriots from the Ku Klux Klan, Minutemen and Nazi Party.

Information copies are further being made available inasmuch as DRAGER and CARROLL have been involved in extensive criminal activities throughout these divisions in efforts to support themselves while travelling throughout the U.S.

This report is classified confidential to protect the identity of NK T-1, NK T-2 and NK T-3, whose unauthorized disclosure could reasonably be expected to cause damage to national security.

(Identifies Source)

Inasmuch as these sources mentioned in this report are not indicated in the details to have first hand knowledge of the June 5, 1973 meeting at the residence of ALBERT P. LENTZ, in York, Pennsylvania, it is noted these sources were present and efforts have been made to hide their identity in the details.

Informant

Inasmuch as PH1966-PEI was the only person in the company of ALBERT LENTZ, on June 13, 1974, the following information was not included in the details. On June 13, 1974, LENTZ displayed to source what appeared to be and what was described by LENTZ as being official diagrams of the sewer system and waste system of Washington, D.C., and implied these charts were associated with DRAGER's plans for July 4, 1974.

(Identifies Informant)

Those known to have been present at this meeting were ALBERT P. LENTZ, JOE CHANCE of Indiana, (FNU) DUNCAN of Indiana, CHUCK KING of York, Pennsylvania, JAMES CADILLAC (PH) of York, Pennsylvania, LEE FICK, Pennsylvania, ROY FRANK HOUSER, Reading, Pennsylvania, and JAKE KING, Florida (probably identical to WILLIAM ERIC CARROLL with a known alias of "JAKE") and lastly FRANK AUGUST DRAGER, JR.

LEADS

All receiving offices are requested to contact logical sources in efforts to determine the activities of FRANK DRAGER and WILLIAM CARROLL and their alleged group called The National Revolutionary Army.

All receiving offices be alert to the fact the subject has bragged about committing an armed robbery (possibly a bank robbery).

Only positive information need be reported to the Newark Division.

BIRMINGHAM

AT ANNISTON, ALABAMA: Will attempt to determine from enclosed map the significance of the darkened area of the map located in DRAGER's vehicle. Will determine if this area around Anniston, Alabama is possibly related to extremist activities, bank robberies or possible "training grounds" for the NRA.

BOSTON

AT BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS: Will be alert to the possibility that DRAGER may have committed a bank robbery or armed robbery in the Boston area, inasmuch as WILLIAM ERIC CARROLL mentioned this possible occurrance to JAMES KEITH prior to their apprehension in DRAGER's vehicle on 6/13/74.

DETROIT

AT WARREN, MICHIGAN: Will contact MARHALL L. MC ELWANEY, 5635 Casmere, and obtain full particulars regarding the disposition of a .45 caliber Colt commander, Serial Number 70SC19183, sold to him by Gell's Sporting Goods, 17242 Greydale, Detroit, Michigan, on 9/17/73.

JACKSONVILLE

AT TALLAHASSEE, FLORIDA: Will attempt to develop background information re the subject through Florida State Employment Service, inasmuch as subject had in his possession an identification card for Florida State Employment Service, bearing the name FRANK DRAGER, JR., Social Security Account Number 139-40-1035, date of birth 8/4/40. Local Office noted to be FSES Key West, with apparent visits noted as being 12/3/73, 12/18/73 and 12/26/73.

2. Will through Department of Motor Vehicles, attempt to locate all vehicle information and driver's license information regarding FRANK AUGUST DRAGER, JR., born 8/4/40, and WILLIAM ERIC CARROLL, born 8/30/55.

MEMPHIS

AT HOHENWALD (LEWIS COUNTY), TENNESSEE: Attempt to determine the significance of enclosed map showing a circle around Route #13, at Hohenwald. Determine if this area has any significance related to extremist matters, bank robberies or possible "training grounds" used by the NRA.

MIAMI

AT MIAMI, FLORIDA: If not already done, make Monroe County Sheriff's Office aware of DANIEL JAMES BRODERICK's knowledge regarding the theft of checks from the Marathon Cay Sal Billfish Tournament and the possibility of the use of his testimony against DRAGER and WILLIAM ERIC CARROLL.

AT HOMESTEAD, FLORIDA: Will contact Neil's Jewelry, 15 So. Khrome Ave. (Chrome), regarding the disposition of a .30 caliber Plainfield Machine Co. carbine, allegedly sold to a FRANK AUGUST DRAGER, JR., on 4/13/74.

MOBILE

AT KENT, ALABAMA: Will attempt to determine any significance for the darkened area of enclosed map located between Central and Kent, Alabama.

2. Will determine if this area is possibly related to extremist activities, bank robberies or possible "training grounds" for the NRA.

NEWARK

AT TRENTON, NEW JERSEY: Will maintain contact with the Department of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, in efforts to develop information re the weapons confiscated from DRAGER subsequent to his arrest on 9/12/73, at Toms River, NJ and will follow their possible prosecution of subject for a legal purchase of firearms.

2. Will follow prosecution of subject re his charges at Lawrence Township, NJ, for fraud-theft of a motor vehicle.

3. Will continue to follow the activities of DRAGER.

DETAILS:

PREDICATION

This investigation is based on information which indicates that the individual is engaged in activities which could involve a violation of Title 18, U.S. Code, Section 241 (Conspiracy Against Rights of Citizens); Section 245 (Federally Protected Activities); Civil Rights Act of 1968; or related Civil Rights Statutes.

This individual claimed in September of 1973 to be the acting Grand Dragon of the National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan for the State of New Jersey.

On July 17, 1974, Mr. WILLIAM ERIC CARROLL was interviewed by Special Agent CHARLES F. MOFFETT at Mt. Holly, NJ, and indicated FRANK AUGUST DRAGER, JR., had conspired to blow up the Internal Revenue Service Building, Washington, D.C., on July 4, 1974.

> The National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc., (NKKKK), was granted a charter in Georgia in 1963 as a "patriotic, secret, social, and benevolent order." The NKKKK, a consolidation of various Klans in Southern states, continues to be anti-Negro, anti-Jewish, anti-Catholic, and anti-foreign born.

I. BACKGROUND

A. BIRTH

Records at the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Trenton, N.J., were caused to be searched on July 17, 1974, and revealed FRANK AUGUST DRAGER, JR., was born August 4, 1940, at Trenton, NJ.

B. EMPLOYMENTS

Investigation to date has revealed the following employments since August, 1973.

On July 15, 1974, Captain THOMAS WALTON, Toms River, NJ, Police Department, advised DRAGER used the name FRANK J. SHAYNE while employed at the Captain Courageous Restaurant, Route 37, Toms River, NJ, during the summer of 1973.

On January 29, 1974, Mr. DANNY RICHMOND, Chief of Security, Ocean Reef Club, North Key Largo, Fla., advised DRAGER was employed as a chef from November 16, 1973, until December 25, 1973, utilizing a home address of Post Office Box 968, Marathon, Fla.

C. RESIDENCES

On September 15, 1973, Captain THOMAS WALTON, Toms River Police Department, advised DRAGER used the address Post Office Box 968, Marathon, Fla., when arrested on September 12, 1973, by their department.

Captain WALTON further advised DRAGER utilizes the address 214 East Franklin Street, Trenton, NJ.

Investigation has revealed this address is occupied by DRAGER's brother, ROBERT DRAGER, and his aunt, EDNA GRABER.

D. RELATIVES

On July 15, 1974, Detective JOHN REYNOLDS, New Jersey State Police, West Trenton, NJ, advised the records of the Mercer County Jail, Trenton, NJ, revealed the following relatives as noted on the subject's visitors' list:

IDENTIFICATION DIVISION

It is also noted DRAGER was arrested February 19, 1974, at Springfield, Ill., Sangamon County Sheriff's Office, for possession of burglary tools, marijuana (CDS) and weapons.

It is noted on April 1, 1974, Mr. DONALD CADAGIN, Assistant State's Attorney, Sangamon County, Ill., advised that DRAGER failed to appear for his trial on March 18, 1974, and his $250 bond was forfeited by the court. CADAGIN further advised no further pending action is being taken against DRAGER. At the time of arrest, DRAGER was in the company of WILLIAM ERIC CARROLL.

On June 18, 1974, DRAGER was arrested by the New Jersey State Police, Bordentown, NJ, and turned over to the Lawrence Township, NJ, Police Department for the charge of fraud - theft of a stolen motor vehicle. DRAGER is presently in custody of the Mercer County Jail, Trenton, NJ, where he has been indicted for this charge.

On July 17, 1974, Captain THOMAS WALTON, Toms River, NJ, Police Department, further advised DRAGER forfeited bond for his arrest on September 12, 1973, and it is anticipated further charges will be filed against DRAGER for the altering of numerous checks stolen from the Captain Courageous Restaurant, Route 37, Toms River, NJ.

DRAGER has been charges also with violation of U.S. Code, Title 18, Section 1073, for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution from the Monroe County, Fla. A warrant was issued June 3, 1973, for uttering false instrument.

On April 29, 1974, Detective RICHARD ROTH, Monroe County Sheriff's Office, Marathon, Fla., advised that on or about April 11, 1974, approximately 55 checks from the Marathon Caysal Billfish Tournament had been stolen from the Sombrero Beach Country Club. On that date twenty checks had been since returned, all made out to FRANK AUGUST DRAGER. These checks range from $97.00 to $150.00.

II. EXTREMIST ACTIVITIES

On September 12, 1973, DRAGER, in the company of DANIEL JAMES BRODERICK and WILLIAM ERIC CARROLL, were arrested by the ~~Toms River, New Jersey~~, Police Department, for possession of marijuana (controlled dangerous substance-CDS), possession of weapons and possession of stolen property. A search of their vehicle, a 1974 camper truck, bearing Florida registration 8G-K6025, revealed the following articles:

1. One Walther P-38, serial number 7965B.
2. One Colt .22 caliber automatic, serial number 336260.
3. One Springfield .410 shotgun, model 39A (no serial number noted).
4. 1,000 rounds of assorted ammunition for above weapons and other caliber weapons.
5. German insignias and armbands.
6. One white Ku Klux Klan silk robe.
7. One black Ku Klux Klan silk robe.
8. One water pipe.
9. Two pounds of marijuana (39 packets).

It is noted the black Ku Klux Klan robe is worn by Ku Klux Klan enforcers, whose duties range from being "muscle men" to "assassins".

On September 25, 1973, the "Asbury Park Evening Press" ran an article on page 1, entitled "Klansmen Claims Group Maligned". The article quotes DRAGER as claiming to the the New Jersey's acting grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan.

On October 2, 1973, NK T-1 advised that on October 1, 1973, the Bucks County Unit, Number 12 (Bucks County, Pennsylvania), had a car caravan during the early PM hours. The caravan drove around Trevose, Pennsylvania area, advertising the Ku Klux Klan. The source advised DRAGER was present at this event and was in the company of several white males wearing Nazi uniforms.

On February 16, 1974, DRAGER and WILLIAM ERIC CARROLL were arrested by Lake Springfield, Illinois, Police Department, Sangamon County, Illinois, charged with possession of more than 10 grams, less than 30 grams, of marijuana and possession of burglary tools. A subsequent search of DRAGER's vehicle at that time of his arrest revealed extremist materials consisting of cassette tape recordings, address books, guerrilla training manuals, Ku Klux Klan literature, American Nazi Party literature, locations where crosses have allegedly been burned, wiretap equipment, and other right-wing literature. The subject was also in possession of numerous identification cards, such as driver's license and Social Security cards.

> The American Nazi Party - The World Union of Free Enterprise National Socialists was organized by George Lincoln Rockwell on February 26, 1956, based upon the concept of an international "National Socialist" movement, as espoused by the German Nazi Party, which was headed by Adolf Hitler. On January 1, 1967; the official name of this organization was changed to National Socialist White People's Party. The NSWPP supports and follows the line of hatred against blacks, Jews and communists through various propaganda media, demonstrations, and other publicity-seeking devices for the purpose of seeking a legitimate dominant political party within the United States and in foreign countries. Headquartered in Arlington, Virginia, the NSWPP is currently led by Matthias Koehl, Jr.

On February 19, 1974, DRAGER was interviewed by Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) at the Sangamon County Jail, Springfield, Illinois. DRAGER stated that he was unemployed and maintains no permanent address. He admitted membership in the "light action movement" but denied current membership in any extremist organization, although he claimed to be coordinating the activities among all right wing organizations in the eastern half of the United States.

Set forth is the interview of DRAGER and WILLIAM ERIC CARROLL, who was arrested and interviewed under the name THOMAS MIDDAUGH.

Date of transcription 2/21/74

FRANK AUGUST DRAGER, JR. was interviewed while incarcerated in the Sangamon County Jail. He was furnished the identity of the interviewing Agents and the purpose of the interview and he furnished the following information.

DRAGER stated that he is presently not a member of any right wing organization. He did admit to being the organizer and leader of the White Action Movement (WAM) which operated at one time out of Trenton, New Jersey, and Reading, Pennsylvania. He advised that the headquarters operations of that organization were disbanded due to a lack of finances. He declined to comment on the names of any members or of the total number of individuals involved in the WAM. DRAGER stated the aim of his movement was victory for all right wing organizations and this was to be accomplished through political elections or other necessary methods. His methods included preaching to the public concerning goals of his organization and by supporting the right type of individuals for public office. He considered BOB MILES, who is presently incarcerated in the Federal Penitentiary, Leavenworth, Kansas, to be the type of individual qualified to hold public office.

DRAGER stated that his WAM has adopted a philosophy of being the coordinator between all right wing organizations currently operating in this country. He stated that the strategies and ideals of all right wing groups actually are very similar and that when the conditions are right there will be a unification for all these groups into one large organization that will effectively be able to take control of the country. He stated he originally founded the WAM in 1970 and for a time published and distributed literature in an attempt to educate the public concerning his beliefs. He advised that WAM was unable to accomplish its goals as an above ground organization and as a result several years ago he decided to take the organization "under ground". Although there is no longer any formal organization or financial backing, WAM still has its officers and membership but the extent of its activities consists of himself and others traveling the country preaching the right wing philosophy to any group that will listen. DRAGER declined to comment on the number of individuals presently in WAM but did state he had previously issued 300 membership cards. He again declined comment concerning the names of any of the organization's leadership or its membership. He did state that the majority of WAM members were disillusioned members of other right wing organizations. He advised the uniform of WAM consists of military fatigues with a pistol belt with a half swastika emblem on the collar. This is the uniform he usually wears during his speaking engagements.

DRAGER stated that recently he had been vacationing in Florida, living mainly on previous savings. He did work for approximately 17 days as a chef at the Ocean Reef Club, Key Largo, Florida. He was paid $250 per week there and had accumulated about $500 at the time of his departure from the Florida Keys area. He also advised he was currently existing on survival tablets, taking up to 12 tablets daily as a method to supplement his normal meals. He stated he could easily maintain his health and weight by use of these tablets. DRAGER claimed that he is traveling by camper truck and that since leaving Florida he was en route to New Jersey when arrested in Springfield, Illinois. He declined to comment on when he left Florida or to where he had traveled since that time. He further declined comment concerning any meetings he may have attended or any communication he has had with any individuals connected with extremist organizations during his travels. He advised that he usually camps nightly in either State or Federal park campsites or if none are available would utilize a commercial camp grounds.

DRAGER stated that the individual who was arrested with him in Springfield and who has been traveling with him since leaving Florida is CHARLES MIDDAUGH, who has been a friend of the family for several years in New Jersey. He stated MIDDAUGH has been in trouble since the age of 13 and was most recently released in January, 1973, from a juvenile detention facility in New Jersey. He stated MIDDAUGH worked with him in Florida and that he is currently MIDDAUGH's legal guardian and will be until his 18th birthday in December, 1974. He advised MIDDAUGH shares some of his same basic beliefs but is not politically motivated in any way.

He admitted that DANIEL BRODERICK was the individual who was arrested with him by local authorities in New Jersey in September, 1973, and that he traveled with him for a period but that BRODERICK had stayed in Florida. He advised that BRODERICK contacted his lawyer concerning the pending charges in New Jersey and has probably returned to New Jersey.

DRAGER did admit to past memberships in the American Nazi Party, National Socialist White Peoples Party, Ku Klux Klan, Knights of Constantine, as well as generally claiming membership in all right wing organizations at one time or another during the past 15 years.

He stated he was recently the self-appointed Acting Grand Dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in New Jersey. He felt the organization needed leadership and that he had the respect of other leaders in the group, but did have some conflicts with some other independent Klan organizations in New Jersey.

DRAGER stated that he, in the past, has been harassed by local authorities and the Federal Bureau of Investigation but that he has never had any problems with any of the leadership of any right wing organization.

He claimed he is not currently a member of the Minutemen organization but that he does personally know ROBERT DEPUGH. He declined to comment on the last time he had any communications with DEPUGH.

DRAGER stated he personally knows several individuals associated with the American Nazi Party, including MATT KOEHL and DON PARSONS in Virginia, and first name unknown COLEMAN in Chicago. He advised that from 1961-1967 he was a member of the American Nazi Party and worked in its national headquarters in Arlington, Virginia. He worked closely with GEORGE LINCOLN ROCKWELL during this period as his second in command although he would never accept any rank higher than lieutenant. For a period during 1964-1967 he worked mainly at the party's training camp in Pennsylvania as the individual in charge of the printing of all literature for the party. After ROCKWELL's death, DRAGER advised he was asked to take command of the party but he declined because of his past criminal record, a decision he regrets to this day. Approximately three months after ROCKWELL's death he left the Nazi Party. DRAGER feels that MATT KOEHL, the present commander of the party, has the guts but not the know-how to run the party organization. He does not feel that he has the charisma that ROCKWELL has and he does not reach the public effectively with the party's message. DRAGER stated he currently has no association with the American Nazi Party or with the National Socialist White Peoples Party.

DRAGER advised he knows no one in Illinois associated with the American Nazi Party or the National Socialist White Peoples Party and the name DAN DEMMER means little to him. He does recall DEMMER writing to his WAM but stated DEMMER was not at Nazi Party Headquarters in Arlington during the same period that he served there.

He advised that he knows no one in the Phoenix, Arizona area since the death of WESTBROOK PAYO (phonetic). He knows of no right wing activity in that area but he did recall in the past he communicated with a Nazi Party member there but he no longer recalls this individual's name.

DRAGER stated that all of his travels are basically politically motivated and that the main philosophy of his WAM is victory for white Christianity and a return to the natural order. He feels that the white race was placed on this earth as the "gifted race" and that a geographical separation of the races is necessary to prevent interbreeding of the races. He contributes the basis of his beliefs to the writings of HITLER but stated that many of the ancient philosophers preached the same white supremacy philosophy. He believes that interbreeding of the races will eventually lead to the degeneration of our society and its eventual downfall.

DRAGER stated that in the event the political system fails as a means for the right wing groups in this country to save the country from its external and internal enemies, then any other means necessary will be used to achieve their goals. He feels that if the Government will not act to save the country then right wing organizations must act to do so.

DRAGER stressed the danger of an internal enemy in the form of an overly suppressive Government that would no longer act for the well-being of the average white American. Although he stated again that the right wing extremist organizations will attempt to gain power by legitimate political process, if this process should break down any method, including that of violence, would be used to accomplish their goals. He stated the targets of the right wing would be any suppressive

Government agencies or any left wing organization that would be doing the "bidding" of the suppressive Government in power. Additional targets of the right wing would include the United States Treasury Department and the Internal Revenue Service, and such organizations as the Jewish Anti-Defamation League, who although is not a Government agency, he feels it receives its authority to act from the Government.

DRAGER agreed that to succeed in the violent overthrow of the country a supply of weapons and ammunition would be necessary. He stated he knows of no right wing organization who currently has a stockpile of weapons and advised that the source of weapons at the right time would be the United States military establishment, whose leaders and white members he predicts will join his cause when it is time for action. Although he has heard that the Minutemen organization was stockpiling weapons, he has no evidence that that organization currently has any large supply of weapons in its possession.

He stated that he also felt that all the State units of Government will join his cause at the right time and that they will revolt against the suppression placed on them by the Federal Government. He feels that even personnel of the Federal Bureau of Investigation will join his cause because of their basic conservative beliefs and because of the Federal Bureau of Investigation's concern for the good of the country. He feels that the Federal Bureau of Investigation is now only a "pawn" of the Justice Department from which it receives its orders.

DRAGER continued to state his personal philosophy concerning the power and influence exerted by the Jewish population in this country. He considers the total Jewish control on the American political system to be the greatest internal threat present today in our system. He believes that the Communist movement, all racial organizations, and all liberal left wing organizations operating in this country are tools of the Jewish population in the United States. He predicts a complete economic takeover by the Jewish segment of our society. As examples of the extent of the Jewish control in this country, DRAGER uses the appointment of HENRY KISSINGER as Secretary of State as well as the fact that the NIXON administration is controlled by his high-ranking Jewish advisors and by political contributions furnished by the Jewish population in this country. He also stated that all sectors of the news media are controlled by Jews and that they directly control all newspaper publications either by direct ownership or by controlling the advertising that newspapers need for their survival. In addition, he pointed out that the three major radio-television networks are all headed by Jewish individual and as such they are able to direct public broadcasting to benefit their own views and the views of the Jewish segment of our society. DRAGER further stated that this great influence exerted by Jews in this country will eventually lead to the degeneration of our society unless their activities are stopped by actions from the right wing.

DRAGER stated that as a result of his travels throughout the country he has coordinated activities between the various right wing groups to such a degree that all that is needed for them to act in unison would be the right conditions to exist in this country. He feels that his activities are currently peaceful in nature and that he is determined to work within the present political system for change, but if conditions should become too suppressive toward the average white citizenry in this country, then a time for action will be at hand and if a violent revolution is necessary to bring about change, it will be used. When it is time for action DRAGER predicted a unification of all the right wing organizations in this country for the good of the common man.

DRAGER admitted that he confines his activities and travels to the area east of the Mississippi River and that he feels that the West is organized enough. He did admit to having spoken in the past in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Toledo, and Columbus, Ohio, and Chicago. He again declined to comment further regarding his activities or individuals he may have been in contact with during his travels since leaving New Jersey.

DRAGER refused to comment on any aliases he may use or upon the various identifications found in his possession at the time of his arrest in the names of DENIS DEAN RITTER - WAYNE JOSEPH HANSEN, RICHARD P. LILORO, ROBERT WHITFIELD CROUSE, HARLEY RAY MALCOLM, and WILLIAM ERICK CORNELL.

THOMAS CHARLES MEDDAUGH was interviewed while incarcerated in the Sangamon County Jail, Springfield, Illinois. He was furnished the identity of the interviewing Agents and the purpose of the interview. He furnished the following information. Chas

MEDDAUGH stated that FRANK DRAGER has been a long-time friend of the family and was his legal guardian for approximately four years until he reached his 18th birthday in December, 1973. His family was originally from the New Brunswick, New Jersey area and DRAGER is from the Trenton, New Jersey area.

He stated he has been traveling with DRAGER in DRAGER's camper truck since October, 1973, at which time DRAGER came through Daytona Beach, Florida, on his way to the Florida Keys area. He advised since that time they have spent time in Marathon, Florida, Key West, Florida, Key Largo, Florida, and the Everglades area of Florida. His last employment was as a cook at the Ocean Reef Club, Key Largo, Florida, for approximately a two week period in December, 1973.

MEDDAUGH stated he and DRAGER left Florida approximately two weeks ago en route to the West Coast and that they traveled through Alabama, Tennessee, Arkansas, and were somewhere in Colorado when they decided to return to New Jersey. He stated they were stranded somewhere in Alabama for five days because of the gasoline shortage but he does not recall the exact city in Alabama. Upon reaching Colorado, DRAGER was in telephonic contact with his lawyer in New Jersey and after that conversation he decided to return to New Jersey to take care of a local pending matter in Toms River, New Jersey, resulting from a September, 1973 arrest.

MEDDAUGH stated that he believes in white supremacy and considers himself to be anti-semitic but he denied having been or currently being a member of any right wing extremist organization. He does not personally believe that that type of organization is operating effectively in this country and that very few people actually believe in or are persuaded by their philosophy. He stated DRAGER is not currently active in any right wing organization but he does know that he was formerly Grand Dragon of the Ku Klux Klan organization in New Jersey. He further stated that he has never been present at any meeting of any right wing organization nor does he know if DRAGER has attended any meetings or has contacted any leaders of right wing organizations during their travels.

He stated he knows no one in the State of Illinois and that DRAGER was not on his way to any meeting in Illinois at the time of their arrest in Springfield. They had only stopped overnight en route to New Jersey.

MIDDAUGH advised that they had approximately $250 when they left Florida but DRAGER had friends all over the country that would supply them with food and financial backing if necessary. He declined to name any of these individuals, claiming he had never met any of them. He stated DRAGER has an aunt in New Jersey who would occasionally wire them funds. He does not recall her name.

MIDDAUGH also stated that DRAGER has a telephone number located somewhere in New Jersey that he periodically calls for messages and other information. He claimed he does not know the number nor the individual who DRAGER calls.

MIDDAUGH stated that DANIEL BRODERICK was a friend of DRAGER's who was traveling with them for a short time in Florida. The last time he saw BRODERICK was in the Florida Keys area and he believes that he has currently returned to New Jersey.

MIDDAUGH denied knowing a DENNIS DEAN RITTER, Toledo, Ohio, and denied knowing anything about the false identification and false vehicle titles found in DRAGER's camper at the time of their arrest.

The following information concerning MIDDAUGH was obtained through observation and interview:

On March 1, 1974, DRAGER and CARROLL were released on bond from the Sagamon County Jail. The subject's vehicle, a 1970 Ford pickup truck, with a camper truck unit, was left by DRAGER at the Sheriff's Impound Lot.

On March 6, 1974, NK T-2 advised he obtained information that FRANK DRAGER had visited ROBERT DE PUGH, Titular, Head of the Minutemen Organization, in Norborne, Missouri.

> The Minutemen organization was organized in 1960, reportedly to resist the spread of communism in the United States by use of guerrilla tactics. Robert B. DePugh, national coordinator of the Minutemen, was sentenced in October, 1970, for violations of the Federal Firearms Act. At the time of his arrest DePugh was in possession of documents concerned with guerrilla warfare and other paraphernalia, including hand grenades, gun silencers, and a machine gun. DePugh was released on parole during April, 1973, and in June, 1973, indicated he planned to revitalize the Minutemen into a "two-armed organization". Arm number one was to be utilized as a political front organization to sway elections and control local and state political structures. Arm number two was to be an underground guerrilla organization made up of "strike teams". These "strike teams" are to be under direct control of DePugh and their existence is to be unknown to everyone, including Minutemen State Coordinators.

After leaving Norborne, DRAGER was arrested in Springfield, Illinois. DRAGER was scheduled to proceed to Columbus, Ohio to meet with JOHN GERHARDT, Leader of the American White Nationalist Party (AWNP) and was to continue to Reading, Pennsylvania, to meet with ROY FRANKHOUSER.

DRAGER was supposedly carrying a message from DE PUGH to GERHARDT and FRANKHOUSER. GERHARDT and his brother, ED GERHARDT, are leaders of the AWNP in Columbus, Ohio. The GERHARDTs and a JAMES THOMPSON were arrested for shooting the homes of school officials in Columbus, Ohio. JAMES THOMPSON allegedly turned stated witness against the GERHARDT brothers. The GERHARDT brothers contacted the Indiana coordinator of the Minutemen and ROY FRANKHOUSER to make plans to prevent THOMPSON's testimony and have discussed possible execution. FRANKHOUSER allegedly advised GERHARDT he had a man who was unknown and could take care of THOMPSON. This individual is believed to be FRANK DRAGER.

~~CONFIDENTIAL SOURCE OF INFORMATION~~

On March 7, 1974, Mr. DANIEL JAMES BRODERICK, Staff Quarters, Ocean Reef Club, North Key Largo, Florida, advised DRAGER and he have been long time friends having met in Trenton, New Jersey. BRODERICK stated DRAGER claims to be "acting dragon" in the Ku Klux Klan and was known to him to have close links with the United Klan Leader ROBERT SHELTON. He further advised DRAGER did carry some type of firearm with him on his person at most times.

~~CONFIDENTIAL SOURCE OF INFORMATION~~

On May 16, 1974, BRODERICK was recontacted by Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation at the Ocean Reef Club, North Key Largo, Florida. At that time, he stated ROY FRANKHOUSER and DRAGER have a small arsenal of weapons, primarily automatic rifles. All or most part of these guns are stolen. The arsenal consists of three satchels, one belonging to FRANKHOUSER, the other to DRAGER and the third to both. Apparently only FRANKHOUSER knows their present whereabouts.

~~CONFIDENTIAL SOURCE OF INFORMATION~~

BRODERICK also stated that while in Florida City, DRAGER told him that he and CARROLL had stolen the checks made out to the Marathon Cay Sal Billfish Tournament and had been cashing them in the Florida Keys area. According to DRAGER, CARROLL committed the actual theft, while DRAGER waited in his truck nearby.

~~CONFIDENTIAL SOURCE OF INFORMATION~~

DRAGER also told BRODERICK, during that Florida City meeting, that he had purchased an automatic rifle in Miami.

On April 22, 1974, a tape cassette case with tape cassette inside was received at FBI Headquarters enclosed in a white envelope, bearing notation "20 April 1974; 85th birthday of Adolf Hitler; thought you guys might like to hear from us. FRANK DRAGER, WILLIAM CARROLL, National Revolutionary Army." The speaker on the tape claims to be FRANK DRAGER. An examination of the envelope by the Identification Division revealed three fingerprints of subject, FBI Numer 405-550-E. Copies of this tape was also sent to the "Trentonian Newspaper", Trenton, New Jersey, and the "United Press International", in New Orleans, Louisiana, as a press release for the National Revolutionary Army (NRA). This tape in transcript form is set forth below:

Transcript prepared from tape recording received at FBIHQ on 4/22/74 with speaker identifying himself as Frank Drager.

"I had originally planned for this communication to be typewritten, but since I stole this tape recorder, I guess it's just as appropriate as a letter.

Clarence Kelley, Director of the FBI,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Kelley:

I had always praised the thoroughness of the FBI, even though on scores of occasions you've permitted your paranoia and your lack of human understanding could foul you up. Your drooling excitement and your paranoic stupidity and your fruitless eagerness at having Frank Drager in your grimy grubs in Springfield, Illinois, make super idiots of the Federal Bureau of Integration. You now realize how many foolish errors you made. In the near future you will be employed by the new natural government of America rather than the Jew Justice Department and such stupidity will not be tolerated. How ridiculous for a gang of trained investigators to be fooled and beaten by a teenager. Have you idiots put all the pieces together yet? Whether or not you have, we both thank God for your paranoid stupidity for now we are free to continue tying together the few remaining loose ends which will permit the National Revolutionary Army to eliminate criminal Jewish control of America. Now our armies can continue to join forces to eliminate this alien enemy government. Continue your search for Frank Drager and Bill Carroll. It'll be useless and frustrating. If you are lucky enough to capture one of our soldiers in the future, beware, there's a speeding soft-nose for all of our enemies. Unfortunately, most fellow Agents are mercenaries. They are actually with us in spirit but they will still follow the orders of their Jewish superiors to attempt to detect and capture our people and unfortunately we will have to deal with these Agents ruthlessly until they realize that they are dominated and controlled by alien enemies of America and begin working on the side of right. At one time not too long ago we patriots were as useless as a bunch of foolish boobs and nothing going for us by idealistic goals

SERIALIZED FILED

Now our goals are within our grips and our armies are beginning to activate. A large segment of the left and the right are no longer shooting at each other. Yes, the fear of our enemies is now realistic. The bullets of all pro-American revolutionaries are aimed at the alien enemies in control and not at each other. Summer is near. Federal Agents beware. We mean business and we have the facilities not to be stopped. Your laws don't bother us; your jails don't scare us; and your bullets will be returned with more bullets. Your leaders have bankrupted our people, have starved them, and caused enough materialistic havoc that we now have the will of the people with us. Even the stupidist in America see through the grain shortages, fuel shortages, price gougings, meat shortages, work stoppages, and various other criminal corruption by the enemy aliens in control. America's masses are in the corner. Now just stand back and watch them come out shooting. When the smoke clears, America shall be the victor.

White Power."

"The following portion of this communication will be the only press release of the New Revolutionary Army. In future months, as our movement gains momentum, I wish for the press to understand what we are about rather than what the FBI tells them. There is a brief but somewhat inclusive listing of our program included.

The New Revolutionary Party herewith immediately declares that the present Government of the United States of America is an illegal confederation of aliens and enemies of the people of America. The New Revolutionary Army, its officers and followers henceforth secede from the United States of America until such time we may be able to restore a Government of the people, by the people and for the people and oust the enemy aliens now in control. Through force and violence and whatever means available to the NRA, we will totally, forcefully and quickly restore sanity to our American republic. We have adopted the American Constitution in its original form, revised the Bill of Rights, and eliminated or revised all the amendments to the Constitution. We have formed a national caucus of the hundreds of known and unknown political leaders whose present identity will remain anonymous, who at the time the enemy aliens perish or relinquish control, will immediately be brought before the American voter to seize popular control of vacant political offices.

We of the NRA are the people, we speak for the people, and we will violently eliminate America's enemies with the haste of a speeding bullet. The NRA has chosen for its spokesman a well-known adversary for the return of America to a natural social order. The revolutionaries of the NRA are ordered to maintain in every way possible or to avoid detection by the enemy, but are ordered not to deny their association if at such time they are detected by the enemy or captured. All NRA members and associates are instructed that if captured they are governed by the laws set at the Geneva Conference for captured soldiers and prisoners of war. This is by all means a declaration of war. The enemies of white America will fall like flies at a Raid party.

The following is a very brief synopsis of the goals of the NRA once we seize power.

#1. All non-whites immediately loose citizenship and prepare for repatriation.

#2. The Federal Reserve will be abolished and all illegal tender returned and it will be replaced with legal notes once citizenship is confirmed.

#3. Israel immediately declared an illegal enemy state.

#4. Immediate deportation of all Jews, either racial or religious.

#5. Income tax abolished. (Product) taxation and industrial support.

#6. Cancellation of the national debt immediately.

#7. Immediate elimination of foreign, Jewish and enemy control in banking and financing institutions.

#8. Immediate seizure of all properties and interests of all Jewish and/or enemies of America.

#9. Immediate reinstatement of a healthy racial standard. Interracial marriage will be illegal.

#10. Abolition of foreign aid until necessary determination can be investigated.

#11. Immediate release of all political prisoners presently being held by the enemy Government.

#12. Immediate and total revision of the judiciary system.

#13. Immediate reorganization and/or elimination of all useless Government agencies.

#14. Immediate and total reorganization of the welfare and all other give-away Government agencies.

#15. Immediate arrest and rapid trials of America's enemies and those persons who have willfully conspired to sell out America's working masses. Harsh punishments to those convicted.

#16. Protection by the Government of citizens against illegal seizure of personal property and monies by alien usurers.

#17. Right-to-work and receive a fair wage to helpfully maintain all citizens and their families.

#18. Immediate return to our original form of represented republic as described by the founding fathers.

#19. Immediate abolition of all unfair usury practices; i.e., unfair mortgage interest, etc.

#20. Immediate reorganization of the nation's unsatisfactory school system.

#21. Immediate return to the sovereign rights of states.

#22. Instant revision of the social security system to allocate appropriate relief immediately and henceforth to those elderly and needy citizens.

#23. Immediate abolition of all Government payoffs to corporations and farms for not producing or growing products and for ridiculous depletion payoffs.

#24. Immediate allocation to the formation of an agency to scientifically and objectively investigate thoroughly the harm and damages caused by various use of all drugs. Their rapid but thorough study will be presented to the American public, thus creating in some cases more liberal and in some cases more stringent laws governing the use of drugs.

A. Stiffer penalties for users of illegal drugs.

B. Harsher penalties for sales of drugs.

C. Death penalties for suppliers of forbidden drugs.

D. Abolition of drug give-away programs.

#25. Immediate reestablishment of a just law and order for the protection of all American citizens and the elimination of America's enemies.

This tape was prepared by Frank Drager for immediate shipment to the FBI. Copies are made by William Carroll and forwarded to the press services for immediate release. Frank Drager and Bill Carroll are both officers of the NRA and are presently being sought by the FBI.

On June 11, 1974, NK T-2 advised he developed information that would indicate a meeting was held at the residence of AL LENTZ, Grand Dragon of the National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, in the York, Pennsylvania area. In attendance, were numerous members of the Ku Klux Klan and Minutemen organization.

FRANK DRAGER was known to have been at this meeting. DRAGER outlined his plans for establishing an organization called the National Revoluntionary Army. DRAGER explained that the goals of this group were to "destroy" the United States Government and replace it with members of his own group. DRAGER was believed to have mentioned he contacted H. RAP BROWN, a black extremist, and other activist leaders and plans to united these various groups to achieve his goals.

DRAGER also indicated he had a large quantity of dynamite and plans to blow up two city blocks on July 4, 1974. DRAGER stated that he did not have blasting caps at that time but might be able to get them from a Minuteman member in Indiana.

DRAGER alleges to have traveled to various parts of the country and has urged members of the right wing to commit acts of violence on July 4, 1974, so that the NRA could take credit for these acts. The source was advised DRAGER exhibited four .45 caliber pistols, three .30 caliber carbines and one bolt action rifle at this meeting.

The source was further advised DRAGER braggs about his passing bad checks in Florida and his using stolen credit cards to purchase gasoline, food and lodging. DRAGER supposedly plans to obtain $200,000.00 in the near future and this might be accomplished through a kidnapping or bank robbery.

DRAGER further indicated sometime during the meeting that he would like to know how to make letter bombs.

On June 13, 1974, NK T-3 advised he learned a meeting was held at the home of ALBERT LENTZ, head of a small group called the Independent Ku Klux Klan of York, Pennsylvania. FRANK DRAGER was known to have been in attendance with six or seven other right wing sympathizers. At that meeting, DRAGER stated he plans to blow up two city blocks by placing dynamite in the sewer system of this city.

DRAGER also requested the group to cause incidents such as explosions on July 4, 1974, so a group he is forming called the NRA could take credit for it. DRAGER stated he was going underground and would use the code name GORMAN.

DRAGER was known to have stayed at AL LENTZ' residence from June 3, 1974 to June 6, 1974.

On June 15, 1974, NK T-2 advised that in conversation with a Ku Klux Klan member in Philadelphia, it was learned six or seven individuals met at the home of AL LENTZ, on June 5, 1974, in York, Pennsylvania. All in attendance represented a small group of independent Ku Klux Klan members and several Indiana representatives of the Minutemen. FRANK DRAGER was in attendance and discussed his plans for the forming of a group called "NRA" and the source also developed information that DRAGER was planing to blow up two city blocks on July 4, 1974.

On July 2, 1974, Mr. ROY FRANKHOUSER was interviewed by Special Agents of the FBI in the presence of his attorney. FRANKHOUSER stated he met FRANK DRAGER on June 7, 1974, at the Coach House Restaurant, 5th and Walnut Streets, Reading, Pennsylvania. FRANKHOUSER was brought to the restaurant by a JAKE (LAST NAME UNKNOWN) an associate of DRAGER's; however, JAKE was not present during this meeting. During the meeting, DRAGER wanted FRANKHOUSER's help in obtaining fuses for timing devices for explosives and requested further assistance in several projects. FRANKHOUSER stated he declined in both cases. DRAGER stated he had looked into the Gubow matter in Michigan, and indicated he and his group were going to kill Judge GUBOW. DRAGER stated he had been to Michigan and "cased" the judge's home. DRAGER stated he tried to contact the wife of Reverend ROBERT MILES, in Michigan, but she would not talk to him. DRAGER stated the only reservation he had about killing Judge GUBOW was whether or not it would effect the appeal of Reverend MILES.

It is noted Judge GUBOW is the Federal judge who sat in on the case involving Reverend ROBERT MILES, who was tried and convicted for the bombing of school buses in Pontiac, Michigan.

FRANKHOUSER stated DRAGER also stated he was going to take care of two FBI agents and mentioned the names CLONINGER (phonetic) and MIFFLIN (phonetic). DRAGER indicated he was going to "blow them out" and kill them. DRAGER also indicated he needed enough explosives to "level a one story building". DRAGER stated that at one point he was going to blow up an IRS building, but did not mention any specific location.

It is noted Special Agents of the FBI mentioned above are possibly identical to SAS BURL E. CLONINGER and CHARLES F. MOFFETT, who have worked Ku Klux Klan matters in the Trenton, New Jersey area.

FRANKHOUSER stated he accompanied DRAGER and they walked to the vicinity of 3rd and Walnut Streets, Reading, Pennsylvania, where a relatively new car was parked. DRAGER opened the trunk and FRANKHOUSER observed numerous handguns and rifles and believed there were explosives in the trunk. FRANKHOUSER could not furnish further description of this vehicle. DRAGER showed FRANKHOUSER the weapons to show them "we mean business".

FRANKHOUSER then stated that DRAGER indicated he had a "caper" planned that would meant $100,000.00. DRAGER did not further discuss the caper. FRANKHOUSER concluded on his own that the "caper" was possibly a bank robbery. FRANKHOUSER denied any specific knowledge regarding any bank robberies on DRAGER's part.

FRANKHOUSER stated he was contacted by DRAGER via telephone call on one occasion subsequent to June 7, 1974 meeting. At this time, DRAGER indicated two of his men had been arrested and the "caper" was delayed. This contact was about two days prior to DRAGER's arrest in New Jersey.

It is noted the New Jersey State Police made available a xerox copy of a parking ticket in the recovered 1973 Pinto, stolen by DRAGER on March 11, 1974, indicating he was ticketed on June 6, 1974, at 1:41 pm, in the vicinity of 4th Street, Reading, Pennsylvania, Ticket Number 18025, thusly verifying that DRAGER was in the Reading area on or about the date DRAGER and FRANKHOUSER had their clandestine meeting.

On June 14, 1974, Detective JOHN REYNOLDS, New Jersey, State Police, West Trenton, New Jersey, advised a WILLIAM ERIC CARROLL and a JAMES KEITH were arrested by the New Jersey State Police at Bordentown, New Jersey, when they were noticed to have illegally passed a stopped school bus on Route #206, at Columbus, New Jersey, and it was subsequently determined their vehicle was a stolen motor vehicle.

CARROLL when stopped, produced a driver's license for a WILLIAM R. JENKINS, 364 South Olden Avenue, Trenton, New Jersey. The arresting officer observed several other documents which appeared to be driver's license in the wallet of CARROLL, thusly arousing his investigative curiosity. The officer further noted a carbine protruding from a cardboard carton in CARROLL's vehicle. The Vehicle Identificatio

Number was put into the National Crime Information Center computers (NCIC) and it was determined this car was stolen from Lawrence Township, New Jersey, on March 11, 1974, by FRANK DRAGER, JR.

A further search of the vehicle revealed four pistols and two Ml .30 caliber carbines, numerous urban guerrilla mini-manuals, military handbooks, Nazi and Minutemen handbooks, camping gear, gas masks and chemicals.

The weapons were specifically noted to be as follows:

1. One Savage .32 caliber automatic, serial number 75190.
2. One Stoeger .22 caliber Luger automatic, serial number 363.
3. One .30 caliber carbine, Plainfield Machine Company, serial number 44837.
4. Colt pistol .45 caliber automatic, serial number 1883084.
5. Colt pistol .45 caliber automatic, Commander Model, serial number 70SC19183.
6. .30 caliber Ml carbine, United States Government, serial number 3329743.

A check with the NCIC computers failed to indicate any of these weapons as having been stolen property.

Also contained in the vehicle were numerous chemicals as noted below:

1. One bottle marked M-Hexane.
2. Two bottles of hydrochloric acid.
3. One bottle of Xylene.
4. One bottle of Nitric acid.

5. One glass distiller.

6. Rubber gloves.

7. Plastic tubing.

8. Amonia.

9. One red can marked motor oil.

These chemicals are presently in the custody of New Jersey State Police Laboratory, West Trenton, New Jersey.

On April 17, 1974, Detective JAMES HEWITT, Lawrence Township, New Jersey, Police Department, advised that their department had a warrant for the subject's arrest. He is charged with fraud for failure to return a 1973 Ford rental car, rented by DRAGER on March 11, 1974. On August 6, 1974, Mr. HAROLD LANG, Lang Enterprises, 209 Lawrence Road, Lawrence Township, New Jersey, owner of the Econo-Car Rental System, advised DRAGER rented a 1973 green Ford Pinto, bearing New Jersey plates YOK-300, on March 11, 1974. The vehicle was to be returned on March 18, 1974. DRAGER deposited $75.00 cash, and produced a New Jersey driver's license issued to FRANK A. DRAGER, JR., 214 East Franklin Street, Trenton, New Jersey, driver's license number D7151 26761 08404.

LANG advised he reported the car stolen to the Lawrence Township, New Jersey, Police Department, when the vehicle was not returned on March 18, 1974. LANG was then contacted by Detective HEWITT on June 19, 1974 and was advised he could pick up the recovered vehicle from the New Jersey State Police, at Bordentown, New Jersey. LANG made available the rental agreement which appears to be signed by DRAGER. During the three months the vehicle was gone, DRAGER totaled 16,509 miles having accured a bill totaling $2,393.71. On July 12, 1974, Special Agent RONALD DECKER, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, Trenton, New Jersey, advised a trace of the abovementioned weapons seized on June 13, 1974, at Bordentown, New Jersey, were traced to their department which revealed the following information:

1. The Savage .32 caliber automatic, serial number 75190, was sold to Simmons Hardware Company, (no address noted) on October 23, 1912.

2. The Stoeger .22 caliber Luger automatic, serial number 363, was sold to OLAF WILLIAM AIKEN 1846 West Lake, Famimish Parkway, Bellvue, Washington. AIKEN was noted to be a white male, born October 17, 1939, at Webster, South Dakota. He is 5'8", 150 pounds, having Washington State License AIKENOW61PP. This weapon was purchased April 18, 1959, from the Seattle Sporting Goods, 4740 Rosenfelt Way, Northeast, Seattle, Washington.

3. The .30 caliber Plainfield carbine was allegedly purchased by FRANK AUGUST DRAGER, 100-101 Ocean Street, Marathon, Florida, on April 13, 1974.

4. Colt .45 caliber Commander, serial number 70SC19183, was last known to be owned by MARSHALL L. MC ELWANEY, 5635 Casmere, Warren, Michigan, on November 16, 1973. MC ELWANEY is a white male, born April 12, 1950, Detroit, Michigan, 6', 158 pounds, having Michigan driver's license number M245-585-497-285. He purchased this from Gell's Sporting Goods, 11557 12 Mile Road, Warren, Michigan.

5-6. The colt pistol .45 caliber automatic serial number 1883084 and the .30 caliber M1 carbine serial number 3329743, were determined to be United States Government weapons. The director of civilian marksmanship, Rock Island Arsenal, Illinois, advised they have no records reflecting these weapons were sold to civilians.

RON DECKER, Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms (ATF) advised these last two weapons are undoubtedly stolen but were probably stolen prior to the institution of NCIC and are not longer maintained on Government records.

James Keith

On July 1, 1974, JAMES EDWARD KEITH and WILLIAM ERIC CARROLL were interviewed by Special Agents of the FBI at the Burlington County Jail, Mount Holly, New Jersey, and neither subject appeared cooperative. On July 17, 1974, the subjects were re-interviewed and set forth is information obtained during the interview.

WILLIAM ERIC CARROLL, in-mate, Burlington County Jail, was made known the identity of the interviewing agent and the nature of the inquiry. CARROLL was advised of his Constitutional Rights and indicated he understood these rights but was unwilling to sign any forms indicating such or to sign any statements. CARROLL was advised that the interviewing agent was specifically seeking information regarding the activities of he and FRANK AUGUST DRAGER and a group called the National Revolutionary Army (NRA). CARROLL related the following information:

He stated he met FRANK DRAGER in the presence of a THOMAS MIDDAUGH prior to the summer of 1973. MIDDAUGH was described as his close friend and they both attended a Ku Klux Klan (KKK) rally in Upper New Jersey, at which time MIDDAUGH introduced him to DRAGER. DRAGER is known to be the legal guardian for MIDDAUGH. He was much impressed by the zeal and philosophy of FRANK DRAGER and immediately became his close friend and associate. Even though it was later learned by CARROLL that DRAGER was a homosexual, he decided to be tolerant of this fact and they would continue to travel together and expound their right wing philosophy.

He stated he felt he had quite a bit to do with FRANK DRAGER re-joining the right wing element. He stated that they talked a lot about how the right wing could change the country and felt they could work together as a highly proficient team. He stated that many of their activities were planned while they were high on marijuana.

James

Later that summer he and DRAGER were in Trenton, N.J., where he was introduced to one of DRAGER's best friends by the name of JIM BRODERICK. BRODERICK was known to have an extensive criminal record and at that time was dealing in marijuana. BRODERICK was also seen on numerous occasions with stolen checks believed to have been taken from the Trenton area businesses. He, DRAGER and BRODERICK left the Trenton area inasmuch as BRODERICK was involved in some way with a 200 pound marijuana buy which involved a shooting. CARROLL stated he did not know the specifics of this incident.

Interviewed on 7/17/74 at Mt. Holly, N.J. File # NK 157-2011

by SA CHARLES F. MOFFETT /mla Date dictated 7/23/74

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

They then went to the Jersey Shore where BRODERICK and DRAGER obtained employment at the Captain Courageous Bar. BRODERICK and DRAGER were known to have stolen numerous checks from the Captain Courageous Bar and passed these checks to obtain money to travel to Florida.

In September of 1973, he, DRAGER and BRODERICK were arrested in Toms River, N.J., in what he felt was a "set up". He stated he believed the FBI had made their presence known to the local authorities so the local authorities would arrest and harass them for the FBI. The three of them made bail and purchased 40 pounds of marijuana and left for Florida in FRANK DRAGER's camper truck. They took several jobs under assumed names, working as dishwashers and cooks. BRODERICK then took a job at the Ocean Reef Beach Club in Key Largo, Fla. He and DRAGER also worked there for a short time but were fired.

During this period of time, DRAGER purchased an M-1 Carbine and a .45 caliber automatic pistol while in Florida. He and DRAGER then travelled to New Orleans, where they made a drug buy and stole a .32 caliber handgun from a drug pusher on the New Orleans waterfront.

After making several right wing contacts, they left New Orleans and travelled to Springfield, Ill., to meet other right wing sympathizers. On their journey, they had met ROBERT SHELTON of the KKK and ROBERT DE PUGH of the Minutemen. SHELTON and DE PUGH promised ~~full~~ support for the NRA, which CARROLL stated was the same as the White Action Movement founded by DRAGER several years ago at Trenton, N.J. On their way to Springfield, they stopped at the residence of DON ZINN in Michigan. CARROLL indicated that during their travels they were constantly seeking weapons, ammunition, and manuals on ~~gorilla~~ guerrilla warfare.

While in Springfield, Ill., in February, 1974, they were arrested for possession of marijuana, burglary tools, and dangerous weapons. CARROLL again advised he felt the FBI had something to do with this arrest and expressed the thought that possibly DE PUGH was an informant or else the FBI had seen them with DE PUGH and followed them to the location of their arrest. CARROLL stated he used the identification of THOMAS MIDDAUGH inasmuch as he thought the FBI and the Florida authorities had warrants for he and DRAGER.

DRAGER obtained bail money for them and upon their release from jail they tried to obtain the camper truck back but were advised by the local authorities it was going to be used as evidence in their pending case.

Inasmuch as they had no transportation, they then hitchhiked from Springfield, Ill., to York, Pa., where they visited with AL LENTZ. They then proceeded to Trenton, N.J., and obtained a rental car which they did not return. CARROLL indicated they then left the Trenton area and went to Boston, Mass., in efforts to get him a driver's license. While in Boston they tried to cash several more Captain Courageous checks but were not successful, inasmuch as everybody required photographic identification.

After having left Boston, Mass., they travelled to Washington, D.C., and visited a SKYLER FERRIS (phonetic). They tried to obtain maps of the sewer system of Washington, D.C., from him. FERRIS was advised of their plans to bomb the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and at first FERRIS was not agreeable. FERRIS was then guaranteed that the local authorities would be advised of the bomb a half hour prior to its detonation on July 4, 1974. FERRIS was agreeable to this plan and supplied them with the diagram of the sewer system. FERRIS is further known to be a right wing patriot and supplied names of local patriots to DRAGER.

After departing Washington, D.C., they travelled to Florida and visited with an ORVILLE LIPPERT.

They then proceeded to Alabama where they registered the vehicle they stole in Trenton, N.J. They then travelled back to York, Pa., and saw AL LENTZ again. They visited several days with LENTZ and then returned to Trenton, N.J., where they looked up a JAMES KEITH, who is known to be a close friend of JAMES BRODERICK. They requested him to find them an apartment which they could rent for several weeks prior to their planned July 4 attempt to bomb the IRS, Washington, D.C.

KEITH, DRAGER, and he were going to the Florence Motel in Florence, N.J., to move into a room they had rented. DRAGER was dropped off at an Acme Market to buy groceries inasmuch as there was not room in the vehicle for the three of them and groceries. They were heading toward the motel to deposit their equipment and clothes when they were arrested by the New Jersey State Police for passing a stopped school bus. He stated he was going to shoot it out with the New Jersey State Trooper but became concerned when KEITH did not appear to go along with the idea. They were going to stay at the motel for approximately two weeks and then return to Pennsylvania and get dynamite from some patriots in Pennsylvania. If this plan was unsuccessful, they had planned to go to one of the Western States and obtain dynamite under the guise of future prospectors. He stated that the chemicals that were in the car at the time of his arrest were experimented with by he and DRAGER in efforts to make a bomb. These efforts were not too successful and thusly they decided dynamite would be a better method.

CARROLL advised the NRA is identical to the White Action Movement formed by DRAGER in 1970 in Trenton, N.J. He claims to have organized chapters all over the United States and Canada and these groups are composed of disgruntled right wing patriots who are not satisfied with the passive activities of the KKK and the Minutemen Organization. He claimed to have taken an oath and could not divulge who any of these other members are. He claimed this group is storing weapons and explosives and no chapter knows where the other chapter's weapons are.

CARROLL stated the NRA believes in doing anything necessary to support themselves while they are endeavoring to overtake the U.S. Government. The NRA believes in bank robbery, armored car heists, and cashing stolen checks. He said presently the NRA has no plans for political kidnappings. He stated all their members are instructed to die for the cause if necessary. The NRA has devised a code system whereby one member can contact another member without the Federal authorities knowing this is being done. He stated they have several training grounds throughout the East Coast and Mid-West areas and their men are being trained in the use of all kinds of weapons.

When specifically asked who other members of the NRA were, CARROLL refused to identify any of these members and it appeared as if possibly no members did, in fact, exist.

CARROLL advised JAMES KEITH, who was arrested with him in the stolen motor vehicle, was not a right wing Patriot and could not be trusted. KEITH's services were requested by DRAGER inasmuch as KEITH is a close friend of JAMES BRODERICK and was known to be active in criminal endeavors in the Trenton area. He and DRAGER believed KEITH might be able to financially help their cause.

CARROLL advised the NRA's philosophy was an incorporation of much of the thoughts of the KKK, Minutemen, and the American Nazi Party. He stated they were more revolutionary and would actively and ardently endeavor to overthrow the U.S. Government and replace it with the National Revolutionary Army. He expounded the philosophy that the NRA was anti-Jewish, anti-Negro, and anti-Catholic. The NRA is promoting the deportation of all non-native born Americans and the return of the Jews and Negroes to their homelands. He stated they were definitely against the Federal Income Tax, which is what led them to decide to blow up the IRS building in Washington, D.C. The NRA further advocates political assassinations if necessary. He stated that DRAGER had considered killing a Judge GUBOW in Michigan but decided not to inasmuch as the judge's death might hinder the appeal of Reverend BOB MILES who has been sentenced to prison by Judge GUBOW for the bombing of school buses in Michigan. CARROLL stated he and DRAGER have cashed numerous stolen checks throughout the U.S. to support themselves. He indicated DRAGER was possibly involved in an armed robbery in the Boston, Mass., area but then decided he did not want to talk further about this matter.

DRAGER had obtained numerous handguns and rifles while travelling throughout the U.S. Most of these weapons were purchased in the name of FRANK DRAGER, using identification DRAGER had obtained in his own name in Florida.

CARROLL was asked about his knowledge of a tape recording sent to ORVILLE LIPPERT in Florida, where DRAGER requests LIPPERT's assistance in returning his camper truck, which LIPPERT purchased from him, to his aunt EDNA GRABER in Trenton, N.J. In this tape, DRAGER identified himself to LIPPERT so that EDNA GRABER can purchase back this vehicle for DRAGER. CARROLL stated LIPPERT purchased this vehicle from DRAGER for $1.00. LIPPERT went to Springfield, Ill., and obtained the truck from the Springfield, Ill., police authorities. At the end of this tape, DRAGER makes reference to the fact he killed "two pigs", in Atlanta and one in Miami Beach but with zero publicity. DRAGER then states "watch out for the third pig." CARROLL advised the word pig referred to the barnyard type and not to police officers. He stated they obtained pigs which they killed and carried into a Jewish synagogue in Atlanta and one in Miami Beach. He stated in no way would he believe DRAGER would kill a police officer unless it was in self-defense.

JAMES KEITH, in-mate, Burlington County Jail, was made ~~known the~~ identity of the interviewing agent by a show of credentials and was advised the FBI was inquiring of him any information he had regarding the activities of WILLIAM ERIC CARROLL, FRANK AUGUST DRAGER, and a group called the National Revolutionary Army.

KEITH stated he has known FRANK DRAGER for approximately two years. He was introduced to DRAGER by a JAMES BRODERICK, who was described by him to be his best friend. KEITH advised he personally has no political philosophy, and more specifically is not involved in any form or phase with DRAGER or his right wing extremist activities.

On June 11, 1974, two days before his arrest with WILLIAM ERIC CARROLL, known to him as JAKE, JAKE and DRAGER appeared at his apartment at 125 Dye Street, Trenton, N.J., requesting his help in efforts to find an apartment. He stated BRODERICK had given DRAGER his address. DRAGER and JAKE stayed at his apartment for one night. DRAGER stated he needed a place to lay low for two weeks inasmuch as he planned to travel to Washington, D.C., to blow up the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) building at Washington, D.C. KEITH advised he felt DRAGER was a braggart and did not believe DRAGER would actually blow up the IRS Building. DRAGER stated that they were presently operating a stolen motor vehicle and were wanted by the FBI. KEITH stated he found an apartment on the corner of Hamilton and Chambers Streets in Trenton, N.J., but DRAGER refused this inasmuch as it was on the third floor rather than the first floor. That next evening, on the 12th of June, they visited a close friend of KEITH's by the name of VINNY RAMPONE, 545 Hamilton Avenue, and requested of RAMPONE a garage in which to hide the stolen motor vehicle. He stated he did not tell RAMPONE specifically the nature of the request inasmuch as he felt RAMPONE might call the police if he knew the car was stolen. KEITH advised he knew DRAGER had numerous weapons concealed in the vehicle. KEITH stated that he did not wish DRAGER and JAKE to stay with him, so he recommended they obtain an efficiency apartment at the Florence Motel in Florence, N.J. On the evening of June 13, 1974, he and JAKE dropped FRANK DRAGER off at a grocery store in the Florence, N.J., area, and as they were travelling to the motel they were arrested by the New Jersey State Police on a traffic charge. At the time they were stopped, CARROLL reached under the front seat and drew out a .45 caliber automatic and stated he was going to shoot it out with the trooper. KEITH told him he was crazy, inasmuch as JAKE did not even know why they were stopped. The officer advised them they had illegally passed a school bus and requested to see JAKE's identification. JAKE then handed the trooper a driver's license and the trooper evidently noticed JAKE had several other driver's licenses in his wallet. The trooper then apparently became suspicious and made them stand against the car while he looked around. The trooper then spotted one of the guns, placed them under arrest, and later determined the car to have been stolen.

KEITH stated he is a parole violator inasmuch as he has been arrested. KEITH indicated he had no involvement with DRAGER and JAKE and had requested he transfer to another jail inasmuch as his involvement with JAKE might get him into further trouble.

He stated that in his conversations with JAKE while in the Burlington County Jail he has determined the following information:

DRAGER and JAKE had received a map of the diagram of the sewer system in Washington, D.C., from a friend of DRAGER's who works for the Sewer Department in Washington, D.C. JAKE and DRAGER indicated they were going to blow up the IRS Building in Washington, D.C. It was also determined that DRAGER has dynamite and guns buried on a farm, which is in Pennsylvania. The name GEORGE HOUSER was mentioned in reference to this farm. JAKE had indicated he and DRAGER had gone to the Boston, Mass., area and possibly were involved in a bank robbery. JAKE and DRAGER had pre-arranged plans to make an escape at any courthouse the other one was to appear if apprehended. A person by the name of DE PUGH was to have gotten a copy of the sewer plans of Washington, D.C., from FERRIS. A RAYMOND DOERFLER from Trenton, N.J., went to a Ku Klux Klan meeting at Rising Sun, Md., in efforts to get money for FRANK DRAGER's bail and further monies in efforts to help DRAGER purchase his camper truck from a ORVILLE LIPPERT.

It is further noted ROY FRANKHOUSER, Reading, Pa., is believed to use the code name "RALPH". FRANK DRAGER and JAKE had planned to rob a bank and had considered also an armored car robbery.

JAKE had mentioned on several occasions a training grounds used by the National Revolutionary Army (NRA) for the purpose of the invasion of Cuba and the NRA claims support from the Cuban underground. The NRA supposedly plans to invade Cuba on July 4, 1976.

It was further learned that the camper truck, which is a home-made camper and in the possession of ORVILLE LIPPERT, was designed specifically to be used in smuggling guns across the Canadian border. The walls of the camper truck have secret compartments and DRAGER is supposed to have a gun contact in Canada. Presently there are believed to be two 9mm. lugers located somehwere in the camper body. JAKE also stated DRAGER has a close friend who is affiliated with the Ford Motor Company as an inventor. This individual is an excellent machinist and has made numerous silencers for the right wing element.

KEITH advised he did not condone the right wing activities of JAKE and DRAGER and stated he would help the FBI in any way possible.

Inasmuch as DRAGER and CARROLL have been in possession of identification, i.e., driver's license, Social Security cards and Selective Service cards and etc., of known friends and acquaintances, interviews were conducted to determine how DRAGER was in receipt of the identification of WILLIAM R. JENKINS, 364 South Olden Avenue, Trenton, New Jersey, VINCENT RAMPONE, 545 Hamilton Avenue, Trenton, New Jersey, and RAYMOND DOERFLER, 549 Center Street, Trenton, New Jersey. Set forth are the results of these interviews:

Mr. WILLIAM R. JENKINS, 364 South Olden Avenue, Trenton, N.J., was interviewed regarding his knowledge involving his identification papers being found on a WILLIAM ERIC CARROLL when CARROLL was arrested on June 13, 1974, by the New Jersey State Police at Columbus, N.J.

JENKINS initially advised he had no knowledge as to how WILLIAM ERIC CARROLL could be in receipt of his driver's license and Social Security Card. He stated he had lost his wallet several months back and did not know its whereabouts. At that time, it was pointed out to him that CARROLL was a travelling companion of FRANK AUGUST DRAGER, and that DRAGER had had his White Action Movement Headquarters just two houses from the JENKINS' residence. At that time, JENKINS advised that he knew FRANK DRAGER and related the following information:

He stated that early in the Spring of 1974 he saw FRANK DRAGER in a camper truck with Pennsylvania tags across the street from his residence. DRAGER had spotted him coming home from school and pulled over to talk to him. DRAGER had stated that he was wanted by the FBI and needed phoney identification. JENKINS advised he could not help him and could not supply any information how he might obtain such.

JENKINS then advised that around the first of June, 1974, he again met DRAGER in the front of his residence and DRAGER, at that time, was driving a green Ford Pinto believed to have Florida license plates. Again DRAGER requested false identification, and JENKINS advised he could not supply him with any. JENKINS then noticed his driver's license was about to expire and asked DRAGER to take him down to the Department of Motor Vehicles, Trenton, N.J., where he could obtain a new license. JENKINS then stated he must have accidently lost his wallet in DRAGER's car when they were returning from the Department of Motor Vehicles. Again DRAGER indicated he was wanted by the FBI and local police authorities. He stated he was only passing through Trenton and was not staying in the area.

JENKINS advised he also observed a .45 caliber automatic handgun in a holster which was shown to him by DRAGER. DRAGER also indicated he was wanted for a comspiracy to blow up something but DRAGER was not more specific about this charge. DRAGER also mentioned he was wanted for passing bad checks in several states.

VINCENT RAMPONE, 545 Hamilton Avenue, was interviewed regarding any knowledge he may have as to how WILLIAM ERIC CARROLL was in possession of RAMPONE's driver's license and Social Security Card.

RAMPONE advised he is a close friend of JAMES KEITH, known to him as TEX, and on the evening of June 12, 1974, KEITH and JAKE visited his apartment. They stayed there for several hours talking about things in general.

JAKE then began to go off on a right wing tangent and talked about "niggers and how they should be sent back to Africa." RAMPONE told KEITH that this individual was not welcome in his house inasmuch as he, RAMPONE, did not advocate the right wing program. At that time KEITH stated a FRANK DRAGER needed a garage to park his car. RAMPONE then realized DRAGER was also a right wing extremist and declined this request. He stated that at that time JAKE had access to his bedroom and bathroom and possibly obtained some of this identification at that time. RAMPONE showed his original driver's license and indicated the only thing JAKE could have obtained was an old temporary driver's license which was probably laying on his dresser.

Mr. RAYMOND DOERFLER, 549 Centre Street, Trenton, N.J., voluntarily appeared at the Trenton Resident Agency of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and advised he was a close friend to FRANK AUGUST DRAGER. He stated he and DRAGER had been active together over the past several years in matters involving the activities of the National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in Bucks County, Pa. DOERFLER advised he is presently a leading officer of the Bucks County Chapter.

DOERFLER advised that inasmuch as FRANK DRAGER has appeared ultra-radical in his right wing activities and has been committing many criminal violations, DOERFLER felt it was in the best interest of the Klan if they would separate themselves from any of DRAGER's activities.

On March 12, 1974, DRAGER contacted DOERFLER at DOERFLER's place of employment, The Pennington Furnace, Pennington, N.J., and asked DOERFLER to supply him with phoney identification. DRAGER stated the green Ford Pinto he was drivingwas stolen and he had plans of leaving the State of New Jersey. DOERFLER stated that DRAGER was in the company of a young white male known to him by the name JAKE. It was also noted that several weapons were observed in this vehicle.

DOERFLER said to DRAGER he could not supply him with any phoney identification, and more specifically could not give him his.

DOERFLER was told by DRAGER that he, DRAGER, was going to leave the area and head toward Penndel, Pa., to meet a FRED SHAFFLER at the Lantern Inn in Penndel. SHAFFLER is known to be employed at Fernell's Auto Body in Levittown, Pa.

SKYLAR/FERRIS

D.C.

On June 27, 1974, Mr. SCHUYLER DAVENPORT FERRIS, 2903 Brook Drive, Falls Church, Virginia, was interviewed by Special Agents of the FBI. He stated he continues his employment with the District of Columbia Government, where he checks on and takes remedial action concerning sludge buildup where sewage pipes enter the Potomac and Anacostia Rivers in the Washington, D.C. area. FERRIS related anyone claiming to be an engineer or to acting on behalf of an engineer, may obtain free copies of diograms of water and sewer systems of Washington, D.C. area, by contacting Third Floor of the District Building, 12th and Pennsylvania Avenues, Washington, D.C. FERRIS denied having furnished any such documents to anyone and emphasized that anyone could obtain these diograms. FERRIS was asked if he had knowledge of any plans to disrupt water or sewer systems in any major cities and he denied knowing of any such plans. On June 30, 1974, FERRIS telephonically contacted the FBI and advised Special Agents that he desired to provide additional information in connection with his interview as conducted on June 27, 1974. He stated that the defense plans for the City of Chicago, Illinois, are available on request from that City Government and that they show the water and sewer systems. FERRIS stated he has maps of Washington, D.C., water and sewer systems which he uses in his work for the District of Columbia, but has never furnished same to any individual or group nor has he ever been requested to obtain this information.

FERRIS was asked if he had recently had any personal contact with persons from out-of-town who share his same political beliefs. FERRIS then volunteered he had seen FRANK DRAGER earlier in June 1974. After DRAGER telephoned him at his home, DRAGER requested and obtained from FERRIS a list of names and addresses of persons described by FERRIS as "patriots". He would not elaborate further on this but described DRAGER as a worthless "bragger and fink", who was recently arrested in Illinois and was thereafter released on personal recognizance whereas ROY FRANKHOUSER, described by FERRIS as another patriot, had to post $100,000.00 bond for his release from jail. FERRIS stated that DRAGER made no reference to any proposed distruction of any city on or about July 4, 1974 and FERRIS denied having any such discussion with DRAGER or anyone else. FERRIS stated he does not know if DRAGER would participate in any such scheme and felt certain that "no right wing patriot" would participate in any such act of violence.

On July 2, 1974, Mr. JAMES C. ROBERTSON, Director, Engineering and Construction Administration, Department of Environmental Services, District of Columbia Government, Room 309, Prudential Building, 415 12th Street, Northwest, Washington, D.C., was interviewed and it was determined that ROBERTSON's office maintains for distribution 1/1000 scale maps of the entire District of Columbia sewer system and 1/1000 scale maps of the entire District of Columbia water system. These maps are for persual and available free of charge to persons having a valid reason but are not given away indiscriminatly because of the cost. These maps have no dimensions and show no detail except in a very general way. There is no record maintained of the distribution. ROBERTSON advised the system is coded to the map described above relating to detail map with scales of 1 inch to 100 feet and 1 inch to 50 feet, showing the exact locations of the water mains, the connections and valves. The maps are available primarily to architects preparing building plans. He stated to obtain copies of the detailed maps, the District of Columbia Government requires a release to limit the liability of the district in the event of a law suit.

On July 30, 1974, Mr. HASKELL L. COUNTS, Chief, Construction and Engineering Division, Department of Environmental Services (DES), Government of the District of Columbia, Washington, D.C., was interviewed. Mr. COUNTS stated that DES maintains for its own use and the use of a limited number of others having a need for them, 1 inch to 1000 feet scale maps of the overall water and sewer system of the District of Columbia. He said that blueprints scaled 1 inch to 50 feet or 1 inch to 100 feet can be obtained from DES for specific locations throughout the district. The blueprints show exact locations of sewers, water mains, valves, connections, etc., and generally are available to contractors and others having a need for them. COUNTS advised that SCHUYLER DAVENPORT FERRIS, who is employed by the Construction and Engineering Division, DES, as a member of a survey party concerned with the city water and sewer system, would have access to both maps of the overall water and sewer systems and detailed blueprints for specific locations in the District of Columbia.

On September 3, 1974, Mr. ALBERT P. LENTZ was interviewed at his employment, Quaker City Paper, 300 North Sherman Street, York, Pennsylvania, by Special Agents of the FBI. LENTZ stated that DRAGER stayed with him at his residence 330 North Street, York, Pennsylvania, during the first week of June. He stated that DRAGER had several guns in his possession at that time. LENTZ advised that there were other Klan type individuals from Indianapolis in attendance while DRAGER was there, and they and DRAGER held secret discussions towhich LENTZ was not privy. LENTZ advised that he never heard DRAGER talk about bombing but knows that DRAGER was talking big about going underground. LENTZ advised that no one in his group favors "weatherman tactics" and that if he had learned of a bombing plot, he would have contacted Captain MC CAFFERY, of the York, Pennsylvania, Police Department, before he would have allowed destruction or killing. Regarding DRAGER's claim to bomb the city on the Fourth of July, LENTZ advised he never heard such plans and regards DRAGER as a blow-hard. LENTZ said he has a news letter from DRAGER dated 1972 where DRAGER claims to be underground.

On June 13, 1974, a search of the 1973 Pinto, stolen by DRAGER on March 11, 1974, produced the following type pages apparently prepared by CARROLL describing the NRA, the formation of an NRA cell, a message to the Left, though CARROLL speaks, Commandant Reports, official position on non-whites, and letter to the Director of Federal Bureau of Integration.

Frank Drager and Bill Carrol have built a small but well armed Army during the past [illegible] consisting of persons [illegible] had become dissident with membe[illegible] in various above ground [illegible]anisations.

While on a National tour visiting various leaders in both the Right and Left Wings, Frank and Bill found themselves well received by most factions and found that the support had become overwhelming in favor of a true Rightist Revolutionary underground. Unfortunately many leaders were not personally contacted because the Federal idiots briefly interrupted our tour with some minor phony harassment charges. Those of you who had not been contacted have probably already heard of our many exploits into the enemies camp and understand exactly what we have in mind.

We were able to "set up" quite a system around the Nation amoung our Revolutionary Conrads before our capture in Illinois and we have been free to continue our efforts since that time. Being wanted by several States and the Federal Government has to some degree hindered our Revolutionary efforts but our accomplishments in the past several months have been overwhelmingly satisfactory to us and alarming to the Feds.

In the very near future you will begin to hear much more about the National Revolutionary Army. You shall hear of and read about Revolutionary exploits and many co-ordinated efforts in several States at the same time. We are now capable to act in nearly every State at the same time. We have the weapons and technology and our present strength will soar as our feats occur with more frequency.

Some of our feats (Such as killing pigs in Satans Temple) will appear to accomplish nothing but we do still need the enemies paranoid fright to assist us to reach our end goal.

The Revolutionaries in the N.R.A. do not consider themselves the new leaders of our holy movement, we are merely Actionaries who will co-ordinate the inevitable Revolution.

Our Soldiers will operate in total secrecy and anonomidity except for such times they might unfortunately be detected by the enemy and at that time they shall openly proclaim the very same things that we publicly proclaim.

We are operating in "cells" of between 4 and 10 men and women and no "cell" knows of the existance or leadership of another "cell". There are 5 persons in 5 separate sections of North America who know all the "cell" leaders and are capable to co-ordinate Action if any of the National Staff are captured by the enemy.

We will gather our finances by taking by force the enemies money. We will rob banks, kidnap, forge checks, float credit cards and generally extort our financial existance from our wealthy and influential enemy. Our enemy is the Jew our present Government is the Jew.

Can we change all this? Yes and the N.RA. will.

We will bring their tot[illegible]itarian Economic dictato[illegible]ip to its knees and replace it with a healthy system as prescribed by our founding Fathers and return to the Constitutional free Republic that this was meant to be.

We will not rest until every traitor to our system is eliminated and the Communist and Zionist World conspiracy to dominate the White Race is rendered useless.

When we see the Communist clenched fist, we will cut it off. When we see the Zionists star of david it will enrage us to attack. When we see the jew nose, we will be looking down the sites of our rifles.

When we find a Government enemy within our Range we won't hesitate to lite our fuces.

Enemies Beware, the N.R.A. is playing for keeps.

FORMATION OF CELLS

If you are of a true "[illegible]htist" Revolutionary nat[illegible]e, do not hesitate to form an NRA cell of your own. Committ Revolutionary Acts, Rob Banks and if it was done in the spitit of the White Racial Movement, we will accept credit for it and in all probability contact and recruit you into the "inter-circle" of our Movement.

It will be rather difficult from this point on to contact us because we are already in permanent hideouts which we refer to as Camps. We don't mix with the public and only leave our Camps to commit a Revolutionar act.

But if you should decide to be one of us, in all probability some one in your area is already a member and we could arrange for a contact.

We have a code system set up throughout North America so that we can stay in continual contact with our Comrads and I rather doubt the Feds will ever be able to break our system.

Beware if you are an enemy agent yourself. We have in our possession a lie detector, sodium pinethol, the technoligy to use this equipment and the ways and means of eliminating enemies.

We have many automatic weapons and chemicals for making high explosives and the technology for doing so. We have explosives which have been stolen over the years from various enemy camps We will buy and steal more automatic weapons and explosives and we will recruit more persons who have already stored away cashes of such. We have scopes, silencers and the contacts to get more. We have acids and other horifying goodies.

We don't intend being stopped and we have the materials necessary to avoid capture and to kill the enemy.

We are presently working on a device which can be remote controlled over a great distance which will horify the enemy with gigantic explosions. We are attempting to perfect a sound device which will blow up the enemies war devices at a safe distance. We are looking into the production of lazer equipment and shall have answers soon.

We are working with an anti-Communist group and shall perhaps have a safe foreign base within the next several months. This would even supply us with nuclear missles, etc. Wow!!!

We have recruited into our ranks many persons and some leaders who have over the years worked for the so-called left in the United States. Once they looked into our philosophy and found that the philosophy that has been pumped into their brains over the past several years, they could not resist finding out more. Once the so-called leftist found out that they were lured into the leftist (Red) encampments with drugs, sex-and generally nothing philosophies, they were ready for us.

Once they lived with groups of non-Whites and drug addicts, they found that they wanted nothing to do with the Reds. Most dropped out, began to wonder, returned to Nature and health food diets and kept their ears and eyes open. When they finally discover the real Natural elements such as the great outdoors and what could be done for them by sticking to a health food or Natural diet, they never again could think seriously about the so-called leftist philosophy.

They became potention recruits for the Natural Movement. The movement which desires to return to the Natural State of things. The Government had become their enemy,The regular foods their poison, the left became a negative and impossible philosophy.

What next? They became Racists, dropouts and began to wonder in search of their next "high". Finally a "high" wasn't enough and the entire drug culture began to become a shadow of their past. Is there any hope they began to wonder. Then finally we came along. They read Hitlers Mein Kampf, Rockwells White Power, they talked to Nationalists and they found what they have been searching for for so long.

We invite people with so-called leftist leanings to thoroughly study our program--OBJECTIVELY. We invite leftist Revolutionarys to study our Positive Constructive Program and canpare it with their negativ destructive program.

Revolution without cause must cease. Join the Right side and fight for the Natural freedoms all mankind should desserv.

Why should the alien jew be the leader you follow? Why should the Spocks, Dellingers, Rubins, Hoffmans, Apthekers, Mailers, etc., tell you, White America what it is all about? Do you need the jew to lead your Revolution?

The left is not our enemy, the Right is not your enemy, The Government is OUR enemy and we must bring this jewish conspiracy called the Republicans and Democrate to its knees and replace it with a government of the people, by the people and for the people.

Through the many years of failure for the Right [illegible], no-one has succeeded in stoping the Zionist-jew-Communist Revolution that has taken place throughout the World. In this time the Politicians have deserted us, our Presidents have sold us out for more power for themselves and our money has been consumed by the very sows who are chewing away at our society.

Our cities are almost completely destroyed by junkies, queers and degenerates of in-imaginable sorts. There is the smell of a hospitol in the air, as a congloneration of sick people gather in the hearts of our once beautiful cities.

Most young people have just dropped out. They're not Communist, they are just nothing! What have we offered them for a replacement for Communism or Capitolism which has become subseviant to free enterprise and the master of our people rather than the vehicle to maintain freedom.

Our Youth are looking for something, as we all know, but they are right in the middle of a hugh power struggle in which every side is saying, "This is what you are looking for". Each side knows that Victory lies in the Youth so they must give the Youth a reson to fight and tell them who should be opposed. They are constantly hitting our Youth with negatives and rarely, if ever anything positive or constructive.

Now that our Youth have been supplied with nothing but negative philosophies and solutions from all sides, they've come up with a logical conclusion: That the World or at least Civilization as we know it is coming to an end so "To hell with it all and lets get what we want while we still can".

The common attitude of American people is; 'Who cares what is happening as long as it doesn't affect me personally"? When a group robs a bank or absconds with large sums of money, one might hear a law abiding citizen make the following statement: "Boy, what will they do next, wish I had all that money, I hope they don't get caught because it was a well planned robbery and so forth". Usually no cry of stop the theives, only sympathy. Recent noisy groups of anti-Civilization Reds have gotten the attention of the youth but not their sympathy because our noise making Reds do not have anything to offer them. Our Youth want more than noise and WE WILL GIVE IT TO THEM! We pledge to eliminate such noisy criminal Red gangs that now abound the entire state of California.

We must eliminate certain prädujuces in the Right Wing. I constantly hear Right Wingers paralelling Reds with long hair. If a youth group began calling all short haired people Nazis, few people would think much of that groups opinion. Because long hair came about due to a hugh left wing Campaign, does not mean that all long haired people are Reds. Making such rash statements not only separates our Youth from the Right Wing thus eliminating the remotest possibility of creating a conversation with the Youth but it also drives them even further from the Right side.

One single tropical plant has had more to do with the failures of Right Wingers to reach the Youth and the successes of the left to reach them than any other single issue that comes to my mind and that is Ma[illegible]uana. The Right Wing is [illegible] it and the left wing for it. The real purpose of Pot (now) is not as most Right Wingers believe, i.e., to destroy the minds of the Youth, but rather to separate Right Wingers from Pot smokers. The average person who indulges in a little Pot smoking is not a left winger but since most Right Wingers are anti-Pot, the probability of the two getting together is remote even though they might have the same basic political thoughts. Pot is political and more and more Right Wingers are beginning to take a more leisurly attitude at Pot smokers as they find their ranks dwindling.

If we allow things that are not basic issues to divide us, then we will surely loose. We cannot afford this. The Revolution is here and Victory is at hand. We are joining forces with other Nationalistic groups here and abroad. Many men have been waiting years for this time. Segments of the Right and left are joining forces. Many have lost their lives preparing for this day and we dnn't intend letting them down.

As a great man once said "THIS TIME THE WORLD".

Those of you who are fighting on our side, be it directly or indirectly, underground or above, let us strike only at the real enemy, the jew and the jew infested Government.

May reason be our guide, may our will be our strength, may our sacred duty to act in this way give us determination and above all my our faith protect our people.

Seig Heil, Revolution

North Eastern: Frank [illegible]rything going well, awai[illegible]g word from the council for planned activities. Four men busted for non-political charges, they'll be OK. Slight problem with two Connecticut units--seems like they've been infiltrated.

South Eastern: No problems, giving the Feds hell. No new units this month but existant units are all ready for action. Lets get going.

Central: Lots of Federal activity out here and we haven't been able to do much. Waiting for word on Nationally co-ordinated effort. Eleven new cells formed, find information enclosed. Good meeting last month, keep up the good work.

North Western: Apparently little or no Federal harassment. I think we are really in the clear out here. They still have little of no knowledge of the existance of our section.

South Eastern: A real political hot bed. Following your instructions to lay low until we can get our hands on the Red bastards getting all the publicity. [illegible] Can't hold the units down out here they're all after blood. Hope they don't begin doing things without permission or until our little National thing can be done.

Canada: Lots of excitment up here. Have made many in-roads with other groups and should really get Central Canada going good soon.

The New Natural Government of America fully recognizes that there has been considerable mis-treatment of the Non-Whites in America. We don't take any blame for it but we also do not get upset at our ancestors because of it.

It is our firm opinion that the cultures of the White and Non-Whites will never mix well. There will always be race hatred on both sides. Segregation did not work, Integration is not working which leaves us with one solution: Separation.

We think that the majority of Blacks would approve of separation and we know that the majority of Whites would also. The only real problem in a Separation program is where are the Separtees to go. There are Black movements who want a part of the United States and there are those who favor repatriation to Africa.

There are White organizations who approve of either or both plans and there are White organizations who favor genocide of the American Blacks.

We think we have come up with a plan which will eventually gain the support of both Blacks and Whites. We must remember that in a situation like this someone must always get hurt but we would like to do it with as little suffering ax possible.

It is a known fact that the majority of our penal institutions are overwhemingly populated by Blacks. It is a known fact that the majority of our Welfare program goes to the support of the Black Community. It is a fact that there are scores of Government agencies whose total financial allocation goes to the support of Blacks. Because of the amount of Black crime, at least a large percentage of our police are only necessary because the Blacks are there.

If we took the Billions of ~~[illegible]~~ tax dollars which now is allocated for the support of blacks and put those tax dollars to a constructive use, we could solve the problem without too much pain and suffering on either side.

If we would ernestly undertake the following project I think we can eliminate Racial hallocaust in America. We select a favorable section of Africa and begin to build a Community in which the Blacks of America could maintain a healthy society that could compete industrially with other Nations. On this piece of Real Estate in Africa we build several cities of the very highest quality. We construct enough Industrial centers and places of business so that all Blacks could be gainfully employed or etch a living. We supply their Government which will be elected by the Blacks themselves with enough know how and capitol to begin its operation. We supply each Black with enough money until such time he can get re-settled in his new land. We supply free transportation to Africa for all Blacks and any Whites they have married who wish to go with them.

We pledge to purchase any of the industrial products that the Black Nation produces. We have an armament agreement with the Black Nation [illegible] they won't fear attack from other nation and also supply them with enough arms to protect themselves from attack.

In other words, we give them what every person wants. A free society in Africa with the technoligy, know how and support to run their Nation as they see fit without interferance from the White Nations.

If this program could be ernestly and objectively examined by everyone, we feel such a program could easily be put into operation.

The Blacks are not our enemies even though sometimes it might appear as they are. The blacks have been the tools of the jewish conspiracy to foment Revolution for their eventual total military takeover of America.

The Blacks woke up when great men like Malcom X began telling them like it was. The great Malcom X was a thinker. He looked around and saw a jew at the head of every Black organization. He saw the do-nothing Black organizations were financed by the jew. He saw that these groups were going no-place. Then he looked at the Ghettos and discovered that the very same jew who was preaching Black freedom and equal rights was the liquor store owner, the owner of the rat infested tenements, The parasite who was sucking the Black blood while at the same time pretending to help them.

Yes, Malcom X saw it, the Blacks of today see it and even the Whites are beginning to see it in what the jew calls alarming numbers. Oh where oh where will you jews hide this time?

We've got to reach the Black, we've got to stop shooting at each other. The Black and White are not each others enemy in America. The Government is our enemy and the jew has taken over our Government.

Black Revolutionaries, this is an appeal to you to turn your guns toward the aliens in control of this screwed up society and work amoung your Ranks to adopt our program for the good of all Whites and Blacks in America.

The Naitional Revolutionary Army is the militant underground faction of an already existant Government who is ready and capable of seizing immediate power in the United States at the very moment the N.R.A. is successful in eliminating the enemy aliens now in Power.

The N.R.A. pledges destruction of the existant Government of the United States and a full return to a truly represented Government of the people, by the people and for the people.

There has already been a Revolution in America in the past 50 years but it was a silent Revolution. The Zionist jew and Russian Communist (usually one in the same) have told us repeatedly that they were going to take us without firing a single shot and they have succeeded to do so.

Yes, a world wide conspiracy of Communist athéistic jews have blatently crepted into the Government of the United States and with their power and money have continually brainwashed America into believing that they should rightfully maintain high Government positions. Even now there is a movement to eliminate still another portion of our holy Constitution and permit a foreign born to seek the Presidency of the United States. Of course we know the foreign born these creeps have in mind, it is that globe-trotting Israel born jew Zionist traitor to America Henry Kissinger

These foreign born jew, Communist and or Zionist creeps have almost totally brainwashed America with their Television and Newspapers. It is not unknown even to the average citizen that the T.V. and most newspapers are owned and or controlled by these alien enemy parasites.

These minipulators of money have taken total control of our economy and have created a depression like State whereas we are now so economically enslaved to them that they now run our every day life. The average working man is making much more money than he has ever made before but he is finding it increasingly difficult to put food on the table for his family. A created gas shortage has put the fuel prices so far out of reach that Americas working masses can no longer drive for pleasure and is cold in the Winter. Their created meat shortages put beef so far out of range that Americas families had to change their diets considerably. Of course they found they had to relax their rapid rising prices because the meat was rotting as America started shifting diets. Everything in our Economic system depends upon the jew minipulator.

Even our National debt has climed to a rediculous astronomical figure of 472 or more Billion dollars. Our gold reserves have dwindled to an all time low of 9 Billion whereas the interest on the National debt is several times higher than the money we have in reserve. Our interest on the National debt is higher than our National budget was in 1933. AND WHO DO WE PAY THIS INTEREST TO? To the damnable jewish world bank of course which is owned and controlled by theparasitical and egotistical Rothschilds.

Somewhere, U.S.A.
April___1974

Director,
Federal Bureau of Integration
Washington 25, District of Coons

Dear Mr. Kelly:

I've always praised the thoroughness of the F.B.I. even though, on scores of occassions you've permitted your paranoia and your lack of human understanding to foul you up. Your drooling excitement, your paranoid stupidity and your fruitless eagerness at having Frank Drager in your grimy grips in Springfield, Ill. made super idiots of the Federal Bureau of Integration. You now realize how many foolish errors you made.

In the near future you will be employed by the New Natural Government of America rather than the jew Justice Department and such stupidity will not be tolerated. How rediculous for a "gang" of "trained" investigators to be fooled and beaten by a teenager. Have you idiots put all the pieces together yet? Whether or not you have or have not, we both thank God for your paranoid stupidity, for now we are free to continue tying together the few remaining loose ends which will permit the National Revolutionary Army to eliminate criminal jewish control of America. Now our Armies can continue to join forces to eliminate this alien enemy government.

Continue your search for Frank Drager and Bill Carrol, xxx it'll be useless and frustrating. If you are lucky enough to capture one of our soldiers in the future,--BEWARE!!!, there is a speeding soft nose for all our enemies.

Unfortunately, most Federal Agents are Mercenary. They are actually with us in spirit but they will still follow the orders of their jewish superiors to attempt to detect and capture our people and unfortunately we will have to deal with these agents ruthlessly until they realize that they are dominated and controlled by alien enemies of America and begin working on the side of "Right".

At one time, not too long ago, we Patriots were as useless as a bunch of foolish "boobs" with nothing going for us but our idealistic goals. Now our goals are within our grips and our Armies are beginning to activate. A large segment of the "left" and the "right" are no longer shooting at each other. Yes, the fear of our enemies are now realistic. The bullits of the pro-America Revolutionaries are aimed at the alien enemies in control and not at each other.

The following is a t[illegible] of a tape sent to the F.. I.[illegible]and the news services in early April,[illegible]974.

The new Revolutionary Army herewith immediately declares that the present Government of the United States of America is an illegal confederation of aliens and enemies of the people of America.

The National Revolutionary Army (NRA), its officers and followers henceforth Seceed from the United States of America until such time we may be able to restore a Government of the people, by the people and for the people and oust the enemy aliens now in control.

Through force and violence and what ever means available to the NRA, we will, totally, forcefully and quickly restore sanity to our American Republic.

We have adopted the American Constitution in its original form, revised the Bill of Rights and eliminated or revised all of the Amendments to the Constitution.

We have formed a National Caucus of hundreds of known and some un-known political leaders whose present identities will remain anionomous, who at the time the enemy aliens perish or relinquish control, will immediately be brought before the American voter to seize popular control of the vacant political offices.

We of the NRA are the people. We speak for the people. And we will violently eliminate Americas enemies with the haste of a speeding bullit.

The NRA has chosen for its spokesman a well known adversary for the return of America to a Natural Social Order. The Revolutionaries of the N.R.A. are ordered to maintain secrecy in every way possible and to avoid detection by the enemy, but are ordered not to deny their association if at such time they are detected by the enemy or captured.

All N.R.A. members and associates are instructed that if captured they are governed by the laws as set forth at the Geneva Conference for captured soldiers and prisoners of war.

This is by all means a Declaration of War. The enemies of White America will fall like flies at a "Raid" party.

WHITE POWER

FRANK DRAGER AND BILL CARROL

THE FOLLOWING IS BASICALLY THE PROGRAM OF THE NATIONAL REV* OLUTIONARY ARMY EXACTLY AS IT WAS RELEASED TO THE F.B.I. AND NEWS SERVICES IN EARLY [illegible]RIL 1974. IT IS ONLY A [illegible]IEF" VERSION OF SOME OF OUR GOALS AND AT A MUCH LATER DATE A VERSION WILL BE RELEASED THAT WILL TOTALLY AND THOROUGHLY EXPLAIN OUR POLITICAL PLATFORM.

1. All non-Whites loose citizenship and prepare for repatriation, i.e/ separated society until transportation can be arranged.

2. Federal Reserve abolished and all illegal tender returned and replaced with legal notes to those persons who are legal U.S. Citizens.

3. Israel immediately declared an illegal enemy State.

4. Immediate deportation of all jews--Racial or Religious.

5. Income tax abolished. Product taxation and industrial support for the National budget.

6. Immediate cancellation of the National debt.

7. Immediate elimination of Foreign, Jewish and enemy control of banking and financial institutions.

8. Immediate seizure of all properties and interests of all jewish and/or enemies of America.

9. Immediate re-instatement of a healthy Racial standard.

10. Abolition of foreign aid until necessary determination can be investigated.

11. Immediate release of all political prasoners presently being held by the enemy Government.

12. Immediate and total revision of the Judiciary system.

13. Immediate re-organization and/or elimination of all useless Government agencies.

14. Immediate re-organization and/or elimination of the Welfare and all other Federal "give away" Government agencies.

15. Immediate arrests and rapid trials of Americas enemies and those persons who have willfully conspired to "sell out" Americas working masses. Harsh punishments to those convicted.

16. Protection by the Government of citizens against illegal seizure of personal property and monies by alien users.

17. Right to work and recieve a fair wage to healthfully maintain alll citizens and their families.

18. XXX Immediate return to our original form of a Represented Republic as prescribed by our founding Fathers.

19. Immediate abolition of all unfair usery practices. i.e./ Unfair mortgage practices, etc.

20. Immediate re-organization of the Nations unsatisfactory school system. Estabishment of free education system and trade school and apprentice program.

21. Immediate return to the Soverign Rights of States.

22. Instant revision of the Social Security system to allocate appropriate relief immediately and henceforth to those elderly and needy citizens.

23. Immediate abolition of all Government "payoffs" to corporations and farms for not producing or growing products and for rediculous depletion payoffs. Total elimination of all Government price fixing but not necessarilly certain price ceilings and/or some controls to protect the public.

24. Immediate allocation to the formation of an agency to scientiffically and objectively investigate thoroughly, the harm and damages caused by various use of all drugs. Their rapid but thorough study will be presented to the American public thus creating in some cases more liberal and in other cases more stringent laws governing the use and sale of drugs.

- a. Stiffer penalties for users of illegal drugs.
- b. Harsher penalties for sales of drugs.
- c. Death penalties for suppliers of forbidden drugs.
- d. Abolition of drug "give away" programs.

25. Immediate re-establishment of a just law and order for the protection of all American Citizens and the elimination of mericas enemies.

Reference is made to the August 8, 1975, meeting in your office, wherein members of your staff and officials of this Bureau discussed matters relating to the current inquiries of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence Activities as relates to our Counterintelligence Programs (Cointelpros) documents and to the protection of FBI sources utilized in these programs.

At your request there is attached a memorandum summarizing known results in our Cointelpros directed against the Communist Party, USA, Socialist Workers Party, White Hate Groups, New Left and Black Extremists. These summaries do not indicate any actions were conducted under these programs which resulted in physical injury to the targets or that electronic techniques, surreptitious entries, or mail openings were used in connection with Cointelpro actions.

NOTE:

The Attorney General, on 8/8/75, and the Deputy Attorney General, met with Associate Director Nicholas P. Callahan, Assistant Director W. Raymond Wannall, and Inspector John B. Hotis to discuss the request of the Senate Select Committee for the identities of sources utilized to effect Cointelpro activities. The Attorney General indicated prior to discussing this problem, which relates to the overall confidentiality of FBI sources, with Senator Church, Chairman of the Committee, he desired to be furnished information which would enable him to insure himself there were no Cointelpro activities of a scandalous or infamous nature which at a later date could cause embarrassment to the Department. The attached memorandum was prepared during the period 8/8-12/75 by personnel of the Internal Security Branch of the Intelligence Division. It represents a careful review of all Cointelpro actions where results were known. It is pointed out in the majority of authorized Cointelpro actions results were not recorded. Also, because of the wide variety of Cointelpro actions, results in many areas are not subject to measurement. For example, there is no way of determining how many individuals left the Communist Party as a result of our documented mailings relating to Soviet anti-semitism.

COUNTERINTELLIGENCE PROGRAMS

Classified because sets forth information which, if disclosed, could compromise sensitive intelligence sources and methods.

In an effort to assess possible damage incurred by subversive and extremist organizations and individuals as a result of Counterintelligence Program (Cointelpro) activity, a current review has been made of the programs relating to the Communist Party, USA, Socialist Workers Party, White Hate Groups, New Left and Black Extremists.

The "Study Committee Report on FBI Counterintelligence Programs," prepared in May, 1974, by the Department-FBI Committee headed by former Assistant Attorney General Henry E. Petersen, tabulated 3,208 proposals for counterintelligence action during the period 1956 until all programs were discontinued on April 28, 1971. Of these, according to the Petersen report, 2,340 were reported approved and implemented and results were reported as known in 516 instances. Our current review has developed 626 instances where results of varying degrees are known. Excluding results of actions which appear to have been appropriate and proper law enforcement procedures, we have summarized results in 164 instances. In any instance where there was any question regarding the propriety of the action, doubts were resolved by preparing a summary.

For ready review, summaries of the actions in these 164 instances have been placed in categories and are attached as follows:

1. Anonymously furnishing information. (34 instances) Pages 3-36.

There was no known withdrawal of support for this newspaper, but at the same time, the newspaper was applying for membership in the Superior, Wisconsin, Chamber of Commerce and their application was denied.

In December, 1969, an anonymous letter was directed to selected members of the United Klans of America, Inc. (UKA), by the Richmond Office. This letter denounced Robert H. Hudgins, Grand Dragon of Virginia, characterizing him as one interested in personal gain only. The content of the letter suggested that it had been prepared by Raymond Adams, a former UKA member, who had been banished and had been at odds with Hudgins.

The anonymous mailing resulted in continuing disruption and mistrust in certain Klan units. Hudgins' leadership was challenged. The unrest at Danville, Virginia, caused a great reduction in income for the UKA in Virginia, and affected Hudgins' salary and expenses. Information available does not indicate whether money for Hudgins' salary and expenses obtained from UKA or his employer.

FBI Headquarters, in October, 1962, authorized the preparation of an anonymous mimeographed leaflet criticizing individuals and small groups with communist backgrounds who consistently attacked the United States but never took a stand against the Soviet Union. This was to be done in connection with the scheduled October 31, 1962, appearance of Herbert Eugene Aptheker, a member of the National Committee, Communist Party, USA, at the State University of New York at Buffalo (UB), as a part of a lecture series entitled "A Political Spectrum of a Contemporary World." Such individuals had been openly critical of an earlier appearance by a British fascist.

Authority was also granted to anonymously mail public source information on Aptheker to Dr. Charles Ebert, UB, a faculty member critical of the far left.

The leaflets were anonymously distributed to the local news media, the student newspaper and to 28 campus organizations and/or students.

Aptheker's scheduled speech was deferred by a last minute injunction in New York State Court. It is not known if the leaflets or letter had any bearing on the injunction. An appellate court later ruled the University had the right to invite Aptheker to speak.

In August, 1963, the FBI in Seattle, Washington, became aware that a factional problem existed in the Communist Party (CP) Northwest District as a result of the Sino-Soviet split in which the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), supported the Soviet Union.

A Red Chinese letter stating their position in the ideological dispute was condensed; criticisms of the CPUSA pro-Soviet position were added, and an anonymous letter prepared and mailed to 25 selected CP members in the Northwest District.

The Seattle FBI Office later reported that some members of the Seattle area CP registered their disapproval with the National CP pro-Soviet position and that this contributed to some disharmony in CPUSA circles. The letter was discussed at CP state and local club levels in Seattle.

During May, 1967, a leaflet was mailed to about 40 individuals in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, area. Recipients were labor union leaders, churchmen, members of the American Society of Friends, and the American Legion Posts in vicinity of the residence of Arthur Edelman. Some of the recipients were associated with Edelman in promoting demonstrations against the war in Vietnam and the leaflet was designed to present the membership and leadership role of Edelman and his wife, Beth, in the Western Pennsylvania Communist Party (CP).

Arthur Edelman, after being made aware of leaflet, announced it was time to come out in the open. An informant advised that Arthur Tuden, a college instructor in Pittsburgh, who was active in the antiwar movement, commented he was considering being more circumspect in his dealings with Edelman. Subsequent to circulation of leaflet, Edelman claimed the organization Trade Unionists For Peace in Pittsburgh was on verge of collapse because of friction among its leaders.

During August, 1968, the Los Angeles Office mailed an anonymous letter to selected faculty associates of Robert A. Nieman, an Assistant Professor at California State College and a candidate for the Peace and Freedom Party for the California Assembly. The letter ridiculed Nieman, pointing out that he was white, did not truly represent the blacks, that he had been arrested for possession of marijuana, and of his background with the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS). Nieman was very active in SDS and supported SDS in anti-Vietnam War demonstrations. His arrest record, under FBI Identification Number 274-888-G, reveals that he was arrested by the Los Angeles, California, Police Department, on 9/29/67 for violation of the Health and Safety Code (Possession of Marijuana).

Nieman lost the election, which he said he expected, but also stated that the letter had caused him much embarrassment, both at the school, where an effort was being made to remove him, and among black militants, who in some cases were being taught by him.

A leaflet entitled "Call...to Progressive-Minded America Announcing the Holding of a Conference Preliminary to the Founding Convention of a New, American Labor-Negro Vanguard Party" in November, 1961, was sent anonymously by the Newark Office to Communist Party (CP) officials throughout the country. The aim was to hinder the formation of the American Labor-Negro Vanguard Party (ALNVP) which was a project of the Harriet-Tubman Section which had already been expelled from the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA). It was also to make the Harriet-Tubman Section appear as a provocative agent of the FBI trying to raid the CPUSA of its membership and financial support.

The mailing created considerable confusion in the CPUSA, which found it necessary to warn its members through its newspaper, of the formation of the ALNVP and to warn against being taken in by this group.

During June, 1970, the Charlotte Office prepared about 100 copies of a leaflet, in the form of a news item, prepared by a reporter for Southern Vanguard Revolutionary Party, (a defunct extremist organization formed by purged Panther Jose Gonzalvez). The leaflet, sent to news services and to a number of residents in the vicinity of Black Panther Party (BPP) headquarters, Winston-Salem, North Carolina, was intended to publicize the split in the BPP group at Winston-Salem and to highlight that outside leadership has been brought to the BPP Winston-Salem. Leaflet mentioned Douglas Miranda, former BPP leader in New Haven, Connecticut, had been transferred to Winston-Salem and also attacked Larry Little, a BPP leader in Winston-Salem, as radical and insinuated he is pocketing donations obtained for BPP Breakfast for Children Program. The leaflet contained truthful information.

After distribution of this leaflet, sales of the BPP newspaper in Winston-Salem dropped considerably and respect for BPP leaders in Winston-Salem was reported to have been lost by members.

Douglas Paul Miranda was a successful leader and organizer of the Black Panther Party (BPP) during 1969 and 1970 in New Haven, Connecticut. An anonymous letter was sent to BPP Headquarters in San Francisco in March, 1970, using BPP slang alleging that Miranda had embezzled BPP funds and questioned whether his promiscuity was in the best interest of the BPP. There was no specific information known to the FBI that Miranda was, in fact, embezzling BPP funds, but allegations had been received that he was having sexual relations with numerous females in the New Haven area.

Miranda fell into disfavor with the BPP leadership and disciplinary action was taken with the approval of the national office. He was transferred to Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

On June 9, 1969, an informant advised that Michael Baynham, a Detroit Black Panther Party (BPP) member, disappeared from Detroit June 6, 1969, after taking $150 of BPP funds. He allegedly purchased a gun with part of this money and left Detroit. The BPP was reportedly very upset over Baynham's actions.

On June 12, 1969, Lt. William McCoy, Special Investigations Bureau, Detroit, Michigan, Police Department advised that Baynham was found fatally shot that date in the hallway of Jackie Spicer's residence, 13529 Dequindre, Detroit, Michigan. Spicer was present at the time of the shooting and advised police he had committed suicide.

The Wayne County, Michigan Medical Examiner's Office subsequently advised Baynham's death could possibly have been a suicide.

On September 15, 1969, FBI Headquarters authorized Detroit Office to mail an anonymous communication to a "representative number of Detroit BPP leaders" and members and to BPP National officer, David Hilliard. This communication, mailed September 17, 1969, would question the death of BPP member "Brother Michael Baynham," who it was believed committed suicide and would raise the question of possible responsibility on the part of national BPP leaders for the suicide. The letter would also be prepared in a manner to cause suspicion that Jackie Spicer, a BPP leader in Detroit, was the author of the letter and thus cause disruption in the BPP.

On September 19, 1969, an informant advised the receipt of the letter by Detroit BPP personnel convinced them that Jackie Spicer and Anita Hartman (also BPP member) wrote the letter. As a result, Frank Meyers of the Detroit Chapter contacted BPP National Headquarters on September 18, 1969, to so advise them. As a result, Meyers was told to stay away from Spicer since she was probably a police informant and the letter had come from the police through her.

At a BPP meeting held September 18, 1969, a decision was made to confront Spicer regarding the letter and consequently, she and Anita Hartman were purged from the Detroit BPP group.

A source who had furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Welch had been described by Rockwell in the past as "a reformed queer." The Richmond Office furnished this letter to the Dallas Office where it was mailed on September 23, 1965.

On November 26, 1965, Rockwell appeared at the Alexandria, Virginia, Resident Agency of the FBI with four letters he received, one of which was the above, inquiring if these letters were in violation of Federal law. In February, 1971, the Seattle Office advised that the following action was taken to discredit Michael Thomas Justesen and Clayton Van Lydegraf among their fellow New Left associates. During December, 1970, in connection with the "Seattle 8" trial, it was apparent that the defendants and their attorneys were under the impression that the Government intended to uncover other informants in addition to the one who was surfaced for testimony. (The "Seattle 8" is a name coined by news media to describe eight persons indicted by a Federal Grand Jury at Seattle, Washington, on April 16, 1970, for violation of the anti-riot law and conspiracy to destroy Government property.) Although there was general speculation that one of the defendants was a Government informant, this was not true. The Government had no other informants to uncover. Following the declaration of a mistrial in the case, an anonymous call was made to Defense Counsel Jeffrey Steinborn. (The mistrial was declared as a result of actions by a defendant who was cited for contempt.) The anonymous caller offered to help Steinborn in defense of the case but related a fear that Steinborn's phone might be bugged. Steinborn was instructed to proceed to a particular pay telephone booth directly across from the Seattle Police Department. He was observed entering the phone booth and the call was placed to him. Steinborn was advised that he was then under observation by the caller which left the impression that the call emanated from the Seattle Police Department. The caller disclosed an intention to get even with United States Attorney Stan Pitkin of Seattle, and the FBI for what they did to the Seattle Police Department. (It is noted that Pitkin handled the Government's case concerning the "Seattle 8," and also received considerable publicity in 1970 in connection with an expose of police corruption before the Federal Grand Jury.) The anonymous caller advised him that Michael Justesen and Clayton Van Lydegraf were FBI informants. (Justesen was in fugitive status at the time and Van Lydegraf's whereabouts were not known.) In reality neither was an informant. United States Attorney Pitkin was not aware of the above action.

As a result, Steinborn confronted Pitkin a few months later and warned that disclosure during any future trial that one of the defendants was actually an FBI informant would jeopardize the Government's case. Pitkin denied any knowledge that the FBI might have an undisclosed informant within the "Seattle 8." Information from other sources indicated that some persons sympathetic with the "Seattle 8" felt that Justesen was an informant. This gave further indication of the effect of the anonymous call made to Steinborn.
